Chelsea Merchants Slash Prices in Effort to Clean up Summer Merchandise, Making Big Savings to Buyers.

Teeming with bargains which will make their stores and business places look tempting to every prospective buyer who visits their places, Chelsea stores have entered wholeheartedly into a Dollar Day campaign which should prove a winner. More than twenty merchants have gone over their shelves and painstakingly slashed prices and made up combinations in an effort to clean up summer merchandise at greatly reduced figures. There is every opportunity to save in almost any line you may wish to buy.

Campaigning consistently in order to fill the town with people on Friday and Saturday, merchants have displayed posters, and billed the country around Chelsea, so that none may be ignorant of the two days of bargain events. Even the most skeptical will be convinced when they have visited the stores and investigated the possibilities for saving on good clean merchandise. There's a chance to outfit the whole family, lay up the family stores for winter, retire the automobile and a hundred other things, all in these two days, at a saving that cannot be duplicated anywhere else.

LIMA CENTER TO REBUILD SCHOOL

Contract Let for Constructing Modern Building on Site of Former School Will Be Completed November 10.

At a meeting of the Lima Board of Education held at the home of Fred Reichert, director, Monday evening, contract was let for the building of a new school house on the site of the old one, blown down during the recent cyclone. Chris. Koch of Jerusalem, was low bidder for the job.

The new building will be of frame construction, kellestoned, with full basement, inside toilet facilities, and according to state specifications. It will cost the district $3870.

Three bids were submitted to the board for the contract, Mr. Koch's being the lowest. Other bids were: a Jackson firm, $5360; a Shelby firm, $4240.

For the present, school will be held in the old town hall which has been repaired and put in shape for use as a school room. Miss Gladys Forner is the teacher and will open school on next Tuesday, September 4th.

JUST SAUNTERING ALONG

"Just sauntering along," was the explanation given Tuesday afternoon by Melvin R. Malcomson, 25 years old scion of a wealthy Detroit family, to Deputy Sheriff Timmerman, who sought to know why Malcomson was pushing his Cadillac over M-17 at the rate of 79 miles an hour.

Timmerman was forced to do 102 miles an hour on his Henderson motorcycle in order to catch Malcomson. He told the speeder to saunter back to Grass Lake on September 7 to answer a charge of driving faster than the law allows. He released the Detroit on his personal recognition.

Timmerman said Tuesday night that Malcomson was traveling faster than any autoist he had ever caught before and that in order to arrest him he rode the swiftest ever on his motorcycle.

Timmerman was resting in a side road east of Grass Lake when something whizzed by on the paved way. He immediately gave chase, but two and one-half miles elapsed before he pulled alongside Malcomson.—Jackson News.

OBITUARY OF THEO. SCHMID

Announcement of the death of Theodore C. Schmid at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell of Leoni, last Thursday forenoon, August 23, 1923, came as a shock to his many Chelsea friends.

He was born in Jackson county, August 8, 1855, and was a son of Charles and Mary Schmid. His mother died when he was 7 years of age and his boyhood days were spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell where he passed away.

For several years he had been associated with his father in the shoe business, which under his management has been a successful financial venture.

He was a member of Olive Lodge, M. & A. M. and Olive Chapter R. A. M. of Chelsea, Adoniram Council, R. & S. M. of Manchester, and No. 536, I. O. O. F. of Jackson.

He is survived by his father, Chas. Schmid of Chelsea, one sister, Mrs. Mamie Lantis of Jackson and an aunt who is a resident in Kendallville, Indiana.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Sunday afternoon, Rev. C. S. Risley, pastor of the Chelsea M. E. church, conducting the services. Members of the Chelsea Masonic orders conducted the burial services at the grave in West Cemetery, Grass Lake.

ERSKINE-MCLAREN WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Margaret Erskine, daughter of Mrs. Esther Erskine, of Lowellville, Ohio, to Myron McLaren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McLaren of Ann Arbor, was solemnized recently at the home of the bride, Rev. Mr. Barnes of the Christian church, Lowellville, officiating.

Miss Erskine and Mr. McLaren became acquainted at Chicago university where the former was completing work for a Ph. B. degree, and Mr. McLaren, a graduate of the University of Michigan, was doing post-graduate study. Miss Erskine has been writing a series of reviews on European authors for the Saturday Vindicator, and has been teaching English for the past year at the Central Junior High school, Youngstown. Mr. McLaren was graduated from the law school here and after continuing his studies at Chicago university has been teaching law for the past year at University of Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaren left almost immediately after the marriage service for Ann Arbor.

Guests from this city at the service were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McLaren and the Misses Helen and Ruth McLaren.—Ann Arbor Times News.

THE BEST INVITATION

Georgia like many other states in the union has awakened to the fact that the tax situation has a most direct bearing on the future of the state.

After an industry has located in a state it is possible to tax it out of existence to the great detriment of the owners as well as the state.

But you cannot by this method force new industries into the state. The prospective investor who has seen his dividends swallowed up by growing tax demands is becoming exceedingly wary. Not only does he consider the present tax situation before investing but he tries to forecast public sentiment some years into the future.

No state can send out a better advertisement to encourage capital to come in than to show a sound, conservative government backed by a determination on the part of citizens and public officials to maintain reasonable taxation and a square deal for industries.

SUBMARINE CABLE REPLACES RADIO TELEPHONE

The only commercial radio telephone link in the world, which for the past three years has been handling telephone business between Catalina Island, 30 miles off the coast of California, and the wire lines of the Bell System, has been replaced by a submarine cable. The license of the radio "talk bridge" expired on August 1st and the Department of Commerce has requested that its operation be discontinued, making its wave lengths available for broadcasting.

The capacity of the ether for radio messages is distinctly limited, and when such services as broadcasting, ship-to-shore telegraphy and telephony, radio compasses, etc., which can be handled only by radio, have been accommodated, the available wave lengths of the ether are about exhausted. Consequently, the change from radio to cable in a case like Catalina Island, where the cable is not only feasible but more economical than radio, is for the good of the service.

PROVING THE RULE

The Oregon Insurance Commissioner has issued his annual report in which he calls attention to the fact that the volume and premium income of fire insurance for last year increased but little over 1921. He says that the profits of the preceding five prosperous years were "swallowed up in the disastrous losses of 1922." Of course the $3,000,000 loss resulting from the Astoria conflagration added to a general abnormal loss ratio was responsible for the disastrous showing.

Here is the "unexpected" conflagration loss which insurance companies must always be prepared to meet. Enemies of a sound insurance policy point out what they claim are undue profits for good years, but they forget to mention the conflagration losses that roll along as regularly as the sun rises.

Reserves built up during good years must meet abnormal losses, or policy holders would suffer financial disaster at most critical times.

It is for this reason that political tinkering with insurance rates to get low rates based on "good time averages" is always extremely dangerous or expensive to either the insured or the taxpayer, when the periodical crisis arrives.

ELECTRIC PROGRESS

The General Electric company celebrated its thirtieth anniversary and has prepared a summary of achievements unusual in that period, making the retirement of Charles A. Coffin from its active leadership an occasion for reviewing what was accomplished during his years of unusual service to the company and humanity.

The General Electric company stands out conspicuously for its success in scientific research and engineering development.

Its tremendous laboratories in which world-famed experts are commissioned to experiment on new lines, have brought a response of appreciation in the public mind.

Statistically, the General Electric had capital stock thirty years ago of $35,000,000. Now its stock is $184,000,000. Its sales have increased from $12,000,000 to 243 millions annually. The value of its plants has risen from $4,000,000 to 167 million dollars; its square feet of factory floor space from 400,000 to 25,000,000; its employees from 4,000 to 72,000. It has plants in forty cities, with headquarters in Schenectady, N. Y.

It has sold more than $300,000,000 in products outside of the United States and literally billions within the country.

Large scale power generation, electric ship propulsion, electric railways and electrification of steam, railroad, trackless trolleys, electrical driving of indus-

INVESTIGATORS FIND INSURANCE COMPANY AFFAIRS O. K.

In an effort to set at rest unfounded rumors making the rounds of this vicinity to the effect that the Michigan Mutual Cyclone Insurance Company, with home offices at Hastings, Michigan, was needlessly expending an enormous sum of money, estimated at approximately $150,000 for the erection of an elaborate office building at Hastings, D. E. Beach and A. J. Easton made a trip to Hastings and other points of Michigan to investigate the possibility of such procedure on the part of the company. On their return statement is made that the insurance company in question is building a fire-proof building for new quarters—a building absolutely necessary to the safety and preservation of their records and to provide ample room for the transaction of the company's business. This structure, the contract for which is let, will cost a total of less than $50,000 and the money is on hand to pay for the construction of the same. However, it is said, if the cost were to be assessed against policy holders it would amount to only 60 cents per member—an amount almost negligible. The company, which has many policy holders in this vicinity, is given A-1 rating by the state insurance department as well as bankers of Hastings and other business men acquainted with the officers and conduct of the business. It is expected the report brought back by these men who, along with others here, are interested in the affairs of the company, will set at rest any rumors attacking the company's standing in the business world.

IMPROVED BODY LINES ON ALL FORD CARS

Introduction of a higher radiator, bringing new and improved body lines to all types of Ford Cars, is announced today by the Ford Motor Company.

The changes have just gone into effect and the various types are now in production.

While the larger radiator has been made standard on all types and while it has made possible other betterments in body design, there is no radical departure in construction, but rather a general improvement which has resulted in more graceful lines.

The new radiator sets an inch and a half higher than the former and has an apron at the bottom which joins a similar apron effect of the fender on either side, giving a highly finished appearance to the front of the car. The larger radiator also increases cooling efficiency.

Most conspicuous among the new types is the Ford coupe which is of entirely new body design and construction, resulting in a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and a greater luggage carrying capacity.

From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator bringing a pleasing effect to the front. The doors are wide and open forward making access and exit easy. They are heavily framed for rigidity and strength. The compartment at the rear has been enlarged to afford increased carrying capacity. The gasoline tank is under the seat, with divided cushions to afford easy filling of the tank from the right side making it unnecessary for the driver to leave his seat. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add much to the attractiveness of the car. A new rear fender of more sturdy character also is a feature.

Interior fittings are of choice material and the arrangement of the deeply cushioned seat has been effected so that at the rear there is a small recess shelf for carrying parcels. The rear vision window is much larger and oblong in shape. Door windows have been equipped with revolving type window regulators and door locks are provided. Side windows are equipped with the lever type window lifters.

Marked, too, is the improvement in the Four Door Sedan. Highly popular since its introduction a year ago, because of its low, graceful lines, the car now presents even much better lines and a sturdier appearance.

This has been brought by the installation of an entirely new cowl with a graceful sweep from the dash blending into the larger hood and radiator. The change also affords an increase in leg room for occupants of the front seat.

TWO CATCH THE SAME FISH

But Squire, Acting as Solomon, Settled Dispute Easily.

Squire M. P. Tierney, Northumberland, Pa., was called on to rule in an unusual case. H. C. Barde and Harry Miller were fishing close to each other at Cherry Run, when each had a bite. They pulled up and found they both had hooked the same fish, a fourteen-inch trout.

A dispute arose and they went to the squire for a decision as to ownership. Mr. Tierney ruled that the big fish should be split and each should take half, which was done. Both men went away seemingly satisfied.

Ypsilanti—The Emanuel Lutheran church being built on River street, this city will be one of the most beautiful churches in the city when completed. Work on this structure was begun during the summer of 1922, but owing to an unforeseen delay the structure will not be completed until the latter part of October this year. The church is built of Sandusky gray limestone and has a seating capacity of 500.

Manchester—It is now planned to open the village schools on the day following Labor Day, or September 4th. At one time it was thought that the new classroom addition now being built on the east side of the high school building could be finished early in September and if opening of school was delayed a week there would be no interference. But no date for finishing the addition has been set and the board deem it advisable not to delay, so it will open on Tuesday, September 4th.—Enterprise.

MOTHER AND SON REUNITED AFTER 32 YEARS' SEARCH

Girlhood Tragedy Becomes Romance in Old Age.

A mother and a son, deserted to hide the shame of a fatherless birth, were clasped in the arms of each other at Nashville, Tenn., reclaimed to each other, and reunited after 32 years.

The son is Albert Westley Henderson of Greenville, S. C. The mother's name was withheld. Their story was told after a picture of the son, published in a Nashville newspaper, had effected a meeting of mother and son for an attempt at identification.

Thirty-two years ago here, Henderson's mother, then a mere girl, was in love. With a promise of marriage, she left Nashville in company with a man, for Memphis, Tenn. The marriage was deferred; the man was later killed in a train wreck.

Then came the birth of the son. Destitute and sick, the mother wrote back home for forgiveness and help. She was promised help, provided the child was deserted.

Forced by circumstances, the son was left in a Memphis orphanage and the mother returned to her home at Nashville, and was taken in, not as a member of the family, but as a servant to do penance.

Years passed. Recently a man came to the office of the newspaper and asked for aid in searching for his mother, who had deserted him. A picture published with the son's name brought response. In a city park the two met, with photographs and papers leading to identification. After a two-hour conference, mother and son were reunited in positive identity.

Recently the mother of Henderson's mother died, denying forgiveness for what she had termed an unerasable stain on family honor.

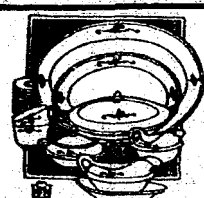

Yet There Are Many of Them.
It is a sad thing when men have neither wit to speak well nor judgment to hold their tongues.—La Bruyere.

Power to Stop! Buick Four-wheel Brakes

BUICK four-wheel brakes provide a factor of safety welcomed by every driver. No matter how careful he may be there are moments when the power to stop his car quickly and surely averts a serious accident.

Buick four-wheel brakes operate simply by light pressure on the foot pedal. There is no change in the method of operation over former Buick rear wheel brakes.

Buick rear brake construction has proved its dependability for many years. Identically the same principle, simple in its mechanism and effective in its braking control, now has been employed on the front wheels.

The adoption of four-wheel brakes by Buick on its 1924 cars is wholly in keeping with its policy of giving the owner everything that will increase his safety, comfort and satisfaction.

The 1924 Buick cars likewise are distinctive for their beauty, their increased power, ease of operation and comfort-giving features never before found on motor cars.

A Squeezed Dollar

It pays to save a dollar at any time, but this is especially true now, when money is hard to get and the purchasing power is increasing.

The inflation is pretty well squeezed out of the dollar you handle today. It is not the same cheap, easily-earned, "come easy, go easy" dollar of the period of war inflation. It will probably become more valuable instead of cheaper. Now is the time to save.

Bury Army Mule With Full Military Honors

San Antonio, Tex.—A full military funeral was held at Ft. Sam Houston for a burro, Raggedy Ann, mascot of Battery F, Twelfth field artillery. Members of the battery and the other burros and ponies at the post corral joined the procession, and "taps" were sounded at Pershing field, the burial grounds.

A special volley was fired. Staff Sergeant J. J. Burns gave the funeral eulogy, and "Sonny" Thirkield, who has been Raggedy Ann's chief pilot, placed a wreath of alfalfa on the bier.

Raggedy Ann was killed Monday when she and Verdun, a mule brought from France as mascot of the Fifteenth field artillery, were attacked by a number of pack train mules.

Famous Bible Goes to Italian.
London.—The famous Bible of the Borso d'Este, valued at $250,000 and belonging at one time to the late Emperor Karl of Austria, has been purchased by a rich Milan manufacturer, who outbid an American banker for it. The Bible is illuminated by artists of the fifteenth century and is regarded by antiquarians as the finest specimen of its kind in existence.

'Tis a Mystery.
"So there's another rupture of Mount Fociferous," said Mrs. Parlington, as the put on her specs. "The paper tells us about the burning latter running down the mountains, but it don't tell how it got afire."

TOO MUCH SPEED, COLLIDES WITH MACHINE

An automobile accident, in which Jackson people figured, happened on M-17 late Wednesday afternoon, about one and one-half miles west of Chelsea. Names of the Jackson parties could not be learned. It seems from reports gathered here and there, that the Jackson car, containing two men and a woman, attempted to pass a truck on the curve at the point where the accident happened. Because of the speed at which they were traveling, it was not possible for them to successfully pass the truck and another machine following without collision, and the second car was struck. One of the Jackson men and the woman were injured, but the extent of their injuries could not be learned. They were rushed to the hospital in Ann Arbor. Their machine was damaged considerably.

"RAILROAD JACK" PLEASES LARGE STREET CROWDS

Harry D. Cooper, better known to the people of this and other vicinities as "Railroad Jack," paid Chelsea a visit Saturday, entertaining them with his ready wit and humor.
In his entertaining of his audiences Railroad Jack specializes in "memory" work. Possessed of an extraordinary ability in this line, he has his hearers suggest some name in history, dates and incidents connected with the person mentioned. Invariably the dates and other notes are correct. His entertainment was in connection with the band concert Saturday evening.
Railroad Jack first spoke in Chelsea twenty years ago when he addressed pupils of the schools. He claims the distinction of addressing more students in schools and colleges than any other man. He will be a feature at the Washtenaw county fair next month.
