

PREDICTS BRIGHT FUTURE FOR CHELSEA

Detroit Engineer Says The Overflow
Population of That City Will Eventually Come Westward.

That cities and towns along the Michigan Central westward from Detroit will eventually develop into much larger places as the natural result of the electrification of that railroad is the opinion of Ward N. Choate of Detroit, expressed in a recent meeting of real estate men in Ypsilanti.

Mr. Choate, who is a graduate of the University of Mich., emphasized the point that the Ford interests must expand westward from Detroit, and that the growth of the metropolis will cause many people to move out into suburban cities that are within traveling distance of their Detroit offices.

With rapid suburban train service similar to that of the Illinois Central in Chicago, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Chelsea will experience a rapid residential growth.

It is only the lack of rapid suburban train service that now keeps many Detroiters in the city, Mr. Choate believes, and intimated that the proposed electrification of the Michigan Central is sure to be followed by an influx of residents to towns along the right of way, particularly Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Chelsea because they have modern conveniences and are also connected by electric interurban lines.

NEW AUTO FUELS COMING.

The motor car will be kept running according to leading Detroit manufacturers.

In the past year or so, there has been a growing fear on the part of many well wishers of the automobile industry that the gasoline supply was giving out.

It is a popular fallacy, too, to believe that automobile power can come from oil wells only. But the war proved differently. When they could not get gasoline, the Canadians distilled a war substitute from waste straw. The Greeks ran their motors on a liquid distilled from trees. In Sweden they made the motor go on fish oil. Even the Turks had a substitute—they moved their lorries on mustard oil, and the Germans used a gasoline substitute not known, but which had a sickly, sweetish odor.

The oil wells in America haven't run dry yet. There are wells in the Caucasus, in Mexico, Canada, Alaska, and Siberia.

And benzol, too, opens up a big source of supply, say the automobile makers.

CITY VS. COUNTRY CHILDREN.

Some folks argue that city children are brighter than those from the country. They argue that the city youngsters have their wits sharpened by constant contact with others.

City children do acquire from the life of the streets in which they have to play, a certain sunny quickness. They learn slang first, and can talk back faster to older people.

Still what the world wants is doing rather than talking. If the bicycle breaks down, the country boy will quite likely be able to make it run himself. He has constantly been thrown in that way on his own resources. Meanwhile the smart city kid will be taking his wheel to the repair shop and having the bill sent to Dad.

GERMANY SIGNS.

She signs it with the pen who thought to sign it with the sword!
Blood of her veins and golden gains she freely, vainly poured.
And prestige she had coveted and honors she had stored,
Yet day by day her shame and guilt grew like a Jonah's gourd.
Till now she signs it with a pen who hoped to raise the canted sword the Prussian casts away!

So ever when a pride-mad prince shall pledge a blood-red day!
So ever when wolf-men shall lead sheep-minded men astray!
So ever when a tribe would crush its brother tribes to clay!
So even to us should we forsake our ancient, lawful way
Or dare to raise the canted sword the Prussian casts away!

RUSSIAN SOVIET MAKES PEACE BID

REDS REPORTED TO HAVE MADE PROMISE TO ESTABLISH DEMOCRATIC RULE.

AGREE TO PAY NATION'S DEBT

Willing to Give Mining and Other Concessions As Guarantee For Fulfillment of Pledges.

Washington—In a new peace proposal to the great powers, reported in official dispatches received here, soviet Russia pledges establishment of democratic principles in Russia and the calling of a constituent assembly. It promises further to withdraw the decree annulling Russia's foreign debt, restoring 60 per cent of the liability and also to pay arrears of interest, giving as a guarantee for the fulfillment of its obligations considerable mining concessions of platinum and silver to an Anglo-American Mining syndicate.

In addition to the formal peace treaties soviet Russia would require Great Britain and other countries to abandon all intervention in Russian affairs. It also proposes that the United States allow a credit to Russia conditioned upon considerable concessions to the United States, Japan and Rumania.

A dispatch from London quoting a Moscow radio message said the soviet government had made new peace overtures to the United States, Japan and Rumania.

The suggestion that the United States had been coupled with Japan and Rumania in a new peace offer was received with some surprise. It was assumed, however, that the new offer was in line with the consistent policy of the soviet government to attempt separate negotiations with the Allied and associated powers.

The supreme council at London has announced that it would not negotiate with the soviet for the present, at least. This action does not bind the United States, however, as the American government is not represented in the council. In the absence of any official intimation as to the probable course of the United States should a peace offer come officially from the soviet government, it was recalled that the American government was the first to proclaim the bolsheviks as international outlaws.

TURKS KEEP CONSTANTINOPLE

Dardanelles and Half of Empire Taken From Them.

London.—Formal announcement that the Turkish government is to retain Constantinople was made in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George. The premier added: "It would be the height of folly, however, to trust the guardianship of the Gates (the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus) to a people who betrayed their trust. The gates will never again be closed by the Turks in the face of British warships."

Turkey is to be stripped of half of her empire under the Turkish peace treaty and will be completely dispossessed of her military and naval prestige, the premier declared.

The Turkish capital will be under the Allied flag in the future, he added.

SUCCEEDS LANSING AS SECRETARY OF STATE

BAINBRIDGE COLBY

Washington.—Bainbridge Colby, of New York, who was one of the leaders in the progressive party under Theodore Roosevelt, has been appointed by President Wilson to succeed Robert Lansing as secretary of state.

The selection of Mr. Colby came as a surprise, most officials assuming that Frank L. Polk, acting secretary, would be the president's choice.

Mr. Colby was appointed a member of the shipping board and the emergency fleet corporation in July, 1917, and also was a member of the American mission to the inter-allied shipping conference at Paris in the same year. He retired from the shipping board more than a year ago.

The country churches are not only falling to grow, but they are disappearing at the rate of 11 per cent a year.

CANADA CURBS STOCK DUMPING

Restricts Security Gamble—Ban On Imports From U. S.

Montreal.—Dumping on the Canadian market of English-owned Dominion securities valued at $1,250,000, 000 has been prevented by the agreement which Canada brokers and bond houses have made with the government not to bring any more securities from England.

In return for their acquiescence in the embargo Canadian financial interests have asked that the Dominion prohibit the importation of non-essential commodities from the United States.

Hung for Murder; Noose Slips; Sentence Commuted; Awarded $5,000 Damages.

Jackson, Miss.—The lower house of the state legislature voted $5,000 to Will Purvis, a Lamar county farmer, for having twice faced the gallows only to be ultimately exonerated of the murder charge on which he was convicted.

The killing was that of Will Buckley, a witness in a white-capping case, and occurred 26 years ago near Columbia, Miss. On the day set for execution the noose slipped and Purvis fell through unhurt when the trap was sprung. His counsel won a contention that he could not twice be punished for the same offense and sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Checks Must Bear Finger Prints.

Washington.—Chances of successful pay check forgeries in the navy have been reduced to a minimum. The department ordered that the endorsement of every such check must place the impression of the former fingers of his right hand on the back thereof before it will be cashed. As a record of the finger prints of every man in the service is kept, it will be practically impossible under the order for a forger to escape identification, officials said.

Army Bill Cuts Off 8,000 Officers.

Washington.—Eight thousand fewer army officers than asked for by the war department are provided by the house army reorganization bill. The sharpest cut was for the aviation service, which received only 1,514 of the 4,500 asked for. In all, the department sought 26,179 officers and the house committee granted 17,829.

Huge Crane Can Lift Million Pounds.

Washington.—A giant crane, with a lifting capacity of more than 1,000,000 pounds, has been completed at the fitting-out pier of the Philadelphia navy yard. A descriptive announcement by the navy department said the crane, which has an overall height of 245 feet, or equal to an 18-story building, was the largest of its type in the country, having been constructed at a cost of nearly $1,000,000.

Lever Food Act Declared Invalid.

St. Louis, Mo.—The amendment to the Lever food control act was declared unconstitutional by United States District Judge Farris here when he sustained a demurrer of the defense and dismissed the case of the L. Cohen Grocer company, which was charged with making an unjust profit on sugar. Judge Farris ruled the amendment conflicted with the sixth amendment to the constitution.

Congress Defeats "Wet" Amendment.

Washington.—Another movement for repeal of the Volstead Prohibition Enforcement Act was defeated last week in the House. It was launched by Rep. Isaac (Dem.) Missouri, who offered an amendment to the pending Legislative Bill, striking out the $4,500,000 fund for enforcement of the act and proposing as a substitute that the act be repealed, July 1. The amendment was lost on a roll call, 38 to 89.

Lipton's Yacht Periled by Fire.

New York.—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America cup, the Shamrock IV, and the cup defender candidate Vanitie were threatened by a fire which swept through the shipyard of Robert Jacobs at City Island, burning eight private yachts and three buildings. Early estimates placed the loss at nearly $1,000,000. At one time the flames came within 25 feet of the building housing the challenger.

Famous Tree At Gethsemane Falls.

Jerusalem.—During a recent snow storm the famous tree name "El Butraf" in the garden of Gethsemane was blown down. According to tradition this tree would fall when the Turkish empire fell. In the garden of Gethsemane have stood for many years eight olive trees, tradition dating them back to the time of Christ. It is doubtless one of these trees to which the Jerusalem dispatch refers.

Washington—Chances of successful pay check forgeries in the navy have been reduced to a minimum.

The department ordered that the endorsement of every such check must place the impression of the former fingers of his right hand on the back thereof before it will be cashed. As a record of the finger prints of every man in the service is kept, it will be practically impossible under the order for a forger to escape identification, officials said.

Washington.—The first setback in the federal enforcement of prohibition in this district under the Volstead Act came last week when Judge J. Whitaker Thompson, in the United States District Court, refused to grant an injunction to restrain a local saloonkeeper from "maintaining and conducting a public and common nuisance."

At the same time Judge Thompson rebuked the federal prohibition enforcement officers for searching the saloon without a warrant.

RAILROADS UNDER PRIVATE CONTROL

GOVERNMENT OPERATION ENDS, ALL LINES TURNED BACK TO OWNERS MARCH 1.

HINES CONTINUES AS CHIEF

Property Valued At Approximately $20,000,000,000 Divided Among 230 Corporations.

Washington.—America's rail transportation systems, operated as one great public utility since December 28, 1917, were again divided among their 230 respective corporations, as the government released control March 1. Director General Hines, as the agent of the president, handed over the properties and equipment valued at approximately $20,000,000,000, to their old direction, free, except for the jurisdiction retained by the government in the new railroad reorganization bill.

In signing the Esch-Cummins bill President Wilson opposed both the railroad unions and the farm organizations associated with the Farmers' National Council, which requested him to veto it on the ground that it would result in delaying action on wage demands, in higher railroad rates and a consequent increase in living costs. Other groups of farmers, however, urged him to sign it.

In a proclamation issued at the time the bill was signed, Mr. Wilson vested in Mr. Hines virtually all powers conferred on the executive by the bill. Mr. Hines will also continue to exercise the duties of director-general, which continue until about May 1.

The White House also made public the text of the President's reply to a recent request of representatives of the railroad brotherhoods that he appoint a commission composed equally of employers' and employees' delegates to consider wage demands made by the brotherhoods. It deals wholly with the wage demand settlement proposals and does not refer directly to the memorial later presented by the brotherhood heads, asking that he veto the Railroad Bill.

Glenn E. Plumb, counsel for the railroad brotherhoods, is working on the constitutionality of the bill, preparing to attack it through the courts.

STATE PRIMARY IMPORTANT

Interest Shown By Number of Names of Presidential Aspirants.

Lansing.—Michigan's Presidential primary, which has been held in so low esteem by politicians of both leading parties that delegates to National conventions have disregarded its mandates and the Legislature of 1919 came near abolishing it, has come into its own this year.

Practically every man, who has been prominently mentioned as a possible presidential candidate of any political party, will have his name on the ballots April 5. The last day for filing petitions was March 1.

The Republican Presidential primary ballot will offer: Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California; Frank R. Lowden, Governor of Illinois; Gen. John J. Pershing, of Nebraska; William G. Simpson, of Highland Park; Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, of Vermont; Senator Miles Poindexter, of Washington; and Herbert Hoover, of California.

Mr. Hoover will be the only candidate whose name will appear on the ballots of both the Republican and Democrat parties. Along with him, on the Democrat ballot, will be Edward I. Edwards, New Jersey's wet governor; A. Mitchell Palmer, United States Attorney-General; William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska; and William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury.

Out of the Federal prison at Atlanta comes the name of Eugene V. Debs, the only candidate of the Socialists.

U. S. FUEL CONTROL CONTINUES

Hines, Director of Railroads, and Commission of Four Appointed.

Washington.—Coincident with the signing of the railroad bill President Wilson issued executive orders providing for continuation of the powers of the fuel administration, but dividing them between the director general of railroads and a commission of four.

Director General Hines will retain jurisdiction over domestic distribution, while the commission will handle bunker and export coal matters. The order said the action was taken "because of the present emergency and in order to insure an adequate supply and equitable distribution and to facilitate movement and to prevent locally or generally scarcity of coal."

No Kick In Navy Grape Juice.

Boston.—If grape juice in the navy stores contains more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol, supply officers will be held responsible, says an order issued by Rear-Admiral Dunn, commander of the First District. The order directs that all grape juice on hand be tested for its alcoholic content and that similar care be exercised when new purchases of this and other beverages are made. All that found too strong must be rejected.

CLEAR UP AN OLD MYSTERY

Pennsylvanian, Believed Slain When a Boy, Returns Home.

MEETS HIS MOTHER

Stepfather, Made Insane Because of Accusations of Having Murdered Boys, Confesses to the Crime.

Sharon, Pa.—Yielding to a longing to visit the scenes of his boyhood days, George Burrows Keaster returned a few days ago to the rural district of Clarion county, just over the Mercer county line, and in so doing cleared up a mystery of many years' standing.

In the early eighties William Keaster, a farmer residing on the highway between Knox and Colonsburg, married a widow with two sons, ten and twelve. Shortly after the marriage the boys disappeared and a search failed to reveal their whereabouts.

The circulation of a story that Keaster had murdered the boys resulted in breaking up the home. The accusation so preyed on his mind that Keaster became insane and was committed to a state hospital, where he died.

Confesses Murder.

On the date of his commitment he told the warden that he had murdered the eldest boy and had been forced to repeat his act to prevent the youngest from accusing him. He said that the bodies of the boys were buried in the garden near his home. A search of the premises failed to reveal them.

Several days ago there appeared in the locality of the old Keaster home a stranger who claimed to be the elder of the boys.

The wanderer called the boys to the West; they crept out of bed, left the house, boarded a freight train and finally reached the state of Washington.

They Crept Out of Bed and Left the House.

ton. They obtained employment in the woods, where the younger was killed five years after his departure from home.

Since that time the eldest brother has wandered over the Pacific coast. He never wrote home and never received any word from relatives. Shortly after his arrival in Clarion county he located his mother, Mrs. Anna Burrows Keaster, and a happy reunion followed.

Mrs. McCants is seventy-two years old, and gave birth to twins September 20. Jerry McCants, her husband, is thirty-nine years old.

Great Falls, Mont.—With the aid of a silver spoon which he secured while dropping quickly behind the bar of a soft-drink saloon, George Edmonds, the bartender, saved his employers from being robbed by a man who entered the place from the rear and covered Edmonds with a gun. The silver spoon so resembled a revolver projected from the rear of the bar that the highwayman turned and fled.

FEDERAL, STATE AND COUNTY AGENCIES ASSIST CATTLE GROWERS IN MARKETING

Selling Surplus Animals From a Herd of Purebreds Under Favorable Circumstances—Listing Purebred Stock With County Agents Puts the Owner in Touch With Many Buyers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Yes, raising of purebreds is all right for the fellow who has lots of them, but how are the chaps who have only a few animals to sell going to get rid of them? The big fellows have reputations, and know the big buyers personally, but "farmers like me who have a small surplus of purebreds for sale are often up against it."

This is substantially what William Brown told his county agent one afternoon while discussing difficulties he experienced in getting a fair price for a few of his fine Herefords. Fortunately the county agent was able to tell him of a marketing service designed to make the selling of purebred animals easier for the large and small breeders alike. The agent showed Brown that the United States department of agriculture, in co-operation with the state agricultural colleges, county agents, and local co-operative associations, has undertaken the task of introducing breeders—buyers and sellers—to each other. And the introductions are not confined to stockmen in the same county or state.

Listing Purebreds in Counties.

Already in a number of counties the location, age, number and breed of purebreds is tabulated and placed on file in the office of the county agent. In some cases monthly reports are prepared, showing the number of animals for sale and these are published by the state agents in marketing. An essential to the plan is the co-operation of breeders within the county. Usually the farm bureau or county agent's office is the headquarters for the local co-operative association and the county agent acts as its secretary. Thus a working unit is formed which can be readily fitted into the state and national system of listing all purebred animals. Many a farmer living in a community where such information has not been collected is unaware of persons within a comparatively short radius of his farm who are engaged in raising purebred stock.

The state field agents of the bureau of markets, co-operating with the animal husbandman of the state college, are a second important factor in the general plan. They aim to assist buyers either inside or outside the state. They also aid county agents in finding animals for club members and arrange trips for out-of-town buyers.

ESSENTIALS LISTED FOR STOCK RAISERS

Means Outlined for Bringing Down High Cost of Meat.

Specialists of United States Department of Agriculture Give Some of Most Essential Items in Raising Cattle.

General improvement in the type and quality of beef animals the country over is one of the means urged by the United States department of agriculture for bringing down the high cost of meat to the consumer and, at the same time, increasing the profit of the producer. Some of the most essential items in growing beef on the farm, specialists of the department say, are:

Plenty of pasture and feed.

The right kind of cows—those that will produce good calves regularly.

A good, purebred registered bull—one that will sire good calves persistently.

A large calf crop. This means that all cows shall drop calves, and that the calves shall be properly cared for at birth.

Proper care of the breeding herd and the calves.

Selection of good heifer calves to replace old or inferior cows.

Prevention of disease among the breeding herd and the younger stock.

Shelter sufficient to protect the cattle from both severe cold and extremely hot weather.

A practical knowledge of fattening cattle for market.

Marketing to advantage.

There is a Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1073, on growing beef on the farm that may be had free on application to the division of publications, United States department of agriculture.

that they may examine a large number of animals at the least expense. The benefit of this system is enjoyed by breeders, large and small, and will increase as a larger number of county and community organizations ally themselves with it.

A Near-By Market Overlooked.

A Florida stockman desiring to purchase some Herefords, after making what he considered an adequate inquiry indicated his desire to buy a carload of these cattle in central Montana, 2,500 miles away! Later he found from information supplied by the bureau of markets he could secure cattle sired by an international grand champion bull within 150 miles of his home. Purchase of animals from the latter herd would have meant not only a great saving in freight, but acquiring cattle more acclimated to the South. Furthermore, the risk involved in transportation would have been considerably less.

With the aid of the data regarding purebreds—and it is being added to continually—the bureau of markets is able to give valuable assistance to prospective foreign, as well as domestic buyers, of purebred animals. This branch of the United States department of agriculture recently demonstrated the value of its information by aiding a group of South Americans in locating herds in various parts of the country, and also in arranging for the exportation of the cattle purchased. Not the least valuable feature of their assistance was due to the fact that the bureau representatives understood the methods of South American marketing as well as those of this country.

More Associations Should Help.

While in many counties co-operative breeders' associations are already actively sharing in compiling data regarding the location of purebred animals, much remains to be done. County live stock associations are urged to keep definite, up-to-date information on file and to inform the state field agents in marketing and, through them, the Washington office of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, of this fact. In this way they will render a much-needed service to their members, to the live stock industry as a whole, and to foreign buyers who come to this country for purebreds to improve their herds.

WEANING FALL-BORN CALVES

Young Animals Should Be Taken From the Mothers After Being Placed on Pasture in Spring.

Fall-born calves should be weaned after they have been placed on pasture in the spring, and then a gradually increasing allowance of grain should be given them, with hay and silage added later in the summer, according to the United States department of agriculture. For baby beef they should go into dry lot for finishing at the end of the pasture season, and be ready to market in December or January.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

The hog is the most important animal to raise for meat and money.

Straw for hog bedding in the winter is the best thing a man can have on the farm.

Straw stacks afford a good bedding material and this is a use for them far more profitable than burning.

Legume hays contain a high percentage of time and protein which makes them especially valuable in the ration.

Sport Skirt Is Indispensable

WOMEN have much satisfaction this year in the great number of simply-made sport skirts that depend upon the patterns in the materials to give them variety. In silk and in wool materials there are plaids, crossbars and stripes, in contrasting colors. And in silks there are one-color patterns in which stripes, crossbars and blocks are formed by variations in the weave. White with another color is in high favor in couch weaves for silk; for wools several colors in quiet tones are favored in all the patterns.

Plaids, crossbars and stripes challenge the ingenuity of designers. Many wool skirts have inverted plaids stitched down below the waist to the thigh and pressed very flat from there to the bottom. The plait is either shallow or deep, according to the pattern in the goods. There are some skirts with side plaits and a few with accordion plaits, but the shallow inverted plaits are much more popular than any others just at present.

Silk skirts are nearly all plain and gathered in at the waistline. Pockets—real or simulated—are managed in many different ways. Belts are made of the same material as the skirt and fasten anywhere—at the front, side or back according to the fancy of the wearer. Large flat buttons, singly or in pairs, are used on them and serve to finish off the pockets. The skirt pictured in blue and white striped baronet satin tells the story of the style and it is worn with a white voile and lace-trimmed waist.

New Materials in Spring Hats

BESIDES lisse, milan, hemp, tangle and other familiar brims we have with us this spring some new arrivals in materials for making hats. Among them Batavia cloth, halbreth, cuscuto or halbreth-cloth (which latter name describes it very accurately) and cellophane—a material that looks like very thin celluloid with a high luster. Batavia cloth resembles a thin, loosely woven canvas and is put through a finishing process that gives it a satin sheen. Halbreth is described by its name and appears like the halbreth used for interlining men's clothes, except that it comes in many beautiful colors, as jade, turquoise, rose and blue. A pretty spring hat made of it is shown in the group above, with the cloth laid in plaits at the middle of the top crown from which they curve down to the base of the crown. The brim, which turns up across the front, is covered with the halbreth which has first been laid in narrow side plaits, pressed in and afterward pulled out.

A stiff, up-standing fringe about the brim edge results from raveling the cloth. There is no trimming but a fancy pin. Lisse brim makes the small hat with up-standing brim, which is split and spread apart at the front. Two stiff quills, thrust through an ornament, are poised against the front of the crown and they give the hat a brisk and smart finish. These cut-brim hats are to be reckoned with for they are trim and becoming.

Milan hemp, trimmed with cypress-ribbon braid and narrow ribbon, makes up the bright rose-colored turban, and tan-colored georgette with rose-colored border and facing in the large hat makes a lovely background for fans of faille ribbon and rose-colored French knots that are posed on the crown.

Foot Comfort.

Many housewives think that because a shoe is old it is comfortable, and they save all their worn shoes for the house. Loose shoes with worn or crooked heels are the most uncomfortable things for the feet. And who needs to be more particular about this than the housewife who is on her feet the greater part of the day? Housework should have its own shoes just like tennis or dancing. Many women like the flat soled tennis shoes, not the "sneaker" variety, but those with the flat, broad heel. Others find a high shoe with medium heel offers more protection to the feet. Others again take to sandals on the assumption that pressure is half the cause of tired feet at night.

Fur Stoles.

Stoles, while presented in a great diversity of styles, induce a decided inclination to increase in size and importance.

GOOD ROADS

ROADS SHOW AT HOT SPRINGS

Active Preparations and Arrangement of Programs Have Commenced—Other Meetings.

The eighth annual convention of the United States Good Roads association, also the eighth annual good roads show, will be held in Hot Springs, Ark., April 12 to 17, 1920. Already active preparations and arrangement of the programs have commenced. J. A. Rountree, director general of the United States Good Roads association, has been invited to Hot Springs, Ark., for the purpose of consulting with the Business Men's league, the mayor, the various civic organizations and citizens in general, to discuss the program and details of arranging good roads week in Hot Springs, Ark., next April.

It is proposed to make good roads week the greatest gathering of good roads boosters that have ever assembled in this country. Delegates will be in attendance from every state in the Union. Already more than forty governors have accepted life membership in the organization and are vice presidents of the same.

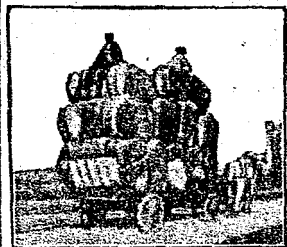

In connection with the organization the annual meeting of the Bankhead Highway, which is promoting a national highway from Washington to San Diego, Cal., the Albert Pike National Highway, which is promoting a highway from Pikes Peak to Kansas City, and a number of good roads organizations will hold meetings during good roads week in April.

One of the features of the convention will be a display of road machinery, road material, trucks, tractors and automobiles. Already six governors have notified the Director General of their acceptance, and will head a large delegation from their respective states. It is expected to have at least twenty governors in attendance at this convention. Senator John H. Bankhead, who is president of the United States Good Roads association and author of the Bankhead federal aid bill of $85,000,000 annually for the building of good roads throughout the country, is quite enthusiastic about this meeting and gives assurance that the governors will send heads of the various departments to the meeting.

PROGRESS IN FEDERAL ROADS

Total Mileage of Projects Approved in August Shows Increase Over Month of July.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An increase for August compared with July in the total mileage of federal aid project statements approved by the secretary of agriculture is shown in the latest report prepared by the bureau of public roads, the total for August being 1,240.92 miles as against 1,105.00 miles for July. The 125 project statements approved in August involved improvement at an estimated total cost of $18,238,806.36, on which federal aid in the amount of $7,171,794.84 was requested. The 148 project statements approved in July involved improvement of highways at a total estimated cost of $10,012,480.92, on which federal aid to the amount of $8,401,071.68 was requested.

ADAM EVIDENTLY A GENIUS

Had Astutely Done Wonders With the Primitive Tools He Had to Work With.

It was just before Christmas and the prepossessing young woman was investigating the furniture in one of the big stores. She wanted something new, and the clerk assured her the newest furniture was that which embodied the early period styles.

So she was initiated into the mysteries of Sheraton, Jacobean, Louis XIV, and other styles and had about picked out the piece which suited her fancy when they came upon another group.

"And this, madam, is of the Adam period," explained the clerk.

"Good gracious," exclaimed the woman, "how did he ever manage, without hammers and saws?"

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP.

A cold is probably the most common of all disorders and when neglected is apt to be most dangerous. Statistics show that more than three times as many people died from influenza last year, as were killed in the greatest war the world has ever known. For the last fifty-three years Boschee's Syrup has been used for coughs, bronchitis, colds, throat irritation and especially lung troubles. It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning. Made in America and used in the homes of thousands of families all over the civilized world. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Wanted Help.

Little Bobby had been learning his Sunday school lesson and was very much impressed with the idea of the omnipresence of God. A few nights later his mother asked him to bring her a bottle of milk from the back porch.

"Me can't," Bobby demurred. "All dark out there."

"But you're not afraid to go anywhere, Bobby," she reassured. "You know God won't let anything hurt you."

"Is God out there on the porch in the dark?" queried Bobby.

"Certainly he is. Didn't you learn that God was everywhere?"

Cautiously Bobby opened the door a few inches and peering out, called: "God, will you please hand me that milk bottle out there?"—Everybody's Magazine.

Excess of Oil Production.

Conditions in Oklahoma when the great Cushing pool came in illustrated another aspect of the situation. The flush production, for a time was far in excess of storage and transportation facilities, so that all well stored on the ground, behind earthen dikes, and run into dry creeks that were dammed up to form reservoirs.

From sheer excess of production over local demand, the price fell to 40 cents a barrel, not because that was the value of the oil in the refinery at Chicago or Bayonne, but because there was no way at the time to get it there, and new wells were coming by the dozen day after day.—Ray Morris in the World's Work.

Use American Can Machines.

An American government official recently visited the can-making plant of a large Japanese company, and found that most of the machines were of American make. They were operated by men who received a daily wage of about 80 cents. Women and girls also are employed in some of the branches of the industry and receive approximately 28 cents a day. The boxes in which the cans are packed are 20 inches long and 14 inches in height, and cost 30 cents each. The manager of this factory stated that the American tin plate which they are using is much superior to any other for this purpose.—New York Times.

Brigand Met His Match.

A certain English dramatic journal, which had a short life, published in one of its issues a most scathing but at the same time noncommittal and amusing stricture on a member of the stock exchange who had a somewhat shady reputation. The subject of the stricture had a double-barreled name, which we will call Jones-Smithson, and the paragraph about him was as follows:

"We understand that Mr. Jones-Smithson has been spending his holidays among the Italian lakes. Last week he was attacked by a brigand, and in the course of the encounter the brigand lost his watch and chain."

Unnecessary Exposure.

It happened at an inspection in France in the days before delousing became widely patronized social centers. The eagle-eyed top had discovered a large, healthy exotic parading up a private's blouse.

"What the dang-dang-dang do you mean by letting that thing stay there?" he exploded.

The dauntless bravely picked the animal off and tucked it inside.

"Get in there, you little fool!" he commanded. "Want to catch pneumonia?"—The Home Sector.

Cripple Almost Made Whole.

A man who had both arms cut off from wrist and elbow is able to dress, shave, eat, do his work and drive a car by means of crutches and a machine which have metal wrist braces. Various implements, such as a fork, spoon and a knife, are held by a spring catch.

INCOME TAX IS NOW DUE

Penalties for Delay and Failure to Make Returns—Early Compliance Urged.

All income tax returns covering the year 1919 must be filed by Monday, March 15. Each taxable return must be accompanied by check or money order for the full amount or at least one-quarter of the amount of tax due. Cash payments are accepted only at the collector's main office; if sent by mail, they are at the sender's risk. Residents of Michigan should send returns and payments to John A. Grogan, Collector of Internal Revenue, Detroit, or E. J. Doyle, Collector of Internal Revenue, Grand Rapids. Those who must file returns but have not done so are warned that the revenue law imposes heavy penalties for failure to get returns in on time or to make payments on time. Early filing and early payments are urged, in order to relieve the internal revenue offices as much as possible of an overload on the final day, March 15. Why Colds are Dangerous.

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.

LINER "ADS" EFFECTIVE.

One of the most effective forms of advertising is in the "liner" or classified column where a n investment of a few cents is certain to give prompt results. Tribune liner ads are always run under the heading, "Wants, For Sale, To Rent," in the same position on the front page where they are easy to find and invariably catch the eye. Only five cents the line for the first insertion, 2½ cents the line for each subsequent insertion. Next time you want to buy something, or have something for sale or rent, try a Tribune liner.
