PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

What music lovers discovered in the Brunswick Method of Reproduction

WHEN all is said and done, when every comparison is made, final judgment of any phonograph rests in the tone. All else is secondary.

And it is in this important particular that the Brunswick Phonograph won its fame.

Its cabinet work was taken for granted as of the finest, for the House of Brunswick has been noted for its craftsmanship in wood-working for 76 years.

A surprise for all

What a revelation, however, came when music lovers became acquainted with The Brunswick! Old harshness is gone.

Much of the improvement is due to the Brunswick Tone Amplifier, built entirely of selected, seasoned wood.

Another great advancement, and exclusively Brunswick today, is the Ultona, an all-record reproducer.

These and other advancements have been combined and related in an instrument made entirely by the House of Brunswick.

Proof of the superiority of Brunswick Phonographs is coming in, hearing them and making comparisons.

HOME BREWING UNDER BAN —HOPS AND MALT SALE STOPS

Word comes from Washington that home brewing was brought actively under the prohibition ban last week when it was learned that enforcement officials had ruled against the sale of hops and malt to others than bakers and confectioners.

Great secrecy surrounded the prohibition bureau's action, but it was definitely ascertained that such instructions had been issued.

Details of the order were lacking. The only admission made by prohibition officials in the absence of Commissioner Kramer was that the Volstead act had been construed to mean that the sale of malt and hops as component parts of home-made beer was without the pale of the law and their sale must stop.

Enforcement officials throughout the country have been notified of the government's determination, but they have not been supplied with the language of the decision.

GRASS LAKE WEST CROSSING IS STILL TRAP FOR AUTOISTS

Mrs. Lawrence Walker, of Jackson, was seriously injured in an accident at Grass Lake late Saturday afternoon when a limited interurban car on the D. J. & C. Railway struck a Ford touring car driven by Harry Horning of Grass Lake, throwing Mrs. Walker and her two-year-old child violently to the hard ground, inflicting a serious scalp wound to Mrs. Walker and slightly injuring the child.

Mrs. Walker was taken to Jackson after a hurried examination by Dr. James McColgan, who accompanied the victims to the W. A. Foote Memorial hospital in Jackson.

The party in the automobile was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Horning and Mrs. Walker and child, who were going to visit Mrs. Walker's mother in Grass Lake. The automobile was being driven north when the interurban car struck the machine, hurling the occupants out. Mr. and Mrs. Horning escaped with no serious injuries.

The crossing is the same at which George Eisele was killed early in October in a similar accident, when an interurban car struck an automobile driven by Dr. Marley S. Vaughn, and in which case a coroner's jury rendered a verdict characterizing the crossing as insufficiently protected.

Grass Lake has been the scene of four serious automobile accidents during the past six months, although all were not at the same crossing. Early last June a party of high school students from Detroit were struck by an interurban and Miss Marian McClinnan killed, while several others were injured. Several damage claims from accidents in that village have been settled by the company.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

"Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion; and unto thee shall the vow be performed.
Thou crownest the year with thy goodness; and thy paths drop fatness.
The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered with corn; they shout for joy, they also sing."

Following the custom established by our fathers nearly three hundred years ago, it is entirely fitting that we should set apart one day in the year as Thanksgiving Day.

We have gathered this year a most abundant harvest. We have enough and to spare. Our own people will be fed, and out of our abundance we shall help satisfy the world's hunger. For this and for other blessings, for peace at home and abroad, for the general spirit of content, for work to do and the will to do it, the people of Michigan may well give thanks and make solemn and public acknowledgment of their debt to the Most High.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby join the President of the United States in designating "Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer."

NORTH FRANCISCO.

WASHTENAW VOTE BREAKS RECORD

More Than Double the Number Cast November 5, 1918.

There were 19,687 votes cast in Washtenaw county in the election of November 2. This was more than double the number cast in the November, 1918, election, at which time 8,635 votes were cast.

Alex J. Groesbeck received 12,087 for governor, while Woodbridge N. Ferris received 6,494.

Earl C. Michener, for congress, received 14,217 votes in Washtenaw county, while William H. Moore, his democratic opponent, received 4,458.

Charles A. Sink received 14,242 votes for state senator, and Lloyd Lovewell received 4,423.

E. B. Manwaring candidate for representative from the first district, received 7,708 votes and Daniel Sutton received 2,654. In the second district Joseph H. Warner received 6,224 votes and Henry Frain 2,114.

For county officers, the republican candidates received overwhelming majorities. For judge of probate, Emory E. Letland received 13,371 and Martin B. Stadtmiller received 5,361. Ambrose C. Pack for sheriff received 13,551 votes, and Charles F. Staebler received 5,218.

For county clerk Jay G. Pray received 10,982 votes and Emil H. Scheincker received 7,860.

Mrs. Mabel E. Blum received 14,539 votes for county treasurer and Fred Fiegel one.

Perry L. Townsend received 12,015 votes for register of deeds, and Miss Gertrude Norris received 6,686.

Jacob F. Fahner received 14,332 votes for prosecuting attorney and Henry Balser received one.

Lee N. Brown, republican, and Frank C. Cole, democrat, were elected circuit court commissioners, receiving 14,284 and 5,121 votes respectively.

Clayton E. Deake received 14,522 votes for drain commissioner, and Arthur C. Coe received 5,165.

The school amendment received 5,719 votes in its favor, and 11,699 against.

The amendment providing for the authorization of municipalities to condemn more land than is necessary for public improvements, was voted down, 6,365 to 8,346.

The amendment prescribing and defining the qualifications of electors in the state received 7,524 votes in its favor and 6,642 against it.

The amendment relative to empowering the legislature to fix the salaries of certain state officers received 8,037 votes in its favor and 7,270 votes against it.

The same figures apply to the amendment relative to empowering legislature to enact laws relative to the hours and conditions under which men may be employed.

STATE GRANGE IS LOOKING FOR COAL AT COST

Two former masters of the State Grange, George B. Horton, of Lenawee county, and Nathan B. Hall, of Ingham county, together with a few more Grange officials, have been down in Kentucky investigating a proposition for the Grange to buy a coal mine and furnish coal at cost to the 60,000 Grange farmers of the state. The Michigan Patron, official paper of the Grange, reports:

"The proposition looks exceedingly promising, but until the committee is satisfied from every angle that it is a good business proposition, no recommendation will be made."

STATE LAW DEFINES GRADES OF APPLES IN MICHIGAN

Provisions of the law require that all persons packing apples for the market must have their names and addresses plainly marked on each package, whether it be barrel, box or crate, wherever the apples are covered in any manner. House bill number 484, Acts of 1917, define the standard grades of apples packed in the state and provides for the stating on the package of the name and grade wherever they are sold as fancy apples, and those so labeled must conform to the rules laid down defining the grade.

BREVITIES

Dexter—Rev. Herman Schoettle preached his farewell sermon Sunday morning, having accepted a position in Detroit. He has made many friends in Dexter, and the best wishes of all will go with him.

Brooklyn—The Exponent has on exhibit an ear of yellow dent corn raised by Claude Preston and called by those who have seen it the "Roosevelt Multiplier." It is a perfectly formed ear surrounded by six smaller ears all wellkerneled.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Ann Arbor—County Clerk Edwin H. Smith assumed his duties as cashier of the Saline Savings Bank, Monday. For the present he will retain his residence in Ann Arbor, motoring back and forth between here and Saline. Until the first of the year he will alternate between the bank and the court house.

Adrian—The city commission stated Thursday that the central counting board plan of tabulating votes, introduced at the November 2 election, probably will be discontinued in Adrian. They stated that the two days' delay in completing the count on the recent vote proved the need of a board of 20 instead of five.

Jackson—Heavily guarded by deputies, David Gilinski, Walter Wilson and W. E. Harris, convicted murderers and bank robbers, left Jackson Thursday on their journey to Marquette prison, where they will serve life sentences for the murder of Undersheriff Harry Worden and the robbery of the Grass Lake bank on July 29 last.

Adrian—Farrell Ridge, 17 years old, a senior at the Adrian high school and a tackle on the football team, tied last Thursday of injuries received in a game with Hillsdale high school, at Hillsdale, the Saturday before. Ridge was injured internally when he tackled a Hillsdale player running at top speed. He was unconscious when taken off the field.

Jackson—William Fraker, his wife and daughter, of this city, owe their lives to the prompt action of a house-to-house canvasser who, on calling at their home, found no sign of life and called the attention of the sheriff to the situation. On entering the house the sheriff and others found the Fraker family unconscious from the fumes of gas which was escaping from a rubber tube attached to a gas heater in their sleeping room. Physicians were called and applied restoratives and the family will recover.

Jackson—Five members of the Michigan state police, who have been on duty at the jail since the Grass Lake bank robbery, have been permanently assigned to duty in this city. Efforts are now being made to secure quarters for four troopers and their horses somewhere near the jail. In charge of Sergeant Harley Sabin, the local detachment consists of Troopers Fred Brewer, Ray Harper, Albert Frahm and William White. "Buster," a white bull dog, has attached himself to the force, and has been officially adopted as the mascot.

Jackson—The state tax commission Thursday sustained the city assessor in his contention that the townships of Jackson county should pay 38.1 per cent of the taxes, leaving the city 51.9 per cent. The supervisors' equalization committee had declined to heed the recommendation of the tax commission's field men and had cut the townships' portion to 34.3 per cent. Rural members on the board outnumbered the city members, but an appeal by the city assessor brought the foregoing decision. It transfers $49,649 of taxes to the townships, over what the rural members were willing to pay.

Hillsdale—Four new cases of typhoid fever were reported to the local health officer Friday, bringing the total up to 56. Dr. A. L. Bell, of the state food and dairy department, has arrived here to assist Dr. S. K. Hills of the state board of health, in controlling the epidemic. Dr. Bell will enforce milk pasteurization. It is expected that the proposed new milk ordinance upon which the council has been working for some weeks will be reported out at its next meeting. The outbreak here is attributed to the operation of a home dairy institution from a residence where a typhoid case existed. The mother of the patient not only took care of the nursing, but also of the milk utensils.

Nature's Own Limitless Power Guarantees the Consumers Power Company

Junction Dam on the Manistee River

Its Preferred Stock at $95 Per Share Yields 7.37%

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY practically controls the water power resources of lower Michigan. Only one-third of these resources have been developed. Junction Dam (pictured) on the Manistee River is but one of a number of great projects already completed. Undeveloped facilities include 60,000 acres of land, with 28 dam sites along the Au Sable, Manistee, Grand, Muskegon and Kalamazoo Rivers—capable of producing 200,000 additional horse power.

Help Us Develop Needed Additional Electric Power

The industrial necessities of Southern Michigan are pressing hard upon Consumers Power Company. More electric power is needed by local manufacturers. Nature has abundantly provided this territory with streams to develop electric power. Consumers Power Company is ready with the men who know how to make the streams serve the community. All that is lacking is money.

Home Ownership of Stock is Best

We offer the people of Southern Michigan the opportunity of investing in 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of Consumers Power Company at $95 per share and dividends. All the money raised from the sale of this stock stays in Michigan—goes right back into the communities from which it comes in new and larger facilities. We have hitherto raised money for development in the great financial centers of the United States. Sound economics recommends this other course.

Invest in Michigan's Prosperity

Our recent investigation indicated that about 500,000 customer-citizens in the United States hold public utility securities with a market value of above $100,000,000. Why should you not be one of these prosperous citizens? Southern Michigan is one of the richest sections in the United States—why not invest in its prosperity? Consumers Power Company seeks the partnership of citizens in its own territory.

Dividends Are Paid Quarterly

Four dividend checks a year, one every three months, will reach you promptly through the mail. Whether your salary stops or continues, the dividend checks keep coming. Remember, also, that these dividends are on Preferred Stock, which adds to the security of your investment, for Preferred dividends must be paid before any dividends may be paid on the common stock.

Read These Easy Terms of Offering

Plan No. 1 (Cash Payment.) Under this plan we offer the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of Consumers Power Company at $95 per share and accrued dividend to date of payment for stock.

—OR—

Plan No. 2 (Time Payment.) Under this plan we offer the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of Consumers Power Company at $95 per share on a time payment plan; $10 per share payable at the time of purchase; $10 per share each month for seven months and $15 for the final payment. We agree to pay interest at the rate of 7% per annum on the monthly installments paid to us, this interest to be credited to the purchaser on the books of the Company. Dividends from the last dividend date prior to the final payment will be charged to the purchaser and an adjustment made. No more than 25 shares may be purchased by any person under this time offering.

Purchasers under this plan have the option of withdrawing all partial payments at any time prior to the date of final payment for the stock, on 10 days' notice, and in the event of such withdrawal, the Company agrees to pay 3% interest on the amounts paid in up to date of notice of withdrawal.

COULDN'T STAND WORK UNTIL HE TOOK A TONIC

Lost 20 Pounds in the Army—
Appetite Fell Off and He Became Weak, Rundown.

TOOK HYPO-COD KNOWING FORMULA WAS GOOD

"I was in the Army and exposed to all sorts of weather, and to that, always having an inside job, it nearly put me down and out. I wasn't used to the exposure and grind and lost twenty pounds in weight. My appetite fell off and I became all weak and run down. I surely looked bad and nights even after I got back on the job I couldn't sleep and would toss and roll half the night. My appetite didn't come back either and my digestion was upset, but just as soon as I started on a bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod I began hitting on all cylinders and feeling tip-top," declared N. C. Clarke, a popular pharmacist and manager of Cunningham's Drug Store, 155 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

"I picked out Hypo-Cod because I know the formula is right, and to show how strong and quick it is from the first dose my appetite picked up and my digestion was so good in a couple days I could even eat anything—even Army beans," laughingly asserted this endorser. "I began sleeping better, too, and feeling better all over, and today I feel as good as I ever did in my life. It has my endorsement and I recommend it to everyone needing a tonic," continued Mr. Clarke. Ph. G., who has many friends that say he looks like a different man now.

When a regular druggist selects a tonic from among all the various ones on the shelf to take himself, one may be quite sure that the formula is right. That he knows the people make it is absolutely reliable and then when he gets results even better than he has a right to expect, he is sure to be enthusiastic. Drop in at the drug store tonight and read over the formula which is on each bottle. Take home a bottle for the whole family to try. We are sure you will be delighted the way it works, and with its pleasant taste. Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists, and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.—Adv.

Kalamazoo—J. C. Ball, a Kalamazoo grocer, was changing an automobile rim when the tire blew out, scattering sand and small gravel in his face and eyeballs, as if from a gun. Although nearly blinded, he picked his way back to the city.

Owosso—Bruce Robinson was elected county surveyor and Guy Cole and William Cornford, chosen coroners of Shiawassee county by the smallest vote ever polled in the county for an office. Robinson received two votes, Cornford three and Cole nine.

Cadillac—Mrs. Bessie Lilinger, principal in the Lake City murder case who was acquitted of a charge of poisoning her husband, and Peter Vis, whose infatuation for her was claimed by the state to have been the motive for the alleged killing of Lilinger, were married here recently.

Pontiac—Police Captain Frank Schram and Patrolman George Kinney are seriously injured as the result of a street fight when they attempted to arrest four men. The men downed the officers and were beating them when reinforcements arrived. The quartet are under arrest.

Grand Rapids—As a result of an investigation by Superior Court Judge M. L. Dunham, warrants for the arrest of three companions of Herman Hunderman, have been issued. The latter met death July 2, after drinking moonshine whiskey. Each of the trio is charged with violation of the liquor laws.

Pontiac—Rather than be made a party to a trial for damages, W. A. Patterson, of Flint, automobile manufacturer and the Aetna Life Insurance company have settled for the death of Lester Crosby, who died after he had been run over by Patterson's automobile October 5. David Crosby, the boy's father agreed to a settlement of $1,900.

Bozette City—Ninety-two acres of land with a frontage upon a lake, have been given to the city by G. von Platen and Adolph Young to be used as a state park. An additional 15 acres has been purchased by business men in order to make the park site accessible to a highway. It is expected the state will start improving the property in the spring.

Monroe—Charged with having stolen a lantern belonging to the state on the Dixie Highway, Frank Scymanski, 24, truck driver, of New York city, pleaded guilty before Justice William J. Danz and was sentenced to serve 65 days in the Detroit house of correction. In sentencing the prisoner, the judge stated that stealing of lanterns must stop. Thus far at least 100 have been stolen, making it dangerous for the public to travel.

Lansing—The state athletic board of control prohibited issuance of complimentary tickets to Michigan's legalized prize fights at state expense. The giving away of 57 complimentary tickets to the Dempsey-Make fight at Benton Harbor on Sept. 6 by Thomas W. Biggar, state athletic commissioner, and his payment for them out of the 10 per cent gross receipts received by the state, was the cause of this ban. The state's 10 per cent share from that "show" was $12,246, and out of that sum Mr. Biggar paid $2,046 for the 57 "free" tickets.

Rogers—A wildcat was killed on the farm of Frank Westerman, near here. This is believed to be the first wildcat killed in Michigan in several years.

Rogers—Nearly 3,000 bushels of oats were harvested from a 40-acre field on the Lobdell farm in Presque Isle county. This is said to be a record.

Ann Arbor—Dexter flour mill and dam site and Huron River power rights were sold by Mrs. H. Wirt Nowkirk, of Ann Arbor, to Henry Ford and son.

Iron Mountain—An order has been issued for the vaccination of all school children in the city. Several cases of smallpox have developed, including one teacher.

Kalamazoo—Spanish War Veterans from Detroit, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Albion, Jackson, Thos. Rivers and Sturgis will hold a conference in Battle Creek, Nov. 16.

Charlotte—The hog cholera epidemic in Eaton county, which started near Vermontville, is spreading throughout the county, according to Roy E. Decker, Eaton county agricultural agent.

Pontiac—The new city commission is considering 35 applications for the position of manager of the city of Pontiac. Among the applicants are men holding similar positions elsewhere, many in southern cities.

Lansing—Fifty-eight of 189 persons arrested in October by the Michigan state police were accused of violating the liquor law, Lieut. L. H. Marmon reports. Sixty arrests were on charges of violating the motor vehicle laws.

Holland—Prof. D. B. Vintema, 69 years old, superintendent of schools at St. Johns for 16 years and professor of physics and chemistry at Hope College for 23 years, is dead. He promoted the Holland Sugar Co. here.

Grand Rapids—Mitchell J. Friedman, a former Washington attorney, but now a public accountant in this city, has obtained a patent on a perpetual calendar. This device functions without mathematical tables and mental calculations.

Petoskey—Hundreds of applications have been received by Charles E. Miller, Emmet County sheriff, for the adoption of Agnes Kennedy, 7 years old, crippled a few weeks ago by the killing of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, by a farm hand.

Iron Mountain—Game Wardens rounded up four offenders at Channing and arrested them for having deer in their possession out of season. They paid fines and costs amounting to $270. Two were fined $105 each, and the others $29.50 each.

Grand Rapids—Maps of Kent county will no longer bear the name of 10 former villages which have been abandoned during the last 30 years. They are: Perrins, Spencer, Mill, Griswold, Bostwick, Slayton, Eardly, Whitteville, North Byron, Lyman and Bowne.

Mt. Clemens—Gov.-elect Alex J. Groesbeck received a majority of 6,472 over Woodbridge N. Ferris in Macomb county, the official election returns show. Hardings majority over Cox in Macomb county was 6,710. This is Mr. Groesbeck's home county. His total vote was 9,665.

Mt. Clemens—Appeal of Lloyd Prevost for a new trial will be heard at the December term of the circuit court, said Lynn M. Johnston, prosecuting attorney. Prevost was convicted of the murder of J. Stanley Brown, near here last December, and is now serving a life sentence in Jackson prison.

Marenisco—Heading their whines and tugs at his coat, Fred Monios followed two hunting dogs belonging to his father for five miles to a small lake, where he found the body of the elder Monios lying in shallow water near the shore. Monios had been fishing, and is thought to have fallen into the lake from his boat.

Saginaw—Perry Ward, eight-year-old Vassar boy who was stabbed by an alleged demented man whom he went to the home to sell tickets for a school entertainment, died in the Woman's hospital, Guy Johnson, who is alleged to have stabbed the boy twice in the abdomen with a pair of shears, is being held in the Tuscola county jail at Caro.

Owosso—One-half a cent per ton added to the freight rate by a Detroit iron pipe company cost that firm a contract for $28,000 worth of water mains here. The freight rate was $79.85 1-2 a ton, and this company added one-half cent to it and put in a bid at $79.86 per ton for the pipe. A Chicago firm lopped off the half cent and got the contract.

Kalamazoo—Scrutiny of a curious world drove Katherine Askins back to the Fairmount hospital, from which she had escaped, clad only in light underwear and a bathrobe. The girl went to the interurban station, where she proved the center of attraction. Having no money to purchase a ticket to her home in Jackson, she concluded to return to the hospital until regularly discharged.

Saginaw—Holding that increased rates for electric light and power which the Consumers Power company put into effect October 1 cannot be assessed, the council instructed City Attorney B. J. Vincent to take necessary legal steps to prevent collection of the increased rates and at the same time advise users of light and power to refuse to pay at the new rates. Bills charging the new rates for October service have been sent to all customers of the company, and November 10 was the last day on which discount was allowed.

BELGIAN HEADS WORLD LEAGUE

PAUL HYMANS, FORMER PREMIER OF BELGIUM FIRST PRES-IDENT OF ASSEMBLY.

DELEGATES FROM 41 COUNTRIES

Disposition Shown to Meet Intricate Problems With Open Minds; U. S.
Without Representatives.

Geneva.—Paul Hymans, of Belgium, was elected permanent president of the League of Nations at the opening session of the league's assembly here. He received 35 votes to four votes for President Motta, of Switzerland, and one each for ex-President Ador, of Switzerland, and Leon Bourgeois, of France.

When Hymans, who heads the Belgian delegation and is a former foreign minister of Belgium, declared the first session of the assembly open, the hall was crowded with men and women and there were several women among the delegates. Their toilettes with the quaint red and yellow gowns of the Swiss guards, gave touches of color to an otherwise sober scene.

M. Motta in his greetings to the delegates, thanked the peace conference for having selected Geneva as the seat of the League of Nations and also thanked President Wilson for calling the meeting of the assembly in the seat of the league.

Determination to meet intricate problems in world affairs and to lay firmly the foundation stones of the League of Nations was evident in the demeanor of delegates of 41 countries when they convened here.

Although differences of opinion have already arisen relative to the Danzig question the make up of the commission on mandates, the protection of racial and religious minorities in Balkan states and the admission of Germany to the league with some of her former allies, there was an evident disposition on the part of all the delegates to meet every situation with fairness and open mind and to endeavor to reach decisions which would be acceptable.

U. S. Not Represented.

Washington.—The United States will not be represented at the meeting of the League of Nations assembly at Geneva by any observers, official or unofficial, according to a statement from the administration. The attitude of the president it was explained, is that he has done all in his power to put the United States into the league but that, inasmuch as the American people have rejected his plan, he feels himself enjoined from participating in any manner in the session of the assembly, which he convoked in accord with the terms of the treaty.

DEATH RECORD LOWEST IN 1919

129 a Thousand, Shows Drop of 5.1
From High Rate of 1918.

Washington.—The 1919 death rate in the registration area of continental United States, embracing 81 per cent of the population, was shown in statistics made public by the Census Bureau to be the lowest recorded for any one year. The rate of 12.9 a 1,000 of population, showed a drop of 5.1 a 1,000 from the unusually high rate of 1918, resulting from the epidemic of influenza.

The total number of deaths in 1919 was 1,026,436, of which 111,879, or 10.2 per cent, were caused by heart disease, while tuberculosis resulted in 106,985, or 9.8 per cent, the statistics showed. Deaths attributed to pneumonia totaled 105,218; influenza 84,113; nephritis and Bright's disease, 79,005, and cancer and other malignant tumors, 68,581.

REVEAL TURK-ARMENIAN TRUCE

Terms Provide For Occupation of Alexandropol By Ottoman Forces.

Washington.—The state department received a summary of the terms of the armistice between the Turkish nationalist forces and the Armenian government. It included the following provisions:

Armenian troops to withdraw from the west bank of the Arpa river.

Turkish forces, during the peace negotiations, to occupy Alexandropol and a territory within a radius of 10 kilometers around the city.

Turkish forces to guarantee order and to preserve the safety of all persons in Alexandropol.

RICHARDSON NEW DRY CHIEF

Dairymple Successor to Supervise
District, Including Michigan.

Washington.—Appointment of Frank D. Richardson as supervising prohibition agent at Chicago, succeeding Major Alfred V. Dairymple, resigned, was announced by the bureau of internal revenue. Richardson has been connected with internal revenue work at Chicago for some time.

WHAT TO EAT.

A salad combination that is especially good and not very common, is: Tomato and Pear Salad.—Peel ripe, firm tomatoes and cut in eighths or quarters; cut ripe pears after peeling and coring into the same sized pieces. Alternate a section of pear and tomato, making a flower-shaped design.

sign on heart leaves of lettuce. Place a spoonful of mayonnaise in the center and serve.

Tanço Pear Salad.—Peel, halve and core ripe, juicy pears; cut the halves into slices without cutting quite through. Squeeze over them a little lemon juice to keep them from discoloring. Set these on heart leaves of lettuce and put a ball of seasoned cheese in the center of each half of pear. Pour over a delicately seasoned dressing and serve.

Scalloped Fish.—Pick any fish left from dinner into bits, carefully removing all the bones. Take a pint of milk, place in a double boiler, add a slice of onion cut fine, a sprig of parsley, minced fine, two tablespoonsful of butter, salt and pepper to taste; stir in two tablespoonsful of cornstarch, mixed with a little cold milk; let all cook until smooth and thick, then take from the fire. Butter the sides and bottom of ramekins, put in a layer of fish, then a layer of cream sauce, then sprinkle over that buttered crumbs, then a layer of fish again; repeat and finish with buttered crumbs. Bake until well browned.

Braised Salmon.—Select a middle cut of salmon. Sprinkle with bits of salt pork the bottom of a casserole, add three branches of parsley, half an onion, half a carrot, cut in slices, set the fish on the vegetables, add two tablespoonsful of vinegar and one cupful of boiling water. Lay two or three small strips of fat salt pork above the fish, cover the dish and let cook one-half hour, basting three times with the liquid in the pan. Place the fish on a hot platter, strain off the liquid, melt three tablespoonsful of butter, add the same of flour and a scant half teaspoonful each of salt, paprika, then add the liquid from the fish and one-third of a cupful of cream. Stir until boiling. Serve the sauce in a bowl. Garnish the fish with parsley, slices of lemon and Saratoga potatoes.

Sauce tartare is very good to serve with fish and so is mayonnaise dressing to which has been added two tablespoonsful each of chopped capers, pickles, olives and parsley.

"Oh! for a new generation of day dreamers. They will not ask whether life is worth living—they will make it so. They will transform the sordid 'struggle for existence' into glorious effort to become that which they have admired and loved."

THE NUTRITIOUS NUT.

In spite of the literature to read upon the food value of various nuts, we still consider them largely as a relish or confection. They are much richer in food value than most fruits or vegetables and have a sustaining quality which vegetable foods lack.

Nuts may form a basis for soups, sandwiches, salads, dressing for game; fritters and puddings are likewise showed. Deaths attributed to pneumonia totaled 105,218; influenza 84,113; nephritis and Bright's disease, 79,005, and cancer and other malignant tumors, 68,581.

Egg Plant With Peanut Stuffing.—Boil the egg plant until partly cooked, scoop out the inside leaving a wall half an inch thick. Chop fine the pulp taken out, and mix with equal parts of bread and peanuts. Fill the shells and bake half an hour.

Boiled and mashed chestnuts are good used as stuffing for fowl or any game. Cook them, after blanching, in the broth from the fowl, until tender. Drain, mash, add a spoonful of minced ham, a half-cupful of bread crumbs, a seasoning of salt and pepper and a dash of vinegar. Mix and moisten with melted butter, using four tablespoonsful; add the beaten yolks of two eggs, and stuff the bird several hours before baking so that the meat will be well seasoned.

Nut sandwiches, using pecans, peanuts, walnuts, hickory nuts, and in fact any sweet nut, minced and mixed with cream, a bit of salt and spread on buttered graham bread, are good enough for anybody.

Brussels sprouts are often served with nuts. Cook a quart of brussels sprouts in salted water, drain and put into a saucepan with two tablespoonsful of lard; add three-quarters of a pound of chestnuts which have been cooked until soft; simmer for a half hour until well seasoned. Serve with roast pork.

Daddy Was Poor Company.

Little Dot did not like the idea of being left home with her father, who was more interested in reading than entertaining her while her mother went to church.

She was in quite a troubled way when mother and aunt returned this Sunday and said: "Mother, why don't you and aunt take turns going to church, one go Saturday and the other Sunday, because your little girl is lonesome to stay in the house alone with just her daddy?"

Thousands of Happy Housewives in WESTERN CANADA

are helping their husbands to prosper—are glad they encouraged them to go where they could make a home of their own—save, paying rent and reduce cost of living—where they could reach prosperity and independence by buying an easy farm.

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre
—land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 40 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of farmers in Western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. With such crops come prosperity, independence, good homes, and all the comforts and conveniences which make for happy living.

Farm Gardens—Poultry—Dairying are sources of income second only to grain growing and stock raising. Good climate, good neighbors, churches, schools, rural telephone, etc., give you the opportunities of a new land with the conveniences of old settled districts.

For Illustrated literature, maps, description of farm opportunities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, and the Northwest Territories, write to the Department of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to H. V. MacNIVEN, 178 Jefferson Avenue, Detroit, Mich., Canadian Government Agent.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Weak Links in a Strong Chain

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat-treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying these problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by the use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty five to one hundred per cent longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garage is equipped to give careful, prompt Ford service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the Authorized Ford dealer for service.

BUY A FORD FOR CHRISTMAS

Ford

Weak Links in a Strong Chain

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat-treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying these problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by the use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty-five to one hundred per cent longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garage is equipped to give careful, prompt Ford service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the Authorized Ford dealer for service.

LOCAL NOTES

As next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, The Standard will be printed on Wednesday. Correspondents and advertisers are requested to make a note of this and get their copy in early.

A. G. Faist has secured the agency for the Moline universal tractor. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fisk moved to their new home on McKinley street on Monday.

Gasoline dropped six cent a gallon last week. Don't crowd! This occurred in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mast have moved to the residence of Miss Elizabeth Keusch on East Middle street.

The S. P. I. gave Mrs. Mary Frey a very pleasant surprise last Thursday evening, in honor of her birthday.

One of the popular indoor sports these days is naming President-elect Harding's cabinet members for him.

Ed. Vogel spent Tuesday in Lansing, where he attended a meeting of Michigan State Dry Goods Association.

D. H. Wurster left Tuesday for Chicago, where he spent several days purchasing goods for Vogel & Wurster.

Five inches of snow greeted the people of this vicinity Wednesday morning. Considerable of it melted before night.

J. J. Wood is confined to his home on South Main street with an attack of erysipelas. He is reported as making a nice recovery.

Recent Ford sales: Wm. Clark, Howard Boyce, Julius Schoenegge, touring; S. J. Heselwerdt, coupelet, Frank Leach, truck.

A number of the friends of Ernest Hutzler gave him a very pleasant surprise Friday evening, the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

Rev. H. R. Beatty attended a ministerial convention of the Pontiac district of the M. E. church, held in Ypsilanti Tuesday and Wednesday.

Born, on Friday, November 12, to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mollenan, of Calumet, a son, Mrs. Mollenan is a daughter of Mrs. Olive Winslow, of Chelsea.

The Chatt 'n' Sea Club was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. W. Schmidt. An excellent program was one of the features of the evening's entertainment.

The Chelsea postoffice will close at 9 o'clock Thanksgiving Day morning, Thursday, November 25, and remain closed the balance of the day. The rural carriers will not make a delivery on that day.

Stuart Osborne, of Omaha, Neb., well known in Chelsea, has purchased an interest in the Goebel Garment Co. The company is making arrangements to expand, and will soon be running with a full force.

A certificate of co-partnership was filed in the county clerk's office Saturday by Fred C. Mapes and Eustace H. Wiseley, operating as the Jackson Farm Lands Company, with offices in the Dwight building—Jackson News.

North Sylvan Grange gave Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Saunders a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Laird Saturday evening. About fifty were present. Refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders will leave for Florida today, where they spend the winter.

The marriage of Miss Anna E. Mast and Mr. Fred Kanouse, both of Jackson, will take place Thursday evening, November 18, 1920, at the Baptist parsonage in Jackson. Rev. Owens officiating. Miss Mast is well known in Chelsea, having made her home here for many years.

There is a display of sweet potatoes in the show window of Schneider's store, that were raised by Blaine Bartch at his home at Atlanta, Ga. The potatoes are large in size and are called "Georgia Sweeties." Mr. Bartch was a former Chelsea boy, and is a son of Mrs. W. H. Hammond.

The Standard received a card from Fred A. Glenn, who with Mrs. Glenn made the overland trip to California, in which he stated that they arrived at Long Beach safe and had a fine trip. He states that the weather is fine and everything is booming, and lots of building going on.

The marriage of Miss Florence G. Read, of Dexter, and Mr. James Edward Heim, of Sylvan, took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, November 16, 1920, in St. Joseph's church, Dexter. Rev. Father Griffin officiating. The couple were attended by Miss Hazel Read, sister of the bride, and James O'Hagen, of Detroit, a cousin of the bridegroom. Mr. Heim is a son of Mrs. D. Heim of Sylvan.

Dr. O. Wood, who has been confined to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wood, for several weeks with an attack of erysipelas, returned to his home in Hart, Friday.

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not stop to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, I feel like my own housewife. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. MARY BREWER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

CHAPTER XII—Continued.

"Santos!" Webster replied smilingly. "That scoundrel makes a gamble out of an otherwise sure thing. However," he added, recalling the note received from Ricardo Ruy just before his departure from Buenaventura and reflecting that to be forewarned is to be forearmed, "we'll accept the gamble. That rascal can't live forever, and he may be eliminated before he causes us any trouble."

"What will it cost us to get this mine on a paying basis, Johnny?"

"Well, back home, I'd figure on spending at least $100,000; but I dare say, taking into consideration the low cost of labor in Sobrante and the raw, natural resources of power and timber right on the ground, we ought to put this deal over for $50,000 at the outside. Praise be, I have cash enough to do the trick without calling in any help, and such being the case, we'll not waste any time but hop to the job in a hurry and make the fur fly."

"Right, Jack. What's the program?"

"Well, first off, son, I'm not going to stay in this country and lose myself unmanaging this mine. That's your job, because you're young and unimportant in your profession and have the ability to get away with the job. You can afford to spend the next 15 years here, but I cannot. I can only afford to come down here every couple of years and relieve you for a vacation."

"That's the way I figured it, Jack."

"All right then, Bill, let us start in by giving you your first vacation. If you're going to dig in here and make the fur fly, you've got to be in tip-top physical condition—and you are thin and gaunt and full of chills and fever. Just before I left Buenaventura I cashed a draft for $5,000 on my letter of credit at the Banco Nacional, and placed it to the credit of your account there."

"Tomorrow morning you will take your horse, one pack mule, and one mule and ride for San Miguel de Padua, where you will take the train for Buenaventura. In Buenaventura you may do what you please, but if I were you, boy, I'd try to get married and go back to the U. S. A. for my honeymoon. And when I finally hit a town that contained some regular doctors I'd let them paw me over and reexamine me and overhaul my bearings and put me in such nice running order I'd be firing on all 12 cylinders at once."

"And when I was feeling tip-top once more I'd wire old John Stuart Webster and tell him so, after which I'd stand by for a cable from the said scoundrel inviting me to return and take up my labors."

Billy's face yellowed and he looked like a sunrise on the desert. "I guess that plan's kind of poor," he announced feelingly. "You're right, Jack. I'm in rotten condition and I ought to be right before I start. Still, if I should arrange to get married before I leave, I'd like mighty well to have a good man and true see me safely over the hurdles."

"That's nice, son, but I haven't time to be your best man. Arranging the honeymoon lets me out, Bill. I'm in a hurry to finish here and get back, so the sooner we both start our prospective jobs the sooner we'll finish. Have a quiet little marriage, Bill, without any fuss or feathers or voices breathing over Eden. What are the odds, provided you get hitched properly? Besides, I'm in mortal dread of that town of Buenaventura. The sewer system is bad; it's rotten with fever; and you'd better get that girl out of it P. D. Q., and the quicker the better. Myself, I prefer to stay up here in these mountains in a temperate climate where there are no mosquitoes."

Billy saw that Webster was serious and would resent any interference in his plans. "All right, Jack," he assented. "You're the boss."

"Fine. Now, Bill, you listen to father and be guided accordingly. When you get to Buenaventura, wire the Hingham Engineering company of Denver, using my name, and tell them to add to my order given them last month and held for shipping directions, 12 dozen picks, 12 dozen shovels, 12 dozen mattocks, say six dozen axes, brush knives, a big road plow, and whatever other things you happen to think of and which would come in handy when building our road. Also, when you get to New Orleans buy a stanch three-ton motor truck. We'll need it for getting in supplies from San Miguel de Padua. Pay for the truck also, and if you go broke and cannot reach me by cable, wire Neddy Jerome at the Engineers' club in Denver and kick his eye out in my honor and name."

"I guess that's about all of your job, Bill. As for me, I'll catch right here. I'll have a deal of surveying to do and I plan to sweat the booze out of that Cofferty person. I'll make Don Juan my chain man and run the tail off him. Then I'll be busy with preliminary plans, arranging for labor and so on, and when I'm idle I'll go hunting."

In conformity with this plan, therefore, Billy said good-by to his friend and packed out for San Miguel de Padua bright and early next morning. During the following ten days Webster managed to keep himself fairly busy around the camp at the mine; then for a week he hunted and fished, and finally, when that began to pull on him, his agile mind returned to business and the consideration of the possibility of a flaw in Billy's title to the claim; whereupon he suddenly decided to return to Buenaventura and investigate that title fully before proceeding to throw dollars right and left.

At the head of his little cavalcade, therefore, he rode out one morning for the railroad, whereat providence, in its inscrutable wisdom, ordained that en route he should fall in with no less a personage than Don Ricardo Ruiz Ruy, nee Andrew Bowers. Ricardo was mounted, armed, and alone, and at sight of Webster he shouted with delight and spurred toward him.

"What the devil! You, Rick, the government cut-up. What are you doing in these parts?" Webster rode up and shook hands.

"Oh, I'm Robin Hooding it around this part of the country. It is so secluded, you know, and Santos hasn't any friends or any telegraph lines or any garrisons up this way. I heard in San Miguel de Padua that you were camped yonder, and I was on my way over to confer with you on matters of state. Met your friend, Geary, at El Buen Amigo a couple of weeks ago, just before he sailed for the United States. He was telling me you had to have a lot of tools for road building, so I cabled in a secret cipher to the Sobrantean revolutionary junta in New Orleans to ship these tools to you immediately. They arrived on the last trip of the Atlanta and now repose in Leber's warehouse waiting for you to call and remove them."

"You scoundrel! What have you sent me?"

"A couple of hundred rifles and three machine guns, branded axes, picks, shovels, plows, and so on. I also ran in three cases of ammunition, labeled grindstones, two more cases disguised as bolts, and quite several thousand labeled nails in kegs. I should feel rather sorry for you if my friend, Santos, should get suspicious and investigate, but I haven't any fear that he will. You see, he knows you're here on legitimate business. He has investigated and learned that you are a bona fide mining engineer of considerable reputation—and then, you know, your friend, Geary, dickered with him for the concession. The mining property you are about to develop belongs to the people, not to Santos; yet he has bartered it away and will divert the royalty to his own pocket instead of the public treasury."

"Hum-m-m! What do you want me to do with all those munitions consigned to me?"

"Arrange with Leber to keep them there until you get ready to build your road into the mine. I want them there when my American mercenaries arrive in Buenaventura. By the way, you are going to import these mercenaries for me. They are American miners and road builders in the employ of the Honda Mining & Development company, which is to be the name of your enterprise. I hope you'll like the name, Webster. I picked it out myself."

Mounted, Armed and Alone.

"You cool scoundrel! You're making cat's paw out of me."

"That is because you happen to be so handy for my purpose. You see my plan, do you not? I'm going to attack Buenaventura from within and without. I'm going to come down on Santos like a wolf on the fold, and the job is scheduled for next Saturday night a week."

"Look here, Rick, my boy, I have no desire to mix in the politics of this country."

"You have some desire, however, to mix in its wealth," Ricardo reminded him.

"Well?"

"I'm the only man that can help you. By the way, do not order your machinery shipped until after I am seated firmly on the throne of my fathers."

"Why?"

"It's been framed with Santos to let you spend your money on that concession and get the mine in running order; then a fake suit, alleging an error in the government survey, will be filed. It will be claimed that the concession given your friend, Geary, is, by virtue of erroneous government surveys, the property of a citizen of Sobrante. The courts here do as Santos tells them. You are to be kicked out, hunted, and despairing, and your nicely equipped little mine will be taken over as a government monopoly and run for the benefit of the government, to-wit, Santos and his satellites. We had to cook up a dirty deal like that to save your life. Of course, now that I have warned you in time, you are safe. We schemed a proposition, however, that worked both ways. It enabled us to save you and to save us, by permitting the shipment, free of suspicion, of arms for the rebels that are to attack the city from within. Naturally I had to cache their arms within the city—and that was a hard problem until you happened along. Thank you, fairly godfather."

"My thanks are due you, Ricardo. I'm for you, first, last, and all the time, and against this Santos outfit. By the way, how do you purpose moving your machine guns?"

"We'll have to carry them, I guess."

"Well, I'll have a small auto-truck delivered in Buenaventura by that time. You might arrange to armor it with sheet steel; and with a couple of machine guns mounted in it, and a crew of resolute Americans behind the machine guns, you could caper from one end of the city to the other and clear a path for your infantry."

"Thank you, my friend. I'll borrow the motor truck and arrange to armor it. That's a bully idea. Are you bound for Buenaventura now?"

Webster nodded. "Then," Ricardo suggested, "I'll meet you in my room at El Buen Amigo next Wednesday night at 11 and explain the details of my plans to you if you care to hear them. I think they're all-right myself, but somehow I think I'd feel more certain of them if you approve them."

"I'll be there, Rick, and the day you run that outlaw Santos off the grass you'll know why I am for you."

"Good-by, old man. You will never know how grateful you have made me."

Ruzy shook hands with Webster and rode off through the timber, leaving John Stuart Webster to pursue the even tenor of his way, until at length he arrived once more in Buenaventura and sought accommodations at the Hotel Mateo. And there, as he entered the lobby and gazed through a glass door across the patio and into the veranda, he saw that which disturbed him greatly. In a big wicker rocker Dolores Ruy sat, rocking gently and busily stitching on a piece of fancy work.

Billy Geary came back to the United States, and Dolores was still in Buenaventura! Amazing! Why, what the devil did Billy mean by letting her have her own way like that? Of course, they hadn't been married, or she would not now be out there on the veranda, and, of course, they hadn't quarreled, because that was an impossibility, and, of course, Billy had departed alone for the U. S. A., else he would have returned to their camp in the hills back of San Miguel de Padua.

"Well, I know what I'm going to do," Webster decided. "I'm not going to be led into temptation while Billy's not on the job—so I'll not put up at the Hotel Mateo after all. I'll just sneak around to El Buen Amigo and fix it with that old Mother Jenks not to tip off my presence in town to Dolores Ruy until I can get the lay of the land and see what the devil has happened to all my well-laid plans."

He retreated out the front door and called a carriage, into which he was about to step, bag and baggage, when Don Juan Cafetere came rushing up in great excitement. "Sure, where are ye goin' now, sor, is there no room for ye in the Hotel Mateo?"

"Their heads have jiggers in them, and I just remembered that," Webster fibbed. "I'm in, John, and we'll drive around to Mr. Geary's lodgings in El Buen Amigo."

"But I come 'rround the patio just now," Don Juan explained, "an' you should I meet but the young lady." "You infernal scoundrel! Did you tell her I was in town?"

"Sure I did, sor. An' why not?" "None of your infernal business. You're spoiled everything. You're a muddle-headed monkey and I've a great notion to let you get drunk again. Take the baggage back into the hotel."

Don Juan Cafetere, greatly humbled and rebuffed, stepped aside and watched Webster stride back into the hotel. "God love ye, sor," he mumbled, "knowin' what I know, is it likely I'd let ye make a monkey out of yerself? Ye made yer plans with Mister Geary without consultin' her. Now go, ye grand big devil, an' find out why she kicked yer scheme to smithereens." And with a solemn and knowing wink at the duffle bag, Don Juan picked that article up and followed after his master.

CHAPTER XIII.

John Stuart Webster's agile brain was the repository of many conflicting emotions as he bathed, shaved, and changed from his soiled khaki field clothes to a suit of ducks before presenting himself before Dolores.

Had Billy's courage forsaken him at the last minute, with the result that he had gone back to the United States without having settled the question of Dolores' future? Had he proposed and been rejected, or had he proposed, been accepted, and had his plans for an immediate marriage vetoed by Dolores?

In either event, why had Billy failed to leave a note for him at the Hotel Mateo, or mailed him a letter to the Globo de Oro at San Miguel de Padua, advising him of the change in the plan of action outlined for him by Webster?

In the simplicity of his single-hearted devotion Webster was puzzled to understand how any woman in her right mind could fail to fall in love with Billy Geary. A man he was, from heels to hair, and a man with prospects far above the average. To Webster's way of thinking, the girl who married Billy might well count herself fortunate.

"Well, and Why Didn't You?"

Dolores greeted him with unaffected pleasure. "Well, Caliph," she said. Just that. It made Webster sensible of a feeling of having returned to her after an absence of several years. "I'm so glad to see you, Miss Ruy," he replied, and added boldly, "particularly since I didn't expect to."

She knew what her reply would lead to; nevertheless, with that dissimulation which can only be practiced in perfection by a clever and beautiful woman, she answered with equal boldness: "Indeed! Pray why?"

"Well, for a pretty good reason, I think. A few weeks ago, after examining Billy's concession very thoroughly, I told him he was a potential millionaire. Now, while I disclaim any appearance of bragadoles, when John Stuart Webster, E. M., makes any mine owner a report like that, he is apt to be taken very seriously. And having made Billy a potential millionaire and arranged to give him three or four months' vacation back home, I had a notion he'd present to you a very valid reason why you should accompany him."

"You are very frank, Caliph."

"That's because I'm curious. He had a certain dream, and told me about it, and I did my little best to make it come true."

"I think I understand, Caliph. It would be very difficult, I think, for anybody to meet Billy without being attracted toward him. He's one of the dearest, most lovable boys in the world—and he did do me the signal honor of asking me to marry him. So there?"

"Well, and why didn't you?"

She smiled at his blunt insistence on forcing the issue. "For a number of excellent reasons, Caliph. In the first place, he wanted me to marry him immediately—and I wasn't ready to leave Sobrante, while Billy was. Indeed, it was highly necessary that he should leave immediately, for the sake of his health, and I had Billy's interest at heart sufficiently to insist upon it. You seem to forget that when a girl marries she must make some preparation for the event, and if she has any close relatives, such as a brother, for instance, she likes to have that relative present at the ceremony. You will recall, Caliph, that I have a brother and that you have promised to introduce me to him very shortly."

"By Judds, I never thought of that, Miss Ruy," the repentant Webster answered. "In fact, I wasn't thinking of anybody's interest in this matter but Billy's."

"Not even of mine, Caliph?" reproachfully.

"That goes without saying. Could I have done anything nicer for you than fix it for Billy so he would be in possition to marry you? Here you are, practically alone in the world—at least you were when Billy met you and fell in love with you—and I know that boy so well I was convinced, after meeting you, that his future happiness and yours would best be conserved if you married him. I realize this is a most unusual conversation—"

"Quite to be expected of an unusual man, Caliph. And I do not think you were one bit presumptuous. It was wonderfully dear of you, and I am profoundly grateful that Billy and I have such a true, unselfish friend, whose first thought is for our happiness. Of course, you realize how bad I felt to think I couldn't accede to Billy's plan. Billy's such a dear, it quite broke my heart to disappoint him, but a little temporary unhappiness will not ruin Billy, will it? It makes me feel blue to talk about it, Caliph."

"Not at all, not at all, Miss Ruy. Billy is one of the impulsive, whirlwind kind, up in the clouds today and down in the slough of despond tomorrow. He'll survive the shock. However, I'm glad to know everything will come out all right. Seeing you here gave me a momentary chill; I thought a cog had slipped somewhere, so I helped myself to Cupid's license and asked. A man cannot learn very much from a woman unless he asks questions, can he? I mean on the subject of love."

She smiled a little, wistful, knowing smile. "No, Caliph," she answered seriously, "somehow the Master of Things ordained that on the subject of love man must do all the talking."

"Yes, but on the other hand, woman has the last word—as usual. However, the only thing in your case and Billy's that worries me is the thought that since Billy left his magnet behind he will be drawn back here before he is in the kind of shape, physically, that I want him to be in before he relieves me on the job so I can go away."

"Do not worry on that point, Caliph. I am your ally there; between us both I think we can manage him."

"Fine business! And with those few kind words we'll dismiss William until you care to talk about him again, although if you're as deep in love as Billy you'll not stay off the subject very long. I hope you haven't been into mischief."

"I haven't been idle. I've made several dresses for Mother Jenks and done a lot of fancy work and begun the study of my mother tongue. If my brother should become president of this country, it would ill become his sister not to be able to speak Spanish. By the way, Billy told me you were going to remain up in the hills quite a while yet. What brought you back to town so soon?"

"Expected I'd have some freight arriving shortly."

"How long will you remain in Buenaventura?"

Considering the fact that he was no longer subject to temptation, since the object of his temptation was now definitely promised to his friend, Billy, Webster suddenly decided to remain until the political atmosphere should be cleared, although prior to his conversation with Dolores he had cherished a definite plan to go back to the hills within 48 hours.

"I'm going back," he replied soberly, "after I have kept my promise and introduced you to your brother in the government palace. If I cannot introduce him to you there, the title to our mining concession will be clouded, in which event it will not be necessary for Billy or myself to fuss with it further."

He related to her the information gleaned from her brother two days previously.

"It's no use for an individual to fight a government despot in courts controlled by the latter," he concluded. "Your brother must win and depose the Santos; then with the title to the property certified by the government as without a flaw, I may dare to spend $50,000 developing it."

"And if my brother doesn't win?"

"I may never have an opportunity to present you to him. We mustn't be squeamish about this matter, Miss Ruy. If Ricardo doesn't turn the trick, he may go the way of his father, unless he can manage to get out of the country."

She was silent, digesting this grim alternative. "As I understand it, then, Caliph, Ricardo hopes to win his revolution when he strikes the first blow."

Melon Tidbit of Ancestors.

Melons were first extensively cultivated in France early in the seventeenth century, but were known to the ancients from the commencement of our era. The Egyptians grew them. They are said to have been carried to America by Columbus, and to the Malay archipelago by the Portuguese. No other fruit is so variable in foliage and habit, or undergoes so many metamorphoses by crossing its varieties, all of which are fertile. They are grown extensively in Asia, but little care is bestowed on their cultivation, and they consequently never improve. They grow on sandbanks left dry by the falling rivers; if near a town a portion of the crop can be sold, but most of it is valueless, as it rots if taken any distance by cart or boat.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells. Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

All druggists. Liquid or tablets. YPSILANTI, MICH.—"Motherhood left me with a bad case of feminine trouble. The doctor did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it gave me relief at once. I took just a few bottles and was completely cured. I have wonderful faith in Dr. Pierce's medicine for women."—Mrs. LUTHER JONES, 614 S. Hamilton Street.

Back Given Out?

There's surely some reason for that lame, aching back. Likely it's your kidneys. A cold or strain sometimes angers the kidneys and slows them up. That may be the reason for that nagging backache, those sharp pains, that tired, worn-out feeling. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with annoying bladder irregularity. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands. Ask your neighbor!

LET ALL REJOICE

Taking Courage From the Spirit of the Pilgrims.

Surely the People of Today Have More Causes for Thankfulness Than They Possessed.

To us it certainly seems as though the Pilgrims had little to be thankful for. If the settlers in Plymouth could "sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving" in 1621, what pray, ought we to do in this year of our Lord? Think of the blessings which we enjoy as the contemporaries of the day, of which the Pilgrims never even dreamed! A vast territory mastered, surveyed and thickly settled—abundant treasures of farm, mine, forest and mill poured out for human uses—unnumerable inventions harnessed to the service of human efficiency and comfort—a great republic "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal"—free political, educational and religious institutions, hitherto unknown and unparalleled, successfully established—a higher grade of material well being, a wider diffusion of culture, a nobler ideal of happiness, a finer conception of democracy, achieved for all the people, than the world has ever seen before! It is true, of course, that not all ills have been suppressed, nor all blessings won. But because we have not yet achieved everything is no reason why we should not be glad that we have achieved much! Because we have not yet won the goal of life is no reason why we should not rejoice that we have advanced! The world today is better than it ever has been before. Men have less suffering, greater happiness and nobler opportunity than in any epoch past. Humanity is still fighting the same persistent ills and seeking the same elusive goods, but in new fields and on higher levels. The goal still lies far ahead, but behind is a long road of miseries conquered and battles won.

A Thanksgiving Offering From a Grateful Heart

Lord, we who set the furrow deep, And sow the seeds of industry, For the rich gardens that we reap Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who make the anvil ring, Who give and weld laboriously, For all the wares our labors bring Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who watch the spindles ply, The shuttles flying dantly, For every boon our efforts buy Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who build with busy hand Of wood or stone unconsciously, For whatsoever our arts command Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who delve in under-earth For from Thy sunlight fair and free, For whatsoever we win of worth Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who hold the straining sail, And plow the green waves of the sea, For what our stormy tasks avail Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we the toilers of the brain, Who clutch at dreams that cling or flee, For whatsoever heights we gain Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we Thy children, small and great, Beneath Thy care, where'er it be, The while Thy grace we supplicate, Give thanks to Thee!

—Clinton Scollard, in the Outlook.

Therefore, Give Thanks.

Thanks to the providence of God as it has worked in history and to the work of brave men who believed they were children of God, the petty colonies are now one nation. Of that nation the meekest citizen, the most foolish, the weakest and the poorest, has every right and privilege before the law which belongs to the strongest, the richest and the wisest, though he were born in the purple of luxury.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK

Thanksgiving.

By T. C. Harbaugh.

In the twilight of November, With its foliage of gold, Comes again the glad Thanksgiving, Blot with customs dear and old; And beneath the starry banner As it floats from sea to sea, We a happy people gather, Fears at rest, for all are free.

Not a hand in all the nation, In the East or in the West, Hears the mansion or the cottage To the glad Thanksgiving guest; From the balmy, kindly Southland To the nodding pines of Maine, Nature, filled with joy and triumph, Spreads her annual feast again.

We are thankful for the blessings That have crowned our chartered land—Fruitful orchards, golden harvests, Peace and love from strand to strand; "With November's robes of beauty Hidden lies the warrior's sword, And the olive branch is hanging O'er the nation's festal board.

As, from mountain unto mountain "North the Union's starry dome, To the feast we spread this autumn Bid the absent welcome home; Round the board where all are merry Let the brightest sunlight play; With the love-key of Thanksgiving Open every heart today.

Hail the hallowed Thanksgiving Which the Pilgrim Fathers gave; 'Tis their legacy forever On the land and on the wave; Then, as Freedom's chosen people, We our destiny fulfill, May the Father's sweet Thanksgivings Find us grander, greater still.

PEOPLE MUST HAVE TURKEY

Always Willing to Pay High Prices for the Chief Feature of Thanksgiving Dinner.

New York spends about $3,000,000 on its Thanksgiving dinner, with turkey as its chief feature. The dealers say if it cost a dollar per pound they would sell just about as many.

Turkey on Thanksgiving is traditional in America, and the farmer knows it. He fattens his best birds and saves them for this day. Without realizing it the farmer thus corners the market until the price gets high enough. Then he sells. But the people will have their turkey and this year the dealers expect a greater demand than ever, although they are selecting smaller birds in order to meet it.

The great part of the city's turkey supply comes from the Middle West—Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Maryland and Kentucky send large consignments. This year "turkey specials" are run from St. Louis. A year ago one of these trains brought 82,000 birds for the local market.

Vast numbers of turkeys are raised in Missouri and Texas. The product of the latter state, where the birds feed on sage and sunflower seeds, is highly regarded. According to reports, however, the output of both of these sections has been effectively cornered this year.

Not Forgetting the Pumpkin Pie.

Attention to Stall Floors

Where Cement Is Used Bedding Should Be Spread to Protect Udders of the Cows.

When planning a new dairy barn, the stall floors should be given careful attention. A good floor should be sanitary and permanent and a non-conductor of heat. The drains and cisterns may be concrete, but for stall floors, cement is not wholly desirable. When used, it must be covered with sufficient bedding to prevent the udders of the cows from coming in contact with it.

Some form of wood block is most satisfactory for this purpose.

TO DETERMINE AGE OF COWS

Most Common Way Is to Count Rings on Horns—Teeth Also Should Be Considered.

The common way of judging the age of a cow is by counting the rings on her horns. The first ring usually comes at about three years of age, the second one two years later, and then one ring is formed each year. The shape, size and condition of the teeth should also be considered.

You should co-operate with your neighbors in developing one breed for your community. You will also obtain much valuable information about calves by working and advising with others, especially those who have had more experience. Select a good purebred calf. It is not sufficient that it be a purebred. It should be registered, as shown by the registration certificate furnished you by the breeder and signed by the secretary of the national association representing the breed.

In addition to being a good individual it should have good breeding back of it. Its parents, grandparents, and so on, should have been useful and profitable to their owners. These facts may be learned from a study of the calf's pedigree. To know a good pedigree when you see it will require some study on your part. Read a history of your chosen breed. Become familiar with individuals and bloodlines which have been instrumental in building up the breed. Such information may be obtained from books sold by publishing houses, from live stock journals, or from bulletins issued by your state college of agriculture, or by the United States Department of Agriculture. Work is more than just a living to the girl at central. There is always an abundance of fun and recreation, too, during regular rest periods and whenever she is off duty.

Lots of people who have visited our larger exchanges marvel at their simple, homelike atmosphere—the delightful lounging and reading rooms—the immaculate kitchens and pleasant dining rooms—and, most important of all, their watchful, helpful sensible matrons.

Long ago, your telephone company learned that in order to have efficient operators, their girls must also be happy and healthful. So these comforts, which mean so much to our girls, are, after all only instruments to improve your telephone service.

Our girls' health is always carefully guarded. Frequent physical examinations are given and healthful athletics encouraged. In rainy weather dry footwear and stockings are loaned. In the dining room meals are very, very good and are provided at very low prices.

To insure the best service possible, strict discipline, it is true, must be maintained in the operating rooms but after hours and during rest periods complete relaxation is encouraged.

We believe that the life of the telephone girl has all the pleasant, clean joys that should surround the life of a normal girl. We believe, too, that you will find that the careful supervision which we maintain over them is being reflected daily in the improved telephone service which they give.

Adrian—The city commission stated Thursday that the central counting board plan of tabulating votes, introduced at the November 2 election, probably will be discontinued in Adrian. They stated that the two days' delay in completing the count on the recent vote proved the need of a board of 20 instead of five.

Foley's Honey and Tar COMPOUND

CLEARs THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did
W. E. Curry, 130 Up 6th St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "I have a little girl 6 years who has a good deal of trouble with croup. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, giving it to her according to directions, and obtaining rapid relief for her. My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or croup that I ever saw."

Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm will come even if an overdose should be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people.

DEAR OLD BOY PETE!

This corner of the U. S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and bustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texans don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all-day trip, or two days and a night distant, etc. And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus Hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he's across the Lone Star State! Talk about "jumps"! Try a few, say the one between Texarkana and El Paso!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folks' hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when as fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant?" says he. "Maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over that bunch of Camel Cigarettes for the boys," he continued. Right then a Camel conference opened!

Golly, Pete, this party coins Camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm 'set'! I've smoked cigarettes for five years! (NOW LISTEN, PETER!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" Now, Pete, I'll say that's some testifying!

Sincerely

Shorty.

P. S.—Between you and me I'll be gazing at tall buildings and things around 43d and Broadway—N.E.W. Y.O.R.K.—about the hour this note hits Boston's Back Bay! Write me at the same old stand!
