Heatrola Is Here!

Come and See the Sensational New Heater Which "Looks Like a Phonograph and Works Like a Furnace"

Here it is at last! The final solution of the heating problem for small homes—with or without basements. Not a stove but a pipeless furnace no bigger than a stove. Installed in one of the living rooms, it will heat three to six connecting rooms, and heat them better than the ordinary stove heats one.

Estate HEATROLA

—The Pipeless Heater Furnace

Words can't picture it. Pictures can't describe it. Come and see it. You'll be surprised and delighted. No iron parts to "black." No nickel parts to polish. The beautiful grained mahogany finish is a vitreous enamel—hard and smooth as glass. You can rub it and dust it with a cloth just as you do your furniture. Come in soon.

BOARD OF COMMERCE WILL BE ORGANIZED TONIGHT

Chelsea is to have a Board of Commerce. Anyway an organization by this name has been started and if we get busy and work together we are sure Chelsea will be a better place in which to live. An interesting meeting was held last Thursday evening in the Legion rooms at which over forty business and professional men of Chelsea were present.

One of the principal purposes of the Chelsea Board of Commerce will be to find what is lacking here, what is wanted here, and then work together for the best interests of Chelsea and vicinity. All public spirited citizens of the community are urged to join and work for community development.

We want good roads in this vicinity, we want a good sewerage system in Chelsea, and we want to see the factories in Chelsea running. The only way we can accomplish such things is to get a strong organization of boosters and then boost.

There will be another meeting in the Legion rooms tonight and the organization will be completed. A good lively meeting is expected and a good attendance is desired.

Mrs. Fannie W. Drislane.

(A Tribute)

Fifty-five years ago the sixth of last April, in Lima, Michigan, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Storms, a baby girl. They named her Fannie. Growing to womanhood under the influence of a Christian home, she spent her life in carrying out the ideals learned there.

She married Frank H. Ward in 1887. To this union were born two boys, Howard, the older one, died in infancy and Clayton F. remains to mourn the loss of a real mother. She lived for her home and her family. Through months of pain and suffering, from accident and disease she nursed back to health and strength so that his life is a monument to the faithful tenderness of her care and devotion. Had American more mothers such as she was, the future would be in safe hands. She lived the belief that woman's highest usefulness was in making her home a home for her loved ones. She even made it a home for the stranger, who must soon become a friend because of her kindness and hospitality. I, myself can gratefully testify to this fact.

She was married to Timothy Drislane in 1911 in Michigan, and for the last ten years found her happiness in making a home for him and for her only remaining son, Clayton. She was active in all enterprises and organizations that were for the upbuilding and for the help and betterment of her community life. She was a member of the Eastern Star, an officer in the Woman's Club, and only recently resigned the presidency of the Missionary Society in her church.

A little over two years ago they moved to San Gabriel, California. During this short time her kindly spirit has gathered a host of loyal friends who today pay tribute to her worth.

She is survived by her husband, Timothy Drislane, John and Maymie Riley, step-children, and Clayton Ward, her only son; also by Mrs. J. E. Goodwin, a sister, and a brother, Dr. A. B. Storms, one of the great preachers of Methodism.

Last Tuesday she went to the White Memorial hospital for an operation, which was apparently a success. The operation was performed Thursday, Friday night, however, at about 10 o'clock she began to fade. And at 2 o'clock Saturday morning she quietly went to sleep and was at rest.

She was always on the watchout for the "other fellow." At the hospital she told the doctor, "Now I'm alright, you watch Daddy." Always waiting for an opportunity to help. She was a woman of triumphant faith.

The Book says, "The valley of the shadow." The shadow of what? Why the shadow of death. What is death? To be a shadow there must be sun on the other side of that which casts the shadow. May I say, "death is the gate that opens up into the fields of the morning where God's Son is shining and where there is life eternal. She has gone through that gate into the beauty of those fields and the gladness of that morning just a bit ahead of us."

MARTINDALE WOODS.

Gustave Grieh.

Gustave Grieh, aged 36 years, died Saturday evening, October 29, 1921, at the home of his mother, Mrs. Wm. Grieh, in Lima.

He was born in Lima and had spent most of his life in this vicinity. He had been in failing health for several years.

He is survived by his mother, four brothers, three sisters, and a number of nephews and nieces.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. E. Thiem, pastor of Zion church, conducting the services. Burial in Zion cemetery, Rogers Corners, Freedom.

FIRE IS FATAL TO PIONEER RESIDENT

Mrs. Margaret Reilly Was Badly Burned When Coal Gas Exploded.

Mrs. Margaret Welch-Reilly died about 11:30 o'clock Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daniels, from burns she received when an explosion of coal gas in the furnace at her home set fire to her clothing.

Mrs. Reilly lived alone, and about 6 o'clock went to the basement in her home to attend to the furnace. Her screaming was heard by Mrs. Joseph Kolb, who, accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Currier, entered the home and found the clothing of Mrs. Reilly in flames. Almost as soon as the two ladies arrived, Wm. Fahrner and Samuel Mohrlock entered the house and an attempt was made to smother the flames with a quilt, but it was found necessary to remove most of the garments before they succeeded in stopping the blaze. Messrs. Mohrlock and Fahrner carried the injured woman to the Daniels home, where physicians rendered all of the aid possible, but the burns were so deep that it was impossible to save her life. The home was quite badly damaged by the flames which caught from the scattered coal as the result of the explosion.

Miss Margaret Welch was born in Sylvan, April 19, 1846, and was a daughter of Morris and Mary Welch, who were among the early settlers of the township. She was the last surviving member of her family, and was highly respected by all who knew her.

She was united in marriage with Luke Reilly in 1886. Mr. Reilly died about seven years ago. The family home had been in Chelsea for about ten years.

She is survived by one brother-in-law, Geo. B. Reilly, of Chicago, and one sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Briggs, of New London, Wisconsin.

The remains were removed from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniels to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKune, and the funeral was held Monday forenoon from St. Mary church, her pastor, Rev. Father VanDyke conducting the services. Burial in St. Mary cemetery, Sylvan.

Farm Bureau Notes.

The first winter club to be organized was a garment making club at District No. 1 of Lima township. Esther L. Beach will act as local club leader.

The county agent plans to be in the Farm Bureau office Saturdays and Mondays to take care of requests of farmers who wish to come in on this day.

The first carload of flour for the Near East Relief was shipped out last Thursday, October 27. It contained 210 barrels. Another one will be sent out this week.

During the last two weeks County Agent Oster held twelve poultry culling demonstrations culling 1800 chickens. About twenty to thirty per cent are usually culled out as slackers.

The township Farm Bureau meetings are being held in the different townships of the county. Farm Bureau members will give suggestions as to the kind of work that ought to be promoted during the coming year.

The Traffic Department of the Michigan State Farm Bureau has been active in seeing that the freight rates on potato shipments are reduced so that Michigan growers can compete with growers of other states.

The National Live Stock Association reports a program is being prepared and plans will be ready for submission to the different states at an early date. The plans will include some methods for farmer controlled sale service at terminal markets. The Live Stock shipping Association will be an important unit in the organization.

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau will be held November 17. Arrangements are being made for the holding of township meetings previous to this time for the selection of delegates. A special effort will be made to secure suggestions of members in the different townships relating to the kind of work they think should be carried on during the coming season.

The organization of boys' and girls' clubs in Washtenaw county will be one of the important Farm Bureau activities during this fall and early winter. Clubs will be organized during this fall and early winter. Clubs will be organized for sewing handicraft and hot lunch. There is excellent co-operation among the rural teachers, parents and County School Commissioner with the boys' and girls' club agent.

GAS METER EXPLOSION CAUSED SOME EXCITEMENT

The explosion of a gas meter in the basement of the Merkel building last Friday morning caused considerable excitement on the street for a short time. The fire department was soon on the grounds after the alarm had been turned in.

The meter was located in the basement under Belser's billiard room and was used to measure the gas used in the Chelsea Tire & Battery Shop, owned by Riedel & Bycraft.

Mr. Riedel had just lighted the gas jet in the work room and instantly the explosion followed. The windows were broken in the basement, and the ceiling considerable charred. A portion of the bowling alley was water soaked and the meter used by the Maccabees was melted.

Roy Evans shut off the escaping gas from both meters and the firemen, by the use of chemicals, soon had the blaze put out.

Methodist Mass Meetings.

Ypsilanti, Redford, Albion, Pontiac, Port Huron and Wyandotte have been selected as the centers for the series of mass meetings to be held on the evening of Wednesday, November 15, in connection with the National Methodist conference and the Detroit Area conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. These conferences will be held in Central church, Detroit, November 15, 16, and 17. Methodist leaders of national prominence will address all these gatherings. Groups of churches near each center will send delegates and members to the meetings.

Bishop Charles W. Burns of Helena, Montana, and Dr. Charles E. Guthrie, secretary of the board of Epworth League, will be the speakers at the meeting in Ypsilanti, held in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The group of churches meeting at the Galvary Methodist Episcopal church, Redford, will have as speakers, Bishop Charles B. Mitchell, of St. Paul, Minnesota, and the Rev. Wm. S. Boyard, D. D., secretary of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Bishop Wilbur P. Thirkield, who is coming to Michigan from his mission station in Mexico City, Mexico, to attend the conferences, will be the principal speaker at the mass meeting in First church, Albion. The second speaker will be the Rev. Clarence True Wilson, corresponding secretary of the board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, the church board that is now waging a fight for strict enforcement of the prohibition amendment.

At Central church, Pontiac, the speakers will be Bishop A. W. Leonard of San Francisco, and Dr. Edward Laird Mills, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, Portland, Oregon.

Bishop Frederick D. Leete, of Indianapolis, formerly pastor of Central church, Detroit, will be one of the speakers on the program at First church, Port Huron. The other speaker will be Bishop Charles L. Mead of Denver, Colorado.

Bishop H. Lester Smith of India, also a former pastor of Central church, Detroit, and Bishop William O. Shepherd of Portland, Oregon, will address the mass meeting in First church, Wyandotte.

It is expected that these meetings and nine others in Detroit will be attended by upwards of 50,000 Methodists of Michigan.

Pleasant Party at M. E. Home.

A very pleasant party was given at the Old People's Home on Tuesday evening. The occasion was the birthdays of eight of the members: Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Stocking, Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. Chapin, Miss Shorman, Miss Steere, Mrs. Geddes and Mrs. Wood. Also the Superintendent, Mr. Brosius, and Rev. Beatty, who acted as toastmaster.

Lunch was served in the parlor to fifteen, after which a delightful program was carried out, witnessed by all the members of the Home who were able to be present, also Mrs. Beatty and daughter Helen. Miss Letha Alther was present and gave a report of the Epworth League held at Albion, her trip being financed by a member of the Home, Mrs. Carrie Gowing.

Miss Gardner gave some splendid readings. Miss Yake, accompanied by Miss Mitchell, rendered some beautiful songs.

After a few remarks by Rev. Beatty, all joined in singing "God be With You Till We Meet Again," and then Rev. Jones pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. J. H. Gibbons.

Mrs. J. H. Gibbons, aged 71 years, died Tuesday at her home on Jackson street. Mrs. Gibbons was born in Ypsilanti, January 10, 1850. She was united in marriage with J. H. Gibbons in 1893 and made her home in Ypsilanti until six years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons came to Chelsea to reside. Mrs. Gibbons is survived by her husband, two brothers and two sisters. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father VanDyke Friday at St. Mary church. Interment was in Ypsilanti.

SHAKESPEARE IS ALL WRONG

Police Judge Rules World Isn't Stage, After All, and Finds Woman Impersonator of Men.

Police officers and detectives can spot the shifty eye of a pickpocket, the heavy jaw of a stick-up man—perhaps—and the other peculiar physical characteristics of the male clan of crime. But it takes a policewoman to detect suspicious characters by their dress. Police routine and discipline cannot, apparently, wear off the keen instinct of a woman for the style of a toque, the set of a sash, and the hang of outer garments in the back.

Recently Hella de Turk walked downtown. She got as far as the post office. In so doing she probably passed several policemen who marked no sign of suspicious character in the passerby. But at the post office stood Mrs. Dollie Fisher and Miss Emily Greer, policewomen. The eyes of the policewomen discerned at once that the figure of the gentleman walking by would have been set off to much greater advantage had he worn feminine dress, says the Columbus Dispatch. So they accosted him and found it was her. And Miss De Turk, fitted out in a man's cap, coat and trousers and other apparel to match, took a ride to the police station with Mrs. Fisher and Miss Greer. There she refused to solve the riddle of her masculine attire and was released on bond.

"I am an impersonator of men characters, appearing at the movie theaters," she told the court. It then followed that she had neglected to change back into feminine dress after the show. Judge Berry fined her $25 and costs for the oversight and bade her remember that Shakespeare to the contrary notwithstanding, all the world's not a stage.

DULL AND BRILLIANT YOUTHS

Bright Boy Does Not Always Fill Expectations of Friends, While Stupid Lad Surprises.

An ex-headmaster of 25 years' experience has confessed that he was anything but a model boy at school.

He is not exceptional. Some boys who have no lack of brains have not the "examination mind," and in some the intelligence is too vivacious and original to be interested in routine work. There are boys who are really dull and will never be anything else, but there are also boys who are merely unconventional and boys who are apparently dull only because they are slow.

Human beings are like plants. It is not always the tree which grows and fruits the quickest that gives the best crop in the end, says the London Daily Mail. The brilliant boy does not always fulfill the expectations of his friends, while the boy who was supposed to be dull occasionally surprises everybody in after life because his mind was of the sort which takes a long time to mature.

No hard-and-fast rule can be laid down. But, as Dr. Chalmers Mitchell has pointed out, it is a general rule in nature that the longer the period of youth the greater is the intelligence of the adult.

Missed Something.

Thomas, the five-year-old son of a northern Indiana editor, attended a communion service with his parents last Sunday. The service was long, and the editor and his family were in the last group that went to the altar. Thomas went along. He had been curious.

Following the service there was no comment from Thomas until he found his Aunt Edith, a member of another church waiting in the editor's auto outside, to go to dinner with them.

"Oh, Auntie Edith," he chortled, "you missed something."

"Why, what was it?" was her indignant question.

"We had bread and grape juice," he replied triumphantly.—Indianapolis News.

Historic Warship Doomed.

The old United States warship Granite State, one of the first battleships built by the United States, is about to be dismantled. She left the ways in Maine in 1818, and 103 years after her completion was used as a training ship at the port of New York, where she is now lying.

In her hold are more than one hundred tons of hand-made copper spikes containing a large percentage of pure gold and silver. The machinery company which purchased her has had numerous requests for souvenirs be fore the boat is destroyed.

A Bacteria Census.

Not long ago there was made known the result of an examination made by one of the government scientists of the colonies of bacteria residing on the surface of unwashed fruit taken from the market.

This scientist computed the number of bacteria found on half a pound of each of the fruits named, as follows: blueberries, 400,000; damsons, 470,000; yellow plums, 700,000; pears, 800,000; gooseberries, 1,000,000; garden strawberries, 2,000,000; raspberries, 4,000,000; grapes, 8,000,000; currants, 11,000,000; cherries, 12,000,000.

Animal Sagacity.

Instances of "animal sagacity," which have been claimed to show reasoning power, are explained by an expert to be due to extreme sensitiveness to smell, to accidental acts, or what is called "associations."

Diphtheria is Very Costly.

Sixteen thousand dollars a day, or more than $500,000 a month, is the cost of diphtheria to the people of Michigan at the present time, according to recent figures of the state department of health.

Diphtheria is being reported to the department at the rate of 1,000 cases a month. With this prevalence 100 deaths a month may be expected, it is said. Using the courts' value of $5,000 for a human life, health authorities estimate that diphtheria is costing $500,000 monthly in the loss of vital assets alone. Money costs in loss of time from sickness and medical expenses were not computed in the foregoing estimates.

Five communicable diseases—measles, pneumonia, syphilis, gonorrhea, and chancreoid—show decreases in reported cases during the first nine months of 1921, according to records of the bureau of communicable disease. From January 1 to October 1 a total of 51,631 cases of communicable disease were reported in comparison to 68,580 during the same period last year. This represents a total decrease of 16,949 reported cases of sickness. Measles decreased by 19,067 cases, pneumonia by 3,365, syphilis by 438, gonorrhea by 932, and chancreoid by 79.

All other diseases have increased, judging from reports received. Diphtheria, for example, shows an increase of 1,201 cases over a year ago.

Fine Concerts in Ann Arbor.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra which has been instrumental in giving Detroit the reputation of being one of the music centers of this country, will be heard in Ann Arbor on five occasions during the coming season. The Extra Concert Series which has been conducted by the University School of Music for the past two seasons will this year be enriched by the inclusion of five programs by this great organization under the masterful leadership of Ossip Gabrilowitsch. The programs will be arranged with a view to presenting numbers which will appeal particularly to the masses as well as to the trained musician. They will be of a rather popular nature. At each concert a soloist of recognized merit will also be heard so that each of these concerts will be more than merely a program of orchestral music. In other words, they will take on the attractive features of the miscellaneous program usually provided at the Friday evening concert of the May Festival where it has become traditional for a great soloist to be heard with orchestral accompaniment. The dates for these concerts have been arranged to alternate for the most part with the concerts given in the Choral Union Series so that the public will find them coming at rather equal intervals.

An especially attractive soloist has been engaged for the opening concert in this series Tuesday evening, November 8, in the person of Estelle Lieblich, one of America's leading sopranos. Miss Lieblich has attracted the enthusiastic commendation of music lovers in the great eastern centers and only recently at the renowned Worcester Festival scored a triumph in the role of "Marguerite" in a fine presentation of "Faust." Her appearance in Ann Arbor on this occasion was brought about on account of the fact that she will also be heard in Detroit with the Detroit Orchestra at about the same time.

The dates and soloists who will be heard in the other concerts to be given in this series are as follows: December 12, R. Vidas, violinist; January 23, Ossip Gabrilowitsch, pianist; February 20, Hans Kindler, violinist; March 27, Bendetson Netzberg, pianist.

A schedule of prices for course tickets, has been adopted which is exceedingly low so that all interested in good music may have an opportunity of attending. Several hundred seats are offered for the season at $2.00; many others at $3.00; and others at $4.00 and $5.00 each. They may be secured by mail or in person at the University School of Music.

Increase in Infant Deaths.

Twelve and one half per cent increase in the number of deaths of children under one year of age during September, over the number that died in August, is reported by the division of vital statistics of the state department of health.

Passing the most dangerous month of the year, June, July, and August, with exceptionally low infant mortality rates, Michigan's rate in September jumped to 95.6 per 1,000 living births, an increase of 10.8 deaths per 1,000 births over the rate of the preceding month. The state's infant mortality rate for the first nine months of 1921 now stands at 81.2 in comparison to 79.5 at the end of the first eight months.

Rural districts showed the most severe increase in the number of infant deaths during September, the infant mortality rate increasing over August from 81.5 to 94.7, an increase of 13.2; the urban rate jumped from 86.7 to 96, an increase of 9.3.

For the first time this year the rural birth rate caught up with the urban birth rate. The general birth rate for the entire state and for both urban and rural communities during September was 25.2 per 1,000 population.

Michigan's general death rate in September was 11.7 per 1,000 population, an increase of 0.7 over that of August and but 0.1 higher than the nine months' average of 11.6.

Public Told Cancer Facts.

While the medical profession has not yet discovered the ultimate cause which starts the lawless growth of cells forming cancer intense research has revealed many facts which are being told the public during "Cancer Week" which started Monday.

"Statistical investigation obtained from hospital and life insurance data has tended to furnish evidence that cancer is not hereditary," reads a statement from the American Society for the Control of Cancer. "Existence of cancer families does not afford definite proof of the general inheritability of this disease, for such families are not very common and the occurrence of a considerable number of cases in a given family can be explained as purely accidental."

"Thought of heredity should not lead to worry, for cancer to a certain extent goes hand and hand with longevity. Cancer is not transmitted by contact with the patient. In all the thousands of recorded cases of cancer there is no report of a case acquired from the patient by any physician or nurse. Cruel neglect of some patients has been known to occur because of the groundless fear of catching cancer."

"Ravages of this disease can be diminished by dissemination of knowledge leading to its early recognition by the patient and physician. The following points should be remembered: Cancer always starts as a local affair; in the beginning it may cause no pain or other symptom of ill health; no up-to-date doctor will treat a condition that might mean cancer without thorough examination; and the cancer patient must learn to seek treatment as promptly as a patient with appendicitis."

Good Roads Are Costly.

Road projects in 18 states, totaling more than 265 miles and costing an aggregate of $7,693,778, or an average of over $29,000 per mile, were approved during July by the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, for Federal aid, according to the bureau's publication, "Public Roads," just off the press. The total Federal aid approved for these projects is placed at $3,023,152, the remainder of the cost being borne by the states.

All told, there were 56 such projects approved during the month. New York led with 20, Pennsylvania came second with 7, and Kentucky and South Carolina tied for third with 5 projects each. Four Texas projects were approved; New Mexico, Washington, and Wisconsin had two each; and Arizona, Arkansas, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Virginia each had one project approved during the month.

Wide variation was shown in the character of materials to be used in building the approved roads, but concrete, bituminous macadam, and gravel were the chief materials.

Excursion Rates to the Stock Show.

Tickets to be on sale from November 25 to 29, both dates inclusive, good returning up to midnight of December 5. This is your opportunity to enjoy a season of education—pleasure—and a trip to Chicago at a greatly reduced fare. This is the Show where the aristocrats of the animal world are brought together in a final contest; where the World's Greatest Grain and Hay Show will again be staged on a more elaborate scale; where the Junior Army of feeders will come together in a final roundup and where the master breeders and feeders of this continent will show how those in attendance can increase their profits.

State Will Make Shoes.

Shoes for the inmates of all state institutions are soon to be manufactured at Ionia reformatory, as the result of a deal closed Wednesday by the State Administrative board with the war department whereby the state comes into possession of a fully equipped shoe factory, which had been shipped to Camp Custer, but never installed.

The machinery was turned over to the state for $1,000 and it is now being moved to Ionia. It included everything which will be needed in the making of shoes, and as soon as it can be installed, the new factory will be put into commission.

Through the establishment of such an industry, Gov. Groesbeck plans on saving thousands of dollars each year to the state. Shoes for inmates are now purchased from manufacturers, and often the quality is found to be bad.

HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

Nation-Wide Movement Set for November 7th to 12th.

Every Four Corners has its Home Town week nowadays, but all the boys and girls who have wandered from the Township Center cannot get back to enjoy the loved surroundings. But all can subscribe to the old home town paper and thus keep well in touch with the little spot they once called home.

What joy to run over the school promotions and find that the tots of a few years ago are moving higher and higher in scholastic circles and eventually blossom forth as the "sweet girl graduates," or the clean strong boys discarding knickers.

Just watch that hardened old city coddler open up his home paper—it is the first thing he picks up out of his bunch of mail—and what can he find there to interest him? Angus McGugan's horse died yesterday; Peter McGregor will run for the county clerkship; Horace Jell hopes to win the secretaryship of the Hilltown Agricultural Society; Lydia Munger has opened a millinery store; Mrs. Brown lost her hand satchel in the butcherery; Dr. Dorland is attending Clara Brown, who is down with a severe cold; Mrs. Plater broke her ankle and is in the county hospital.

Yet though he smiles at the old-time styles and expressions he enjoys it all over and over again, for it takes his mind back home where his wonderful boyhood days—happy days—were spent.

WILL BOOST HOME PAPERS

Week of November 7-12 Set for Nation-Wide Endeavor.

"Subscribe to your home town paper."

This is the slogan of a new nationwide movement backed by the National Editorial Association and other agencies.

The movement has back of it far more than a selfish desire on the part of newspapers to acquire increased circulation, for it is, in effect, a step toward the perfect unification of America by the strengthening of ties that bind everyone to his native soil.

The campaign is, moreover, an excellent opportunity to boost the home town. The men and women who were born and reared here have, some of them, been away for many years and many important changes have taken place—changes in which they would be greatly interested. It is more often the case than not that private correspondence overlooks these changes, however carefully one might attempt to write "the news" in a letter.

The newspaper, on the other hand, prints all the items of interest, large and small, and is the ideal medium through which to keep in touch with in the old home town.

ANOTHER CHELSEA CASE

It Proves That There's A Way Out for Many Suffering Chelsea Folks.

Just another report of a case in Chelsea. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Chelsea with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Charles Schmid, W. Middle street, Chelsea, says: "I used to have lumbago and severe backaches. When I would stoop over it was hard to straighten again. I blamed the backache and lumbago for my kidney being out of condition. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and a few boxes gave me complete relief in every way and I am glad to recommend them to others."

The above statement was given March 1, 1913 and on April 28, 1920, Mr. Schmid added: "I am glad to say my kidneys have given me no trouble at all since using Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago. The statement I gave recommending them still holds good as my faith in this remedy remains firm."

ADmits WRECKING PASSENGER TRAIN

HENRY GATES RESPONSIBLE FOR LAPEER WRECK AND ALSO OTHERS, CLAIM.

MAN BELIEVED TO BE INSANE

Find No Motive for Crime, Other Than a Desire to Watch Train Pile Up.

Flint, Mich.—Two railroad wrecks and several attempts to derail trains in Michigan in the last few months are believed by railroad detectives and local officers to have been cleared up by the statement made at the Genesee County jail last night by Henry Gates, 59 years old, formerly of Huntington, Ind.

Gates admitted Monday, the officers say, that he tore up the rails on the Grand Trunk line between Lapeer and Elba last Saturday morning just before Grand Trunk train, No. 5, was due, and then jumped aside just in time to avoid being caught in the wreckage. In a statement he made last night, the officers say, he also admitted that he tore up a piece of the track which caused the Michigan Central wreck near Dearborn last July, which resulted in the death of the engineer, and that he tried to derail a Grand Trunk train on the Saginaw-Durand division between Montrose and Breat Creek a few weeks ago.

Wanted for Foggy Night.

The officers will ask doctors to examine Gates to determine his sanity. Detectives who questioned him said they could find no motive for his acts other than his desire to watch a train pile up, and they believe he is insane. Gates said that he stole the tools used to wreck the Grand Trunk train, Saturday morning, from a tool house near Elba several weeks ago, and that he has had them in hiding since then, waiting for a foggy night. Gates once worked for the Erie Railroad out of Huntington, he told the officers, and learned how to rip up tracks when he was a section hand.

According to the officers, Gates said Monday night that 10 years ago he was overcome by the heat and that his mind has been a blank at frequent intervals since then. He and his wife were parted eight years ago in Huntington, Gates said, and since then he has wandered about the country.

In Detroit Last Summer.

He came to Michigan only a few weeks before the Michigan Central wreck last summer, and his story indicates that he spent several days in Detroit, although he did not know the name of that city. After wrecking the train near Dearborn, he said he went to Howell, where he worked for a farmer for a few weeks. He said he had forgotten where he went after that but recalled going to Elba about a month ago.

HOUSE BACKS LLOYD GEORGE

British Premier Given Overwhelming Vote of Confidence.

London.—Lloyd George, has swept away all British opposition to his policies in dealing with the Irish situation, has advanced his political critics, and is now free to conduct the negotiations with Sinn Fein in his own time and by his own method.

By an overwhelming vote of confidence, 425 to 43, given him Monday in the House of Commons, after a stirring defense of the government's program for settling the Irish dispute, the Premier not only received a clear mandate to deal with Ireland as he sees fit, but is permitted to undertake his Washington trip practically without fear of a political flareback during his absence.

WRECKED SHIP'S CREW LOST

All Hope Abandoned of Locating 10 Men Sailing Rosabelle.

Benton Harbor, Mich.—With a strong northwest wind blowing over Lake Michigan all night and Tuesday morning, it is practically certain that the 10 men of the crew of two-masted schooner Rosabelle, which was sighted floating bottom up Sunday, have perished. Hops had been held out that the crew might reach the shore in safety in the small launch in which they are believed to have left the Rosabelle, but marine men said that a boat of that size could not have withstood the gale.

A Coast Guard cutter which set out from Milwaukee in search of the Rosabelle's crew has not returned and no message has been received from her.

DAIRY HINTS

FEW OPPOSE TB ERADICATION

Cattle Dealers Who Do Not Favor Measures Are Influenced by Selfish Motives.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Only a few people are opposed to regulating traffic in tuberculous live stock, but their opposition is sometimes effective, and several cases of the kind have been traced by the United States Department of Agriculture. However, the department believes that cattle dealers who do not favor tuberculosis eradication are influenced by selfish motives and do not represent the true spirit of live-stock owners and others interested in healthier and better domestic animals on American farms.

Although many states have suitable laws to protect farmers and other live-stock owners against traffic in tuberculous animals, the practice continues in some localities. Here is an instance: In Massachusetts a purebred Holstein cow, valued at $100, was disposed of as a reactor; but instead of being slaughtered or segregated she was later sold to a state institution for $300. The herd at this institution had previously been free of tuberculosis. It was being improved by the purchase of new animals, and every available precaution was taken to see that they were healthy. Recently this herd was re-tested and three reactors were found, one of which was the cow in question. All showed well-marked lesions of tuberculosis on post-mortem examination.

There is no law or regulation in Massachusetts preventing the sale or requiring the segregation of reactors. A few cattle dealers led the opposition to a bill before the last general court providing for the control and sale of animals reacting to the tuberculin test. Owing to the importance of eradicating tuberculosis from live stock, the Department of Agriculture is furnishing to the public full information regarding the nature of the disease and the way to get rid of it.

ACCREDITED-HERD CAMPAIGN

Illustration of Manner in Which Owners Are Given Protection Against Tuberculosis.

The way herd owners value protection against bovine tuberculosis is illustrated, says a specialist in the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture, by the experience of the Bonner Springs (Kansas) Bull association. Every member of the association, 11 in number, signed up for the accredited-herd campaign. They had 104 animals tested, and in 8 of the 11 herds no reactors whatever were found. Of the other three herds, each had just one animal affected by the disease.

At first sight some of the members thought the effort had been needless and not enough results shown. But when it was considered that the object sought was not merely to eradicate tuberculosis after it had appeared but to protect the herds against exposure to the disease, it was plain that the object sought had been gained.

REMOVE WARTS FROM CALVES

Small Tumor-Like Growths on Various Parts of Body Are Not Difficult to Destroy.

Calves are frequently troubled with small tumor-like growths on the lips, around the eyes, on the ears, and at the tail head. Occasionally other parts of the body are affected as well. Warts may best be removed by snipping them off with sharp scissors. A strong thread or a horse hair may be used in their removal by looping it over them and then by the application of force slowly severing them at their base. After they have been removed the roots should be cauterized with tincture of iron, glacial acetic acid, or lunar caustic.

PRODUCING MILK FOR PROFIT

Like Real Business Man Farmer Cannot Afford to Keep Unprofitable Producers.

The way to make money out of the production of milk, is to begin at home. Feed out unprofitable producers. No real business man will keep a workman in his employ a week if he is an unprofitable producer, and the cow is the dairyman's machine, the dairyman's workman.

A FINE OLD HOME PAPER

(Tune—A Fine Old English Gentleman.) These magazines with gravures and all these works of art. Are very well for city folks who live by dint of mart; But give me first and foremost, I hold it is the prime— That fine old home town paper—one of the good old time.

The printin' isn't perfect, the ink's not uniform. The type is set by hand perhaps,—considerably overworn. The dear old press—I know it well—It's covered o'er with grime— But it prints that old home paper—one of the good old time.

I look for it each week as regularly it comes. And when the postman brings it in, I drop all other chums. I drink it in, from start to fin, ridiculous and sublime. That fine old home town paper, one of the good old time.

Smith's cat may have some kittens; Jones is putting in new pumps. My girl chum has got married and the kids have got the mumps. Jack Wilsey's built a lean-to, Johnson's roses upward climb. Oh! I love the old home paper, boys, one of the good old time.

Back to Town Crier

How many residents of any small community have ever considered what might happen if there were no newspapers? Just previous to "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which is to be observed the country over November 7-12, is a good time to recall the plight of Macon, Mo., not long ago, when fire put the Chronicle-Herald out of business for two weeks.

According to 'The Publishers' Auxiliary, the old town crier, relic of many years back, was yanked from his hiding place, dusted off, and put back on his job, with a jangling bell, a megaphone, and a fog-horn voice only a little worse for long disuse.

It may have been a novelty for two weeks. But think of a community without printers' ink, compelled to get its announcements of auctions, sales, court sessions, births, marriages, deaths, epidemics of sickness, dog ordinances, board meetings, commencement, tax notices, advertisements of help and situations wanted, accidents and the rest, through a shouted word like that of the ordinary train announcer in a city depot. The town crier was a romantic figure in his day, but few towns would like to return to his ministrations now.

When one thinks of the temporary plight of Macon, and that it might become the permanent handicap of many towns, it is well to think of supporting the local paper.

He Knows His Folks.

Here are some random observations of a man who has visited and studied a good many small communities: If you read your local paper you will not take much that is happening around home. There is no use saying that you wish your town had a paper like one in the other town, for the other fellow there is saying the same thing. The man who reads his local paper thoroughly is usually a pretty good citizen and has it all over the fellow who does not. Local papers, when all is said and done, do more to uphold the institutions of this state and country than any other known contributing force in the world's work.

Random Observations.

This isn't a country publisher talking, but the editor of a farm paper: The metropolitan daily will bring to one's doorstep the news of the world seen through the spectacles of the city editor, but it is the editor who lives in the heart of the community who is able to reflect the sentiment of the local group. He alone is the true interpreter of events as they affect the small town and the farming community that immediately surrounds the town.

The Kitchen Cabinet

Nothing resting in its own complete-

Can have worth or beauty; but alone, Because it leads and tends to further sweetness.

Fuller, higher, deeper than its own.

Dawn is fair, because her mists fade slowly

Into day which floods the world with light.

Twilight's mystery is so sweet and holy

Just because it ends in starry night.

—Adelaide Procter.

A WORD FOR THE INVALID.

We must deal gently with the peculiar ideas and fancies of the sick—as they are out of balance mentally as well as physically. It takes real diplomacy and genius to persuade a child and often an adult to take medicine and food in times of illness.

There are many devices which will occur to the mother and nurse to keep a child entertained. Little surprises concealed somewhere on the tray for a good child who eats, are an inducement—a transfer picture on the bottom of a glass which can only be seen when the glass has been emptied of its contents. Each child's own tastes and individuality will give the nurse ideas to use in dealing with him.

Toast will often be refused prepared in the ordinary way, but when cut in fancy shapes with all sorts of designs, even grownups will eat with greater relish.

A nice way to keep food hot is to cover a tray with a tent made of heavy paper; even small tents over surprise dishes will help in keeping interest in food, at the same time keeping it hot.

All foods to be served to an invalid supposed to be hot should arrive at the time of serving hot. The same is true of cold foods.

If the grate or stove must be replenished with coal, drop it in a paper bag or wrapped in a newspaper so that it may be placed noiselessly and without dust.

Chicken Quenelles.—Take the breast of a fowl, add a pint of white sauce and a tablespoonful of butter. Pound the meat until fine, pass through a sieve, mix with an egg. Add one-half cupful of cream and stir well, form into balls in a tablespoon, place in a well-buttered paper and cook in a hot oven five minutes. Serve with toast.

All foods should be served either hot or cold, no lukewarm things (which should be piping hot) should be commenced. Hot food may be kept so over hot water and carefully wrapped.

All food should be ordered by the physician in charge, as serious results often occur when experiments are tried by incompetent cooks.

These are the sins I find: Would have thee take away: Malice and cold disdain, And discontent that casts a shadow grey.

On all the brightness of a common day. —Henry Van Dyke.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS.

Liver when well prepared is such an easily digested meat that it should be more highly valued.

Liver à la Mère Begue.—Take a pound of calf's liver cut in inch slices. Lay the liver in salted water while five onions are prepared and sliced in thin slices, then in halves. Wipe the liver and place in layers with the onion in cubes. Dredge with flour and season with salt and pepper. Dredge the onions the same way, then fry all in frying basket until well cooked and the onions a golden brown. Serve the liver in the center of a platter and garnish with a circle of onions.

A delicious sauce to serve with steak is—

Creole Sauce.—Slice fine two medium-sized onions and two green peppers, two ounces of lean ham and a clove of garlic. Fry five minutes, then add a can of tomatoes, two bay leaves, four cloves and eight allspice. Let come to a boil and thicken slightly with cornstarch; cook until smooth, add a dash of red pepper or a fresh one chopped. Mushrooms may be added if for an extra occasion.

Codfish à la Mode.—Take one cupful of shredded codfish, two cupfuls of mashed potato, a pint of milk and two eggs well beaten, a half cupful of butter, pepper and salt; mix well and bake in a buttered baking dish 20 minutes.

Vegetable and Peanut Soup.—Cut in small pieces two medium-sized potatoes, one large carrot, two stalks of celery, one large tomato and cook in salted water with a bunch of soup herbs. When the vegetables are tender, put through a sieve, if desired, and add two tablespoonfuls of peanut butter which has been softened with a little hot water. There should be enough liquid to serve four.

Delicious Cake Filling.—Beat two eggs until stiff, add one-half cupful of sugar and the pulp and juice of a large tart apple grated. Beat until firm enough to spread; cover the top of the cake with the filling.

WHISTLE BROUGHT HIM FAME

Restaurant Cook, Harry Keynton Jones, Famous as Author of "Rose of No Man's Land."

From out the bustling kitchen of a popular summer resort restaurant near St. Paul, Minn., there issued during the vacation season a luring song and whistled ditties that sounded so strangely familiar that American Legion service men of the World war decided to investigate. They found the musician to be one Harry Keynton Jones, a five-foot-tall Cockney, also the restaurant cook.

Jones began his musical career as chef of a Winnipeg grenadier regiment during the war. Later he tended the private skillet of Gen. Sir Julian Byng at Vimy Ridge, and more important than that, he wrote "Rose of No Man's Land," the war song that had a long run of popularity. A penny whistle which he bought and played for the prime purpose of amusing his kitchen police caused his rise to music fame, he declared.

In France he was transferred to the officers' mess. There Lieutenant Colonel McRae, who later wrote "In Flanders Fields," heard the penny whistling, and the two became friends. Some time afterward they together turned out the words and music of the "No Man's Land" song.

Jones, wounded at Cambrai, was invalided back to Canada. After his discharge from the hospital he began a sightseeing tour of the states, depending upon his cooking ability for ready employment. He now has a song with a New York publisher which he hopes to put forth soon.

HEADS WAR DISABLED SCHOOL

Dr. Arthur Davis Dean, Veteran of the World War and Educator of Wide Experience.

Dr. Arthur Davis Dean, recently chosen by the government as school superintendent of all America's war disabled, is himself a veteran of the World war as well as an educator of wide experience and a specialist in vocational training.

During the war, Dr. Dean, a major in the sanitary corps, worked on the physical and mental rehabilitation of the sick and wounded as they were returned to the United States. In almost all the large government hospitals of the country. With nine years' experience in vocational education work in New York state, he served as head of the division of vocational schools in the state department of education from 1908 to 1917, when he became professor of vocational education in Teachers' college, Columbia university. He directed the New York state prison survey in 1919 and investigated the possibilities of industrial and agricultural education in Porto Rico for the insular government.

Dr. Dean was born Sept. 15, 1872, at Cambridge, Mass., and was educated at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of Columbia university post of the American Legion.

ONE-ARMED VET ALMOST WON

Ernest Mastros, Second in Swimming Race; Wounded Buddies Winner and Third in Sprint.

The throng of spectators who watched the finish of an exciting sprint during a swimming meet in Madison Square Garden, New York, recently, vigorously applauded the efforts of Ernest Mastros, a little chap who brought up in second place. Their enthusiasm was heightened when the race had finished and they saw Mastros as he was climbing out of the big tank. He had lost his left arm, serving with the American forces in France, and he all but won the event by the sole power of his good right and his abundance of gameness.

However, the winner of the race, William McIntyre, also was wounded in France, the surprised crowd learned later, as was Harold R. Taylor, who finished a close third in the same match. The trio of wounded war veterans are members of the Metropolitan Life post of the American Legion, formed of men and women employees of the life insurance company who served during the World war.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

PUT MUCH FAITH IN ACORN

In England It Is Looked Upon as Protector Against Lightning, and as Love Charm.

From Druidical times the acorn has been held to be a sure protection against lightning, as the tops of many flagstaffs, the end of cornice poles, umbrella tassels and blindcords still attest. Even to this day, in English rural districts, when a thunderstorm threatens, farm-laborers and others will tie them to the nearest oak tree, gather an acorn and carry it about with them till the sky clears. In many parts of Great Britain a girl jilted by her lover will seek by the light of the moon for a dried acorn beneath an oak tree. This she will burn at midnight in a candle flame, reciting meanwhile the following doggerel: "Tis not this acorn I would burn, but my true love's heart that I would turn. May he no joy nor profit see, till he comes back again to me." Welsh peasants hold that to plant an acorn brings lifelong good luck; a simple way, one would imagine, to insure one's future success. The resultant sapling, however, must on no account be transplanted. If this is done, most terrible things are bound to happen.

He Was Graduated.

HERE'S END OF OLD H. C. OF L.

According to University Authority, the Next Generation Need Not Worry About Its Food.

Miss Lillian Herman of the University of Michigan is an authority on chemical analysis. Addressing the Ryerson literary class at Grand Rapids recently she said the time is coming when a man, becoming hungry, will simply take a shovel and go into his yard and get a shovelful of dirt, take it into his private laboratory, put it into the family "hopper," pour in concentrated essence of sunshine, turn a crank, and then go around to the other side and wait for the spout to catch his eggs, tomatoes, cucumbers or radishes, whatever he desires.

This food, she said, will come out in the form of small lozenges, concentrated and convenient. A chemical analysis of them will show they contain all the ingredients of our vegetables, and will also have the same taste.

Miss Herman believes that the next generation will see the start of it and that the following generation will use it habitually.

Earning Her Title.

"A Yates Center woman," says Dick Trueblood, "has to look after a sporting son, a gambling husband and a painted daughter, and for that reason the neighbors refer to her as 'The Director of Sports.'"—Topeka Capital.

Why should you follow a crooked path?

Often a cowpath has been allowed to become a village street, and as the village expanded, tradition has made the winding way an expression of a cow's will.

Habit is always forging chains to enslave us, so that what has been found bearable by the fathers is accepted by the sons.

Who cannot recall the coffee-pot Mother put on the stove early in the morning, warning us not to let it boil over?

As children, we were not permitted to drink tea or coffee, because it would stunt our growth or make us nervous and irritable. When older, however, we craved a hot drink with meals, and custom gave us our tea or coffee.

Finally upon the instructions of the doctor, Mother gave up her tea and coffee. But that meant nothing in our young lives. Our vitality was then strong enough to throw off any ill effects.

But our time came, and we learned by experience that we could not drink tea or coffee. When we had it for breakfast it put our nerves on edge. When we drank it at the evening meal, we tossed about in wakefulness most of the night.

And then we found Postum, a pure cereal beverage, free from the harmful drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee. We liked the rich, satisfying flavor of Postum—and also the better health which resulted. And, too, we were surprised to find how many of our neighbors had made the same discovery—had learned the value of "health first."

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in line) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.
