

THE MODERN FEAST PROVIDER

The modern day pilgrim, while retaining some of the principles of the first pilgrims, has enlarged his scope of activity. The spirit of freedom, equality and peace is being spread throughout the universe, and American democracy, it is to be hoped, is to be followed in spirit by the peoples of other nations.

DAY OF UNIVERSAL PRAISE

For All its Blessings the Nation Lifts Its Hands to the Lord in Grateful Thanks.

Such sentiment as is aroused by the great day whose yearly coming sounds the note of praise for multitudes of souls, could not be set to poet's verse or framed in choral chant.

HARVEST FESTIVALS OF OLD

Greeks and Romans Had Days of Thanksgiving for the Fruitful Gifts of the Earth.

Greece, in the months of August and September of each year, after the harvest had been gathered, celebrated the great feast known as the Eleusinia, or the Feast of Demeter of the beautiful robe.

The Romans celebrated a harvest festival called the Cerealia. It took its name from Ceres, who was the Demeter of the Romans, and the feast was celebrated at some time in the month of October.

Warns Influenza Will Come Back in More Dangerous Form

Dayton, O.—Declaring that people gained nothing from their experience with the influenza in 1918 and 1919, Dr. W. A. Evans, prominent health authority and writer of Chicago, today predicted that the world would again be swept by an epidemic of influenza far more severe and disastrous than last year, when thousands of lives were lost.

We Fiddle and Fiddle While Rome Burns
Oh! The Pity of It!

A statement on the times by John S. Capper, President Capper & Capper

The world is hungry for the things we eat, wear and use. Stark Hungry! The cupboard is bare as a bone. Prices mount to staggering figures and the cry of our worker is—more pay; shorter hours—and then a shortage shoots the price of things up another notch; again the cry—more pay; less hours.

Ye Gods! Must the vicious circle continue? Shall we never see that it is more hours we need, that to reduce the cost of the things we use, we must produce not less but more?

I just received a cablegram from my brother in London, reading, "Market bare, prices awful, hopeless, sailing home. Oh, if Americans would grasp their opportunity."

Prices had gotten so high in this country and merchandise so scarce, we sent two of our firm abroad, hoping to find what we needed and at lower prices. The cable message is the answer! Merchandise is even shorter on the other side than here. They have nothing to sell and their shelves are bare. They want to buy—to buy from America—to buy the things that Americans make—and the answer of our workers is—reduce our hours—44 hours a week instead of 60—a cut in production of 25 per cent.

The writer sympathizes with those who work. He understands what hard work, privation and the struggle of life is—he has lived it. He has walked eight miles a day to earn fifty cents, carrying water for the workers who built the town of Pullman. He has gotten out of bed at 3:00 o'clock to milk 15 cows on a Winter's morning. He has put in 15 hours a day in a store. He is not a natural born plutocrat; rather—he is the son of a steel worker. He feels that he knows the needs of those who struggle, but anyone would be indeed foolish who failed to see that the waste of time by carpenter, plumber or other worker in turn raised the price rent, raised the price of the very clothes that he himself wore, and everything used by him or his fellow worker.

Short hours in the city has made the farm worker restless; he, too, wants short hours and increased pay. May Kind Providence preserve us if farm workers ever insist on 44 hours per week, or an eight-hour day. You and I, my friend, will go hungry. I farm 800 acres and I know what short hours in the city is doing for the farm.

We may keep high wages, we may keep our present scale, and still reduce the cost of living by a simple remedy—work—good, hard honest, faithful service—not 8 hours, rather 10 and then some. Let us for one year, at least, resolve to work, and work like Hercules!

JOHN S. CAPPER.

* Yanks Like French Souvenirs.
Yankee soldiers are keeping the French shops busy these days. Souvenirs of France and various regions and cities of France are all the go. Among these souvenirs are brooches bearing the arms of different cities. The head of the famous Lion of Belfort, the statue of Bartholdi, the sculptor who designed the goddess of Liberty, is another favorite. The Lorraine cross has also proved very popular with the Yanks. This symbol has two sets of cross arms instead of one. It appeals particularly to the Americans because of the part which the Yanks played in Lorraine during the war. The Red Cross dog and the lucky white elephant charm are other French souvenirs which the Americans are procuring in large numbers to take back to the States.—From The Spiker, France.

Famous Old Inn Gone.
The city of Augsburg has seen the last of that famous inn, "Drei Mohren," or preferably, in sonorous French, "Hotel des Trois Maures." The Bavarian revolution has demolished it with the famous room and fireplace in which the financier Fugger, to save his life, lit a fire with all those "I. O. U.'s," awkward reminders of a monarch's indebtedness. It was in this hostelry, too, that Marie Antoinette put up on her way to France to become the wife of the dauphin. Over the Hotel of the "Trois Maures" were carved the lilies of France in commemoration of the event. Now the inn and the lilies have disappeared in another such cataclysm as swept Marie Antoinette to the guillotine, some hundred and twenty-odd years ago.

Ann Arbor With his machine traveling at a fair rate of speed, the chauffeur employed by Attorney Andrew J. Sawyer of this city, fell asleep at the wheel Sunday afternoon as it approached a sharp turn in the road near Ypsilanti. When he awoke, the car was in the ditched, wrecked, the chauffeur was nursing some severe bruises and Attorney Sawyer had sustained a fractured rib and severe bruises and cuts about the head and chest.

Ann Arbor If cleanliness is akin to godliness, Mrs. Otto Barth, janitress at the Donovan school on Wall street, will be admitted within the pearly gates without quibble or argument. During the last four weeks, Mrs. Barth has given 76 pupils of the school hot baths in the school building, personally wielding the soap and the scrub brush and towel, and her claim is that no where in the entire country are a cleaner, neater assemblage of pupils than are found in the Donovan school.

Ann Arbor Ann Arbor is suffering from a sporadic outbreak of forged paper. That this is true is unquestioned from statements made by the cashier of a Main street bank, who has issued a warning to merchants here to use the greatest care in accepting checks from strangers. In fact, the cashier referred to says the safest way to play the game is to refuse checks from all strangers. Many merchants have been victimized by poorly written forgeries, one these being mentioned as bearing the purported signature of a prominent Ann Arbor attorney. The name was a rank forgery, having been written in a very clear and legible manner, while the attorney writes a notoriously illegible hand.

Ypsilanti A man by the name of Charles M. Burch pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring to use the mails to defraud, in the federal court at Muncie, Ind. This man Burch is thought to be the same man who succeeded in fleeing Dr. Geo. Clancy out of $5,000 on a fake land and prize light deal. It will be remembered that a man giving his name as Burch came to Ypsilanti and formed the acquaintance of the doctor and got him interested in what proved to be a fake land deal; that Clancy was induced by Burch to go to Muncie to meet other parties whom he claimed were in the deal, and was very particular in mentioning an eccentric uncle who was opposed to own the land, and that they would have to humor him in anything he asked in order to get away with the deal. He made this feature so strong to the doctor that they got him to place his money ($5,000) on a fake prize light that they pulled off to entertain the old gentleman. The fight was pulled off according to the schedule and one of the fighters was knocked out, and as the story goes, 'I was fixed as though the 'blow that killed father' killed the fighter, and 'Janey was led to believe this, and accordingly made haste with the rest to get out of Muncie and 'lay low' until the thing was over. The doctor came back to Ypsilanti and after a time, not hearing from Burch or the rest of the party, made up his mind that something was amiss and had Burch arrested, which soon brought out the facts that there was an organized in the ring and that they had fleeced people from all parts of the country. MAMMOTH CAVE LONG FAMOUS

Has Been Acknowledged One of the World's Wonders, Practically Since the Year 1809.

The most famous cavern in America is Mammoth cave, in Kentucky, writes "The Standard" in the Chicago Daily News. Mammoth cave was an old Indian refuge, and the story of redskin adventures is written plain in the skeletons, tomahawks and reed torches that have been found in the cavern depths. Then, in 1809, a white man, a pioneer hunter, followed a wounded bear into the mouth of the great cave, and from that time on Mammoth cave became in American estimation the eighth wonder of the world.

Almost as soon as the white man discovered the cavern he began to make practical use of it. Long before the era of Indian possession bats had inhabited the cavern halls and in the course of time their skeletons had accumulated on the floor, especially near the entrance. These skeletons, containing nitrate, played an important part in the year of 1812, for nitrate, so needed for making explosives, was scarce in the tobacco and the Mammoth cave became the main source of supply.

When the country settled down to a period of comfortable prosperity, Mammoth cave became, even more than it is today, a great show place of America. The cave's history is told in the names of the various rooms and galleries. Jenny Lind and other artists visited the cave and sang or played the airs that had made them famous in "The Ball's Concert Hall" or other cavern corridors. In a room since named "Booth's Amphitheater" Edwin Booth was in special to declaim some of the lines of Hamlet before a small and select audience.

FIND UPAS TREE VALUABLE

Natives of Java Prepare Ready-Made Clothing From Its Branches, With Little Effort.

One of the strangest myths is that which concerns the "deadly meat tree" of Java, whose poisonous exhalations were formerly alleged to kill any man or animal that ventured into its neighborhood.

Doubtless it had its origin in some traveler's tale, for the tree in question—rather widely distributed in southern and southeastern Asia—has no terrors for the natives of these countries, who, on the contrary, find it extremely useful.

It is the only kind of tree in the world that produces ready-made clothing. The inner bark is a natural cloth, only requiring the removal of the soft cellular stuff in order to render it available for use. A cylindrical section of it from a small branch will furnish a leg for a pair of trousers or an arm for a coat, while from a larger branch the body of the garment is obtained.

Copyright Acts.

The first act providing for the copyright of books and other publications in the United States was passed 120 years ago. The term of copyright was then fixed at 14 years, with the privilege of renewal for 14 years longer. In 1811 the period was extended to 28 years and providing for a renewal for 14 years. For nearly a hundred years after the passing of the first copyright law the protection was extended only to citizens of the United States. In England a similar injustice was practiced upon Americans, although the British government did permit foreigners to take out a copyright, provided their work was first published in England and the author was at the time of publication anywhere within the British dominions. International copyright conventions now exist between nearly all nations. The first copyright act in England was passed in 1709, giving protection for 14 years and for the author's life if then living. In 1814 the English law was amended by extending the period to 28 years.

Germ of Laughter.

Laughter, we are told by all authorities on the human emotions springs from a sense of satisfaction and superiority in the laughter over the laughee, if we may coin the word for the occasion. The Paris Rose Rouge publishes a hitherto unprinted essay on laughter by Stendahl, in which the following definition occurs:

"What is laughter? It is a succession of pulmonary spasms accompanied by a peculiar facial expression which is so familiar that I need not describe it and by a pleasurable sensation around the chest.

"This physical state arises from a sudden inspiration to compare our own worth with someone else's and resulting in a verdict favorable to ourselves. Laughter thus arises from the sudden recognition of our own superiority."

Keep Mind Free From Rust.

A rusty tool of any sort is a poor recommendation for the owner. It is doubly condemning when that tool is the master key of life. The weather and the carelessness of others may rust tools of steel. Only the indulgence of the man himself can allow the mind to get rusty. It's a mark of sanity or premature mental weakness when the mind that ought to be vigorous shows signs of rust. No man of good sense has a right to think he has reached his limit of usefulness. Each step upward should become the incentive to a higher step. As higher ground extends the vision so mental attainment should extend the scope of a man's influence.—Pennsylvania Girl.

Camel Cigarettes

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

The furniture is reed with velour trimmings and with the other furnishings, gives the boys a beautiful meeting place. The formal opening of the rooms will be held on Friday evening of this week.

A. Marofsky, who has been a resident of Chelsea for several years, has received word from his wife and children, who are in Austria, for the first time since the war. They will start for this country in a short time. During the war Mr. Marofsky was unable to get word to or from them, and until recently had been unable to locate them.

Lon Clark, of Lyndon, had the front axle of his Ford badly sprung Monday morning in a collision at the intersection of Main and Middle streets with an auto driven by some strangers. Mr. Clark was driving south on Main street and the strangers were driving west on Middle street at a high rate of speed. Too many tourists drive through the village as though they thought they were the only people on earth, and it is time that some of them were made an example of.

Don't Fib to Census Taker. "Thou shalt not bear false witness," says the Bible, meaning, don't lie.

Uncle Sam, knowing the proclivities of his nieces and nephews to fib when tax matters are involved, has made an iron-clad law that nothing in the census records can be used against anyone.

So when the nose counters call, just after January 2, everybody should tell them the truth. Their statement will be barred to the tax inquisitor.

Income tax dodgers are not the only ones who pervert the truth, census takers say. In 1910 more girls were 18 years than any other age above 7. There were 1,000,000 more girls that age than there were 15.

There were more native-born girls 18 in 1910 than there were in 1900, which is an impossibility, census-takers say.

A girl is taking only one chance in telling her right age that is, if she should want to marry the census-taker, it might be a handicap. Otherwise the truth will not hurt, as the census-taker is sworn to soft-pedal everything.

AUCTIONS—The auction season is now here, and the Standard wishes to remind those who expect to have an auction this season that it can furnish an auctioneer and print the bills.

Michigan News Tersely Told

Ailton—It cost Mrs. Stella Skyzoka $400 for violation of the liquor law to which she pleaded guilty.

Big Rapids—According to Big Rapids religious census, this city has 2,957 churchgoers. There are 14 houses of worship.

Cadillac—Public school teachers petitioned for a raise. The board declined it because there are no funds available.

Bay City—Caroline Nunn, 70 years old, is dead at her home here. She was a member of the Nunn Family Concert Company, which years ago was well known in theatrical circles.

Flint—Resolutions presented by employees of Flint retail stores that business places close at 6 o'clock Saturday nights and 6:30 other evenings, have been tabled by the Board of Commerce retailers' division.

Ludington—Fred Knowles, of Scottville, was convicted by a jury and fined $46 in justice court on the charge of having in his possession 25 muskrat skins from rats caught before the season lawfully opened.

Muskegon Heights—With only 577 votes cast out of a possible 2,000 Muskegon Heights approved a $320,000 bond issue providing for sidewalks, sewers, new fire apparatus, and the remodeling of the city hall.

Flint—White wrestling in the street with another boy, Emil Lindstrom, 10 years old, was pushed beneath the wheels of a motor truck. He was badly crushed about the hips and was removed to Hurley Hospital.

Jackson—Five dollars a day and board is being offered for farm labor in Jackson county and there are no takers. The labor situation, so far as the farms are concerned, is the most critical in the history of the county.

Grand Rapids—A woman about 45 years old, who gave her name as Clara I. Horton, failed to leave an interurban car as it arrived from Allegan. She was questioned by the conductor and it was found she had lost her memory. She is said to be a nurse.

Manistee—In the death of Adolbert Todd, Victory lost one of its best know characters. Totally blind, he managed to exist by raising vegetables and selling them from houses to house. Last fall he suffered a stroke of apoplexy and lay for two days without care until found by neighbors.

Flint—The council chamber of Flint's city hall was to be turned into a store for the sale of Army food and clothing. Sales of food have previously been held at the city market. While supervising sales at the market Mayor Keller was struck on the wrist by a case and suffered a fracture of a small bone.

Benton Harbor—Officials of the Superior Steel company have announced that a $200,000 addition to their plant will be undertaken at once. The step was made possible through the activities of the local housing corporation, which has undertaken the construction of a number of new homes.

Bay City—The suit of the City against the Michigan State Telephone Co. in which an injunction was issued against the company forbidding the charging or collecting of barless rates, has been discontinued by written stipulation. The company agrees to refund all paid rentals in excess of those authorized.

Pontiac—Pontiac's first woman jury heard the suit of Smith & Bowles against Charles Burtage. The suit, involving the price of a camera, called to the jury box Mrs. Walter Burke, Mrs. Otto Sacluse, Mrs. L. W. Stoddard, Miss Jessie I. Gray, Mrs. S. H. Kessell and Mrs. P. H. Struthers. The jurors found for the plaintiff in 10 minutes.

Birmingham—Rudolph Burtlaw, 33, was instantly killed and his wife was fatally injured when their automobile collided with a Detroit United railway car at the 15 mile road near here. Burtlaw suffered a fractured skull, causing his death. A freight train near the crossing obstructed Burtlaw's view of the track. Mrs. Burtlaw was rushed to a hospital and physicians announced her condition as critical.

Saginaw—L. F. Will, of Mt. Clemens, secretary of the Michigan Implement Dealers has announced the program for the convention which meets here December 25. Tuesday there will be a theater party and Thursday night the annual banquet will be held at which C. L. Goscauw will be chairman. Thursday afternoon will be farmers' day and farmers will be invited from Saginaw and eastern and northern Michigan.

Cadillac—Joseph Clark, of Yuma, who pleaded guilty to whipping Russell Walker, 9 years old, ward from the State Public School at Coldwater, was sentenced to from six months to five years in the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia. Judge Lamb, in imposing sentence, called the crime one of the worst in the history of Wexford County. The boy was stripped, tied to a barn post with a halter around his neck. He had been adopted by an Owosso man.

Mio—A new $31,000 high school is to be built here.

Ludington—Ludington's Country club house, valued at $30,000, was burned to the ground. The fire is believed to be of incendiary origin.

Saranac—The Rev. Mr. W. S. Ross, pastor of the Congregational Church, has tendered his resignation, effective Jan. 1. He came to Saranac three years ago.

Grant—Fire of unknown origin left Samuel Wildsome and his five children homeless when their farm home, four miles northwest of here, was destroyed.

Lansing—Mrs. Mary La Plant, 50 years old, was instantly killed at her home as a result of a fall down a flight of stairs, in which her neck was broken.

Holland—Holland aldermen have instructed the board of public works to prepare plans and specifications and an estimate of cost of a municipal lighting plant.

Big Rapids—E. J. Doyle, collector of internal revenue, has announced that owners of buildings in which violations of prohibition enforcement acts are found will be prosecuted.

Saugatuck—Fred Grant, prosperous farmer near here, hanged himself in a tree in a wood lot on an adjoining farm. His body was found by a neighbor. He had been despondent lately.

Port Huron, Mich.—Strike of paper and pulp makers here is ended and a majority of men are back at work. The men returned voluntarily and no settlement was made. The open shop policy of the plant will be continued.

Bay City—Circuit Judge Howard West of Lansing, has granted a temporary injunction restraining Bay county supervisors from including in this year's tax budget an item of $20,000 to provide a tract index for the office of the register of deeds.

Rogers City—Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Otsego and Montmorency counties are closed to trapping of beaver by an order of the public domain commission. The department reports there is danger of complete extermination of the beaver in those counties.

Battle Creek—Harry Hovey, first burglar suspect to be arrested in Battle Creek in months, although there have been a number of burglaries, fled his way out of the city jail and escaped. In 1914, Hovey was arrested and on trial in justice court he jumped out of the second story window and escaped.

Bay City—The Good Government League, which recently made charges that Mayor R. V. Mundy was not trying to eradicate vice here, has adopted resolutions condemning the use of punch boards and other gambling devices and calling upon the mayor to enforce the law regarding vice and liquor.

Mt. Clemens—"America First" has brought prosperity to this city. On account of foreign health resorts being closed due to the war, the Mt. Clemens health resort is closing the most prosperous year of its history. Hundreds of patients have come here who formerly looked only to the European health centers for cures.

Saginaw—Cornor Rispollo and representatives of the sheriff's office were called to Lakefield township to investigate the death of a man named Bush, who is supposed to have died of leprosy. Several weeks ago, on petition of the sheriff's department, the state board of health sent a man to investigate the case. Bush kept himself away from others.

Kalamazoo—Unconscious from asphyxiation and burns Mrs. Corna Jenny was taken to Borgess hospital in a dying condition after she had been carried from her burning home. She was found by neighbors lying on the kitchen floor with her clothing in flames. The fire was caused by the falling of the stovepipe, which ignited some inflammable materials in the kitchen.

Ann Arbor—Ann Arbor began action in circuit court to enjoin the D. U. R. from using any of its temporary tracks on city streets until certain work now under way is completed. If granted, the order will tie up operation of the D. U. R. lines through Ann Arbor from Ypsilanti to Jackson until double tracking of Main street is finished. Merchants on the streets involved have threatened to sue the city for losses incurred through blocking the street.

Mt. Clemens—That his three children did not want, John Schmidt, of Mt. Clemens, has been adjudged legal dead, although neither has body nor that of J. L. Alkhead, of Detroit, who are believed to have gone down in the aqueduct that swept Lake St. Clair, has been recovered. The action declaring Schmidt dead was taken by Probate Judge Neil Reid, of Macomb county. Emil Schmidt, of Detroit, brother-in-law of John Schmidt, is named administrator.

Lansing—Unloading railroad station agents is increasing work of the public utilities commission. The union has hoisted wages. As a result railroads seek to discontinue numerous small stations in the state. Before this can be legally done companies must secure permission from the commission. So numerous have these attempts to abandon stations become that the commission has taken the step that service is to be abandoned only where really warranted.

PEACE TREATY IN SENATE DEADLOCK

NEITHER SIDE SHOWS INDICATIONS OF CHANGING ITS ATTITUDE.

DEMOCRATS WILL NOT RATIFY

President Wilson Says Reservations "Devitalize" Whole Pact—No Compromise in Sight.

Washington, President Wilson will pocket the peace treaty if it contains the Lodge reservation, he told Senator Hitchcock at a conference at the White House.

"The president has read and considered the Lodge reservation," Senator Hitchcock said, "and he considers them a nullification of the treaty and utterly impossible."

The president's decision drew from Republican leaders emphatic statements that there would be no compromise and that their original program of procedure would be adhered to.

"The only result has been to harden our lines," said Senator Lodge. It was the opinion of Republican leaders that senate probably would reach a deadlock.

The program outlined by Senator Hitchcock after he had seen President Wilson will be carried through in the senate, Mr. Hitchcock said. This contemplated defeat of the ratification resolution, with the Lodge reservations attached, and the offering of a resolution for ratification without reservations. With the defeat of this resolution a deadlock would follow and a compromise sought.

Unless such a compromise can be reached, it is predicted that the treaty will be rejected, and, if the president carries out implied threats, the United States will remain in a technical state of war with Germany; she will not be a member of the League of Nations or of any of the international bodies created under it, negotiations of a new treaty will be in order, or the theoretical state of hostility may be ended by a senate declaration that peace exists.

Part of the program already adopted, the president has declared he regards as devitalizing the treaty. Unless developments change their views, his supporters in the senate intend to vote against ratification with these qualifications.

The breach between the opposing treaty forces has widened in the last week, and there is no indication of yielding on either side. Republicans who have stuck solidly with Senator Lodge say the two remaining reservations will be adopted.

Democrats say they will reject the Lodge ratification clause containing the reservations. Ratification requires a two-thirds vote.

"We have no intention of voting for the ratification clause containing the Lodge reservations," says Senator Hitchcock.

Says Senator Lodge: "Once the Democrats vote down the ratifying resolution the treaty may be considered dead."

MICHIGAN'S DEAD COME HOME

Silent Reception Given Soldiers of Famous 339th Regiment.

Detroit—From 7 a. m. until well after noon thousands of men and women stood packed along Michigan and Woodward avenues. They waited quietly and quietly they bowed their heads as the funeral cortege of the 68 soldiers from Russia, rolled slowly by on its journey from the Michigan Central Station to the Army.

Through all the long wait and during the progress of the parade, an air of stillness pervaded downtown Detroit—broken only by the somber tolling of the City Hall bell.

Thirty-three army trucks, draped in black, were lined up in readiness when the funeral train drew in. The 68 caskets containing the bodies of men of the 339th, were removed from the cars by details of regulars from Ft. Wayne and placed on the trucks. Maj. J. P. Robbins, of the Port of Embarkation in Hoboken, was in charge of the coffins on the trip west from New York. He turned them over here to the care of Col. L. A. Kunzick, commandant at Ft. Wayne. Three steel baggage cars were employed to carry the coffins. The cars were hung with black streamers.

Each of the slain soldiers slept shrouded in the colors of his country. Plain, pine rough boxes concealed the metal caskets, and boxes formed the coverlets beneath funeral wreaths of bay. Identification cards were attached to the boxes.

Child Labor Decreases

Washington—Child labor in the United States has decreased more than 40 per cent since the child labor law provision of the revenue act went into effect April 25. This act levied a tax of 10 per cent on the net earnings of plants employing children under 14 years or between 14 and 16 for more than eight hours in the production of commodities entering interstate commerce. Women have been given children's places in many industrial plants.

Just a Little Smile

"I called to see you at your office yesterday."

"That so? Why didn't you see me? I was there all day."

"I found after I got there that I didn't want to see you badly enough to give my life history to three or four outer guards and sit on a bench for an hour or two waiting for them to make up their minds whether or not to pass me by."

Willing to Fall.
A Philadelphia suitor says: "If the chafin of an egg is well defined it is fresh!"

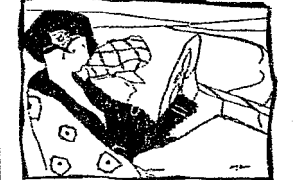

Insist on the grocer showing you the chafins, or chafin, of the eggs you purchase. You'll have to carry your eggs home in a pail, but what of that?

The Wonderful Gift.
"Is our friend a great orator?"

"A great orator?" repeated Senator Sorghum. "Why he can convince you of something without taking the trouble to understand it himself!"

Where Grade Crossings Grow.
"So you prefer the city to the country?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins. "In the city you're liable to run over something, but in the country you're liable to strike a grade crossing and get run over."

A NEW ADVERTISING SCHEME.

"When did you get the new five-vo?"

"Oh, it was given to me with a five gallon purchase of gasoline."

Our Language.
Our language is a bungling thing—A foreign student says it; For instance we tear down a block, And yet we say we raise it.

Fearless.
"I want a man who isn't afraid of work."

"That's me," replied Plodding Pete. "I never get got well enough acquainted with it to be scared of it."

Dispensing a Superstition.
Bum—Hister, could you spare a poor guy 13 cents?

Govt—Why 13 cents?

Bum—Just to forever dispose of the absurd superstition that 13 is unlucky.

Its Cause.
"They say the high price of shoes is caused by a shortage of hides."

"That's merely another profestring skin game."

SAD STORIES, MOSTLY.

"Of what."

"Gas meters."

The Exaggerated Present.
How many times in days gone by Events have made us roar and shout Which now we haven't time to try To recollect and talk about.

Hopefulness.
"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Turkins, "you were talking about a twenty to one shot when I came into your alley today."

"Was it?"

"Yes and I was very much pleased. I hope you will cultivate enough interest in marksmanship to take your mind off horse racing."

Pooling the Cost.
Kathryn—What a lovely engagement ring! Your fiance must be rich to afford so big a stone.

Kitty—Father, you see, I was engaged to five men this season, and persuaded them to go in together on a syndicate ring. I hate a lot of little ones.

Its Defense.
"Remember, my dear boy, a roll of stone gathers no moss."

"That's because it knows it won't get anywhere if it's a mowback."

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND

by Jane Bunker Copyright-The Robbs-Hartill Co

"WHY, WOMAN, THEY'RE DIAMONDS, BLOOD-RED DIAMONDS!"

Synopsis.—While in the little French town of Vauvay, where the "staid, proper spinster" who tells the story is spending a vacation, she is asked to allow a young girl, Claire de Ravend, to be her companion back to the United States.

I suppose I'll be set down as a perfect fool, but I actually turned sick all over, and it required positive courage on my part to pick up the slippers and examine them. Which taught me nothing, of course, and—I may as well confess all my folly—I set them back heel to the wall and actually sat there and watched to see if they'd turn about of their own accord.

I went, but I never once mentioned the slippers—slippers were the last things in my mind as I rang the bell. Mrs. Delario herself admitted me, apologizing that her maid was away for her Sunday evening out, and what between welcoming handshakes and Mrs. Delario's taking off my coat and insisting on my taking off my hat and "being comfy," and my declining, and her leading me into the seclusion room Claire had told me about, and my astonishment at seeing it, slippers didn't occur to me and the chance to speak of them went by.

Mrs. Delario Herself Admitted Me.

The key slid out of the lock and there shivered in my nightgown, waiting for the usual colloquy that would convince Mr. Man I wasn't his Minnie, but as he didn't favor me with so much as an oath of recognition, I went back to bed after a few moments and fell asleep. It never entered my head that the person at the other end of the latchkey wasn't the high-spirited Mr. Man that I knew and was prepared for, but another Mr. Man I didn't know anything about.

I went to sleep dreaming about slippers; I waked up to wonder about slippers—these were just as I'd left them—which gave me real disappointment. I was out nearly all day, and when I came home my first look was to see if the slippers had been making any more "manifestations."

ALL THREE SLIPPERS WERE GONE.

CHAPTER III.

Mrs. Delario's Diamonds. To say I was astonished when I beheld that neat row of footgear with three teeth knocked off simply doesn't express it. I was flabbergasted. It wasn't only the mysteriousness of that particular theft—if theft it were—and why all three slippers had been taken and not one slipper, or one pair; it was that nothing so far as I could observe had been touched in the flat but just the particular objects that the day before had turned and toed the wall. Now they had walked off and left me.

for me. I could as soon have thought my own sister a thief. Nevertheless I was soon at a loss to explain the episodes Mrs. Delario told me.

On the steamer, for instance, she had twice caught Claire turning over things in her—Mrs. Delario's—suitcase. Claire excused it once by saying she'd accidentally put some of her own toilet articles in it by mistake while she "was too sick to notice." But what finally brought about the crisis was this: A sifter had given Mrs. Delario a ten-dollar bill in payment for a reading, and she had gone hastily to her room for change, and returning had left her bedroom door ajar and a quantity of bills lying on the bureau which she hadn't stopped to put back into her purse. The moment she had shown the sifter out she went back to replace her purse and found Claire in her room. Claire was in the act of closing the wardrobe door and said she was looking for her muff and why her muff in Mrs. Delario's wardrobe?

look at them. Anyway, the other five was gone." It was this sort of thing about her that made me like Mrs. Delario so much—her willingness to excuse and to wait for final proofs of people's delinquencies. She hadn't even mentioned her suspicion to Claire; at the same time the incident decided her that she could on no account keep the child longer in the house, the worry of looking after her was too great, and she had told Claire this and that if her father didn't arrive by Monday Claire would have to go to a boarding school for safekeeping till he did. Monsieur le pere opportunely arrived next morning and took Claire away. That was Thursday—the day before she called on me—and Claire had been with Mrs. Delario just since Monday.

lately perfect substance can be conceived, the mind and the tool, working without variation, might have produced those seven stones. Yes—I should say they were matched!

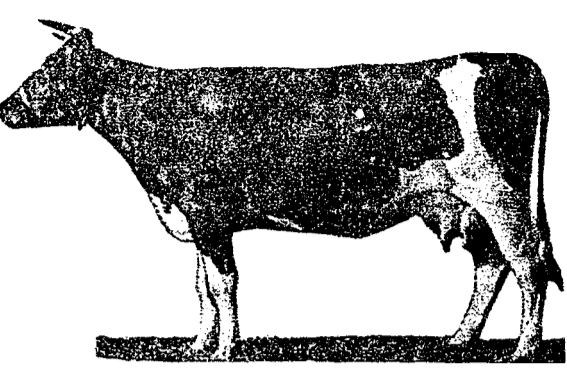

She Gave Out a Long O-o-oh!

"Smuggled!" I interjected. "Well, a friend brought them over and they weren't found when the baggage was examined. But don't you see that was why I could sell them at a bargain?" "I don't know anybody who deals in smuggled goods."

"Put it in your stocking and run!"

Making a Garden. And because the breath of flowers is far sweeter in the air, wringing it comes and goes, like the wringing of music, than in the hand, therefore nothing is more fit for that delight than to know what are the flowers and plants that do best perfume the air.

Dam of Bull Used in University of Idaho Breeding Experiment.

ter of Hood Farm Tororo. The dam of the bull was not tested this year but has been milking 35 to 37 pounds of 5.5 per cent milk a day—two milkings—with first calf. She will be tested next year. The sire of the bull is Hillside Emperor, a grandson of Hood Farm Tororo and Pogis 90th of Hood Farm, so that he carries to those two sires on both his sire and his dam side.

Women From Girlhood Through Motherhood and Past Middle-Life

Training, Mich.—"We have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a general tonic medicine. When any of us didn't feel right we would use a bottle or two, and would be all right. When I was passing through middle life, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was my refuge in time of trial. I passed through that most critical time without any trouble. I live on a farm and do all of the work a woman has to do with-out any help and can walk four or five miles and not be any the worse for it."

India Needs American Goods. The fact that the Bombay Electric Tramway company, Bombay, India, recently placed an order for 130 trams-trucks in America on account of the advantageous prices quoted, indicates that there is further opportunity for the marketing in India of this and kindred lines.

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP. In these days of unsettled weather look out for colds. Take every precaution against the dreaded influenza and at the first sneeze remember that Boschee's Syrup has been used for fifty-three years in all parts of the United States for coughs, bronchitis and colds, throat irritation and especially for lung troubles, giving the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning. Made in America and kept as a household remedy in the homes of thousands of families all over the civilized world. Try one bottle and accept no substitutes.—Adv.

Conditional. "But we simply must have a cook!" wailed Mrs. Newberry tearfully. "I've never lived in a house without one."

Cuticura for Sore Hands. Soak hands on retiring in the hot soda of Cuticura Soap, dry and rub in Cuticura Ointment. Remove surplus Ointment with tissue paper. This is only one of the things Cuticura will do if Soap, Ointment and Talcum are used for all toilet purposes.—Adv.

Mean Comment. Belle—I have been told my eyes are like Jewels. Nell—So they are; like cat's eyes.

ST. CHARLES WOMAN WAS FORTUNATE. It was a Lucky Day for Mrs. Wietheolter When She Read About Cuts' "I had such awful cutting pains in the small of my back and hips, I often had to cry out," says Mrs. Ernest Wietheolter, 556 Madison St., St. Charles, Mo. "The pain was knife-like and I couldn't turn in bed, in fact I was almost helpless. My feet and ankles swelled badly, my hands were puffed up and there were swellings under my eyes. I often got so dizzy I had to sit down to keep from falling and my health was completely broken down. The kidney secretions poured terribly in passage and in spite of all the medicine I took, I kept getting worse until I was a wreck."

"By chance I read about Dods' Kidney Pills and bought some. After I had used half a box there was a change and I continued to improve; the pains, aches and swellings left and my health returned."

Wm. F. Wolter, Notary Public. ALMOST TWO YEARS LATER. Mrs. Wietheolter said: "I think as highly of Dods' as ever. Whenever I have used them, they have benefited me."

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Cattle will not leave corn when fed in proper quantity for any other grain. Fat ewes are too frequently not regular breeders, and carry their flesh because they did not raise lambs the previous year.
