TRIP TO THE FRONT.

Working north from Chatillon to Reims on the boulevard we caught a French-Italian truck, arriving at Copstantine, the intersection of the two boulevards entering Reims. One goes west to Fismes on towards Soissons the other south to the Marne River, the one we came up on. We met several salvage working companies of American soldiers, most of them colored fellows, salvaging the deserted ammunition, shells, guns, etc.

Reims was closely guarded by Americans. We didn't take any chances to get into Reims, fearing we might be picked up and sent back to Brest. We were two near the front to be sent back and see nothing of it. We got with the French soldiers. There were two large, black grips in the crowd which were fitted with soldiers' handbats and cigarettes when we left Paris, being told that, by giving a Frenchman an American cigarette we could get anywhere, so we treated liberally.

Only five miles from the front line at this point, our next course was west to Fismes, towards Soissons, including the top of the pocket which the Germans made in July to get to Paris. Reims had not been destroyed like most of the smaller towns we had seen but in the distance we could see the large churches and cathedrals towering above other buildings, with their once unsurpassed architecture, but now pieces of the roof torn away and huge shell holes in the walls from German bombardment.

At Fismes on the night of October 7, just three miles from the front line, trying to rest and sleep in a French-Italian rest camp, found our little squad of soldiers, one marine and three American soldiers, French soldiers relating their troubles and experiences to us.

Continuing on the next morning, still in range of German guns, we reached the Viste River at St. Thubert, a very small village. While trying to drive one of their large trench tanks across a bridge at the place the Germans lost, it broke through the bridge head first down into the river. It laid half buried with mud and water. I have the tank's compass which I managed to get. There were many trenches along this river till the way into Braisne, twelve kilometers from Fismes. From Braisne into Soissons we were three miles from the front and in range of the German guns. Made me think I was going through another ventillator on the Mount Vernon struck again with a torpedo, but these explosions seemed very small in comparison with a German torpedo.

A constant rumbling from the front all the time, clouds of smoke, and at night some of the biggest fireworks I ever saw. Looked like Northern Lights. Through the Frenchmen we were told that the Germans had been driven out of Soissons just three days before. A German airplane was shot down the night before we reached Soissons. The three German bodies lay there just as they had been pulled out from the wreck. A French soldier had taken pictures of it. We waited and he developed and printed them while we were there, and we bought a few of them.

Soissons was most a typical scene of desolation, results of German invasion. No one can describe, no one can tell just how things look and are over there. Soissons is a scene I shall never forget. Things I saw there caused by the torture of war will never leave my memory.

Leaving Soissons we rode on an American truck to Oulchy, 20 kilometers from Chatillon Thierry, north. At one place on this ride the truck driver turned out of the road, a grave in the center of the road. Most of the dead were buried in shell holes. The boulevard in many places was torn with shells and huge holes that had to be repaired before they could go along with trucks. We worked our way down towards Chatillon Thierry to a small place called Epides. From here our course was to Belleau Woods, cross country westward through shell torn forests where the trees had been moved down and limbs cut off leaving a barren cluster of stumps projecting up in place of a once beautiful wood. Huge piles of German ammunition, six-inch shells corded up like cordwood, for miles up the side of the road. Now and then large trainloads of smaller ammunition, machine gun shells, in boxes stacked up ten feet high and many rods long; also large piles of hand grenades in boxes.

I took particular note and saw that the rifle shells were packed carefully in felt lined boxes. The six-inch shells weighed from 60 to 80 pounds each and were in round wicker baskets with a neat handle on each end. Every shell had a war-head with numbers and a scale and dial, an arrangement to set time for exploding after they were fired from the gun. The careful manner in which everything was placed there indicated that the Germans had planned to stay

CHELSEA HIGH ADDS GLORY TO ITS FLAG

Wins Basket Ball Games From Dexter and Jackson Y Maroons.

Chelsea high school entertained the Dexter girls and friends at supper in the Macabee hall Friday evening, after which all went to the town hall for the basket ball game.

The Chelsea girls romped away with the Dexter girls in the preliminary game, thereby making up for their defeat at Dexter. Winans and Schumacher were successful in breaking up Dexter's plays by their work in defensive play, while Waltrous and Speer, ably assisted by Koebbe and Shepherd, rolled up the score for Chelsea. Slayton, of Dexter, was able to ring up only two field goals, making the final score 17 to 5. Miss Rogers, Ypsilanti, was the referee.

The boys' game was a rather rough contest, with the roughness about evenly divided. Fourteen personal fouls were called on each team, Nash and Schoenhals being the principal offenders. Lawrence entered into the contest with more confidence and was able to ring up six field goals. Brooks got eight and Kalmbach three. Gallagher and Thompson were then in scores for Dexter. Chelsea boys led throughout the game. Final score, 47 to 15. Ottmar, Ann Arbor, referee.

After the game all returned to the Macabee hall for a social hour.

Chelsea High Swamps Maroons.

Last week the Chelsea high received a challenge from the Y Maroons of Jackson, and not at all adverse to meeting any and all comers the Chelsea boys accepted the challenge.

During the week there appeared in the Jackson papers many press comments on the ability of the two teams calculated to draw crowds and get Chelsea's goat. In this they were successful so far as getting the crowd was concerned, and it looked for a time, also, so far as the goat was concerned. The boys were pretty well scared before they left Chelsea and did not get over it until the game was half over.

The Maroons led in the scoring and had rung up four field goals before Chelsea got started. However, as soon as the boys got used to the flow and the play of their opponents they proceeded to run up the score and at the same time hold the game. The first half ended 19 to 19. Then something happened. We were sure that something was going to happen, but were completely surprised that anything so "raw" would be attempted. When it, white head made its appearance there was a generous applause from the crowd which was gracefully responded to by the New's special correspondent and leading basket ball star by prancing around the center circle. The game was now saved. Chelsea's goat was again fished. The whistle blows; they were off again. But how about the goat? He surely is a slippery fellow. They simply could not keep him tied up.

Time and again the Maroons tried to break through Chelsea's defense but could not, while Brooks, ably assisted by his team mates, was breaking through regularly and almost scoring at will. At no time could we see the professional New's correspondent for the dust Chelsea was making. He sure proved himself to be just what he is, and if Chelsea boys had had porcine hides there would have been no gas left in the bag.

Final score was Chelsea 45, Y Maroons 25. Lipcomb, referee.

Leo J. Kelly.

Leo J. Kelly, youngest son of John Kelly, was born in Chelsea December 25, 1891, and died at the home of his father on West Middle street, Friday morning, February 23, 1919, after an illness of about four years. His mother died ten years ago, since which time his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Murray, has made her home with the family and has filled the place of the mother of the boy as far as possible. The surviving members of the family are his father, two brothers, Dr. Francis Kelly of Richmond, Va., and Lieut. Max Kelly of Highland Park; two sisters, Miss Agatha Kelly of Detroit and Sister Carmella of Adrian.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's church Monday morning, Rev. Father VanDyke conducting the services. Interment at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

right there the rest of the time; also the ammunition showed that it was prepared long ago and had been in stock.

At places leading from one opening to a woodlot showed for miles that the boulevard was camouflaged. The Germans had cut trees small enough so they could handle them and set them side by side along on both sides of the road, to prevent the Allies from seeing the transportation of troops and supplies from place to place.

F. S. Prohibition N. B. H. Wets Win.

Legislators who have been keeping a watchful eye on the temperance of public sentiment on the wet and dry question are commenting about a cunning feature of the wine and beer amendment upon which voters will pass judgment at the election in April. The senators have had it called to their attention that if this amendment is adopted it would not only restore the saloon to legal standing but would also tie the hands of the state government when it came time to enforce national prohibition.

"The wets certainly passed by no means when they framed their proposed wine and beer amendment," declared one law-maker, "for the law would make us helpless here in Michigan to enforce national prohibition. It is intended that the federal dry law shall be enforced by state as well as by national officers, but if the wine and beer amendment should win it would deprive Michigan sheriffs and police officers of authority to make arrests for bootlegging, tipping or other offenses. Enforcement of the law would be up to federal officers alone, and with the whole state to cover it would be seen that it would require an army corps of revenue men. If Michigan citizens have not cut their eye teeth, it's about time they did, for if the wine and beer amendment is passed it would furnish complications and trouble galore. If it is defeated the present state prohibition laws will remain in force, so that state officers can work in harmony with federal men. I'm not arguing the merits or demerits of intoxicants, but I am for law enforcement, and if that is what Michigan citizens desire, the wine and beer amendment should be defeated."

ANN ARBOR—J. F. Hansel, night operator at the Michigan Central railroad station made a tragic ending of his first night's duty at his new post, when that first night was but about half over, last Thursday night, when he stepped in front of an eastbound passenger train and was so badly crushed that he died within a few minutes after being taken to a hospital. Hansel came from Canada Wednesday. He had been working on a night trick on a Canadian railroad for a few weeks following his discharge from the Royal Flying corps, and this was his first night on the new job. Being unacquainted with the trucks in the Michigan Central yards, he became mixed and was hit by a train which he did not notice approaching.

All members of the Oddfellows are requested to attend meeting Wednesday, March 12. Second anniversary of the lodge. Lunch and smoker.

President Wilson Argues for a League of Nations and the Senate Debates It.

OPPOSERS STANDING FIRM

Peace Delegates Approaching Agreement on Question of Reparation—Germany Term by Civil Strife and Royalists Plan Coup d'Etat—Labor Trou—Bless Here and Abroad.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

That unless the United States joins the League of Nations chaos will result; that the Monroe doctrine is safe because the constitution of the league expands it to cover the world; and the signatory nations will be obligated to uphold it; that it is practically impossible to amend the draft of the league plan that was adopted; that the limitations of the size of the army and navy imposed by the league would be only moral obligations and that the restraint really would lie in the limitation of the production of arms and munitions, and that the United States could withdraw from the league at any time it saw fit—such in substance was the explanation of the great plan given by President Wilson to the members of the senate and house committees on foreign affairs.

Mr. Wilson aimed the commitment and was frank, joyful and enthusiastic, and answered all their questions freely, but after it was all over the wisest ones declared that he had not converted a single one of the opponents of the league. These include both Republicans and Democrats, and during the rest of the week they continued their attacks on the plan. The spokesmen of the administration replied vigorously, but there was reason to believe that nearly every member of the senate, which must pass on the plan, had his mind made up.

In his Boston speech the president told the people very little about the league, but in brilliant phrases he appealed to the country to support the plan, declaring that the rest of the world relied on America at this juncture. In this he is corroborated by the British press, which shows some anxiety over the opposition manifest in this country, and some fear that America will not be willing to assume her share of the burden of governing the world. It is recognized, abroad and at home, that the American people might look askance at any proposition that they accept mandates for such territories as the former German colonies in Africa, and the president says that in Paris he firmly discouraged any such idea; but he thinks the United States might well become the mandatory for the Armenians. As for the newly organized nations of Europe, he says it is up to America to stand by them, whether or not the tongue of nations is forced.

In France the opposition to the league, based extensively on the lack of a binding provision for the use of force to put its mandates into effect, has largely died out because the critics feared that opposition there and in America would kill the entire project. The emissaries of the allied nations are now said to be in complete harmony in this matter.

As the week closed there were signs that the principles of the league might be given a tryout in settling the dispute between the Italians and the Jugoslavs, which had reached a critical stage. The military commission of the latter had expelled the Italian military mission from Ljubljana, and in retaliation Italy closed the frontier, stopping all food trains carrying relief for the Jugoslavs and the Czech-Slovaks.

On Friday the draft of the new and permanent armistice was submitted to the supreme council in Paris, but may not be placed before the German government for some time yet. The allied nations agreed to it but the United States reserved the right to object to provisions for the demolition of the defenses of the Kiel canal and Heligoland, and their neutralization and to the transfer of the German cables to the allies. The reasons for objecting were not made public.

The commission that is working on the question of reparation has been making swift progress. It is reported that the amount Germany will be called on to pay has been reduced about 50 per cent from the original total of the demands, but this fact will not afford the Huns much consolation. The cut was made because it was recognized that the greater the indemnity the greater must be the opportunity given Germany to do business in order to get the money to pay the debt. The British urge that the entire cost of the war should be assessed against the Germans; the French agree with this, but want settlement first for damages in violation of international law, and payment of the rest if and when possible; the Americans have held that reparation should be demanded only for warlike destruction. The compromise plan that will be adopted probably will be such that Germany's industrial recovery shall not be too swift, at the expense of France and Belgium. The matter of the Franco-German frontier was still unsettled last week, but it seemed likely that the French might be permitted to occupy the left bank of the Rhine until the indemnity is paid, without annexing the Rheinland provinces. No German field or fixed fortifications will be permitted in that territory. The Rheinland provinces may be formed into a separate buffer state.

The supreme council decided last week to establish an intermediate zone in Transylvania between the Roumanian and Hungarian troops, and also heard the claims of Armenia.

One question over which the allied nations are still at wide variance is that of the disposition of the surrendered German war vessels. The British are determined that they shall not be in the future a part of the naval armament of the world and seem to prefer that they be sunk or broken up. The French are equally firm in their demand that the vessels be divided among the allies in proportion to their naval losses, and in this they have the support of Italy and some of the smaller nations. France declares the other nations can do as they please with the ships that fall to their share, but those France gets will become part of her navy, that is necessary to police the seas and protect her colonies. She cites the formidable naval building program of the American government as evidence that the most pacific nations have and intend to maintain navies.

While her conquerors are settling her boundaries and future relations with the rest of the world, Germany is enjoying a full measure of the anarchy and civil strife that she wished on Russia. The disturbance in Bavaria which resulted in the murder of Premier Eisner and others by reactionaries was quelled by vigorous measures adopted by the government, and the latter felt more than ever into the hands of the radicals. In Saxony a new revolt was started by the Spartacists, who were joined by the miners and industrial workers of the Halle region, and the government sent a large force of troops to stop the strikes and riots. Radical as are the Spartacists, they are too timid to suit the real anarchists, and the latter are reported to have begun a counter-revolution that is centered in Düsseldorf, which city was in their hands.

That the Ebert government is alarmed by the spread of the Spartacist movement is evidenced by its distracted efforts to meet and suppress it. Military Governor Noske thinks he can put it down by force of arms and urges that the national assembly authorize the raising of 200,000 additional militia. But President Ebert himself, it is said, favors the extraordinary course of seeking to conciliate the radicals by establishing a national soviet as the lower legislative branch of the government. Noske also wanted to send troops into Bavaria, but the soviet government in Munich threatened to execute ten prominent citizens if this were done.

Those who have never placed any faith in the gentleness of the German revolution of last autumn were not surprised to read that the monarchists of that country were preparing for a coup d'etat in the near future for the restoration of the old order of things. The general staff with the old officer class are assured to have gradually gained the whip hand and now hold the government in their power and intend to overthrow it. A number of royalist officers, met recently in Charlottenburg, according to the story, and pledged themselves to hold munitions in readiness, to enlist as many men loyal to the former Kaiser as possible and to assemble when called. The coup, it is believed, will be carried out in Berlin, and it is certain that bloody civil war will result, whatever may be the final outcome. The former army officers are a power to be reckoned with in Prussia, and it may be their efforts will be aided by the numerous members of the old regime who still remain in their places in the various departments of the government at Berlin, under majority socialist chiefs. William Hohenzollern not long ago had a conference with Count von Brockdorff-Rastan, the German foreign minister, and was said afterward to be extraordinarily cheerful. Possibly he hopes to recover his throne, but if so he doesn't seem to be taking into account the fact that the allies claim the right to determine his fate and that they undoubtedly have other plans for him.

The many strikes and other signs of industrial unrest in America are causing President Wilson some anxiety, and after a session with Secretary of Labor Wilson had an invitation telegraphed to the governors of all the states and the mayors of about 100 cities to meet with him in conference at the White House March 3 and 4 to discuss "vital questions affecting business and labor." The president and the American labor delegation now in Paris as well as are urging the adoption of a definite national policy that will stimulate public and private construction and industry.

In line with this plan, Secretary Redfield has created an industrial board for the purpose of stabilizing basic commodity prices, and the council of national defense will co-operate with it. "The effort," says an announcement of the council, "should be to wholly eliminate the abnormal, unbalanced stimulation that business has had and the inflated prices that have resulted, and to start upon a normal level, after which industry can safely rely upon the law of supply and demand. Reductions from high prices to the proper level should be made as nearly as practicable at the same time in the various industries."

Premier Lloyd George and his colleagues in the British government have been working like Trojans to avert or at least postpone the threatened strike of all the miners and railway men of Great Britain. Appeals to the patriotism and common sense of the men appeared to have some effect, though at this writing the outcome is extremely uncertain. The miners, railway men and transport workers have formed a triple alliance, one section of which will take no action or work any settlement without consultation and agreement with the other sections.

President Wilson made several important appointments last week. A Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, was made attorney general; Hugh C. Wallace of Tacoma was appointed ambassador to France, and Norman Hapgood was given the place of minister to Denmark.

On his way from Boston to Washington the president signed the new revenue bill and many of its sections went into effect at once. One of its provisions made the District of Columbia bond-free, with the exception of the property occupied by foreign embassies and consulates.

Villa Breaks Loose Again. Juarez, Mex.—Francisco Villa's personal command under the direct leadership of the notorious bandit has burned the railroad station at Montezuma, 110 miles south of here, cut the telegraph wires, tore up the railroad and isolated Gen. Jesus Castro and his command in Juarez, where the commander of the north-eastern zone has been preparing to take the field against Villa. Fighting is expected south of here at any time.

EUROPE'S NEW MAP ABOUT COMPLETED

GERMANY'S WESTERN FRONTIERS BORDERING ON FRANCE IS FIRST IN IMPORTANCE.

WESTERN FRONT UNDER 3 HEADS

New Line Will End Briey Coal Fields Where Germany Based Her Military Strength.

Paris.—A new map of Europe is taking form rapidly, and within a week the frontiers of the old states will largely be defined as they are to appear in the peace treaty and the successive documents fixing territorial limits.

First in importance is Germany's western frontier bordering on France, which assumes international significance as a barrier against renewal of the present war. Owing to the issues involved, final determination of this question is left to the council of the great powers, but in the meantime tentative plans have been well advanced by the commission which coordinates reports on all frontier questions.

As it now stands, the western frontier comes under three main heads—first, Alsace-Lorraine; second, the great iron and coal regions of Briey and the Saar valley, and third, the extensive strip of German territory lying on the west bank of the Rhine from the Palatinate northward.

With respect to Alsace-Lorraine the present tendency is to make a recession of this section to France without any condition of a plebiscite or otherwise. It is now occupied or by military forces under the armistice, and there is every indication the occupation will become permanent.

The Briey and Saar valley sections are chiefly important as furnishing iron, steel and coal on which Germany's military power was based and it is believed the new line will definitely put an end to any further use of these sources of German power. Part of the Briey and Saar sections will become French by the return of Lorraine.

HOOVER HEADS U. S. RELIEF

Will Supervise Expending of $100,000,000 for Food.

Washington.—Herbert Hoover has been appointed by President Wilson as director general of the American Relief administration, created under the new $100,000,000 European famine relief bill with full authority to direct the furnishing of foodstuffs and other urgent supplies purchased out of the relief fund and to arrange for their transportation distribution and administration.

Mr. Hoover, who already had been made director general of Allied relief under the commission sitting at Paris, also was given full power by the president to determine to which of the populations named in the relief bill the supplies shall be furnished and in what quantities.

He also is to arrange for reimbursement so far as possible as provided in the relief act.

In making public the president's executive order the food administration announced that Edgar Richard and Theodore F. Whitmarsh, who have been directing the affairs of the food administration during Mr. Hoover's absence in Europe, had been appointed by him joint directors in the United States of the newly created relief administration.

VICTORY LOAN PASSES SENATE

Bill Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to Issue $7,000,000,000 in Bonds.

Washington.—The Republican bill, passed in the senate against the Victory loan bill collapsed like a bubble, and the bill was passed without a roll call. The bill authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue $7,000,000,000 in bonds and certificates and to fix the rate of interest.

Passage of the bill by the senate and the defeat of the filibuster meant that President Wilson will not be forced to call the sixty-sixth congress in extra session until after his return from Europe.

Republicans who undertook a filibuster against the bill realized that if they could bring about the defeat of the measure, they might compel the president to call congress in session this month. The president does not appear to desire that the Republican congress be in session to talk about what he is doing while he is in Europe.

Villa Breaks Loose Again. Juarez, Mex.—Francisco Villa's personal command under the direct leadership of the notorious bandit has burned the railroad station at Montezuma, 110 miles south of here, cut the telegraph wires, tore up the railroad and isolated Gen. Jesus Castro and his command in Juarez, where the commander of the north-eastern zone has been preparing to take the field against Villa. Fighting is expected south of here at any time.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

A slender acquaintance with the world must convince every man that nations, not words, are the true criterion of the attachment of friends; that the most liberal professions of good will are very far from being the surest marks of it.—George Washington.

WHOLESALE FOOD FOR THE FAMILY.

For the Sunday morning breakfast there is nothing more appetizing or crisp winter days than mackerel. Soak the salt mackerel skin side up in a large pan of water, changing the water often. Add a tablespoonful of vinegar to the water and let stand over night. In the morning drain well and place in a baking dish skin side down, cover with a half cup of boiling water and when that has all evaporated add a pint of cream or rich milk; bake until it is partly absorbed and serve as a sauce with the fish.

Breast of Veal.—Take a three-pound breast of veal, make a pocket for the stuffing and fill with one cup of chopped onions, one cup of finely chopped celery, one cup of mashed potatoes, one teaspoonful of poultry dressing, one teaspoonful of paprika. Fill the pocket and sew it up with string. Rub the veal with plenty of fat, salt and pepper if well and dredge with a quarter of a cup of flour. Place in a baking pan and sear over in a hot oven. Baste often, using a little hot water at first. Bake one hour.

Cranberry Roll.—Roll out a rich biscuit dough and spread with chopped cranberries. Roll up and place in a baking pan. Cover with one cupful each of boiling water and sugar, add a tablespoonful of butter and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Beef and Corn Pudding.—Drain a can of corn, reserving the liquor for soup. Put a pound of round steak through the grinder. Brown a tablespoonful of fat with a teaspoonful of minced onion, cook and stir in one tablespoonful of flour. Add one cup of beef stock, salt and paprika to taste. Put the meat in layers in a baking dish with the corn, sprinkle with salt and paprika and moisten with the sauce. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake a half hour; covered, then brown for twenty minutes.

Life is worth while. Its work is not useless, its joys are not superficial. Its discipline is not unnecessary. When disappointments come face them cheerfully.

ECONOMICAL DISHES.

Milk as a food is one of the greatest importance. We are told that a quart of milk should be used daily for each member of the family before any meat is purchased. In thousands of homes where there are little children, milk, because it has increased in price, has been cut down to barely a pint per family, while meat which is considered such a necessity is bought regardless of price. Milk, even at 12 cents a quart, is the cheapest protein food we can buy. Skim milk, which sells for half the price of whole milk, makes a most wholesome food and may be used in hundreds of dishes in which the whole milk was thought necessary. It is both unwise and false economy to save on milk and spend it on meat and more expensive protein products.

Dates at the present moment are not cheap and are not economical to buy often, at 50 or 60 cents a pound, but before long they may get back to the old price or near it and we will then feel that we can indulge in them with impunity.

Date Pudding.—Stone a pound of dates and lay them in a baking dish. Cover with milk and let stand an hour or two. Then bake in a slow oven, letting the dish stand in a dish of hot water. Serve either hot or cold. An egg for each cup of milk and a bit of salt and flavoring may be added, making a custard and a dish with more nourishment.

Fruit Rice Pudding.—Take three-fourths of a cup of uncooked rice, four tart apples, one-half cup of raisins, three-fourths of a cup of syrup, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-third of a teaspoonful of nutmeg, and the juice and rind of a lemon. Wash the rice, add the apples pared and quartered to the rice with three cups of boiling water; add a half teaspoonful of salt and cook until the apples are done; add the remaining ingredients and cook until the rice is tender. Serve with a thin custard for sauce. Or the cooked mixture may be put into a baking dish and topped with a meringue and browned in the oven.

To save crumbs put them in a container so they will dry and not mold. Dry bread carefully in the oven, then roll it with a rolling pin. Do not allow too much to accumulate. Bread crumbs may be used to save flour, using one cupful of crumbs to displace a cupful of flour. Never substitute more than one-half of the flour.

What Is the Cause of Backache?

BY DOCTOR CORNELL

Backache is perhaps the most common ailment from which women suffer. Rarely do you find anybody free from it. Sometimes the cause is a severe, but Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. When the organs are inflamed, the first symptom is backache, accompanied by bearing down sensations, weakness, and healthy discharges, irregularity, and full periods, irritation, headache, a general run-down condition. An woman in this condition is to be pitied, but pity does not cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is a separate and distinct medicine for women.

It is made of roots and herbs put without alcohol or opiate of any kind. Dr. Pierce uses nothing else in his prescriptions. Favorite Prescription is a natural remedy for women, for the vegetable growths of which it is made seem to have been intended by Nature for that very purpose. ### Encouraging Daddy.

Watson was much afraid of the dark. One evening, wishing for some toy that was in an adjoining unlighted room, and being afraid to go after it alone, he said to his father, "Come on, daddy, I'll go with you; there isn't a thing in there that will hurt you."

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half a pint of water add 1 oz. Barbo Compound, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 4 oz. of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

In former years in making out the annual report it has been the custom to add full amount of bills collectable, also coal and stock on hand, which is a mistake, as we have a certain amount of coal and stock on hand at all times. If we were to add full amount of stock and coal, etc., would have a credit to Plant of three or four thousand dollars. Also with present freight rates and price of coal we are paying about $3.00 per ton more than in the years of 1915 and 1916, which would mean six or seven thousand dollars saving to the Plant.

BREVITIES

MANCHESTER—Beatty & Dietle,
who have successfully operated a general store in Freedom for several years, have purchased a grocery stock in Manchester, and will run the two stores.

MANCHESTER—This village is in need of more light, and needs it badly.
The present power plant cannot provide enough power for lights and for pumping water, so something must be done, and that soon.

DENTER—Another business change has taken place in the village, the well known hardware and furniture firm of Quish & Pratt, which has been conducting a going out of business sale, having dissolved partnership.

Mr. Quish has bought the balance of the stock and the public will benefit with pleasure that he has decided to replenish the stock and continue business at the old stand.—Denter Leader.

JACKSON—D. E. Turner, farmer, of Mosherville, Hillsdale county, is breeding a new type of corn known as Turner's Golden, which is a cross between the Duncan and the Pickett types of yellow dent. He is exhibiting some of the ears at Reid & Car-lton's store. Mr. Turner started four years ago, and in a plot of ground planted alternate rows of Duncan and Pickett. Then at tasseling time he detached one of the varieties to get the cross.—Jackson News.

BRIGHTON—J. R. Roundtree, of Hamburg township, brought to this office one day last week a horned owl
that measured four feet, 11 inches from tip to tip, and weighed seven and one-half pounds. It was the largest of its species ever caught around here. The bird was responsible for the loss of about seventy-five dollars' worth of Mr. Roundtree's hares. He would catch and kill the rabbit, and eat the head. It was with the use of a dead rabbit that Mr. Roundtree captured the thief in a trap.—Brighton Argus.

ANN ARBOR—Ordered out of the county of Washtenaw, by Judge
Sample, of the circuit court, Eugene Johnson, proprietor of the notorious Huron club, on North Fourth avenue, is on a three-year parole of a six months' prison sentence for selling liquor in violation of the dry law.
Johnson is forbidden to enter Washtenaw county during the probation.
Term of three years, he must not violate any of the laws of the state or ordinances of any city, he must pay the costs of his trial, and must also make stated reports to the probation officer.

MANCHESTER—The nightwatch, John Johnson, had the curiosity to open a box that was in the engine room at the council building a few days ago, and discovered four apparently new fire extinguishers, similar to the Babcock pattern. He says that the box was in the building when he was nightwatch 17 years ago and he has no knowledge of how much longer
it may have been kicked around there. None of the council appear to know when they were bought, but we presume that a search in the archives will reveal the invoice.—Manchester Enterprise.

GRASS LAKE—Pressing the muzzle of a high-power rifle against his heart, Frank Glenn, 55, of Grass Lake, pulled the trigger and died almost instantly from the bullet wound, last Thursday morning. Justice W. K.
Crafts happened to be passing the Glenn residence and was called and decided that no inquest was necessary, the deed being a clear case of suicide. Mr. Glenn had been in ill health several years, according to his wife and neighbors, but at no time did he seem despondent. Doctors had frequently urged him to have an operation, which would bring him better health, but he refused, saying he was too old. While Mrs. Glenn was at a nearby grocery store, Glenn went into the barn and shot himself, his wife discovering the body shortly after her return. She said that there was nothing unusual in his actions
during the morning, and affairs of the household went on as usual. He did, however, suggest that she take care of the errand while he did the chores.

Are "Going Over the Top".

With the closing week of the great nation wide campaign for a million tithers which has been waging in the Methodist churches since February 1,
Dr. Bahner, of Chelsea, announced that the church will "go over the top" so far that his most optimistic predictions seem small. The campaign for tithers, one of the leading phases of the great Methodist missionary centenary drive, has boomed from the opening day with more than one-fifth of the church membership has pledged itself to devote one-tenth of its income to religious purposes.

By boning beef to be shipped to Europe for the soldiers, and cutting the meat into more convenient shapes and sizes, Chicago packers will save from 15 to 40 per cent of the space
now used on ships to transport the same amount of beef.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our kind friends
for their sympathy in this our time of sorrow, and for their many acts of kindness so freely given. John Kelly and family.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Chelsea Readers
Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.
Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. W. D. Arnold, E. Middle St., Chelsea, says: "I suffered greatly from dull aching backaches and distressing pains across my kidneys. My kidneys gave me a great deal of annoyance. I got a bottle of Doan's Kidney Pills at Fern's Drug Store
and they helped me wonderfully.
They relieved the pains in my back
and corrected my kidneys."

Over three years later Mrs. Arnold said: "My cure has been permanent and I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that

HER MISTAKE

Be Strong

THE strong and vigorous man or woman is envied by less fortunate humanity afflicted with aches, pains, infirmities and ailments. The sufferer says to himself, "If I could only be well, how happy I would be." For health is more essential to the joy of living than is wealth.

The kidneys almost literally wash the blood and keep it clean and free from impurities. When the kidneys are out of order, they fail to filter out this waste and po-lous matter. It remains in the system to cause headache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles and other troubles.

Foley Kidney Pills

helps the system eliminate this poisonous waste.
They soothe, strengthen and heal sore, weak and diseased kidneys and bladder. When the kidneys are working properly, appetite returns, refreshing sleep is possible, and health and strength come again.

C. W. Smith, 1205 No. 4th St., Salina, Kas., writes: "I am very much pleased with Foley Kidney Pills. I am working in a coal yard and have been very much troubled with my back.
I have taken several doses of Foley Kidney Pills
and they have done me much good."

When Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone he gave to the world one of its most useful utilities. Business men of today would hardly know how to get along without their 'phones, and without telephones social intercourse would suffer a severe setback.

It has been said that "the telephone is the business man's best friend," but we are inclined to take issue with that statement. We believe a man's most useful friend is his bank, and we endeavor to prove that belief to the satisfaction of all our depositors.

You would appreciate our quick, careful, courteous service. You would find our policy of liberal accommodation convenient—occasionally at least.

Wirthmor Waists with a Nation-wide Friendliness

Whenever any article, whatever its nature might be, attracts nation-wide friendliness, it symbolizes just one thing, namely that through its merit and satisfying qualities it deserves that friendliness. This is the case with Wirthmor Waists. In Maine, in California, way up in Washington or down in Southern Florida in over two thousand cities they are being sold by progressive merchants and being worn by prudent thrifty women.

The price of the Wirthmor here and everywhere throughout the United States is $1.50. This is the lowest possible price at which Waists of such high character can be sold, and their sale at this modest price is due solely to gigantic collective buying power of the many hundreds of Wirthmor Stores and the many great economies of the Wirthmor Plan.

You will never know how good a Waist $1.50 can buy until you have worn a Wirthmor. Every Waist bearing this label carries with it a three-fold assurance: namely Style assurance; value assurance and economy assurance. In this city Wirthmor Waists can be sold by only in this one store.
