AMERICAN LEGION COMMUNITY EVENING

Band Concert and Pavement Dance
August 28th.

The members of Herbert J. McKune Post of the American Legion will hold a community band concert and pavement dance on Main street of Chelsea, Monday evening, September 2. The Hollier Concert Band will furnish the music for the evening and the dance will begin at 8 o'clock, and will be for both old and young.

Plenty of amusement is being arranged for those who do not dance, so that all may make it an evening of recreation.

In our midst are over one hundred men who saw service in some branch of the American Army, and they are now without exception back in civilian life and have organized a Post of the American Legion, and are endeavoring to furnish a hall in which to hold their meetings. With this in view they are holding this event. Come out and bring your enthusiasm with you and help them celebrate in a fitting way, and if you like to dance, get in the ring and show them that even though the war is over, you are still loyal.

Col. Gansser will be here, and will give one of his pleasing addresses.

Pre-Festival Concerts.

The University School of Music, Ann Arbor, has just announced the complete list of concerts to be given in Hill Auditorium in this year's pre-festival series. Not only does the list contain the names of the greatest artists of the day but the series has been increased to include six concerts instead of five as in the past: four strictly artist concerts and two performances by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of its distinguished conductor, Ossip Gabrilowitsch. Of special interest to many friends of the University is the fact that the opening number in October by Geraldine Farrar will take place on the evening of the day of the great football contest between the University and the Michigan Agricultural College, thus making it possible for out of town parties to attend both events. The series is as follows:

October 15—Geraldine Farrar, soprano assisted by Arthur Hackett, tenor, and Rosita Renard, pianist.

November 17—Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Ossip Gabrilowitsch, conductor, Mrs. George B. Rhean, pianist.

December 4—Jascha Heifetz, violinist.

January 15—Riccardo Stracciari, baritone.

February 10—Josef Hofman, pianist.

March 8—Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The Jackson County Fair.

While we believe that a good, clean fair of five days and three nights is so educational and profitable that no progressive man, woman or child can afford to miss it.

And while we will show you acres of exhibits from every department of production, from the smallest to the largest industries in our district and from many states around.

And while we will give you a school of incalculable value that will take from three to five days hard work to comprehend.

Still, we have taken into consideration that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

So, for your amusement and pleasure we have secured the greatest aggregation of shows and free acts that we have ever had. It would take pages to describe them individually, but briefly, you may depend there will not be one dull moment from the time the big gates swing open September 8, until the close, September 13, but there will be "something doing" every minute.

Our amusements will consist of twenty thrilling and amusing free acts, four fast races daily, ball games, parades of livestock, band concerts, a Midway one mile long and innumerable pay shows. In fact, a full week of things you will always regret if you miss one day.

The Maceabees and L. O. T. M. old-fashioned basket picnic which is to be held in Arbuter grove, Ypsilanti, on Labor Day, will have a well arranged program of games and sports, and a dance will given in the afternoon and evening. Addresses are to be delivered by Great Lady Commander Frances Burns, Great Camp officers E. E. Thompson, Judge Jeffries, A. M. Slay and F. E. Jones. The public is invited.

RED CROSS NOTES.

The Red Cross headquarters in the Wilkinson building are being nicely furnished, but we are still in need of sheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels, children's clothing, rags and hot water bag. These do not necessarily have to be new.

On September second a Health Day will be held at the Red Cross headquarters. There will be a free pre-school clinic, conducted by a specialist from Ann Arbor. All mothers are urged to bring their children under five years of age for a thorough physical examination. All findings will be referred to the family physician. The clinic will begin at 10 o'clock a. m. At 2 o'clock, Miss Parker, executive secretary of the Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis Association, and formerly public health nurse of M. A. C., will give a talk to mothers or anyone interested, on "Organizations That Are Ready to Help Mothers in Making Their Children One Hundred Per Cent Americans." Miss Parker has specialized in child welfare all her professional life and is well qualified to present this subject. Let's have a crowd and see how near one hundred per cent our babies are. These clinics will be conducted frequently during the year.

Burleigh C. Whitaker.

Burleigh C. Whitaker was born in Lima township, September 16, 1878, and died at his home in Sylvan Sunday morning, August 24, 1919.

The announcement of the passing away of Mr. Whitaker was a great shock to his many friends, as he was able to be about until a few days before his death, which was from heart trouble.

He had filled several township offices, and at the time of his death was justice of the peace and one of county road commissioners, having been appointed to the latter position last May.

He was united in marriage with Miss Caroline Notten, October 6, 1900, and to this union four children were born, one of whom died in infancy.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Almerene and Doris, one son, Dor, one brother, six aunts and two uncles and a number of cousins.

The funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon, Rev. P. W. Dierberger conducting the service. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery, where the Masonic burial service was used.

New School Laws.

Ann Arbor Times News: County School Commissioner Evan Essery has received from Supt. of Public Instruction Thomas E. Johnson, a copy of the new state law regarding the construction of heating plants in schools. He also enclosed a copy of the amendments made at the last session of the state legislature which provides that plans and specifications for the installation of heating plants for rural schools be submitted in duplicate to the state board head and must be approved by him before work is started.

The old round stove of former years no longer has a place in the country school, for section four of the amendment provides that an ordinary stove cannot hereafter be used for heating any school house, or can any system be replaced without the approval of the superintendent of public instruction. Penalties are provided for failure to comply with the rules, affecting contractors, architects and others who might be interested in the change. Installation or design of rural school heating plants.

Cars in Country Must Carry Lights. Drivers who park their cars on country highways without lights may expect to be arrested. Sheriff Pack announces.

Recently there have been a lot of complaints about drivers stopping their cars on highways and leaving them there without lights. There have been a number of narrow escapes from serious accidents because of this habit and Sheriff Pack has resolved to put an end to it. Cars parked on or at the edge of the highway must carry front and rear lights in the future, and Motorcycle Officer Smith has been instructed by the sheriff to arrest the owners of cars which are not properly equipped with lights.

Ann Arbor County Drain Commissioner Clayton Deake has been appointed by the Monroe county probate judge to assess the Barnby drain in that county over which considerable trouble has been had recently. Mr. Deake spent two days last week in Monroe county and expects to go back again this week.

CHELSEA BELL CO. TO ERECT ADDITION

This Will Double the Capacity of the Present Plant.

The Chelsea Steel Bell Co. has broken ground for an addition to their plant. The new building will be in an "L" shape and extends west of the present building, and will be 30x40 and 60x60 feet in size. The new building will be built on the same lines as the present building, and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy about the middle of October.

The company has just installed $25,000 worth of new machinery, consisting of a $5,000 header, lathes, milling machine and grinders.

When the new building is completed a drop forge will be installed and other equipment will add greatly to the output of the plant.

Wheat Tested For Smut Free.

The great prevalence of stinking smut in wheat in Michigan this last year, and the importance of planting clean seed, has led the botany department of the Michigan Agricultural College to establish a free wheat testing service for the farmers of the state. Samples, which need be no larger than a pint or half pint, will be examined by the centrifuge method, and a report on the smut spores found will be made the owner of the sample. Information as to the proper smut treatment for the particular batch of grain, and whether or not it is too smutty to be planted at all, which will be given at the same time. Samples should be addressed to the Botany Department, East Lansing, and have the sender's name attached.

Dr. G. H. Coons, plant pathologist at the college, gives the following on treatment for stinking smut.

"There are three common ways of applying formaldehyde for the control of stinking smut of wheat. In all these methods there is danger of injury to the germination of the wheat, unless directions are followed slowly. Wheat so treated must not be covered too long and must be planted at once.

After securing clean grain of good variety, the farmer should fan the grain thoroughly to remove light, shriveled grain and smut balls. The grain should then be treated by one of the following methods:

1. "Wet Method." (Dilute Formaldehyde treatments are necessary for crop protection but they must be given carefully and with scrupulous attention to directions. Allow for the swollen condition of the grain.

2. "Dry Method" (Concentrated Formaldehyde): The convenience of this method is its chief advantage. Only those who follow directions carefully should employ it since considerable loss resulted during the past season formaldehyde, full strength, with hand sprayer while the grain is being shoveled over and over. Use at a rate of one pint to fifty bushels, one-half pint to twenty-five bushels, etc. A dose is a dose—this is as strong as formaldehyde can safely be used on wheat.

Cover the grain four hours—absolutely no longer. Then spread to air in a warm, dry place for an hour or two. It is unsafe to leave grain covered or sacked over night. Formaldehyde cannot be thoroughly aired out of grain. Therefore plant at once. Treat no more grain than can be sown the same day.

3. "Soak and Skim Method." Excessively smutty wheat is probably unsafe to plant. Stinking smut can be practically eliminated, however, by the "soak and skim" method: Stir the grain slowly into a solution of one pint of formaldehyde to forty gallons of water. Then skim off the smut balls and light grain. The grain should be taken out at once, dried, and planted immediately.

BREVITIES

Howell—The work of actually concreting the Grand River road west of Howell began last week and 175 feet were covered the first day. They expect to do about 500 feet per day. There are six miles to be covered, which when completed, will make Howell and Fosterville pretty close neighbors.

Ann Arbor—County Drain Commissioner Clayton Deake has been appointed by the Monroe county probate judge to assess the Barnaby drain in that county over which considerable trouble has been had recently. Mr. Deake spent two days last week in Monroe county and expects to go back again this week.

Manchester—Officers have become tired of warning auto drivers to cut out fast driving and hereafter, by order of the sheriff, arrests will be made is the information given The Enterprise. There are people driving cars without license, some without proper lights, and there are some drivers who speed it. It is positively dangerous to be on the highways when those reckless drivers are there.—Manchester Enterprise.

Adrain—St. Joseph's academy was the scene of an impressive religious service Friday morning when the Right Rev. Bishop M. J. Gallagher, of Detroit, presiding over the reception of young ladies into the Order of St. Dominic. Forty-six young women knelt before the bishop to profess and renew their vows, nine being candidates, 22 novices and 15 were sisters who made their final vows and were given the black veil and ring.

Tecumseh—Kenneth Rouston was coming into town with a ten gallon can of milk Saturday evening when his machine absolutely stood bottom side up and not a drop of milk was spilled nor did Kenneth receive a single scratch. He had turned into the ditch to avoid a horse and carriage and in getting into the road the machine swerved in some loose gravel, turning bottom side up. That top is a thing of the past and the windshield was also demolished.—Tecumseh Herald.

Jackson—Mayor William Sparks, Monday, demanded the resignation of Charles W. Patch, police judge, as a result of published charges against the magistrate. The judge declined to quit the office at once, but it was expected he would tender his resignation to the city commission. Asked by Judge Patch as to the reason for demanding his resignation, Mayor Sparks replied, "Because you are a disgrace to your profession and a menace to the peace of the city of Jackson." The judge replied that he desired a little time to think matters over. "I have thought matters over long enough," replied the mayor, "and I am through thinking. If your resignation is not forthcoming here and now, evidence warranting your removal will be laid before Governor Sleeper." The mayor immediately instructed the city attorney to prepare affidavits for submission to the governor. It is alleged that on numerous occasions the police judge has been intoxicated during working hours and that on two occasions in the last week he was drunk on the streets. On one occasion a citizen called the police patrol, but when the officers arrived and learned that the alleged drunk was the police judge, they declined to make the arrest.

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

LIKE THE BOOK OF GENESIS

Description of Flood of Time of Noah Found Among Ancient Records of Chaldea.

Perhaps the tracing of the story of the book of Genesis is the true fascination that Mesopotamia has for those who have time to read. The great boats of the Euphrates have the identical lines of the toy ark that can be bought in London. Where a pent roof has been added for our purposes the two are one in shape. A Euphrates "bellum" arranged as a sick barge is the toy ark of childhood. Is that toy ark an authentic tradition in its shape? It is almost certain to be. The Euphrates boats are pitched inside and out with pitch, as was that ark. In these same bellums, some as large as 70 tons, we may find British batteries sailing the Euphrates and a modified menagerie could easily walk on board. One more suggestion of the toy ship tradition strikes the casual observer. The tribespeople from the hills who work on the Tigris and Euphrates wear high black felt hats, a topper without a brim. Are Mr. and Mrs. Noah really correctly dressed?

Then on top of the discovery of the ark comes the more serious reading of a parallel version of the Bible story of the flood found in the cuneiform in Layard's tablets from the Royal library of Ashurbanipal at Nineveh, copied or collected possibly from Sargon's library at Accade or Errech, older than Ashurbanipal by perhaps 1,000 years. Were the stories of Genesis the household stories of Chaldea 4,000 years ago? It would seem so, when from Babylon is unearthed a seal with the representation of the temptation, Adam and Eve, the serpent and the apple tree.

HAVE TO SEARCH FOR POET

Great Mind by No Means Easy to Find, and Some Can Never Discover Him.

There was once a small but mighty nation, now numerous as the sands of the seashore, and no longer so interesting. To this nation was born a poet, and they made him the poet of all time. They took him and taught him all they knew—and they had great things to teach; and when, at their command, he made great dramas, they stood at his elbow; and everything they gave him he gave back to them tenfold.

England was then Shakespeare's land. The poet is always amongst us; the difficulty is how to find him; he is like the proverbial needle in a bundle of hay.

But one thing is certain—logicians without love will not find him; they leave a desolation, and call it peace—any, they call it culture. Critics of this sort will allow nothing to exist except themselves. No; I am wrong. There is one thing they admire more even than themselves—the fact accomplish a mundane success.—John Butler Yeats.

German poison gas is used in French agricultural districts to kill caterpillars. Which seems, in the general degradation of things Tontonic, that this application of a medium which was to subdue the world put to killing insects, the last step from the sublime to the ridiculous.

The United States has supplied the stricken people of Europe with $5,000,000 worth of food and other necessities. It would be a nice mathematical problem to calculate what proportion of this relief would have been furnished by Germany to the victim nations had she won the war.

Those people who believe that bolshevism has been maligning—and you can find just such people here in America—are advised to read the British white paper on the subject, especially the clause treating of the "nationalizing" of young girls belonging to the better classes for the use of the army.

Under bolshevist rules those "bulwarks of democracy," free speech, a free press and majority rule, are absolutely prohibited, as the bolshevist leaders themselves proudly boast. This makes it difficult to understand how there could be any pro-bolshevists in the ranks of American labor.

Came to this Woman after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—"After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wanted me to try it. It brought relief from my troubles. I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Mrs. O. S. JOHNSON, R. No. 3, Ellensburg, Wash.

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.

All Written by Women.

An Indiana teachers' federation has taken to some of the male members' chagrin, a woman for its president. Of course some of them try to show their superiority—particularly one who the other day was arguing that women knew so little about parliamentary drill that they were not fitted for the positions of superior officers.

The young woman listened, smiled and then said: "Well, I'm willing to learn."

Magnanimously the man offered to buy her a book on the subject. They entered a book store, made known their request, and the clerk laid down on the counter before them four books, saying that they were the only books on the subject she had. They began to examine them and to all four were written by women.—Indianapolis News.

Relations With Mexico Strained When U. S. Troops Cross Border in Chase of Bandits.

CARRANZA PROTEST FUTILE

President Wilson Discusses Peace Treaty With Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Without Visible Result—Progress of the War on Frontiers and Hoarders.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Relations with Mexico flared up again alarmingly last week and the amateur and unofficial prospects freely predicted that we would be at war with our southern neighbor within a short time. Once more American troops have crossed the border, without asking permission of Carranza, for the purpose of capturing Mexicans who have committed outrages against American citizens and for whose actions the whistled one says he cannot be held responsible.

The capture and holding for ransom of the two army aviators who had lost their way was the act of a small band of bandits, but the administration at Washington shows a growing inclination to step across the border and "clean things up" if the federal government of Mexico cannot do the job. It appears that a stern warning was issued some time ago to Carranza, to which he replied at length, stating that his government would do and was doing all in its power to protect the lives and property of foreigners in Mexico. In this case of the captured aviators—who were released on payment of part of the ransom—federal troops were sent after the offenders. The American punitive expedition consisted of part of the Eighth cavalry, aided by some army flyers. They caught two bandits and killed four others who opened fire on them when surrounded.

Under instructions from his government, Ambassador Bonillas entered protest against the "invasion" and demanded the immediate withdrawal of the troops. The reply, drafted by President Wilson, was a flat refusal to comply with the demand. The press of Mexico City was aroused to loud protest. One or two of the papers there, however, realize the seriousness of the situation that has been created by the numerous outrages against foreigners and admit that unless Carranza radically changes his policies he will invite disaster to himself and to Mexico.

In the United States indignation is by no means confined to the border states or to those who have suffered financially or otherwise, at the hands of the Mexicans. The demand is general that our government give to American citizens everywhere the full protection to which they are entitled, and there is a feeling that unless it does so our membership in the League of Nations would be farcical.

Which brings us to the second great event of the week, the unprecedented meeting of the senate committee on foreign relations with President Wilson in the White House for the discussion of many points in connection with the peace treaty and league covenant. In accordance with the desires of both parties, the entire proceedings were given full publicity, but a study of them and of the subsequent comments of the participants does not show that much was accomplished in the way of removing the obstacles to ratification of the treaty. Mr. Wilson made a long preliminary statement to the senators and then answered their many questions with all frankness. His position regarding interpretations and reservations might be summarized thus: If ordinary common sense is used in reading the treaty and covenant they are unnecessary; if they merely accompany the act of ratification there is no objection to them; but if they are made a part of the resolution of ratification, long delays would result because all the other nations would have to be asked to accept the language of the treaty; it would be especially humiliating to have to ask the assent of the German national assembly. Senator Fall called the president's attention to the fact that Germany is not to be an original member of the league and consequently any amendments to the covenant proposed before her admission would not be submitted to her. Mr. Wilson admitted this was true and that the point had not occurred to him, but he insisted that Germany already has a relationship to the league and that it was the plan to admit her immediately.

As for article 10, the crux of the whole fight, President Wilson interpreted it as follows: If the league calls on the United States to send troops abroad to preserve the territorial integrity of another member state from external aggression, the United States will be under an absolute compelling moral obligation, though not a legal obligation, to comply. But the league cannot call on the United States for such aid unless the American member votes his approval in accord with American public sentiment.

After it was all over, Senator Hitchcock said the president had clarified many involved questions in a wonderful manner and that speedy ratification would be the result. Senator Lodge said Mr. Wilson had not given them much real information and that the admissions he had made had vindicated the criticisms leveled at the league covenant. Between these extremes stand the "mild reservationists." To capture their votes, Senator Pittman of Nevada took the reservations they advocate, called them "interpretations or understandings," and put them into a resolution which he presented to the senate for its adoption apart from the resolution of ratification. He asserted that he was acting with the president's approval, whereupon Senator Hitchcock, administration leader, felt himself ignored and showed that Pittman's resolution was not much to his liking. The opponents of the covenant were brutally outspoken in condemning the resolution. In the course of the lively debate Mr. Pittman admitted that more than a meeting place where the consensus of the civilized world may be obtained and its moral force brought to bear.

"If you'll write that into the league covenant there will be no difficulty about its ratification," interrupted Senator Reed of Missouri (Dem.).

Paris correspondents predict that the peace conference will adjourn within two or three weeks and that when it reassembles in November or December the United States will not be represented unless in the meantime the senate shall have ratified the treaty and decided that we shall accept mandates. The work for the conference after it reconvenes will be the partition of Turkey and the settlement of the Thracian and Adriatic questions. If the United States does not take part in these, both Italy and Greece expect to win their demands, for the Americans are now their only opponents. As to Thrace, the American delegation insists on the creation of a buffer state that will give Bulgaria access to the sea. The Greeks and Turks, who make up the bulk of the population of Dodecanese district, involved in this plan, are bitterly opposed to the continuation of anything like Bulgarian rule there and are reported to be preparing to resist it by arms. It is not the intention of the peace conference to leave any part of Thrace in the possession of Bulgaria.

The council of five hopes that the Austrian treaty will be signed within a week. It also is feeling optimistic about Hungary, where a new coalition cabinet has been formed, and thinks it may soon be able to recognize the government at Budapest and present the Hungarian treaty for signature. The week's news from Russia was somewhat more encouraging, for Admiral Kolchak appeared to have stopped his retreat and to have checked the pursuing bolsheviks. The red forces were ousted from Odessa, and lost ground in some other regions. In the Gulf of Finland a British fleet encountered a number of bolshevik vessels and sank four of them, thereafter concentrating against Kronstadt. The fortress was bombarded and the city set on fire. The situation in Upper Silesia is confused and confusing. The Germans and the Poles are fighting each other in a desultory fashion there, and both are contending with the striking workers of the country who have become so violent that the German authorities proclaimed martial law.

The new German constitution has just gone into effect, and a summary of it has been made public in America. It seems to be in most respects an admirable document, designed to establish and maintain a moderate and commendable form of republican government, more strongly centralized than our own. The powers of the president are very great. The equality of all men and women before the law is asserted, and titles of nobility are abolished except "as a part of a person's name." It is noticeable, however, that Germany is still called an empire. It may be added, as a matter of interest, that the former kaiser has just bought a place of residence in Holland, and that current reports of his fast falling health are flatly contradicted by a correspondent who sees William nearly every day.

Uncle Sam's war against the profiteers and hoarders went on steadily if not so swiftly as the victims of the U. S. C. of L. might have hoped. The ultimate consumer hailed with enthusiasm the assertion by Attorney General Palmer that the small retailers as well as the big retailers and the wholesalers are going to feel the heavy hand of the department of justice. He appeared before the house committee on agriculture to discuss proposed amendments to the food control act, and argued against a provision that would exempt from prosecution as profiteers those retailers who do an annual business below $100,000. Many of the complaints of extortionate prices, he said, are against the small dealers and he added he would feel hopeless if he were restricted to the larger dealers. Mr. Palmer also asked the committee to withdraw the proposed provision giving the president authority to fix prices. This, he said, he considered unnecessary and calculated to provoke too much discussion. The only amendments he favored were one extending the scope of the act to include wearing apparel and containers of foods, feeds and fertilizers, and one imposing a penalty of $5,000 or imprisonment for two years for profiteering.

The great quantities of foodstuffs which have been seized in various cities by the agents of the department of justice will not be placed on the market until proper court proceedings have been completed. Meanwhile the government is disposing of its vast surplus army stores practically at cost, and the way in which hundreds of thousands of people struggle for a chance to buy these commodities is sufficient evidence of their need.

The actors' strike, after spreading to Chicago, became so stubborn a struggle there that the unions of musicians and stage hands were called on for help, with the result that nearly every theater was obliged to close. Efforts to end the strike amicably in New York were fruitless, and it was said there it might be extended to cover the entire country and all ball shows, including the movies.

Within a week there probably will be a conference between the officials of the steel workers' unions and representatives of the United States Steel corporation. If it is refused by the latter, a committee headed by Samuel Gompers is empowered to call a strike forthwith. The corporation maintains the open shop, and the unions wish to present to it a rather portentous list of 12 basic demands.

Culbary, Wis., and Hammond, Ind., were the scenes of strike riots and state troops were hurried to both places to restore order, which they did.

TEMPER DEMANDS, WILSON ASKS LABOR

LIFE OF NATION MENACED BY RABID AND UNREASONABLE REQUESTS OF RADICALS.

OFFERS RAIL SHOPMEN RAISE

Submits Proposal For Forty Cents a Day Increase to Representatives of Railroad Shop Crafts.

Washington, President Wilson on August 25, submitted to representatives of the six railroad shop crafts a proposal to pay shopmen about four cents an hour increase and ten hours' pay for eight hours' work, retroactive to May 1.

The president, coincident with his statement to the shopmen's representatives, addressed a statement to the public advising the nation of the situation and the basis of his action.

The four cent an hour increase proposed, the president's statement said, represents a readjustment of shopmen's union to put their pay on the same basis as other railroad workers, that is, on the ten-hour pay and eight-hour work basis, and accordingly is not in the strict sense an increase in wages.

Pointing to the shopmen's argument that an increase in wages was necessary in order to meet the high cost of living, the president said the workers' demands were in effect "that we make an increase in wages, which is likely to be permanent, in order to meet a temporary situation which will last, nobody can certainly tell how long, but in all probability only for a limited time."

The president's statement said that "it is neither wise nor feasible to take care of increases in wages of railroad employees at this time by increases in freight rates."

The president told the committee of 100 representing the shop crafts that any greater increase now would greatly increase the cost of living and therefore was inadvisable.

Certain classes of shopmen, such as car repairmen and car inspectors, who have been receiving 63 cents and 59 cents, respectively, would be paid 71 cents an hour under the proposed scale.

The increase represents a concession amounting to approximately one-fourth of the demand made by the shopmen. The shopmen ask for a 25 per cent increase on their basic pay of 68 cents an hour. This increase would have amounted to 17 cents an hour, whereas the proposal of the president would give them 4 cents an hour, or 40 cents a day more than the workers now receive.

Demands of workers "unwisely made or passionately insisted upon," the president said, menace the peace and prosperity of the country as nothing else could.

Substantial increases in wages in leading lines of industry, he said, would utterly crush the campaign which is being waged to lower the cost of living, as increased wages only serve to increase the cost of production and raise prices to the consumer.

To bring about any large decrease in present prices, Mr. Wilson recommended:

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past. At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 833 So. Dearborn St., Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use. Australian appetites are quite robust, judging by recent statistics, which show that the average Australian eats every year 264 pounds of meat, which works out at an average of two sheep and one-fifth of a lamb for every man, woman and baby in Australia! He eats more than twice as much as the average Englishman, three times as much as the average Frenchman, and four times as much as the average German or Swiss. In addition he consumes about three and three-quarter hundredweights of wheat, two and a half hundredweights of potatoes, and almost one hundredweight of sugar. If he is a Tasmanian he eats a quarter of a ton of potatoes in a year.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schleusner, 6104 Suburban Ave., Wellington, Mo. "One morning when about a horse I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. If I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the secretions that were highly colored, of foul odor, filled with sandy sediment and terribly scalding. My bladder felt as though it were a fire. The pain brought stupor and a reeling sensation in my head; the torture of it cannot be described. If I got onto my feet I couldn't walk but felt dizzy and all in a flutter and everything would turn black. My head ached so it seemed as though my eyes were being dragged out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon rid of all the trouble."

ONLY SENATE CAN END WAR--WILSON

President Has No Power to Annul Act of Congress.

FALL'S QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Upper Chamber's Failure to Act Is the Only Bar to Ending Present State—German Colonies

Wash., Aug. 22.—President Wilson has not the power to declare peace by proclamation, nor could he consent in any circumstances to take such a course prior to the ratification of a formal treaty of peace by the senate. The president so wrote Senator Fall in answer to one of the 20 written questions the senator presented at the White House conference Tuesday.

Replying to another question, the president said the provision of the treaty that it should come into force after ratification by Germany and three of the principal associated powers operated merely to establish peace between those ratifying powers, and that it was "questionable whether it could be said that the League of Nations in any true sense created by the association of only three of the allied and associated governments."

Peace Would Cut H. C. L.
As to the question of when normal conditions might be restored, the president said he could only express the confident opinion that immediate ratification of the covenant and acceptance of the covenant of the league, as written, would "certainly within the near future reduce the cost of living, both in this country and abroad, through the restoration of production and commerce to normal."

To Senator Fall's questions relating to the disposition of Germany's possessions, the president said the arrangement in the treaty conveyed no title to the allied or associated powers, but merely "intrusted disposition of the territory in question to their decision."

"Germany's renunciation in favor of the principal allied and associated powers," the president continued, "of her rights and titles to her overseas possessions is meant statutorily to operate as vesting in those powers a trusteeship with respect to their final disposition and government."

Question of Procedure.
Unless Mr. Wilson absolutely reverses himself, the struggle between him and the senate must center for the next week or month entirely on a simple question of procedure. The president holds most of the cards—the Constitution gives him a big advantage in being able to negotiate and sign peace treaties. It isn't like a domestic law that can be passed over his veto by two-thirds vote. No such conflict between the executive and legislative branches of the government involving so many signatures to a treaty has occurred before, and the legal consequences are enough to make many international lawyers rich in fees for years to come. Commercial as well as financial relations will be subject to varied interpretations.

Here Are the Twenty Queries.
The 20 questions answered by President Wilson, which were submitted to him by Senator Fall at the conference held at the White House Tuesday, are in brief as follows:

Questions 1 to IV—Could not the president, with the assent of congress, proclaim a status of peace with Germany and permit the resumption of trade?

Question V asks the president to define the establishment of the League of Nations and state "how many nations will have to ratify the peace treaty before such establishment will be perfected."

Question VI—Will the League of Nations reduce the high cost of living in the United States?

Asks About Neutrals.
Question VII—What do Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland think of the League of Nations? Will they join, and when?

Questions VIII and IX deal with resumption of commerce with Germany.

Question X asks if certain committees as stipulated in the league have been appointed and inquires to whom they make report.

Questions XI and XII—To whom does Germany renounce certain territorial rights which it is required to renounce under the treaty?

Question XIII inquires as to the disposition of overseas possessions by the United States.

Question XIV—What disposition is made of Germany's foreign possessions?

Questions XV, XVI and XVII ask for interpretations of certain phrases of the league and the reason for the appointment of certain commissions.

Questions XVIII, XIX and XX—Why was the United States made a party in the appointment and fulfillment of certain missions in the settlement of foreign plebiscite questions?

The President's Reply.

President Wilson's letter to Senator Fall, replying to the senator's 20 questions on the treaty and the League of Nations, is as follows:

"My Dear Senator Fall:

"You left yesterday in my hands certain written questions which I promised you I would answer. I am hastening to fulfill that promise.

"I feel constrained to say in reply to your first question not only that in my judgment I have not the power by proclamation to declare that peace exists, but that I could in no circumstances consent to take such a course prior to the ratification of a formal treaty of peace. I feel it due to perfect frankness to say that it would in my opinion put a stain upon our national honor which we never could efface if, after sending our men to the battle field to fight the common cause, we should abandon our associates in the war in the settlement of the terms of peace and disassociate ourselves from all responsibility with regard to those terms.

"I respectfully suggest that, having said this, I have in effect answered also your second, third and fourth questions so far as I myself am concerned.

Peace When Treaty Is Ratified.

"Permit me to answer your fifth question by saying that the provisions of the treaty to which you refer operate merely to establish peace between the powers ratifying, and that it is questionable whether it can be said that the League of Nations in any true sense created by the association of only three of the allied and associated governments.

"In reply to your sixth question, I can only express the confident opinion that the immediate adoption of the treaty, along with the articles of the covenant of the league as written, would certainly within the near future reduce the cost of living in this country as elsewhere, by restoring production and commerce to their normal strength and freedom.

"For your convenience, I will number the remaining paragraphs of this letter as the questions to which they are intended to reply are numbered.

"VII. I have had no official information as to whether Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, or Switzerland will join the league.

"VIII. I answered your eighth question in reply to a question asked me at our conference the other day. (This question referred to licensing of exports to Germany.)

"IX. In February, 1917, Spain was requested to take charge of American interests in Germany through her diplomatic and consular representatives, and no other arrangement has since been made.

"X. The committee to prepare plans for the organization of the league, for the establishment of the seat of the league and for the proceedings of the first meeting of the assembly, has been appointed, but has not reported.

"XI. Article 118 of the peace treaty, part IV, under which Germany renounces all her rights to territory formerly belonging to herself or to her allies was understood, so far as special provision was not made in the treaty itself, for its disposition, as constituting principal allied and associated powers the authority by which such disposition should ultimately be determined. It conveys no title to those powers, but merely intrusts the disposition of the territory in question to their decision.

"XII. Germany's renunciation in favor of the principal allied and associated powers of her rights and titles to her overseas possessions is meant statutorily to operate as vesting in those powers a trusteeship with respect to their final disposition and government.

League to Pass on Disposition.

"XIII. There has been a provisional agreement as to the disposition of these overseas possessions, whose confirmation and execution is dependent upon the approval of the League of Nations, and the United States is a party to that provisional agreement.

"XIV. The only agreement between France and Great Britain with regard to African territory, of which I am ignorant, concerns the redispensation of rights already possessed by those countries on that continent. The provisional agreement referred to in the preceding paragraphs covers all the German overseas possessions in Africa as well as elsewhere.

"XV. No mention was made in connection with the settlement of the Saar basin of the service of an American member of the commission of five to be set up there.

"XVI. It was deemed wise that the United States should be represented by one member of the commission for settling the new frontier lines of Belgium and Germany, because of the universal opinion that America's representative would add to the commission a useful element of entirely disinterested judgment.

League to Pick Saar Commission.

"XVII. The choice of the commission for the Saar basin was left to the council of the League of Nations, because the Saar basin is for 15 years to be directly under the care and direction of the League of Nations.

"XVIII. Article 81 does in effect provide that five of the members of the commission of seven to fix the boundaries between Poland and Czechoslovakia should be nominated by certain countries because there are five principal allied and associated powers, and the nomination of five representatives by those powers means the nomination of one representative by each of those powers.

"XIX. No such commission has yet been appointed. (The commission referred to is that for the fixing of the Polish boundaries.)

"XX. It was deemed wise that the United States should have a representative on the commission set up to exercise authority over the plebiscite of Upper Silesia for the same reason that I have given with regard to the commission for settling the frontier line of Belgium and Germany.

"Sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

"Floral Ruffians."

Primroses, which are now adding to the color of London streets, were taken by Ruskin for his type of "flowers of gracious breeding," and they are invariably represented by poets as floral weaklings. This is strange, for it is all quite contrary to the facts in nature.

Primroses are really floral ruffians, to which they owe their "survival" in the fierce "struggle for existence" among wild flowers. They are hardy Alpine plants, found on mountainous heights throughout Europe and Asia, even on the highest ranges of the Himalayas.

They also seem to be rather poisonous, though alleged by Lord Beaconsfield to make an admirable salad. Except pigs, no animals will eat primroses. They bloom with impunity in a rabbit warren.—London Chronicle.

A hard-working farmer in Ohio had sent his son to a good school of music so that he might receive the best instruction from the beginning. It was necessary to buy a violin for him, but he was such a little chip that his teacher thought that a so-called "half violin" would do. The father, whose resources had been badly taxed, was loath to part with the money for the instrument, but finally did so.

The lad made rapid progress, and became so proficient that a half-violin was no longer good enough for him. Again he went to the music store with his father, to whom the salesman showed the entire stock of violins. The parent was apparently dissatisfied with all of them, and his gaze wandered around the shop seeking for something better. Finally he saw a violinello.

"We'll take that big violin there," said he, as a smile of satisfaction spread over his countenance. "The boy won't outgrow that right away."

This Cat an Exception.

"Oh, George," she said, "we just had a visit from a black cat."

"That's also," said hubby. Black cats are lucky, you know."

"Yes; this one certainly was. He ran away with the steak I was going to cook for you!"

Object of Suspicion.

"This fellow has an easy air on the witness stand."

"It's an old story to him. He's used to being cross-examined by congressional committees."

"How so?"

"He was in the purchasing department of the army during the war."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

You'll Want This Combination

It is the Case 10-18 kerosene tractor and a two-bottom Grand Detour plow. It is an ideal plowing outfit for either small or large farms.

The tractor weighs about 3,500 lbs., just a trifle more than a big team of horses. It burns kerosene economically, developing full power on the same.

The Tractor has a four-cylinder valve-in-head motor, mounted crosswise on a one-piece frame. A Case Sylinder Thermostat controls the cooling system and insures complete combustion. The all-steel gears, with teeth cut and hardened, are enclosed and run in oil.

The Grand Detour 2-bottom Automatic Lift Right Beam Plow will fill the plowing requirements of the most particular farmer. Grand Detour plows are strictly quality plows. They are light in draft, yet so well constructed that they will give years of faithful service at a low cost of upkeep.

We would greatly appreciate the opportunity of telling you more about Case tractors. Drop in and let's talk it over.
