SECOND ANNIVERSARY BANQUET OF ST. PAUL

The wit and wisdom of the pastois, toastmaster, and by those giving toasts, the entertaining ability of the musicians, combined with the skill of the Ladies Aid of St. Paul's church, made the second anniversary banquet last Friday evening a complete success and most enjoyable occasion to the many who marched to the dining room to the strains of music by the orchestra, which also rendered many fine numbers during the banquet. Mr. C. Lehman, president, greeted the company and introduced Mr. Paul Niehaus as toastmaster, who favored first with a solo, after the invocation by Rev. P. Grabowski, the conferees sat down to the well filled tables, which were prettily decorated with potted plants, lilies, hyacinths, and daffodils, the handmade nut baskets of pink and white, also helped to add beauty to the tables. After every one had satisfied their physical being with the following menu:

- Roast Pork
- Apple Sauce

- Brown Gravy
- Butterfly Salad
- Pickles
- Buttered Rolls

CUTS HAND WHILE KILLING LAMB

While butchering a lamb Friday, James Kline was severely cut on his left hand. In killing the lamb the animal kicked, knocking the knife held by Mr. Kline into his left hand cutting the fleshy part of the index finger below the knuckle. The knife cut a tendon and this necessitates Mr. Kline wearing a splint on this finger. The accident happened at the slaughter house. Four stitches were taken by a local physician.

FOUR MICHIGAN CITIES CHANGE TIME

Two Michigan cities, Adrian and Battle Creek, advanced the hands of their clocks one hour at midnight Sunday, joining seven others of the larger cities in the state in operating on Eastern Standard time. One week from last Sunday night three other cities—Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Jackson—will go on Eastern time and a fourth, Kalamazoo, will probably do the same. Lansing is one of the few cities where Eastern time will not be effective during the summer, a proposal to change the time having been defeated at a recent city election. Chelsea has been running on Eastern time right along and will not need any changes.

FALLS INTO HOLE AND GETS SOAKING

John Price, an employee of the C. G. Spring Co., had the misfortune, (or you might call it hard luck) to fall into a deep hole about four feet square, Friday night as he was leaving the plant near midnight to get his dinner. The hole was partially filled with water and Price fell in up to his shoulders. He was not hurt although, rather discomfited by the unexpected drenching, which necessitated a hurried change of clothing.

The bullet entering the palm of his hand and coming out near the first joint of the index finger. The accident caused a bad wound, which was dressed by a local physician. 25% WASHTENAW CATTLE T. B. TESTED

Work Completed in 6 Townships, Rest Shows Almost Complete Eradication

The campaign for eradication of Tuberculosis among cattle of Washtenaw County has been progressing slowly but steadily since the middle of August. The shortage of state funds has slowed up the work so that only one Veterinarian has been making tests. If the State makes adequate appropriations according to bills now pending, the work in this county may be speeded up during the summer.

Last week the test was completed in the sixth township. At the present time all cattle in York, Sylvan, Lyndon, Dexter, Lima and Sharon townships have been tested, making a total of 8991 cattle from 873 herds. 299 reactors were found. All herds having reactors are retested within six months. At the present time 37 herds having 693 cattle have been retested and three reactors were found. Tabulating all the work to date, shows that there have been tested 910 herds consisting of 9684 cattle with a total of 232 reactors which is 2.4%. The highest number of reactors in any township was 55, which were found in York. Lima had 53, Sharon 60, Sylvan 43, Dexter 6 and Lyndon 5.

During the past few days Dr. High the County Veterinarian has been making a few retests. It is likely that he will start work in Freedom Township at an early date.

The cost of making the above tests has averaged 26.6 c per head. If the state secures sufficient funds it is likely that additional Veterinarians will be sent into this County to assist in completing the work.

LISTENING

What doctor told could be found for an article than the word, LIS-TENING. Very often you see the sign, "Stop, Look, Listen." We ask you to change the words, "Tune In."
Cease to listen to the world's habblings. Listen to the music of the chair. Listen to the sermon from God's pulpit. Listen to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Through the courtesy of the AUTOCASTER newspaper service, and the far-sightedness of John Perry, the writer is able to speak to thousands of readers through the thousands of papers that use this service. Perhaps no better service can be found in America. It is invaluable, not only to the small papers throughout the country, but also to the larger papers.

Let me urge you and your readers to listen to the radio service which is broadcasted from my pulpit every Sunday. Remember the difference in time. Those of you on the Pacific Coast will use the time in the mountain section, there is a difference of two hours in time; in the middle west, there is a difference of two hours in time; in the Eastern section there is three hours difference.

Letters are coming to us from all over the United States—from the lakes in Maine, from the frozen regions of Canada, from the balmy lands of the South, from the beautiful plains of California, from the fields of Mexico, from the sun-lighted hills of Texas, telling us of the good we are doing and the benefits they are receiving. Why shouldn't you listen?

We begin broadcasting every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.
Tune your instruments and let us speak to you.

Praise Mr. Perry and cooperate with him in this great service to the gospel may be out in the waves of the air, and that the great doctrines of constitutional government, and the gospel of Jesus Christ may be heard throughout America.

Couple Similarly Afflicted.

A couple, each of whom had only one leg, happily hobbled into the Lewiston (Eng.) registrar's office, where they were married last month. The bridegroom, who lost his leg at Ypres in 1917 with the West Kents appeared on crutches. The bride wore an artificial leg as the result of an accident when a child. Her infirmity was hardly noticeable.

Mountain of Sulphur.

Attention is being directed to the existence of an island in the Hibiscus group which is literally a mountain of sulphur, 1,000 feet high and perhaps as much as 100 square miles in base.
The material of the mountain is said to be 90 per cent pure sulphur and the rest ash.

MAN MIDWIFE SUES FRANCE

Wants Damages for Telephone Directory Listing That Government Won't Change.

Paris.—Four years listing in the telephone directory as a "man midwife" has caused a Paris surgeon to bring action against the government, which is responsible for getting out the directory, to compel a change in his professional description. He asserts that letters, telephone calls, personal complaints and legal notices have been futile. Now he wants damages.

His attorney, in an effort to show how the state telephone service is swamped up in red tape, has dug up from the current directory some queer examples of stupidity. He found that Bolo Pasha, executed as a spy during the war, is still listed in the directory.

As are other men who are dead or have disappeared.

Dog Merely Retaliated.

Cub reporters are usually told that if a dog bites a man it is not news;
but if a man bites a dog it is. Now we have a bite of news. An investigation conducted by a policeman in Cincinnati showed that a possible only bit of the end of a man's nose after the man had bitten the dog's ear. After the constable's report, the health department decided to rescind a former resolution not permit the dog to live.

THURSDAY IS READY-TO-WEAR DAY AT—

Mack & Co

ANN ARBOR

Celebrating the Sixty-seventh Spring Anniversary

Smart Spring Coats and Dresses are on Sale

"As a woman dresseth so is she"—hence it is of great importance that a woman dress carefully and in good taste. She should select, first of all, a wrap that is becoming, modish, and yet wearable. Such a wrap will be found in the ready-to-wear section.

Thursday is Ready-to-wear Day and for that important occasion a large group of attractive spring coats, mostly in the jaunty sports and well tailored styles, of Scotch plaids, novelty tweeds, and such materials, will be on sale at the very special price of $25.00.

The next matter of importance to consider is Milady's gown—and during the spring there are so many warm days when a wrap is superfluous and yet when a light summer frock is out of place for street wear that a woman finds much comfort and pleasure in a silk frock of cotton, flat crepe or other silk fabric. Black, navy blue and brown dresses in styles that are appropriate for street and afternoon wear will be on sale Thursday at the special price of $25.00.

YOU SHOULD HAVE MADE THIS LAST R. W. O. C. BY Terry Gilkinson

STRIKING FOR SPORTS WEAR

Gay golf sweaters worn with simple plaited skirts promise to be a smart combination for all sports wear. This sweater is of silk and wool mohair with a Jacquard design and the accordion plaited skirt is of white wool jersey.

SOME WAYS TO USE RIBBONS

Interesting Accessories May Be Arranged for Personal Decoration and for the Home.

Very beautiful chaise longue covers can be made of taffeta with ribbon ruffles in pastel colorings and garlands of ribbon roses to beautiful them. Many of these chaise longue covers have pillows to match.

The vogue for handkerchiefs for head bands and neckpieces is current. Many people can make very attractive neckpieces by edging plain silk handkerchiefs with bright ribbons in floral effects—a rival to the bandanna.

If you want to make a very simple bandanna, take metallic or soft mesaline ribbon and twist it as you would a chain-stitch, until a bandanna of the required length is done. This may be finished at each end with ribbon flowers.

There are no many new and wonderful wrist ribbons that a woman can have in different one for each gown. There are metallic ribbons for dress wear, and plain striped bands for tailored.

Four-cornered waste baskets, made of ribbon in the same colors as the interior decoration of the bedroom, are easily made. The baskets are lined in contrasting color, and ribbons placed in vertical or horizontal bands around the basket, and bound at the top and edges with gold ribbon or metal gullions. Front of basket can be trimmed with a spray of ribbon flowers.

Instead of a train, some of the dancing frocks for young girls now merely utilize the ends of wide ribbon girdles. These ends, weighed perhaps with a massing of satin flowers, are allowed to trail on the floor.

WILL BEAUTIFY WHITE HAIR

Lemon Juice Recommended for Bleaching Out the Yellow; Indigo Blue Used in Rinsing.

To remove the yellow tinge from white hair and give it that white purity of color which is so becoming to the face is not a difficult matter, writes a correspondent. All that is necessary is to pare off the rind from a lemon, squeeze the juice into a cup and fill the cup with boiling water. When it is lukewarm saturate the hair and scalp with this mixture. Tie up the head in a towel for a quarter of an hour to give time for the bleaching out of the yellow. Care must be taken that none of the rind of the lemon is in the cup, as this will turn the hair yellow. Afterward wash the hair with a pure soap liquid and massage the scalp with the fingers for about ten minutes. Then rinse the hair thoroughly with warm water, and to the last rinsing water, warm, add a very little indigo blue. This will give the hair a beautiful silvery appearance.

Richard Lloyd Jones Says

THE STRENGTH OF THE SMALL

Even prehistoric man with his awkward weapons and crude strategies was able to master the mastodon. Man can fight a bear better than he can fight a worm or beetle.

The hippopotamus is too huge and clumsy to hide from the hunter; even the crouching panther cannot outwit the long-reaching weapons of man.

It is the deadly insects and not the lion or the leopard that worry the jungle traveler.

We can protect our sheep from the wolf better than we can fight the scale and the megalot that reduce the fruits of the field.

The tornado terrifies the Kansas farmer less than an oncoming cloud of locusts.

The mouse puts the elephant in a panic. The dog spends most of his life fighting dogs.

The services of science are directed against the microbe and bacillus.

A vicious germ will do more to devastate an enemy than a flu of "Big Bertha." We legislate against the polluted water, we pour oil and disinfectants upon the deadly scum of stagnant pools to kill mosquitoes because we are afraid of the little things that fight us.

So with our deeds. The loftiest plans of the greatest minds may be upset by the thoughtless act of an underling; the most carefully planned campaign brought to ruin by the failure to allow for appearance of the commonest element.

A fanatic's pistol fired in one of the littlest nations threw Europe's greatest powers into war.

A rain on the eve of the battle of Waterloo determined the fate of a continent.

Admiral Mayo's sea dog stiffness at Tamples forced President Wilson's hand and nearly involved us in a silly and senseless war with Mexico.

Germany plotted to have us stab our toe and fall into that snare.

Little things both help and harm.

The patience of a spider repeatedly repairing its broken web filled the soul of Robert Bruce with renewed courage and led to a period of freedom for Scotland.

The fall of an apple led Sir Isaac Newton to discover the law of gravitation.

A shock from the angry heavens, conveyed along a wet kite string, led to Franklin's discovery of the lightning rod and greatly advanced man's grapple with the mystery of electricity.

It never pays to despise the little things. The merest trifles may be the pivot upon which will turn consequence enormous.

HOMER PHILOSOPHY for 1923

Isn't it strange how the old copy book maxims work out. Here we have a New York State legislator who suggests a law to compel the courts to declare a man or a woman sane or insane whenever an exclamation is demanded. Funny kind of a law, isn't it—and yet a court decision that a man is sane at a given date pinned to the will he makes would stop the clogging of our courts with pernicious lawsuits, and enable a man to do as he wishes with his own. So childish maxims loom before us—an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Good to recall the copybook once in a while.

poem by UNCLE JOHN

We sow in faith when spring unfolds her gracious mantle o'er the earth,—While Nature's every promise holds a harvest fair, of golden worth. . . . We sing, as o'er the fields we spread the innate life in precious seed, while faith foretells the harvest-bread, to stay our lives in time of need. . . . In faith we spend the night of rest, when fertile seed-time's day is done,—and faith endows with keener zest, the hour we greet the rising sun. . . . We build in faith for future years, and lend our all in faith's bright lure, with not a thought of pain or tears—we brave the ills that faith can cure. Though life abounds in pit-falls deep—though death is somewhere out ahead, God help the faith that fails to reap, in greater faith, its daily bread!

STONE THAT CHANGES COLOR

Peculiar Property of Element Found in Eastern Africa Something of a Puzzle to Scientists.

A new precious stone has been discovered which has the remarkable property of changing its color. Heliogore, as the new stone has been named, was found in eastern Africa; it is now puzzling scientists by its strange behavior.

In daylight it appears as a brilliant point of flaming yellow. Place it in the rays of a gas burner or an electric lamp, and it takes on the flashing green hues of the emerald. In the dim light of dawn or dusk it assumes the white brilliance of the diamond.

It is astonishing that one stone should have all these colors at different times, though actually almost all of our precious stones are varying forms of the same thing. Diamond, ruby, topaz, and emerald are all made of the same ingredients as the carbonyl powder used for cleaning table knives!

If we reduce them to their simplest form, we find that they consist of nothing but carbon, which is the same thing as the black lustrous soot that the sweep removes from our chimneys. Even the famous Cullinan diamond is nothing more than a lump of soot compressed by enormous forces and welded by terrific heat when the world was cooling down millions of years ago.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—To the Three Star ranch, Arizona, owned jointly by Sandy Bourke, "Mormon" Deane and "Soda Water" Sam. A young man, a stranger, is seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch. The stranger is seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER II.—The two find a dying man, Patrick Casey, pinned under a runaway wagon, and a young girl, his daughter, who has been kidnapped. The stranger, who has been taken to the Three Star ranch, is seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER III.—It is agreed that Molly Casey, the daughter of the dying man, should be taken to the Three Star ranch. The stranger, who has been taken to the Three Star ranch, is seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER IV.—Starting with a gold mine, Molly's luck place, Sandy, with some plans for a future, is seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER V.—It is arranged that Molly, to whom the half of Sandy's wealth has been given, should go East to be "educated."

CHAPTER VI.—A neighbor, Miranda Blake, who has been taken to the Three Star ranch, is seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER VII.—Paroled by the sheriff, the ranchers separate, Mormon and Sam returning, and Sandy and Molly going on.

CHAPTER VIII.—The two are caught in a trap by a cloud of dust, during which Sandy saves Molly's life. They reach the town of Caraca, their objective.

CHAPTER IX.—At Caraca Sandy meets a friend, who helps the pair escape the police, and they safely board the train on their way out of the state.

CHAPTER X.—Sandy returns to his partner, announcing that Molly has been released from a school recommended by Miranda Blake.

CHAPTER XI.—A party of riders headed by a man named Brandon visits the Three Star ranch, and the ranchers are seen in the back of a stagecoach, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER XII.—Westlake says indications are that the strike will be out well. An anticipated, Pimmsol has been taken to the Three Star ranch, in the way in which he is being taken to the Three Star ranch.

CHAPTER XIII.—An attempt to induce the three ranchers to be frustrated.

CHAPTER XIV.—A capitalist from the East, announcing himself as William Cavanagh, arrives at Dynamite. Pimmsol, knowing he is no match for Sandy in a gun fight, shows his yellow streak and leaves town.

"There were only a few old-timers in the crowd, Blake," said Keith. "A heap of people hear of a gold rush and think it's always a Tom Tiddler's ground, like washing out the rich sands of Nome. They'll be glad to sell and take shares for cash."

"Ought to change the name of the camp," suggested Blake. "Dynamite is known as an exploded prospect."

"Thought of that," said Keith. "How about Casey Town, after the original discoverer, who always believed in the place, but lacked the money for development and wouldn't take in a partner? Picturesque and good stuff for the prospectors. You might send off some stuff about that, Blake, work in this Sandy Bourke and Pimmsol affair. Good, lively publicity stuff, we can use again later on. Romance of Casey's daughter. Wonder where she is?"

He lapsed into silence, swallowing his coffee in gulps.

Sandy and his companions found Mormon asleep on the Bailey claims. Miranda bowed coffee, and they told her the news of Pimmsol and the arrival of Keith.

"It's too bad you didn't run Pimmsol out of the county, or the state," remarked the spinster. "If that man Keith wants to buy my claims I'm willing to sell. Mike's is more in my line than mine, I've decided."

"Let's hold a pow-wow before we turn 'em," said Sandy. "Westlake, what do you know about Keith? Anything?"

"I've heard of him. I imagine he wanted out as a promoter rather than a developer. He has made some lucky strikes. There is no doubt but that he can float this proposition on a big scale, induce others to put money into it. He'll put the camp on working basis. If the gold's here it will be a sound one. There is doubt in my mind that Patrick Casey picked the best side of the lode. The indications are in sight here. I would say sell these for cash, holding out on price until Keith refuses to offer more. He'll come back a final bid. But let him organize the claims. Those claims are a big bet of this camp, and he knows it."

"Fifty-one per cent, on the name's Casey, then," said Sandy. "The more, you're to be consulted, engineer or whatever they call a fat job, Westlake. I'm dawg dead. Sam, let's shake over to our claims."

Sandy, Sam and Mormon returned the Three Star with the papers drawn and signed and the shares of stock issued that gave 20 per cent to Molly property to her and 25 to the three partners. Keith returned to New York with his 40 per cent to leave his plans for the full development of the claims he had acquired.

He left the capital and was willing to let the developing the Molly Casey claim. It was a business, and he was a business man. He was a business man, and he was a business man.

someone else. He had turned his eyes toward all of late, some of his turns, and this took money. His wife took more; his son, just out of college, took all he could get.

Mrs. Keith, he decided, should look Molly up at her school, take her into the Keith home on vacations, introduce her into the social whirl. The night newspaper men would see her, meet her, get the story from Blake of her romantic childhood, with photographs of the Western heiress in the Park on Horseback. Moreover, she could be introduced to the right people, that was Mrs. Keith's end of it.

Then would come the prospecting with these extracts of the best paragraphs, tied up with clippings of Casey Town, with engineers' reports, with scientific stuff about sylvanite, a masterpiece of romance and fiction, peppered with fact. The whole to be titled White Gold.

Blake submitted his clever campaign, worthy of better things, and Keith approved of it. That the partners of the Three Star as fifty-one per cent owners, of Molly Casey herself, in turn, should be consulted or informed, never entered his head.

Blake's campaign was carried out most successfully. Mrs. Keith descended over-whelmingly upon Molly at her school, chauffeur and footman on the driving seat of her luxurious sedan; gazed a little when she saw that Molly was a beauty, could be made an unusual one with the right dressing, the right setting.

Her brain, which was much enough in business matters, told her that she could improve her husband's program of using Molly as an attraction to bring investors to the Keith residence. It might be a good thing—Mrs. Keith was quick at dealing with the future. If her son, Donald, fell in love with Molly, the heiress, she wrote to the Three Star ranch, to Sandy Bourke.

Miranda, alone in the river, a new car of her own, bought with money paid by Keith for her claim, was at the ranch house when Sandy returned. Miranda and young Ed Bailey, accepting Westlake's advice, had sold for cash, getting fifteen thousand dollars to divide between them, refusing more glittering offers of stock. It was a windfall well worth their endeavor, and they were much satisfied. Young Ed had promptly come to agricultural college. Miranda, Mormon and Sam were talking about this when Sandy came up.

"It sure made a man of young Ed overnight," said the spinster. "He thought it out all by himself, an' high surprised us off our feet. We're plumb proud of him."

"Mr. Westlake was over day before yesterday," she went on. "He says things is bound to go Casey Town. There's been some good strikes, one in the claim next but one to ours. Keith's gold to start things whirlin', I reckon."

"Mebbe he'll see Molly," suggested Sam. "Thought of course she ain't to Keith's house yet."

"How's that?" asked the spinster eagerly.

"We are waitin' for Sandy to show you the letter," said Sam.

Miranda read the letter through twice, folded it and held it in her lap for a few moments. Then:

"I don't rightly get the motive back of this writin'. It ain't been sent without one. Mebbe she's just taken a fancy to Molly, mebbe she's a woman that likes to do kind things and thinks Molly'll pay well for her."

taken up. I don't mean in money, but, if Molly didn't have a show of being rich, an' wasn't pretty, which she is, I ain't certain Mrs. Keith 'ud be so eager. I guess it's all right, but, somehow, it don't hit me as plumb sincere."

"You'd vote ag'in it?" asked Sandy.

"No-o. I wouldn't."

"I figured on puttin' it up to Molly."

"That's a good idea. An', as her guardian, I'd suggest that Mrs. Keith lives up to that half-promise of hers an' make it a condition she brings Molly out here inside of six months. That'll give time for a fair trial an' you can see right then to yourself how it works."

"That's a plumb fine idea," said Mormon, looking triumphantly at his partners.

It ran with Sandy's own wishes and he subscribed to it. Sam indorsed it as well, and a letter was sent east that night, containing the proviso of Molly's return and another that Molly should bear all her own expenses of tuition and living. All this to hang upon Molly's own desire to make the change.

When Molly's letter came there appeared no doubt as to her willingness. She admitted that she had been sometimes "lonesome" at the school.

After that Molly's letters were prime events at the Three Star. She wrote every week telling of life at the Keiths. Miranda made up the quartet to read them. Molly wrote:

"It is full of excitement, this life at the Keiths, and they are just lovely to me. There is a lot of company always at the house and every one seems to be enjoying himself, but somehow it strikes me as not quite real. I want to be back where nobody pretends."

"Reckon she's right," said Mormon. "Molly's different. She had a mighty hard time of it along with her old man, compared to what them soft-skinned snips must have had. How 'bout it, Sam?"

"Sounds good to me. What do you think, Sandy? It's up to you as her guardian."

"It sure sounds good," said Sandy. "Seems like this Mrs. Keith must be a pretty fine woman to think of takin' Molly into her own home. I'd be in a hurry to see her."

"I sure sounds good," said Sandy. "Seems like this Mrs. Keith must be a pretty fine woman to think of takin' Molly into her own home. I'd be in a hurry to see her."

STATE CHAMP'S RECORD AND SHORT HISTORY

St. Mary Reserves Season Ends Bringing Gold Medals to the Boys.

People of Chelsea are wagging their heads and saying, "I told you so," and down in the state's metropolis, Detroiters are still gasping for breath and wondering how it all happened, for seven boys from Chelsea recently wrestled the state championship honors in lightweight basketball from Detroit's best, in a style which left little doubt of supremacy. Two sets of brothers make up five of these seven boys, three named Hoffman and two named Eder.

Basket ball has always been a popular game in Chelsea. St. Mary Catholic school four years ago placed a team in the field, calling them the Reserves. From that time on the Chelsea Reserves have been winners.

Since starting in 1919, the Reserves have played an even hundred games and have tasted defeat but seven times during that period, two of the beatings at the hands of Jackson school teams.

The first game the team lost was to the Detroit Orioles in 1920, by a 19 to 9 score. It was their only loss that year. In 1921, however, they dropped three games, one to Hillsdale High, 22 to 19; one to Jackson High Reserves, 31 to 6, and one to the Detroit Orioles, 26 to 6. The following year they took every game they played.

In 1922 they went through their regular season unbeaten, but in playing the semi-finals for the state lightweight championship in Detroit lost a bitter contest to the Detroit Kiptons, 17 to 16.

In 1923, the season just past, St. Mary's took on some harder teams. They won their first three games, but in the fourth contest, played with the Jackson High Reserves, losing by one point, 12 to 11. Then they sailed through 15 more games with wins until they took on the University of Detroit High team, a strong outfit, and Chelsea lost the game by only three points, 17 to 14. Incidentally, they played a return game with Jackson later in the season, and after two overtime periods had been played, won, 16 to 14.

On Tuesday night of last week, they had worked their way to play the finals for state honors against the West End Falcons, a Polish team, of Detroit. To get into the finals they had beaten the Argo A. C., 14 to 10; the Farand Park Highlanders, 83 to 4, and the Willard A. C., 20 to 15.

Play for Title.

The game with the Falcons was hard fought. The score stood even many times during the game, and three minutes before its finish Chelsea had gained a lead of five points, the count being 23 and 18. Then Eder, the star guard, was forced to leave because of four personal fouls and Riedel was substituted. Riedel, usually a careful player, had difficulty in keeping away from the Detroiters and in less time than it takes to tell it had committed three personal fouls, on which the Falcons cashed in five points, making the score 23 all with half a minute to go. Here a break of luck figured, for Huchner, Detroit guard, committed a personal, the ball was in the air in the first toss the whistle blew, but it swished through the hoop for the needed point, ending the game 24 to 23.

"They were the fastest and cleanest bunch of players I have ever seen," said Ritter, Purdue graduate, who refereed all the important games in Detroit.

Independents in Future.

It is the last year the team will represent the Chelsea school for most of the players graduate this year, but plans are already under way for their appearance in next year's field as independents, open to meet any lightweight team in the country. The combined weights of the St. Mary Reserves is 841 pounds, an average of 120 pounds to the man.

Perhaps the secret of their wonderful success is their ability to team it. If you should ask one of the forwards how they won, he would probably say, "Oh, it was the good guarding, and if you should ask a guard, he would say, 'Our forwards did the trick.' Ask the team and they would say, 'It was due wholly to the work of Coach Koplin.' It indeed true that Harry Koplin, who formerly coached the Jackson High team, has done wonders for the St. Mary's players since he took them under his wing two years ago. The team works as one. They are always working for team points, and there has not been a single individual point total figured since the team began playing.

Trainer Watches Over Them.

Their trainer, Roy Evans, watches over his brood as a mother hen watches over her chicks. His practiced eye catches the slightest wavering in the part of one of the players in a game, and such a man is quick to call from the lineup and tell the player that he can be fit to should the game need him. Since they began playing, the Reserves have scored 695 points against 238 for their opponents.

Their 1923 Record.

The following is their record for the 1923 season:

St. Mary, 35; Michigan Center, 9. St. Mary, 15; Hillsdale High, 11. St. Mary, 19; Ann Arbor High Reserves, 13.

St. Mary, 11; Jackson High Reserves, 12. St. Mary, 26; Detroit Florists, 11. St. Mary, 26; Ann Arbor Y. M. C. A., 15.

St. Mary, 37; Detroit Orioles, 30. St. Mary, 31; Michigan Center, 9. St. Mary, 19; Ann Arbor High Reserves, 9.

St. Mary, 31; Ann Arbor Y. M. C. A., 23. St. Mary, 43; Jackson West Inter-mediate, 12.

St. Mary, 30; Detroit Pershing Cubs, 29. St. Mary, 23; Greenwood Avenue M. E. Jackson, 15.

St. Mary, 51; Dexter High, 8. St. Mary, 36; Colonial Clothes, Detroit, 15. St. Mary, 86; Soda Test, Detroit, 6.

St. Mary, 16; Jackson High Reserves, 14. St. Mary, 19; Ypsilanti High Reserves, 3. St. Mary, 29; Romulus Independents, 16.

St. Mary, 14; U. of D. High, 17. St. Mary, 14; Argo A. C., 10. St. Mary, 33; Farand Park Highlanders, 4.

St. Mary, 20; Willard A. C., 15. St. Mary, 24; West End Falcons, 23. A. G. Hudecang, one of the business men of Chelsea, is the president and director of the team, and it is through his ways of carrying on the business affairs of the team, that it was a success this year. His careful study of the game at the beginning of the season kept him posted on every play of the game and little chance did any one have in putting anything over when it came to a decision which was difficult to settle. He watched every play of the game with a keen eye and when the team play was weak at times, it was not long before he had it in running condition again. He gave the boys, by his authority and organization, confidence in himself and in the team. He was like a real big brother to them, and very kind and generous, as was trainer Evans.

GLENN BROOKS SELECTED ON ALL STATE.

Glenn Brooks of this place was selected on the all-state basketball five picked by officials of the tournament held at Detroit last week. The selection of Brooks who played with the Ann Arbor Grottos in the tournament for the center position was unanimous, his allround ability and dribbling bringing him this honor. Brooks was also a member of the St. Mary Regulars of this place, playing almost every game with this team.

U. of M. WINS FIRST GAME.

The U. of Michigan won their opening game of the 1923 season from Kentucky U. at Lexington, Ky., Saturday, 23 to 6. Kipke led the Michigan attack with 5 hits in 6 times up.

CLINTON TO HAVE LEAGUE BASEBALL COMING SEASON.

At a baseball meeting held in Tecumseh Tuesday night with representatives present from Clinton, Tecumseh, Adrian, Manchester and Milan, a tri-county baseball league was formed.

It will be a six-league team consisting of the five places which sent representatives and possibly Monroe for the sixth team.

Each team will play 20 games during the season, one-half of the games at home and the other half away.

William Groeschow of Adrian, well known in this vicinity for his skill as an umpire, was elected president. A meeting will be called in the near future by Mr. Groeschow for the purpose of arranging a schedule and framing a constitution.

NEW YORK CELTICS WIN.

Pottsville, Pa.—The New York Celtics, basket ball champions of the world, defeated Pottsville, the Penn state champions, here Saturday, in a fast played game by a score of 20 to 15. Horse laggerty starred for the Celtics while Stevenson played well for Pottsville.

STEEGER'S BEAT KNICKERBOCKERS.

Lawton Steeger's baseball team defeated Carl Knickerbocker team Saturday afternoon by a score of 20 to 9. The game was played on the school grounds. Umpires could not seem to give agreeable decisions so they were omitted.

VANDERBILT DEFEATS MICH.

Nashville Tenn. Vanderbilt hammered three Michigan pitchers for 16 hits yesterday and defeated the Wolverines 14 to 2. Emory pitched for Vanderbilt allowing four hits, one a home run by Uteritz. Vanderbilt hit three home runs.

Albert Muller and Steve Jenkins, both of Caserte, Cal., wanted to take Mary Castell to a dance. Steve had a dress suit and Albert didn't. So Albert hired Steve in true wild west fashion and took the dress suit away. Steve missed the dance but got a war-

Strict compliance with State and Federal laws regulating the percentage of butter fat for various kinds of cream will be required by the Bureau of Dairying of the State Department of Agriculture, T. H. Droughman, director of the Bureau of Dairying stated last week. Tests made by representatives of the department showed that coffee cream sold in Michigan ranged from 6 to 30 per cent butter fat, while whipping cream was found to vary from 10 to 50 per cent, according to Droughman. The standard for coffee cream set by the State law is 18 per cent.

In the Realm of Society

Be a Booster!
If you think YOUR church the best—
tell 'em so!
If you'd have it lead the rest—help
it grow!
When there's anything to do,
Let them always count on you,
You'll feel good when it is through,
—Don't you know?

If you're used to giving knocks—
change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of rocks—for a while
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost;
Meet his banter with a boast
—And a smile.

When a stranger from afar—comes along,
Tell him who and what you care—
make it STRONG.
Never flatter, never bluff,
Tell the truth, for that's the stuff,
Be a BOOSTER, that's the stuff,
—Don't just belong.

"MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME"
Is a Big Human Interest Picture With Lesson.

"My Old Kentucky Home" which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Princess theatre is one of the most interesting pictures we have seen thus far this season. It contains more real human interest than a dozen other pictures that have been shown here and carries a very good lesson as well. What "Way Down East" is to the New England population "My Old Kentucky Home" is to the Southerners, yet it is a picture which is destined to be as great a success as "Way Down East," for it contains all the elements of successful drama.

There is truly real Southern romance in the picture enacted by Monte Blue, the man about whom the women go crazy, and Sigrid Holmquist, a veritable fairy child in the part. Some of the scenes make your blood tingle with excitement, especially the racing scenes. The Kentucky Derby is shown—shown just as real as it is—and the horses racing give you all the excitement you could have if you were at a real race-track. The race is one of the big features of the picture and is alone well worth seeing.

The story concerns a young man who has been railroaded to prison and who, when released, is too proud to go home. He does go home, however, when the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home," bring back fond memories, and once home he lives in fear that his mother will learn that he is an ex-convict. He keeps the secret from her only to have it made known by a smuggler who is after the hand of the young man's sweetheart.

Monte Blue is splendid as the young man. Sigrid Holmquist as the romancing Southern sweetheart is delightful, as is Julia Swayne Gordon as the Southern widow. Lucy Fox, as a capricious mountain girl does all that is expected of her. The others in the cast are excellent. It was directed by Ray C. Smallwood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Quinn, of Ann Arbor, visited Chelsea friends, Sunday.

Mr. T. Schmidt and Miss J. Camp of Ann Arbor spent Sunday in Chelsea.

Lillian Brettenwieser, spent Saturday, in Jackson.

Miss Loverne Sly of Plymouth
spent the weekend with Miss Georgia Russell.

Rev. and Mrs. Krueger and children of Dexter spent Sunday evening with Rev. and Mrs. P. Grabowski.

A Farmer Cured of Rheumatism.
"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely.
says C. P. Rayder, Patten Mills, N.Y.
"A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment; I want it in the house all the time for it cured me." Adv.

Officers and directors of the Michigan Potato Producers' Association, meeting at Petoskey with experts in the potato production and sales departments of the Michigan Agricultural College, representatives of the Michigan Bureau of Markets and officers of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange, have worked out a marketing system for Michigan grown certified seed potatoes. The rules governing the certifying of seed potatoes were tightened considerably which will bring the seed product up to the highest standard.

The legislature is to have an opportunity to pass judgment on the bill introduced by Representative Robert B. MacDonald, of Houghton, to make the automobile license fee exacted of northern Michigan motorists commensurate with the length of the automobile season. The bill re-opens an old question as to whether the state can in fairness collect the full license fee from a motorist who cannot use his car during the winter months because of the snowdrifts.

Pitches Horseshoes

Mrs. C. A. Latham, of Bloomington, Ill., pitching 2 1/2 pound horse shoes, has a record of thirty-five fingers in winning the state championship at Aurora. She challenges the world.

noon.

home because of illness.

fluenced by constitutional conditions.

Tonic, taken internally, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the system. HALES' CATARRH MEDICINE assists Nature in restoring
