Chelsea High Boy's Basketball Team Lost Game, But Girls' Team Is An Easy Winner.

Chelsea high school boys lost their basketball game in Saline, Friday evening, but the girls won their end of the contest, so the honors were about evenly divided between the two schools. The score in the boys' game was 32 to 31. Chelsea defeated Saline here February 20th, 29 to 4.

In the girls' game, Misses Bagge

DAYLIGHT SAVING MARCH 28.

The village council at a meeting held Thursday evening, voted to adopt the "daylight saving plan," effective March 28th, on which date the official time for Chelsea will be advanced one hour.

This is in accord with the plan followed during the past two years by the federal government, and which was then universal the country over;
but this year the federal government will not make the change and neither the railroads nor the postoffices will be able to conform to the "fast" time, which may lead to some confusion.
The Ann Arbor council took similar action several weeks ago.

CHELSEA "CO-OPS" MEET.

A meeting of the Chelsea Co-Operative association, held Friday afternoon in the town hall to discuss the matter of establishing an elevator here, was well attended and a committee is now at work to raise the necessary funds.

We understand that several pieces of property are under consideration, including that of the Chelsea Elevator Co., the McLaren bean elevator and a warehouse owned by the William Bacon-Holmes Co., but that definite decision will not be made until the committee completes its canvass for funds.

ATTENTION FARMERS!

As our offer to the Farmer's meeting held at the Town hall, Friday, March 12th, was misrepresented or misunderstood, and as our price is not a secret, we take this means of informing those interested in our proposition, as follows:

Our offer was the brick elevator building including elevators, bins, electric motor,
one set floor scales, two set ment room and salt room, and

MANY PEAT PREPARATIONS.

Chelsea peat may be utilized in a number of preparations by the C. A.
Willmarth company if plans of Mr.
Willmarth materialize, and may lead to a complete revolution of the peat industry, as regularly conducted.
Heretofore, peat has been exploited only for its value as a fuel, but now it is being investigated for use in a stock food, fertilizers, etc.

Mr. Willmarth has prepared a number of samples of peat and peat preparations, which are on exhibition in the Tribune office, including mull, or ground peat; peat and marl mixed for use as a fertilizer; sugar beet molasses and peat stock food; peat charcoal or coke; peat tar and peat tar water; also a peat briquette.

It is said that the best pulp and molasses is too sticky to be fed alone but when mixed with peat it is readily eaten by stock and that there is a growing demand for it in the west.
A government bulletin has been issued, recently, on this subject.

In spite of many false starts, Chelsea peat may still figure largely in the industrial development of the vicinity.

Indianapolis—Indictments charging conspiracy were returned against 125 mine operators and coal miners by a special federal grand jury in United States district court here last week. The charge as reported is conspiracy under the Lever act to enhance the price of necessities by restricting distribution, limiting manufacture and by other means and conspiracy to commit offenses against the United States as defined in the criminal code.

No names of those indicted have been made public and their identities will not be known until capias are served on them. However, it is known that more than half are operators and that many of the alleged violations antedate the strike of soft coal miners which brought about the investigation.

The jury was in session since Dec. 17, 1919, and examined more than 300 witnesses.

Bond for those indicted was fixed by Judge A. B. Anderson at $10,000 in some cases and $5,000 in others. Penalties on conviction of the charges, either of violation of the Lever Law or that part of the Criminal Code under which the indictment was brought—conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States—provide for a fine of not more than $10,000, imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

The investigation was ordered by Judge Anderson, on Dec. 4, following an information against members of the United Mine Workers of America, alleged to have been instrumental in bringing about the strike.

This information charged gross violation of the Lever Law, and Judge Anderson, in instructing the jury later, said it had been reported that there was collusion between miners and operators to bring about interruptions of coal production, to increase prices. Federal officials said that capias would be served on those indicted as soon as they could be prepared.

RAISE IN MINE PAY SUGGESTED

Committee Named By President Recommends 25% Increase.

Washington—A 25 per cent increase for bituminous coal miners is recommended in a majority report of the commission appointed by President Wilson to settle the coal strike.

No charge in working hours or conditions was recommended. John P. White, representing the miners, held out for a higher wage increase and submitted a minority report.

The wage increase proposed will absorb the 14 per cent granted when the miners returned to work last November, so that the actual increase is 11 per cent over present wages.

Increased prices in coal to the public are approved. The increases in selling prices, however, should not be more than enough to absorb the difference between a 25 per cent wage advance and the 14 per cent increase in wages allowed by Dr. Garfield, according to the report.

Mr. White insisted on a seven-hour day and a wage increase of 31.61 per cent.

STATE FOOD PRICES PROBED

Fair Price Committee Also to Run Down Other Profiters.

Detroit—The work of investigating food prices in wholesale and retail stores in Detroit and Michigan was started last week by members of the U. S. fair price committee, appointed recently by District Attorney John E. Kinnane.

The first steps in the investigation are to probe food prices. Later the investigation will be extended to cover prices of clothing, fuel, rents and all other necessities.

Where violations of the Lever food control act or other federal laws are noted, violators will be arrested and taken before the federal grand jury for indictment.

Costs of production and transportation of all necessities, overhead expenses, wholesalers' prices and the costs to consumers will be studied by members of the committee. Complaints filed with the district attorney by consumers will also be investigated and recommendations for prosecution, when warranted, made.

$25 For Ham Too High Says Court.

New York—A householder's refusal to pay a delicatessen store $25 for a boiled ham was sustained by a municipal court jury which returned a verdict for Robert H. Mauer, a wealthy resident of the West Side. He deducted $11 from the bill on learning that the best cooked ham should not cost more than $1 a pound, and was sued by the store for the balance. Justice Young said the bill was outrageous and directed the store to pay the costs of the suit.

Addition of 350 motors and trailers to its rolling stock within a year, and 100 additional cars for the following three years. The retirement of all obsolete type cars by modern replacements.

Submission of all questions involving valuation and finance to a board of arbitration to be selected by the city and the company.

Control of service to be placed in the hands of the common council.

To accept a six per cent return on its investment in city lines and facilities used in their operation.

The sale of the system to the city at any time during the life of the agreement at a price to be fixed by the board of arbitration; agreement not to run longer than 30 years.

STATE FUEL SUPPLY IS SHORT

Industry Reported to Face Shut Down Unless More Coal Is Received.

Detroit—Appointment of a "fighting" committee of representative Michigan men to demand of Washington authorities that alleged discrimination against this state in coal shipments be ended, was decided upon last week at a meeting of about 200 business men in the Board of Commerce. Resolutions were adopted urging adoption by congress of the bill now pending to abolish government control of fuel distribution.

The present fuel situation in Michigan was declared to be one of the most serious the state has ever faced. Complete shut down of industry during the next two months was predicted by Arthur T. Waterfall, vice-president of the board, if relief is not granted.

Appointment of a committee composed of men that "even Washington cannot afford to ignore," was made by the directors of the Board of Commerce.

MILITARY PARTY RULES GERMANY

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF NEW REPUBLIC OVERTHROWN IN REVOLUTION.

MONARCHISTS ARE IN CONTROL

Old Prussian Clique Reported to Be At Head of Revolt—Noske, Minister of Defense Arrested.

London—Germany is in the throes of a counter-revolutionary movement which was successful last Saturday in turning the Ebert government out of Berlin and setting up a new administration in the capital. President Ebert and his cabinet, offering no armed resistance to the revolutionary troops which invaded Berlin from the suburbs.

The new government, which has been provisionally proclaimed here with Dr. Wolfgang Kapp as chancellor, has declared the National Assembly dissolved and announced that new elections would be held.

Dispatches reporting the arrest of Gustav Noske, President Ebert's minister of defense, and from a military standpoint the strong man in the Ebert group, were considered most significant. Observers here believed that the one chance of successful military opposition to the revolutionists rested with Noske.

Berlin reports said that Dr. Von Kapp, who assumed the chancellorship when the revolutionists seized Berlin, has relinquished that post in favor of Dr. Karl von Helldorff and has taken the position of dictator, with supreme control of Germany.

Despite denials sent out by the revolutionary government, there was every indication that it had and controlled exclusively by known monarchists of the old Prussian militarist clique. Every name mentioned in the dispatches is that of a known reactionary, officials here said.

SESSIONS RULES OUT 4 COUNTS

Conspiracy and Fraud Are Only Issues Left in Newberry Case.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Only two of the original six counts on which Senator Truman H. Newberry and 64 other leading Republicans of Michigan are being tried, were to be submitted to the jury this week. At the close of the testimony in the United States district court last Saturday Judge Clarence W. Sessions first combined counts one and four; then held that counts two and three were repetitions and ruled them out. The fifth count was ruled out at the close of the government's direct case. Two issues thus remain for the jury to determine.

Was there a criminal conspiracy to violate the state and federal election laws in procuring the nomination and election of Newberry?

Were the United States mails used to further such a scheme to defraud as is set forth in what is now the consolidated first count?

EXPRESS RATE RAISE SOUGHT

Increase of 10 to 75 Per Cent Asked—Claim $22,000,000 Deficit.

Washington—Increased express charges, ranging from 10 to 75 per cent, and estimated to yield $25,000,000 additional revenue annually, are asked by the American Railway Express Company in a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Increased cost of conducting its business, as well as the urgent need for more complete facilities and equipment, was given by the company as grounds for asking additional revenue. Expenditure of "many millions of dollars" was necessary. Funds could not be obtained under the present rates.

The company estimated its deficit for 1919 at $22,038,000.

While explaining that previous rate increases added approximately $12,000,000 to the annual revenue, the company said this money was given immediately to employees in increased wages.

PLAN INCREASED EGG PRODUCTION

Marked Attention Should Be Paid to Feeding, Housing, Culling and Breeding.

BREEDING FLOCK ESSENTIAL

Free Range Gives Ideal Conditions for Fowls—Close Confinement Reduces Vitality of Stock—Mash Hoppers Favored.

Poultry keepers interested in increasing the egg production of their flocks will pay marked attention to the methods of feeding, housing, culling and breeding. Probably the least progress on most farms has been made in the art of breeding poultry, says T. S. Townsend of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, in Extension Circular 72.

To produce high layers only the best individual producers should be used as breeders. This suggests the necessity for having a special breeding flock. On farms where eggs for setting are saved from the entire flock, selection is usually based only on the size and shape of the eggs. With this system the breeder stands a good chance of setting many eggs from the very lowest producers. Even the poorest hens lay fairly well during the hatching season and their eggs are usually large and smooth. This method of mass selection of setting eggs is in the same class as the blind selection of seed corn and will bring up poor results. The first step in improving the egg production is the establishment of a special breeding flock.

Free Range is Ideal.

No special fencing is necessary to handle the flock. Free range gives ideal conditions for breeding fowls. A pen is a great detriment to the efficiency of the breeding flock and is not at all needed on the farm. Close confinement reduces the vitality of the flock and results in poor hatches and weak chicks.

Where separate houses are available for the breeding flock and the commercial flock, free range can be given the birds in each group. If feed is kept constantly available in the mash hoppers in each house the birds will return to the proper house to lay so that the eggs can be kept separate without any attention to yards. Of course, males should be supplied only for the breeding flock, and by keeping these birds in the house until eight or nine o'clock in the morning, satisfactory mating will be insured. Some mating may occur on the range between the hens in the commercial flock and the males from the breeding flock, but this does no special harm. On farms where there is only one poultry house, a partition can be put in to keep the two flocks separate. If it seems undesirable to allow both flocks to range at the same time, alternate the range by letting the breeders run at large one day, and the commercial layers the next. During the cool weather of the breeding season this system works satisfactorily.

Utility and Quality Are Combined in Fowls of This Kind.

Number of Breeders.

The number of birds to include in the breeding flock should be determined by the number of high-class individuals available and by the number of eggs needed for hatching. If incubators are used, enough breeders should be kept to fill the machines without holding any eggs longer than two to twelve days. Usually a production of at least 50 per cent can be expected during the hatching season. Forty breeders should furnish enough eggs to fill a 200-egg machine within ten days. However, only hens of high producing ability should be used as breeders even if it is necessary to buy some eggs for hatching.

LARGER YIELDS OF ALFALFA

Practically Double the Amount of Clover Hay Obtained in Tests at Wisconsin Station.

Trials conducted on the Wisconsin experiment station farm at Madison show that alfalfa gives yields practically double that of clover hay and three times as much as timothy. An acre of alfalfa produced in a single season three times as much protein as an acre of clover and nine times as much as an acre of timothy.

PRODUCERS BENEFIT BY MEAT INSPECTION

Foreigners Insist on Federally Inspected Product.

Possible to Obtain Detailed Records of Conditions of Animals at Time of Slaughter—Diseases Can Be Traced.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Contrary to the common belief that meat inspection is conducted principally for consumers, it has a side which is of direct help to live stock producers," says the chief of the bureau of animal industry. "In the first place, the bulk of our foreign trade in meats depends almost entirely on the federal meat-inspection service. Most foreign governments will not accept meat that has not been federally inspected. Inspection of import meats, accompanied by rejection of meat products not entitled to entry, is of course a factor in our domestic market.

Inspectors at Work on Regular Post-mortem Examination.

"Through the federal meat-inspection service it has been possible to obtain very detailed records of conditions of animals at time of slaughter. These records show clearly whether certain animal diseases are on the increase or decrease, and, through a system known as field inspection, centers of infection have in numerous cases been found and wiped out.

"Of course, the main benefit of federal meat inspection to producers is the confidence of the American public in inspected meats, and it is noteworthy that the average per capita consumption of meats has increased as the meat-inspection service has been extended."

BENEFITS OF SWEET CLOVER

Crop Makes Valuable Feed for Live Stock and Enriches Soil by Adding Humus.

The northwest experiment station at Crookston, Minn., strongly recommends the growing of sweet clover on a more extensive scale than heretofore. A recent statement issued at the station says:

"Sweet clover is not only one of the greatest soil enrichers, but is a valuable feed for live stock. It adds humus to the soil, because of the depth to which the roots penetrate and the ease with which they decay. Land that has been cropped with sweet clover which has been inoculated will grow a better stand of alfalfa without further inoculation. "Sweet clover is commonly sown with a nurse crop. It is more easily plowed up than alfalfa. It is a good cash crop when grown for seed, and should be tried at least on a small scale by every farmer."

DISPOSITION OF DEAD FOWLS

Carcasses of Birds Should Not Be Allowed to Lie Around and Decay—Burning Is Best.

Never allow the carcasses of birds that have died to lie around and decay. Either bury them good and deep or, better still, burn them. If you have no furnace or stove in which you want to burn them, saturate them good with kerosene and set fire to them. If you leave them uncovered and allow them to decay, your whole flock is liable to be stricken with limberneck.

DEEP SOIL HOLDS MOISTURE

Main Agent by Which Roots of Plants Get Their Food—Aeration Also Is Essential.

A deep soil is conducive to maximum crop production. It will hold more moisture, and when this is exhausted will draw the moisture from the subsoil. Since moisture is the main agent by which the roots of plants get their food it is necessary that the soil be deep to get the best results. By plowing a deep soil it will be pulverized and aerated, which is also necessary for a good root growth

GIRL, 13, SEES FAMILY SLAIN

Claims Moonshiner Beau of Sister Committed Quadruple Murder.

ONLY ONE ESCAPES

Facing Trial for Attack on Girl, Man Is Believed to Have Planned to Wipe Out Whole Family.

Amory, Miss—Charlie Marshall, moonshiner and backwoods beau, is under heavy guard in the jail at Aberdeen, charged with the most brutal quadruple murder ever known in this section.

For, when they buried the charred and shattered bodies of Fannie Green Miller, who had been Marshall's sweetheart; her eight-months-old baby, Burter, said to have been Marshall's son; Robert Miller, Fannie's father, and Leonard, her brother, sixteen, the stage was set for the flogging of Charlie Marshall.

Pearl Miller, thirteen, the only surviving member of the family, says that she watched Charlie Marshall at the hideous task of slaughtering the four victims of the swampy tragedy.

The belief of the countryside, is that Charlie Marshall, facing trial shortly for an attack on Fannie Miller, planned to dodge this trial by wiping out the whole Miller family, and that the escape of the thirteen-year-old girl upset this plan.

From miles about the lean and swarthy dweller of the bottom country drove in with their womenfolk seated in chairs in the boxes of the lumber wagons to discuss in shocked whispers what had been done in the blackness of a stormy night. There were ominous buzzes over homespun skirts; there were well-worn shotgun and rifles under the wagon seats.

Sheriff John B. Lewis fled from Amory with his prisoner in an automobile and saved Marshall from the vengeance of the countryside.

There was much talk in the Tom Bigham bottom about the Miller family and Charlie Marshall. Fannie Miller had known Marshall all her life, but started "keeping company" with him three years ago, when he "saw her home" from a circuit rider's meeting. She was fifteen then, and Marshall twice her age.

Tells Father of Attack. About eighteen months ago the girl returned one evening and tore up Marshall's picture, scattering the fragments in the fireplace.

Her mother died 12 years ago, and in the lonely farmhouse Fannie had no one to whom she could confide.

Later she was compelled to tell her father what had happened. She said that Marshall had seized her as she was walking with him in a field, and had dragged her into a canebrake, smothering her cries by pressing his hand over her mouth.

Robert Miller had his three motherless children to care for, one of them needing him more desperately than ever, so he determined to let the law take its course. He had Marshall arrested. Marshall said he was innocent of the girl's charges and his trial was to have been held at the next term of court.

According to Pearl Miller's story, which she tells with the self-control of a strong-minded adult, Marshall entered her home after her father, brother and sister had been shot down and the home dynamited. He clubbed to death the baby crawling on the floor beside its dead mother, soaked the place with oil and set fire to it as Pearl fled through the left and ran, with a sprained ankle, over a mile of flooded fields to the home of a neighbor.

TASTEFUL FROCKS FOR YOUNG GIRLS

SENT usually finds the children's spring sewing well under way, if their clothes are made at home, or shopping industriously carried out if their belongings are bought ready made.

The shops furnish as useful things as any one can ask for and as reasonably priced when the cost of labor is figured in. But there is some economy in making children's clothes at home and eliminating the price of labor. Besides there are little individual touches that may be put on by the home dressmaker.

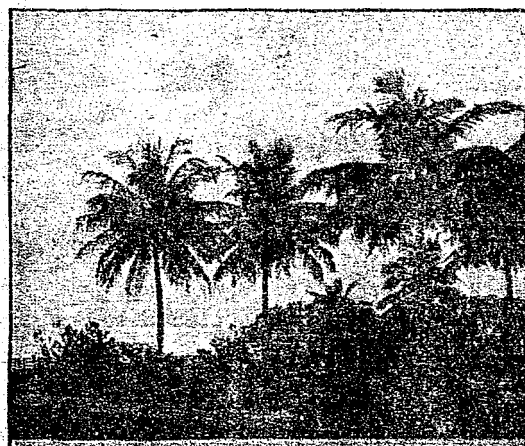

Whatever the means of getting these outfits together, suggestions as to styles are thankfully received at about this time. The more important matter of selecting spring apparel for growings calls for attention, with Easter close at hand and proves distracting. Two frocks for little girls are shown here with the recommendation to buy them if they can be found—or something similar to them, or to buy materials and copy them exactly. One cannot hope to improve on the designs but colors may be selected according to their becomingness to young wearers.

All white or light colors in any of the substantial cotton weaves will make the dress at the left with its buck-plaited skirt and belted bodice. It fastens at the front where it is laced with narrow black ribbon that slips through buttonholes on each side of the opening. A very simple spray of embroidery adorns the bodice at each side near its hem and at the shoulders. There is a narrow belt that buttons at the front.

Chambray with collar, cuffs and vest of pique make the pretty one-piece dress at the right. It has a shirred front panel in the skirt with the lines of shirring defined by stitches in black mercerized floss and the remainder of the skirt side plaited. A black silk tie finishes the neck. A mercerized cord, that slips through slides in the bodice and ties at the back, is the particular pride of this frock.

IN THE SUNSHINE

Midnight on Bay Biscayne.

A TIDAL wave of tourists from the North has overrun and almost engulfed the coast cities of Florida during the winter months for the past two years. And it is no wonder. The coast resorts are simply heavenly and have reached that stage where they offer in addition to every comfort, unparalleled beauty to their visitors. A new day is dawning for them, too, for great numbers of people are coming to stay, building themselves homes and taking root, intending to spend the balance of their days in this sunny land.

The coast cities have, besides sunshine, the loveliest waters in bays and ocean that ever were. Sunlit, sparkling, white-capped, they are unbelievably brilliant in color, the most vivid blues and greens and purples. Nearly always a sharp breeze is blowing and the bays are full of pleasure craft and other boats. Then there are the palms in groves and noble avenues and the flowering shrubs and trees, oleander, hibiscus and many vines covered with flowers. Nature does not take much coaxing to make enchanting gardens. There are splendid highways the length of the coast, the joy of motorists, lined with Australian pines and this tree makes a most beautiful hedge also. It is natural that many millions have chosen to build their winter homes in such a setting and that new people coming in should make even unpretentious homes, places that are enchanting.

Each of the coast cities and resorts has its own particular attractions. Palm Beach is the mecca of fashionables, a glittering gem, finished and polished to the last degree. There is a marvelous fashion parade there where one may see the best that art has to offer for the adornment of fair women. And the environment is worthy the best efforts of genius. It is an earthly paradise during its brief season. The larger cities have more lasting attractions; great estates and wonderful homes, with the country about them developed and inviting with miles of fruit trees and gardens. But, after all, only a small part of Florida is under cultivation—a great part of it waits for men to make it a prosperous land.

HOMELESS!

Constipation, Headache, Colds, Biliousness, driven out with "Cascarets"

Drive away those persistent enemies of happiness—biliousness and constipation. Don't stay headachy, sick, tongue coated, sallow and miserable! Never have colds, indigestion, upset stomach or that misery-making gas. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or inconvenience you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh pills. They cost so little and work while you sleep.—Adv.

NOT SO HARD TO UNDERSTAND

After Experience With Truthful Parent, Teacher Got Great Light on Johnny's Case.

A teacher who believed in co-operating with the parents of her pupils called at the house of a small boy whom she had caught in a number of falsehoods in order to take counsel with his mother.

"I can't see how you can say that," the boy's mother objected. "John never tells me lies. I'm mighty particular about it myself. He's out in the yard now. Aunty," she said to his small sister, "you go out and tell him to come right in this minute!"

Annie went, but in a few minutes she returned without the small prevaricator. "He won't come," she announced proudly. "He says he won't."

"Did you tell him who was here?" inquired his mother.

Annie shook her head.

"All right," said the truthful parent. "Go back and tell him his grandmother is here and has some candy for him. That'll bring him!"—Youth's Companion.

Curiosity.

Ray (to butcher who had put on a tone to make up weight)—Mother said the pork she had this morning was all bone.

Butcher—Run home and tell your mother that the next pig I kill without bones I'll make her a present of it.

Boy (a few minutes after)—Mother says the next pig you kill that has not mutton bones in, she would like to buy the whole carcass as a curiosity.

Applause has made fools of more men than criticism.

The Wrong Disease.

A Greenacres physician was approached by a patient who was in poor health. The patient explained his illness, and also the fact that he was not able to pay for the professional services at once, but would do so within a short time. He got the medical services and was improving nicely. In fact he had recovered sufficiently to go to work. The patient met the physician, who brushed the subject of his fees. The patient said: "Well, doc, don't you know I was just talking to another doctor, and he told me you doctored me for the wrong thing, and I don't want to pay you for doctoring me for the wrong disease."—Indianapolis News.

The Reformation.

Admiral Mark Kerr said at an airman's wedding:

"Women often marry men to reform them, and often after people think the women succeed in this. The reformed husbands, however, are seldom very grateful."

"My wife married me to reform me," a man said bitterly on a sea voyage Calcutta.

"Did she succeed?" asked another man.

"You bet she did!" said the first one. "Why I wouldn't marry again if I lived to be as old as Methusalem!"

"He put his foot down on it."

Why Colds are Dangerous.

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.
