

WHAT IS BEER AND WINE AMENDMENT?

Full Meaning of Proposed Amendment Given for Information of Readers of Tribune.

In a pamphlet called "The Forty Points," Walter S. Foster, former prosecuting attorney of Ingham county, has made a comprehensive outline of the proposed "Beer and Wine" amendment which will be voted on, April 7th. A careful reading of the forty points following will give voters in this vicinity the full significance of the proposed amendment:

1. If adopted the amendment will take effect May 7, 1919.
2. Saloons will be permitted for the sale and keeping for sale of beer, wine, ale, porter and fermented cider.
3. Breweries will be legal.
4. The local option law will be repealed.
5. The legislature cannot pass a new local option law giving a county a right to prohibit such a law by petition.
6. The people could not initiate such a law by petition.
7. The legislature cannot pass a home rule act giving cities or villages the right, even upon popular vote, to prohibit the giving away, furnishing, importing or transporting of such liquors.
8. The people cannot initiate such a home act by petition.
9. The present state wide prohibition amendment (Sec. 11, Art. XVI) will be repealed in so far as it prohibits the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of vinous, malt, brewed or fermented liquors.
10. Beer, wine, ale, porter and hard cider fall within one or more of the classifications, vinous, malt, brewed or fermented liquors.
11. Such liquors could be imported and transported by the bottle or car load.
12. The legislature shall reasonably license the manufacture of vinous, malt, brewed and fermented liquors.
13. And shall reasonably license and regulate the sale and keeping for sale of such liquors.
14. It is questionable whether under the proposed amendment the legislature can "regulate" the manufacture of such liquors by prohibiting the location of breweries near schools, churches, in resident districts or otherwise.
15. After the legislature has provided the necessary election machinery and people have so voted, cities, villages or townships may prohibit the manufacture, sale or keeping for sale of such liquors.
16. The legislature cannot prohibit or regulate the giving away or use, importing or transporting of such liquors except in places having a license (breweries and saloons.)

17. Nor can cities, villages or townships prohibit or regulate such gift, use, importing or transporting.
18. The people could not initiate laws or ordinances for the purposes mentioned in the last two paragraphs.
19. Any person may therefore give by the drink or by the barrel any or all of such liquors at any place, public or private (except licensed saloons or breweries) to any boy or girl, jitney driver, locomotive engineer, electric motorman, member of fire department on duty, habitual drunkard, posted person, inmate of county poor houses, prisoner inside of jail or prison, policeman on his beat, inmates of insane asylums or any one else.
20. And such giving could not be stopped by punishing the user, for the use is made forever lawful by the proposed amendment.
21. It will be lawful—no one can prevent or punish—to place kegs of beer, ale, wine, porter or hard cider where anyone may get it on Sundays, holidays and election days.
22. The giving away of such liquors on trains, interurbans and at depots will be lawful.
23. No city or village could impose any regulation upon saloons for the legislature only may pass laws upon such subject and its laws must be general—applying to the whole state.
24. A city or village could not by ordinance nor even vote of the people collect any local saloon license fees.
25. Or regulate saloon closing hours.
26. Or the number of saloons.
27. Or the district wherein they could operate.
28. Or the use of saloon screens.
29. Or the custom of treating in saloons.

VOTING PRECINCTS AGAIN CHANGED

Division Line Through Chelsea Village Altered to Better Equalize Number of Voters.

The Sylvan township board some time ago divided the township into two voting precincts, as with the granting of suffrage to women, the number of electors in the one precinct would exceed the number allowable under the election laws. The original division was as follows:

Beginning at the west town line and following the Michigan Central right of way in a northeasterly direction to the center of Cleveland street in the village of Chelsea, thence south to the center of West Middle street, thence east to the west line of the town hall, thence north to the north line of the town hall, thence east to the center of the town hall, thence south to the center of West Middle street, thence east to the township line.

It now develops that the above division does not come anywhere near splitting the voters in Chelsea village equally, so the division line has been changed after leaving the town hall to run east only as far as the municipal flag-pole, at Main and Middle streets, and thence south on Main street to the center of Orchard street, thence east on Orchard street to the center of East street, thence south on East street to the center of Washington street, thence east and southeast on Washington street to the east township line.

FREDERIC ROWE.

Frederic Rowe was born at America, Dutchess county, New York, December 9, 1829. His parents came to Michigan in his infancy and took up a homestead in Sharon, Washtenaw county, in the vicinity of what is still known as Rowe's corners, where the deceased spent his boyhood. He attended the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, graduating in 1856 and taught at several places in Michigan and Illinois. He was married to Miss Emily Lee at Southfield, Michigan, on January 9, 1864, and they moved to Jefferson City, Missouri, where both were prominent educators in public and private schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe had two sons, Carl F. and Henry L., of Duluth, Minnesota, both of whom were with their father when he passed away at the Methodist Old People's home in this village, Thursday night at 9:45 o'clock. Mrs. Rowe died in Southfield, Michigan, October 6, 1888.

Mr. Rowe had been a resident of "The Home" ever since it was dedicated and had endeared himself to every one connected with it. He was always an active church worker and had voted and labored for prohibition for fifty years.

The funeral services were held at "The Home" at two o'clock Saturday afternoon and the remains were taken to Southfield for burial.

TEXT OF WORLD LEAGUE PACT OUT; PLANS TO PREVENT NEW WARS

Economic Isolation by Nations Is Relied Upon to Halt Offending State if Arbitration, the First Step Toward Agreement, Should Not Be Found Effective.

President Wilson Reads Covenant to Peace Conference at Paris—United States Executive Empowered to Call First Meeting of New League—Wide Powers Given to This Country, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan—All Armaments Are to Be Cut Down.

Paris.—President Wilson, as the chairman of the commission, read the full draft of the league of nations covenant at a meeting of the plenary commission at the Quai d'Orsay. The text follows:

Covenant.
Preamble.—In order to promote international co-operation and to secure international peace and security by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of the understandings of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of justice and a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized people with one another, the powers signatory to this covenant adopt this constitution of the league of nations:

Article I.
The action of the high contracting parties under the terms of this covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of a meeting of a body of delegates representing the high contracting parties, of meetings at more frequent intervals of an executive council, and of a permanent international secretariat to be established at the seat of the league.

Article II.
Meetings of the body of delegates shall be held at stated intervals and from time to time as occasion may require for the purpose of dealing with matters within the sphere of action of the league. Meetings of the body of delegates shall be held at the seat of the league or at such other places as may be found convenient, and shall consist of representatives of the high contracting parties. Each of the high contracting parties shall have one vote, but may have not more than three representatives.

Article III.
The executive council shall consist of representatives of the United States of America, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan, together with representatives of four other states, members of the league. The selection of these four states shall be made by the body of delegates on such principles and in such manner as they think fit. Pending the appointment of these representatives, of the other states, representatives of (blank left for names) shall be members of the executive council.

Article IV.
The first meeting of the body of delegates and the executive council shall be summoned by the President of the United States of America.

Article V.
The permanent secretariat of the league shall be established at (blank) which shall constitute the seat of the league. The secretariat shall comprise such secretaries and staff as may be required, under the general direction and control of a secretary general of the league, who shall be chosen by the executive council; the secretariat shall be appointed by the secretary general subject to confirmation by the executive council.

Article VI.
Representatives of the high contracting parties and officials of the league when engaged in the business of the league shall enjoy diplomatic privileges and immunities and the buildings occupied by the league or its officials or by representatives attending its meetings shall enjoy the benefits of extra territoriality.

Article VII.
Admission to the league of states not signatories to the covenant and not named in the protocol as states invited to adhere to the covenant, requires the assent of not less than two-thirds of the states represented in the body of delegates, and shall be limited to fully self-governing countries, including dominions and colonies. No state shall be admitted to the league unless it is able to give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and unless it shall conform to such principles as may be prescribed by the league in regard to its naval and military forces and armaments.

Article VIII.
The high contracting parties recognize the principle that the maintenance of peace will require the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common consent of international obligations.

FOUNDED EMPIRE ON SAND
German Statesman Bitterly Criticizes Blamark's Policy—"Mistakes for Which We Pay."

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Philip Scheideemann, leading member of the provisional cabinet of Germany, attacks Blamark's conception of foreign affairs in an interview with the Zeitung am Mittag of Berlin. He says Blamark's policy was a failure at most everywhere, adding: "We had to pay for its mistakes in North Schleswig and in Alsace and Lorraine."

"The policy of the new Germany," he continued, "must be based, not on Blamark's plan, on opposition to, but in harmony with Austria; not on the slender pillar of egotistical might of a single federal government, but on the broad democratic basis of the united will of all the German tribes."

having special regard to the geographical situation and circumstances of each state.

The high contracting parties agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war lends itself to grave objections, and direct the executive council to advise how the evil effects attendant upon such manufacture can be prevented, due regard being had to the necessities of these countries which are not able to manufacture for themselves the munitions and implements of war necessary for their safety.

Article IX.
A permanent commission shall be constituted to advise the league on the execution of the provisions of Article Eight and on military and naval questions generally.

Article X.
The high contracting parties shall undertake to respect and preserve, against external aggression, the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all states, members of the league. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the executive council shall advise upon the means by which the obligation shall be fulfilled.

Article XI.
Any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the high contracting parties or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the league, and the high contracting parties recognize the right to take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

Article XII.
The high contracting parties agree that should disputes arise between them which cannot be adjusted by the ordinary processes of diplomacy, they will in no case resort to war without previously submitting the questions and matters involved either to arbitration or to inquiry by the executive council, and until three months after the decision by the arbitrators or a recommendation by the executive council; and that they will not even resort to war as against a member of the league which complies with the award of arbitration or the recommendation of the executive council.

Article XIII.
The high contracting parties, whenever any dispute or difficulty shall arise between them which they recognize to be suitable to arbitration, and which cannot be satisfactorily settled by diplomacy, will submit the whole matter to arbitration. For this purpose the court of arbitration to which the case is referred shall be the court agreed on by the parties or stipulated in any convention existing between them. The high contracting parties agree that they will carry out in full good faith any award that may be rendered. In the event of any failure to carry out the award, the executive council shall propose what steps can best be taken to give effect thereto.

Article XIV.
The executive council shall formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice and this court shall, when established, be competent to hear and determine any matter which the parties recognize as suitable for the submission to it for arbitration under the foregoing article.

Article XV.
If there should arise between states members of the league any dispute likely to lead to rupture, which is not submitted to arbitration as above, the high contracting parties agree that they will refer the matter to the executive council; either party to the dispute may give notice of the existence of the dispute to the secretary general, who will make all necessary arrangements for a full investigation and consideration thereof.

Where the efforts of the council lead to the settlement of the dispute, a statement shall be published indicating the nature of the dispute and the terms of settlement, together with such explanations as may be appropriate. If the dispute has not been settled, a report by the council shall be published, setting forth with all necessary facts and explanations the recommendations which the council thinks just and proper for the settlement of the dispute. If the report is unanimously agreed to by the members of the council other than the parties to the dispute, the high contracting parties agree that they will not go to war with any party which complies with the recommendations, and that, if any party shall refuse to comply, the council shall propose measures necessary to give effect to the reason. If no such unanimous report can be made, it shall be the duty of the majority and the privilege of the minority to issue statements indicating what they believe to be the facts, and containing the reasons which they consider to be just and proper.

Article XVI.
Should any of the high contracting parties break or disregard its obligations under Article XII it shall thereby incur the duty to be decided upon by an act of war against all the other members of the league, which hereby undertakes immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking state, and the prevention of all financial, commercial or consular intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the nationals of any other state, whether a member of the league or not.

Article XVII.
In the event of disputes between one state member of the league and another state which is not a member of the league the high contracting parties agree that the state or states not members of the league shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purposes of such dispute, upon such conditions as the executive council may deem just, and upon acceptance of any such invitation the above provisions shall be applied with such modifications as may be deemed necessary by the league to the league which in the case of a state not member of the league the provisions of Article XVI shall be applicable as against the state taking such action.

Article XVIII.
The high contracting parties agree that the league shall be entrusted with general supervision of the trade in arms and ammunition with the countries in which the control of this traffic is necessary in the common interest.

Article XIX.
To those colonies and territories which as a consequence of the late war have ceased to be under the sovereignty of a state which has ceased to exist, and which are inhabited by people not yet able to stand by themselves under the strenuous conditions of the modern world, there should be applied the principle that the well-being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization and that securities for the performance of this trust should be embodied in the constitution of the league.

Article XX.
The best method of giving practical effect to this principle is that the tutelage of such peoples should be entrusted to advanced nations who by reason of their resources, their experience or their geographical position, can best undertake this responsibility, and that this tutelage should be exercised by them as a mandatory system on behalf of the league.

Article XXI.
Certain communities formerly belonging to the Turkish empire have reached a stage in their development that entitles them to independent status, which can be provisionally recognized subject to the rendering of administrative advice and assistance by a mandatory power until such extent as they are able to stand by themselves. The wishes of these communities must be a principal consideration in the selection of the mandatory power.

Article XXII.
There are territories, such as southwest Africa and certain of the south Pacific Isles, which, owing to the sparseness of their population, or their small size, or their remoteness from the center of civilization, or their geographical contiguity to the mandatory state, and other circumstances, can be best administered under the laws of the mandatory state as integral portions thereof, subject to the safeguards above mentioned, in the interests of the indigenous population.

Article XXIII.
In every case of mandate, the mandatory undertakes to submit to the league an annual report in reference to the territory committed to its charge.

Article XXIV.
The high contracting parties will endeavor to secure and maintain fair and humane conditions of labor for all workers and children, by the best methods of national legislation and international co-operation, and to that end agree to establish as part of the organization of the league a permanent bureau of labor.

Article XXV.
The high contracting parties agree that provision shall be made through the instrumentality of the league to secure and maintain freedom of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of all states members of the league, having in mind among other things, special attention to be given to the necessities of the regions devastated during the war of 1914-1918.

Article XXVI.
The high contracting parties agree to place under the control of the league of international bureaus general traffic in arms and munitions, with the exception of those necessary for the armaments of the league, and to place under the control of the league all such international bureaus to be constituted in future shall be placed under control of the league.

Article XXVII.
The high contracting parties agree that every act of international engagement entered into hereafter by any state member of the league shall be forthwith registered with the secretary general, and as soon as possible published by him, and that no treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered.

GROWTH ON TREE PUZZLES

To Produce Remarkable Formation, Alaska Spruce Must Have Rotated, According to Experts.

A cross section of a great old spruce tree from Alaska tells the story of a tree which executed a spin, like a ballet-dancer. This cross-section shows a most peculiar structure, which has caused a great deal of speculation among the various foresters throughout the country, and a very interesting explanation is advanced in American Forestry.

It is known that a tree growing at a slant forms on the lower side of the trunk a dense reddish wood known as "rotoloz." This spiral in this case is of such sort, and as it is a continuous formation, winding from the center to within half an inch from the circumference. It is surmised that it was growing in an inclined position on the edge of a glacier, where by some shifting it was caused to rotate, so that all sides of the tree were successively on the downward side. Thus, as the tree grew, and its rotation continued slowly, the "rotoloz" developed into a spiral.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in over-crowded kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

"And what is your father's business, Tillie?"
"He's a bookkeeper," said Tillie.
Just then the teacher noticed that Elsie's nose went up in scorn.

"Well, my father says he is," rejoined Elsie. "At least he's never returned any of father's."

JAPAN SEEKS PACIFIC ISLANDS

WANTS THEM AS HER SHARE IN WAR REWARD FOR HER MILITARY AND NAVAL ACTIVITY.

WORLD-POLICE ARMY DEFEATED

League of Nations Plan Adopted Unanimously Consists of Twenty-six Articles.

Paris.—Japan has not yet agreed to the plan for making her a mandatory for the Caroline and Marshall Islands. While other powers virtually have agreed to the mandatory principle and are willing to accept direction of various German colonies, Japan desires a more complete definition of the plan under which the two groups of Pacific islands will be entrusted to her, and a more complete statement of the kind of international control and supervision which will obtain under the society of nations plan.

In discussing this question with the correspondent a member of the Japanese delegation said the Japanese have great pride in their achievements in the Pacific, and feel that as a reward for their military and naval activity they should be permitted to extend their culture and civilization to the two groups of islands which are inhabited by undeveloped peoples.

If the society of nations desires standardization and unification of development of captured German colonies which would prevent Japan giving a distinctly Japanese character to the Marshall and Caroline Islands, the plan would not be acceptable to Japan, as it would hurt the national pride of her people, the delegate said. The Havas agency says it has been informed by the Japanese delegation to the peace conference that the announcement that Baron Makino, senior Japanese delegate, had received an order to publish certain agreements concluded between China and Japan is premature.

The Bourgeois proposition for an inter-allied military force to enforce peace was defeated by an overwhelming vote at the meeting of the society of nations commission.

The French and Czechoslovaks were the only representatives voting in the affirmative. The draft of the society of nations plan then was unanimously adopted as a whole. The final draft consists of 26 articles.

8,000 WOMEN BEING TREATED

State Health Work Growing Fast. Not Half of Cases Reported.

Lansing.—Instituted as a war emergency measure November 12, 1917, the process of internment instituted by the state board of health for the care and treatment of cases of venereal diseases has been so successful that the offices of the board in the state building here are deluged every day with inquiries from all over the state, either for personal advice or for further enlightenment and a still more vigorous prosecution of the work.

By a card catalog system so complete that not only patients, but physicians reporting cases and cities themselves are included in the inquiry, the fullest information possible has been obtained, yet the rights of persons suffering from such diseases are safeguarded because physicians are not required to report names of patients, but may use initials if they choose.

About 8,000 women have been tabulated so far, but it is believed that this number represents only a small percentage of the cases actually needing treatment and the legislature will be asked to pass more stringent laws to enforce the reporting of these cases, as well as an appropriation of $300,000 for the next two years, to carry on this work.

There are eight hospitals with 321 beds for the care of venereal cases, and 1,340 have already been sent to hospitals, a larger number than in any other state in the union.

Predicts Early Recall of Troops.

Washington.—Prediction that the proposed conference at Princes Islands between representatives of the victorious associated nations and the various contending Russian factions would result in an agreement for withdrawal from Russia of American and Allied troops was made in the senate by Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee, during another spirited debate on the American policy toward the Russian revolution.

Weekly Health Talks

GOING BACK TO NATURE BY DR. W. LUCAS.

People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get well is to go back. Something grows out of the ground in the form of vegetation to cure almost every ill. Some of these vegetable growths are understood by man, and some are not. Animals, it would seem, know what to do when they are sick better than men and women. Observers have noted that a sick horse, dog or cat will stop eating food and seek out some vegetable growth in the field or yard, which, when found and eaten, often restores appetite and health. Haven't you seen these animals do this very thing yourself?

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found the herbs and roots provided by Nature to overcome constipation, and he had these vegetables collected and made up of Mayapple, leaves of Aloe, root of Jalap, into little white sugar-coated pills, that he called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. You must understand that when your intestines are stopped up, poisons and decayed matter are imprisoned in your system, and these are carried by the blood throughout your body. Thus does your head ache, you get dizzy, you can't sleep, your skin may break out, your appetite declines, you get tired and despondent. As a matter of fact, you may get sick all over. Don't you see how useless all this suffering is? All that is often needed is a few of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which he has placed in all drug stores for your convenience and health. Try them by all means. They are probably the very thing you need right now.

REALLY NOT DINER'S FAULT

Persistent Stare That So Annoyed Young Mrs. Hopkins Due to Circumstances Beyond Control.

Young Mrs. Hopkins, glancing casually from her table into one of the mirrors that lined the side of the cafe, met the eye of a stout man, at the table opposite, fixed intently on her. A moment later, on looking around again, she beheld the same immovable stare.

Mrs. Hopkins, feeling that constant searching gaze, began to grow uneasy. The first feeling of displeasure had changed to one of annoyance, and now approached that of apprehension. There was something mysterious, almost uncanny, in the stout person's unwavering inspection. All manner of direful tales of the Black Hand society, and escaped maniacs, flashed through her mind. The dinner palled. She fidgeted so nervously that her husband finally observed that something was wrong.

"What's the matter, dear?" he asked solicitously.

"That horrible man," she replied faintly, with a shudder. "He never leaves off staring at me." Hubby started up violently.

"Who is the scoundrel?" he fiercely demanded.

"That fat man to the right."

Hopkins sprang out of his chair, quickly crossed over, and confronted the wretch.

He beheld a rotund, placid countenance, one eye of which was contentedly regarding the remains of a portion of roast duck, and the other—the eye beheld by Mrs. Hopkins—still turned in her direction.

Hopkins looked closely. The left eye was glass!

Silence never yet betrayed anyone.

ROCKS HIS BABY BACK TO LIFE

Father's Last Loving Rite Restores Child Believed to Be Dead.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—Little four-year-old Laverne Scattergood was pronounced dead. Her father and mother were heartbroken and the attending nurse went about the task of getting the death robes ready and preparing the body for the undertaker.

E. A. Scattergood, the father, entered the room with tears streaming from his eyes. He had been accustomed to rocking baby every night, and he decided to take the little one in his arms for the last time. He rocked and cried while the nurse went on with her work. Suddenly there came a scream from the father, and the nurse hurried to him.

"She is living," he said; "she is living, and I know it."

The nurse thought she saw signs of life. Baby was placed in her bed, hot water bottles were applied, and violent rubbing started the circulation. When the doctor arrived the baby was very much alive.

All that happened a few days ago. Now little Laverne is improving and the doctor expects her to recover from pneumonia.

"All the time she was sick," said the father, "I thought that if I could rock her as I did every night she would get better. When they said she was dead, I believed it. But I decided to rock her just once more, and maybe I am not glad that I decided to."

EARN MONEY TO PAY FINE

Farmer Then Returns to Court and Announces That He Is Ready to Serve Sentence.

Seattle, Wash.—Miles Powell, a farmer, was before the federal court here charged with operating a liquor still.

"What's your business?" asked Judge Jeremiah Nefer.

"My business is to plead guilty to the charge," said Powell.

"Your candor is refreshing," murmured the court.

Powell was asked if he thought he could pay the minimum fine. He said he could not, but was willing to go to work and earn the money. When he again appeared in court recently he brought with him the $100 fine and announced he was willing to start serving his sentence of 30 days in jail. He is now "doing time."

SHORT CHANGE ARTISTS BUSY

Dust Off Old System and Use It With Considerable Success on Merchants in Georgia.

Macon, Ga.—Short change artists have been bilking stores and shops in Macon for several weeks past. The system, though quite old, was dusted off again and used here.

One of the trio would make a small purchase and give a $10 bill. When he received change he would discover suddenly that he had a coin of the right denomination, and handing the cashier part of the change ask that a $5 bill be given him. When this was done he suddenly thrust the $5 bill back at the cashier and asked that his $10 bill be given back. Meanwhile his confederates were loudly clamoring to be waited on immediately, saying they were in a hurry.

WAITER TOOK NO CHANCES

Simply Removed Objects of Temptation From the Immediate Vicinity of Fair Hotel Guests.

Two Indianapolis women were eating lunch in a hotel in a city not 100 miles from the Hoosier capital.

"My, what a pretty silver sugar and cream set!" exclaimed one. "They would fit nicely on my dining-room table at home."

"Yes," said the other. "I can readily understand how an irresistible impulse often strikes the hotel diner at the expense of the management." And she picked up the dainty sugar bowl and examined it carefully.

The lunch proceeded. The waiter meanwhile had been fitting back and forth. Presently both diners looked at each other simultaneously. With almost a single voice they exclaimed: "Did you take that sugar bowl?" For the sugar bowl had mysteriously disappeared. Both denied the accusation.

But as they wended their way out of the dining room they noticed that their waiter had removed temptation by placing the sugar bowl on an adjoining table.

Get New Kidneys!

The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering out and throwing off the poisons developed in the system, things begin to happen.

One of the first warnings is pain or stiffness in the lower part of the back; highly colored urine; loss of appetite; indigestion; irritation, or even stone in the bladder. These symptoms indicate a condition that may lead to that dreaded and fatal malady, Bright's disease, for which there is said to be no cure.

Do not delay a minute. At the first indication of trouble in the kidney, liver, bladder or urinary organs, start taking Gold Medal Harlem Oil Capsules, and save yourself before it is too late. Instant treatment is necessary in kidney and bladder troubles. A delay is often fatal.

You can almost certainly find immediate relief in Gold Medal Harlem Oil Capsules. For more than 200 years this famous preparation has been an unfailing remedy for all kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

It is the pure, original Harlem Oil your great-grandmother used. About two capsules each day will keep you toned up and strong. And if you can't get to bed, and if it does not give you almost immediate relief, your money will be refunded. Be sure you get the GOLD MEDAL brand. None other genuine. In boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

LAND OF WEALTH

Western Canada Has Unbounded Possibilities.

Glorious Opportunities for the Stock Raiser, the Wheat Grower, and the Mixed Farmer—Its Fields to Feed the World.

Before there were any cattle in Alberta, or it was known that it was possible to feed them outside all the year round, the Indian hunters could always find the buffalo during the winter months pasturing in the foothills. In the summer the herds wandered on the plains and fed on the prairie grasses. The plains have since become grain fields, but the foothill district extending north from the international boundary for a thousand miles will always be a natural feeding ground for live stock. In the southern part of Alberta the altitude is greater than in the more northerly districts, but while the herds in the south have wider tracts of treeless pasturage, in the north from Red Deer on into the Peace river country there are more trees, a richer vegetation and more natural shelter.

Those who have been advocating stock raising and mixed farming for the past few years point to the number of hogs marketed as an evidence of the increased production of the Western Provinces. They may also take credit for the increase in cattle and sheep, which is very great, but perhaps not so marked as what has been accomplished in hog raising. For the first six months alone last year about half a million hogs were shipped from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. A very conservative estimate value of those animals to the farmer would be $25,000 a head.

The Canadian West is fast forging to the front of the wheat-producing countries of the world, and "No. 1 hard" is without doubt the best wheat in the market today. When it is considered that the three hundred and forty-three million four hundred and seventy-three thousand bushel crop of 1915 was from only eleven million acres of her hundreds of millions of acres, it gives an idea of what her future will be.

It is felt, however, that on account of the great money there will undoubtedly be in growing wheat during the next few years there is a possibility that farmers may be tempted to drop the growing of coarser grains, which might result in less stock being raised. Every effort is being made by the Agricultural Departments of the various Provinces to impress on the farmers that forage crops and coarse feed is just as important as wheat and corn. The man raising wheat from the rich soil has purchased most of his household food and necessities, his energies being devoted to getting every possible bushel of grain out of every foot of his land, and he has paid prices for his supplies that have made a big dent in his profits. It has now dawned on him that he can raise vegetables, and poultry, and supply his own table; that with very little effort he can raise a lot of garden produce and in a very simple manner solve his own problem of the cost of living. Further, that there is an increasing market for domestic necessities such as poultry, eggs, butter, milk and cheese, which command very high prices, and that there are other roads to prosperity besides that through the wheat field.

In 1916 Canada imported 7,989,289 pounds of butter, most of it from as far away as New Zealand, and for the first time in 60 years failed to ship butter to England, a condition due to the home consumption, which is estimated to be increasing at the rate of $3,000,000 worth a year, being greatly in excess of the increased supply. This condition has brought about a change in farming methods that is far-reaching, and will result in greatly increased production all round of the necessities demanded by the home market.

Natural Resources.

One of the most important considerations to the farmer is fuel. In northern Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where portions of the country are well wooded, the settler has little difficulty in getting all the wood he requires, and thousands of men find employment in the winter cutting wood, which is shipped all over the prairie portions of the provinces. There is an abundance of coal throughout the country. It is estimated that the coal deposits in Alberta cover over 81,000 square miles and represent an available tonnage of over ten hundred thousand million tons, while those in Saskatchewan cover an area of 13,000 miles, containing over 20,000,000 tons. In Manitoba the coal reserve is not so large, but even there 100,000,000 tons is considered a conservative estimate. At the present time these deposits are only worked to a small extent, but there is no doubt that they will be a great feature in upbuilding the country and will exercise a powerful influence on its commerce.

It is a common thing in the coal districts for farmers to get their coal supply off their own farm. Near Edmonton, for example, the farmers not only supply themselves, but they can ry coal in the city market and find it a considerable source of revenue in the winter time. The Edmonton coal fields under and around the city have an estimated content of sixty thousand million tons. Farmers sell the coal at $4 a ton for domestic use.

The pioneer of Western Canada knew little of the enjoyments of life, compared with the farmer in that country today. The continual extension of railway lines affords facilities undreamed of a few years ago, closing up the gaps of communication, creating immense business for the East in the West and the West in the East, and drawing the farmer all the time nearer to the zones of commerce. In creating wider markets the railways are doing more than any other agency can do for Western Canada, and the country as a whole. The products of the farms, which are now readily marketed, and the vast train of employment that follows the enlargement of the farming industry, is creating new agricultural centers and causing towns and cities of importance to grow all along its lines.

An admirable system of agricultural instruction has been developed through the efforts of the Dominion government and the various provincial Departments of Agriculture. This forms part of the educational system of Western Canada and is doing much for all branches of agriculture. Experimental farms have been established at various points in the provinces, which have done wonders in developing improved methods of farming.

The result has been a great awakening to the necessity of better methods of tillage, scientific stock raising and dairying. Farmers are beginning to realize that to get what they are entitled to out of the land, they must adopt scientific methods, and as a result, careful seed selection, proper rotation and summer fallow is the order of the day. Under the favorable conditions generally anticipated, prospects point to an all round increase in production that will leave a great deal of money in the hands of the western farmer this year, and prosperity for Western Canada as a whole. It will be years before Europe will make up arrears in agricultural production, caused by the enforced idleness and wholesale destruction, and Western Canada will play a big part in filling the void.

The result of the continued shortage in cattle, the future price of beef and the solution of the perplexing problem of feeding the world are vital questions upon which the minds of many thinking people today.

There is no doubt that the wide acres of Western Canada can, and will, be made to play an important part in bringing about a proper balance in supply and demand. In the northern parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and in Alberta are many thousands of acres of the richest pasture in the world, well watered, and treated by the sunniest of climates. These rolling hills for the greater part are still unpeopled and untended by the hoofs of domestic animals.

One of the causes assigned for the decline in stock-raising is the reduction in the areas available for grazing on account of so many big ranches being converted into farms. Experiments conducted at Vermilion, Alberta, would rather go to show that the old grazing grounds were too large, and that the feeding is really better when the animal is confined to a comparatively limited area, providing the pasturage is of the right kind and there is plenty of water.—Advertiser.

35. If the legislature does not pass and put into effect a law licensing and regulating saloons by May 7th, 1919, then anybody and everybody may sell such liquors at any time or place (Sundays, holidays and election days included) until such laws become operative.

36. Should such an interval occur, Michigan would be absolutely without any restrictions or regulations on the sale or use of beer, wine, ale, porter and hard cider—the state would be wide open on those liquors in the widest sense of the word.

37. Before such law could be passed and put into operation, saloons could probably be established anywhere in the state, without any license or regulations.

38. Such liquors could be possessed in any quantity in private residences.

39. The manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering, or furnishing of spirituous liquors will be still forbidden.

40. At the election, April 7, every registered elector, men and women, may vote on this amendment.

STOCKBRIDGE—Friday evening, Frank Cavender seeing no sign of life about the farm of Mrs. Porter Rowe, about two miles west of this village, called to investigate, and found Robert Harrington, aged 70, sitting in a chair, dead. He was alone at the time Mrs. Rowe being in Detroit on a visit. At the inquest Saturday, the jury brought in a verdict of "death from natural causes."

BROOKLYN—A new popcorn industry for Brooklyn was organized last week at Detroit under the name, "International Corn Products Corporation." Arthur J. Burcroff, who has for several years been identified with the local popcorn company, has been selected as field and factory manager, and will bring his experience and popularity to bear in making a success of the new concern.—Exponent.

SOUTH LYON—The sexton of the local cemetery in digging the grave Tuesday for the remains of David Havershaw, was obliged to move the casket of a child of his, buried about 40 years ago, who died of diphtheria. At the time of death, the nature of the disease was undetermined and so a grave bomb was placed on top of the box. Wires were stretched across the grave underground so in case an attempt at grave robbery was made these wires, if disturbed, would pull a trigger on the bomb and let a big hammer fall onto a percussion cap, exploding the charge of powder contained in a cast-iron shell. It is a very ingenious device and looks after its 40 years underground, as though it would be a very wicked thing to "monkey" with.—Herald.

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All drug-gists, 75 cents.

February 18th and Chelsea folks are experiencing the first winter weather in nearly a year, excepting a few days about holiday time, and this is a very mild sort of winter weather at that—just a little snow and freezing a little at night. Ice in Cedar lake, where most of Chelsea's supply for household consumption is cut, is only about five inches thick, and it is now so warm at mid-day that it is almost impossible to work on the ice, even if it were thick enough to cut.
