Timely Discussions of various facts that may interest you.

"BILL"

Everyone certainly enjoyed the Senior Class play, that saw it. It was a fine production. But—all that was missing was a real theater and that would have made everything complete.

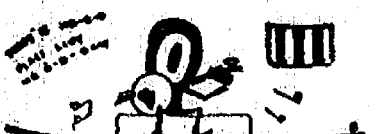

As it was some people must have thought they were at a circus from their actions. By this we are alluding to some of the things that were done at the performances.

As a general rule peanuts and popcorn and hard candies are associated with circuses and carnivals and not dramatic productions. But some folks seemed to think that the Sylvan theater was as good a place as any to eat in.

It would be but—consideration of the other people's nerves should also be taken.

Another thing that some of the ladies might remember to remove their hats in the theaters. It helps the fellow in back to see better.

Auto wrecks seem to be getting common again. Spring is either coming or the people are a little ahead of the season.

Music hath charm to soothe the savage beast—and even a judge, says Oscar Taylor, colored, of New York City. He was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, and in his cell whistled away the hours by singing and strumming his banjo. When he appeared in court, Magistrate Well, complimented him on his singing and suspended sentence.

Possibly some of the folks around here will be carrying a mouth organ around with them and the next time they get pinched, they'll try it out.

I feel sure of the verdict in some cases.

Two young ladies evidently learned a lesson Sunday evening when they did not announce their presence, and several men were congregated.

Many people in Chelsea and vicinity are now wondering if they will soon be listening in over the fine new radio they are expecting to win.

If we have many more snow storms and blizzards like we had Saturday, we can figure that summer will be here before spring gets a start.

One young lady has complained because she has had to wear her fur hat six months so far this season. I'd say that she was lucky to have a fur hat to wear.

As for breaking out in the new and summer outfits, why, it is raining for some of us that warm weather has not come because we'd be lucky for something to wear.

A man who was so kind as to be $2,000 to two old mules and that they were to work no exception to the general people today.

Let us of us folks aren't even as good as the two mules.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY
PLEASES AUDIENCE
TWO EVENINGS"The Gold Bug" Rivals Any Past Play
Given Here.

The Sylvan Theater was filled to capacity two evenings with audiences that were well pleased with the Senior class play "The Gold Bug." The class gave an excellent production both evenings and were very successful in their acting and presentation.

Miss Maude Jayne coached the cast and is to be given much credit for the wonderful way each character acted their part. The cast was complete in every detail and each part was well portrayed.

For two consecutive evenings the Sylvan theater was packed and the play was so well given both evenings that many have expressed the desire to see it again.

Paul Hickey as the wealthy young fellow handled his part to capacity, giving the air of the indifferent young fellow with too much money and no worry. Harold Davis as the friend of the young butterfly also filled his part well.

Jupiter, the butler, was indeed clever at every turn. The part was taken by Lucile Brocasamle, and he drew many a hearty laugh from his audience. When wealth came to him he acted the part of the wealthy negro to perfection.

Paul Gruber was the Carolinian and another friend of the social butterfly. He wins his fair lady, the debutante, which part was taken by Audrey Harris. She was the young girl, whose mother was having a hard time finding a suitable young man with plenty of money. Miss Harris was fine, in her replies, "Yes, Mam-ma," and such.

The girls of the butterflies life were beautifully represented, during the first act. Each girl representing some season or sport or activity, was dressed in wonderful costumes that added greatly to the scene.

John King, the lawyer, and who later is the grandfather of the leading character, and Paul Gruber, the mystery man, both acted their parts with a great deal of credit and held the interest of the audience at all times.

The part of Isaac Milligan, the grifter, was well portrayed by Harold Davis. His prosperous dignity and questionable business were well understood by his acting. His stenographer, Dolly, made a true representation of the flippish type of stenographer found so often in offices. Anne Rogers acted this part and did so with skill and ease that entitles her to much credit.

Ella Hagdon acted the part of the stenographer for Legrand, editor of the Busy Bee and her portrayal of a true and conscientious girl was perfect. Old Hagar, the vagrant had one of the most difficult parts in the play and the acting and speaking that Florence Turnbull gave her part was indeed fine. She lost her part at no time and kept the voice of the old hag before her audience.

Dorothy Dancer as the leading girl, who enters the story middle of the play, was pretty in her part. Legrand the butterfly loses his heart to her and as the play ends they are to be happy. Mrs. Horne the mother, which part was taken by Elenora Lambert represented the opposite type of mother from Mrs. Foster, who was desirous of marrying off her daughter. Gertrude Eppler took the part of the aristocratic mother and did so with much grace.

All in all the play was a wonderful success in every detail. The acting was all done with grace and poise that displayed good coaching and directing.

Considerable credit is due Mrs. Anderson for her work in aiding in stage settings and decorations. Also for the make ups and costuming of the characters. Mrs. Anderson had full charge of this work for the class.

Between acts several entertainments were given to the great pleasure of the audience. Miss Margaret Mitchell gave a fine solo. Then eight girls in a stringed instrument octette pleased their audience with several songs. Jean Turnbull gave a fine selection of fancy dances that brought much applause from the audience. Dorothy Weimann and George Atkinson entertained with a clever dialogue. Two colored folks dressed in costume made a hit with the audience with their songs and dances. They were Doris Foster and Helen Dancer. A xylophone solo by Katherine Fletcher greatly pleased her audience.

The high school orchestra played between acts and before the show for the entertainment of the audience. They are also to be congratulated upon their perfection.

The senior class and their dramatic efforts were well awarded and their plays were fine in every respect. They are to be highly congratulated on the success which they achieved and also those who were so kind as to

AUTO SMASHUP
SATURDAY AFTERNOON
ONE HURTJohn Conrady of Detroit Suffers
Injuries to Back.

Several people had narrow escapes Saturday afternoon in an auto accident which occurred just east of Lima Center. Mr. Ben Conrady who was driving the car had driven to Chelsea from Detroit to visit the C. G. Spring plant here. Accompanying him were his two sons and Mr. E. Pratt a member of the engineering department of the company.

The accident occurred about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon as the men were driving back to Detroit. Just east of Lima Center Mr. Conrady was going to pass another car but a car from the east stopped him. As he turned back he went off the pavement into the dirt. In making the turn back to the road the car hit the edge of the pavement and it threw it over into the road turning the car on its side.

A Ford sedan that was coming along at this time had a narrow escape from being smashed also. The large Auburn, driven by Conrady was considerably smashed. The occupants were all badly shaken up but only one badly hurt. John Conrady, 20, suffered severe bruises about the body and especially the back.

Mr. Conrady and son Will, and E. Pratt returned to Detroit Monday morning while John Conrady is being attended at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hemstreet. The people were all brought back here after the accident and a local physician took care of them.

LARGE CAR SWEEPS
PATH OF DESTRUCTION

Occupants, Unhurt, Leave in a Hurry.

Either somebody didn't care or someone got all muddled up Sunday night. Some men driving east on the paved road left a rather destructive trail behind them. The men who were driving a large Daniels touring car were going east and were just a short distance past Sylvan Center when they started their tour of destruction.

The car going at a terrific speed swerved and struck four other cars before it finally ended up in the ditch stopped by a telegraph pole which it broke off.

The wet and snow pavement made driving hard and the large car and its occupants had a narrow escape with their lives. Three cars which they hit were only slightly damaged, smashed only a fender or running board, but the fourth a Ford coupe was badly damaged, the front end being pushed under the car.

The large Daniels after sweeping from one side of the road to the other ran into the ditch and stopped when it hit a telegraph pole. The car was badly damaged, the top smashed and other parts bent and crushed. The occupants though were not hurt and disappeared in a hurry, leaving word that they were from Canada and would call up Monday morning.

In the fifteen minutes that no one was near the car passers by stole almost every part accessible, even removing a large trunk from the car in the back. The accident happened about midnight Sunday night.

After several weeks work at the Hoover Steel Ball plant here, operations were started yesterday morning. About twenty men are being employed at the present and as the new machines are installed more men will be added.

A considerable amount of new equipment has been added to the local plant. Several new machines have been and are being installed, and when the plant is ready for capacity work quantity production will be the aim.

The local plant manufactures the balls for the hardware trade while the Ann Arbor plant specializes in machinery work. The opening up of the Ball plant means another industry for Chelsea and should be of interest to all.

FOUR FARMERS OF
THIS VICINITY BUY
WELL BRED HERD SIRESire Has Excellent Record That Gives Promise for Big Herds Near

A transaction of no little importance was recently made, when a party of Washtenaw, Michigan, breeders purchased from the Ona Company of Chardon, Ohio, the young Herd Sire, Meadow Holm Finnerne Button. He being a son of Finnerne Pride Payne, and his Dam, a grand-daughter of Sir Pieterje Ormsby Mercedies and Ona Button DeKol, combines most closely the blood of three of the greatest long-distance and high producing families of the breed. Finnerne Pride Payne, is by King Hengerveld Aggie Payne, he by King Payne Segis, from the former world record two year old, Bloomingdale Hengerveld Aggie. He in turn by the Great King Segis and the 35 lb. cow, Grace Paynes 2nd. Homestead, his Dam, Finnerne Pride Johanns Rue, a 36 lb. cow with 1470 lbs. in a year is a daughter of Johanns Rue 3rd and, that famous son of Sarcastic lad and Johanns Rue 3rd, Finnerne Pride Payne has the distinction of having a 1470 lb. dam (which record makes her the third highest butter producing cow in the United States,) a 1281 lb. daughter whose yearly milk record of over 35,000 lbs. makes her the second highest milk producing cow in the world. Two sisters also hold world records, Finnerne Hollingen Payne, with 1395 lbs. in a year as a junior three year old and Finnerne Mutual Payne, a junior two year old with over 1200 lbs. fit a year. He also has five sisters who have each produced 35 lbs. of butter in seven days in three year old form. The Dam of this young Sire, Meadow Holm Ona Ormsby, has a 21 lb. seven day record at two years, with a 4.5 per cent butter fat test, is now going strong on semi-official work and promises to make an excellent record of right close to, if not to exceed, 1000 lbs. Her Dam is an own sister to the celebrated King Ona, being sired by Maple Crest Pontiac Hartog, from Ona Button DeKol, who is Ohio's State Champion Cow, with 1345 lbs. of butter in a year. The next Dam, Ona Clothilde DeKol, with over 1100 lbs. is the foundation cow of the Ona family. The average of the three direct Dams being 1118 lbs.

Her Sire, Sir Pieterje Ormsby Mercedies 40th from a standpoint of individuality is one of the greatest sons of his Sire, Sir Pieterje Ormsby Mercedies, who has fifteen 1000 lb. daughters. He is also a three-fourth brother to the 37th and a full brother to Queen Piebe Mercedies, 1130 lbs. in a year. The Dam of Sir Pieterje Ormsby Mercedies 40th, Queen Piebe of Fairview 2nd, a 30 lb. cow, and the first cow to make seven consecutive year records has produced an 1130 lb. daughter is a full sister to Spring Brook Bess Burke 2nd, (1270.) Meadow Holm Finnerne Button is a two year old, dark in color, very nicely marked. Exceptionally good personality, broad shoulders, deep chested neck finely crested, broad forehead with well shaped face, good horns, broad muzzle, straight top-line. Hide and hair soft and silky showing real breeding. This young Herd Sire is owned jointly by E. S. Spaulding and Sons, Warren Spaulding, R. B. Waltrous, A. B. Shutes and Son, whose combined herds comprise about 160 head of Holsteins. These gentlemen are looking for a great improvement in their herds by the use of this well bred Sire, and if the Holstein breeders of Washtenaw County, or any other breeders of pure bred stock would buy better Herd Sires, the value of their herds could be greatly increased in a short time.

MRS. LEONARD EMBURY DIES.

Mrs. Leonard Embury, 42 years of age, died Sunday afternoon, April 15, 1923, at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor. Minnie Schwikert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwikert, was born near Northville, September 13, 1880. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Clarence and Wilber, and one daughter, Mrs. Neaborn of Owosso. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the North Lake church. Rev. Howard of Albion officiating. Burial in North Lake cemetery.

REPORTED RECOVERING.

E. A. Lowry has accepted a position in Ann Arbor, and will sell his personal property at public auction Monday, April 23rd, William Price.

WILL LAY 15 INCH
TILE FOR STORM DRAINS. G. Willimon, Dist. Engineer, here at Council meeting tells of plans.

The Council met in regular session Monday evening and all the trustees were present. The bills were read and allowed. Permission was granted to S. G. Willimon, district engineer of State Highway Department, was present at the meeting and explained the revised plans for the paving of South Main street.

The first thing that will be necessary is the laying of about 1200 feet of 15 inch tile to take care of the surface drainage from the pavement. This tile will be laid from the D. U. R. tracks at Main street running parallel to the tracks.

The Council officially released to the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners, South Main St., from the D. U. R. tracks to M 17. The plans as outlined by the state department were approved by the council.

The county engineers will supervise the laying of the tile. Willimon also recommended that at the same time to storm drain is being laid that the Village also put in a sanitary sewerage system.

There is at present an 8 inch tile that has to take care of all the storm water and sewerage of that portion of town. The 15 inch tile will take care of about three and one half times as much as the 8 inch tile. The 15 inch tile will aid greatly in caring for the sewerage of the people in the south end of town.

The paving of South Main street will be known as project M 92-2.

The resident engineer will have charge of the supervision and inspection of any additional improvements that might be made such as widening the road or curbing etc. This work will be done by the state and charged by them.

The street committee reported at the meeting that they were meeting with considerable difficulty in securing gravel for the streets of the village.

THE FORD WEEKLY

PURCHASE PLAN.

"The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan is going to be a boon to many families and permit them to buy a car much quicker than they ever dreamed." L. G. Palmer, local Ford dealer said today in discussing the new Plan which is creating such widespread comment and which is being enthusiastically received everywhere.

"In my experience as a Ford dealer, and I believe it is true with every other dealer and salesman as well, I have not many persons who expressed their desire to own a Ford, and who frankly told me that somehow they never could get together enough money to make the initial payment on one."

"The result was, of course, that they went on wanting a car and hoping that some day something would turn up whereby they could get a car."

"Now that 'something' has turned up. The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan simplifies it all and makes it easier to come into the ownership of a car."

"It is constructive automobile buying in the simplest and easiest form and presents to countless families all over the country the long wished for opportunity of enjoying motor car benefits and pleasures."

"Right here in our own city it will be more than welcome."

"Take the family where, say, the father is not the only wage earner, but where perhaps a son or a daughter or two are at work. The family never has enjoyed a car, yet every member times without number has expressed a desire to own one."

"Under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan there is no reason at all why a family should not soon own a Ford car. If each member contributes just a little of his or her earnings each week it will hardly seem any time at all before the whole family will be enjoying a car."

"What is true of the family is true of the individual who wants a car."

"And one of the most appealing features of the Plan is that it is adaptable to the means of practically everyone. The weekly payments, which are deposited to the credit of the customer in the bank and draw interest at the regular savings rate, may be fixed to suit the desires of each purchaser. What could be easier than that?"

STYLES FROM THE TOMB.

Bobbed hair was going out of style when King Tut's tomb was discovered under the sands of Egypt. But leading hair-dressers say that bobbed hair may rule for another year or two, as part of the King Tut fashion crazes now being planned by dictators of styles.

Bobbed hair and bobbed wigs were "the thing" in King Tut's day.

Among the rich and royal ladies of Tut's time, the headdress was a masterpiece that must have required weeks of work, elaborate and fantastic hair and jewelry forming large wings on top of the head.

The high steppers and flashy dressers strung their hair thru beads, giving the effect of a crop of necklaces growing out of the skull. Keep your eyes open. Some in our community will try it.

Girls who have been plucking their eyebrows into straight lines, with tweezers, will be glad to learn that such was the style in King Tut's day.

When it came to gowns, the most daring Egyptian social leaders wore garments made entirely of transparent beads.

Starched and carefully pressed ruffles and pleats were the rage in Cairo and other Egyptian cities 3,500 years ago.

Jewelry was worn extravagantly, profusely—large rings, bracelets, armlets, necklaces, anklets and head bands. The turquoise was the most favored of precious stones. Fans were carried, also hand mirrors. Nails were stained reddish yellow with henna juice. "Loud" perfumes and thick oils were rubbed all over the body.

A queer custom among fashionable ladies of ancient Egypt was painting a second set of eyebrows below the eyes, so that the optics resembled sandwiches.

How much of this barbaric oriental display will creep into fashions of American women? Probably more than any of us now dream.

J. M. Gidding (of J. M. Gidding & Co., New York city) says every great collection of Egyptian antiques in the world's museums has a flock of style designers and jewelers around it. They are getting ready to flood the markets with new styles.

Says Mr. Gidding: "This is being assisted by a reaction from the dress prevailing for so many years during and after the war. There has never been a time when the designer has had to keep so carefully in touch with the news. It is necessary to keep posted constantly by cable."

The average father, who foots the bills, will soon curse the day when a scientist's shovel, striking the top of a flight of steps, started the uncovering of King Tut's tomb.

YOUR DRINKING CAPACITY.

Could you drink 17 large glasses of wine (more than half a gallon) in six minutes? Edmund Gwenn, English actor, does it in the musical play, "Lilac Time." Result: He's the theatrical sensation of London. The English mob can't understand how anyone can guzzle over two quarts in six minutes, and do it twice a day. Gwenn lets them in on his secret—the "wine" is colored water. But that only puzzles the English still more.

Swallowing half a gallon of water in six minutes is an achievement. Gwenn says he has to drink on an empty stomach, doesn't dare eat before the show. All of which may seem unimportant. But the English public is giving it about as much attention as the situation along the Rhine. Thus returns normalcy, the period in which public attention is chiefly on trivialities.

TRADE WITH GERMANY

A checkup shows that Germany bought about $16 millions worth of goods from us in 1922, compared with 372 millions in 1921. Measured in money, this is a falling off. Due to price advances in the last year, there also was a drop in the physical quantity of our exports to Germany.

The chief things we have been selling Germany are grain, cotton, copper and lubricating oil.

Among our export customers, United Kingdom ranks first, Canada second, Germany third, Japan fourth. Interesting angle. Our exports to Germany in 1922 averaged less than $3 for every American.

$100,000,000 A YEAR.

Freight losses and damages on all American railroads combined average 100 million dollars a year, an expert estimates.

That's another item to charge up mostly to carelessness. Since such losses in the long run are buttered out and shared about equally by everybody, each of us knows where $1 of our year's income goes. Better news: While the average is 100 million dollars a year since 1918, the figure for 1922 was only 50 millions, which means that we are getting more careful as we return to normalcy.

WHERE SUGAR GOES.

The wholesale price of candy eaten by Americans in 1921 was about $14 million dollars, the census bureau announces. This was nearly a third less than in 1919, but more than twice as much as in 1914. Changed prices partly explain the rise and fall. Figure it out accurately, making allowance for price changes, and you'll doubt if we're really eating much more candy than before prohibition.

Sugar consumption has increased tremendously. But most of the increase has gone into home made wines, not candy.

LOOSE CHANGE

VERTOWERING the tallest building in the world, The Woolworth, a monument to nickels and dimes, is a phantom structure of 1c pieces which shows the might of pennies, if we will all but pause, think, act.

A great international banker estimates that the United States carries fortunes around in its work pockets every day, year in and year out. The average is $3.50 each for every soul of our 105 million population.

That means 315 million dollars, idle dollars, which 000,000 pennies, which should be earning $12,600,000 annually — or 1,260, would pile higher than the Woolworth Building.

That great sum represents only the normal 3% earnings of money we carry in our pockets as loose change. Think of the wheels of industry the principal would turn if deposited in banks and put to work.

You owe it to the nation, to your own prosperity, to put all loose change to work.

It will create a reserve fund of surprising strength for you in a very short while, if you make deposits regularly.

Then comes intelligent investment and financial independence.

Richard Lloyd Jones Says— THINK IT OUT

It is not by chance that automatically the brain overtops your eyes, ears, nose and mouth, but by design, that it may supervise what you are to see, hear, smell and taste. Think it out!

Not by chance was your brain put above legs and arms, but by plan, that it might direct and conserve their energy. Think it out!

Your brain—your best counsellor—sits in the "crow's nest" of your craft on purpose to oversee your course. It is equipped with the most precious power nature gave you. Make that brain yield you the fullest value. A clear brain is the best conservator of muscle and energy. Use it. Cultivate the power to think clearly.

As a people we evade hard thinking. Shallow surface cleverness is a too common characteristic. Our educational system develops the minds of our children along the lines of memory and absorption. Child and teacher seem equally afraid of reason. Thus as the child grows older he shows less and less inclination to tax his brain with thinking a thing out. Stuffed and crammed with information in early youth he faces life with few, if any, material powers developed. How enthusiastically and how blindly we embark on a new idea only to cast it aside when our muscles are tired and it doesn't "work." It may have had its measure of value, else why our first enthusiasm Think it out!

Relax your muscle—clinch up your brain. A bit of adjustment that good thinking will suggest to you,—a bit of cool patience—oh, rarely among Americans,—and you may contribute something of value to the world.

Success means ability to make the best use of our powers. Success means that the man in the "crow's nest" is awake and on guard. One of the best valued faculties commercially is the power to get efficient work out of men. Everywhere we hear the cry for efficiency. What scientific study we give to the elimination of waste! How we scheme to cut out unnecessary motion in even so primitive a work as brick laying! Competition is so fierce that competitors bend every effort toward organization. The struggle for individual existence must mean better co-ordination in the human being himself. And education should mean organization for efficiency of a man's native powers.

The vacant look, the wandering attention, the weariness, the erratic motion characteristic of the intellect on the lunatic—all mean that the watch has left the "crow's nest." Reason is off duty. Think it out!

Shoe Sole Had Petrified.
In Nevada a petrified shoe sole was discovered in a rock by a mining engineer. At first he thought it was a human footprint, but closer inspection showed that it was a shoe sole which had been turned into stone. The forepart was missing, but there was the outline of at least two-thirds of the sole, and around this outline ran a well-defined worn thread, which had it appeared, attached the web to the sole.

Reserved Reward for Goose.
Over 30 years old a goose has established a record at Tuttle farm, Beulah, England. She has reared 10 to 18 geese annually and last year supplied the Christmas market with 10. Her owner has decided to allow her to die a natural death as a reward for faithful service.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY For 1923

HERE you are reading this newspaper again. You haven't seen it for a week and it feels like an old friend who's just dropped into the house. Wonder why you read it? Perhaps you like the simple way it tells the news of the old home town. Perhaps you like the editorials. Maybe it's because you can do all your shopping safely through the advertisements. Or the paper may have been helpful—a little informative. Anyhow, whatever it is that moves you to read, is summed up in this: it brings you either pleasure or profit—perhaps both. So when you have finished reading it why not pass it along to a friend. After your roses wither you may find it is good while to all human beings, and every kindly act rebounds.

poem by UNCLE JOHN

I know you remember the childhood hour, when April called from her bluegrass dell,—I know you haven't forgot the shower that gave no warm' as it fell. . . . And I'm sure you recall the childish glee that suddenly changed to keen regret when Daddy called out, to you an' me, "Come in—you children—out of the wet!"

SHELTER

And—we obeyed, as we knowed we must,—but we whimpered a lot, as children do,—we held no dread of the April gust, that pelted right down, from skies so blue. . . . For children love the patterin' rain, that lays the dust, an' cools the sweat.—You have to remind 'em, time and again, afore they'll come in, out of the wet!

"Twins ever thus" of the human kind, when venturesome spirits dared the rain,—our appetites has allers been blind till they fetched us down, on the bed of pain. . . . So, I hark back to Daddy's command, which impressed me, so's I can't forget,—and I can't help enlin' the heedless band,—"Come in—you children—out of the wet!"

Michigan Happenings

Of the seven Michigan counties voting last week on the question of continuing the county agent system four were in the Cadillac district. Four out of the five neighboring counties defeated the proposal. Missaukee went about three to one against the plan, while Osceola, Grand Traverse and Leelanau showed about two to one against the system. Manistee county, alone in this section, approved the proposal. Manistee City gave the plan a majority of a single vote, but the rural communities were strong for the plans.

The Lansing automobile association have complete plans for a new tour. The trip will start over M-39, to Lake Odessa, to Holland, and to points in northern Michigan. Routes to summer resorts, lakes and trout fishing country will be covered completely this summer, according to the present plans of the association.

Eugene Brown, of St. Ignace, who has completed a tour of the upper peninsula and the northern counties of the lower peninsula, says hundreds of deer have started to death during the last month because the depth of the snow prevented feeding. He says farmers in many places have carried hay to the swamps.

Willard E. Kink, exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks, announced last week, that plans are under way for the erection of a 10-story building to be used as a temple for the lodge. This will be the tallest building in Bay City. The building will house, in addition to the lodge, a hotel and several stores.

The old Pawamo, Hahorton, Hubbardson, Carson City stage line, which has been out of commission for 15 years, will be resumed, July 1, according to the postmistress at Pawamo. Limited train service for mails and passengers at Carson City, is given as the reason for the revival.

Announcement was made, last week, by the Pontiac city commission, of acceptance of the gift of the memorial library here, a private institution maintained for about 20 years by an association of women, who kept it up as a subscription library. It contains about 10,000 books. The site was donated in 1882, as the Stout memorial. This will be Pontiac's first public library.

THE USE OF PRINTED SILKS

Some Claim Sudden Popularity Spelt Fate—Others Contend No Rival Is In Sight.

There is considerable controversy at the present time regarding silks. A fashion writer in the New York Tribune. Some contend that printed silks have met their fate by their too sudden popularity, while others hold they will meet no rival in the coming spring and summer. Certain patterns have been too widely taken up to be considered distinctive, it is true, but the manufacturer of the present day is advanced enough to realize this and is continually producing new designs and colorings. So varied are the patterns that it would be difficult to match certain fabrics were one to try. The old-time manufacturer was not as far sighted as the one today. He would, upon the slightest prediction that a certain silk was to become "common," as it were, "forget give up hope of its continued success," and through his fear of its not being successful it would become almost extinct.

The use of high colored prints in crepe marocain, crepe de chine, rayon, foulard, tussah and similar silks is a vogue stronger than a great many of us realize. There are Persian and cashmere prints, designs that imitate the patterns of laces, designs inspired by India, Hindoo and China, as well as batik designs. Also silks patterned in squares and stripes and border effects. Most effective are Persian designs in square effects and all-over printed patterns which resemble warp printing.

USE ORNAMENTS AND CLASPS

Decorations to Be in Limelight on Clothes for Spring; Many Novelties Are Shown.

Read ornaments and novelty clasps will be extensively shown on early spring clothes, while these flowers of fashion worked with beads are to follow them in attention of later season needs. Some stores find that many of their winter numbers are still in demand, not least of which is that group of more striking clasps showing rhinestone set in jet composition. Plain composition numbers of bright coloring are looked to as an important accessory item for spring. Odd sizes and novelty carvings add to their distinctiveness.

Japanese colorings on black, because they are so decorative, are being offered in new designs that are proving popular. One of the new ornaments is decidedly Egyptian in its appearance, being composed of a red scarab-like ornament from which a heavy chain of fringe hangs. The fringe alternates large red beads with old gold filigree tablets that lend an interesting appearance.

Ring ornaments of tinsel braid with bright centers of colored wooden beads combine delicate and graceful curves with radiant colors and in this way fit themselves admirably for use on silk frocks or suits.

Narrow head braiding is another means of using beads as a decoration that has proved highly effective. These come in a wide selection of varying widths, colors and designs.

TAN AND GRAY FOR HOSIERY

Heavy Silks Promise to Have Good Demand, Although Shearer Stockings to Hold Lead.

The sheerer the better seems to be the word on hosiery for spring. Though heavy silks also will find a good demand. While there is some doubt about the color trend, it would seem that the vogue for tan and gray in spring fabrics will be influential in guiding demand for hosiery colors along this line. The lighter shades will be most acceptable in tan. In gray, lighter shades will be best for evening and semi-formal wear, and darker shades for street wear. Cambray, metal bronze and similar colors are for those who want particularly sheer effects. Cordovan, African brown and other dark brown shades will be well represented.—Dry Goods Economist.

TURKS RAN WAR ON SHOESTRING

National Debt Is Smallest of Any Nation Participating in Great Conflict.

STRICT ECONOMY IS OBSERVED

Angora Government Resists Temptation to Print Up Any New Money—Needs but Little Foreign Money or Loans.

Paris.—Turkey is the least bankrupt of any nation that has taken an active part in the World war, according to information reaching here, not excepting England or France. The chief reason is that apparently she has conducted her wars since 1914 with the strictest economy. The present Angora or nationalist government, which has been fighting the Greeks and holding off the allied powers since 1919, has resisted the temptation to print up any new money.

The total prewar and war debt of Turkey, including the charges that may be set against her at Lausanne or in any treaty of peace to pay damages to foreign nationals, is estimated to run barely above $1,000,000,000. This sum is regarded as ridiculously low when it is remembered that, by way of comparison, France owes the United States a war debt of $3,400,000,000, and Germany owes the allies approximately $4,000,000,000.

European Interest Political. From a European point of view, the interest in Turkey is partly political, especially in war times, and largely financial in peace times. American interest also has been directed toward Turkey in the last few years, her tobacco crops, if nothing else, being bought up by American firms.

An analysis of Turkey's finances shows she became bankrupt in 1874, after foolish sultans and their corrupt ministers had contracted unpayable foreign loans. In 1881 Abdul Hamid, in order to satisfy these loans, turned over the salt and other monopolies to an institution known as the public debt, to be directed by foreigners until their debts should be paid.

In one way or another Turkey owed abroad in 1914, 135,000,000 Turkish pounds. This unit had a prewar value of $1.40. Also she had a funded debt of 152,000,000 Turkish pounds. Of the foreign debt, roughly the equivalent of $800,000,000. France held 60 per cent, Germany 21 per cent and Great Britain, Holland and Belgium about 10 per cent.

Turkey's war debt expenses have been described as "the most amazing thing in the history of World war finance." She ran her war on a shoestring. When the army needed anything, it seems to have been either requisitioned from the civil population or else the army simply went without it. And this army often numbered 1,000,000 men. In 1915 there was one interest loan of 15,000,000 Turkish pounds (about $70,000,000 at the exchange of that time). Then there was a paper money issue of 134,581,400 Turkish pounds, secured by German government treasury bonds, payable 15 years after the war. Certain supplies in limited quantities were bought in Germany.

These figures have a distinct bearing on the future for those Americans or others who wish to live or do business in Turkey.

Has Splendid Future. According to one American financial expert who has traveled all through Turkey, as rarely do the majority of foreign visitors, if Turkey secures a stable political government and if she frees herself from foreign control, there is no reason why she cannot intensify her agriculture and prosper.

Strange as it may seem to the casual observer of the course of post-war nations, this expert asserted Turkey needs but little foreign money or loans. Here is a problem rather of a sound domestic policy; encouraging the creation of domestic capital through better banks; the opportunity for proper land mortgages, and progressive agriculture.

Many Americans in Europe are watching keenly the trend of politics leading to a peace with Turkey. If new Turkey gets the peace she demands, and if the Angora men of the steady sort, such as Mustafa Kemal Pasha and Gen. Ismet Pasha, keep control, it is believed Americans will do better in Turkey than any other nationality.

Consistently that they were not friendless when dealing with Americans.

NEW STYLE TIN BONNET

Army Authorities Plan New Head Protection for Soldiers.

New Effects in Iron Millinery for Future War Seasons Trend Toward the German Coal-Scuttle Mode.

Washington.—Army "tin hat" designers are working on new effects in iron millinery for future war seasons. The trend is toward the German coal-scuttle mode. Snappy inverted soup-bowl models, highly popular in A. E. F. front-line circles in France during the season of 1917-18, have been ruled out of fashion.

The military bonnet makers have not as yet settled definitely on any particular model. They are doing a lot of scientific experimenting first. But already it is clear that if John Doughboy and his buddies are to get the maximum protection possible in the future their anti-barrage headgear will have to assume the general lines of grandma's sunbonnet. The soup-bowl model was more "chic," admittedly, but it didn't get the back of the neck and the jawbone under cover.

The most favored model now under consideration in the army hatshop is not quite so coal-scuttlelike as was the German fashion, and it weighs a lot less. But it has a sweeping curve of gracefully draped steel plate around the back to protect the neck, and it is planned to carry this forward on each side down almost to the jawbone line. Add to that a straight brim of severe lines, but with a double scallop cut out over the eyes, to permit a "buddy" crawling under fire to see his way from shell hole to shell hole without exposing much of his face and you have a general idea of the forthcoming style.

The new helmet has proved itself already in one way. It will stop a steel-jacketed pistol bullet at 80 feet. Carrying it on the hike, however, would be like packing the family dishpan, and it is proposed to leave the iron hat in the future with the company train until the need for it is urgent.

CIGARETTES TO MATCH GOWN

Colored Fags Introduced by New York Modiste for Women of Fashion.

New York.—The dainty feminine smoker now must select her cigarettes with regard to color with as much care as she does her evening gown, if she would be fashionable.

Lavender, blue, red, mauve, black—all shades—to match gowns and moods and surroundings are the latest styles, and with the new fad comes a new source of revenue for the dressmaker—that of tobacco.

The idea originated in the mind of a Madison avenue dressmaker, who provided her models with varicolored cigarettes to match the gowns they were wearing. It is said to be attaining a vogue rapidly.

OFFICIALS TRAMP 22 MILES

New Brunswick Man Brave Arctic Weather to Attend Meeting of County Council.

Gagetown, N. B.—Councilors W. A. Kierstead and Otty O. Black of Brunswick have been given places on the Queen's county council roll of honor for faithfulness to their public duties. To attend the semi-annual session of the council they tramped 22 miles on snowshoes in arctic weather to Pelly, coding, where they took a train to this town.

Before this performance Warden A. F. Barton of Waterborough held the record. He never missed a meeting for 40 years and once attended on crutches with a dislocated hip.

Robert Griffin, engineer on a Grand Trunk train, gave his life to save O. W. Barringer, a truck driver who crossed the track in front of Griffin's train, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury at Edwardsburg last week. Griffin stopped his train so quickly that he locomotive buckled, pinning him under it.

New Sugar Cane. The variety of sugar cane known as S. C. 124, produced by the federal agricultural experiment station in the Virgin Islands, is considered very promising. Recent reports to the United States Department of Agriculture from a plantation in Porto Rico to which cuttings were sent for testing say that the original two and one-half acres planted to this variety have been extended to 200 for the present year. Several of the fields are estimated to yield 60 tons of cane per acre, which, with the average sucrose and purity of the juice, should give nearly 11 tons of 96 per cent sugar per acre. The original field is now giving a fourth ratoon crop that averages 20 tons of cane per acre. A profit able fourth ratoon crop has never before been produced on the plantation with any other variety.

Has Established New Record. At the Great Eastern Railway company's farm at Bently, Suffolk, England, an Indian runner duck taking part in an egg-laying test has completed a new British record by laying 350 eggs in 365 days. The world's record is still held by a bird which laid 393 eggs in 365 days in a New Zealand test.

Burglars Scientifically Instructed. With the arrest of a Pittsburgh man the police believe that they have found a correspondence school for safe blowers. In the prisoner's home were seized several complete sets of burglar's tools and instruction books showing how to open 27 varieties of safes. The names of the books and the publishers are held secret by the authorities.

The same week, he was elected member of the township board of review. In March, he was elected president of Freecoll village. Further, he was elected a member of the Freecoll school board.

HORSE'S KICK WORTH $14,800

Ex-Ambassador's Wife Vouches for Animal's Behavior but Fails to Move Jury.

Concord, N. H.—Although Mrs. Lutz Anderson of Washington and Boston, wife of the former ambassador to Belgium, had testified that she knew the horse Bawdsey Amber all his life, and that she was sure he never kicked, a jury in the Federal court awarded damages of $14,800 to Andrew J. Craig of Bedford, an exhibitor at a horse show at which Bawdsey Amber was entered, for injuries received two years ago, claiming the horse kicked him.

Pair Gave Dance to Mark Parting of Their Ways

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Beardsley request the honor of your presence at the College Inn at eight o'clock on the evening of November 11, 1922, in honor of their separation. Dancing and supper at midnight. R. S. V. P. In her suit for divorce, just filed in Chicago, on grounds of cruelty, Mrs. Beardsley submitted this invitation as a novel idea of her husband. The party was held and a good time had by all, she said, except that at parting Mr. Beardsley issued another invitation in which he told her to seek a warmer clime than Chicago.

The bill introduced by Representative Richards, providing that county treasurers may be eligible for a third term was defeated in the senate by a vote of 16 yeas and 17 nays, last week.

More than 1,300 students already have registered for the spring term at Michigan Agricultural college, according to figures at the office of the registrar.

AUTO INVENTED FOR LEGLESS MEN

Arthur W. Van Housen, himself a cripple and a member of one of the families in New York has invented an auto-vehicle for legless men and is operating the machine at the Institute for Crippled and Disabled Men, New York City. Mr. Van Housen became crippled while serving in the Meuse-Argonne campaign. His education as a mining engineer saved him in good stead when he turned to invention. The machine is a motor-propelled three-wheeled vehicle, 12 inches wide and 70 inches long, and is built to hold one person. It is operated entirely by hand control.

W AUTO COVER PLACED CHEAPLY

First Found Work Not as Difficult as He Had Imagined When Job Was Finished.

TOP SERVED AS COVERING

Special Tools Are Required, but Care Must Be Exercised to Obtain Materials Exact Pattern of Parts Removed.

Motorist, who had painted his car dark blue and had given it a master with coach varnish, found the old mohair top looked shabby ever by contrast. He decided to recover the top himself and the work was as difficult as he imagined. He measured the amount of material required and bought sufficient closely woven brown duck for the top, as well as blinding tape, same color, some brown canvas for the slushy bolsters, an oval light glass with an aluminum round head upholstery tucks, little oak coach varnish. Refinished With Varnish. He removed the top with a tack and piece, he noted how each was fastened. He then refastened the top bows with varnish, cut the straps from brown duck, made them fast to the bows. The top was covered with cambric, stained in place. The old top as a pattern, he cut the brown duck to the exact and sewed the pieces together with sewing machine with heavy silk. The rear light was set back section and then the new was spread over and tacked to the frame with bindings of heavy cotton with bindings of heavy cotton. The finishing tape was put on.

TOP SERVES AS A PATTERN FOR CUTTING A NEW COVER.

The top then matched in newness the appearance of the newly painted finished car itself. Special Tools Required. About the work is difficult, special tools are required and the car must be taken to the materials the exact pattern of the top removed and in getting the top properly before putting on the covering. Necessary to use a tape line to make sure that pieces of the top are uniform, and a rear curtain is located so that it is in a central position. A usually increases a car's value far more than the cost of the materials involved.—G. A. Popular Science Monthly.

WINDSHIELD CLEAR

Inexpensive Method by Which Every Motorist Can Maintain Vision.

Keep the windshield clear of ice during stormy weather. A quarter of a pound of salt dissolved in a quart of water, rubbed up the four corners, and rubbed the windshield. ## CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Factory Official Dilates on Fault of Many Drivers.

Motorist Should Take Things Easy. Whether in Crowd or Out—Fast Driving for Short Distances Is Expensive.

The greatest fault with American drivers of today is that they drive with their brakes, was the statement of an automobile factory official.

"The motorist should take things easy in driving, whether in a crowd or out of a crowd," he adds. "Fast driving between short city blocks, followed by a sudden jamming on of the brakes, takes little time and is expensive, both in the wear and tear on the tires, the burning out of the brake lining and injury to the brakes and other mechanical parts of the car. Never put more pressure on the brakes than is absolutely necessary to stop at the point you wish."

"Every time you hear a traffic officer's whistle in a large city, you almost immediately hear a crunching of brakes and scraping of dry tires on the pavement."

"Even in long cross-country drives where hilly country is encountered, some drivers constantly jam on their brakes when slowing down instead of allowing their cars to slow down before the brakes are applied."

"In going down hill, take your foot off the accelerator, and the motor, set at a safe pace, will hold the car back. If the grade is very steep, shift to second or first speed as the grade may require before starting."

"Under no circumstances is it advisable to throw the clutch out when actually driving down hill. To do so may mean absolute loss of control. It is not good driving, either, to shut off the spark completely. It is a safe practice to have the motor running in order to have power on tap in case of emergency."

"There is no question at all that brakes are extremely important for the purpose for which they are built, but simply because they are efficient, reliable, and the easy way to drive, is no reason for abuse which results in damage to other parts of the car as well."

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Correct wheel alignment saves tire wear and should not be neglected.

Experts do not recommend the choking in stopping system that many car drivers persist in using.

The automobiles owned in the United States have a power equal to that of more than 300,000,000 horses.

Proper inflation is as important as proper loads. Under-inflation results in flexing of the layers of fabric which cause early deterioration of the tire.

The piston stroke on some of the smaller cars is usually no longer than the diameter of the cylinder bore. A long-stroke motor has a piston stroke considerably longer than the diameter of the bore.

The gum and grease that accumulate on the rear axle may be easily cleaned with a cloth wet with kerosene. A stiff brush will reach the grooves and corners, and the cleaning will be easier if the kerosene is warmed.

Following closely after another car when crossing a railroad track is bad policy. The driver of the car ahead may not take the simple precaution of looking to see whether the coast is clear. He may get over just in time.

GOT SECRETS BY WIRELESS

Ingenious Contrivance by Which Business Rivals Received Information of High Importance.

The members of an important business circle which meets once a week to discuss large transactions were mystified recently to find that the results of their deliberations were known to the outside world even during the process of meetings held behind closed doors.

For some time no solution of the mystery could be found, but one day a curious belt was seen to have slipped down below the vest of one of their number.

He insisted at first that it was a support recommended by his doctor, but eventually admitted that it was a hidden wire transmitting set.

The belt contained the necessary batteries and a set of coils in a leather bag; the set was a long coil of wire which ran into his vest. In the coat pocket was a tapping key which worked a hidden buzzer.

The secret was out by the time the members of the circle were very weakly, but the secret was not picked up by a large and extremely sensitive wire receiver located in an office across the street.

Drink Too Much for Leopard.

The sandowner habit, taking a drink at sunset, has saved a settler's life in Kenya, according to a story from Nairobi, Africa. While sitting on the veranda of his bungalow one evening he was attacked by a leopard which sprang out of the dark. The leopard, as his usual custom, made for the settler's throat, but his jaws closed over the glass of whisky. The strong spirit and the broken glass so astonished the animal that it dropped, sampling, to the ground, and the settler had time to reach for his rifle and dispose of the intruder.

Curious Error in Bible.

It may be of interest to those who delight in "Vagabond" and "Breeches" fables to know that in the English Bible, which is the English Bible, there is a "Lion's" Bible. In this edition the opening verse of the first chapter of the book of Genesis, Chapter 1, runs thus: "And when the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said unto him, 'Stand up thy sons,' etc. The prophets were Messias, Ely and the prophets of London, Edinburgh and New York."

Thousands of autos on route from New York factories to dealers in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania have been held up by local authorities and forced in garages because they lack proper license plates, according to a statement received by Elbert V. Chilton, deputy secretary of state. Authorities in those states are refusing to accept Michigan "in transit" cards because they allege the privilege is being abused and drivers are not observing road rules. Hereafter drivers will have to bring their own license plates with them.

Announcement of Interest to Millions of Families

"I will build a car for the multitude"

Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past six months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

VINES ADD BEAUTY TO SURROUNDINGS

Climbers Make the Home Attractive—Do Not Injure Walls—May Use Trellis.

The impression that vines are injurious to the walls of a house, making them damp or causing woodwork to rot, is erroneous, says the United States Department of Agriculture. On brick and stone buildings some of the clinging vines are most appropriate and attractive in completing the charm of the home surroundings. On a wooden house the vines should not be permitted to become so thick that they prevent proper ventilation and timely painting, but hot sunshine is very destructive to paint, and the shade of vines helps to preserve it.

There are several devices for growing vines so as to permit removing them from the woodwork when it is necessary to paint the house. A trellis can be made with hinges near the ground, or a chicken wire placed over hooks at the highest point, so that it may be taken down, vines and all. Another type of trellis can be made of chicken wire on a pipe frame which will keep vines entirely away from woodwork. Vines are also appropriate on fences, arbors, pergolas, or summer houses.

CHOICE FLOWERS TO PLANT

Splendid Assortment of Posies That Are Easy to Grow Under Ordinary Conditions.

Easiest to cultivate under ordinary garden conditions are the following flowers, says the United States Department of Agriculture. In choosing any of these for a bed or a border, it is well to note the usual growing heights: Sunflower, where a plant over four feet is wanted; Joseph's coat, love-lies-bleeding, heliopsis, and prince's feather, for a three-foot effect; cornflower, strawflower and zinnia, growing about thirty inches high; about twenty-four inches, calliopsis, summer chrysanthemum, coneflower, gallardia, marigold, poppy, and snow-on-the-mountain; about eighteen inches, nigella; about twelve inches, Cape marigold, calendula, California poppy, balsam, candytuft, petunia, Drummond phlox, pink, dwarf nasturtium, portulaca, and sweet alyssum.

LOCATION OF THE GARDEN

The garden should be located in full sun wherever possible and this factor should receive first consideration when the location of the plot is being selected.

Sport writers for the new Michigan Ontario Baseball League have organized the International Baseball Writers' association and have elected the following officers: Honorary president, T. J. Halligan, Flint; president, H. M. Dayton, Flint; vice-president, H. Morrill, Kalamazoo; secretary, W. F. Rhodes, London, Ont.; treasurer, B. J. Stein, London, Ont. ## USE THE TRENCH FOR IRRIGATION Scheme Conserves Water and Labor—Best Way to Reach Roots of Plants.

The proper amount of moisture is about as essential as enough warm sunshine, to produce a good garden crop. Too much moisture is worse than too much sunshine, for in the latter case the soil can be loosened, conserving what moisture the ground holds.

When the season is long and hot, with very little rainfall, the cottage gardener, if thoroughly interested, takes advantage of almost every opportunity to play the home on his growing crops, thinking, of course, that he is doing just the right thing.

Perhaps more young plants are destroyed by shooting a cold spray of water on them than are killed or stunted by drought, or other reason.

One splendid method of watering a garden, when sufficient water is available, and its metered cost is not to be considered, is the trench irrigation plan. Small ditches, three or four inches deep, along the plants, with a steady stream of water slowly running into the ditch, will be highly beneficial, and at the same time conserve the water supply, by not sending it where it is not needed. The roots, especially in the dry weather, search for moisture and continue their downward growth. Long roots are advantageous to many plants, while others do not need them.

The ditch irrigation plan will be found most beneficial and interesting, if used as it is in sections where it is the only way—a series of ditches along each row or a small group of rows, then when the watering is being done, turn the stream through one ditch to the other, until the entire garden is given a good soaking.

During a long drought, once a week will suffice when the ditch watering plan is used. The ditch may be closed each time after irrigating, or it may be left open. By closing the water is practically sealed in and naturally the ground will hold the moisture longer and the top will not crust, necessitating immediate cultivation, such as is necessary following a heavy rain.

TIME TO APPLY LIME

The time to apply lime is in the spring after the ground has been plowed or spaded. The lime can then be thrown broadcast over the surface thickly enough to give a decided white coating on the ground. It is then harrowed or raked into the top three inches of soil. The lime should not be plowed under as its tendency is to work downward, and by applying it on the surface the greatest benefit from it is secured.

NO CHANCE TO WIN WAGER

Boastful Bicyclist Deserved Laugh With Which He Was Greeted After Unsuccessful Effort.

A cyclist was boasting about his abilities as a rider. So strongly did he hold forth that the landlord of the village inn decided to make a wager with him.

"Look here, mister," he said, "I bet you can't ride up and down this street till the church clock has struck six."

The cyclist looked at the clock. It was 5:15.

"Done!" he said, and started. After a long time, he shouted to some villagers, who stood watching in amazement: "Has the church clock struck yet?"

"No," came the answer. "It never does."—London Tit-Bits.

DID THE DOG UNDERSTAND?

Hard Otherwise to Explain the Remarkable Action of Collie Owned by Scottish Farmer.

To illustrate the remarkable faithfulness and intelligence of collie dogs, a reader relates the following story: "A Scottish farmer, sitting over the fire one night with his mother, told her that he intended making a journey to a certain place the following day. He did not think he would take his dog. To this his mother agreed, the dog being present at the time.

"Next morning the collie was nowhere to be seen when his master set out. The young man left his house and forded a river, after which the whereabouts of the dog was no longer a mystery. On the top of a hill beyond the river sat the collie, wet through, and calmly awaiting the arrival of his master."

Had he listened to the conversation overnight and, being determined not to be left behind, swam the river and so made sure of going the journey?

A Tame Sea Gull. A Vancouver pilot had a strange experience the other day.

He heard a bird screaming wildly in a lane behind his house, and, when he went to see what was the matter, to his surprise an enormous gray gull, with screaming, flew up and perched itself on his shoulder.

As soon as he had recovered from his shock the pilot took the gull into his house, and regaled it with hard biscuits, milk, pork and bacon. It seemed thoroughly to enjoy its feed, and when it had finished its repast it gave a little scream, as if to say "Thank you," and soared away to sea.

Saved by Presence of Mind.

Quick thinking on the part of an automobile driver probably saved a trio of lives at Woodstock, Ont. With two companions he was about to drive across the main line of the C. P. R. tracks when he saw a passenger train bearing down on him, he turned the car and raced down the track in front of the train, giving the engineer time to slacken the speed before hitting the auto and sending it a hundred feet or so. The back of the car was badly smashed in but the three occupants escaped with minor injuries.

Bailey inducted Molly and her companion into the quarters she had helped prepare for them. Molly gave little cries of delight at the improvements she saw downstairs. Miranda came down first and joined the partners.

"Molly is certainly sweet," she said. "She's grown into a woman and she's grown away from the old Molly. Can't say as how she's affected none of her speech and manners is sure fine. That girl's natchally got a grand disposition."

"The Nicholson person—her first name is Charles—is well-meaning enough. She ain't shiftless, but she ain't what you'd call practical. I reckon she does fine in teaching Molly some things, but she'd be plumb washed out west. I'll say she never washed out anything bigger than a hen's egg. An' she couldn't bring a stick of wood. But she's easy to get along with, I suppose."

"That Donald is a good-looking lad," went on Miranda. "It must take him an awful waste of time to fix his clothes every time he puts 'em on. I don't know how smart he is inside, but he's got some of them moxie pictures he's beat on appearance. I'm wonderin' what Molly thinks about him. As for his father, he's smart enough inside an' out. But he talks too much like a politician to suit me. I'm mighty glad we got cash for our claims. Keith's too slick an' smooth an' safflin' to suit me."

It was a highly disagreeable Miranda Bailey, accustomed as they were to hear her state opinions freely. The trio at Three-Bar had under-standably come to respect her decisions and also her intentions, and none of them had felt especially cordial toward Keith as a man, though they considered him good in his profession. "The water, Keith," said Sandy, "wrote a poem about East an' West sayin' that never the two 'ud meet. If Keith tries to flatter Molly out of anything that's comin' to her by rights, why, I reckon that's one time the West an' East is gittin' to meet—an' mebbe in our pockets. Here's Molly."

"I'm goin' home," said Miranda, as the girl entered the room. "I've got you started an' I'll run over once in a while to see how Pedro is makin' out."

She said good-by to Molly, who had swiftly changed out of her riding clothes into a gown that looked simple enough to Sandy, though he sensed there were touches about it that differentiated it from anything turned out locally. With the dress she looked more womanly, older, than in the boyish breeches. Miss Nicholson had made some changes also, but she had a chameleon-like faculty of blending with the background that preserved her alike from being criticized or conspicuous. As she shook hands with Miranda the two presented marked contrasts. Miranda was a twentieth-century western, of equal rights and equal enterprise; Miss Nicholson mid-Victorian, with no more use for a vote than for one of Sandy's guns. Yet both were.

"I'm going to Daddy's grave," said Molly, when Miranda had flattered off. "I wish the three of you would come there to me in about ten minutes. Miss Nicholson, everybody's at home here. Please do anything you want to, nothing you don't want to."

At the end of the ten minutes the three men walked together toward the graveyard, and they saw Molly kneeling by the little cutting. They advanced silently over the turf and stood in a group about her with their hats off and their heads bowed. Grit made no move and Molly did not look up for two or three minutes. Then she greeted them with a smile. There were no tears in her face though her eyes were moist.

"I wanted to thank you all," she said, "and to tell you how glad I am to be back. I have met lots of people, of all sorts and kinds, but not one of them who could hold a candle to any of you three kids, true-hearted friends. I wanted to do it here where Daddy is in the place you gave him and made for him under the trees, close to the running water. I was only a girl—a kiddie—when I went away. I think I am a great deal older now, perhaps, than other girls of my age. And I realize all you have done for me. The only thing is, I don't know how to begin to thank you."

She went to Morrison and took hold of both his hands, her head raised, lips curved to kiss him. Morrison stooped and turned his weathered cheek, but Molly kissed him full on the lips. So with Sam, despite the enormous mustache. Then she came to Sandy, taller than the others, his face grave, under control, the eagerness smothered in his eyes, desire checked by reverence for the pure affection of the offered salute. He fancied that her lips trembled for a moment as they rested softly warm upon his own. But the tremor might have been his own. He knew his heart was pounding against the slight touch of her slenderness that was manifest with womanhood. His arms ached with the restraint he set upon them, in the presence of Morgan and Sam.

Michigan Beats Georgia 6 to 5 in Extra Innings.

Athens, Ga.—Michigan defeated the U. of Georgia in the only game played of the series, Saturday, 6 to 5. Although it took eleven innings to decide the game Leverage pitched an excellent game and had it not been for a couple of errors Levey would have won in the regulation period. Lefty Gibson was sent to the mound for the last two innings and Georgia failed to get a hit or a man to first. Knock and Blott led the Michigan attack, each securing three hits.

Looks for Pennant.

Detroit, April 16.—Despite the poor showing of his men during the training season, Manager Ty Cobb, of the Detroit Tigers, thinks the fight for the American League pennant this year will be between Detroit and New York with the Chicago White Sox as a third dangerous contender. Absence from the St. Louis line-up of George Sisler, the Tiger leader before, will greatly decrease the chances of the Browns, thus leaving the admittedly difficult job of checking the Yankees to Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland.

Another stranger in the line-up will be Pratt at second. Pratt was obtained with Rip Collins from Boston in a trade in which Howard Ehmke went to the Red Sox.

The pitching staff, always a problem with Cobb, is a comparatively unknown factor, but the Georgia peach is pinning his hopes upon the veteran Daus and Pillette, Holloway, Collins and Francis.

COBB TO USE VETERANS IN OPENING GAME.

Will Place Cutshaw At Second Instead of Herrill Pratt.

Detroit, April 16.—Instead of three changes in his regular lineup as he had anticipated, Manager Cobb will send his Detroit American base ball club into action Wednesday afternoon, with but one regular out of the battle front. Heine Manush, Pothergill and Francis were expected to take the places of Heilmann, Veatch and Jones, but as game time nears, Cobb has made a decided change in the Tiger lineup.

Derrill Pratt who was bought from Boston to replace George Cutshaw at second base, will not start. Cobb, ordering the veteran National leaguer, Cutshaw, to take his accustomed position at the keystone sack. It is doubtful now whether Pratt will assume a regular role until after the first month of the campaign has fled. Cobb gave as his reason for this, "Pratt needs a month more of warm weather before he will be ready to give me his best. With St. Louis worrying over the first base proposition, Cobb expects to start in wiping up the American League contenders from the start. The Browns do not appear to be as strong as last season with Sisler out and not until the former Wolverine player gets back into the mound City lineup will the club produce its best efforts.

Busybodies' Time Wasted.

A Nova Scotia man left his home to go to the United States without telling his neighbors. Name Rumpo soon had it that he had been the victim of a robbery and had been murdered. A detective and a large posse of men searched in vain for the missing man until his friends received a telegram from him. He had read of his disappearance and the search for him in the newspapers.

Seems a Light Punishment.

Because he failed to return to the scene of an automobile accident a Buffalo man was fined $25 and assessed $20 by way of compensation to his victim. The motorist ran over a boy but only glanced back to see the boy get up. He then proceeded to the market to sell his eggs.

Dowager Queen Feels Thirteen.

The Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy belongs to the list of famous persons who are superstitious. She is so strong a believer in the ill-luck of being one of thirteen at table that she never has included herself in a party of that number.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, IN CHANCERY.

ELAINE R. HOUSEL, Plaintiff, vs. JAMES R. HOUSEL, Defendant.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for Washtenaw County, in Chancery, on the 24th day of March, A. D. 1923, at Ann Arbor in said county.

It is satisfactorily appearing to this Court by affidavit on file that the defendant, James R. House, is not a resident of the State of Michigan, but resides at Cresley in the State of Colorado, on motion of Cavanaugh & Burke, attorneys for the plaintiff, it is ORDERED that the said defendant, James R. House, cause his appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in case of his appearance that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served upon the plaintiff's attorney, within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill, and notice of this order, and that in default thereof that said bill be taken as confessed by said non-resident defendant.

And it is further ORDERED that within twenty days after the date hereof, the said plaintiff cause a notice of this order to be published in the Chelsea Tribune, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county of Washtenaw, and that such publication be continued once in each week for six successive weeks, or that she cause a copy of this order to be served personally on said non-resident defendant, at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for his appearance.

And it is further ORDERED that the said plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be mailed to said defendant at his last known postoffice address, by registered mail, and a return receipt demanded at least forty days before the time herein prescribed for the appearance of the defendant.

Preventative Medicine.
The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears and you will find it a most effective preventative.

in the form of large charts which players stand upon to learn correct form—and low scores.

Coincidence at Wedding.
A curious coincidence occurred at a wedding at Rochester, N. Y. The bride and bridegroom, bridesmaid and best man, all celebrated their twenty-first birthday on the day of the wedding.

Leaning too far forward in his high chair, Andrew, three year old, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ludahl of Stambaugh, fell into a pail of boiling water left near the table by his mother. He suffered burns about his side and leg which resulted fatally last week.

The Metropolitan Glee Club

The Metropolitan Glee Club is among the successful, popular qutets of today.
The Metropolitans get their programs "over" because in build-them the music translations of the heart beats of the people are incorporated in each. Their entertainment has been called "a phony in music and laughter."
Few know quartet ensemble so well, and few are able to forth the radiant beauty of four-part-male classics with such ity of expression. At the same vivid audibility attention is paid "comic relief," as it is expressed, that none composing the audie may tire.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Gates this organization has steadily grown in popular favor until today they hold a first place among musical and entertainment companies.

The selections given on the melancholic Swiss Bells which supplement the four-part male numbers are a very novel and popular feature which seldom fails to please the most critical of audiences.

The trombone is the "King" of brass instruments and in addition to his other abilities Mr. F. M.
Gates is a trombone soloist of exceptional merit.
