STER KEATON
-IN-
E PLAYHOUSE"

Indiana had to raise a crop of poets and writers to overcome the stamp of the hickory shirt and plug of tobacco.
It is the reverse side of the situation which is illustrated by the fact that "Sunny Caroline" and other so-called songs of Dixie are sung everywhere along the other side of the Mason-Dixon line, and the banks of the Washington, with the moonbeams and symphonies have never been noted by the boosers themselves.

It is a matter of idealizing certain places, without reason and stamping their places, also without reason, as being the times and unsightly. The fact is that we all have a belief that we all hail from the king of Main street and depicted by Sinclair Lewis, that we go in strong for golden mail, order houses and framed magazine covers.

In reality the traveler west will find that on the many Main streets and their environs, there is the same craze for period furniture; exclusive shops with French names and prices; approved works of art, college and university graduates, offices with stock market tickers, radios, Italian restaurants, artists' colonies, cabarets and reserved landmarks—just as many in the east and usually supported ourselves, rather than by tourists.

Right now American tourists are coming from Portland to Portland and from Alaska to Panama in search of adventure and diversion. A number of course are going abroad to scatter their shekels in the winning hands of hardened inn-keepers and sellers of so-called curios. It is one long "Palm" and so it is? Coming and going.
We leave our own country or community in search of beauty, and when it is only to more strongly return upon us the beauties that surround us. In other places we see different things, but those at home are not as wonderful and beautiful.

We are particularly blessed with living in a community that is outstanding for its scenic beauty and its marvelous lakes. What would we gain by going east, to sign our names on a register as from some other place. Let the east consider us they will, but make them come to us and out what we are.

Going to summer resorts, especially in the east or the south or anywhere else right here at home, the tourists from the "melting pot" is confronted with the problem of trying to live down his address. The mere address of Boston or New York or Washington seems to carry a prestige that requires nothing else, for an entrepreneur among the elite.

The mid-western brethren are gazed upon as hayseeds, back-numbers, unouth products of a territory without background. You can't get away from it, it exists in spite of everything, and isn't it a joke?

Habit or tradition, is a strong influence. We have been taught that those from the south are chivalrous but we have seen kind, gentlemanly and refined young men from Wisconsin and Maine and absolutely ungainly bumpkins without finess or manners from Richmond, Va.

KNOCKED FROM LADDER WHILE PAINTING, 1 HURT

D. HEWES SUFFERS TWO FRAC-TURED RIBS FROM FALL

While working Monday afternoon, Denton Hewes, 75, was knocked from a ladder and fell 22 feet. Hewes and E. J. Feldkamp, 63, were painting the McLaren barn, when the accident happened. Hewes is suffering from two fractured ribs and possibly internal injuries.

The two men were working on the south side of the building and had their ladders near the railroad tracks.
They were painting the new barn that D. C. McLaren has erected where the old barn was destroyed by fire last fall.

A freight train was switching cars onto the siding along the building at the time. The train crew had warned the men three times that they were switching onto that track and that their ladders were in danger. According to the report as given by the railroad the ladders were resting on the building and the bottom of the ladder was against a box car. When the switching crew hit the car the ladders were knocked over. The two men were thrown; Feldkamp was knocked to the ground and was badly shaken but suffered no serious injuries. Hewes jumped when the car hit the ladder and landed on the box car, but lost his balance and fell to the ground.

Local physicians were called at once and he was given immediate attention.

AUCTION SALE PREVENTED.

There was a start toward another auction sale of the machinery in building No. 7 of the Lewis Spring & Axle plant this morning. The sale was stopped though before getting underway, when the men were threatened with a warrant from the sheriff's office for entering the building. Sheriff Robinson and undersheriff Pray were here from Ann Arbor.

OHIO MAN KILLED IN POWER HOUSE.

Edward J. Pelton, 45 years of age, an employee of the Ohio Oil company, was killed July 2nd in a small power house located in the oil fields. The cause of the accident, the hour of death are not known.

Mr. Pelton, brother of Mrs. W. S.
Baird of this place is believed to have been sitting the big machinery in the power house when his clothing became fast in a set screw which projected from the revolving shaft.

A fellow worker discovered the body lying in the engine pit. It was quite evident that the accident had happened some time before it was discovered.

Mr. Pelton lived in Vanluren, Ohio, with his wife and 12 year old son.
The matter was investigated by a coroner and he pronounced the death due to accident.

BIG RAIN STORM FLOODS JACKSON

Chelsea Does Not Suffer Any From Storm.

An electric storm that threatened to do considerable damage hit Jackson Saturday noon, and resulted in almost a cyclone. It was reported that 3.34 inches of water fell in Jackson.
Chelsea had a small shower, but no damage was done, nor was the rain at all severe. But in the neighboring city trees were felled and cellars flooded by the storm.

The streets of Jackson were completely flooded and the darkness was so great that motorists drove with their lights burning full.

Power was off for a short time in Chelsea, while in Jackson the power was off for almost an hour. During that time people were caught between floors in elevators and other strange places and had a "pleasant" wait.

BAND CONCERT SATURDAY.

Smith's Concert Band of Chelsea will give a band concert Saturday evening on the corner of Main and Middle streets. The program as planned will feature Sousa's March's and should be an enjoyable one, as those of the past have been.

It might be well to suggest that town people leave their cars at home that evening or at least leave place for those from away to park. Another factor that will bear attention is the way cars are parked. There is no need of one car taking up the space where three cars could be parked.

Autoists should bear in mind that they are not alone and that others wish to enjoy the music. Park your cars so that they will occupy the least amount of space and do not leave large places between cars.

ANOTHER LIGHT POST DOWN

Another boulevard street light went over Sunday morning when it was hit by a gasoline truck. The light post was in front of the Chelsea Tire and Battery shop, and the gasoline truck in being driven up to fill the supply tank, hit the post and razed it to the ground. Possibly the hitching rails are still needed in town, but if so, they had better be extended. One hates to think of doing that though.
Another possibility might be to raise the curb so that it would be harder to run over it, but the best would be to have safer driving.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kilmer, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mayer and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Heselshwerdt and daughter, and Reuben Heselshwerdt, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heselshwerdt of Sharon.

Miss Margaret Raska of St. Louis, Mich., who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Kline returned to her home Sunday accompanied by Mrs. Kline who will spend several days there visiting relatives.

James W. Speer is taking a week or 10 day vacation. W. C. Smith is taking Speer's place and R. Anderson of Ann Arbor is working Smith's time.

Mrs. Charles Steinbach, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Steinbach and son Robert of Flint spent Wednesday in Dexter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinbach.

TRIBUNE SMILES

For the home town man that wants to be sure of hearing the band concert, he might have a special box seat built upon the flag pole and then he could leave his car home.

rietor of the Bedell house at Tecumdisease. He has been ill since January. He is survived by his parents and two brothers all of Tecumseh.

JACOB WELHOFF SERIOUSLY HURT NEAR FRANCISCO.

Jacob Welhoff, living two miles west of town, was seriously injured Thursday while unloading hay. The accident happened at about 10:30 as he was driving a team on an unloading device. The singletree broke and flew back, striking the unfortunate man in the forehead as he was driving down the bridge from the barn. Mrs. Wel-hoff, who was helping him, ran to his assistance but could do little and she telephoned for a doctor and help. Mr.
Welhoff was taken to W. A. Foote Memorial hospital, Jackson, where attendants held out little hope for his recovery.

3 CARS COLLIDE, SATURDAY

Three autos tried to pass at the same time and place on the paved road just east of town Saturday, but found it impossible. The cars were all damaged. One woman was hurt, she suffered several body bruises, and cuts on the face and arms. None of the other occupants were hurt. The accident happened in front of the home of Harry Prudden. A local physician attended the injured woman.

CAR GOES IN DITCH AT BAD TURN ON M-92

Occupants have lucky escape, no injuries.

A second accident happened at the turn just north of town on M-92, Sunday eve, when a car ran into the ditch.
About 5 o'clock a Chevrolet coupe made the turn at the bridge which crosses the creek and then ran off the road and into the ditch. In doing this the car struck a telephone pole and snapped it off at the ground.

The car was not traveling fast, and stopped when it hit the pole. The pole was held up by the wires and rested on the top of the auto.

No one was hurt. The car had a smashed radiator and bumper.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD LAST EVENING

L. P. VOGEL, KENT WALWORTH,
Dr. G. W. PALMER ELECTED

Vote to Raise $18,000 by Direct Tax for Next Year. No Increase.

The annual meeting of the Chelsea school board and the election of officers was held last evening in the Sylvan town hall. About 90 persons were present. The meeting was called to order by Dr. H. W. Schmidt, president of the board and the secretary's report was read.

Miss Elizabeth Depew read various communications concerning the sinking of the high school building and told of the condition of things. According to the figures of the architects the north end of the building has settled 2 5/8 inches.

Then the suggested appropriations were read by the secretary. The amount suggested to be raised by the board was $20,000. After some discussion it was voted to raise $18,000.
The suggested increase was made in lieu of the fact that there was a possibility of having to add another teacher to the faculty, so as to remain on the accredited list at the University, but as no definite word to this effect had been received, the amount was not increased.

Following the acceptance of the secretary's report as corrected came the election of three trustees. Tellers were appointed by the president, and were Dr. J. T. Wood and S. P. Foster.

The first ballot was for a trustee for three years, to fill the vacancy of Miss Depew. L. P. Vogel was elected.
The second ballot was for a trustee for two years to fill the vacancy of Emanuel Feldkamp. Three ballots were necessary to decide from among 6 candidates. Kent Walworth received this election. The third place to be filled was that held by Ford Axtell.
Two ballots were necessary. Dr. G.
W. Palmer receiving the election.

No other business appeared before the meeting and it was adjourned.

KENTUCKY DERBY A THRILLING PICTURE

Finish of Movie Made at Track in Louisville Last Spring When Morvich Was the Victor.

"The Kentucky Derby," which will be shown at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, July 11 and 12, is adapted from Charles T. Laze's oldtime stage success, "The Suburban." This is a thriller of the race track and all the usual accessories we have been taught to expect with it.

All Old-Time Features.

There is the crooked jockey who thwarts the race, the horse that is tampered with, the poor but proud owner who will lose his home and everything if his horse does not win, the deep-dyed villain who is going to make a fortune and a get-away when the horse is tricked into losing the race, and the disinherited son, falsely accused of taking his father's money and returning just in time to discover the foul plot of the villain and win the race for father.

If you crave excitement you will get it in "The Kentucky Derby." If you like suspense, and thrills, and pathos, it is all there—and enough of each to satisfy you.

But our mothers and fathers who trembled with excitement over "The Suburban" weren't fed on half the sensationalism that we are given in "The Kentucky Derby," for they didn't have the big race. And it is something in the picture—just the most realistic scenes you ever saw, for they are real.

Filmed at Race Track

They were taken at the Churchill Downs race track in Louisville when Morvich won the Derby. Perhaps some of you who did not win with Morvich may hate to be reminded of the fact.

But every true sportsman is going to thrill again and again as he sees the horses dashing around the track, and if you don't look out you will find yourself standing up in your seat at the thundering urging the horses on.

Reginald Denny comes into his own in this picture and for the first time is starred in a feature. And from his performance we are glad to welcome him into the land of the stars and hope he will stay with us.

GAS OVEN EXPLODES.

Mrs. Frank Leach had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday forenoon. Mrs. Leach was preparing dinner and had lighted her gas oven. A few minutes later she opened the oven which exploded burning her hands and face quite badly. No serious results are anticipated.

THE LOVE SALESMAN.

Nature has taught every man to be a salesman when it comes to making love, comments George Cromwell Blower, New York teacher of applied psychology.

"Nature teaches the boy who would sell himself to his sweetheart as her husband, that everything about him talks and that he must make it talk for and not against him.

"For that reason, he brushes his hair, washes his ears, shines his shoes, whisks his clothes and puts on his best manners and most pleasing smile."

Courtship is the original form of salesmanship.

In primitive life, the young man brings to his intended bride the choicest birds, fish and other game—to convince her that he will be a "good provider." And he brings her the rare colored stones for jewelry, or the rare plumage, to convince her that he can supply luxuries. He is selling himself to her.

In civilized life, you find the young man performing the same way—displaying, to his sweetheart, his bank book and business prospects and the box of candy or flowers.

The more you study simple psychology the more it will occur to you that all is a simple matter of salesmanship.

We cultivate attractive manners and common sense demeanor, and patiently build up a reputation for honesty and reliability. All salesmanship.

Instinctively we realize that we are in this material life on a short trip, with certain qualifications of advantage to others and certain handicaps that hold us back. We concentrate to overcome the handicaps and develop the qualifications. That's salesmanship—the super applied science.

Two thoughts will occur to you as you ponder this discussion of salesmanship as a vital part of every human life:

1. It would be an excellent idea for every boy and girl to receive some time or other in their education, a practical course in the fundamentals of the psychology of salesmanship. We can have much productive ability, but without the ability to sell (market) it we are destined to be candlelights under a bushel.

2. Salesmanship applies to nations as it applies to individuals. Amiable foreign relations are a matter of salesmanship, and it might be a good idea to let the sales engineers try their hand at so-called diplomacy—usually the science of selling gold bricks and then trying to keep the buyers satisfied.

The first lesson in genuine human salesmanship is Ralph Waldo Emerson's essay on "Compensation." Bookstores have it in cheap copies. The libraries have it free. It's probably the sanest thing written in at least five centuries.

THE WONDER

The other day we read in a Boston paper an article about an interesting father who had been discovered in the Hub. It was said that he had never earned more than $12 a week but that on his small wage he and his wife had raised and educated nine children. Father it was said could now rest on his oars for all nine of his children are working and their combined incomes were $360 a week. This didn't put them in the millionaire class by a long shot the Boston writer admitted but he felt that it showed that if there ever was a father who had made a success it was the parent he described. A plugger who had denied himself to give his children a chance he was seen as the type of man in whom the hope of the United States lies.

We couldn't help thinking it was the mother of the nine to whom the encomiums were owing.

If she wasn't a manager remarkable and courageous and self sacrificing to the nth degree there would have been no rearing of that family. How she must have patched and washed and scrubbed and cooked and planned to make both ends meet. A wonder that's what we call her. So rare as to be hard to believe.

REACHING FOLKS.

Fun is being poked at us by the British joke writers, who have heard of our wide sale of books on manners. A wave of etiquette is sweeping America, that's true. It's 50 per cent the result of clever advertising. Possibly 75.

Our leaders have a keener understanding of applied psychology than the leaders of any other country. The advertising gentlemen with tortoise rim spectacles and brown Boston bags have more to do with running American people than the orators in Washington.

When it comes to real brain work, psychology takes second place only to natural philosophy.

THE PERSON WITH SAND.

A woman in a dentist's chair will stand twice as much punishment as a man, says Dr. Catherine V. O'Meara, practicing dentist, formerly of the staff of Forsyth Dental Infirmary.

"The average man begins to whine when he gets into the dentist's chair. Frequently he tells you his nerves are a bit unstrung . . . and invariably he hollers before he is hurt."

A woman's courage is the real thing. A man's courage is usually daredevilism seeking applause for vanity—or plain foolishness.

H. Hammer has charge of Abundsen's north pole relief party, when S. Shovel would do better.

Big Cincinnati oil company burned. All the neighbors got out 10 scores to the gallon.

Italy has her volcano, but we have our William Jennings

WHISPERS

Perhaps the liquor runners were relieved that the officers punctured their tires and not their bottles.

The rum runners transport the stuff. They do not drink it or else they couldn't make a bee line across the country.

Being human is a hard life, but suppose we were microbes. Takes a billion microbes to be a crowd.

Horse power is no good without horse sense.

A man never loses his nerve until he needs it.

TRAFFIC REGULATION BILL PASSED BY STATE LEGISLATURE

ways other than State trunk lines, at the same time, the vehicles approaching on the driver's right shall have the right of way: provided, That cities may designate "through traffic streets" on which traffic shall have the right of way at all intersections except those of State trunk line highways.

(d) Any vehicle proceeding on any street in a city or incorporated village desiring to turn into another street to the left, shall turn at the center of the intersection of the two streets as practicable.

(e) The Public Utilities Commission and the State Highway Commissioner acting jointly, are hereby given authority to designate any railroad crossing or crossing in this State as a dangerous crossing and when any crossing is so designated as a dangerous crossing suitable warning signs shall be provided and erected by the State Highway Department at a prominent place or places on the highway on each side of railroad right of way within a reasonable distance of such crossing.

(f) It shall be unlawful to park a vehicle on the beaten track or paved surface of any highway outside the limits of any village or city.

(g) The provisions of paragraphs a, b, and c, of this section shall not apply at intersections of highways where traffic is controlled by traffic officers.

Sec. 6.—Penalties, etc. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, with costs of prosecution to be added in either case; and all police justices of any city, and all justices of the peace of any county where such violations occur, shall have jurisdiction over any offenses against the provisions of this act.

It is hard to find meat dishes that suit or even sound good this warm weather. Try this—

Creamed Sweetbreads. Parboil a sweetbread, after it has soaked in cold water one hour, cut in one-half inch pieces. Reheat in one cup white sauce. Creamed sweetbreads may be served on toast or used as filling for patty cases or Swedish Thimbles.

Good Form.—Picnics or automobile parties should be chaperoned. No girl should go on an all-day excursion with a man and allow him to pay her expenses nor on long automobile rides.

When You Wish a dark rich meat color for soup, use caramel which is sugar burned in a frying pan, until a golden brown, and then dissolve in a little water.

Keeping Lettuce. After washing it thoroughly place in a clean cloth bag and hang up in refrigerator. Use all outside leaves by shredding them with a sharp knife and make them into a nest for the salad.

To Preserve Ice.—Wrap it well with newspaper keeping out the air.

Save all Grease, not suitable for cooking and use with lye to make kitchen soap.

A pinch of soda added to any boiling syrup will keep it from crystallizing. A teaspoon of vinegar added to home-made syrup will keep it from candyfying after it stands.

The thinking housewife will prepare for the emergency that I spoke of, by having a well stocked emergency shelf. This may be a shelf any place in the house, where a few extra supplies can be kept that may be converted into attractive dishes. A list suitable for such a shelf includes a can of tomato soup, a bottle of beef extract, a bottle of clam bouillon, a can of asparagus, one can of corn, spinach, peas, as well as tuna fish, chicken, sardines, a bottle of dressing, a jar of marshmallow cream and a bottle of olives. With material of this kind at hand the simplest meal can be dressed up for the most fastidious guest.

A Woman's Success

Few housewives fail to understand that their personal success must of necessity be reflected through the achievements of their husbands.

Ease, comfort, happiness (and even luxuries), which we all aspire to—do not come without striving and in consistent effort.

In our broadest American term—it must be fifty-fifty in effort of husband and wife if the home is to attain material success.

Mrs. Woman—do you want peaceful relax and comfort which money makes possible? Thousands of women have realized such success through applied methods. It can be yours.

With your husband, adjust your home expenses into a budget to a figure below daily, weekly, monthly and yearly income—banking the difference in an hourly-interest-drawing account at this bank.

Before you realize it—you and your husband will have acquired a reserve fund which will make possible many profitable investments—and ultimately—SUCCESS.

CAPTAIN SAZARAC

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Under the name of "Captain Sazarac," and disguised, Jean Lafitte, a freebooter of Barataria, returns to the city of New Orleans. He is recognized by two of his old minions, Alcibiades Dumaine and the late Madame Leveau. Sazarac, on his last voyage, carried up a woman, presumably a slave, who, Madame Sazarac, to accept the name, was the girl he "won" at the game of cards. He was now the second master of the "Serpentine."

CHAPTER II.—A project of the youth, Alcibiades Dumaine, to demand a ransom for the girl he had "won" at the game of cards, is made ready. From the Almonaster, he learns that the girl he "won" at the game of cards, is the daughter of the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER III.—Stung by Carr's malice, Sazarac goes to the former's house to demand a ransom for the girl he had "won" at the game of cards. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER IV.—His old associates of Barataria urge Lafitte to take up the game of cards, and to take up the game of cards, and to take up the game of cards.

CHAPTER V.—Lafitte is a witness of the trial of Madame Leveau, but in vain attempts to save her life.

CHAPTER VI.—De Almonaster enters "Barataria," now admittedly Jean Lafitte, and to demand a ransom for the girl he had "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER VII.—Lafitte learns that Madame Leveau has been placed on the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER VIII.—The scene is set in the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER IX.—Lafitte, in his proper capacity, assumes command of the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER X.—Lafitte, to the astonishment of his old companions, declares his purpose of the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER XI.—Against Lafitte's orders, as the "Serpentine" overhauled, a gun is fired from the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER XII.—Lafitte, in his proper capacity, assumes command of the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

CHAPTER XIII.—Lafitte, in his proper capacity, assumes command of the "Serpentine," which is on its way to New Orleans. He is recognized by the late Madame Leveau, who was the girl he "won" at the game of cards.

"Monsieur de la Cannon Shot Wishes a Place Set for Him, Though He Cannot Come to Tell the Lady That He Loves Her."

"You Will Sail at Once for New Orleans, Messieurs?" She Repeated.

apart with that faint irony in his smile.

"You will sail at once for New Orleans, Messieurs?" she repeated.

"Sazarac—at least," the master bowed, "will find welcome."

And even as De Almonaster stared at this evident madness, there came a step on the emperor's red-plush staircase. The admiral of Cartagena, second in command upon the "Serpentine," came to the tapestried portico.

"Sir—" he broke in shortly, with a sure glance at Madame Leveau, as if this affair of the English woman was taking far too much of the hour.

"The butler is howling again. They swear to drag Jarvis from the brig and crown him an emperor of the last buccanniers—"

"Silence—you!" the captain said sternly. "What is this, sir?"

"The wind is picking—" said De Almonaster, turning from the port where now the royal curtain was fluttering. "Sir, a sailing wind!"

"That is it," grumbled Beluche. "The devil has smelled it. They have been waiting for it. They say they have stolen the lady for you, and kept their hands off a helpless prize out of tribute to—Sazarac. Now—"

"Monsieur Sazarac is returning to New Orleans!"

"Sir!" shouted Beluche, and then stopped. The eyes of Sazarac had turned upward to the open skylight above the emperor's cabin. He had thought a gleam of steel, or another eyeball had reflected the glitter of the crystal lamp. And then they all heard above, on the deck, the sound of bare feet retreating hastily, fainter and fainter.

"There was a spy from the 'fo'castle,' muttered Beluche. 'They wished to know—' Perdition! You cannot mean New Orleans!"

"You will go forward, sir," returned the master quietly. "The fellow who laid above this cabin listening—you will find him, and lay him in double irons."

"Aye, sir!" But the old seaman turned pathetically at the foot of the stairs. "But name o' G—d! We might as well put our necks on the block in New Granada for the king o' Spain's men, as lay again to the Place d'Armes in New Orleans!"

"We are returning," said the other steadily, "for the peace of the seas between two nations. Eh, old brawler of the ports! Are you with me? You, Beluche? Holton, Black Mike, Gorgio—"

"Silence! Are they not with me?" The old buccannier watched the English woman out of hard, blinking, salt-redened eyes.

"Ah, sir!" he growled at length.

CHELSEA WINS AN UPHILL BATTLE

Ken Rowe's Hit Wins Game for Chelsea.

Chelsea defeated the Ypsilanti Colored Aces at Wilkinson field Sunday afternoon, 7 to 6. It was an interesting game except for a few arguments that could have been avoided.

Ypsilanti started solving Miller in the first inning but could not score. The ball would not break for Miller which resulted in 4 runs in the first 4 innings. After this Miller settled down and pitched remarkably ball. Chelsea got a run in the third; 2 in the 6th and 2 in the 8th and went into the 9th inning one run behind. Cannon first up, grounded out. Dillon got a hit. Collins next up hit to the third baseman who threw to second for a double play, but the second baseman missed the ball and all hands were safe.

Miller started to win his own game by driving a hot single down the third base line. Hoffman hit to the infield and Dillon came in, with the tying run. P. Hoffman bunted down the first base line, Collins being put out at home. Then came Ken Rowe with a clean single into the tree winning the game for Chelsea.

Ypsilanti outplayed Chelsea for the first seven innings but Chelsea braced and played them off their feet. Ypsilanti showed good sportsmanship all the way through.

Miller had 8 strikeouts to his credit and Giffon had 5.

SUGAR LOAF LAKE ACES

THROUPE NORTH LAKE

GIANTS 18 to 3.

North Lake fell an easy victim to the Sugar Loaf Lake sluggers in the game played at Mohrlock's corners, Sunday, July 8. Hankard who pitched for North Lake was solved for 24 hits, including 8 doubles and 2 home runs. Both homers were made by Gensen, while the doubles were collected by Eisele, Hoffman and Boyak. Rowe, as usual, pitched a fine game, allowing only 5 hits.

CHELSEA GOES TO YPSI SUNDAY

The Chelsea Independents will go to Ypsilanti, next Sunday to meet the Ypsilanti Colored Aces in a return game. This promises to be an interesting affair, and the Aces' should give Chelsea a hard battle on their diamond.

SCREW CO. DEFEATS MUMTH IN OVERTIME

Chelsea Screw Co., defeated Mumth at the Pleasant Lake diamond, Saturday afternoon 9 to 8, it taking 12 innings to decide it. When the Chelsea team arrived it was decided to play only 7 innings, but at the end of the seventh the score stood 6 and. From then on it was a scoreless light until the 12th, then Chelsea scored three runs. Mumth came back in their half of the 12th and staged a rally, but fell short, one run. R. Munroe started on the mound for Chelsea, and pitched good ball until the sixth, then his arm gave out on account of the wet ball. Billy Riedel went in, in his place and all that Mumth could get was four hits off the diminutive pitcher in the six innings that followed. Moeckel pitched good ball allowing Chelsea but 11 hit. Errors making the game go into overtime.

Michigan Happenings

Muskegon officials were notified that owing to a mistake by the Legislature milk trucks and trucks operating between terminals by manufacture concerns and others are included in the law regulating buses. All such trucks must obtain permits, provide for insurance, and pay a state license under the ruling.

Grasshoppers are again making their annual raid on crops in the northern part of Manistee County. The hoppers have practically destroyed every green plant on some of the farms. The rice, corn, beans, potatoes, hay and raspberries were destroyed on the farm of Fred Bradford, Arcadia Township.

Grass as a protection to railway crossings have become obsolete, James H. Rice, chief inspecting engineer of the Michigan Public Utilities commission declared. With the declaration came information that an effort is being made at present to devise some better system for highway crossing protection.

When Donald McMillan, famous Polar explorer, places at Cape Sabine a tablet in honor of the 10 men in the Greely expedition who died there in 1884, he will pay tribute to Edward Israel of Kalamazoo, one of the victims in one of the most harrowing experiences in man's conquest of the Arctic wastes.

W. O. Fitzpatrick, attorney for the Detroit United Railway, filed application with the Michigan Public Utilities commission for permission to do a general freight hauling business with motor trucks and trailers.

Otto, the 8-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. James Hanes, of Sylvania Township, near Alma, was killed when thrown from a mowing machine on which he was riding. The wheel passed over the child's neck.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Walter A. Turpening, of the faculty of the University of Michigan, to a place on the faculty of Western State Normal, Kalamazoo.

Grand Rapids won the 1924 convention, honors and prizes in the ritual competition at the annual Michigan Elks' convention which was held at Petoskey. E. H. Stannard, of Owosso, first vice-president was advanced to the presidency.

Robert S. Smith, son of Walter W. Smith, left Saginaw to enter the Annapolis Naval academy. Although he is but 17 years old, he succeeded in meeting the requirements for entrance into the academy.

In the Realm of Society

July Party.

A most delightful affair was the July party of the S. P. I. club, held Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. P. Grabowski. Following the program the remainder of the evening was spent in playing games, the prizes awarded were in most cases well earned, after which a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room, the table was an exceptionally pretty decorative scheme of pink and white. A miniature bride and groom centered the table, an aisle formed by pink tapers in glass candlesticks further completed the appointments in which were placed the maid of honor, bridesmaids, mother and ring-bearer. A miniature doll bearing the place cards in keeping with the color scheme for each member were given as favors. The members departed saying that Mrs. Grabowski had given them a most pleasant evening.

Entertains At Bridge

Lovely in all its appointments was the Japanese bridge party given by Mrs. Marguerite Isen at the home of Mrs. F. McNamara, East street, Saturday afternoon, July 7th. Snap dragons, roses and Japanese lanterns were used about the room, while attached to the card table were miniature Japanese fans as favors. Four tables of bridge were played. Dainty prizes were awarded Mrs. Leigh Palmer who held high score, and Mrs. Harris Fletcher who held second high. Miss Beryl McNamara also received a gift. During the afternoon the Misses Dorothy Dancer, Anna Rogers and Florence Turnbull dressed as Japanese maidens, served punch, also serving a dainty luncheon at the close of the afternoon.

Business Meeting.

The quarterly business meeting of the Evangelical League of St. Paul's church will be held Friday evening, July 13, at the White school house, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Following the business meeting a marsh-mallow roast will be held at some lake near by. All members and their friends are very earnestly invited to attend. A good time is promised for lovers of enjoyment. Autos will be provided for all that wish to go.

Entertain at 500.

Mrs. L. P. Vogel and Mrs. H. H. Avery entertained at the former's cottage at Cavanaugh Lake, Friday afternoon. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent in playing 500. Refreshments were served.

S. P. I. July Party.

The S. P. I. July party will be held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Schneider, Monday evening, July 16th.

Motoring to Boston.

Mrs. James Park left for Boston, Mass., Monday morning, driving through in a Ford coupe. Miss Marie Dewey of Stockbridge accompanied her. They expect to be gone about 6 weeks and will visit Mrs. Park's relatives.

Family Gathering.

A very pleasant surprise and family gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Heim of Sylvan, Sunday, in honor of Mrs. Heim's birthday anniversary. Those present were Mrs. Margaret Liebeck, Mr. and Mrs. James Dann, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilbert and son of Chelsea; John Liebeck and family, Peter Liebeck and family, Joseph Liebeck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Heim and son, all of Sylvan, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Koebbe and son, Miss Lorette Heim, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Fleming and family of Henriette. The house was tastefully decorated with Bambler roses and black-eyed Susans. At one o'clock a sumptuous birthday dinner was served in the dining room. As a remembrance of the occasion Mrs. Heim was presented with a beautiful cut glass sherry set. At a late hour in the afternoon the guests departed for their respective homes wishing Mrs. Heim many happy returns of the day.

Wedding of Interest.

A wedding of interest to Chelsea residents was that of Miss Winifred Benton of Jackson, formerly of Chelsea, to C. B. Carroll of Flint, Michigan, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Benton, 311 W. Ganson street, Jackson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. W. Crissman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride was attended by Miss Maurine Wood, the best man being George Padden of Detroit. After the serving of a wedding collation Mr. and Mrs. Carroll left for Flint where they will reside.

Same Old Story But a Good One.
Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others, as follows: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles."

That the Manitowish County Farm Bureau will purchase a maul extracting machine is the decision of the board of directors. The extractor will come complete except for the motor power, which is to be furnished by local tractors. It is to be shipped from Goshen, Ind. It is estimated that between 5,000 and 10,000 tons of maul will be used here annually. If it can be obtained, and outside contractors wanted $1 a ton for extracting it. The machine has a capacity of 60 to 90 tons a day and will work in swamps, lakes or rivers.

After 42 years continuous service as assistant to the secretary, Miss Lucy Chapin will leave the employ of the University of Michigan. In recognition of her faithfulness the university has retired her on an allowance for life. In the 42 years Miss Chapin asked leave of absence but once. That was in the summer of 1914, when in addition to the month's vacation allowed university employees, she asked for another month to see a bit of the world. She was going to Europe, a summer vacation trip she had planned.

Prosecuting Attorney Fred T. Miles of Holland, has given the board of supervisors his decision in the case of William M. Connelly and cites numerous instances showing that the offices of county road commissioner and state senator held by Connelly are incompatible. According to Miles' opinion, the office of county road commissioner held by Connelly is in reality vacant and the board of supervisors has the power to appoint his successor.

Into celery planting now is under way near Decatur, and the acreage planted will be the greatest in the history of the industry. It is predicted. A number of growers are putting out from 30 to 60 acres and all are increasing their acreage. Five hundred acres of celery left Decatur last fall. Onion planting also is heavy.

Hot Weather Diseases.
Disorders of the bowels are extremely dangerous, particularly during the hot weather of the summer months, and in order to protect yourself and family against a sudden attack, get a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It can be depended upon. Many have testified to its excellence.

Another steamer has been added to those making Manitowish their home port. The Berkley formerly running between Norfolk, Va., and New York, has been purchased by the Peru Marquette Lines according to announcement made by Gus Kutzinger, president and general manager. A crew has been sent for the new boat. She is built of steel and compares favorably with the Nevada now in use by the company.

Michigan Odd Fellows have been assured a permanent summer camp at Lobdell lake near Fenton, where W. K. King and W. W. Watson have donated a tract of land for the purpose. The Odd Fellows are planning a large picnic at the lake which will mark the formal acceptance of the tract. Lobdell lake is considered one of the finest bodies of water in the southern part of Genesee county.

An order issued by the State Public Utilities Commission gives the Manitowish and Northwestern Railway authority to take over the Leelanau Transit Co. track, a stretch of about 30 miles running from Traverse City to Northport. The road is used principally for hauling fruit and tourists. It had been the intention of the controlling company to abandon the line.

CATARRAHAL DEAFNESS
is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring Nature in restoring normal conditions. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.
