STATE ROAD COMMISSIONER WILL CONSIDER PAYMENT

R. D. Walker, W. F. Kantlehner, Dr. H. W. Schmidt and H. E. Snyder were in Ann Arbor Monday afternoon, as a committee from the Chelsea Board of Commerce, where they had a conference with Engineer Bailey and the County Road Commissioners in regard to the paving of North and South Main streets.

The proposed pavement, as under the rules of the State Highway Department, where a trunk line goes through an incorporated village or city, is 18 feet in width.

If the proposition is finally accepted by the State Highway Department, it starts on South Main street at the D. U. R. electric line and extends to the territorial trunk line.

The North Main street pavement would start at the Michigan Central railroad and extend to the village limits.

As the proposed sections is a State reward road, the prospects are that it will receive favorable action from the State Highway Department and the County Road Commissioners. The section mentioned will have to be taken care of by the state and county road departments and if they are given a gravel dressing it is estimated that it will cost about $1200 per year for maintenance, and in the spring and fall of the year they would probably be as they have been in the past—cut up and muddy.

As the state and county have their road building equipment stored in the yards here, the roadway could be constructed at considerable less expense than the territorial trunk line. All of the gravel is in the yard here, and it could readily be moved on the trucks, thus doing away with the steam railway outfit. By using the village water works system, the pumping outfits of the road construction work could be dispensed with.

Frank L. Rogers, State Highway Commissioner, was here the first of last week, and in company with County Engineer Bailey, measurements were taken of both sections of Main street.

It is hoped that at least the south section of Main street will be paved this season, but the final decision as how the work is to be done rests with the State Highway Commissioner.

State Highway Commissioner Rogers and the Washtenaw County Road Commissioners will be here the last of this week or the first of the coming week, when a final decision will undoubtedly be made as to whether the two sections will be paved with a cement foundation or given a dressing of gravel.

Mrs. Mamie Erickson.
Miss Mamie Fletcher, daughter of William and Verona Fletcher, was born in Sharon township, July 18, 1873, and died at the U. of M. hospital in Ann Arbor, Sunday morning, April 23, 1922.

She was a successful teacher in the Chelsea public schools for five years. She was united in marriage with Charles Erickson, September, 1902, and since their marriage they have made their home in Los Angeles, California. Owing to failing health Mrs. Erickson returned to Michigan last fall for treatment and had made her home with Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Kellogg, of Ypsilanti.

She is survived by her husband, one son, Fletcher Erickson of Los Angeles; her mother, Mrs. Verona Fletcher of Ypsilanti; three sisters, Mrs. E. B. Kellogg and Miss Harriet Fletcher of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Grace Mahlmann of Detroit, and two brothers, William of California, and John L. Fletcher of Chelsea.

The funeral services were held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kellogg at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. H. R. Beatty, pastor of the Chelsea M. E. church, conducting the service. Burial at Maple Grove cemetery, Sylvan Center.

Mrs. J. G. Hanford.

Miss Hattie G. Kemp was born in Franklin, Lenawee county, Michigan, January 18, 1865, and died at her home on Harrison street, Chelsea, Friday morning, April 21, 1922, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which she suffered a few days previous to her death.

She was united in marriage with Joseph G. Hanford, December 19, 1888, at Tecumseh, where they made their home until October, 1919, since which time they have made their home in Chelsea. She was an active member of the M. E. church.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Leigh Beach, of Lima, two grandchildren, and two sisters.

Short funeral services were held at the family home at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the M. E. church at Tecumseh, Rev. H. R. Beatty, pastor of the Chelsea M. E. church, conducting both services. Burial at Tecumseh.

Dogs Attack Flocks of Sheep.

Lewis Lambert, of Sylvan, had twenty sheep in his flock on his farm injured and killed by dogs last Saturday forenoon. Thirteen head were killed and seven so badly injured that some of them may die. Most of the sheep had young lambs by their side and it is hard to estimate the damage that may result from the raid.

J. S. Cummings, Justice of the Peace, was called to the farm and appraised the damage. The loss is paid from the county dog license fund.

John Walsh had seven of his flock of sheep killed and mutilated at the same time and the damaged was assessed by Justice Cummings.

Lafayette Grange.

The Lafayette Grange will meet at the Maccabee hall, Thursday afternoon, May 4. Potluck supper at 5:00 o'clock. Please bring dishes. Program as follows:

Song by the Grange.

Roll call—Cheap screened porches. Reading.

Topics for discussion—"Does It Pay to Fertilize Corn and Potatoes? Shall we cut Potatoes or Plant Whole?" "How Shall Commercial Autos Pay Their Share of Road Maintenance?"

Reading.

Song.

Mrs. N. W. Laird, who has been doing deputy work in this district, will be present and tell us what is being done in other granges.

Soldiers on Hike.

A detachment of the first battalion, 54th infantry, U. S. army, 180 strong, most of whom are recruits, camped in the field west of the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Whipple, Wednesday night. The battalion is under the command of Captain Paul J. McDonnell, and are marching through from Fort Wayne, Detroit, to Camp Custer, at Battle Creek, where they will spend the summer months. The men camped on the fair grounds in Ann Arbor Tuesday night and their average march is about 15 miles per day. An advance guard is ahead of the men and they select the camp grounds for the night. The men have with them the full equipment of army supplies usually carried on a march.

Moeckel-Lindauer Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Rose Moeckel, of Grass Lake, and Mr. Alfred Lindauer, of Lima, took place in Manchester, Saturday, April 22, 1922, Rev. A. A. Schoen performing the marriage service.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lindauer left on a wedding trip and on their return will reside on the farm of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lindauer of Lima. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lindauer will leave the farm and reside in the home on Washington street, which they recently purchased.

The bride had been a resident of Jackson for some time before her marriage and was the guest of honor at several social functions. The bridegroom served with the U. S. Army overseas and for several months past had been employed in Jackson.

Dinner-Table Science.

The "Kitchen Cabinet" Department of the Standard is best in its class. Always alert in the provision of means of enjoyment and instruction, the Standard believes it has one of the very best newspaper features in Nellie Maxwell's "Kitchen Cabinet," which is a regular department of this paper.

As every reader is more or less interested in eating, this department should be unanimously popular. Miss Maxwell's recipes are practical and economical, and provide dishes anyone can prepare to secure the most tasty flavor and wholesome results.

Miss Maxwell is a noted domestic scientist, and readers of the Standard are to be congratulated that they have the benefit of her large experience. Her recipes, collected in a scrap book, would constitute a cook book of practical and intrinsic value.

Silas L. Young.

Silas L. Young, of Lyndon, was born in Sylvan township, November 6, 1852, and died at the hospital in Ann Arbor, Monday, April 24, 1922.

Mr. Young had spent his entire life in this community and had at different times filled some of the offices in Lyndon township. He was united in marriage with Miss Mary Jane Coulson. Mrs. Young died several years ago.

He is survived by one son, Herbert, of Lyndon, one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Wright, of Jackson, several grandchildren, one brother, Geo. A. Young, of Chelsea, one sister, Mrs. Frank Brooks, of Chelsea; two aunts, Mrs. Peter Young of Sylvan, and Mrs. S. Tyndal of Parma, and a number of nephews and nieces.

The funeral was held at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, from the family home, Rev. E. A. Carnes conducting the services. Burial at Oak Grove cemetery, Chelsea.

ESCAPES OFFICERS AFTER ARREST FOR ROBBERY

Andrew Fabien, alias Miller, who has been an employee of the Michigan Portland Cement Co. at Four Mile Lake, and who resided on Buchanan street, is taking a long time to change his clothing.

He was taken before Justice Cummings Saturday afternoon on the charge of stealing tools from the cement company and was given permission to get a drink of water. Deputy Sheriff Martin met the man on the stairway and the man told him that he had permission to go to his home to change his wearing apparel. On entering the Justice's office Mr. Martin was told that the man asked to get a drink of water, and Mr. Martin went to the home and found that Fabien had been there but had skipped without changing his clothing. The last reports of the fugitive was that he was headed south and was hiking toward Manchester.

Fabien, or Miller, as he called himself, had sold to E. F. Klump, about $20 worth of tools, some of them being identified by employees as belonging to the cement company. If the man is caught, he will probably do a short stint in prison. It is said that he came here from Sandusky, Ohio.

Some time last Friday evening during the dancing party in Maccabee hall, a number of men's hats and ladies' gloves and other articles of clothing were taken from Maccabee hall. The loss was discovered when the musicians and young people from Ann Arbor were preparing to return to their homes when the dancing party broke up. One of the men from Jackson, who was fined some time ago for taking clothing and hats from another dance hall, was at the Maccabee hall party Friday night and left for his home, on the electric line, at 10:25 in the evening. Just who took the articles is not known.

Mrs. Christian G. Klein.

Miss Anna Katherine Eschelbach was born in Freedom township, June 15, 1864, and died at her home in Lima township, Saturday afternoon, April 22, 1922, following an illness since January 1st.

She was united in marriage with Christian G. Klein, April 30, 1891, and they have resided on the farm where she passed away, during their entire married life. She was a woman highly esteemed by all who knew her.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Bata Engelhart and Mrs. Mata Lucht, both of whom reside at the family home; five brothers, Lewis Eschelbach of Lima, Jacob Eschelbach of Ann Arbor, Chas. Eschelbach of Grass Lake, John and Wm. H. Eschelbach of Freedom; three sisters, Mrs. Geo. Schaible of Lodi, Mrs. Fred Klein and Mrs. Fred G. Haist of Lima, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday forenoon at 10 o'clock and at St. Paul's church, Chelsea, at 11 o'clock, Rev. G. W. Krause conducting the services. Burial at Oak Grove cemetery.

Parent-Teacher Association.

The next meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the high school auditorium on Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. A miscellaneous program will be given by parents, teachers and pupils as follows:

Cavanaugh Lake Grange.

Cavanaugh Lake Grange will meet at the church basement, Tuesday evening, May 2. Program as follows:

Song.
Roll call—Name five trees within one mile of your home and their use.
Reading—Mrs. L. Loveland.
Paper—"Beautifying the Farm Home by Trees, Flowers, Shrubs."
Mrs. John Miller.
Topic—"Does it Pay to Fertilize Corn, Potatoes? Shall we cut potatoes or Plant Whole?" Discussion led by Manfred Hoppe.
Special music.
Reading—Nva Lohman.
Closing song.
Scrub lunch.

Masonic Services.

All Masons are requested to meet at the Masonic hall Sunday evening, at 6:30 sharp, to attend services in a body, at the (Congregational) church. A good attendance is requested.

United States Is Now the World's Banker

WASHINGTON.—An official publication of the federal reserve board discloses how completely the United States has taken the place of Great Britain as the world's banker, the leading investor in foreign enterprises. In addition to the $11,000,000,000 war loans by the United States to the allies, private American capital has advanced $4,000,000,000 to foreign borrowers since 1914. With trade credits taken into account, it is estimated that the world owes us between $15,000,000,000 and $18,000,000,000.

Time was when the United States was a debtor nation, with England and other foreign nations heavy investors in our enterprises. Now we are a creditor nation and garnering profits abroad.

More than $2,000,000,000 of American capital is now invested in foreign enterprises paying dividends of hundreds of millions of dollars, and the volume of American investment abroad is increasing daily.

The balance of trade in favor of the United States represents a continuous credit piled up in foreign countries to the order of American manufacturers, farmers and exporters. That item alone represents a loan that totals many millions at any given time.

The billions more or less permanently invested in foreign countries place the United States in an advantageous position to increase its export trade. Foreign purchases flow to the country which loans its dollars to build and operate factories, railroads and industries generally.

American dollars are now building meat packing plants in South America, cement factories in China, knitting mills and machinery to operate in Japan, municipal docks in France, street car lines in Switzerland and railroads throughout Europe.

Millions are invested each month in the United States in bonds and other securities offered for sale by foreign governments and foreign municipalities. Listed in the New York exchanges are the bonds of a dozen foreign cities and governments.

Belated Justice for "Boy Desperadoes"

THREE small boys, seven, eight and eleven, now serving five-year prison terms for alleged burglary of a post office in West Virginia, soon will gain their liberty and be returned to their parents through the interest and intervention of Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

Investigation of their cases by the Department of Justice, which followed Mrs. Harding's intervention, disclosed an unusual chain of circumstances which led to the imprisonment of these "youthful desperadoes." Officials said they never should have been sentenced. They already have served about six months in the national reform school.

The lads are Andy Bergola, seven; Frank Boska, eight; and Teddy Boska, eleven. Their parents live at Weirton, W. Va. They were tried in the Federal court of northern West Virginia before Judge Baker and were sentenced along with seven other older boys, ranging in years up to fifteen, each to five years at penal servitude.

The chief evidence against the youngsters, it is shown now, was furnished by bloodhounds. The dogs used by the police of Weirton took up a scent at the point of the alleged robbery and tracked it through the woods to a settlement of steel workers. There police gathered up the ten boys and, on what now is said to have been purely circumstantial evidence, all were found guilty.

The attorney general's investigation showed the three youngsters, along with the seven other alleged "desperadoes," as they were called by the district attorney, were put through the third degree and that police officers at Weirton wrung confessions of guilt from the boys. They later denied their guilt and so pleaded, but apparently were victims of police prejudice, in a locality where the steel workers are under the lash of police authorities.

Field Service for Many Army Officers

NEARLY a dozen colonels, a score of lieutenant colonels and more than 60 majors are included in a list of 164 army officers to be relieved from duty in Washington before the end of the present fiscal year and assigned to field service issued by the War department. The others are captains and lieutenants.

The list also carries the names of 28 officers who will be detached from their present duty in the War department as soon after the end of the fiscal year as is possible to permit them to attend the service school classes opening in August and September. The total number of officers to be thus transferred from War department service to the other activities of the army is 192, with six additional staff officers to complete their four-year term of service by early fall and return to duty with troops.

The reduction in officer personnel in Washington was made possible as a result of a study ordered by Secretary Weeks to determine the extent to which war activities had been closed out sufficiently to permit additional officers to be spared to stations "where their services could be used to better advantage."

Every branch of the War department was included in the reduction of officers personnel. From the general staff, 21 officers were listed for immediate transfer, 12 for transfer after June 30 and 9 for release later in the year on expiration of their four-year term of duty.

The office of the assistant secretary of war will lose 13 officers immediately, due to closing out of war claims; the air service, 9 officers; judge advocate general's office, 18 officers; quartermaster general's office, 20 officers; the chief of ordnance, 14 officers, and the adjutant general, 17.

Borrow Sportswear Styles; New Styles in Millinery

THE arbiters of fashion are not those who design the clothes that pass in review each season, but those who approve them. The way of the producer would be a straight and easy path to success if he could make the right guess at least half of the time. His brain children have had their spring tryouts and he knows now which have survived.

Among the dependable things for summer wear, very simple sport suits are already a success. The word "sport" must be given a broad interpretation in connection with clothes this season for it embraces everyday street dress. As a rival of the tailored suit, sport suits like that shown here, or similar to it, enliven the streets and lend to their wearers at least the flavor of youth. At first glance, it seems there is nothing to these suits—just a plain skirt and a jacket or smock or slip-over blouse—but there is in reality much to them. It lies in the choice of material, color, neck and sleeve styles and character of decoration. The suit pictured is made of gray homespun and embroidered at the neck and on the sleeves with blue and white chenille. It has three small pockets, one at each side of the blouse and one, still smaller, at the left of the bust. The narrow belt is made of the material. The skirt, as pictured, is shorter than the mode dictates—eight inches from the floor is the limit set for brevity. But in some localities the younger women insist upon shorter skirts and go their independent way with the approval of a considerable number of people.

Fashion may decree simplicity in dresses and suits for spring and summer, but she is of a different mind about millinery. In every assembly of hats we find them elaborated in many ways. Some are trimmed with fruits and flowers for their adornment. These are the themes, with endless variations, that millinery employs to make its song of summer, and hats with no flowers or fruits on them, are rare.

Another outstanding feature in the new displays of millinery is the number of hats with brims more or less wide, and therefore more picturesque than their early spring forerunners. Colors are enchanting, with many soft shades of yellow in great favor. In blues, cobalt and periwinkle have been reinforced by a pale tint, arriving in company with "Princess Mary pink." Orchid has an army of admirers and gooseberry green is a promising addition to the gay company. In more vivid tones there are "spark" and "lip-stick" reds, rust color and nasturtium shades. But none of these colors outshines white, which the displays indicate will predominate for midsummer.

In the group of four hats shown here a little glimpse of the great diversity in millinery styles is given. They are distinctly different from each other. The group includes a leg-horn in the natural color, with soft crown and scarf of pale amber georgette and a wreath of locust blossoms. A small hat of orchid straw, wreathed with grapes and pansies, has a sash of narrow blue ribbon. A white fabric hat is dotted with black beads that spatter themselves over the black silk blossoms flattened against the brim. It has a collar and hanging ends of silk braid. Whoever chooses may find tailored, fabric hats and among them those of Batavia cloth, like the hat pictured in black, with stiff loops of ribbon and a jet buckle for ornament.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, it may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Why Complain!
Those impatient people who complain about late trains on American railroads will probably settle into an amazed silence and speak no more about such paltry matters when it is stated that, according to dispatches, the Trans-Siberian express to Moscow gayly puffed into its home station 21 days late recently. Russia has overturned many illusions, but this beats them all. One hesitated to ask for statistics on messenger boys.—Christian Science Monitor.

Whademen, "Absent-Minded"
"Flappers in Floppers" is as neat a headline as we've seen this season. By the way, a correspondent sends us the following, which he found in the writings of Jonathan Swift: "Absent-minded people always keep a flapper in the family as one of the domestics."—Boston Transcript.

Reporters are always influenced by their knowledge that hardly ever is anything exactly as it's told.

NOTED PRELATES IN LONDON

Leo XIII and Pius XI Said to Have Been Familiar With the British Metropolis.

The new pope, Pius XI, visited London as well as Oxford in early life. In the latter place especially the great Bodleian library naturally attracting such a great scholar. He was himself librarian of the great Vatican library, and known everywhere as a booklover. It was said that the late Pope Leo XIII knew his way about London better than a great many natives, as he had spent much time there before being raised to the papacy, exploring the slums and other problems in the metropolis.

Pope Leo XIII was the only one of that exalted rank who ever set foot in the British house of commons and in the distinguished strangers' gallery, at that. He also is said to have enjoyed the hospitality of Lord Palmerston under that distinguished statesman's own roof. That was, of course, before his exaltation to the papacy.

See Wealth in Vanilla.

According to government authority, the production of vanilla beans in Mexico may become a source of enormous revenue. It is asserted that no other country affords the opportunities for successful vanilla growing as Mexico. It already ranks ahead of all other countries in annual output of the beans. It is declared, although as yet very little attention has been paid to the industry. In the region around Tuxpam on the gulf coast the vanilla plant is found all through the tropical forests. It is a climbing orchid and does not require any attention beyond the gathering of the fragrant and valuable beans.

How Was She to Know.

A woman who does not play cards had been invited, through courtesy, to an "afternoon." She fluttered from bridge table to bridge table, chatting pleasantly with the players, until she came to one group where two partners had just completed a game and series.

"Kubler!" cried one of the partners triumphantly.
And the woman who does not play cards left in a huff.

RATHER PUT HIS FOOT IN IT

Callers' Comment on Matter of Time
Somewhat Embarrassing to All Parties Concerned.

We had been spending the evening with acquaintances with whom we had but little in common. In consequence, the time seemed to drag interminably, and when my wife asked me the time I glanced thankfully at my watch.

The hands indicated 9:30. I looked again, shook it and held it up to my ear.

"Funny," I muttered, "the darn thing seems to have stopped. According to this it's only 9:30."

The hostess laughed a little as she referred to her watch. "That's exactly the time I have, too, and that's the time the clock over there on the piano says, I guess, maybe—she didn't finish, but merely laughed."

Since then when she asks the time, I tell it without any comment. It's less embarrassing.—Baltimore American.

Well Nourished.
"Edith has a remarkably sweet voice."

"She ought to have. It cost me about sixty pounds of candy in the last six months."

Mr. Jenkins Took a Cracked Club To Tame Lions

The exhibition ended rather badly. It very nearly was a big day for the lions and a sad day for Mr. Jenkins—all for want of proper care in getting ready.

Many a man who has business to do and a living to make and a job to fill is as careless how he feeds his body as Mr. Jenkins was in picking out a club.

Some foods are too heavy, some are too starchy, many lack necessary elements and so starve the body—and many load the system down with fermentation and auto-intoxication.

Grape-Nuts helps build health and strength. It contains the full richness of wheat and malted barley, including the vital mineral elements, without which the body cannot be fully sustained. Grape-

Nuts digests quickly and wholesomely. Served with cream or good milk, it is a complete food—crisp and delicious.

Grape-Nuts is just the food for those who care to meet life's situations well prepared in health. Order Grape-Nuts from your grocer today. Try it with cream or milk for breakfast or lunch, or made into a delightful pudding for dinner.

Readiness.

To know how to be ready, a good thing, a precious gift, and one that implies calculation, grasp and decision. To be always ready a man must be able to cut a knot for everything cannot be untied; he must know how to disengage what is essential from the tangle in which it is enwrapped, for everything cannot be equally considered. In a word, he must be able to simplify his duties, his business and his life. To know how to be ready, is to know how to start.—Henri Frederic Amiel.

Self-Penalized.

One day in school I had been whispering to the boy behind me. The principal looked over my way and said: "You two boys come up here in these two front seats." I picked up a book and walked up to the front and sat down. Two boys from the back of the room came up also. The principal looked at me rather curiously and then said: "I didn't catch you."—Chicago Journal.

Find Traces of Old City.

An old Roman city has been discovered at Sant Ibanez, Spain. Traces of a highway running in the direction of Astorga; cisterns, with piping of copper; gold coins, fragments of ceramics and vases filled with ashes are said to have been unearthed in the vicinity. An investigation has been ordered by the director of foreign arts.

Very Different.

"Have you broken off your engagement?" "Yes. The wretch told me he was a bookmaker, but I found out that he was only an author."—Copenhagen Kjoed Hans.

The Room Was Full, Too.

The Pencil has made quite a few pointed remarks about the Sponge being soaked all day, and the Waste Basket full, also. The Scissors are cutting up, and the Paper Weight is trying to hold them down. The Mutilator is sticking around to see the Stamps get a good licking in the morning. The Ink's well, but feels blue because Bill is stuck on the File. The Calendar is expecting to get a month off, and the Blotter is taking it all in.—Science and Invention.

Suggestion.

Richard, age five, had been left at home in the care of one of his aunts for a few days. It appeared to the aunt that Richard usually managed to do just the things that she had forbidden him to do. Finally she mentioned that fact to Richard, only to receive the following reply: "But, auntie, I never think of those things till you talk about them, and then it seems to me that I just must do them."

Timing Lightning.

By means of a photograph made with a vibrating lens, a British scientist has calculated the time of a lightning flash. It comes out one-nineteenth of a second. The calculation is based upon the multiple image in the photographs and the rate of vibration of the lens. The time applies, of course, only to the particular flash that was photographed.

All the Same.

Funny that the secret of success in life is the same as success in sleep—keep your windows open and your mouth shut.

Peculiar Hook Formation.

All of the mountains of Montenegro, Bosnia, the Herzegovina and the Dalmatian coast are made of a spongy limestone rock through which water seeps readily. Sewers are unnecessary, for if one digs down for fifteen feet in any part of the country one finds a natural opening, and anything thrown into that opening is immediately carried away. That is why so navigable streams have ever cut through Dalmatia's mountain wall. The water soaks through and doesn't need to cut.—Saturday Evening Post.

Pretty Indian Legend.

On a high point of Mount Adams in the state of Washington are 186 apparently human footprints, made in sand that has long since turned to stone. The tradition of the Yakima Indians is that the spot is the place where "the great canoe" landed after the Flood, and that the footprints were made by the people who stepped from the "canoe" to ground softened by the long inundation.—Youth's Companion.

Milk Products.

There are no substitutes for milk and its products. Milk, butter, cheese and ice cream are protective foods, indispensable to growth and health, and essential in the perpetuation of the human race. If you use them freely, you will avoid many physical ailments and escape disease resulting therefrom.

Silent Spells Explained.

The reason why some people don't talk more is that they can't think of anything further to say about themselves.—Boston Transcript.

Sympathy Is All U. S. Can Give Armenia

SYMPATHY is all the United States can give Armenia. The United States sincerely hopes that the League of Nations will be able to do something to relieve the political, economic and financial condition of Armenia, under the terms of the new agreement which apparently has been reached among the allied ministers to turn the country over to the league for administration.

High administration officials admitted that this country is watching developments in connection with the fate of Armenia, with interest. It is known that Secretary of State Hughes, himself, has always had a very sympathetic attitude toward Armenia.

The administration has not lost sight of the fact that the allies offered the United States a mandate over Armenia. But the officials are bearing in mind that any enterprise by this government would undoubtedly call for the considerable body of troops in the country to ward off the Bolsheviks who

American people undoubtedly would not stand for the necessary outlay of men and money which would be involved in any attempt to assist the Armenians in their struggle for establishment as a free and independent nation.

The nation takes no cognizance of the boundary lines drawn by an American commission at the instance of former President Woodrow Wilson. It was stated at the State department.

So far as this administration is concerned there is no record of the so-called Armenian commission, named by the United States government, which was supposed to have been organized

Notice of Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, Crutha C. Wallace and wife, Wallace, husband and wife, Township of Lyndon, County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, made and executed a certain mortgage, bearing date the fifth day of August, A. D. 1892, to Charles H. Chandler, of the Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, which was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the County of Washtenaw, on the first day of October, A. D. 1892, at 8:45 o'clock in the forenoon, in liber 80 of mortgages on page 310;

And whereas, the said mortgage has been duly assigned by Clarence Chandler, Executor of the estate of Charles H. Chandler, deceased, to Charles H. Chandler and John Kalmbach, Trustees for Lina Kempf and Kate Kempf, by assignment bearing date the first day of August, A. D. 1917, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, on the first day of September, A. D. 1917, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, in liber 17 of assignments, on page 642, where the said mortgage is now owned by the said Clarence H. Chandler and John Kalmbach, as Trustees for Lina Kempf and Kate Kempf;

And whereas, the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage, the sum of $2,700.00, and no suit or proceedings have been instituted by law to recover the debt now remaining secured thereby, or any part thereof;

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that, by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance thereof, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the south front door of the court house, at the City of Ann Arbor, in said County of Washtenaw, that being the place of holding the circuit court within said County, on Monday, the 12th day of June, A. D. 1922, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon; the description of which said premises contained in said mortgage is as follows, to-wit: All that certain piece or parcel of land situated and being in the Township of Lyndon, in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit: The south-east quarter of the north-west quarter of Section nine (9) containing forty acres of land, be the same more or less.

Back Hurt?

When the kidneys do not properly do their work or purify the blood stream, waste products and poisonous acids remain in the system and cause backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, sore muscles, swollen joints, stiffness, lame back and similar symptoms.

Foley Kidney Pills

regulate and restore the healthy, normal action of kidneys and bladder, bringing clean blood and better health, with freedom from aches and pains.

J. George Higgins, Bennington, Vt., writes: "Last fall I was attacked with lumbago and suffered untold agony. I had a severe pain across my back and at times could not dress or undress myself. I was advised to take Foley Kidney Pills. After taking them for a few days the pain in my back left me and I have not had any lumbago since that time. Although, that was months ago, I recommend Foley Kidney Pills to all who have lumbago."

Frank Riggs, of Detroit, spent Saturday and Sunday at his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Klump, of Chelsea, called at the Klump home here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wahl spent Sunday with the ladies father, Mr. Henry Lehman.

The State Highway Department are putting the detour roads in repair at present.

Mrs. Koss, who has been with Mrs. M. Schenk for the past two years, was taken to a Jackson hospital for an operation.

Dr. Campbell, of the Federal Department of Animal Industry, tested the Jersey cattle at the Notten Farm, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Riemenschneider, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Notten, Miss Leona McCoy, Mrs. Lina Whitaker and son, Dorris, attended the cantata given by the Stockbridge people at the M. E. church of Chelsea, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Notten, accompanied by Rev. Ertel and family, called on the former's niece, Mrs. Howard Boyce, of Lyndon, Sunday.

Mrs. Boyce was found to be much improved in health, so she is able to be up again.

A large crowd was in attendance at the Epworth League meeting held at the home of Henry Lehman Thursday evening of last week. The League will give an ice cream social in the near future, the date and place to be given at a later date.

Some of our young men played hooky Sunday morning instead of attending the services at the church. They came to grief with a broken axle at Grass Lake. Boys, better take a little advice from your older set and remain at church hereafter.

It will be much cheaper in the end.

Water Pollution Serious.

When asked, "What in your opinion is one of the most injurious wastes dumped into the streams of Michigan?" R. A. Bostwick, in charge of water pollution operations for the Department of Conservation said, "Serious trouble and difficulties have been encountered throughout all of Michigan due in the main to the bad effects of milk and milk wastes from creameries, cheese factories and condenseries. This waste is discharged into the streams and lakes, causing an unhealthy condition and reducing the dissolved oxygen in the water, thereby destroying fish and other aquatic life and proving a menace to the health of the people in the surrounding neighborhood."

Continuing, Mr. Bostwick said, "Farmers are seriously affected if their live stock is forced to drink the water from these polluted streams and in many instances it is impossible to get live stock to touch it, compelling the owner to provide other sources of water supply for farming and stock raising purposes."

All State game and fish wardens have been notified by Mr. Bostwick to put the following notice in a conspicuous place in all creameries, cheese factories and condenseries and other milk product institutions, reporting direct to the department where such notices have been posted.

DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION
STATE OF MICHIGAN
WARNING NOTICE

Fouling of Waters and Destruction of Fish are Caused by Dumping Milk and Milk Wastes into Streams. Act 350, Laws of 1895, as Amended, Makes it Unlawful to Put Milk into the Waters of this State.

Violations Under This Act Will be Prosecuted Under Authority Granted by Section 17, Public Acts, 1921.

JOHN BAIRD, Director.
"It is hoped," said Mr. Bostwick, "that the State will receive the co-operation of these commercial enterprises in the endeavor to divert their waste products from the streams that are now becoming polluted. The question is a grave one and needs the co-operation of every public spirited citizen of the State."

Wash Milk Cans Immediately.

The milk can has the same relation to the wholesale trade as the milk bottle has to the retail trade, and it is just as important that it be washed immediately after being emptied, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Milk dealers have appliances for washing and sterilizing the cans, but this does not excuse the buyer from rinsing them before they become sour as a result of the multiplication of bacteria in the film of milk left in the can. Cans that become foul in this way are hard to clean when they arrive at the plant.

Investigations show that hotels, restaurants, bakeries, and other places which buy milk in wholesale quantities do not always give proper attention to the containers. As soon as the cans are emptied they are placed on the doorstep or left in a warm room until collected by the dealer. They return to the plant teeming with bacteria, and the mechanical washers will not always clean and sterilize them thoroughly. They must be soaked, washed by hand with a brush, and then sent to the machine washer. Consumers can help a great deal in making it easier to maintain a safe milk supply. All that is needed is a little care at the right time, says the department.

Ann Arbor May Festival.

Ann Arbor's Twenty-ninth May Festival, consisting of six concerts which will be given during the four days (May 17, 18, 19, 20) promises to be one of the most attractive occasions of its kind ever offered by the University Musical Society.

Since the retirement of Dr. Albert A. Stanley a year ago, the organization has been under the Acting Directorship of Earl Vincent Moore, who, in collaboration with Frederick Stock, Conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, has worked out a complete and interesting program which will provide a variety of musical offerings consisting of brilliant orchestral selections, attractive numbers for the Choral Union and splendid parts for the eminent soloists who will participate.

J. A. Kaercher, insurance agent, 615 S. Madison street, says: "I was all run down when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. At first I didn't know what was wrong with me until my kidneys began to show signs of disorder. My back had a dull pain in it and there was a sharp pain through my right side. Every time I stooped I got dizzy. I tried different remedies but Doan's did me more good than anything I ever used. Two boxes cured me up in good shape so I am only too pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

BREVITIES

Ypsilanti—County Drain Commissioner C. E. Deake, and family, who have been spending the winter in Florida, have returned to their home here.

Dexter—Editor J. O. Thompson of the Dexter Leader, was taken to St. Joseph sanitarium in Ann Arbor, on Monday of last week and was operated on for appendicitis. At last reports he was rapidly recovering.

Ypsilanti—State headquarters at Lansing have approved the plans for a new armory for the Signal Corps and it is expected that building operations will soon be under way. The architects are now working out the details.—Record.

Brooklyn—For the second time within the past two weeks a nearby bonfire issued sparks that set fire to the roof of the Baptist church sheds. The local fire department put out the last blaze Tuesday and are all set for the three times and out run.—Exponent.

Ypsilanti—George Cook has been appointed as postmaster of this city and will assume charge of the office about May 1. Mr. Cook has been one of the supervisors of this city for several years, and has resigned as he cannot hold two positions under the rules of the civil service commission.

Brighton—Miss Höten, local correspondent to the State Journal, sent in a feature "story" with a photo about John Tanner and his nine foot beard. Brighton people have always known about Mr. Tanner's beard, but have probably not known that it is the longest known beard in the world.—Argus.

Ann Arbor—Harry M. Grooms of this city has leased a concrete building near the Pere Marquette depot at Howell, vacated by the Howell Washing Machine Company, and is installing machinery for manufacturing brass goods. His specialty will be the manufacture of brass valves largely used on heating plants and gasoline piping.

Howell—C. A. Bolander, of Wisconsin, has been hired by the board of directors of the Livingston County Farm Bureau as county agent for the coming year. Mr. Bolander met with the board last Wednesday. Mr. R. G. Carr, assistant state county agent leader, who located Mr. Bolander for this county, accompanied him on his trip to Howell.—Democrat.

Manchester—Popcorn growers who contracted to sell to the Corn Products Company at Brooklyn are still holding a large percentage of their crops, the company failing to take the corn and pay for it as they agreed. Some have recently sold part of their crops to other parties but most of them have been unable or unwilling to do so.—Enterprise.

Grass Lake—We understand that since the freshet Monday morning, a petition is being circulated asking that the Main street ditches be made 4 feet deep and 6 feet wide to take care of the water which comes down the hill. We are objecting to this petition because we need the dirt which is on the hill in our front yard and at present this dirt is coming our way as fast as it can.—News.

Saline—In giving E. A. Hauser credit for the large wool purchases in this vicinity it seems that we should have divided the honors with C. R. Parsons, who is devoting considerable of his time to that pursuit with the result that to date his purchases have run well into six figures. Already this season Mr. Parsons has shipped from Saline and Clinton about 70,000 pounds of this year's clip.—Observer.

Jackson—Contracts for roads No. 108 and 107, the former known as Rives Junction west and the latter as Tompkins east, two of six highways to be constructed in Jackson county this year have been awarded to J. B. Perry by the Jackson County Road Commission. Mr. Perry's bid on the first road which is 1.4 miles in length was $6,900 and his bid on the second road which measures 2.9 miles was approximately $13,000.

Manchester—Ever since they announced that a good road would be built from the school house on the Manchester-Jackson road south of Norvell, over the big hill to Grass Lake, everybody wondered what induced the commissioners to do it. We can now see clearly that it was to accommodate Manchester and other people who wished to drive to Ann Arbor and Detroit when the other roads are so bad.—Enterprise.

Goes To The Pen.

Embezzlers, or those who may contemplate embezzling, may perhaps profit by the punishment meted to Roy J. Beebe, confessed embezzler of $6,200 Jackson County Road Commission funds.

Beebe was the trusted clerk of the commission, was receiving adequate salary and there was no excuse for his reprehensible conduct. Extravagant habits was his motive but this is no excuse for stealing. He had many friends and a family who are made to suffer by his defalcation. And Judge Ben Williams in pronouncing judgment, truly said, "It is not a pleasant task for a judge to sentence a man whom he has met in an official way, and he reprimanded him in plain terms, before fixing his term from four to ten years in Jackson prison, with a recommendation of five years." "The punishment fits the crime." —Saturday Evening Star.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30 x 3 1/2 'Usco' is $10.90."

The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price

United States Tires are Good Tires

Copyright 1922 U. S. Tire Co.

field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in line with the times.

In Electric Vacuum Cleaning

Savings not earnings are the means of financial success. Time and labor saved are money saved. Proper care of Rugs and Draperies means money saved. People through the country have found it to be a real investment to have electricity in their homes.

Beating, sweeping or shaking Rugs the old way cannot remove more than the surface dirt, while it may break the warp and crush the nap.

Take any Rug that has been thoroughly broom swept and then go over it with a Hoover or Torrington Electric Vacuum Cleaner. You'll be astonished at the amount of grit, dirt and foreign matter brought to light and delighted to see how electric cleaning restores the crushed nap and brings out fresh and clean the original colorings.

Ed. Vogel and D. H. Wurster were in Lansing Wednesday afternoon, where they attended the opening of the new department store of Dancy, Brogan, Co. This is said to be one of the finest modern stores in Michigan.

Palmer Motor Sales on Tuesday delivered to C. Lehman, the Judkin sedan model of the Lincoln car, that was especially built for the purchaser. The car is probably one of the finest in Washtenaw county, and presents a very handsome appearance.

The Priscillas of the Congregational church gave Mrs. Alvin Baldwin a very pleasant surprise party at her home in Lima, Tuesday evening, in honor of the anniversary of her birth. About fifty were present, and the main feature of the evening was a fine supper. After this the evening was pleasantly spent with games and music. The event was a complete surprise to Mrs. Baldwin.

The program for Friday evening at the District Epworth League Conference will be open to the public. After the supper, which will be open to local and out of town delegates who have paid the 75 cents registration fee, Dr. Leeson, District Superintendent, will be chairman and P. Ray Norton, State President, will give the principal address. All Saturday sessions will be open to the public.

Violates Quarantine Law. What a bargain counter is to a woman, an auction sale is to the male. But—

Even such a temptation offers no excuse for a man violating the quarantine laws of Michigan, rules Judge Smith of the Alpena Municipal court.

Ernest Kauer, Ossineke township farmer, Hubbard Lake, Alpena County, about whom this story is written, contracted smallpox late in March. On March 22 his four children, Herman 11, Mable 9, Alma 7, and Violet 9 months, became sick with the disease. Quarantine had been imposed by Robert K. Carr, health officer.

Then E. Herringhausen announced his big auction sale, and one of the black-typed handbills enumerating the stock, farm implements and "other articles too numerous to mention," fell into Kauer's hands. He decided to leave his sick children, break quarantine, and attend the auction sale at the risk of exposing his friends and neighbors who would be in attendance.

Among those present was Robert K. Carr. Warrant was issued for Kauer's arrest following complaint by Carr, and on Monday, April 10, Kauer was arraigned before Judge Smith. He pleaded guilty and was fined. Whether other cases of smallpox developed among those exposed during contact with Kauer at the sale has not yet been reported to the state department of health.

Anyone, reads the state law, who disregards quarantine regulations or "shall knowingly violate the provisions or orders of the health officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100 and the costs of prosecution, or in default of payment thereof by imprisonment not exceeding 90 days in the county jail, in the discretion of the court."

Grand Rapids—Vern Cairns, of Kalamazoo, has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in United States district court, setting forth liabilities of $1,700, with assets of $105, which he declares exempt.

Plainwell—Rensselaer Smith, the oldest man in Allegan county and believed to have been the fifth oldest man in Michigan, died at his home here April 15. He was 101 years of age last January 24.

Grand Haven—Reuben Olsen, Whitehall, has been made defendant in a $5,000 damage suit filed in circuit court here by Henry Fisher of this city, who charges alienation of the affections of Mrs. Fisher.

Lansing—The state primary school fund will receive $789,567 from taxes on railroad properties, telephone and telegraph companies and other utilities this year, it was announced by the state board of assessors.

Port Huron—Frank R. Whiting, Sr., 58 years old, president of the Whiting Lumber Co., died following a stroke of apoplexy. He had been prominent in lumber circles of the state and had large lumber holdings at Hickory, N. C.

Lansing—A combined engineering and business administration course is announced for the Michigan Agricultural college for the next school year. The course is a development of President David Friday's plans for strengthening the technical departments of the college.

Escanaba—First shipment of iron ore was recorded in Escanaba, April 19, when the ore carrier, Goodyear, came here to take a cargo to lower lake points. Chicago, Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads are anticipating a light season of ore shipments.

Monroe—The Rev. W. H. Watson, of Detroit, was re-elected presiding elder of the Michigan conference of the Evangelical association. Presiding elders were elected as follows: Detroit district, the Rev. Mr. Watson; Flint, G. Knechtel; Grand Rapids, H. T. Poelker; St. Joseph, W. C. Swenk.

Albion—City officers, directed by City Manager E. J. Mallory and Chief of Police Clyde Stoddard, raided five houses in the foreign settlement in search of liquor. Nearly seven gallons of booze and a quantity of mash were found. Deputy Sheriff George U. McCarty was the only county officer in the party.

Albion—More than 1,300 delegates are expected here, June 21-23, for the annual state Epworth League institute, which has grown to large proportions under the leadership of Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit. A conference was held here, between members of the state league cabinet and the local committees. Dr. W. W. Diehl, pastor of the first Methodist church, will have charge of the housing arrangements.

Dowagiac—Mrs. Dora Virgil, 70 years old, of Howard township, left her invalid husband, 70 years old, sitting at the kitchen window, while she went into the yard to feed chickens. Virgil, a paralytic, kept a 20 hours' vigil for her return, when George Virgil, a nephew, called upon his uncle, the exhausted man pointed to the yard. The nephew found Mrs. Virgil dead. Physicians said heart failure was the cause.

Iron Mountain—In the spring of 1887, 35 years ago, there were 500,000,000 feet of logs in the drive on the Menominee river. This represented the cut of the lumber companies at that time operating sawmills at Menominee and Marinette. The drive was the largest in the history of the river and about 500 men were employed in the work. Each year the drive has decreased. All the timber now goes from the camps to the mills over the railroads.

Paw Paw—Judge L. Burget Desvoignes dismissed the $800 suit, brought by the Hudson Bay company, of Regina, Alberta, against the Paw Paw Savings bank. The suit was based on a certificate of deposit, drawn on the Paw Paw bank, and stolen from a mail pouch, at Kalamazoo, in October, 1920. It was the first instance in the postal officials of Kalamazoo have had that any of the $20,000 worth of securities stolen from the mail bag had been cashed.

Allegan—Every member of the Allegan county highway commission has tendered his resignation, following the filing of sensational charges by the board of supervisors. The accused officials are William McCann, Louis McLoud and Elmer Gable. It is charged that the highway commission, after rejecting bids, let contracts to Hartley Gable, son of Commissioner Gable, to William Morgan, son-in-law of Commissioner McCann, and to William McLoud, son of Commissioner McLoud.

Flint—Harry Brooks, of Wilbur, Mich., convicted of being accessory before the fact, to second degree murder for the killing of Superintendent James H. Neal, of the Boggs & Buhl department store, Pittsburgh, during a robbery, June 10, was sentenced to the maximum penalty of not more than 20 years and not less than 19 years 11 months, at labor in the western penitentiary of Pennsylvania, according to word received here. Mrs. Brooks, wife of Brooks, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, was sentenced to five to six years.

1.—Desperate efforts to save a big levee at Memphis during the Mississippi river valley floods. 2.—Professor Charles E. Fay, dean of Tufts college, Boston, delivering the first lecture in the college's radio lecture course. 3.—Former U. S. Senator S. H. Piles of Seattle, who has been appointed minister to Colombia.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Russians and Germans Almost Break Up the Economic Conference at Genoa.

SIGN TREATY OF THEIR OWN

Allies Bar Germany From Chief Committee but Neutral Protest—Fighting in Ireland Increases—Little Navy Advocates Are Defeated in the House.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

FOR several days last week it was thought the Genoa conference was about to break up in a row, but at this writing it appears possible that the trouble will be fixed up and the discussion of plans for the economic regeneration of Europe will continue.

Germany and Russia precipitated the row, and the former got most of the blame, the soviet delegate, Tchitcherine, being credited with a clever move. Following up the negotiations begun in Berlin, he and Doctor Rathenau got together in Rapallo and signed for their respective governments a treaty that anticipates what might be done by the Genoa conference. The two countries agree to cancel all war debts, all claims for war damages, and all claims for damages due to the soviet nationalizing German property, providing Russia does not repay other foreign nations for this nationalization. In the latter case, Germany maintains the right to claim damages. It is agreed that Germany and Russia recognize each other and resume full diplomatic and trade relations, that they treat each other as most favored nations, and that the treaty of Brest-Litovsk is canceled.

Announcement of this pact brought expressions of indignant protest from Lloyd George and Barthou, who were seconded rather weakly by Facta of Italy, and more earnestly by Theunys of Belgium and Ishii of Japan. These five statesmen then called in the delegates of Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia and all signed a note to the German delegation telling of their painful surprise at its action, which they said violated the conditions Germany accepted when she entered the conference, and their decision that as a result Germany should not be permitted to take part in any future discussions or decisions relating to Russian affairs.

The Germans took this kick rather calmly, and some of them said they would rather leave Genoa than withdraw the treaty—a choice which Lloyd George offered them Wednesday. But the neutral nations—Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Spain and Switzerland—promptly lined up against the allies and joined Russia in the defiant statement that Germany could not be barred from participation in discussion of Russian affairs except by full vote of the conference. This action was actuated both by resentment against the British premier's attempts to dominate the conference and by the fear that in the private conversations that have been going on in his Genoa villa arrangements would be made with Russia that would prejudice the interests of the smaller powers. The Russians also insisted that Germany must sit in all conferences because there were many questions still at issue between Germany and Russia. On Thursday, however, Lloyd George said the Germans had agreed not to participate in discussions of Russian affairs.

BARTHOU of France held with Lloyd George that the Russo-German pact revealed violations of the treaty of Versailles and that the Germans must be excluded. He was backed up to the limit by his government. Premier Poincare sent to the French ambassadors in the allied countries instructions to insist that energetic measures be taken and penalties applied to Germany if the Rapallo treaty were not abrogated, regardless of what the Genoa conference might decide in the matter. He held that the execution of the treaty of Versailles must be insisted upon now. Both the British and the French feel that the Russo-German pact, while nominally economic, is in reality political and embodies a distinct threat of a complete alliance of the two countries against the entente. It is believed, too, that it would result in the commercial suffocation of Poland and perhaps of the other small nations that lie between Russia and Germany and along the Baltic, and those of the little entente.

One thing is evident: France's fear that the Genoa conference would get into a muddle, and her absolute distrust of Germany's good faith and good intentions are justified. A writer in the Paris L'Eclair says Germany has sent 12,000 "shock troops" into the Ruhr and is ready for resistance in Silesia, while the soviet armies are threatening the Polish and Rumanian frontiers. He adds: "There is no time to lose if we want to avoid war." The nationalists of Italy are no less alarmed, seeing in the pact preparation for a great alliance between Germany and Russia and probably the entire Islam world and a war in the not distant future between those powers and the allied nations.

PLANS are under way for a financial conference to be called by the European banks of issue to discuss plans for the regulation of currency, in which conference the United States Federal Reserve bank will be asked to take part. Meanwhile, great bankers, including J. Pierpont Morgan, are arranging to meet in Europe to study the question of an international loan to Germany to help in the reconstruction of that country, to improve her exchange and to assist her in paying the reparations. In view of Germany's repeated refusal to pay, the allied reparations commission virtually has turned that problem over to financial experts.

THE long drawn-out peace negotiations at Dairen between Japan and the Far Eastern republic have been broken off, and Japan has decided to send more replacement troops into Siberia. The Chita delegates, according to Tokyo official statements, after gaining some of their points, made what the Japanese considered impossible demands concerning protection of lives and property of foreign residents, and the open door, and threatened to quit the conference if these were not conceded. Tokyo thereupon instructed its delegates to withdraw.

STILL another peace conference—that between the leaders of the Irish factions—does not seem to be accomplishing much, for the fighting in Ireland goes on with increasing bitterness. De Valera's Easter coup did not eventuate, but one of his adherents attempted that day to assassinate Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, and there were bloody clashes between the republican and Free State forces, which were continued all through the week. In Dublin the "rebels" occupied the Four Courts and other buildings and engaged in battles with the Collins troops; and in Belfast the Catholics and Protestants killed and burned and looted to their hearts' content.

STIRRED by President Harding's dismissal of employees of the bureau of engraving and printing and other bureaus, and by rumors of plans to restrict the operation of the morit law generally, the National Civil Service Reform league called a conference of all interested organizations and individuals to meet in Washington April 27. That engraving bureau affair is causing the administration a lot of trouble and the end is not yet. In attempting to explain the President's action the official organ of the Plate Printers' union asserted the country was flooded with millions of counterfeit federal reserve notes and other treasury issues. This was flatly denied by Secretary Mellon.

CHAIRMAN PAT KELLEY of Michigan and his cohort of "little navy" men went down to defeat in the house of representatives last week, and if the senate does as it is expected to do the United States will be able to maintain a navy of respectable proportions. In committee of the whole the house by a vote of 177 to 130 adopted the amendment to the committee bill which provided for an enlisted personnel of 80,000 instead of 67,000 men. A few days later this was confirmed by a record vote of 221 to 148, and then the bill was passed and handed on to the senate. Ninety Republicans voted against the personnel increase and 48 Democrats supported it. The measure carries a total appropriation of $251,209,000, which is $18,000,000 more than was fixed by the appropriations committee. Further increases are expected in the senate.

THE fight of those who believe in adequate national defense is now centered on the army bill. In this the American Legion is taking active part, National Commander MacNider appearing before the senate appropriations committee to denounce the house bill which provides for only 115,000 enlisted men. He said:

"The American Legion unqualifiedly backs up the President, the secretary of war, and General Pershing in their support of necessary appropriations for the National Guard, organized reserves, reserve officers' training corps, and civilian military training camps as recommended by the War department, and also supports the position that approximately 150,000 men is the minimum number needed for the regular establishment to perform its proper mission in our plan of national defense."

SOMETIME during the present session the senate will pass soldier bonus legislation. So much was determined by the Republican senators in caucus by a 8 to 1 vote, and they asked the finance committee to report a bill "within a reasonable time." But they reached no decision as to the form the bill will take. The right of the senate to add any revenue provisions to the bill passed by the house is questioned, since the Constitution requires that revenue measures must originate in the house. Republican leaders of both senate and house are again discussing the plan of financing the bonus by the sale of British bonds, and it is understood that if these are found available through the work of the foreign debt commission, President Harding will not object to that method of raising the funds. With this in view efforts are being made to postpone senate consideration of the bonus measure until after the tariff bill has been passed, by which time it is expected the work of the commission will be far enough advanced to give assurance that the long-term British securities will be available.

FLOODS and tornadoes have been playing havoc in the Middle West. Through much of the Mississippi river valley the rivers and streams have broken their levees and overflowed their banks, doing vast damage in many towns and inundating millions of acres of land. Unseasonably cold weather added to the distress of the people who were driven from their homes. The windstorms were most severe in southern Illinois and southern Indiana. Several towns were badly wrecked and about fifty lives were lost.

THE two Portuguese aviators who started from Lisbon to fly across the Atlantic to Brazil in several "jumps" got as far as St. Paul's rock about a thousand miles from the Cape Verde islands, but smashed their plane in making the difficult landing there. A new plane will be sent to them by the Portuguese government to enable them to complete their journey.

WOMEN from all parts of the Western Hemisphere assembled in Baltimore, Md., at the call of the National League of Women Voters to confer on such subjects as education, child welfare, women in industry, prevention of the traffic in women, civil and political status of women and international friendliness. It is hoped the conference will lead to close cooperation among the women of the entire world.

REPRESENTATIVE BLAND of Indiana has drafted a bill which authorizes the President to appoint a "coal investigation agency," composed of the director of the geological survey, director of the bureau of mines, director of the census and commissioner of labor statistics and six others to be confirmed by the senate. It would be given sweeping powers to obtain information.

ORDERS ARREST OF WHOLE TOWN

JUDGE UNDERTAKES TO CLEAN UP KENTUCKY CENTER OF MOONSHINE.

20 DEPUTIES SERVE WARRANTS

Affidavits Allege That Mill Creek Men Conspire to Kill Any Person Opposing Them.

Manchester, Ky.—The arrest of every person over 12 years of age in the Mill Creek neighborhood of Clay county, has been ordered by Circuit Judge Hiram J. Johnson in an effort to break up lawlessness, which culminated last week in the ambushing of county officers who went into the district to arrest moonshiners.

Two hundred warrants were issued by Judge Johnson, and orders were given to confiscate all high-powered rifles and large caliber pistols. A squad of 20 men left with 60 warrants, and Judge Johnson then decided on the wholesale roundup. Officers already are returning with prisoners, and reports are to the effect that many of those charged are coming in voluntarily while others hurriedly are leaving the county.

The warrants were issued after officers made affidavits that they had reason to believe that moonshine stills and their furnishings were owned and operated by men who have formed a conspiracy to continue the violation of laws and, if necessary, to kill officers who attempt to make arrests. They allege that it is this band that ambushed Deputy Sheriff Pete Stilvers last week, and ran other officers out of the territory.

The affidavits further allege that men in Mill Creek have conspired to kill any person who opposes the commission of crimes, or undertakes to have the offenders arrested, and that, in furtherance of this conspiracy, one or more men already have been shot down and murdered.

Judge Johnson has declared that he was determined to clean up the creek even if he was "compelled to bring a thousand soldiers into the county to do it."

COMPROMISE ON BONUS PLAN

Senate Committee Has New Measure to Cost Less Money.

Washington—A brand new soldiers' bonus bill, said to be much less costly than the one passed by the house, was brought forward as a basis of agreement at a conference behind closed doors between the senate finance committee and representatives of world war veterans' organizations Monday.

The new measure is the handiwork of Senator McCumber, North Dakota, chairman of the committee. Other members of the committee look upon it with friendly eyes. They have high hopes it will furnish the long sought bridge to open the gap between congress and the administration over the bonus issue.

The feature of the new measure, which has won favor particularly with members of the finance committee, is the fact it would require an estimated outlay of about $100,000,000 next year compared with the treasury department's estimate that the house bill would cost about $300,000,000 next year.

CHANGE MADE IN DRY FORCE

Special Investigators Arrive to Clean Up On Law Violators.

Detroit—George A. Zang, prohibition enforcement officer, has been ordered not to undertake any liquor raids in the future without consulting Royal E. Decker, deputy prohibition director in Michigan.

The letter from James R. Davis, state prohibition director, to Zang, instructing him how to proceed in future raids, also advises the officer that he is not to give out any further information to newspapers. Decker would take care of the statements to the press in the future, Zang was notified.

This new arrangement in the federal prohibition offices follows closely the arrival of 20 special investigators, headed by Patrick T. Roche, special agent of the intelligence department of the internal revenue bureau, who are here to clean up prohibition violations in Detroit and Michigan.

FARM MORTGAGES ARE FEWER

Michigan Owners of City Homes, However, Increase Obligations.

Washington—Owners of farm homes have made far more progress in the last generation in getting rid of mortgages, taking them as a group in the whole of continental United States, than have the owners of city and town houses, taking them as a group. Data, made public by the Bureau of Census, shows that country owners have been working out of their mortgages, while city owners have been getting deeper in.

Michigan mortgaged farms numbered 72,395 in 1890, and 67,119 in 1920. Homes not on farms carrying mortgages, totaled 46,312 in 1890, and 152,764 in 1920.

Weather Troubles State Reindeer.

Mason, Mich.—Mild, spring weather has proved calamitous to the herd of reindeer at the state game farm near here. The 60 animals, which were brought from their native haunts, in northern Norway, and taken to the game farm a few weeks ago, to become somewhat acclimated before taking them to their final destination in northern Michigan, could not withstand the dampness here and after several of them had died, the rest of them were hurried to their north.

CHEAP FEED FOR WINTERING COWS

Experts Favor Corn Silage and Wheat Straw With Hay or Cottonseed Meal.

EXPENSE OF RAISING CALVES

Experiments Conducted in Blue-Grass Regions of Appalachian Mountains in West Virginia—Rations Used for Cattle.

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Corn silage and wheat straw with either mixed hay, soy-bean hay or cottonseed meal is a much cheaper ration for wintering beef-breeding cows than shock corn, mixed hay and wheat straw as tried out in feeding experiments recently carried on by E. W. Sheets and R. H. Tucker of the bureau of animal industry, and described in Department Bulletin 1024, "Feeding Experiments With Grade Beef Cows Raising Calves," which has just been issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The work described in the bulletin has to do with the advantages of certain practices, the economy of a number of rations and the cost of raising calves to weaning age. It applies to the blue-grass region of the Appalachian mountains, a region that furnishes most of the grass-finished beef for the Eastern markets.

Conditions Similar in Other States. The farm on which the feeding was done is in the southeastern part of West Virginia, but the conditions there are similar to those in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee. The conclusions also apply in part to other nearby regions.

The rations used for the four lots of cows were: Corn silage, mixed hay and wheat straw; corn silage, soy-bean hay and wheat straw; corn silage, cottonseed meal and wheat straw; and shock corn, mixed hay and wheat straw. As mentioned in the first paragraph, corn silage and wheat straw, with either mixed hay, soy-bean hay or cottonseed meal, is a cheaper ration than shock corn, mixed hay and wheat straw for wintering beef cows. As the cows fed on the mixed hay and soy-bean rations produced a larger calf crop than those fed the cottonseed meal, the average cost per head of raising their calves was practically 6 per cent less. As sources of protein, mixed hay and soy-bean hay, where they are grown successfully, have additional advantages in that they can be raised on the farm, while cottonseed meal must be purchased.

Cost of Raising Calves. Actual costs of raising calves vary with the time and locality, but by a study of the tables in this bulletin any farmer in this blue-grass region may determine with considerable accuracy what it will cost him to grow feeder calves to the weaning age. The bulletin should be studied in connection with Department Bulletin 1042, "Effect of Winter Rations on Pasture Gains of Calves." These bulletins may be obtained by addressing the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

CLOVER BEST FOR ROTATION

Good Plan to Keep Soil Supplied With Necessary Humus—Also Furnishes Cash Crop.

A two-year rotation of wheat, clover pasture and back to wheat keeps the soil supplied with humus and nitrogen. A three-year rotation may be of wheat, clover, pasture, corn. Clover pasture also keeps the land in good condition and returns a cash crop two years out of three. If a seed crop of clover is harvested, then each crop in this rotation becomes a cash money crop. In addition to the regular crop profits, we have the pasture, and the soil improvement as extra.

SELECT VEGETABLE VARIETY

Should Be of Highest Quality, Adapted to Soil and Region and Disease Resistant.

The gardener should choose the vegetable variety of highest quality available within his season, be sure it is adapted to his soil, region, and has a good record for disease resistance.

SOLVING PROBLEM OF PROFITABLE ALFALFA

Of Advantage to Market Roughage Through Stock.

Suggested to Farmer That He Discard Practice of Marketing His Hay and Feed It to Good Grade of Dairy Cattle.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Farmers on some of the reclamation projects where alfalfa hay is a cash crop will find it to their advantage to change their practice and market this roughage through live stock, says the office of western irrigation agriculture of the United States Department of Agriculture. On the Newlands project in Nevada the recent prices for alfalfa hay have been $9 to $9.50 a ton f. o. b. cars, which nets the farmers about $5 or $6 a ton at the stack. Although these prices are considered fairly good at present, figures collected recently on the cost of production go to show that when the farmer is unable to get more than Cutting Alfalfa.

$6 a ton at the stack there is a net loss. Indications are that $7 a ton is nearer the cost of production, and this does not include any labor income for the farmer.

In order that the farmer may make a fair income on these alfalfa lands, it is suggested that he discard the practice of shipping off his hay and start feeding it to a good grade of dairy cows or to some other kind of live stock, particularly cattle and sheep.

Many farmers in this section have already demonstrated that live stock will solve the problem of making alfalfa profitable. The use of live stock keeps up the fertility of the soil and provides concentrated products that do not have to bear such heavy freight costs.

BENEFITS IN GROWING SEEDS

One Must Be Plant Expert to Be Successful and Vast Amount of Labor Is Required.

Prof. Paul Work of Cornell, speaking on better seeds and how to obtain them, said there were many advantages in growing seed. One knows the percentage of his own seed, and if he grows his own seed and does it well he can turn a profit from the sale of the surplus; but you have got to be a plant expert and it requires a vast amount of labor and care to grow good seeds. It was his opinion that the bulk of the seeds would come from seedsmen; that men in the seed business are spending thousands of dollars to get good seed, while others were giving the matter of quality little attention, preferring to sell the cheaper seed regardless of quality.

FIRST CULTIVATION OF CORN

As Soon as Plants Are Above Surface Land Should Be Stirred—Deeper Tillage Permitted.

Much will depend upon early cultivation of corn. Here is where "a stitch in time saves nine." As soon as the plants are above the surface the land should be stirred, usually. Unless no rain has fallen do not fail to start the cultivators as soon as you can tell the rows by the young plants. If no heavy rains have come since planting it might be well to wait a while for a rain.

The first cultivation of corn will permit deeper tillage than later when the brace roots develop. But care must be taken not to "throw much dirt" as the plants are easily covered and injured by the freshly plowed soil.

FIRM SEEDBED IS NECESSARY

To Hasten Germination of Grass Seed Field Should Be Rolled After Harrowing.

A firm seedbed is necessary to hasten germination of grass seed. The field should be dragged or rolled after disking and harrowing in order that the subsurface be firm and compact. The surface should be left in a mellow condition but not smooth as it may bake and become crusted before the seed germinates.

PREPARE SOIL FOR ALFALFA

Land Must Be Well Drained and Sweet-Limestone Will Help in Getting Stand.

Alfalfa, like persons, is particular about its living quarters and in order to thrive must have a dry home or well-drained land. The land must be sweet and therefore will help in preparing the soil.

COW-TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Small Group of Michigan Farmers First Entered Upon Experiment Considered Doubtful.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Fifteen years ago a small group of farmers in Michigan entered upon what many of them probably considered a very doubtful experiment. It was the organization of an association for testing their cows, in respect to how much feed they ate and how much milk they gave; an association such as the farmers of Denmark had organized.

Cow-Testing Associations Have Proved Big Success.

ed about ten years before, and which various other European countries had copied.

The experiment, as studied by the United States Department of Agriculture, proved a success, however, and now the number of such associations has grown from 1 to 452. It is notable that some states which took up the idea at an early date have stuck to the movement and organized more and more associations, while others continue with only a few. Most states increase the number of their cow-testing associations as time goes on and the Department of Agriculture is fostering the work.

The lack of testers during the war caused a setback to the movement, but recovery from this has taken place, and the number of associations in the country is now much larger than it was before the war.

AMOUNTS OF FEED FOR COWS

Upon Capacity of Animal Depends Quantity of Daily Portion of Grain and Roughage.

The quantity of silage to feed a cow depends upon the capacity of the animal. She should have as much as she will clean up without waste when consumed with the grain and hay, is the advice given farmers by the United States Department of Agriculture. A good cow should be fed just short of the limit of her appetite. The smaller cows usually eat from 20 to 30 pounds of silage a day, and the larger animals 40 pounds or more.

The hay needed ordinarily ranges between 5 and 12 pounds per cow a day, or 0.8 pound per 100 pounds of live weight when fed in connection with silage. Silage should be fed in the proportion of about 2.5 to 3 pounds per 100 pounds of live weight. Concentrates should be fed according to size of animals and richness of milk. One pound is required for each 2 1/2 to 4 pounds of milk produced.

Although corn silage is one of the best feeds, particularly for dairy cows, there are some milk producers who use it too freely. It is not a complete feed; neither is it a food that will give best results with only leguminous hays as alfalfa or cowpeas.

Since cows cannot consume enough of these rough feeds to produce the best results under ordinary conditions, it is necessary to feed concentrates in addition, particularly when the price is not high, as is the case this year. Farmers' Bulletin 578, "The Making and Feeding of Silage," contains much helpful information on feeding when silage is the basis of the ration.

WARM WATER FOR MILK COWS

Animals Will Not Drink Necessary Amount From Icy Tank—Heaters Can Be Provided.

Cold drinking water given to dairy cows will result in reduced quantity of milk. A cow which yields a large quantity of milk must drink lots of water; she won't drink much from an icy tank. Water tanks can be provided with heaters, or hot water can be poured into the tank.

Winter Dairying Held Back.

Winter dairying has been held back for many years, largely through the failure of cow-keepers to provide comfortable barns properly equipped.

Give Much More Butterfat. Cows sired by purebred bulls give much more butterfat than those sired by scrubs.

On Water Is Expensive.

WHY SOUSA JOINED LEGION

The Noted Bandmaster Says He Thinks It Is a Ratting Good Organization.

"I joined the Legion because I had a right to, being in the navy, and I did so because I think it is a ratting good organization," says John Philip Sousa, bandmaster extraordinary and leader of the mammoth naval band at the Great Lakes naval training station during the war.

The Legion and its activities are being spread into all parts of the world by the band leader's men. Thirty-two of the master musicians who make up the Sousa organization are ex-service men, and nearly all are affiliated with the Legion. They come from every part of the country and saw service in every branch of this country's military organization during the war.

When Sousa took hold of the Great Lakes band it was a group of sailors, whose right to play under him could have come only with their enlisting with the crowd that "took 'em over." What he did with this group of musical talent became known the country over. What they learned under Sousa couldn't have been learned anywhere else, and the finer points of the musician's art are being shown to the hundreds of Legion posts whose personnel is made up of one or more of the gobs who made up the largest service band of the many brought into being during the war.

NAME DESTROYER FOR PRUITT

Highest Honors Paid One of Pershing's Men Who Went to Death in War.

It is seldom that one of Uncle Sam's sea fighters is named for an enlisted man of the navy or marine corps. This has been done in the case of Corp. John Pruitt, one of Pershing's hundreds of heroes, who died from wounds while fighting Germans. Honors had been heaped on Corporal Pruitt before he met death, but the naming of a destroyer for him didn't take place until long afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pruitt of Phoenix, Ariz., have just received from the Italian government a citation and the Italian war cross, Croce di Guerra, in recognition of their son's valor nearly four years ago. The citation told of young Pruitt's single-handed battle against two machine gun crews, capturing both, killing two of the enemy and taking 40 prisoners. Under age and therefore ineligible for the first draft, Pruitt volunteered for service with the marines less than three weeks after war was declared. He was in France in January, 1918, and served as a "Devil Dog" until his death. His body was brought back to this country and buried with all the honors that are a hero's, in the National cemetery at Arlington.

LEGION HAS CEMETERY PLOT

Racine (Wis.) Organization Will See That No Ex-Service Man Sleeps in Potter's Field.

The American Legion at Racine, Wis., has taken over a part of one of the city's cemeteries and will hold it in order that no one of the ex-service men who did his share in the army or navy during the World war need sleep in a potter's field. When the Legion's work on its acquired plot is complete, Racine will have a miniature Arlington. The plot is circular and will be fittingly arranged in order that it may look as much as possible like the national cemetery in Virginia.

The Legion men have authorized the expenditure of $5,893.50 for the land. A steel mast, from which will fly the Stars and Stripes is one of the first things the organization will buy. Already Racine's 55 ex-service men are buried in two of its cemeteries. An effort is to be made to have as many of these as possible transferred to the new plot. Room for the burial of more than 300 veterans is being allowed for.

The next session of the Wisconsin legislature will be asked to raise the amount which the state allows for the burial of a war veteran. At present this amount is but $50, but it is hoped that this will be increased to $75 or $100.

Carrying On With the American Legion

It rained $500 for the Legion in Toronto recently. Insurance was taken out against more than 10-100 of an inch on a celebration day. The precipitation was 14-100.

Bronze doors will lead into the $250,000 memorial hall to be erected at Central Park, Wash., in honor of the four American Legion men who were killed in the war.

Wit and Humor

HARD WORK AND LONG HOURS

"Did you see the bunch of fellows parading for miles from six o'clock in the morning till five in the evening and then standing up for hours listening to speeches?" asked Mr. Rafferty.

"I did," said Mr. Dolan. "Who are they?"

"They're the lads who say they're morally opposed to working more than six hours a day."

Dubious Praise.

"The right kind of man appreciates a compliment from his wife."

"Well," said Mr. Bibbles, thoughtfully, "that depends on the circumstances. Somehow I don't feel a rosy glow of satisfaction stealing over me after I have related a carefully concocted story to explain my absence from the domestic hearth and friend wife tells me with a cynical smile that I'm 'truly gifted.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Some Lawyers Do.

"You didn't take that divorce case?"

"No. When I asked my fair visitor what grounds she had for seeking a divorce from her husband she said she'd met another man who was a 'perfect dear.'"

"Umph!"

"I flatter myself that I'm a pretty fair lawyer, but I didn't see how I could go into court and argue a case like that."

Oratorical Limitations.

"What kind of orator, is Senator Snortworthy?"

"He's about the average speaker."

"Yes?"

"If he hasn't anything in particular to talk about he may discourse for an hour and a half, but if he has a message to deliver he can get it out of his system in thirty minutes."

ALL HE COULD STAND.

Wife—Fred, I want $20 for pin money.

Hubby—Great Scott. Here it is, but I'm darned glad you don't want to buy pipes.

Nature Verses.

They're censoring the movies. We hope they'll have a care

And cut out all the wicked trees Whose limbs are bare.

Wants a Good Wife.

"Here's an advertisement for a wife."

"She must be young, rich and beautiful, I suppose?"

"No, but the requirements are almost as hard to meet. The advertiser specifies that she must be 'under forty, immune from the movies, and house-broken.'"

A Valuable Guest.

Howard—What good are you at a party?

Coward—I can talk to the people who can't sing, and want to sing, and prevent 'em from doing it.—Judge.

The Matrimonial Hazard.

"You sell store fixtures?"

"Yes," said the dealer.

"I want a mahogany candy case. By the way, does a blonde or a brunette go best with mahogany?"

"We can't advise you on that point, sir, but if you want a girl to be a fixture you'd better pick out a homely one."

In a Family Hotel.

Rollo—Why do they call one of those men the star boarder and the other the porter?

His Father—From two nautical terms, starboard and port, meaning right and left. In the matter of diet the star boarder is in right with the landlady while the porter takes what is left.

An Unfair Advantage.

"I was grieved to read the speech you delivered yesterday, senator."

"Grieved, sir. Grieved in the press reports."

"But the reporter claims he took it down in shorthand."

"The dickens he did! Is there no protection for man in public life?"

Farm Products.

"What's the best way to make a farm profitable?"

"I have about decided," answered Farmer Cornstossel. "that the best way is to lay it out in city lots or golf links."

Hahl Hahl

"Why do you specialize on giving your patients laughing gas?"

"Well, you see, our fees are considered large, so when we present our bill he'll be in a good humor and pay us promptly."

Lost Voice After "Flu"

Thursday Health Talk No. 15,
by H. H. Beatty, Chiropractor

After the "flu" there invariably follows some weakness. The lungs may be weakened. Perhaps there is a bronchial trouble. With some a heart flurry is noticed. Quite often the kidneys are affected. Usually when there is loss of voice, the loss is permanent unless the victim turns to chiropractic spinal adjustments.

When there is a noticeable chronic weakness following "flu" it is a clear indication of a primary weakness, something that is interfering with the transmission of mental impulses by way of the spinal nerve openings at the vertebrae. By chiropractic spinal adjustments this disorder of the spinal vertebrae is righted, and the spinal nerves freed to deliver a 100 per cent volume of mental impulses.

Must Be Eighteen Years Old.

County School Commissioner Evan Essery has mailed to school boards the following letter:

"There are a number of young people in the county who will not be 18 years of age until after the school year begins. For that reason the Examining Board cannot issue a certificate to these people. Neither may a school board contract because a certificate is necessary to make a contract legal.

"The Superintendent of Public Instruction says that it is unlawful for a school board to pay any money to one not holding a certificate. He says further that it is unlawful for the board to allow a teacher to teach two or three months for nothing and then pay said teacher for the remaining part of the year, wages for the whole year.

"The district board is liable for all money paid to unqualified teachers. One district in the county forfeited a part of its primary money last year because of an unqualified teacher. It is for this reason that I am trying to make it plain the danger of the board paying public money under unlawful conditions.

"As director, you are required to put on your annual report the name of the person teaching in your district and I am required to state the qualifications. I believe you see the position that both of us are in.

"No doubt there are districts in the state that get away with such situations. If there is one in the district who wants to get even with some one of the board, he can make the board pay over such money paid under conditions above stated.

"In employing teachers, residents of Washtenaw county should have the preference, when qualifications and ability are equal. For this reason the Examining Board will not issue transfer certificates to people living in other counties if there are Washtenaw teachers available. It may be well for you to inquire about this when you receive applications for your school."

Applications Are Ready.

Daniel Zimmerman, State Savings bank, Col. Alfred H. Lowell, No. 270, Engineering building and T. R. Pierol, 820 Hill street compose the Washtenaw county board in charge of recruiting for the Citizen's Military Training camp at Camp Custer near Battle Creek. The camp will last from August 2 to September 2 and application can be made to any member of the board.

Dr. G. C. Alway, 503 First National bank building, and James F. Breakey, 203 East Huron street, and the University Health service for students will examine all applicants free of charge.

All expenses are paid by the government, the candidate giving only his time. Young men between the ages of 17 and 27 are eligible.—Ann Arbor Times News.

Mr. Fagin's Secretary

By MALCOLM BROWN

Copyright, 1932, Western Newspaper Union.

"So you're the young man that thinks he can act as my secretary, hey?" inquired Mr. Fagin, swinging round in his swivel chair and staring at Blake under a pair of bushy gray eyebrows. "Nine and twenty I've turned down today, but if you think you can manage—shake hands!"

He gave Mr. Fagin his hand and felt a peculiar pressure of the fingers, which his own leaped to meet. Then he began, "I can—"

"Tut, tut, young man!" replied the eccentric. "Consider yourself engaged. It warms my heart to meet you. I'm a judge of men and we're both Irishmen, ain't we?"

"Indeed we are," said Blake enthusiastically. And so he went to work and proved highly efficient.

Blake had two troubles about this time. One was his ability to discover how it could be that a man of Fagin's apparent limited education had gone through college. The other was Fagin's daughter, Muriel. It was a case of love at first sight with both the young people.

It was about two months after his introduction to the manufacturer's house that he found himself seated beside Miss Muriel upon the piazza. He took her hand, and drew the girl to him and kissed her.

"Muriel, dearest," he said, "do you know I have loved you ever since I set eyes on you?"

Muriel blushed so divinely that there was nothing to do but repeat the episode.

"But I don't know what your father will say," he said, with the timid fear of lovers. "If he discharges me—will you wait, Muriel?"

"For ever," she whispered. "Besides, I can win over papa. What is a papa?"

So it happened that when he stood before his employer and stammered out his story, in the way young men approach wealthy old gentlemen, Fagin's eyes fixed themselves upon Blake's shirt-front and narrowed to needle lines.

"May I ask you why you are wearing a green tie on this day of all days, Mr. Blake?" he demanded, with ominous calm.

"Why," said Blake, hesitating, "you see, today is the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, a day abhorrent to all good Irishmen, and—"

Blake's great grandfather had been hanged for treason in the days of Robert Emmet.

Fagin leaped out of his chair with the agility of a tiger.

"Scoundrel! Scum of Limerick!" he yelled. "To insult a good Belfast man by flaunting the green flag! You're dazed. I'll have your pay sent you—"

"Come, papa, what is all this about?" interposed Muriel's soothing voice.

"He's wearing of the green—and on this day, of all days!" stormed her father.

"Father, dear—for my sake listen," pleaded Muriel. "I am sure that Arthur—Mr. Blake can explain everything. Father," she pleaded, "We love each other."

"But he's a damned rebel, Molly, and—the infernal impudence of it!"

"Tell him it's all a mistake, Arthur," pleaded Muriel.

"It ain't a mistake, it's just treachery," roared her father. "Nine and twenty good men, fine men, I turned down that morning till he gave me the grip!"

"What grip?" demanded Blake.

"The grip of the United Orange-men's Brotherhood," roared the old man.

"The grip I gave you," answered Blake, "was that of the Alpha Omega Mu fraternity. I had been told it helped a man to get a position by giving it. I thought you were a college man."

Old Fagin stared at him in stupid wonder. Then:

"Give me that grip again," he said, and Blake, all against the fraternity rules, delivered it.

"My fault," he acknowledged. "You got your thumb crossed in the wrong place. It must have been my gait had made me imagine—Well, young fellow, maybe I'll let you keep your job."

"And how about Miss Fagin?" inquired the other.

"Muriel? My daughter! I'll see you—I—er—now don't cry, Molly, dear. I guess she goes with the job."

Christopher "Colombo."

Washington Irving's life of Christopher Columbus gives his correct name as Colombo. "He Latinized his name to Columbus in his letters, according to the usage of the times, as Latin was the language of learned correspondence. In his subsequent life in Spain, he recurred to what was supposed to be the original Roman name of the family, Colonius, which he abbreviated to Colon to adapt it to the Castilian (Spanish) tongue." In Spanish history he is known as Christopher Colon. In Latin the name "Colonus" means an agriculturalist or colonist.

Not for Him!

"We will make you feel quite at home," said the obsequious hotel manager to his distinguished visitor. The visitor—(oh, yes, he was married)—packed and left within the hour.

INDUSTRY LOST TO CANADA

Country Failed to Take Advantage of Ability to Build Tonnage for the High Seas.

Canadian shipbuilding dates from 1806 with the small vessels built at Port Royal (Annapolis) by Francade Grave, sailor from St. Malo. Seventy years later Interdent Talon's trading vessels are voyaging from Quebec to the West Indies and France—fore-runners of those on the later triangular course—Canada to South America, Marseilles and return.

The year 1833 is the famous sea-mark when the Royal William, capacity 383 tons, left Pictou on August 29 and reached London in 25 days—the first ship to cross the ocean under no power but steam. Though this ship was built in Quebec, it was to Nova Scotia in the persons of the three Cunard brothers that the vision came. Steam power, however, was as yet a baby. In 1860, Mackenzie of Pictou astonished Glasgow with the Hamilton Campbell Kidston, the biggest sailing ship the Clyde had ever seen. In 1864 Nova Scotia was launching 300 vessels, and by 1880 eastern Canada building, sailing, owning and selling, had become one of the four greatest shipping districts of the world. For a period between these dates Canada headed the lists of tonnage in proportion to population.

It was not so much the use of steam that caused the decline as the change from wood to metal. Had Nova Scotia developed her metal industries a generation sooner, the 500 Canadian vessels, built in 1875, would surely not have dwindled to 29 in 1900.

EARTH NOT REALLY CROWDED

Trouble Is That Nature Has Not Seemed to Arrange a Division That Is Equitable.

Somebody has reckoned that if the earth's population had increased 4½ per cent every hundred years since the birth of Christ, by now there would not be standing room left on the globe, including all the islands. Yet England and Wales in ten years increased their population 161 per cent, and the increase in the United States has been much greater.

The earth's population at the present time is about sixteen hundred million. Different parts of the earth vary greatly in the matter of density of population. Certain portions of China, the Ganges valley, and parts of Europe are too crowded for comfort. On the other hand, large tracts of Central Asia, Russia, the Americas, Africa and Australia could accommodate many more people.

The Turks by their religious fanaticism have caused devastation in the last five hundred years in the valley of the Danube, in Macedonia, Asia Minor, Syria, and Mesopotamia. These countries, as a result of massacre and famine, are dried-up deserts.—Popular Science Monthly.

To Waterproof Matches.

One of the commonest experiences of the camper is that of finding that matches are so damp that they will not strike. All this trouble may be avoided by providing oneself with waterproof matches. These are easily made in the following way: Melt a few lumps of candle wax in an old can on the stove. Allow this to cool a little and then, before it has set, dip the matches in, one at a time. Treat the heads and about half of the wooden part. Place the matches on one side to cool. Matches treated in this simple manner have been soaked in water for many hours, and they have ignited as readily as those which were perfectly dry. The only difference is that, in striking, it is needful to do so a trifle more firmly so as to get through the thin film of wax surrounding the head. When once the flame starts, the match burns very readily, owing to the wax which had adhered to the wood. Any ordinary matches can be treated in the manner described.—S. Leonard Bostin in St. Nicholas.

Use the Hours Wisely.

Many men whose time had never been turned to account until they were past 40 have still had enough left to accomplish great things in the world.

But these are the most sincere mourners for the years that might have been utilized.

If you will begin to-day to bear in mind that time cannot be hoarded, and that every hour of it should be converted into something that can be hoarded, you may lay the foundation for a fortune. You will certainly lay the foundation for happiness by and by.

Count your hours and allot each one to some task or to some profitable recreation. See that none of them slip by. They are as water through a mill, which, if sent over the wheel, creates valuable energy, but which spilled over the dam is gone forever.—John Blake, in Chicago Daily News.

You Never Can Tell.

Guest (upon approaching his host's home in the suburb)—Ah, there are some of your family on the veranda. See if I can guess who they are. The girl in short dresses is your daughter, the young man in riding breeches is your son and the lady in the—er—tea gown is your charming wife.

Host—No, you are all wrong. The girl in the short dresses is my grand-mother; the young fellow in riding breeches is my wife and the lady in the tea gown is my 10-year-old daughter, who likes to dress up in her great-grandmother's dresses.—Judge.
