Cataract Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Cataract Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Cataract Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Cataract Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in cataract conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

PEAT PLANT IN EATON RAPIDS.

Those who have watched the experiments in the development of the peat industry in this and other Michigan places will be interested in the following from the Eaton Rapids Journal:

"M. G. Ewer, president of the Peat Products Corporation, together with the other officers of the company now developing the peat beds north of Eaton Rapids, were in the city over the week-end inspecting the progress of the work at the factory which is rapidly approaching the time when operations will be started in the manufacture of the several products that are to be turned out. The large 200 horse power boiler and the 125 horse power engine are now being installed and it is the intention of the management to use these only temporarily until such time as they shall be producing gas with which they will develop electricity which will generate all their power and probably produce an excess which will be used commercially."

"Peat fuel, fertilizer and stock food fillers will be the principal manufactured articles to be put on the market at a low price, and there will be numerous by-products in large quantities from which a considerable revenue will be derived as 'velvet.' Officials of the railroad were on the grounds the first of the week to order extensions of the sidings and prepare adequate room for the large business of the plant. Earl M. Smith will be the local secretary-manager and will move his little family here as soon as he can find quarters. He has the earmarks of a fine addition to our community."

NURSING SERVICE EXPANDS RAPIDLY IN SMALLER TOWNS

More Than 37,000 Graduate Nurses Have Been Enrolled For Work in The Rural Communities.

More than 37,000 graduate nurses have been enrolled in the American Red Cross to date and its department of nursing is daily increasing this enrollment.

The department of nursing has been authorized to maintain an adequate reserve of nurses for the army and navy. It will continue to supply the needs of the United States Public Health Service to which it has assigned more than 1,000 nurses in the last year.

It will assist in establishing proper nursing service in foreign countries where the American Red Cross has organized hospitals, dispensaries and schools for nurses. Courses in home hygiene and care of the sick have been started for thousands of women who have never received any education in this direction. Rural nursing which was in its infancy a short while ago has been put ahead at least a decade through the work of the department of nursing and local Red Cross chapters.

Public health nursing has been extended to many rural communities and now flourishes actively in hundreds of small towns and counties. Nearly a thousand efficient nurses have already been assigned to this kind of work.

The department of nursing is uniting with other organizations in a year's campaign in recruiting nurses for training schools, in educating the general public as to standards of nursing education and in showing communities their responsibility toward schools of nursing. It will endeavor to meet all these needs as well as to continue the enrollment of dietitians who will be utilized as instructors in home dietetics, in developing nutritional clinics, and in supplying dietitians for the United States Public Health Service and the civilian hospitals.

The Nursing Service will continue to offer to women and young girls the opportunity of securing instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick in every community in the country. This instruction has not only laid the foundation for public health but in some places has given impetus to the establishment of hospitals and community school houses.

"As a community profits by the work of the nurse," says Miss Clara D. Noyes, director of the department of nursing, "it is logical that the community should be aroused to its responsibility. The American Red Cross stands ready to help in a general campaign of recruiting and must have the support, sympathy and understanding of the medical profession as well as the intelligent co-operation of the people at large."

Money Enough.

"Here's a splendid work, sir, entitled 'Hints on Home Building.'"

"Too no use for it."

"But, sir, it shows how to build a beautiful villa, a regular little palace for $5,000."

"I haven't the $5,000. I haven't over $5 to my name."

"Well, the book is only a dollar."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Will You Spend 65c On Rat-Snap To Save $100?

One 65c pkg. can kill 50 rats. The average rat will rob you of $10 a year in feed, chicks and property destruction. RAT-SNAP is deadly to rats. Cremates after killing. Leaves no smell. Comes in cakes. Rats will pass up meat, grain, cheese to feast on RAT-SNAP. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Chelsea Hardware Co.

LIEUT. FAGAN'S BRIDE IS HEROINE OF WAR

A Heroine of the World War Is Mrs. John Fagan, bride of one of the officers of the Michigan State Police. She was Miss Daphne Cordreau and served as nurse all through the war, receiving a medal for bravery at the hands of Field Marshall Joffre in connection with her devotion to the wounded in field hospital and trench work. She was exposed to artillery and rifle fire a number of times, but escaped unharmed. Lieut. Fagan met his bride while she was nursing in an army hospital and on his return to this country in September, 1919, it was agreed that she should later follow him. Miss Cordreau reached New York May 27, 1920, and was married to Lieut. Fagan in St. Mary's church the same day.

Where There's a Baby on Farm Keep Rat-Snap

Rats are on most farms. Once they get inside the house—look out. Rats kill infants—biting them is not unusual. Nursing bottles attract rats. Break a cake of RAT-SNAP and throw it around. It will surely rid you of rats and mice. Three sizes 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Chelsea Hardware Co.
