F. & M. BANK INCREASES STOCK

Increase in Volume of Business Warrants Added Capitalization of Local Banking Institution.

After fifteen years of successful operation capital stock of the Farmers & Merchants Bank, a thriving local financial institution, was increased by action of the stockholders from $25,000 to $50,000, at a special meeting held in the bank offices February 23. The increase in capital stock has been approved by the State Banking department and recorded with the Wadsworth county clerk.

Addition of the $25,000 capital stock comes as a result of the increased volume of business being handled by the Farmers bank, stockholders believing it advisable to take the action which increases the protection available to patrons of the bank.

The Farmers & Merchants Bank was organized and began operations in Chelsea fifteen years ago, with the late John F. Waltrous president, and P. G. Schaible cashier. About two years ago re-election of officers resulted in Mr. Schaible being elected president, P. Merkel vice president, H. W. Schenk cashier and P. F. Niehaus assistant cashier. During the fifteen years of its operation the bank has enjoyed a steady growth until assets of the institution are listed at approximately $700,000, with prospects for the future giving promise of a continued upward climb.

Directors of the bank are P. Merkel, C. Grau, O. C. Burkhardt, John Farrell, James Guthrie, John Kalmbach, C. H. Kalmbach, C. Lehman and P. G. Schaible.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Scheurer drove to Chelsea from Manchester to visit their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Adam G. Houck on Friday, going from here to the home of Mrs. Wink, at whose funeral he officiated on Sunday.

VILLAGE FINANCES SHOW BIG GAIN

Treasurer's Report Submitted at Monday Evening's Session Proves Satisfactory to Council Body.

"If" the village taxes had all been paid, Chelsea would, at the close of the fiscal year, be "ahead of the game," according to a report submitted by Treasurer Rogers, setting forth the condition of the village treasury as of March 1.

Present indebtedness of the village was listed at $3,000, with cash on hand of $1900, and taxes unpaid of approximately $2,000, which in view of the condition of the village finances for the last three years, shows a substantial gain in that time of approximately $12,000. During the past year, according to the report, the village paid $4,000 on a note of $7,000, the remaining $3,000 being the only outstanding indebtedness, with cash on hand and incoming taxes, said to be real estate taxes, totaling more than enough to offset the debt.

All of which serves to reflect much credit on the outgoing administration, under the leadership of President D. H. Wurster, who was complimented by members of the board and others on the condition of the village affairs at the time of his retirement. Painsstaking, tireless effort on the part of the members of the council, clerk and treasurer, was given due credit by President Wurster, in putting across an economical program in the conduct of village government, and general satisfaction is expressed by those familiar with the methods pursued in the past year.

Salary of the village clerk for the coming year was raised from $165 to $200 by the action of the council Monday evening, it being thought that the present salary was inadequate because of the volume of work necessary on the part of the incumbent of this office. Bills were also presented and allowed for payment at this session, none being left over for the incoming administration to care for. A "clean slate" will be presented to the public before retiring, according to members of the board, another meeting, on Thursday evening following the election of next Monday, to be held for the purpose of cleaning up any business pertaining to activities of the present administration. Votes cast at the election will be canvassed and declaration of newly elected officers made, after which offices will be turned over to the incoming administration. No new business will be commenced at the last meeting it was said.

Confirmation was given by the board of the nomination, by President Wurster, of Howard Holmes, for the Electric Light & Water Works Commission for the coming three years. Mr. Holmes is now serving under a temporary appointment filling the unexpired term of L. P. Vogel.

POWER COMPANY MAKES CONCESSIONS

Offers Substitute for Permanent Easement Agreement With Village as Contained in Contract

Replacing the word "permanent," with the phrase, "so long as second party, its successors and assigns, shall operate the electric distribution system now owned by said village," the Consumers Power Company, of Jackson, on Monday of this week submitted a substitute "Right-of-Way" agreement to the village to take the place of the permanent easement right asked for in the proposed contract between the Power company and the village.

The change was made, according to Mr. Howard Pett of the Power company, to meet the objections voiced by many to the "permanent" easement clause. It is expected, Mr. Pett said, that this will remove the last barrier to passage of the proposed franchise granting the Power company the right to do business in the village of Chelsea, and is the result of further effort on the part of his company to effect a satisfactory agreement with the village.

Further details as to the spotting of poles and stringing of wires is contained in the new Right-of-Way agreement, in which it is stated that the route to be taken by said line of poles and wires will be along, "as nearly as practicable, the rear lot line, in the same manner as the electric lines are now located thereon," granting the right to the Power company, its successors and assigns, agents or employees, to enter upon said premises for the purpose of replacing, replacing, removing and maintaining such poles or other supports. It is thought by officials of the company that this will set at rest much apprehension as to the placing of poles on private property.

In a letter to President D. H. Wurster, of the village, District Manager Swanson of the Power Company, submits the "Right-of-Way" agreement to the village, and explains the reasons therefor. The letter follows:

March 5th, 1923,
Mr. D. H. Wurster, Pres.,
Village of Chelsea,
Chelsea, Michigan.
Dear Mr. Wurster:

The sentiment expressed by a number of citizens at the last mass meeting in Chelsea indicated that the form of "Right-of-Way" agreement proposed was not acceptable to many of the property holders.

Neither the Village of Chelsea nor Consumers Power Company wants any more pole lines on the streets. It would be manifestly unfair to ask any company to invest a large sum of money in electric distribution fixtures on private property without some guarantee as to permanency of right of occupancy.

To arrive at some form of agreement that would reasonably protect the Consumers Power Company and at the same time answer the objections expressed by citizens of Chelsea has taken much careful thought.

The form of "Right-of-Way" agreement submitted herewith is acceptable to Consumers Power Company for use under the terms of the agreement between the Village of Chelsea and Consumers Power Company, and should meet all objections.

Yours very truly,
District Manager.

LOCAL MERCHANT RETURNS FROM EAST

Optimism Prevailing Among New York Dealers and is Expected to Affect Conditions Throughout Entire Country.

"Things are booming in the east," according to Edw. Vogel, of Vogel & Wurster retail department store, who has just returned from an extended trip to New York buying goods for his firm. None of the pessimism evident in some of the towns and cities of the middle west is noticeable in market conditions of the east, according to Mr. Vogel, who says it is almost impossible to buy the better kind and quality of goods so much in demand.

Prices are on the upward trend at the present time which is considered by many to presage a continued spell of prosperity for the entire country. Houses from whom the local man tried to purchase ready-made garments were absolutely unable to supply the demand, and made "shopping about town" a necessity on the part of Mr. Vogel. However, as a result of much effort and time, he was able to secure a stock of the best and latest designs for his trade and is well satisfied with the results of his journey.

Satisfied that a continued period of prosperity is in store for business in general, Mr. Vogel returns with added enthusiasm, and is making a supreme effort to add to the large list of satisfied customers already numbered among their patrons.

THE DANCE CAP

We can recall with pleasant recollection only slightly tinged with remorse the days of our childhood when the dance cap was a terror, and we wore it with indignant mortification and mischievous grandeur. School days have long been past, and many of its memories obliterated by time and more mature experiences. But the dance cap is still treasured in our memory book as something quaintly appealing, picturesque in its symbolism and balanced by its significance.

We would not live those days over again, however blissful and beautiful. One childhood is all any normal person wants, and all any person deserves. If we failed to appreciate it then, why should we be given another chance? And why should we pessimistically contrast our present existence with the idealized condition of long ago?

Childhood memories are nearly all centered about school days, and the most normal child then is the most normal man or woman now. We can remember prim little maidens in pinnifolds who are prim young women in shiftwaists now, and boys of a ministerial tendency in knickerbockers who have not survived their goody-goody attitude. As we remember it, the girls we liked most were neither shy nor austere, and the boys who were the envy of our lives were the strongest, the most daring, and the most prone to mischief. Ability at successful prevarication even was not so culpable as now. And the boy who had to sit in the corner with a dance cap on was a martyr and not a criminal to us. It added a halo, and the thrill of wearing it on our own head is but slightly modified with shame.

Time has changed our standards some. As we grew up, we became conscious that we were wrong; that misbehavior in school makes for misbehavior out of school, and is bad training for life as an adult. And the boy, heroes whom we worshiped have lost their idealized perfection. We have different standards now. Physical prowess has been replaced as a quality to emulate by something finer. Delect in mendacity has given way to disgust, and respect for truth. Our scarcely-concealed pride in the dance cap is gone. Punishment now is shunned as ignominy and disgrace, since it reveals a fall from some standard.

The dance cap, one of our most picturesque traditions, is a symbol of our childhood before the world got hold of us. "The Many Happy Days I Squandered" is a universally repentant truism. It was punishment for wrongs which seem slight now. It was a menace, however slight, when we needed a menace, and helped teach us what was right and wrong. With many it was a horror, and accounted for much perfect behavior, and with all justified its existence.

Today dance caps are just as quickly at hand if we misstep. The public is quick and keen, and demands that we all keep order in our little school of life. If a man breaks bounds, people talk about him, and if he sins they punish him. Only now, it is harder to survive than in yesteryear. We can't be boys and girls always. We judge people differently now. The mischievous boy who broke all rules doesn't have a story in adult life unless he changed his ways. Normality then might be prided, but petty meanness then or now is different.

The boy who didn't need punishment in school is sporting wings today and is not respected nearly as much as he who was given frequent doses of hickory tea. Perfect children don't necessarily become perfect adults, any more than mischievous ones turn criminals. Yes, we can remember the dance cap.

MUSICAL EDUCATION

The movement to teach music in all grammar schools as well as high schools is gaining new followers every day. Most high schools now have music departments and many have compulsory music courses, both singing and instrumental. Pianos are by far the most popular and apparently the most desirable instrument to teach. It is being more and more strongly advocated that music is necessary to culture, and to that end grammar schools are urged to teach it.

Sophie Branda, Metropolitan Opera Singer, says all children should be taught music, the earlier the better. "I believe that geometry and kindred subjects should give place to the education of children in music." Here is not a new sentiment nor alone. Thousands of mothers are anxious that their children know music, take an interest in it, like it, for its own sake, and learn to produce it from some instrument.

Its importance as compared with history, geography and grammar to young children is to be questioned. In later years, it compares more favorably with arithmetic, chemistry and such things as mythology and astronomy taught in high schools. Its need for a place in high school is apparent. But equally obvious is the lack of it. Few boys in the average high school can play any instrument or have a fair knowledge of music. Few girls of that age can do more than dash off the easy popular songs of the hour. Very few of either sex understand the principles of music, or appreciate really good music. Why? They didn't start in time. Had they studied it in early childhood, their school life would be happier and their appreciation quickened.

The purpose of education is not to accumulate facts, but to develop the mind, broaden the intellectual horizon and inspire a love for good and beautiful things. Will not music in the grammar grades do this far better, more quickly and to a greater extent than learning the capitals and boundaries of Uruguay, Austria and Norway? These can come later, more surely and with greater permanence. Music cannot be begun too soon, and is constantly developing, whereas some more academic studies are studied and forgotten.

It would be a wonderful thing for our schools if the study of piano and possibly sight singing were compulsory. Both boys and girls would be eager to learn; a new interest would be given to school life, and any embryo talent could be discovered and trained. Perhaps we would develop a new race of singers and musicians. Perhaps we would become independent of Italy and Germany for our great singers, and have a national music. Without doubt our school life would be made more pleasant, home life given a new interest and little children given a chance to add to their abilities.

As far as high schools are concerned, compulsory musical education could find few objectors. The students themselves would seize upon it avidly; they realize how much it would mean to them, in school and later. Parents would find it would make for better social and home life, and bring pleasure to everyone. The lower grades need music even more; they can make more out of it; it will make high school days even happier. After the primary purpose of education is made clear, the difficulty of adopting the plan will be half met. Arranging the schedule and curricula will be a minor problem.

WHY SO FAST

An airplane in France has attained a speed of 233 miles an hour, almost four miles a minute. The war department over here is building a plane expected to go forty miles an hour faster than any other plane. Between the two, we're apparently getting interested in swift aerial navigation. But why?

We're interested more in the economic development of aircraft. These fast planes may be useful in war, but we're thinking of peace. They may furnish sport in air races, but there's something more important. What we'd like to see would be a non-carrying contest, or a plane that would travel on less gasoline or hold more passengers or survive a storm easier or land and take-off with less difficulty. When are they going to make a record in those lines?

Nobody in his senses wants to do 233 miles an hour very long. Few people want to go more than a mile a minute. Few times in ordinary life would such speed be necessary. Speed isn't going to get us anywhere. Even air mail doesn't have to race with time. It hasn't proved practical as yet, but the government won't admit it and keeps on experimenting.

A trans-Atlantic flight with passengers should be the next "record" sought. We'd like to see a plane which an ordinary chauffeur could handle without long training. Perhaps some day they'll show us a plane which can buck the high winds of the heavens and come down safely. Maybe they'll make one which won't catch fire, or be torn to pieces by a gale, or will float if it falls into a lake. There are many ways they could improve things.

So we ask, Why so fast. Who wants to race with time. Who could survive much of it? What good will it do?

THE WHITE PLAGUE

Good news. Statistics show that tuberculosis, the white plague, has decreased rapidly since 1910, and will probably soon be a rarity. It has afflicted man for centuries, ever since he began to cook his food and live indoors. We had to pay for our civilization. Some of us couldn't stand the transition and got puny and weak and died off. Some of us who are left aren't any too healthy. Man hasn't yet learned to take care of himself in this comparatively new environment, this world of houses and artificial heat and little exercise. The white plague took its toll, and is yet.

But it is going. Folks are getting wiser every day. We're learning little tricks about keeping clean, breathing and eating properly and leading a simple life. Some other diseases will follow, smallpox, fever, influenza, colds, toothache and mental troubles.

Most diseases can be prevented. If we get so we live to be a hundred or even more as they promise—it will be because we learn to prevent diseases. We'll be taking care of our bodies while we're well, not waiting until we're ailing to call for help. In Chelsea, the a doctor while they're well, and they stay so. Here we wait until we're about ready to kick the bucket. Sometimes we visit a dentist for examination and save molar trouble. We could do that with the physician. When all diseases, like the white plague, find we don't want them, won't endure them and actually fight them, they'll leave and we won't know them any more.

A SENATOR'S CLOTHES

Senator Brookhart of Iowa has Washington by the ears. That's easy if you know how. A woman tweaked them the other day with some intimate stories of official life, and between lobbyists, lame ducks and legislators they keep things humming.

The senator, however, gets on the front page. He declined the other day that he would never put on formal clothes for a ball or reception, but would wear his every-day suit and his famous cowhide boots, and if his constituents wished, it, would wear overalls. He even warned that he would visit the White House like that. All for the sake of his constituents. What they said went.

"I told my constituents that if they wished to send a sport to the senate they should send my opponent, but if they wanted a man in cowhide boots and overalls working for them, they should send me."

Whatever the constituents really wished, the senator is wearing a smile and his old clothes. This business of being a senator is a responsible thing. A senator is a representative of his people, and should try earnestly to do a good job. If the Iowans want Mr. Brookhart to wear heavy boots and old clothes to Washington's formal and official receptions, he is a faithful servant. But we don't think they do.

Besides, the good man has other things to consider. He has a position to live up to, a family and friends to save from embarrassment, certain influence to retain and ends to attain in semi-official channels, which will suffer if he defies convention and demands of good dress.

If his attitude is sincere, then his zeal faithfully to represent the voters back home is both fanatical and ridiculous. He would be a slave, a nonentity, a mere tool for the voters, which is absurd. And if he but rebels against what, to him, is an absurd demand in the way of appearances, then his rebellion is both radical and ill-attended.

Nobody will insist that the good man become either a parlor lion or a Beau Brummel. Many people are foppish and foolish about dress, anyway, and many go to extremes. But good taste and common sense will insist that officials of our government, moving about with officials of other government, shall faithfully represent us and our wishes, even if selected by a small percentage of voters.

We have known people like this before, those who won't comply with common customs on the sacred ground of "principle." Of times, the principle is nothing but an inflated egoism and betokens a mind which travels in a rut. Let us be broad.

Whipping of prisoners in the Georgia state prison will be stopped at once. Governor Haddwick will proclaim that this ancient method of punishment must go. It is high time. Georgia is a bit backward about that. Whipping is barbarous, undoing anything good a prisoner might get out of prison. The whipping post belongs to feudalism. We are becoming civilized. "day by day."

3000 Employees are helping make
Consumers Power Service—
Good Service

AND every time you use this Service—the pride of these 3000 men and women is brought into play. For there is a striving for results—a keenness among departments—an aiming to constantly make good records. It is the Pride of the Service—and you benefit from it.

In the power plants—where, every minute of every day and night, Electric Energy must be produced—there is a great alertness—the pride in boilers properly fired—switches swiftly but surely made—turbines and generators rushing at high speed in perfect trim.

Out on the lines—from the power plants right up to your home—line forces trained for duty, build well the new lines which Michigan's growth needs, and watch the lines now serving you. Trouble is a challenge—there is pride in conquering it. Do you remember Michigan's sleet storms of last February and March? Every man was out on "the firing line"—forgetting sleep and food to meet Trouble's challenge and restore service. That is Pride of Service.

And in the Offices—where accuracy of records is all important, you find, again, the spirit of the organization. Over 208,000 meters must be read every month—skilled eyes do this, day after day—and the accuracy of this work is 99.9 per cent perfect. Don't you think there is Pride in that?

What does this mean to you? A benefit! Better service—a dependable, ample supply of Electric Energy at your finger-tip—at your wish—to help you see, to make work easier, to make life pleasanter.

BREVITIES.

Dexter.—Dexter cemetery corporation has purchased two acres of land of Emanuel Jelede for cemetery purposes. The last lot in the old cemetery was sold a few weeks ago and the new one will be platted out this spring.

Monroe.—Charged with having carried away coal from the Michigan Central Railroad, at South Rockwood, Lawrence Caldwell, a section foreman was fined $24 here Saturday by Justice Smith. Earl Scharr, 1339 Trumbull avenue, Detroit, was fined $31, charged with carrying an overload on an automobile truck.

Bridgewater.—The December term of court of Washtenaw county having finished its work, L. B. Avery came home Friday, February 24, from Ann Arbor. Since December 5, the jury was on duty just 40 days. At the close of the term the jurymen agreeably surprised Judge Sample with the gift of a wrist watch.

Ypsilanti.—A warrant was issued Thursday by Municipal Judge Stadtmiller for W. J. Leonard, 3608 Medbury street, Detroit, on complaint of O. Button, who accuses Leonard of driving to the left of the road when they met east of the city and crowding Button off the road and smashing his sedan. Leonard was driving a truck. —Eacord.

Manchester.—Paul Feldkamp, who has been clerking in a C. F. Smith store in Dearborn, has purchased the Wm. Altenbernt farm, on the Manchester-Chelsea road in Sharon, and with his wife, formerly Miss Hulda Luckhardt of this village will move on the place about March 15. It is reported that Mr. Altenbernt has purchased the Huesman farm. —Enterprise.

Clinton.—Chicken thieves visited the flocks of C. M. Halladay and Will Phillips Wednesday night and helped themselves to about 50 hens at the former place and also a large number at the Phillips farm. From the tracks in the snow it was evident that they were taken away in a large truck and that the thieves were armed for trouble, as several cartridges were found in the snow where the truck stood. —Local.

Bridgewater.—Peter Knight, who came here from Ridgeway, March 31, 1861, and purchased the farm where he still resides quietly celebrated his ninetyeth birthday Wednesday, February 28. Mr. Knight was born in Lodi, Seneca county, N. Y., and at the age of 21 years, came to Ridgeway, Mich., where he lived seven years. On March 13, he came to Bridgewater and purchased the 100 acres on the north side of the road where he lives with his son, Clyde and family. In later years he added more land to his farm.

Howell.—The Livingston County Sunday School Association will be known in the future as the Livingston County Sunday School Council of Religious education. Howell City has been voted a separate district and will be known as the fifth district of the county. Mr. C. E. Dyke has been elected the president of this district. Mrs. Justin A. Batchelder, superintendent of children's division of the county, announces an institute for her department, to be held in Howell March 15, "afternoon and evening, in the Methodist church. —Democrat.

Brighton.—Mrs. James Burroughs of North Hamburg has been notified that she is one of the heirs of an estate of about $55,000,000 which is now about to be settled. It seems that a piece of property in the heart of New York City was leased for a term of 99 years and the lease having just expired, the estate will be closed and the heirs of the original owner will come in for a nice bunch of easy money. Just how many heirs will share in the division of this huge fortune is at present unknown, but of course there will be a large number of them. —Argus.

Monroe.—Suits were started here, Saturday, in circuit court by four Monroe residents against the Detroit, Monroe and Toledo Shore Line electric railway, charging overcharges for travel between Monroe and Detroit, August 31, 1918, and August 14, 1919. The suits total $26.30. The statute provides that for each overcharge the injured party may recover $100 penalty from the railway company. It is alleged that the company collected upwards of a million dollars from passengers it had no right during this period. Similar suits were started some time ago totaling over $100,000.

Ypsilanti.—Fire destroyed three barns belonging to Fred Robin at his farm three and one-half miles west of Ypsilanti on the Saline carline shortly after 5 o'clock Friday evening. The origin of the fire is unknown and the loss, about $10,000, is partially covered by insurance. Hay, grain, two mules, five cows, some machinery and a truck were burned in the buildings but most of the machinery was saved by William Davis and J. Caplin who were driving tractors past the place on their way to Ypsilanti, when the fire was discovered. With help of neighbors the house and several small buildings were saved. The house caught fire twice and neighbors removed the contents.

Ford TOURING CAR

F. O. B. DETROIT

A Greater Touring Car Value

The present price of the Ford Touring Car is the lowest ever made.

And yet the car itself is a greater value. It is better looking with slanting windshield, a one-man top and improved seats. And there are many refinements in chassis construction.

The demand is so great that deliveries will soon be impossible. To protect yourself, order now. Make a small down payment, the balance on easy terms.

*Ford prices have never been so low
Ford quality has never been so high*

ST. MARY RESERVES MAKE FINE RECORD

Team a Bunch of Lightweights, But Full of Fighting Spirit, Cop Victories From Practically All Corners.

Establishing a record of which they are, and have a right to be, proud, the St. Mary Reserves today stand as champions in their class—and in some cases out of their class—in this territory. During the present season the Reserves have played a total of 19 games, out of which they have won 18—almost a perfect record. In the three years they have been playing records show only seven defeats out of a total of 99 games played.

Winning of 18 out of 19 games may not mean much to the average person unless points made by the teams during the season are taken into consideration. In the 19 games played St. Mary Reserves have made 588 points to 256 by their opponents—almost two to one in favor of the locals. This overwhelming majority clearly proves the superiority of the Reserves over their opponents played this season.

In spite of the fact that the Reserves are a team of lightweights, averaging only 123 pounds, they have played some of the best teams in this section, even to some of the fast teams of Detroit, the result in most every case being the same—a victory for the local team. No team has been turned down on account of weight, this being demonstrated in the game of Sunday evening, when the Reserves played the Komulus Independents, of Romulus, a team averaging around 170 pounds. This game ended 29-16 in favor of the locals.

The Reserves have been working under the management of Roy Evans, a local basketball enthusiast, who has been consistently and energetically boosting his team. Credit is due him as well as his team for the splendid showing they have made during the past three years. Records of the games in this period have been preserved and are the pride of the local team and followers.

Jackson—A. Swidesky will no longer be disturbed by the call boy, he having been placed by the Michigan Central Railway Co. on the retired list after forty-four years of faithful service. For many past years he was a popular conductor on a passenger train running between Jackson and Grand Rapids, where he will be missed by the traveling public. Not unmindful of the absence his retirement will create in the circle of his fellow conductors, a committee, led by Conductor G. B. Griswold, called upon him in his home, 906 Evarhard street the other evening and presented him with a fine bridge lamp and a substantial traveling bag as a slight testimonial of the esteem in which they hold him.—Saturday Evening Star.

AUCTIONS—The auction season is now here, and the Standard wishes to remind those who expect to have an auction this season that it can furnish an auctioneer and print the bills.

SPIRITED STREET HATS HAIL AN EARLY EASTER

FEW women need urging to start the quest for a new hat, especially when it is a spring hat; all they need is a reminder that Easter is nearing and that new millinery is on display.

A group of spirited tailored hats as shown here, includes flax models suited to any climate. In the south after millinery will be worn but any of these hats might serve with propriety. They are all made of new, lustrous millinery fabrics—as vison cloth, satin hair-cloth and novelty weaves in light-weight, brilliant materials. They are shown in black and in colors, among them beautiful brown, blue, reseda and henna shades and also rich color combinations in which the Paisley or cashmere inspiration appears.

A pretty mushroom shape with brim curving upward at the front leads off in the group pictured. It is of novelty hair-cloth faced with crepe de chine and trimmed with grapes that tone into it. It is handsome in any of the fashionable colors, "strawberry," "blue-bell," brown, reseda or in which a smart bunch of burnt peacock springs. A charming development of the poke is trimmed with very wide ribbon and an ornament. It has a strong French accent. A turban at the lower left contents itself with two soft quills and a pretty ribbon trim and next to it a modified Breton employs wider ribbon lavishly, folded into points and set about the crown.

EVERYDAY FOODS

Even the common, everyday foods may be varied by different serving, or combinations which will relieve the monotony.

Crumble Pan Cakes.—Take two cups of bread, soak over night in sour milk; add two well-beaten eggs, one-half teaspoonful of soda, salt to taste and flour to make a thin batter. Cook on a hot griddle.

Graham Muffins.—Take one cupful each of graham flour and sour milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one egg and three tablespoonfuls of melted shortening. Bake in gem pans in a moderate oven.

Lemon Filling.—Take two lemons, grate rind and juice; one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of water, one egg, one tablespoonful of butter and three tablespoonfuls of flour mixed with the sugar. Cook all together over boiling water until thick.

Plain Cake.—Take one tablespoonful each of sweet fat, lard or fryings and butter, cream together and add one cupful of sugar; mix until creamy and add the yolk of an egg; beat again until the sugar is well softened. Add gradually one-half cupful of milk with one and three-quarters cupfuls of flour, well sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add flavoring of orange extract and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake in a square pan and cover with the following icing:

Stewed Cucumbers.—Pare large cucumbers, cut in quarters lengthwise and remove the seeds. Soak one-half hour in cold water. Cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain off the water, add butter, salt, pepper and a little cream or a thin white sauce may be used. Serve on toast.

Corn Meal Mush With Fruit.—Cook the meal mush as usual, then add before serving some raisins, stewed prunes, figs or any stewed dried fruit. Serve with sugar and cream. Fried corn meal mush is good for breakfast on a cool morning.

Stuffed dates and prunes—stuffed with nuts, make a good dish to eat as a meal.

BAPTIST MINISTER MAKES SURVEY

Director of Town and County Church Department Visits Chelsea In Effort to Establish Possibility of Opening Local Church.

Churches and Sunday schools are not reaching as many people as they should reach, in the opinion of Rev. George W. Lawrence, Director of Town and County Churches, of the Baptist denomination, who spent some time in the village recently, making a survey of the possibilities of opening the local Baptist church for services. However, Mr. Lawrence does not believe the field warrants the addition of another minister to the pastoral leaders already here, and makes clear his contentions in a letter to the editor of the Standard. The letter follows:

A short time ago I had the pleasure of visiting Chelsea to look into the advisability of opening up the Baptist church. Although I spent only twenty-four hours in your community I kept busy most of the time inquiring into the religious condition of the town. I interviewed all sorts of people and thought you might be interested in knowing the observations that I made.

I found the population to be 2,079. The combined membership of the Methodist, Congregational, Lutheran and Catholic churches is 1,915 but as all these churches have a large number of their members living in the country outside the village limits I feel safe in saying there are one thousand people in Chelsea that do not belong to any church.

The enrollment of the public school was given me as 430. The total enrollment of the Sunday schools is about 400 but of course the enrollment of these Sunday schools is not only of the children of the public school age but includes adult members. Using the general average of the country at large one could fairly accurately say that only about 230 of the children in the public school are reached by the Sunday school. The parochial school has 140 members, which of course is not included in the public school enrollment but which is being cared for by the Catholic church.

These facts would lead one to believe that there is a splendid opportunity for another church. After interviewing the ministers of these churches I found that they represented as nearly the different types of ministers as it is possible to find anywhere. The problem would be easy if it were found that all of the churches had as their leaders, men of one type. It would then seem as if some other denomination might furnish a man of different caliber who could appeal to these thousand people outside the churches. It would, it seems to me, be difficult to secure a man that would appeal to that number because the ministers in Chelsea, using their different method of appeal, are not reaching this crowd.

The views held by many concerning the future of Chelsea would not warrant one to believe that it will in the very near future strike a great business boom. The result of my observations are these: There are plenty of people in Chelsea untouched by the churches; there is a large number of boys and girls who do not attend Sunday school; there is need for some activities to be carried on appealing to the recreational and social instincts. The churches have only occasional meetings of this sort for the young people. The Cement Plant people should have some Missionary work carried on among them. The ministers are of a superior type but they can do nothing unless the people help them. I would suggest that a committee be appointed from each of these churches to sit in a central committee and talk over the problem that confronts them. Chelsea does not need only one church in the town, it needs the spirit of co-operation among those now there. The people of Chelsea are intelligent enough to realize the need that something be done. If the churches now existing in your town do not meet the situation some other denomination will come in and prosper while the others sleep.

STRAW VOTE STILL SHOWS EVEN CONTEST

Five more ballots—two against and three for the proposed franchise—were cast at the Standard office during the past week, in the straw vote conducted by the Standard. The result now stands at 65 for and 44 against, a fraction of one vote still being needed to carry the proposal as evidenced by the straw vote. It is apparent that the contest will be close and results of the annual election will be watched with greater interest because of the returns from the Standard's canvass.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Ann Arbor—The Southeastern counties Funeral Directors' Association, including Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, and Owosso representatives met here last week for a quarterly conference.

Flint—George Telkord, 72 the "Boatman of Flint," was found dead last week in a shanty he has occupied alone for 30 years, one hand clutching a photograph of his wife, whose death drove him to solitude.

Calumet—James Heatson, 74 years old, multi-millionaire, died at Hollywood, Cal., last week. He was former mining captain for Calumet and Hecla. He is the third Calumet director to die since the first of the year.

Jackson—Walter T. Hubbard, of Saginaw, entered state prison here last week to remain the balance of his natural life, without the least trace of emotion. He was sentenced to prison for life for the murder of his 11-year-old daughter.

Caro—Seven farmers' clubs, Glauco, Grangers and Supervisors, of Tuscola county, met in Caro last week. Dr. E. Munford, of the Michigan Agricultural college, talked on community building and Mrs. A. J. Knapp, of Cass City, on "Our State Institutions."

Lansing—Hospitals that do not accept every patient who applies for treatment and do not care for at least 6 per cent of their patients free of charge would lose the exemption privilege which now makes their property tax free, under bill introduced in the House by Rep. David H. Butler, of Fostoria.

Lansing—Kiwanians from Battle Creek, Jackson, Owosso, Eaton Rapids, St. Johns, Mason and Ionia, were here last week for a district meeting at the Hotel Kerns. John H. Moss, district governor of Wisconsin and upper Michigan, and Donald D. A. Johnson, district governor for lower Michigan, addressed the club.

Lansing—The Wayne county bonding bill to enable the issuance of $1,900,000 in bonds, ratified last fall by the voters, has been adopted by the house 89 to 12. The bill will remove technical obstacles in the present bonding laws and clear the way for the issuance of $900,000 bonds for the Eloise hospital and $1,000,000 for the home for the feeble-minded.

Detroit—The Cadillac Motor Car Co. through its president, H. H. Rice, presented to the City of Detroit, last week, a memorial tablet, commemorating the memory of Launet de la Mothe Cadillac, on the 265th anniversary of Cadillac's birth. The tablet was placed on the building on the site of old Fort Pontchartrain. Acting Mayor John C. Lodge accepted the tablet for the City.

Mourree—The county road commission here last week awarded the contract for the construction of the Cone road, four and one-half miles long, for $90,825.60. The road is to be constructed of two courses macadam, with bituminous treatment, 14 feet wide. It will be finished by November 1. The proposed road starts at Cease's corners, runs westerly through the hamlet of Cone, and ends at the county line.

Lansing—The constitutional amendment, authorizing the establishment of ports and port districts in the state was passed by the senate. This measure, introduced by Representative Vincent Dacey, in the house, now is ready for the governor's approval. When it appeared on the ballot, at the last November election, in company with the income tax amendment and other more or less unpopular constitutional amendments, it was defeated.

Galesburg—Jerome Daniels and his wife were killed instantly and Frank Bates injured, when the automobile in which they were riding to Battle Creek, was hit and wrecked at Death crossing in this village last week. Witnesses said the driver of the machine speeded up as he neared the crossing, evidently trying to beat the passenger train over the crossing. The tragedy brought the total death list at the crossing up to 12 in about 17 months. More than half the county's fatal automobile mishaps have occurred there.

Royal Oak—A 100-acre tract located in Royal Oak township, Oakland County, which the people decided to accept for the establishment of a zoological park at election of last fall, was formally dedicated to the City of Detroit, last week, by the Detroit Zoological Society. The society, of which Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy, is president, approved the step, upon condition that the City will expend annually for the period of five years a sum not less than $50,000 for the maintenance and improvement of the premises as a zoological park.

Muskegon—The Crosby Transportation Co. will start the operation of a new boat line between Detroit and Milwaukee in the next few weeks. It is announced by Edward C. Farmer, vice-president of the company. The new boat line is designed especially to handle the shipment of automobiles from Detroit to Milwaukee, where the automobiles can be driven over land to distributing points in west Detroit automobile manufacturers have urged the establishing of the line, as it would be the most direct route.

Health authorities talk about mouth hygiene, and something might be done in that line if more people kept their mouths shut.

The European nations will probably keep their debts to this country if the government sends them.

WHAT GOOD IS A LID?

Several otherwise excellent burial vaults have tops that are simply laid over the casket and left to their own devices. This, of course, is handier and much cheaper. But what of its safety? The NORWALK VAULT leaves nothing to chance; its top is securely cemented on by hand, and top and bottom become one solid piece of masonry. Naturally, therefore, the Norwalk is sold everywhere the best is wanted; and naturally the best undertakers always recommend the Norwalk—it gives them a chance to GUARANTEE the burial.

All good undertakers recommend the Norwalk Vault—The best insist on it.

TRUCK LOADS LIMITED BY LAW

County Road Commissioners Have Prepared Tables of Weights for Regulating the Loads on Good Roads.

Believing there are many who do not understand the law regarding the loading of trucks on highways, the board of county road commissioners of Washtenaw county has compiled information regarding this matter that it believes will be of assistance to those interested in the proper use of the county's roads.

The taxpayers have constructed these roads and are paying a large percentage of the cost of maintaining the board points out and when they have to be reconstructed, it will be necessary to finance the cost in some other way than from a tax on the owners of lands.

The information is in the form of a table which shows the maximum gross loads for motor trucks, considering the size of the tires, the size of the wheels and the rate of speed.

For example, the maximum gross load for a truck with two inch tires and 32-inch wheels traveling at the rate of 20 miles per hour is 1,887 pounds. For a truck with the same size tire and a 34-inch wheel traveling at the same rate of speed, the maximum gross load is 2,063 pounds.

The table is arranged in convenient form for the driver to use in determining when his load is large enough. The weights given in the table include the total weight of the truck and its load for good weather loading. Pneumatic tires on trucks are treated the same as solid tires in regard to carrying capacity and speed. A trailer is considered as a truck in figuring the load.

Detailed information regarding this table may be obtained at the office of the county road engineer in the county building.

The engineer's office is anxious to have truck drivers become familiar with lawful weights so that overloading may be cut down.

MARCH TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT

Opened Monday With 306 Cases On The Docket—Twenty Criminal Cases.

When the March term of circuit court for Washtenaw county opened Monday, March 5, 306 cases were awaiting trial.

Twenty criminal cases are listed on the docket, the majority of which are for violation of the prohibition laws.

Included in the 93 issues of fact are the eight insurance cases instituted by William L. Walz, cashier of the Ann Arbor Savings bank, as trustee for the Ann Arbor Stamping & Metal Co. The cases grew out of the fire which destroyed the metal company's plant about two years ago.

The cases were tried in this circuit court a year ago, the jury returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. They were appealed by the insurance companies to the supreme court which, although upholding the principle of deciding the seven cases on the trial of one, returned them on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

There are seven first class chancery cases on the docket and 76 fourth class chancery matters. Eighty law cases and 30 chancery suits in which no progress has been made for one year also are on the calendar.

Cases remaining on the December docket having been cleaned up.

NERVOUS FEELING DUE TO GAS ON STOMACH

Pressure of gas on heart and other organs often causes a restless, nervous feeling. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine etc., as mixed in Adierika, expels gas and relieves pressure and nervousness almost INSTANTLY.

Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels. Adierika removes matter you never thought was in your system which poisoned stomach, causing gas and nervousness. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Henry H. Fenn, Druggist.

ANOTHER CHELSEA VICTORY RESULTS

St. Mary Reserves Also Made Great Showing in Games Played Over Week-end Both Here and Abroad.

Characterized with rough playing, and by many to have been started by the visiting team, and turning the game into a veritable football contest, Chelsea high school boys' team wrested another victory from the Mason high school team at the Welfare building last Friday evening. Fast and furious playing marked the progress of the game which ended 20 to 17.

Although Mason led the local team at the end of the first half by three points, Chelsea came from behind with a great spurt and gained a lead of three points before the end of the game. Field goals for the locals were made by Mayer, who caged 4, Brooks 3, and Risley 1.

The girls' game, cinched from the very start by the locals, was ended with a score of 13 to 7. The visitors were able to make but one point during the first half of the game, in comparison with seven by the locals, and the entire 13 points of the game were made by Miss Lambert, local forward.

St. Mary Reserves ended, for the time being, a winning streak Sunday evening when they copped the third game in a series of three in three successive evenings. On Friday evening the Reserves defeated the fast Jackson high school team 16-14 in a game on Jackson's floor. This team is the only one to administer a defeat to the local team, the results of a game played at Jackson between the two teams on January 12, being 12-11 in favor of Jackson High.

On Saturday evening, March 3, the Reserves defeated the Ypsilanti High Reserves in a game at Ypsilanti 18 to 3. Ypsilanti simply "wasn't in it," according to witnesses of the game, the locals playing them off their feet at every turn, piling up a score impossible to overcome.

During the game of Friday evening two overtime periods were necessary to decide the winner, the score at the close of their regular playing period being a tie at 14. Excitement ran high as the five-minute overtime periods were played, and, according to witnesses, the Jackson team was so well guarded by the Reserves that not an opportunity was given for a shot at the basket from the field. It was not until near the close of the second extension of time that the locals were able to send the ball swishing through the net for an extra two points which decided the game.

Sunday evening, at St. Mary hall, the Reserves added the third game to their credit in as many nights, by defeating the Romulus Independents, of Romulus, in a fast game, 29 to 16. Although greatly outweighed the Reserves made up in "perp" what they lacked in avoirdupois, and took the Independents into camp with a trouncing which left no doubt in the visitors' minds of their defeat.

According to witnesses, much of the credit for the victories of the Reserves is due J. Eder and E. Eder. These two men, J. Eder at center and E. Eder at right guard, have played their positions consistently and aggressively, as have the other members of the team, and, in the opinion of supporters have added the necessary fighting spirit which has overbalanced the playing ability of other teams.

Friday night the local Reserves will play their first game in the Michigan State Amateur Athletic tournament at Detroit, for the Class C championship of the state. Their opponents will be the Argo Athletic club of Detroit. The tournament is expected to last through the coming week. Sunday afternoon at St. Mary hall the Reserves will play the fast Northwest Neighborhood House team of Detroit. It is reported that this team is coming "loaded" in an effort to make the local team "take back seat." No doubt an interesting game will be witnessed.

Working in Reverse.

"Good, old man, you actually are getting fat! What have you been doing to get all that flesh on your bones?" exclaimed the friend.

"Oh," said the former thin man, "I began taking the reduction diet, and exercises they prescribed for my wife and I began to pick up right away. And she started in on the tonics and diets I had been failing for to make me fat and she already has lost 20 pounds!"

Ancestors Worth Boasting About.

For about an hour, a man from Denver had been boasting to an Irishman about the magnificence of the Rocky mountains.

"You seem mighty proud of this mountain," the Irishman observed.

"You bet I am," replied the man from Denver. "And I ought to be, since my ancestors built them."

The Irishman thought this over for a few moments and then asked, "Did you ever happen to hear of the Dead sea in—in one of the old countries?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the man from Denver. "I know all about the Dead sea."

"Well, did you happen to know that me great-grandfather killed the thing?"—London Tit-Bits.

HELLO!

Say Hello! Say it to the next person you meet, whether you know him or not. Say it to the boy going to school, the girl in her starched little pinafore, the youth and the maiden, the man and the woman, the grandfather and his wife. Make folks feel good. Cut out formal How-do-you-dos and ponderous Good Mornings. Tell folks Hello.

For there's something appealing about it, something human and winning about it, something cordial and warm and kind and personal about it which throws off dignity and finds the heart.

How-do-you-do is for indoors. Good morning is too polite. How-are-you is misleading, not always sincere, often perfunctory. But Hello says something. It speaks of good fellowship. It appeals to youth and vigor, and smacks of the outdoors. It indicates freedom and scorn conventions. It laughs at churlishness and opens the windows of the soul of joy and gladness.

Hello is music to the stranger, a caress to a friend, a gentle rebuke to an enemy, and a welcome to all. It cannot conceal distrust and enmity like its ponderous relatives; it breathes a laugh and comes with a smile. Few can resist it; none could be offended by it; it has nothing to fear and it is easy to say.

Comradeship requires it; friendship thrives upon it; suspicion flees from it; love is born with it.

Hello is our national word. It is the key to many riddles and the answer to many situations. It springs from an impulsive nature and meets a similar impulse in the air. It cheers the lonely, brings smiles to a frowning face, lifts the burden of care.

Say Hello.

Hello!

Markets Raised in Captivity.

The raising of markets in captivity is now commercially possible as a result of the discovery of their breeding season by naturalists of the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. These valuable far bearers mate late in July and in August, and appear to have a gestation period of eight months, much longer than most animals of the same group. It was formerly thought that their breeding season was in the fall or winter, the young being born in the spring.
