

FIRST RAILROAD TRAIN

Famous "DeWitt" Clinton Locomotive And Cars Will Be Here For Ten Minutes Thursday Morning.

America's first and most famous train, including the DeWitt Clinton locomotive and three coaches, will arrive in Chelsea, Thursday morning at 11:15 Eastern time, and will make a ten minutes stop here. The exhibit will be drawn by another famous New York Central lines locomotive, the "999," which formerly hauled the Empire state express and which established a record of 112.5 miles per hour on May 10, 1893.

The "DeWitt Clinton" and "999" were on exhibition at the recent Pageant of Progress exposition at Chicago, where they were viewed by thousands attending the exposition.

In celebration of its ninetieth anniversary the DeWitt Clinton locomotive had its wood fires rekindled and showed its prowess by hauling the pioneer train a few miles on several occasions. A public demonstration, witnessed by hundreds of thousands, was given in New York city in New York Central railroad's west terminal on Sunday afternoon, July 17. The old engine behaved well, attaining a speed of about eight miles an hour.

Not only does the DeWitt Clinton hold rank as a locomotive that pioneered the way in steam passenger service in America, but it also ranks as one of the pioneer engines in world railroading. It was only 11 years after the first public railroad had been planned in England that the historic locomotive pulled the first passenger train over the Mohawk & Hudson railroad.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Wolverine Crashes into Milford Party On West Guthrie Crossing And One Is Slightly Injured.

Miss Pearl Woodworth of Milford was bruised about the face, her nose broken, and sustained other minor injuries Sunday afternoon when the Ford automobile in which she was riding was struck by the Wolverine, a fast eastbound passenger train on the Michigan Central railroad, at West Guthrie crossing, three miles west of Chelsea.

A party of six young people, all from Milford, were motoring in two cars. When they reached the railroad crossing they were halted by a passing freight train. As soon as the freight cleared the crossing, the first machine started across before having a clear view of the eastbound track and drove directly in front of the Wolverine. Fortunately, the automobile had nearly cleared the crossing and the train struck only the rear end of the body, clipping off the rear seat, which was unoccupied. The second machine carried four persons.

After being given first aid treatment Miss Woodworth was able to go on to her home. Other members of the party were Misses Jessie Davis and Vina Buell, Frank, Chester and Charles Arthur.

SUICIDES CLAIM 215

Estimate Michigan Loses 2,000 Years Of Productive Labor Through Suicidal Deaths.

While suicides do not show as morbid an increase in Michigan as in several states, the number of deaths from this cause is still alarmingly high, according to reports for the first six months of 1921 received by the division of vital statistics of the state department of health.

Suicidal deaths totaled 215 from Jan. 1 to July 1, giving Michigan a death rate from this cause, of 11.3 per 100,000 population, a rate higher than the typhoid fever death rate. Of this number, 166 were males and 49 females; 122 were married, 47 were single, and the remainder widowed or divorced.

Firearms led all causes of suicide with 60 deaths, 56 of which were males and 4 females; poison claimed 49 deaths, 32 men and 17 women; strangulation 47 deaths, 39 men and 8 women; instruments 23 deaths, 17 men and 6 women; drowning 16 deaths, 11 men and 5 women; asphyxiation 13 deaths, 6 men and 7 women; and other means 7 deaths.

Forty-three years was the average age of those who committed suicide, though in reality comparatively few persons of this age group were included, the preponderance of individuals being either considerably younger or older than 43 years. Statisticians of the division estimate that Michigan lost the equivalent of 2,000 years of one person's productive labor through suicides during the first half of the present year.

FIRE PALMER'S GARAGE.

A fire alarm about 5:45 Saturday morning for a blaze at Palmer's Garage found the village fire truck first on the job for the reason that it is stored in that garage in readiness to answer calls promptly. The fire undoubtedly caught from a gas soldering torch in the southeast corner of the second floor of the work room, setting fire to a wooden bench and a nearby window casing. A quantity of battery repairs and supplies was damaged by the fire, but aside from that, comparatively little loss resulted.

Did you know that the Michigan State Fair took rank last year as the best fair in all America? It will be better still in its next show in Detroit, Sept. 4-11.

OUR NEIGHBORS' DOINGS

What's Happening In Neighboring Towns and Localities.

BRIGHTON—A substitute for the long looked for interurban railroad between Detroit and Lansing has arrived. On Wednesday an autobus line started between these points which runs hourly machines in both directions.—Argus.

YPSILANTI—Everett Lyon on Thursday paid a fine of $25 and $3.70 costs in justice court for fraudulently using electric current of the Detroit Edison company. Lyon pleaded guilty to making a connection in front of the meter so that he was getting electricity for a while free.—Record.

SALINE—E. D. Skinner, cashier and director of the Saline Savings bank, has resigned to become cashier of the Royal Oak Savings bank. Geo. A. Lehman, who left Saline last fall, has been promoted to vice president of the Royal Oak bank, and Mr. Skinner goes to fill Mr. Lehman's position.

POWERSVILLE—T. K. Parshall, Hartland township farmer and member of the Livingston county board road commissioners met with a serious accident recently. Mr. Parshall was in a blacksmith shop at Parshallville having some repairs made to one of the gravel screens, when a piece of hot steel flew from the forge, striking him in the eye. The steel was removed with forceps and Mr. Parshall was taken to an Ann Arbor hospital where it was deemed necessary to remove the eye as the sight was destroyed. It will be some time before he will be able to leave the hospital, it is said.

YPSILANTI—While returning from his work at the Ford plant at River Rouge, Thursday, John Percy, who was riding in the Pierre bus, had his elbow projecting out of the window when a large truck loaded with steel drove so near to the bus that the end swayed, breaking his arm and cutting his finger. Several stitches had to be taken. The accident happened near Eloise. He was given medical attention at the hospital there. Mr. Percy takes the blame upon himself; he was warned every day and only a few minutes before the accident occurred, about having his arm out of the window.

PURPLE MARTINS BACK.

Many have noted large flocks of Purple Martins in and around Chelsea recently—an unusual sight of late years since the advent of the English Sparrow, which had seemingly driven the Martin away. But now the Martins are again welcome visitors.

The Purple Martin is the largest and one of the most beautiful of the swallow family. Originally, it nested in tree cavities, but with the coming of man-built structures it rapidly adapted itself to the new conditions and nested in likely nooks about barns and houses. Of late the English Sparrow has driven it away from such nesting places and it had become quite unusual to see the Martins in Chelsea.

The Purple Martin is one of the most potent factors in controlling insect life as more than three-fourths of its food is made up of bugs, beetles, noxious, harmful weevils, crane flies, moths, May flies and dragon flies. With this fact in mind, it might be well worth while to erect bird houses especially adapted to these feathered benefactors of mankind, and so encourage them to remain with us.

GRANGE ASSEMBLY WAS BIG SUCCESS

Two Chelsea People Took An Active Part In Arrangements.

The success of Washtenaw Pomona Grange assembly at Pleasant Lake this year was due in a large measure to the able management of Mrs. N. W. Laird, master of the county grange organization, and George T. English, for years prominent in all grange activities and the man who originated the idea of a grange assembly and who has taken an active part in its promotion since the first assembly in 1919.

This year Mr. English introduced a new feature in the camp for farmer boys during the week of the assembly and this promises to be just as popular as has the assembly itself.

Both Mrs. Laird and Mr. English are Chelsea people of whom the community has reason to be proud.

DETROITERS LISTED AS MAFIA VICTIMS

SICILIAN CONFESSES MOST OF BAND'S KILLINGS WERE IN AUTO CITY.

BODIES ARE SECRETLY BURIED

Detroit Officer Investigates Charge That Slain Men Were Interred Near 7-Mile Road.

Detroit—Charges that Sicilian gunmen paid by wealthy Sicilians and gang leaders had slain many Detroit men within the last 6 years and in as many as a dozen instances buried the bodies in farm land in the neighborhood of Grosse Pointe and Seven Mile Road without the knowledge of authorities, were made last week to James Dowd, deputy sheriff and former detective lieutenant by a Sicilian whose name was withheld.

The man visited Mr. Dowd following publication of dispatches giving the confession in New York last week of Bertolo Fontano, alleged gangster, who takes responsibility, according to police, for one slaying and charges that the Black Hand, of which he was a forced member, killed nine Italians in Detroit and a large number in other cities.

"Farm land in the neighborhood of Seven Mile Road and Grosse Pointe is known to us as the 'burying ground of the Black Hand.' There is more than one man buried there who disappeared and about whom the police know nothing," the Sicilian told Mr. Dowd.

Bert McPherson, detective lieutenant in charge of the Black Hand Squad here, will investigate the charges and an attempt will be made to locate some of the bodies.

Several times within the last few years farmers have stumbled on bodies of slain Sicilians. One was found buried near a fence with a dagger between his ribs, his face slashed so he could not be recognized.

The prohibition law, bone of contention among American factions, is linked with the Mafia killings throughout the United States in the confession of Fontano. Fontano, arrested with seven others, said he was part of the world-wide organization which is devoting itself to the run-running business in the United States.

Detroit has seen in the last five years 70 murders of Sicilians, some of them wealthy men, and in that time only one man was sent to prison—he was released following a new trial.

The brothers and sisters and parents of the slain foundist, by tribal law recognize not American law and refuse to divulge information which might lead to the conviction of the murderer. His punishment is left to members of his race.

Fontano also declared that the organization has a fund of $500,000 and perfect working machinery in the United States to defend members caught by the police.

TRIPLE PACIFIC PLEDGE URGED

Lloyd George Would Have U. S. As Part of Japan Pact.

London—"If the alliance with Japan could be merged into a greater understanding with Japan and the United States on all the problems of the Pacific, that would be a great event and it would be a guaranty for the peace of the world."

Thus spoke Premier Lloyd George before the House of Commons, outlining the work of the recent conference on the Imperial preferences on the Anglo-Japanese alliance. The premier declared that Great Britain was indebted to Japan for aid during the World War and that recognition of the service was proper, and at the same time preserve a spirit of fraternity with the United States.

RUSH FOOD TO STARVING RUSSIA

Soviet Government Accepts Conditions Laid Down By United States.

Washington—A satisfactory agreement has been reached with the Soviet authorities at Riga under which the American relief administration immediately began to fight famine among the children of Russia. Secretary Hoover has announced. The agreement provides for the safeguarding of the lives of the relief workers and insuring control of the food supplies.

The New York office of the administration has already prepared vessels to rush supplies to Danzig for transshipment into Russia. It is expected that the supplies will be the same as those used for relief work in Austria and Poland.

Cruise World in 98 Foot Yacht.

New York—Albert Y. Goewen of Chicago has started on a cruise around the world in a 98 foot power yacht, built here especially for the trip. The 18-month cruise will take the party to the South Sea Islands, China, the Philippines and Africa. The prime purpose of the trip is to explore the rivers of the South Sea Islands.

Carries 45 Caliber Gun to Protect Dollar Bill

Detroit—Convinced that Detroit was a wicked city and determined to protect the dollar bill in his pocket, Kenneth Martin, 17, in his pocket, stepped off a Grand Rapids train last week with a .45-caliber revolver nearly as large as himself strapped to his belt. He ran about of Patrolman Luther Hamilton, of Section Station, however, and was arrested for carrying concealed weapons. Martin was sent to the Juvenile Detention Home. Two youths with him were not held. The prisoner told Lieut. William Fitzpatrick he came here to find work and was going to take no chances with handouts.

CANADA RUM IMPORTS CHECKED

U. S. Officials, State Troopers and Police Watch Shores of River.

Detroit—United States customs officials here are throwing the entire strength of their organization against liquor smuggling from Canada. They have stationed agents at secret points along the river to check up on liquor boats en route from Canada.

A number of state troopers are also at work to stop the flow of beer and liquor into down river points.

The present carnival of rum running was started by Magistrate Gundy's decision in a recent case, at Windsor, Ontario, that officials could not interfere with shipments of beer from Canada to the United States.

Pending the decision of cases in New York and Detroit, and a final judicial interpretation of the matter of rum shipments from a foreign point passing over the United States on route to a foreign destination, orders have been issued by Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, instructing customs agents not to tamper with such shipments.

D. A. R. TO HONOR INDIAN TREATY

WILL VISIT PLACES OF HISTORICAL LORE AUGUST 29 AS CENTENARY PILGRIMAGE.

TERMS OF TREATY INTERESTING

In Addition to Cash Payment, U. S. Promised Indians a "Blacksmith and Teacher."

Three Rivers, Mich.—In honor of the 100th anniversary of the Chicago treaty, Daughters of the American Revolution on August 29 will make a "centenary pilgrimage," following old Indian trails and visiting places of historical lore.

Under the Chicago treaty, signed at Fort Dearborn, chiefs of the Ottawa, Chippewa and Pottawatomie tribes ceded their land to the government, thus bringing to a close their battle with the "white men."

The D. A. R.'s itinerary for the pilgrimage follows the Cassinaway and Gibson trading post and the Sac's war trail, the Jacksonburg road, the Chicago trail, Bucks, Meach, Enoch, Wagon-sweep ford, Downing trading post, Fort Hogan, Appletree ford, Beisel, Puddleburg and Marantiatte trading post.

The Chicago treaty was signed by the authorized commissioners, General Lewis Cass and Solomon Sibley, surrounded by more than 60 Indian warriors, as they pledged the word of the United States government to three uncivilized nations.

The terms of the treaty are interesting. The United States promised the Ottawa nation $1,000 in specie annually forever and $1,500 annual for ten years for the support of "a Blacksmith and a Teacher and a person to instruct the Ottawa in agriculture." The Pottawatomie nation was to receive $5,000 annually for 20 years and $1,000 for 15 years for a "Blacksmith and a Teacher."

The Indians granted the United States the privileges of constructing a road from Chicago to Detroit by way of Ft. Wayne along the Indian trail now known as the Chicago road.

The treaty ceded the territory which lies between Lake Michigan and the grants of 1807 and 1817; from the Grand river south to the Indian state line includes many places of commercial importance, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Niles, St. Joseph, Three Rivers, Hastings, Allegan, Marshall and Coldwater. The proclamation of the Chicago treaty occurred March 22, 1822.
