

FOURTEENTH YEAR—NO. 56

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1921.

HOPE TO FINISH FED-
ERAL ROAD THIS FALLRoad Engineers Voice "Hope" In Ann Arbor Interview: Other Road
Projects In County.

In a recently published interview regarding road work in Washtenaw county, and in particular the Ann Arbor-Jackson federal aid road, it is given out that "it is the hope of the engineers to finish the rest of this job by fall." The length of the unfinished portion is about 25 miles, it is said, and the grading is practically completed. Only the cement surfacing and asphalt remains unfinished, but we'll say that is some job.

Suppose We Figure A Bit.

Two cement paving machines are now available, one just south of Chelsea and the other just over the county line in Jackson county. Neither are working at this time. The machines are capable of laying about 500 feet of pavement per eight hour day, each, and the two machines can lay about a mile a week if everything runs smoothly. That means it will require around 25 weeks, or about six months to complete the cement laying job with present available equipment. If the machines started April 1st and worked uninterruptedly the job should be finished about October 1st. But last fall it took one machine over two months to lay less than a mile of pavement; difficulty in the transportation of the gravel being the cause of most of the delay—it was impossible to get the gravel to the machine fast enough to keep it busy.

Frankly we shall be much surprised if the federal aid road is completely cemented between Ann Arbor and Jackson by a year from this fall—in the fall of 1922 to be exact.

Other Road Work in County.

Besides the federal aid road through Lima and Sylvan townships there is about 30 miles more of road work in the county contemplated for this summer. Among these is the highway from Ann Arbor to Saline, which is to be made into a nine-foot gravel road. Work on this task was started last summer. A mile and a half of it has been finished and accepted. Four miles have been graded and the whole seven and a half miles have been graded. It is expected that the work on this road will be completed by July, as will also the construction of a half-mile of pavement in the village of Saline.

A little more than three miles of the so-called Whittaker road, running from Ypsilanti south to the county line, remain to be finished this year. The road will have a nine-foot gravel surface when completed. Seven miles of it were completed last year.

The so-called Willis road, in Augusta township, work on which was started late last season, and the Manchester road, running from Manchester village west to the county line, will both be of the same type of surface. Each will be three miles long.

The Dixboro-Cherry Hill road, to consist of six miles of gravel surface, and the Saline-Milan road, to be five and a half miles in length, and of the same type of construction, are to be started this year if suitable contracts can be made. Bids on both have been opened.

The Portage Lake road will consist of four and nine tenths miles of gravel highway.

Practically all of the above projects, excepting of course the federal aid road, are county roads, and consequently will not be affected by the failure of the state to dispose of its bonds.

There is also a project on foot to construct about a mile of pavement at Whitmore Lake. This, however, cannot be done unless the money from the state bonds is forthcoming.

DAYLIGHT SAVING
STARTS SUNDAYVillage Officials Have Given Eastern
Time The Stamp of Approval:
Ann Arbor In Line Also.

Complying with the custom of the past two years, Chelsea will return to the use of Eastern time Saturday, March 26th, at midnight. The council gave the plan its official approval at the meeting of Wednesday, March 16th; it was one of the last official acts of the retiring trustees.

Ann Arbor will also revert to the use of Eastern time next Sunday, under the provisions of an ordinance recently passed in that city.

Before retiring Saturday night set all your clocks and watch ahead one hour if you would get to church on time next Sunday morning.

Eastern time will probably continue the official time in Chelsea until next fall, when, according to past custom, Central time is again resumed about the last Sunday in October.

CHARLES G. KAERCHER.

Charles G. Kaercher, 75 years of age and for many years a respected resident of Chelsea, died suddenly Tuesday evening at the home of his brother, Alfred. For a number of years past he had conducted a wood-working and wagon shop at North Main and North streets, but for several months past had been in failing health, and only last Saturday disposed of his stock, tools, and other property at public auction.

The deceased was born in Lima township, November 8, 1845. He was unmarried and is survived by three brothers and three sisters, as follows: Leonard of Scio, William of Ann Arbor, Albert of Chelsea, Mrs. George April of Scio, Mrs. J. P. Wagner of Northfield and Miss Helen Kaercher of Traverse City.

The funeral was held at 10:30 o'clock this morning from St. Paul's church. Rev. Krause officiating. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

HAS NEW LOCOMOTIVE.

The Michigan Portland Cement Co. has purchased a new locomotive for use in its yards at the big plant at Four Mile Lake, just east of Chelsea. The locomotive arrived here Tuesday. It was built in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., by the Vulcan Iron Works. It has four driving wheels, two on each side and is of the switching type of locomotive, without leading or trailing trucks, all the weight being carried on the four driving wheels. There is no tender, the water supply being carried in a "saddle tank" built over and around the boiler. Coal is carried in a hopper at the back end. The new locomotive will be known as "number four."

MRS. MARGARET EDER.

Mrs. Margaret Eder, widow of the late Jacob Eder, died Sunday at the home of her son, Frank Eder of Sylvan. She was over 80 years of age, having been born in Alsace, France, in 1840. The family came to Chelsea in 1890 and have since resided in this vicinity.

She is survived by four sons and two daughters, as follows: John, Jacob, Frank and George, Mrs. Martin Eisele, and Miss Frances Eder.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from St. Mary church, Rev. Fr. VanDyke conducting the service. Interment at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

MRS. HAROLD SPAULDING.

The sudden death Tuesday noon of Mrs. Harold Spaulding of Sylvan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Whitmer of Chelsea, was a great shock to her husband, parents and many friends in Chelsea and vicinity, and particularly so to her mother, whose father, F. G. Springer, passed away Tuesday, March 8th, only two weeks before Mrs. Spaulding's death. Mr. and Mrs. Whitmer took Mr. Springer's remains to Independence, Kansas, for burial and were en route home at the time of their daughter's sudden death, arriving here only Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Spaulding, nee Marie Whitmer, was born in Independence, Kansas, August 12, 1899. She was united in marriage with Harold Spaulding of Sylvan, February 22, 1919, and they have since made their home on the Spaulding farm, just south of Chelsea on the Manchester road. She was a member of the Congregational church of this place, and of Olive Chapter O. E. S.

Her husband, one son, and parents are left to mourn their loss.

The funeral will be held from the house this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. W. Dierberger conducting the service. Interment at Vermont cemetery, Sylvan.

LIMA PARENT-TEACHER'S ASSN.

The Parent-Teacher's association of district No. 4fr. Lima and Sylvan met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Weiss. MRS. HAYDOCK SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Followed Advice of Her
Druggist's Wife and Took
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. Haydock, 6224 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved Mrs. Haydock from an operation we cannot claim that all operations may be avoided by it, but many women have escaped operations by the timely use of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer Package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate of Salicylic Acid.

HOLDS TWO LEGION OFFICES

Winchester, Va., Man Is State Historian as Well as Chairman of Americanism Commission.

R. M. Roszel of Winchester, Va., has been entrusted with two offices by the Virginia department of the American Legion. He is state historian as well as chairman of the Department's Americanism Commission. He also serves as historian of his post.

Born in Baltimore, Md., Mr. Roszel was educated in the schools of his state and received the A. B. and Ph. D. degrees from Johns Hopkins University. Afterwards he was a fellow in astronomy and an instructor in mathematics in that institution, and later a teacher of physics, mathematics and chemistry in the Washington high school system, Washington, D. C. From 1903 to 1908 Mr. Roszel was head master of the Seawanhock Grammar School, in charge of the preparatory department of the University of the South. Since 1908 he has been superintendent of the Shenandoah Valley Academy, a military school at Winchester, Va.

Mr. Roszel served eighteen months in this country and overseas in the Army and was discharged a major. He has since accepted a similar commission in the Reserve Corps.

TRAVEL PICTURES FOR POSTS

Films Embracing One Thousand Topics, for Use of All Legion Organizations.

By arrangement between the American Legion and the bureau of commercial economics, the most complete and valuable collection of educational and travel motion picture films in existence will be placed at the disposal of the Legion for free exhibition under the auspices of all posts. The films, which embrace 1,000 separate topics, are the property of the bureau, an altruistic institution the sole aim of which is to advance education and pride in American institutions.

At the instance of national headquarters, the bureau has prepared a special catalogue in which each film is numbered and described. A copy of this catalogue will become the property of each Legion post. "The only expense attached to posts ordering the films will be the payment of express charges to and from the nearest distributing center of the bureau. No admission fee may be charged by the post.

A distributing center for the films will be established in almost every state. Responsibility for the transmission of the catalogues and the information concerning the location of distributing centers to which each post must apply for films, rests with the state departments.

The story of the establishment of the bureau of commercial economics is that of a fulfillment of a vow which a blind man took years ago, should his sight be restored. Dr. Francis H. H. Taylor, the founder and director of the bureau, vowed to work for the betterment of mankind when he recovered his sight, and the bureau is the result.

LEGION IS HIS MIDDLE NAME

Adjutant and Americanism Director of Chicago Post First to Name Himself After Organization.

"Every American ought to have an American name," said Jacob Tolmowicz, adjutant and Americanism director of Walter S. Poague Post No. 101 of the American Legion in Chicago, at a post meeting.

"To prove that I stand up for my convictions, I have changed my name to Jacob Legion Tolmowicz."

Tolmowicz said that there should be a law establishing an American standard of nomenclature and that, in the meantime, it is up to members of the American Legion to set the fashion.

"Tolmowicz is a grand old name, but Tolmowicz will be easier to pronounce," said Tolmowicz. "I'm retaining my first name, Jacob, of course, but I'm adding Legion as a brand new middle name. So far as I know, I'm the first man who has named himself after the American Legion. There couldn't be any better name for a human son of an American service man than Legion."

LEGION HIKERS ARE GREETED

Two California Ex-service Men Report Cordial Treatment by Posts of the Southwest.

The hospitality of the Southwest is reflected in its American Legion posts, according to Van W. Bishop and C. G. Allison, California Legionnaires who are well on their way on a little walk from Los Angeles, Cal., to Mexico City, Mexico, a distance of more than 1,500 miles. Bishop belongs to Los Angeles Post No. 8, and Allison to Irwin Post No. 93 of San Francisco.

Went with tramping the dusty kilometers and burdened with packs and other impedimenta, the hikers found rest at a number of Legion posts along the way, according to a letter received from them by the adjutant of the Los Angeles post.

"The posts of the American Legion in the towns where we have stopped have treated us royally. Legion members at Yuma, Ariz., started the good things for us. Then Tucson post fixed us up for two days in a room fitted with bunks for the accommodation of a few fellows who come in and want a place to stay.

"Our next stop was at Bisbee for three days. They have a regular home with several rooms and a sleeping porch. A number of the fellows make their home at the club. We arrived in time to attend the funeral of one of the boys brought back from over there. Now, we are at Douglas, where Legion post officers obtained quarters for us. Our plan is to enter Mexico at El Paso or Laredo, Tex."

The musical comedy, "Sittin' Pretty" is one of the feature plays now offered to posts. It tells the story of a doughboy who poses as a girl welfare worker in France, saves a party of A. W. O. L. soldiers from court martial, chaperones two charming daughters of a French nobleman, and saves the boys from drowning in the River Cognac. The address of the bureau is A. E. F. Library, 60 West Fortieth street, New York City.

MRS. NANCY SHARP, of Los Angeles, who says she received the greatest surprise of her life when Tanlac completely restored her health after she had almost lost hope of ever getting well. Suffered twelve years.

"After seeing the wonderful results my husband obtained from Tanlac I began taking the medicine myself, and now we both agree that it is the greatest medicine on earth," said Mrs. Nancy Sharp, a prominent and highly esteemed resident of Los Angeles, Cal., living at 221 Canine street, whose husband is proprietor of the Merchants Express Co.

"During the twelve years that I suffered with indigestion and stomach trouble I tried nearly every medicine I heard about, but nothing helped me and I lost faith in everything. So, my wonderful restoration to health has been the greatest surprise of my life.

"I began to feel an improvement on finishing my second bottle of Tanlac, and now after taking six bottles I am like a new woman. I have a splendid appetite, eat three hearty meals a day, enjoy them thoroughly and am never troubled in the least with indigestion or any other disagreeable after effects.

"Before taking Tanlac most everything I ate caused my stomach to rebel and I would suffer for hours afterwards. I was so dreadfully nervous that many nights I never closed my eyes in sleep, but now I am not the least nervous, and I sleep like a child. My strength has been wonderfully increased, and I have much more energy.

"I just wish it was so everybody troubled like I was knew about this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Old Reliable Tonics

Kalamazoo, Mich.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proved very beneficial to me during the expectant period. I was run down and very weak. I took the Prescription and it was a great help to me in giving me strength.

"Nearly every member of my family has taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and found it an excellent tonic to build up the human system. I can highly recommend these medicines of Dr. Pierce's."—MRS. EVA HOLLENBECK, 209 W. Butler Court.

Dr. Pierce's medicines have been sold by druggists for over fifty years. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial of any of his medicines.

No Homes for Working Men.

Building of homes for working men and their families in American cities is not keeping pace with the number of factories being built, said John Hilder, manager of the civic development department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the Philadelphia chamber of commerce conference on building construction. "Such a program," Mr. Hilder said, "cannot long be continued without the workshops themselves feeling its ill effects. Probably they would be feeling it today were it not for the great amount of unemployment."

Workers in the United States.

According to the latest official statistics there are 38,162,336 persons ten years of age and over engaged in gainful occupations in the United States. BETTY

By RUBY H. MARTYN.

(Copyright 1921, by Martyn Newspaper Syndicate.)

Betty Allen's red hair flamed loose in the sunshine as she ran up the trim gravel path with the letter clutched in one hand and the soft parcel tucked carelessly under her blue gingham sleeve. Back in the kitchen she tossed the parcel on the chair and hurried to turn the ham in the smoking spitter. The letter she tore open and read in the fragrant haze of the cooking dinner.

"Very nice about wanting me to come and send a present to wear," she paraphrased at the end.

Her brother Bob mumbled something into the hand towel he was using on his socks-docked face. Bob understood that the letter was from a cousin, June Dow Winslow, whom Betty had discovered in Betty's home city. Don had worked on a local road survey for a month, that was long enough for him to discover Betty, and now Betty was going to visit this cousin June, whom the Allens had never seen, and run the gauntlet of Don's family under her wing.

"I suppose city people expect a country girl to have dowdy duds," teased Betty, as she flipped the ham again. "I just guess they don't need to send me clothes, if we are poor."

"Find out what's come before you dy clear off the handle!" suggested Bob.

Betty slipped the parcel string with the lampwick scissors, which happened to be handy. The stiff paper and soft, white inner wrappings fell from the folds of silken stuff that lay out over her firm, brown hands.

"Red!" gasped Betty, flushing hotly.

Bob gazed with mainly admiration at the crepe de chine that glowed and gleamed in his sister's hands. He had never imagined that stuff for clothes could be quite so alluringly beautiful.

"It's a peach of a color," he said.

"I'll make me look like a perfect fright! You never heard of a red dress on a red-haired girl, and I might just as well give up the whole trip as wear this color a single time. And it's real crepe de chine that I've always dreamed I might have a dress of if fairy dreams could come true!" wailed Betty.

"Then why in tunket didn't they send a black piece of goods?" temporized Bob.

"I hate black," dashed Betty. "I hate the everlasting colors red hair has to wear, and if you know how I want to get into the glaring red that other girls can, you'd wonder I don't use hair dye."

"Send the goods back. Tell the Jane we can get up clothes enough for you," said Bob.

"I'd go in my old silk if this wasn't red. I don't know just what to think, Bob. Either cousin Jane is an awful cat, or she wants to see her present come flying back, and I declare if she is going to see that!"

There was a wry smile on Betty's plump face as she put the smooth folds of the silken stuff on a parter chair. She was determined to run the gauntlet of cousin Jane and the Winslow family with her head in the air. Betty was flying the colors of her love for Don as she made drastic plans for that crepe de chine.

She reached the city some weeks later in the dusk of a featherly snow. Her new shoes slid awkwardly on the soft rugs that lay on cousin Jane's polished floors. There were strange hands to take off her wraps; and up in her own room Betty peered with some alarm at the cavernous closets and tiled bath and cheval mirrors and shaded lights.

Could Betty have guessed it, Cousin Jane in her own luxurious room was even more uncomfortable.

"The child has red hair!" she wailed. "I knew Don raved about red, but I never guessed the reason."

Cousin Jane's husband grinned.

"I wonder if her temper matches," he ventured.

"I wonder what she thought of that red stuff. The Allens always did have sense enough to know when they are insulted. But if Betty shows herself to Don Winslow in that shade of red he'll blink."

Cousin Jane snatched the clasp of her bracelet. She crossed the hall and knocked at Betty's door. When there was no answer she pushed open the door. A plain brush lay on the dressing table; Betty's shoes stood with laces against the wall, but Betty herself was not there.

Don's voice was what Cousin Jane heard as she went down the wide staircase, and a slender, radiant Betty in shimmering black smiled shyly from the deep chair Don had drawn to the open fire.

At midnight Betty knelt by Cousin Jane, too happy for many words. "Don's determined to keep loving me, and his people were dear. And when I'm so happy I don't want to be going a bit under false colors. Dear Cousin Jane, I dyed your beautiful red present until it was black as a bat. And I made it into this dress because I wanted Don to keep loving me."

"You are a dear, loyal diplomat," smiled Cousin Jane.

Betty jumped to her feet.

"Trust a red-haired girl!" she said, early.

OF COURSE IT WASN'T TRUE
Good Illustration of German Character in Simplicity Displayed by Soldier in France.

One American who remained at Lille during the German occupation used his time to study German character. He told Mrs. Corinna H. Smith and Mrs. Caroline R. Hill, authors of "Rising Above the Ills in France," one astonishing thing that he had noticed—the childish, unreasoning confidence that the German soldier had in whatever he was told by his superiors—and he gave this example of it. "I knew German," he said, "and one day I talked with a German sentry who was standing over some French civilians at work in a field. He was reading a newspaper and, turning to me, said indignantly, 'The French say we force civilians to work against their will. That's not true; this German paper denies it.' "I looked at him in amazement and asked, 'Well what are you doing yourself, standing here with your gun over these poor people?' "If I did not," was his naive answer, 'they would run away.'"
