

FARMER FOR GOVERNOR

Three Great Farm Organizations Have United On Candidate.

Committees from three great farm organizations of Michigan, the Grange, the Gleaners, and Farmers' clubs, have agreed that Milo B. Campbell is the man best fitted for governor, from their standpoint, which is perfectly all right. We are glad to see the agriculturists wake-up politically, and we have been considerably interested in reading the press comments. Most of them were sensible, but the following from a Shiawassee county paper strikes a discordant note and voices ideas which we do not believe Mr. Campbell would approve if he heard them, as follows:

"They (the farmers) feel that the big interests have too long had a controlling voice in the selection of governor, that the farmers have not had a square deal, and they propose to rectify this at the coming election."

Even admitting that "big interests" have controlled the selection of candidates for governor in the past, we dislike the sentiment expressed above that the farmer has not had a square deal, etc. in the past and that they now propose to legislate to their own advantage, etc. Class legislation is not what we want in Michigan; what we need is a wise administration of already existing laws and justice and fair-play for all—farmer, merchant, professional man, labor—and not legislation favoring any group or interest.

Personally, we feel that the agricultural industry has been pretty well treated by the politicians, both state and national. Billions of dollars have been voted for the maintenance of the department of agriculture and for the support of agricultural colleges, and countless bulletins have been printed in the interest of improved farming. Who ever heard of the government issuing a bulletin on better printing, or how to practice law or medicine, or the most approved merchandising methods?

And there is the rural mail delivery—absolutely for the farmer, and a losing proposition for the postoffice department. We believe it is all right, but it was put through for the farmer.

Perhaps the farmer does not have a square deal, so called. We've no doubt there are many features in the agricultural industry which might be improved—there are in all business enterprises; but all things considered we believe the politicians have treated the farmer pretty fairly in the past, much better than they have the newspaper and printing industry, and that he has had his full measure of class legislation.

ANNUAL MEETING "CO-OPS."

The annual meeting of the Chelsea Co-operative Live Stock Shipping Association will be held Thursday afternoon, January 15, 1920, at two o'clock, in the Sylvan town hall, Chelsea.

Ah, Those Were the Days

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Brief Items of Interest in Chelsea
And Vicinity, From Nearby
Towns and Localities.

MANCHESTER—L. D. Watkins of Manchester died at his home on Saturday, at the age of 91 years. He was a pioneer of this county, born October 13, 1828, at Keene, N. H., and coming here in 1834 to the farm on which he has lived ever since, and on which he died. Mr. Watkins has developed his land, till at the time of his death he had 2,600 acres.

PINCKNEY—Quite a number of men from this vicinity are employed at Lakeland filling the large ice house there. The wages are $4.75 for a nine-hour day including dinner and daily transportation to and from Pinckney. At least one of the Pinckney men now at work there, Michael Lavey, can probably remember when he worked at the same place ten hours each day at $1.00 per day—Dispatch.

ANN ARBOR—Harold James Scudder of near Jackson was yesterday bound-over to the circuit court by Judge Thomas of Ann Arbor, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Bail was fixed at $100. Scudder is said to have threatened Bernard F. Laski in the D. U. R. waiting room in Detroit with a loaded revolver. Laski is said to live at 820 Adams street, Jackson. Complaint was made to the police here Sunday night, and Scudder was subsequently arrested. The accused is only about 17 years of age according to the jail record.

NOAH FOOR

Noah Foore died Saturday, January 10, 1920, at his home in this village, aged 60 years, seven months and five days.

The deceased was born in Bedford, Pa., June 5, 1859, his parents being John and Marguerite Foore. He was united in marriage with Miss Emma Estella Craft, at Blissfield, Michigan, December 17, 1879, who survives him. Nine children were born to this union, seven of whom are left to mourn their loss, as follows: William J. Foore of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Maggie Harris of Chelsea; Mrs. James DeYoung and Mrs. Andrew Barkholtz, of St. Charles; LaVerne H. Foore and Mrs. Garnet Wilson, of Jackson; Alvin C. Foore at home. He is also survived by four brothers; David of Colon, Elmer of Jackson, William of Manchester, Bert of Clinton; and by three sisters, Mrs. Marie Sackett of Clinton, Mrs. Joseph Scott of Roscommon, and Mrs. David Gary of Toledo.

The funeral was held this afternoon at two o'clock from his late home, Rev. Beatty officiating. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

Watch Your Kidneys!

That "bad back" is probably due to weak kidneys. It shows in a dull, throbbing backache, or sharp twinges when stooping. You have headaches, too, dizzy spells, a tired nervous feeling and irregular kidney action. Don't neglect it—there is danger of dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands have saved themselves more serious ailments by the timely use of Doan's. Ask Your Neighbor!

A Michigan Case

C. F. Kimber, carpenter, 121 Wells Ave., Ecorse, Mich., says: "My kidneys were disordered and my bladder caused me much trouble. I had backaches and was restless at night. I arose in the morning feeling all tired out. I used several different medicines without any benefit until before I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon cured me: the pains left and my kidneys became normal."

ALIBI OF WOMEN NOW CONVINCING

BROWN CASE DEVELOPMENTS INVOLVE NEW PARTIES IN CRIME.

MRS. BROWN GIVEN FREEDOM

Cecil Vester's Story Carries More Weight With Prosecution Than When First Arrested.

ML Clemens.—J. Stanley Brown's movements on the evening of Dec. 22 have been traced up to the time he left the Edison Hotel on the automobile ride which ended with his death.

Persons who say they saw Stanley leave the hotel in his car in company with Lloyd Prevost, shortly after 10 p. m., came forward with the information. They were immediately taken by officials before the grand jury proceeding which was being held by Alex J. Groesbeck, attorney general, before justice William Swan.

It was about Cecil Vester that Mr. Groesbeck made his only statement regarding the investigation.

"I believe she had nothing at all to do with the crime," he said. "That much is due to be said of her in view of the fact that circumstances compel her detention."

The attorney general's statement was taken to indicate that the charge of murder against Mrs. Vester would be dropped, and her early release is predicted.

Lloyd Prevost, now detained as a witness, and Mrs. Ruth Brown, widow of the slain man, were among those called during the questioning. Mrs. Brown remained but a few moments, and it is understood, amplified her previous statements on the case. Prevost was in the room in which the questioning was done only a half hour, a fact, which, in view of his importance, was taken to indicate that he had stood on his constitutional rights and declined to testify. Mrs. Brown had waived immunity.

A. A. Carter, proprietor of a taxicab business, was called, as was Alger Graham, a driver for the same concern. The records of this company were also produced, and the officials checked up on the runs that were made by the company the night of the slaying.

Ben Sorenson, Camp Custer soldier, and Gladys Summitt, friend of Cecil Vester, the woman who figured prominently in the case, earlier in the week, were also produced.

Carmela Jelsone, proprietor of the Edison hotel, where Brown had a room, was called. So were her niece and another lodger at the hotel.

Ted Wilde, a taxicab driver, with whom Brown had had trouble, brought a .25-caliber revolver which the officials had requested him to produce. The slaying was committed with a .35-caliber weapon.

Ruth Brown, widow of J. Stanley Brown, testified without reserve before Justice Swan. As a result, she is free today.

Mr. Groesbeck had ordered her arrest and a deputy sheriff was searching for her when he received a note from William Van Dyke and George W. John, her counsel asking for a conference. He acceded to their request. They assured him of their confidence that she would fix the guilt where it belongs and that their confidence would not rebound to their client's injury. Mr. Groesbeck told them that Mrs. Brown could claim her constitutional right.

Mrs. Brown, however, on the advice of her attorneys went before the justice and under questioning by Mr. Groesbeck, Lynn Johnston, the prosecuting attorney and Bert V. Nunneley, who has been named special assistant prosecutor, she told a story which caused the attorney to cancel an order for her arrest.

Dry Agent On Trial

Manassas, Va.—William G. Hall, state prohibition inspector, will go on trial here for the second time, charged with the killing of Lawrence D. Hudson and Raymond Shackelford, alleged whisky runners, last March at Fishers Hill, Va. At the September term of court the jury in the case failed to agree on a verdict.

Relic From Rome

New York.—A skull cap worn by Pope Benedict several times and a partly buried history of France salvaged from the ruins of the Louvain Library, were brought back from Europe by Charles C. Dunn, a Knight of Columbus secretary, for presentation to the Rev. Dr. George Daugherty, vice-rector, and Dr. Patrick Healy director of studies, at the Catholic University, Washington.

Lights His Hen House

Albion.—Electric lights are being used by Charles G. Maywood, poultryman, of this city, to make his hens lay more eggs during cold months. He says that the additional scratching his chickens do in the extra 10 hours of light bring in so many more eggs that even with the cost of light added he gets 25 cents of profit more for every $1 worth of eggs sold. Before he furnished artificial light for his flock, feed cost more than half as much as the eggs brought.

BREAKS YOUR COLD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" instantly relieves stuffiness and distress

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all gripe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's!—Adv.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER.

Constipation invites other troubles which come speedily unless quickly checked and overcome by Green's August Flower which is a gentle laxative, regulates digestion both in stomach and intestines, cleanses and sweetens the stomach and alimentary canal, stimulates the liver to secrete the bile and impurities from the blood. It is a sovereign remedy used in many thousands of households all over the civilized world for more than half a century by those who have suffered with indigestion, nervous dyspepsia, sluggish liver, coming up of food, palpitation, constipation and other intestinal troubles. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Try a bottle, take no substitute.—Adv.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Orchard Information

NEW VARIETIES OF PEACHES

Result of Experimental Work Conducted by Horticultural Department at Jersey Station.

From experimental work in the last five years several hundred seedling peaches came into bearing this season in the orchards managed by the horticultural department at the New Jersey station. Among the most promising that have borne this year are the result of crossing Belle by Greenboro. Some of these produced large oval, bright, attractive fruits of good quality, which ripened about the same season. They even promise to be superior to that well-known variety.

A cross between Belle and Early Crawford has given rise to a yellow peach which comes about a week to 10 days earlier than the Belle. A fine quality fruit has been produced by the crossing of Elberta and Early Crawford, which has the same shape and color as the Elberta, but is of finer quality and of 10 days earlier ripening period. Although not as affected by late frosts in southern New Jersey, causing 50 per cent loss in some areas, seedlings at the experiment station have been largely spared.

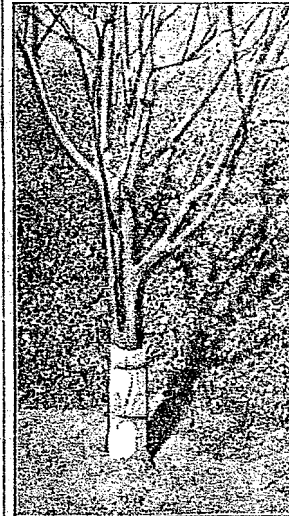

RABBITS HURT APPLE TREES

Injury Can Be Prevented by Wrapping With Tar Paper, Burlap or Use of Lath Screen.

(By J. A. ANDERSON, Horticulturist, Morris, Minn.)

As soon as there is a sufficient snowfall to make winter feed somewhat scarce, rabbits and mice will attack young apple trees and damage or entirely kill them by feeding on the bark at the ground or on the snow line.

Such injury can be prevented by wrapping the trees to a height above the snow line with tar paper or burlap, or by placing a lath screen protection around them. If the drifts around the trees are very high it may be advisable to break the snow drift around the trees so that the rabbits cannot reach the branches. Washing the trunk with whitewash containing copperas or sulphur is also effective. Hunting and trapping rabbits in the snow break or orchard during the early winter months is helpful, too.

Young fruit trees are greatly benefited during the winter by a heavy mulch of strawy manure. This should be spread in the spring as it will stimulate growth and development. During the winter it will help to prevent root-killing.

SELECTION OF FRUIT TREES

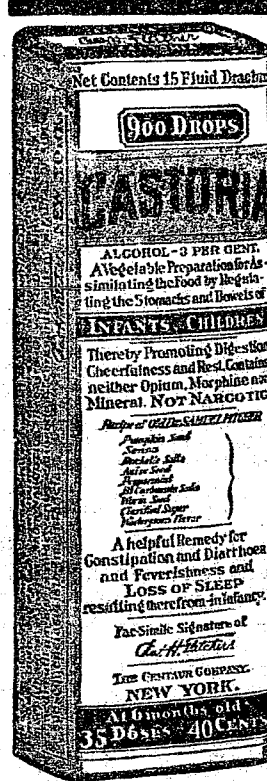

Essential to Securing Orchard for Pleasure and Profit—Many Different Varieties.

If you want a really good orchard—one that will bring pleasure and profit to the owner and increase the value of the place—look carefully to the selection of the fruit trees to plant. There are many different kinds of fruit, but only a few do well in any particular section. Peaches and plums lead in one section, pome fruits in another, and citrus fruits in another. Grapes and berries also do best in certain localities. So it will not do to try to grow everything in the home orchard, and it is folly for a farmer to try to raise more than two or three different fruits in his orchard if he is producing fruit for the market.

PROPER DISTANCE TO PLANT

Much Depends on How Orchard Is to Be Cared For—Pruned Trees Can Be Planted Closely.

Don't plant trees too close. The distance apart depends to a certain extent upon how the orchard is to be cared for. If the trees are to be kept well pruned they may be planted closer than if they are to be allowed to grow without pruning.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

SOMETHING OF A SURPRISE

Probably Prodd Family Would Have Preferred Neighbors Selecting Another Time for Call.

"A parcel of us folks started out tither night to give Juri Prodd and his wife a surprise party," related a resident of the Fiddle Creek neighborhood.

"Did you surprise 'em?" inquired an acquaintance from Straddle Ridge. "I reckon so. Last night, when we hustled into the house we found Mizus Prodd holding Juri down on his back on the floor by means of his throat and thumping him on the head with a skillet, while the children hopped around and let grains of popcorn on which would whip. They're a proud family; Juri has always made his brags that his Uncle Buck rid with Jesse James, and Mizus Prodd has long contended that she had ancestors. So it's more than likely that if they'd a-knowed we were coming they wouldn't have let us catch 'em in no such a fix."—Kansas City Star.

On Cutting Wood.

Elizabeth, reading that the ex-kaiser had sawed his twelve thousandth log in exile, drew a lesson from this fact.

"How much better it is," she moralized, "to start out in life cutting wood, as Lincoln did, and die a ruler, than to start out a ruler of Germany, and end up sawing wood!"

No man appreciates poetry unless he has a little of it in his make-up.

"Cold In the Head"

In an acute attack of Nasal Catarrh, persons who are subject to frequent "colds in the head" will find that the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will build up the system, cleanse the blood and render them less liable to colds. It cures attacks of acute Catarrh, may lead to Chronic Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. All Druggists sell. Testimonials free. Write for any case of Catarrh that HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will not cure.

WONDER IT WASN'T FATAL

Girl's Question Must Have Given Awful Shock to Enthusiastic Harvard Football Rooters.

With all his wild cheers and vigorous gestures of encouragement, the Harvard undergraduate with the girl in the grandstand survived the strain until near the end of the second quarter. The Crimson halfback then caught a forward pass, shuffled off two Yale tacklers and crossed the goal line for the winning touchdown.

In the subsequent uproar one soft sentence, ringing high above the infernal roar, was put to him by the footballer's sophomore at his side:

"What is all the excitement about?" she asked.

It took the waterboy's sponge to revive him.

Sad News.

"Four Goodies!" His hands trembled when he opened that

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.
