

Big Vote Period Ends in Eight More Days, Sept. 16

MISS BRADBURY TAKES LEAD BY SMALL NUMBER OF VOTES—CAMPAIGN AT FEVER HEAT AND A DETERMINED FIGHT IS BEING MADE BY MANY—NAMES OF NON-ACTIVE CONTEST-
ANTS WILL BE WITHDRAWN AFTER THIS WEEK—IS A NECK
AND NECK RACE FOR THE HANDSOME PRIZES. WORK
NOW MEANS SUCCESS IN THE END. DON'T BE DEFEATED.

With only eight more days remaining of the first period Big Votes, the contestants in the Tribune Big Prize Campaign are lining up friends for effective work during this time. They realize that during the next eight days is the time to pile up the votes that will mean success in the end, and with the final closing date only three weeks ahead, none of the wise ones will lose time during these important days. The contest manager is kept busy looking after the demands of the various contestants furnishing them with subscription blanks and information desired.

One lady who just started to work yesterday telephoned last night that she was meeting with good success
and finding it easy to secure subscriptions, and would report Saturday-tomorrow.

Big Subscriptions Count Most Contestants should not overlook the fact that long term subscriptions
count most, and now is the best time to secure them. 2, 3, 4, 5, and 10-year subscriptions will soon build up a reserve vote that will win the $1065 Studebaker Touring Car. Think of the advantage of turning in a few 5-
and 10-year subscriptions this week.
Be a wise one and take full advantage of the opportunity that is now before you. There is honor as well as profit

in winning the Studebaker Touring Car—$1065 is yours soon if you put the necessary pep and good-business methods at work now. No one wants to be defeated and work now while the big votes are on, will keep you from meeting defeat on September 30—when the prizes will be awarded by the official judges.

Must Report This Week.
All contestants who desire to compete for the prizes must turn in one or more subscriptions this week. If not convenient to bring them to the office personally they may be mailed any time Saturday. All those who do not make a report this week will be withdrawn from the list.

Miss Bradbury Leads
In the count of votes made Thursday night Miss Merle Bradbury took the lead by a small number of votes.
There are about twenty-five contestants so closely bunched that any of them could have taken the lead with a single one-year subscription. In fact any one in the list may jump to the top place at any time.

Office Open Saturday Night.
On account of the rush the Tribune
Contest department will be kept open until 10 o'clock Saturday night, in order that the contestants may work
all day Saturday and turn their subscriptions in on Saturday night. Turn in every possible subscription Saturday night.

LARGE CROWD GATHERS AT RECEPTION

A most pleasant evening was spent last night when about 150 people gathered in the Macabbee hall for the reception given by the St. Paul's church association in honor of Rev.
G. H. Grabowski who has just been installed as the new minister for the St. Paul's church.

It was a sweltering warm evening,
and the hall, although several electric fans were brought, was close and warm. The extremely adverse condition did not keep people from all demonstrations from being there. This fact expressed well the fine feeling in Chelsea. It was a spirit of willingness to co-operate.

A fine program was enjoyed and refreshments were served, after which the people mingled and talked.

OLD SHOW MAN HERE.

Quintis Whitmore, a professional entertainer who has been on the road
for 71 years is here visiting his cousin
Mrs. George Clark. Mr. Whitmore has his own show at present giving entertainments with movies and vaudeville. He started out as an acrobat with John Stoves circus, the first show
to travel with a band wagon.

Mr. Whitmore will endeavor to give an entertainment here in the near future. He has traveled around the world with W. W. Coe circus, he owned a half interest in the Whitmore-Balley shows at one time, and is a lover of the white top tents.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes returned home Tuesday evening from a motor trip to Marion, Ind., where they were guests at the home of Mrs.
Holmes' parents Mr. and Mrs. E. K.
White. Their sons, Howard and Dudley, who have been visiting their grandparents returned home with them.

Miss Estella Guerin of Ann Arbor
is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Sam Guerin this week.

HOT WEATHER COMES RATHER LATE

Hot weather certainly seems to be the style just at present. When we wanted it and expected it we found it cool and uncomfortable, now when we would appreciate cool evenings as well as days, when the corn is past the stage when it needs the hot nights,
we get more than we want.

Just what the thermometer registered here in Chelsea is not authentic but the reports all were around the century mark. At any rate we can all agree that it was mighty warm.
After the cool July and August that we enjoyed it would hardly be right to pass the year without some real good warm weather. The past few days the sun has beat its strongest rays down here and made all suffer.

At the state fair men showing cattle were in a continual state of worry because of the extreme heat. Their cattle were in the highest condition and their coats glossy with oil, all in readiness for the show ring. Many an exhibitor put hundreds of pounds of ice in his hog pens, and spent many an hour fanning those wonderful specimens that represented some of the best breeding in the country.
It is no wonder that a man would worry about those animals.

Many cases of sun stroke and death due to being overheated have been reported in the larger cities. With any continuance of such weather these casualties are bound to increase greatly.
It will pay everyone to take the best of care of themselves. What you get is of the greatest importance, care being taken that not too much meat and foods containing large amounts of fats and proteins are eaten.

CHELSEA MEETS HOWELL SUNDAY

The Chelsea Independents will meet the Howell Independents Sunday on the local field. The game promises to be a fast one and well worth seeing. Howell has been winning things in Livingston County and now is going to try and see what she can do over here. A big crowd is expected.

EXPERT PREDICTS ARGENTINE AS DAIRY COUNTRY

Cattle Raising Hitherto Devoted to Meat Will Change Says Wisconsin
Professor.

Obtain Best Holsteins.

Argentine, which has long ranked as one of the greatest meat-producing countries, is about to develop an enormous industry in dairy products.

This statement was made by Prof.
George C. Humphrey of the University of Wisconsin, a well known dairy and live stock expert, who left for South America this week on the Pacific liner Ebro.

Professor Humphrey is going to Argentina at the request of the Argentine department of agriculture,
and will have entire supervision over the improvement of dairy cattle and the development of a dairy product industry. He will travel to Argentina
by way of Valparaiso and the Trans-Andine railroad in order to have an opportunity to visit some of the large Argentine cattle ranches on his way to Buenos Aires.

In speaking of the outlook for the new industry, Professor Humphrey
said: "Hitherto the raising of cattle in Argentina has been almost entirely connected with the meat industry, and it has been difficult to obtain sufficient milk and butter to meet current requirements. Argentina's population, however, is growing so rapidly that it has become necessary to increase the output of dairy products, and I have been asked to visit the country and assist Argentine cattle raisers in establishing dairy farms and getting an insight into American ideals. I expect to stay in Argentina about five months and in that time will probably be able to get the new industry well under way."

"The Argentine government," Proffessor Humphrey added, "has already obtained thru the University of Wisconsin some of our best Holsteins, and has a good nucleus for extending the dairy business throughout the country. With its wonderful climate and great resources, Argentina is certain to become one of the greatest raisers of dairy cattle and also an extensive exporter of dairy products."

YOU INHERIT IT.

Suppose you go to an antique shop and buy an old Chinese dagger, with ivory handle and an ivory sheath. You clean it, hang it on the wall.

Friends come in. Show the Chinese dagger to them. They handle it gingerly. Then, discovering that it doesn't bite, a wave of impulse sweeps through them. Playfully they pretend to go on the warpath—make flourishes as if about to stab every one in sight.

Scientists call that a "reversion to type"—a throwback to barbarous ancestors who wanted to kill with a knife whenever they got their fingers on it.

Occasionally the reversion to type unfortunately occurs when some one is examining a pistol. Then a wreath is hung beside the front door with purple streamers attached, and the pistol handler says he didn't know it was loaded.

All of us inherit many primitive emotions from ancestors thousands of years back. These emotions are like furnace fires with the drafts closed by gradual civilization. These emotions, in supercivilization, will become cold, dead ashes. Now they smoulder, some of them rarely bursting into flame in the course of a lifetime.

They are the relics that mark man's upward climb.

Behold the spring gardener, happily plunging his fingers into the soil. He is a reversion of type—displaying the mechanical springtime planting habit of ancestors, far back when agriculture was the only form of real civilization.

The city man's backyard garden is an inherited expression of the crop growing instinct.

What of the man who hates gardening and flower planting? He probably likes to roam in the woods and fish—a throwback to ancestors who lived by fishing and hunting. They were roamers, unlike the soil tillers.

Another type in spring goes crazy on sport. If they could trace their family trees far enough, they'd probably find gladiators and professional soldiers at the roots.

Nature intended all men to be tillers of the soil. Wandering therefrom, we have economic and health problems that result from congestion. From these we revolt in springtime—revert to type—fish, roam, plant vegetables, trees, grass and flowers.

Springtime wakens all that lies dormant in man's blood and brain. It is the link connecting us with the unknown past.

INDIAN'S ADVICE TO A CHRISTIAN.

An Englishman who wants to be a missionary in India wrote the Pundit Rabindranath Tagore. In reply he received a letter that has been published. It gives the views of an Indian of highest character and great learning. He does not see some things quite as we do, but he does place emphasis on some things with such beauty and force that most Christians may learn from him. The letter follows: "I have read your letter with pleasure, I have only this to say: 'Do not be always trying to preach your doctrine, but give yourself in love. Your western mind is too much obsessed with the idea of conquest. Your inveterate habit of proselytism is another form of it. Christ never preached Himself, or any dogma or doctrine. He preached the love of God. The object of a Christian should be to be like Christ—never to be like a coolie recruiter, trying to bring coolies to his master's tea garden. Preaching your doctrine is no sacrifice at all—it is indulging in a luxury far more dangerous than all luxuries of material living. It breeds an illusion in your mind that you are doing your duty—that you are wiser and better than your fellow beings. But the real preaching is in being perfect, which is through meekness and love and self dedication. If you have in you pride of race, pride of sect, and pride of personal superiority, strong, there is no use trying to do good to others. They will reject your gift, or even if they do accept it they will not be morally benefited by it; instances of which can be seen in India every day. On the spiritual plane you cannot do good until you are good. You cannot preach the Christianity of the Christian sect until you are like Christ, and then you do not preach 'Christianity,' but the love of God as Christ did. You have repeatedly said that your standard of living is not likely to be different from that of the 'natives'—but one thing I ask you: will you be able to make yourself one with those whom you call 'natives?' Not merely in habits, but in love? For it is utterly degrading to accept any benefit but that which is offered in the spirit of love. God is love, and all that we receive at His hands blesses us. But when a man tries to usurp God's place, and assume the role of a giver of gifts, and does not come as a mere purveyor of God's love, then it is all vanity."

COWARDLY KILLERS.

A speeding motorist swerves his car and knocks down a motorcycle cop who had crept up alongside the auto and ordered the driver to halt. The policeman is badly injured.

Such cases are fairly rare. But thousands of drivers daily chortle with glee as they swing their cars and make pedestrians jump. Without realizing it, they have murder in their hearts. Psychologists call them "potential criminals without the courage to commit the actual crime."

MAN'S MAGIC.

England is having queer weather. Its climate is changing, says John Harrison, British scientist. The cause, he believes, is a shifting of the Gulf current, due to the dam like structure of the railroad across the Florida keys to Key West.

What do you think of man's power, when he changes the weather? Merlin, King Arthur's magician, never dreamed of black magic like that.

New York policeman who killed a robber will probably plead he didn't know the gun was loaded.

LIVE STOCK FACTS

SHEEP RID LAWN OF WEEDS

Dandelions and Other Plants on Court-house Square Eagerly Devoured by Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The courthouse lawn in Elbert county, Colo., like many other lawns, was badly infested with dandelions. The county agent suggested killing them by pasturing rather than plowing under the soil. According to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture, the test was approved by the commissioners. Sufficient hog wire to fence the lawn was purchased and two pastures 100 feet long and 50 feet wide were made. A farmer living near town furnished six old ewes which were placed in one pasture May 14, when the dandelions were at their best. A week later four more were added to the flock. The ewes were changed from one pasture to the other at one-week intervals. They soon had the dandelions and grass eaten down and kept it down. They ate blossoms and buds readily, and the hearts out of the dandelion plants close to the ground. Better results would have been obtained had the sheep been put in earlier, but the experiment proved quite effective in ridding the lawn of dandelions.

PREVENTION IS BEST REMEDY

White Scours in Calves and Pigs is Caused by Infection. Treatment Not Promising.

White scours in calves and pigs is caused by infection; without colon bacilli are mostly responsible. Treatment of infected pigs is not promising; the main thing is prevention. Do not feed too heavy a grain ration for a period of two weeks before turning pig. Feed bran, roots and alfalfa, with a light ration of corn or barley, and be sure to provide opportunity for exercise. However, these things are of little consequence after infection appears. Keep your sows with little pigs on the ground; individual hog houses. This will be safer than keeping them in the same old pens, which may still be infected. These hog houses should be kept out in a field and well scattered. This gives opportunity for exercise and lessens the danger of infection. Provide a small amount of litter or bedding for each house. Use disinfectants freely. Veterinary Department, Colorado Agricultural College.

SHEEP REQUIRE GOOD SHADE

Plenty of Right Kind Returns Big Dividends—One Tree is Much Worse Than None.

Plenty of the right kind of shade for sheep returns big dividends. Farmers and sheep raisers say. Only one or two shade trees here a pasture are worse than none at all. A place to which the sheep come after day soon becomes a hotbed of parasites they add. The concentration of small shades, which can be moved from place to place is saving the industry for many farmers.

ARTIFICIAL SHADE FOR HOGS

Protection of Some Kind Should Be Provided in Pasture Where Trees Are Lacking.

Where there are no trees in the hog pasture, to provide the much-needed shade during the summer months, an artificial shade is a most important part of the summer equipment. A good shelter may be constructed by setting short posts in the ground and building a roof of light boards over these. Wind-frames should be guarded against by nailing the boards securely.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Do not lose sight of the good high-grade coal-tar dips, which are certainly valuable when applied according to directions.

Shade and a wallow for hot weather, and wood ashes, charcoal and other stomach rectifiers, are necessary if the hogs are expected to go their best.

VELVET PARASOL

Something new in parasols is a variation of black-velvet lined with lace, with a long handle and ferrule of carved ivory.

To be first, the shoemaker must take a sober second thought and stick to his last.

Uncle Sam's Neptune Ace On Longest Flight

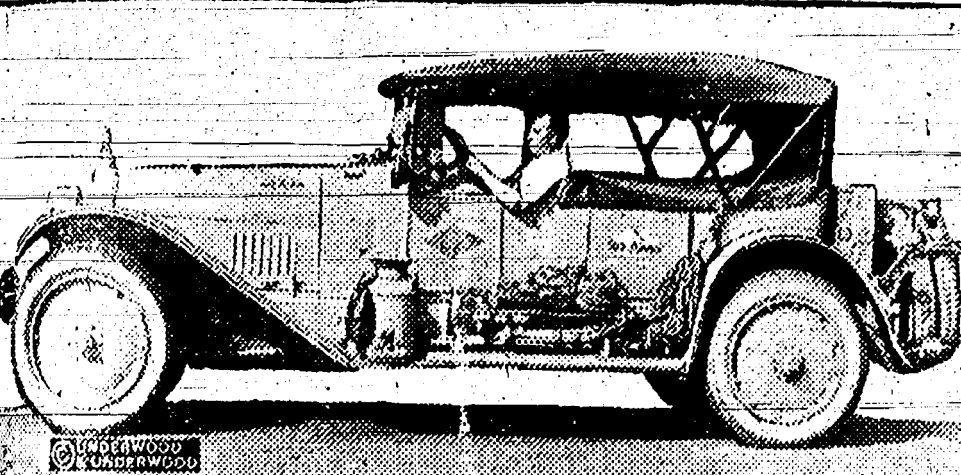

When Lieut. Walter Hinton, U. S. Navy, flew the first seaplane across the Atlantic in 1919, he wrote history. He is now on a Navy plane flight from New York to Rio de Janeiro, which if completed, will be a record trip of 8,400 miles.

Lieut. Hinton with a pilot, a mechanic, one newspaper man and a Brazilian passenger, left New York August 17th and is expected to reach Rio September 7th, in time for the opening of the Brazilian Centennial Exposition.

Along the Atlantic coast Hinton's craft, the Sampson, was counter-attacked by a head wind and was often turned back. The flight is the longest ever made by Uncle Sam.

UTOISTS BLIND TO ALL DANGERS

Eight Out of Ten Drivers Will Completely Ignore Perils at Railway Crossings.

UTOMOBILES RUN INTO TRAIN

Chicago Safety Council Is Striving to Stop That Accidents Are Not More Frequent Than in Other Sections.

Eight out of every ten motorists are over a railroad crossing without giving either way for the approach of a train and one out of five railroad crossing accidents is the result of not stopping the automobile, but the motorist's running into the path of the train.

The Chicago Safety Council is the statement contained in a pamphlet distributed to all motorists by the council, which is functioning as a campaign for the Chicago Safety Council.

Chicago Daily News—Large number of accidents showing an impending collision between a railroad train and an automobile are also being placed before the public by the Chicago Safety Council.

Hope All Will Heed. "It is hoped," concludes the pamphlet, "that all children who hear of this message will carry it home to their parents and do everything possible to prevent railway crossing accidents."

At the same time, the Chicago Safety Council is also taking every consistent action to minimize casualties from this cause.

The completion of the railroad extension all over the United States and the fact that the number of accidents at railway crossings is increasing is of great interest to the public here and the Safety Council is striving to see to it that motorists are fully informed of the dangers at railway crossings.

Public Interest Law. "It is obvious that up to this time the general public is not paying due attention to the careful crossing campaign, for our reports show a good many of such accidents occurred over the weekend in Chicago and the surrounding territory. It is to be believed that in the face of this campaign motorists persist in making changes at railway crossings.

It is to be hoped that the man driving the car to full to appreciate the danger involved in crossing railway tracks, but surely he must have a great value upon the lives of the people who ride with him. One is almost forced to think that sometimes he does not. The fact has arrived when we must all become aroused to this situation and do our share in improving it."

REPAIR GASOLINE FEED LINE

Temporary Job Is Readily Done by Wrapping Tape Around Break and Cover With Wire.

A temporary repair of the gasoline feed line can be readily made. After shutting off the gasoline at the tank, tape is wrapped around the break and for about two inches on each side. A layer of fine copper or other wire is then wound over the tape, making sure that the winding is tight, close and even. Another layer or two of tape is then placed over the wire, after which a few turns of wire are wound over the tape to prevent it from unwrapping.

Clean the Screen. When a mesh of fine screening is used in the lubricating system to separate foreign material from the oil, these screens should be frequently inspected. Particles of metal or other sediment collect here, and if the screens are not cleaned at frequent intervals, this foreign matter may seriously impede the flow of lubricant, with starved bearings or a flooded crankcase as the direct result.

Lieut. R. R. Fox, air service pilot at Camp Custer, was commended by Brig. Gen. Mosley, camp commandant, for risking his life to save members of the Citizens Military Training Camp by plunging his plane nose down when making a forced landing. Fox was only slightly injured and his observer, Lieut. L. Z. Hitchcock, was scarcely bruised.

Swimming without pause for eight and three-quarters hours, Miss Genevieve Rowe, 17, of Hillsdale, Mich., swam the entire length of Crystal Lake, near Benzonia, a distance of nine miles. Miss Rowe did not leave the water even to eat. Her only food was raisins, which were handed to her by persons who accompanied her in a boat.

THE FRIENDLY PATH

By WALTER I. ROBINSON

"WE ARE not especially concerned about how you feel when you enter our store, but we are extremely anxious to know how you feel when you leave."

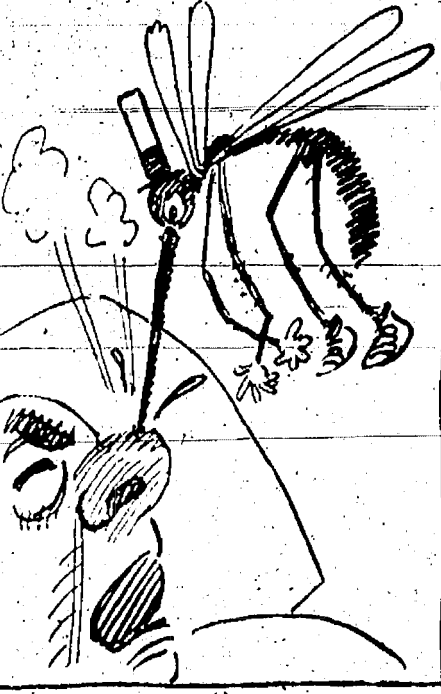

This sign greets the eyes of customers, entering one of the big, successful stores in an eastern city. It is an indication of the new attitude many engaged in commercial business are assuming.

There was a period following the armistice when in virtually all big cities many of those engaged in selling found business so brisk that they did not deem it necessary to keep the patrons smiling, while they separated them from their money. Too many of the customers, in fact, did find enjoyment in spending, and they may be partially blamed for the indifference of merchants to please. But, with the drop in business and profits, it is encouraging to find a rebirth of the old-fashioned regard for courteous and square dealing. Such sentiment as that expressed in the quotation given above is evidence that, willingly or unwillingly, those engaged in business desire to re-establish old-time friendly relations with those who trade with them.

With the changed attitude there is certain to come a higher regard for principle, upon which in large measure the happiness of business people is dependent. There should, therefore, be no wide regrets among those who have to reduce prices to such an extent that profits decreased reasonably below the peak level. Not alone because of the greater happiness which results from honest principles in business, but also due to the satisfaction of greater volume in business, assured through the law of diminishing returns, should business people be thankful that they and their customers are coming to meet again on more friendly terms.

Let everyone remember these words of Skelton: "The springs of our actions, our actions, the springs of our happiness or misery. Too much care, therefore, cannot be taken in forming our principles." (By the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The practice of spearing game fish in inland waters was condemned in a resolution passed by the Alanson Sportsmen club, Petoskey. The resolution was introduced by George W. McNaba, president of the Petoskey Gun club. McNaba went on record with a statement that the manufacture and sale of such spears should be forbidden by law. It also was resolved to investigate the Cheboygan locks through which fish are passing up.

Trapped in the upper story of his farm home in Beaumont township, near Cheboygan, by flames which swept the place, John Herron, 73 years old, was burned to death. Efforts of neighbors, who heard the frightened yelps of Herron's watchdog as they sought to escape from the furnace of flame, failed to reach Herron before escape was entirely cut off. All of the buildings on the farm were destroyed.

A cut of $5,000,000 in the assessed valuation of Macomb county as carried on the state tax commission's books, has been obtained by members of the county board of supervisors, in a protest before the state tax commission. The amount of reduction equals the amount of increase, made by the state board this year, over county assessment valuations.

It is quite easy to point out the defects in a man's program after he has demonstrated that it is a failure.

A new city ordinance prohibiting the display of fruits and vegetables out of doors is to be tested in Flint. A fruit merchant who placed tomatoes outside and was arrested contends he has a right to continue the practice as long as hucksters carry such produce through the streets.

When you face the world and try to do something for the benefit of mankind, you are confronted with serious problems. How to solve them, how to eradicate a b e evil, and how to succeed in the work of general betterment is, of course, a great task. The following problems, if solved, would bring America peace, happiness, and prosperity. Let us solve them.

SOME PROBLEMS

FIRST—Apathy. America's people love good humor. Feed them well and permit them to sleep and they will laugh through any storm and ride through any disaster. Immediately after the disasters of life have apparently passed, however, they settle down into a state of apathy. That condition is today settling upon us.

During the war, we preached preparation, watchfulness, and the curbing of all radical forces. When peace was announced, we settled back into the habit of eating, sleeping, and laughing. The "self forces" didn't sleep; the powers antagonistic to good government didn't sleep. Apathy is the enemy of preparation. America has never been ready for any war, and unless we cure apathy, we will never be ready for any battle. Every boy in America should have at least three months of military training; every young man in America should take advantage of the Citizen's Training Camp every summer.

SECOND—Broken family altars. Ninety-three per cent of the homes of America are without family altars, and ninety-nine per cent of the homes of the world are without family altars. You cannot rear a family in an ungodly atmosphere and give to the world virtuous sons and daughters. Millions of our people have passed through the infamous divorce court because the family altar was not in the home to check the march toward domestic destruction.

THIRD—Sabbath desecration. Men cannot ignore the law of God which commands every man to stand still and rest on the first day of the week. The Sabbath desecration which is on the increase in this country is largely responsible for the confusion, the chaos, and the anarchy that is rampant in this land. Bring men back to the observance of the Holy Sabbath.

FOURTH—Neglected spiritual duties. It is the duty of every man to be in his church pew every Sunday morning, to give his child a religious education, to set before him a spiritual example and to give some of his time to the spiritual work of the church. Men are neglecting their churches; they are neglecting their spiritual duties; they are omitting to pay their obligations to God.

America was intended to be a land of Christian people. You can't be Christian and neglect your spiritual obligations.

How to Make and Use It — By A. HYATT VERRILL

XIV. INDUCTANCES AND TUNING COILS

In order to receive and hear sounds from transmitting stations by radiophones clearly and without interference or confusion, a device of some sort is required which will cut out all waves save those desired. This is known as "tuning" and the instruments or appliances used to accomplish it are called "tuning coils." There are now a great many different devices for tuning, such as tuning coils, loose couplers, variable condensers, etc. Of these, all but the variable condensers (which are coils of various types, the simplest, but by no means the most efficient, being the simple tuning coil. These consist of a coil of bare wire wound about a core of cylinder of wood, fibre or pasteboard, and provided with sliding contacts as shown in Fig. 30, in which A is the coil, B the slide rod and C, the slider.

By moving the slider from coil to coil of the wire the wave length of the receiving instrument may be adjusted to catch the desired sound of that wave length. Such coils are very easily made by winding a pasteboard tube which should be soaked in melted paraffine to render it water proof, with bare copper wire about No. 18, making about 40 turns and leaving a space of about 1/16 inch between the turns. If two or more sliders or contacts are arranged still finer adjustment will be attainable while providing rotary switches with five contacts as shown in Fig. 31, still better results will be secured. Although, as stated, these coils are easily made, yet they are so cheap that many prefer to purchase them ready made rather than bother making them. Simple coils or inductances, however, are even simpler, as they consist merely of a few turns of insulated copper wire wound on a pasteboard tube, the number of turns depending upon the wave lengths to be received. In some sets there is but one coil or helix Fig. 32, while in other sets there are two, a primary and secondary Fig. 33, and as a rule the coil should be tapped and the circuit connected at the tap-off Fig. 34. This is best done by taping a loop or twist in the wire at the desired point and then continuing winding as Fig. 35. Of course, in making the connection at this tap-off the wire should be scraped free of insulation to make the joint, after which it should be wrapped with adhesive tape. In making these simple inductance coils it is best to put on more turns of wire than you think is actually required, as it is far easier to remove one turn at a time, until the desired wave length is obtained, than it is to add turns after the instruments are set up. Similar simple coils are used in many parts of receiving sets, such as the radio-choke in Fig. 50, L, etc.

By making several tap-offs and then leading them to the various contacts of a multiple-point switch, Fig. 36, "variable" circuits may be obtained especially with the smaller crystals and with a single simple coil. Another way, by which waves of varying lengths may be received by means of simple coils without tuning devices, is to have several coils of various sizes so arranged that they may be connected or disconnected with your set at will. This may be done, either by means of plugs and sockets as in Fig. 38, A, or by switches with several contacts as shown in Fig. 36, B. Still finer adjustment may be obtained by providing each coil with a slider or similar tuning device. This will give a wide range of wave lengths and will obviate all need of taking turns off the coils and as such coils are very easy to make you can have as many as you desire of different sizes.

Another very different type of inductance coil consists of two windings known as primary and secondary, and are similar to the ordinary sparking coils used in older type automobiles.

The state prison commission will meet the request of inmates of Ionia reformatory who filed formal protest with Warden Thomas Burns, against the policy of the state in deducting $1 from their wages for work done on contract in prison, and asked the cut be reduced to 75 cents.

Until recently Dowagiac people interested in marriage licenses had to go to Cassopolis, the county seat, to get them. Not so any more. Justice of the Peace Bilderback, of Dowagiac, announced that from now on he is the license business himself.

Mother's Cook Book

This world's need is men and women great enough to be small enough to be used.

DURING the mid-summer sultry days a cool drink, ice, or frozen cream is always acceptable.

Date Sandwich Cookies.

Take one package of dates, stone and chop; mix with one cupful of orange marmalade; one cupful of chopped nuts. Prepare a white cookie mixture; roll out very thin, place a spoonful of the mixture in the center and cover with another cookie; sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven. These cookies may be cut in fancy shapes, baked and then be put together with the filling. If one so desires.

Lemon Cake.

Take three-fourths of a cupful of butter, cream it, adding two cupfuls of sugar gradually. Beat the whites of seven eggs and add to the creamed butter and sugar a spoonful at a time. Beat well, add three cupfuls of sifted flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, the grated peel of one lemon alternately with one cupful of milk. Fold in the whites at the last. Bake in three layers.

Baked Apples.

Core and peel good flavored apples. Place on a round of bread that has been buttered. Fill the cavity of the apple with sugar and butter creamed together, adding a bit of ginger, pineapple or other fruit if desired. Bake in a slow oven, basting the apples often with melted butter and sugar and with the juice from the apple. Serve hot on the rounds of bread which by this time are well soaked with the delicious syrup.

Pears and peaches may be prepared in this same manner.

Green Peas Francaise.

Wash the peas before shelling, then shell the peas and put the pods on to cook for fifteen minutes or longer in enough cold water to just keep from scorching. Use this water, hot, to put the freshly shelled peas on to cook, add two green onions, a sprig of parsley, and a head of lettuce well washed and dry; there should be added two tablespoonfuls of butter and cover the kettle closely. Cook slowly one hour. This is a delicious dish and one which will be often served after once testing.

CHELSEA TRIBUNE'S BIG PRIZE DISTRIBUTION
$3000.00 IN PRIZES FREE!

With only eight more days of the "First Period" BIG VOTES, you simply have to get busy—make every hour between now and Saturday night, September 16, be the means of increasing your vote score. You can get the winning votes during these BIG VOTE DAYS.

A glance at the vote totals will show that a few subscriptions for any candidate will make a new leader in the race. In fact, ENTIRELY NEW candidates could, by a little effort, climb to the top of the list and acquire leadership for the $1055.00 Studebaker Touring Car.

Some "live wire" is going to take advantage of the opportunities offered in these last BIG VOTE days. The one who makes the best showing between now and 10 o'clock Saturday night, September 16—the one who knows the enormous vote value of the 2-, 3-, 4-, 5- and 10-year subscriptions—that's the contestant who will be riding around in a brand new Studebaker Car next month, given absolutely FREE as a reward for real ability to hustle. Bear in mind that every $25 in subscriptions is worth from 375,000 votes to $25,000 votes if turned in by 10 o'clock Saturday night, September 16.

And, when one takes into consideration the value of the prizes to be awarded and the extremely short time the campaign is in force, these rich rewards are worth any effort that might be required to get them. Intense, though suppressed, excitement prevails among the candidates, who are competing in The Tribune's Grand Prize Campaign, as each one realizes that he or she is within reach of a prize worth $1055—all to be won or lost within the next few weeks.

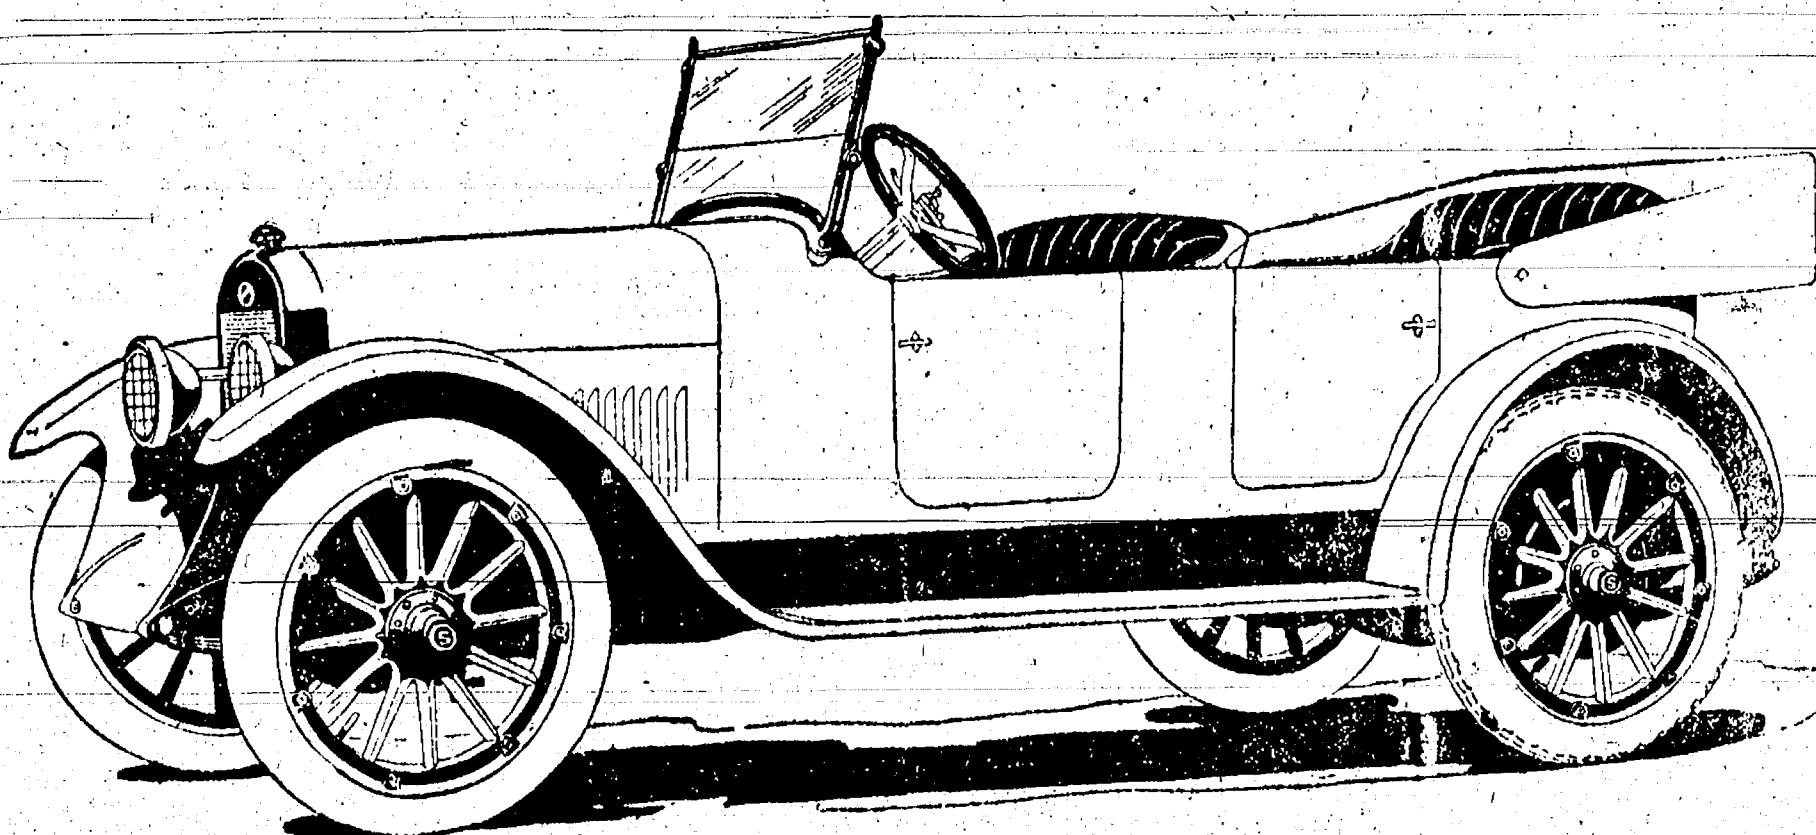

Success depends almost entirely upon the supreme efforts of the candidates NOW while the BIG VOTE days are in effect.

This is the "home stretch" of The Tribune's $3,000 race—only a few more weeks to go and it's a hotter and keener fight every day. Intense rivalry is spurring on the candidates in their efforts to pile up the winning votes that will land this $1055 prize.

When the doors of The Tribune's office close Saturday night, September 16, at 10 o'clock sharp, the BIG VOTES will be a thing of the past. NOW every yearly subscription counts 15,000 votes. After 10 o'clock Saturday, September 16, a one-year subscription is worth only 12,000 votes.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL
Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

MILDRED

MILDRED is something of a holy name, since it has a heritage closely associated with religious orders. Although said to be of Teutonic origin, it was exclusively Saxon in its early use; indeed, it may be said to be almost Merovingian, since its first appearance was in the family of King Merowald.

Mild was a Saxon word meaning "mild" and by the addition of "red", another Saxon term signifying "common", the feminine name Mithildrigh was formed. Because it was translated to mean "mild speech," it was much used as a name for gentle damsels with religious inclinations.

King Merowald had three daughters, whose names were Mithildrigh, Mithildrigh, thus, employing all versions of the name then in use. All three became nuns of a holy order. The two latter were later abbesses, one at Speyer, the other in the Isle of France. They were, finally canonized in recognition of their saintly lives as Mithildrigh and Mithildrigh.

Thus Mildred, Mildred, or Mithildrigh (as you prefer) came into existence and steadily won great popularity in the Teutonic lands. The consonants were too harsh for France and Spain, though the latter occasionally employs Mithildrigh, according only the vowels in the soft Latin manner.

Mildred was the name given to the famous daughter of Burleigh and through her, its place among English names was forever assured. Recently it was revived to even greater vogue in England and America and etymologists claim that the record of babies christened by that name in late years, would be astounding and unbelievable.

The emerald is Mildred's talisman gem. It is said to promise her a keen intellect, charm, and success in affairs of the heart. The hawthorne, signifying hope, is her flower. Wednesday is her lucky day and three her lucky number.

BREAKS ARM IN FALL.

Mrs. Daniel Shell of south Main st., had the misfortune to fall and break her right arm Thursday morning. Mrs. Shell was sweeping off the back porch at her home and in some manner caught her heel on the steps. She fell down the steps and in so doing fractured her right arm. The fracture is a bad one, being just below the shoulder. A local physician reduced the fracture. It was thought at first that Mrs. Shell had broken her collar bone also, but an examination revealed only the one fracture.
