

HOW MUNITH VILLAGE RECEIVED ITS NAME

Michigan History Magazine Claims It Is Derived From the Bavarian
City of Munich.

In a recent issue of the Michigan History Magazine is published an unsigned article respecting the origin of the name of the village of Munith, located a few miles northwest of Chelsea, in Jackson county, which we republish in part, as follows:

The name Munith originated before the railroad was built and was adopted for the name of the village later. Several years before the railroad was built, there was a postoffice established at the residence of Nelson Hoyt, on section 19, township of Waterloo, and in the task of selecting a name acceptable to the postoffice department (there can be no duplicate of the name of any postoffice in the State) the name of Munich, a city situated in the southeastern part of Bavaria, was mentioned, and at the suggestion of Charles H. Smith the letter "e" was dropped and the letter "i" substituted therefor, making the word Munith.

The Michigan Air Line division of the Grand Trunk railroad was surveyed in 1882, graded in 1883, track laid and trains running in the fall of '84. In the spring of '85 the Munith postoffice was transferred from the residence of Nelson Hoyt on section 19, Waterloo township, to Sutton's Crossing on the new railroad. When the town was platted by Hiram Sutton, the name of Munith was fixed as the name of the new village.

ROGERS CORNERS BRIEFS.

The Ladies Aid society will hold its annual meeting at St. John's parsonage, next Wednesday.

Supervisor Barney Bertke is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russ, Fred and Amanda Feldkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Feldkamp, and Mrs. Fred Hawley attended the funeral of Fred Haus in Ann Arbor, Wednesday.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE.

The last legislature passed an act to regulate the use of the public streets and highways of the state by certain vehicles, to require such vehicles to display lights during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof.

To Display Light.

Section 1. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person to drive, or cause or permit to be driven, upon any incorporated village or city street or a trunk line highway of this state, any vehicle, including wagons, buggies and carriages drawn by horses or other draft animals, during the period, or any portion thereof, from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, unless there shall be displayed in a conspicuous place on the left side of such vehicle a light of such an arrangement and character that the same may be plainly seen either from the front or rear at a distance of not less than three hundred feet.

Penalty.

Section 2. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to a fine of not more than five dollars.

This law is now in effect and common safety demands that the provisions thereof be observed by all.

KEMPFF-ADAMS.

Miss Flora Kempf of Chelsea and Dr. Carlos L. Adams of Hudson were united in marriage Wednesday, September 28, 1921, at Central M. E. church in Detroit. They will reside in Hudson, where Dr. Adams is the Methodist pastor.

The bride has taught in the Jackson city schools for several years past and spent the past year abroad, traveling in Europe, and visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles S. Winans, in Prague, Bohemia. She returned to this country only two weeks ago.

Dr. Adams is a former pastor of the M. E. church here, and is well known to many in Chelsea.

SERMONS IN AD COLUMN

Qualities Which Lead To Success Are There Listed Repeatedly.

There are sermons in the "Help Wanted" advertisement pages of the newspapers and magazines.

These advertisements are getting longer. Employers no longer advertise that they merely want stenographers, bookkeepers, salesmen, advertising men, superintendents, executives.

We have before us the classified page of a newspaper of wide circulation, this particular section being devoted to ads addressed to salesmen and advertising men.

One advertiser says: "The man we are interested in is full of initiative, energy, ideas and ideals and ready to qualify for success."

Another speaks "an aggressive chap... a hustler who can cover ground and get things done."

A third says, "We require a man who has a fine personality, a successful sales record, and who can show previous successful record with high-grade concern."

Another "has an unusual opportunity for an advertising woman with personality who is something more than a mere copy writer."

In another publication we read of an opportunity for a man "who can produce and is not satisfied with anything but the best results" and for a "systematic man who can deliver work with dispatch."

A large corporation states: "We have an immediate opening for a man with ability to organize, direct, and get results from a staff of salesmen. He must have balance. He must have speed. He must have initiative and imagination. Above all, he must have personality. For the right man, this carries with it the chance to accomplish some of the biggest things ever done in business, and we wish to leave no stone unturned to find the right man."

Note the qualities that are emphasized in these advertisements: Initiative, energy, imagination, judgment, ideas, ideals, aggressiveness, personality, system.

They are the keys to success in modern life. Employers pay good money to find men who possess them, which is a sure indication that they want them and will pay for them.

STANFIELD-BARKER.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stanfield of Lyndon township, and Mr. William L. Barker of Mason were united in marriage Wednesday, October 5, 1921, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. L. Snell of Fitchburg officiating. Miss Clarissa Stanfield and Mr. Wayne Barker were the attendants. About 30 intimate friends and relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Barker will reside near Mason.

NEW CONTRIBUTOR TO TRIBUNE

Charles Bertrand Lewis, who is known from coast to coast under the nom de plume of M. Quad, takes the palm when it comes to continuous production of a popular newspaper feature. For 40 years he has written "Bowler" stories and they are in greater demand today than ever before. This is explained by the fact that there is more humor in the Bowler stories than is characteristic of M. Quad, and that is different from the humor of any other author.

The Tribune has arranged to run several of these popular stories and you will make no mistake by turning to page three of this issue and reading the first one.

IN THE SCHOOLS.

A literary society was formed Wednesday afternoon in the high school. The girls' section elected officers as follows: President, Gertrude Eppler; vice president, Dorothy Dancer; secretary, Emily Weinman; treasurer, LaMoine Mann. The officers of the boys' section are: President, Lowell Hughes; vice president, Russell Jaeger; secretary, Herbert Huch; treasurer, Walter Breuninger. The society expects to affiliate with the state high school oratorical association and to join in debating contests with other schools. It is probable that several plays will be given, also.

Monthly report cards were issued yesterday.

Miss Stum has taken charge of the eighth grade history class, formerly taught by Mrs. Johnson.

School will be dismissed Monday in order that all teachers may attend the county institute in Ann Arbor.

St. Mary school football team defeated the high school second team, Wednesday on Holmes' field, 32 to 6.

Several cases of scarlet fever are reported, including the little daughter of Mrs. Johnson, who has charge of the seventh grade session room.

The sophomore class has elected officers as follows: President, Leonard Withersell; vice president, Vera Harvey; secretary, Ray Knickerbocker; treasurer, Lois Grable.

CAVANAUGH LAKE GRANGE.

Cavanaugh lake grange will meet in the church basement, Tuesday evening, October 11th. The program follows:

Roll call—Why I like the grange. Reading—Arden Loveland. Best methods of spraying, cultivating, storing and marketing potatoes. Discussion opened by P. H. Riemen-schneider.

Ways of using potatoes. Discussion opened by Mrs. F. W. Notten. Recitation—Lloyd Heydlauff. Scrub lunch.

IMPROVED ROAD SIGNS.

Extensive improvements in the road signs on the main highways of the state are being planned by the state highway department, and will be carried into effect before next year.

Commissioner Frank Rogers on Tuesday outlined to the state administrative board some of his ideas. He proposes, in addition to the present system, to add signs telling the distances between cities and towns on each road, and to also post similar signs at the intersections of the main highways.

Steel signs bearing the highway numbers, are to replace the present wooden signs. The state prison at Jackson has been given a contract to manufacture these signs at a cost of about half of that paid at present. The signs will be all of metal, and will be indestructible.

PICKED OUT WRONG COLLEGE

Mrs. Cassidy's Own Fault That She Did Not Hear From Her Daughter Regularly.

Mrs. McIntyre was calling upon Mrs. Cassidy, whose husband was in affluent circumstances and whose daughter had, therefore, been sent away to college.

"My the way," said Mrs. McIntyre, when the two had been gossiping for awhile, "where is Clara? I haven't seen her for ages."

"Clara is at college," promptly responded the fond mother, and then added: "And I am so worried about her. I haven't had a letter from her for nearly two weeks."

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

A Real Climber.

"Of all the nerve I ever saw, Miss Upstart has the most complete supply! She seems to think her newly-acquired wealth will take her anywhere," said a disgruntled acquaintance of the lady.

"Well, it has taken her into the exclusive Country club, anyway, I hear," said another.

"Yes, but that is not the limit of her ambitions, by any means. I heard her bragging at luncheon that she thought she would send in her application to join the League of Nations!"

Nursing and Disease.

Dr. Anne Moldenhauer of Berlin has been experimenting with nursing mothers who had various diseases. She finds that except in open tuberculous and dysentery, which are doubtful, the child receives no injury from nursing and that in few cases is the supply of milk much reduced.

LEGION MAN IS LIFE SAVER

John L. Piazza, Officer 4944, New York Police Force, Well Deserves His Medal.

Saving lives is almost a specialty with officer 4944 of the New York police force, former private and top sergeant of the Three Hundred and Twelfth Infantry, A. E. F., now a member of the General Lafayette Police post, American Legion, in New York City. Patrolman Piazza, John L., wears the Distinguished Service Cross.

It was in the Argonne in October, 1918, near Grand Pre, Piazza, advancing with his platoon, saw a badly wounded officer lying alone in No Man's Land, abandoned when his lines fell back to reform. On his stomach, Piazza crawled out to the spot, slung the wounded man over his shoulder and standing erect, carried him to safety with the shells whistling and exploding.

Discharged from the army, Patrolman Piazza resumed his beat in the far reaches of the borough of the Bronx. It wasn't long after that when he dashed up into a burning building, rescued an invalid woman and carried her to the street. Shortly after that he stopped a runaway horse and saved a group of women and children from injury. Officer 4944 is twenty-nine years old, married and the father of a son.

WAS 62 WHEN HE ENLISTED

Former Train Dispatcher Did Good Service for Uncle Sam—An Enthusiastic Legion Man.

Sixty-two years young he was, H. E. Lamb, Worthington, Minn., told the recruiting officers during the war. So they enlisted him and sent him to a chilly berth in faraway Siberia. He weathered nine months of it to make it a good bargain.

Mr. Lamb was living a life of retirement on a farm near Worthington when America entered the war. He had been a train dispatcher and he thought his services would be valuable. The army thought so, too, and enlisted him. It was in the nature of a celebration of his sixty-second birthday.

Returning from service, Mr. Lamb interested himself in the activities of his younger comrades. He has never missed a state or national convention of the American Legion, and with his wife, who is a member of the Women's Auxiliary, he drove 200 miles to attend the last one at Winona, Minn. There the Legion gathering made him a vice commander of the state department. Now he is planning to drive all the way to the national convention at Kansas City this fall.

Mr. Lamb was living a life of retirement on a farm near Worthington when America entered the war. He had been a train dispatcher and he thought his services would be valuable. The army thought so, too, and enlisted him. It was in the nature of a celebration of his sixty-second birthday.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

"Yes," he assented. "This is something like a cigar. What is it?"—New Orleans Lawyer and Banker.

MR. BOWSER'S WITCHHAZEL
And Mrs. Bowser's Flying Machine.

By M. QUAD.

It was a day previous to Mrs. Bowser's birthday. There had come into Mr. Bowser's office, a sharp-featured, keen-looking man, who gave his name as Mr. Gordon. He was a practical chemist, and was connected with a wholesale drug manufacturer. He wanted to go in business for himself or with a partner who had money and energy. He had heard of Mr. Bowser and had called to talk business.

One of the great money-makers for the drug house, was witchhazel. It returned over 100 per cent profit. Mr. Gordon wanted to go into the manufacture of witchhazel. It would make a couple of men millionaires in five years. The world was not half supplied. The liquid was a dollar a pint and still going up. He had a talk with Mr. Bowser for two long hours, and he satisfied him that the opportunity of his life had come to him. He bent backkeeping and pig-raising all to pieces.

At five o'clock Mr. Bowser started home, as usual. He was pleased and satisfied with the world. He looked around him at the stores and offices, and calculated that he could buy them all in two years. Two or three of his fellow passengers, on the car, stepped on his toes, and the conductor took fifty cents from him and forced to make the change. Nothing irritated Mr. Bowser, however. He smiled, as he entered the hall of his house, and that smile warned Mrs. Bowser that he had something up his sleeve. She said nothing, however, and after dinner he suddenly began:

"Mrs. Bowser, do you know that tomorrow is my birthday?"

He had heard of Mr. Bowser and had called to talk business.

One of the great money-makers for the drug house, was witchhazel. It returned over 100 per cent profit. Mr. Gordon wanted to go into the manufacture of witchhazel. It would make a couple of men millionaires in five years. The world was not half supplied. The liquid was a dollar a pint and still going up. He had a talk with Mr. Bowser for two long hours, and he satisfied him that the opportunity of his life had come to him. He bent backkeeping and pig-raising all to pieces.

At five o'clock Mr. Bowser started home, as usual. He was pleased and satisfied with the world. He looked around him at the stores and offices, and calculated that he could buy them all in two years. Two or three of his fellow passengers, on the car, stepped on his toes, and the conductor took fifty cents from him and forced to make the change. Nothing irritated Mr. Bowser, however. He smiled, as he entered the hall of his house, and that smile warned Mrs. Bowser that he had something up his sleeve. She said nothing, however, and after dinner he suddenly began:

"Mrs. Bowser, do you know that tomorrow is my birthday?"

"Yes, I did not forget that," she replied.

"You have been a dear, good wife to me and I am glad that I have prepared a surprise for you. It isn't a necklace of diamonds or pearls, but that will come a little later."

"It was good of you to remember," she murmured.

"I have always remembered and always shall. You have stood by me as a true wife should. Let me ask you, if you know a liquid called witchhazel?"

"I think I do. We have kept it in the house ever since we were married."

"Yes, we have. It is a great thing to know what it sells for at drug stores? It is one dollar a pint, my dear wife, and they make a profit of one hundred per cent. There is an increasing demand for it and it will probably go to a dollar and a half a pint."

"But what does all this talk mean?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"It means that I am going into the manufacture of witchhazel. I have all the brushes and containers. Do you really arranged with a chemist, and we shall begin the manufacture this fall. That is your birthday present, Mrs. Bowser. In one year from now I shall

"Oh, I can learn to fly, can't I? I can get someone to give me lessons. I know a lady who owns one, and it didn't take her over a week to understand it. If she wants two pounds of butter or a dozen eggs she flies right over to the grocer, and saves a long walk and half an hour's time, and don't you see?"

"And I see that it is a most foolish thing," interrupted the witchhazel manufacturer.

"I counted up the number of times I had to go up and down stairs," continued Mrs. Bowser. "It was twenty-three times in all, and I had four calls to pay, in addition. Just think, Mr. Bowser, of twenty-three times. If I had a flying machine I could fly up and down stairs and save me all that walking. If I wanted to call on a lady I would land on her front steps and ring the bell. If she was in, I would get out and hitch my flying machine to the doorknob; if she was not at home I would give the motor a poke and away we would go."

"Yes, you would go to Ballyhack! Mrs. Bowser, I won't hear another word about your flying machine. It is the maddest thing that ever a woman thought of."

"But you have wanted one!" she protested.

"It makes no difference! I am not going to help you to consult suicide."

"But, don't you see, that if I pitch out you can cure me with your witchhazel? We shan't ever have to call a doctor."

"Flying machines be hanged! Doctors be hanged! There will be no foolish things brought into this house! I put my foot right down on that!"

While Mrs. Bowser was leaving a long sigh of pretended disappointment, Mr. Bowser got up and left the house and slammed the door behind him. He went over to the drug store and peered into the window. There were three men in there and he heard one of them say:

"There is old man Bowser looking in. I wonder if he hasn't got a scheme to make the sun shine for twenty-four hours without going to bed at all."

And Mr. Bowser quit peering and walked on. Mrs. Bowser wasn't to have any present on her birthday!

"But there is something I wish to tell you, Mr. Bowser," quietly observed Mrs. Bowser. "You hadn't said anything about my birthday, and I thought you might forget it, and so I bought my own present. That is, I have bought a present on the condition that you approve of it."

"Have you bought a new dress?" was asked.

"Oh, no. It is something more valuable than that. Mr. Bowser, I find myself a little lame with rheumatism."

"You should use Bowser's Witchhazel for that."

"Yes, that would be good, but I have something better. I am going to buy a flying machine."

"A flying machine! What the Old Harry do you want with a flying machine?"

"For practical use. It is quite an effort for me to go downtown shopping. We have no auto or carriage, and the street car is always crowded. How nice it would be if I could have a flying machine waiting at the door for me! I could step right into the machine and start the motor and go sailing right over the houses, and land at the door of a store. If I had any packages to bring with me, don't you see how handy the machine would be?"

"Not by a darned sight!" exploded Mr. Bowser.

"But you must see that, with the witchhazel and my flying machine, we should be nicely fixed. If I fell out of my machine and got bruised all over we would have the remedy right in the house to cure me. Remember, that is my birthday present, Mr. Bowser."

PUTTING PLOW AWAY IN FALL
Excellent Plan to Apply Good Coat of Axle Grease and Cover With Thin, Dry Dust.

When you put your plow away for the season, put a good coat of axle grease on the point and moldboard and cover the grease with a good covering of dry dust. This will cause the axle grease to stay where the grease alone would dry out, and will save a lot of scouring when plow time comes.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
 There is a new, simple, constitutional treatment of CATARRHAL DEAFNESS, a constitutional remedy.
 CATARRHAL DEAFNESS is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Under the treatment of this remedy, your hearing is restored forever.
 HALL'S CATARRHAL MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the Eustachian tube, restoring the inflammation and returning normal condition.

Your Voice is Your

There is a peculiar quality in each human voice that is so individual that the very personality of the speaker is given out.

How often do your friends say to you, "Oh, I knew you by your voice?"

For this reason long-distance telephone conversations have an emphatic value aside from the convenience of an immediate reply to questions and the opportunity for discussion.

Send your own voice over the Long Distance wire in all important transactions and it is as if you had been present yourself. This is the satisfying way—the modern way to transact your affairs.

The following information about different classifications of Long Distance calls will aid you in using the telephone most economically and efficiently.

- If you will talk to any person answering the telephone, the toll charge will be about one-fifth less than as if you had asked for a particular person at that address.
- Such service between 8:30 P. M. and Midnight costs only about one-half the day rates and between Midnight and 4:30 A. M. it costs only about one-fourth the day rates.
- Particular person calls are those in which you ask to talk with a particular person in another city. On this class of calls a report charge is made if the person asked for cannot be communicated with through no fault of the Telephone Company.
 This charge is not made if the connection is established. The report-charge amounts to about one-fifth of the particular person rate.
- Charges can be reversed only on particular person calls.
