

VERDICT IN D. J. & C. WRECK INQUEST

Conductor of Wrecked Interurban Car
Absolved of All Blame; No Mention of Motorman Winchell.

An inquest, investigating the death of Arthur C. Pierce, one of five persons killed Saturday evening, June 18, when a rear-end collision occurred on the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago electric interurban line at Warsaw switch east of Lima Center, was held Friday afternoon at the Sylvan town hall in this village. The verdict reached was to the effect that Mr. Pierce's death resulted when a green interurban car crashed into a yellow interurban, and that Conductor George Fletcher of the yellow car was not guilty of negligence in the matter. No mention was made regarding Motorman E. A. Winchell of the green car.

The inquest was conducted by Justice Howard F. Brooks. The jury was as follows: Donald Riley, D. E. Beach, John Frymuth, O. T. Hoover, John Finkbeiner, M. L. Burkhardt.

Twelve witnesses were examined in the order named: Harold Luick, Geo. Turnbull, Donald Bacon, Stanley Ochs, Fred Lewis, George Fletcher, Albert Schneider, R. E. Lyons, A. H. Cady, Dr. G. W. Palmer, Edwin Root, B. A. Winchell.

Harold Luick was at his father's home in Lima and saw the accident. He testified that he saw the yellow car pull into the switch, stopping at the far end of the siding. The green car followed four or five minutes later at an estimated speed of 45 miles per hour.

Chelsea Boys Testify.
George Turnbull and Donald Bacon, both Chelsea boys, were riding in the smoker of the green car, in the third seat back of the motorman. They testified they saw the motorman working the control and brake levers in an attempt to stop, but did not notice the car slacken speed.

Stanley Ochs of Detroit was in the second seat back of the motorman of the green car. He did not feel the car slacken speed.

Fred Lewis sat about half way back in the green car. He could not see the motorman. Estimated the speed of the car at 35 miles per hour.

George Fletcher, conductor of the yellow car, stated the usual meeting place was at Fiegl's switch, but due to some disarrangement in the schedules, the meeting place was changed. Both he and the crew of the green car had written orders. The green car came about one and a half minutes after the yellow car. He had left the switch stand to talk to the dispatcher, and was just leaving the telephone booth when the crash occurred. He claimed he had not violated any rule in leaving the switch open for the second section, and read from his rule book in support of his contention.

Didn't Have Time To Jump.
Albert Schneider appeared with a broken arm and a noticeable limp. He was on the rear platform of the yellow car smoking, but the crash came so quickly that he did not have time to jump clear of the cars. He thought the green car was running 30 to 40 miles per hour.

R. E. Lyons, conductor of the green car, was in the front vestibule with the motorman, ready to get his orders when the car stopped at the switch. He did not notice whether the brakes were applied.

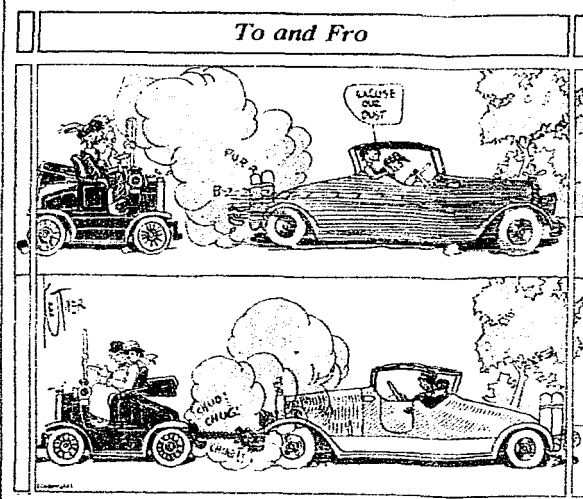

A. H. Cady, superintendent of the D. J. & C., said no report had been made regarding trouble with the brakes of the green car previous to the wreck.

Dr. G. W. Palmer testified that he arrived at the wreck about a half hour after it happened. He found Mr. Pierce dead.

Edwin Root, motorman of the yellow car, said the crash came four or five minutes after he pulled in on the siding.

Motorman Green Car Testifies.

B. A. Winchell, motorman of the green car, said he had trouble with the brakes all the way from Ypsilanti where he took charge of the car, but thought that he could make the run through to Jackson and have the matter reported there. He had made stops at the Ypsilanti waiting room, the Lake Shore crossing between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, at State street and at Ann Arbor waiting room. The brakes did not work as effectively as usual and he had to apply them sooner. He looked at the air gauge at Dexter road, and it then showed normal pressure. He tried to apply the brakes on Ward's hill about 3,000 feet east of the point where the wreck occurred, but they failed to hold and he tried to reverse, but that failed also.

Both Winchell and Lyons stuck to their car, but neither was seriously injured.

FARM BUREAU WOOL

The state Farm Bureau wool-grading teams have pooled 74,000 pounds of wool during their five days stay in this county according to the county agent. At Chelsea 18,000 pounds were pooled, 16,000 at Dexter, 17,000 at Manchester, and 17,000 at Saline.

The farmers appeared well satisfied with the results, according to the county agent. Always a group of spectators were engaged in watching the grading and asking questions. According to Mr. Osler, the educational value has been great, for the producers learned the grade of wool best for marketing.

Fifty per cent of the value of the wool was advanced to the producer upon delivery at the pooling place. The grading teams are now working over the state and a total of 60,000 pounds of graded wool is being pooled every day. There is now a total of 2,000,000 pounds that is already in pools and it is expected that the huge pile of wool in Michigan will be greater than last year, when it reached 3,500,000 pounds.

The grading team will return to the county in July and it is expected that about 50,000 more pounds will be pooled. The teams will be at Chelsea on July 11th, at Dexter on the 12th, at Saline on the 13th, and at Manchester on the 14th.

RUNCIMAN—BITTEN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Runciman was the scene of an interesting wedding Saturday evening, June 25, 1921, when their daughter, Sylvia, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur B. Bitten of Brighton.

At seven o'clock the ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. Beatty of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the ring service being used. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Thelma Bitten, sister of the groom, and Mr. Lyle Runciman, brother of the bride.

The bride's gown was of cream crepe over white Duchess satin, with pearl trimmings, and she carried a shower bouquet of white columbina roses and swansonia. The bridesmaid was dressed in pink dotted Swiss and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The house was artistically decorated throughout with pink roses and ferns, the wedding party standing before an improvised altar of ferns and roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Chelsea high school, class 1915, and of Michigan State Normal college, class 1917, and had been a teacher for four years, including two years in Brighton and the past year in Lansing at the Moore Park school.

About fifty guests were present, among whom were relatives and friends from Detroit, Lansing, Flint, Williamston, Stockbridge, and Dexter, Michigan, and Dayton, Ohio.

WHO LANDS THE FISH?

A Chelsea man caught a black bass which weighed four and three-quarters pounds the other day; another man caught a pike or pickerel which weighed six pounds—and we heard several other men who viewed these piscatorial prizes say something about luck. "They're lucky guys," said one. "Just damn fool luck," added another. "I never have any." All of those men had fished in the same lakes, their opportunities to catch fish were the same; but only two men caught worth while fish, and the others said it was luck.

But it strikes us that fishing isn't all luck—it's being everlastingly on the job. Gorman lake where the big bass was caught and Four Mile lake which grow that six pound pike are fishing grounds available to any of us and if we fish them faithfully and wisely we're bound to catch a "big one" some day. The boys who catch the big fish are the ones who like to fish and who never let pass an opportunity to fish.

And so in life—the really successful men and women are those who like the job and who are at it early and late. Luck plays a mighty small part in success—it's knowing how and being on the job that leads most surely to the top of the ladder.

"Spittin' on the hook may lure some fish, it may be a sort of luck charm; but spittin' on the hands and digging in hard is the best sort of success bait we know about."

WATER PLANT TESTED.

The water works system, which Dexter has put in for fire protection for the business section, was tested out Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning. The standard size hose was used and two streams at once were thrown over the tops of the three story buildings. The entire length of hose, about 100 feet was then attached, reaching up Ann Arbor street as far as Blanchard's garage, and an equally strong stream was thrown.

There are three hydrants and the water is forced from the raceway below the mill by a 30 horsepower pump which may be started by pressing an electric button, three of which will be located at different points, yet to be determined.—Leader.

EXPERIMENT WITH NEW CROPS

Company to Ascertain Whether Certain Corn Crops Can Be Raised On Large Scale With Profit.

Iron Mountain, Mich.—The most important and biggest land clearing and agricultural project ever attempted in the upper peninsula of Michigan has been launched by the Rosebush Ranch company, a subsidiary of the Patten Paper company, of Appleton, Wis., owners of the Triangle Ranch company at Amasa, about 45 miles from this city.

The project is that of clearing 15,000 acres of virgin land and putting it into agricultural use as well as stock grazing use, as soon as possible.

The owners desire to make their ranch a perfect feeding ground for western cattle, and also to ascertain whether certain crops can be produced on their soil on a large scale with a profit. The owners are determined to make a success of the ranch and will stress this undertaking.

Land clearing operations will cover a three-year period, during which time 2,500 acres will be transformed each year into level ploughed fields, ready for crops. As soon as the land has been prepared, the company will enter the agricultural field on a wholesale scale. Agricultural experts will be employed.

Fifty-six men are on the pay roll now, 10 of them in the land clearing operations. Four motor tractors and nine teams are being used to drag stumps out of the way and haul underbrush.

The inquest has been postponed until Dr. Collier who was also seriously wounded could attend and testify in his own behalf. His friends say he shot in self-defense.

SWEENEY GETS APPOINTMENT

New Escheat Chief Will Administer Funds Under New Law.

Lansing—The state inaugurated a new policy of dealing with estates of persons who die intestate and without heirs with the appointment with Governor Groesbeck of Henry S. Sweeney, assistant attorney-general, to the office of state administrator.

The previous plan had been for probate courts to appoint local administrators who handled the estate until all claims had been paid, including very liberal fees for themselves, and then turned the remainder over to the state board of escheats. This resulted in great loss to the state which will be eliminated, it is believed by the new policy.

LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE JUNE 30

GOVERNOR CALLS ANOTHER SPECIAL SESSION TO AMEND SOLDIER BONUS BILL.

TAX EXEMPT CLAUSE IS WANTED

Bankers Refuse to Buy Bonds Until Change Is Made; May Issue Short Term Bonds.

Lansing—Governor Alex J. Groesbeck has issued a proclamation calling the legislature for another special session to convene Thursday, June 30, at 1 o'clock, to act upon the soldier bonus legislation.

The legislature will be asked to consider several plans to make the bond issue popular. One of these is to make the issue tax exempt, although Representative George Lord, the financial expert of the house, holds the belief that this is beyond the power of the legislature under the constitution. He suggests instead that the rate of interest be raised to 6 per cent, and that a specific tax of one-half of 1 per cent be imposed. Some of the bankers who have conferred with the state administrative board are insistent that the increased rate be considered.

Another proposal is to issue 6 per cent notes for several millions to tide over the present, and to issue the bonds when the market is more favorable. Failing all else, it is Governor Groesbeck's intention to appeal to the public to take up the bonds. It is believed that such a drive would be successful if the bonds were issued in denominations of $50 and upwards instead of $1,000.

If the legislature remains in session only two days, the time considered adequate by Governor Groesbeck, the special session will cost about $7,500. If it remains for 10 days, the time given as a minimum by members now in Lansing, it will cost about $12,000. The fact that the difference is not proportionate to the number of days is due to a provision that the state must pay mileage of members coming to and returning from sessions, regardless of the length of the sessions.

The members receive $5 a day, during special sessions, for the first 20 days that the legislature is technically in session. This includes the period between actual adjournment and the technical final adjournment. Those familiar with legislative custom say that, even though the actual work were completed in the two days considered necessary by the governor, the technical adjournment would probably be delayed 10 days so that the members would receive $60 pay instead of $10.

IT'S TIME TO ADVERTISE!

(Lorham County News)

If ever in the history of this country advertising was needed it is right now. There are certain classes of business which can benefit by general advertising, but that is not what the buying public is looking for today. They want to know particulars. They want prices. They want to know just what they are going to get for their money. They want to be told of the quality and workmanship as well as the price. They will put "two and two together" and make up their minds whether or not to buy. The buying public is not flush with money today. People are getting back to where they must make a dollar buy a dollar's worth. A few cents saved from each dollar is what they are looking for. They are shopping around to find the best price. They are finding it too. And they are buying where they can get the best. If they are not offered the bottom price one place, they go where they can get it. In other words, the days of competition are rapidly returning. The merchant who is inclined to seed at this idea is going to wake up and find that he is out of luck. The individual who has some article which should be sold can turn it into cash by letting buyers know that it is for sale. If he lets these opportunities slip to "cash in" he is losing that much real money that he will need badly in the next few years if he doesn't need it right now.

EATING ON THE RUN.

Feeding 500 drivers without stopping the long string of automobiles en route to Chicago was the task efficiently accomplished last Thursday by a Kalamazoo restaurant. Advance notice of the onslaught on the restaurant came from the Buick company Wednesday evening, in a telegram asking that complete lunches be prepared and held ready on the sidewalk for the drivers. The lunch boxes were passed out to each driver as he slowed down at the curb. A station was set up a few miles west of Kalamazoo where the drivers passed their empty lunch boxes and empty bottles back to an agent of the restaurant without stopping.

WORKS WITHOUT A BATTERY

Ingenious Flashlight Evolved by the Germans During the Closing Days of the War.

When the Germans could get no more batteries for pocket flashlights they invented a flashlight that needed no battery, and this was used extensively by officers in the army in the last year of the war. A few of these ingenious things reached New York recently as samples, a manufacturer desiring to know whether there would be a sale for them in America.

Instead of a battery to supply the electric current to the lamp, there is a dynamo. This is set in motion by pulling a chord which, through a train of cogwheels and a rubber band, starts an armature spinning between two coils, thus producing the electric current that serves the lamp. Each downward pull of the cord produces enough electricity for five seconds.

Batteryless Flashlight is Operated by a Cord.

The apparatus is not much larger than a shoe polish box and much the same shape. It is hung by a cord from the neck, the operating cord hanging below in a position convenient for pulling.

The mechanism is enclosed in a tin box, painted gray. The lid is easily removable, but is watertight. Every time the cord is pulled the spring returns it instantly to its position of rest, so that this can have a steady light by keeping on pulling the cord.

The mechanism is strongly made, and there seems no reason why it should not last indefinitely. It is not quite so convenient as a flashlight with a battery, but it has the advantage over this of containing no essential part that must constantly be renewed and that has a habit of giving out just when it is impossible to replace it. It is impossible to replace it as new and when it is urgently needed.

FRED M. WARNER

Dairy interests exhibiting at the state fair in Detroit next September 2 to 11 will have more attention than ever before.

Fred M. Warner, former governor of Michigan, widely known as one of the best informed dairymen in the state, will be the state fair board member in charge of this department.

His acceptance of this post and his personal attention to it during the ten days of the fair make it certain that this important department will take front rank in interest with visitors to the fair. With Mr. Warner will be associated, as superintendent, Mr. H. D. Wendt, secretary of the Michigan Allied Dairy Association.

RICH REWARDS FOR 1921 STATE FAIR EXHIBITORS

A new high record will be reached in premium awards this year at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit, September 2 to 11. Numerous increases will be made over awards of last year, and those were among the highest ever paid in the United States.

Not only will there be a larger variety of premiums, but a notable increase in the regular awards. Prizes offered for the best of the popular breeds of cattle in Michigan will be especially alluring to livestock men who pride themselves on the excellence of their bred stock. "Liberal premium lists attract the best exhibits," says Secretary-Manager G. W. Dickinson, of the state fair. "Encouragement must be given by the fair to the farmer who devotes his time to improving his breeds of stock or to the raising of the very highest grades of farm products."

"This has always been our policy and the increases in value of premiums each year has been accompanied by an increased showing in the class of exhibits. These in turn have attracted more and more attention to the fair, with the result that steadily increased earnings have enabled the fair to maintain its growth from year to year until it has assumed the front rank."

"We will be able to make it well worth while for the farmer to send his best produce and stock to the fair and thus procure a farming exhibit which will do credit to Michigan and help maintain the balance with exhibits of other character."
