"BILL"

Now that the date has been set for the trip to Jackson as a return to the visit given the Chelsea business men last summer, we wonder there will be many who will back and decide that they can't make trip or close up the shop? Let's not, and let's further hope that crowd that will go to the Prison will be a strong and pleasing re-statement of this place.

will be more to it than just and the wonderful opportunity the prison. It will mean a deal for all of Chelsea that a and representative group go. Here will be a first chance for iness men to show their and give an obvious demon-stration some organization of the ad is wanted here.

About the latest talked of news on the streets of the village yesterday and today is the new auto acquired with certain restrictions, by Roy Dillons, local barber and hunting enthusiast.

As the affair happened, the village president was in the barber shop and there was some discussion about a well known make of auto, namely the Buick. Mr. Dillon happens to drive one of these cars and was praising the make. Pres. Daniels had an old Buick of unknown years, but never- the-less they were many, and he made the wonderful and exceptional offer.

The offer was, that Mr. Dillon, namely the barber, was to drive the ancient chariot for one week. He was to take the car where ever he might happen to go, driving to and from work, on Sunday and when hunting. If after one week he had driven the ancestor of the modern limousine, at all times, not having walked even so much as to and from his home, the car was to be his, free and with clear title.

If though at any time the car could not be started and it was for the barber to walk, he would lose his bargain and the car would revert back to its original owner. Mr. Dillon accepted the offer and is now driving a marvelous piece of mechanism, that would make most people think twice before starting out.

When the car was taken from the garage early Thursday morning, it was necessary to start it by jacking up the rear end and turning the wheels. This method proved satisfac-tory for the start, and after the engine had once become heated it was only a matter of stepping on the starter.

During the morning hours, the bar-ber was busy at all times. He even had to stop now and then while shav- ing or doing tonsorial duties to rush out to the chariot and give the en- gine a little exercise so that it would not get too cold. One poor fellow with his face fully lathered would have been forgotten had not somebody seen him and called the barbers.

Thursday afternoon happened to be Mr. Dillon's afternoon off and he at that time usually goes hunting. He started out with a full tank of gaso- line, with the evident intention of getting something, even if he did have to leave the car stand with the en- gine running.

The next wonderful feature of the car is that there is no crank to it and no starting is a remarkable feature. If it takes as long to crank it each morning as it did the first, it will not be a wonder if the car is returned to its owner. After standing all night in a cold barn or shed, or possibly even outside, the starting job will not be a light one.

It might also be well for the city to take certain precautions to stop any breakage of light fixtures, etc. While trying to reverse yesterday the car would not stop but continued its way over the curbing on Main street and had there been anything there, something would have been smashed.

If the barber holds out for one week, he can claim the relic as his. If gasoline were at all high in price the pleasure of driving such a job would not be so funny, but now that gas is cheap, it doesn't matter so much.

People all over town are complain- ing about the leaves. But what's the use of complaining. The leaves will fall and we can't help it. If they didn't fall we'd have to get out and

ALFRED SMYTHE DESPONDENT, KILLS SELF

PROMINENT SHARON FARMER, ENDS OWN LIFE

Alfred Smythe, well known Sharon farmer, shot and killed himself, at his home, Thursday morning. Mr. Smythe was believed despondent over ill health. He arose early yesterday morning and after building a fire in the kitchen went to the woodshed and shot him- self.

He was found by members of the family a few minutes later, with the gun still in his hands. Mr. Smythe was 61 years old. He was born in Canada in December 1858 and moved to Minnesota, later coming to Michi- gan where he settled in Sharon.

He was married to Miss Ella Bach- man and has lived on the farm in Sharon since his marriage. He is sur- vived by his widow and eight children: Geo. Smythe of Manchester, Mrs. Stanton Klink, Mrs. Clifford Gadd and Alfred Smythe of Jackson, Clinton Smythe of Sharon, Clara Smythe of Chicago, and Forbes and Edna at home.

About four years ago Mr. Smythe was in an accident in which he was struck on the head by a falling tree. He has been in poor health since that time. The last three weeks he has been in a very nervous condition.

Mr. Smythe was a well read man, capable and industrious. He will be well remembered because of his popu- larity among the farmers, and by the many talks he delighted in giving.

VISIT TO STATE PRISON ARRANGED FOR CHELSEA MEN

Date Set For Trip To Visit Prison
Thursday, November First.

Arrangements have been completed by President W. R. Daniels of the vil- lage of Chelsea with Warden Harry L. Hubert of the Jackson Prison for the return visit of the Chelsea busi- ness men to Jackson. The trip has been planned and the date set for Thursday, November 1.

The present plans are for the busi- ness houses in Chelsea to close Thurs- day at 12:30 o'clock and the men will meet at 1:45. Those in charge plan to have plenty of autos to accommodate all, and the procession will leave Che- lsea at 2:00 o'clock sharp.

Some months ago a group of Jack- son business men came to Chelsea and lavishly entertained the business men of this place. At that time Warden Hubert extended an invitation to the men to come in a body and visit the prison. Since that time the visit has been repeatedly talked of and now it will become a realization.

The men will go to the prison and visit the various industrial and manu- facturing departments which will be an exceptional opportunity for all who will go. Every business man is in- vited and will be well repaid for the time he will be away from his busi- ness.

shake them off, and then there would be still more complaint.

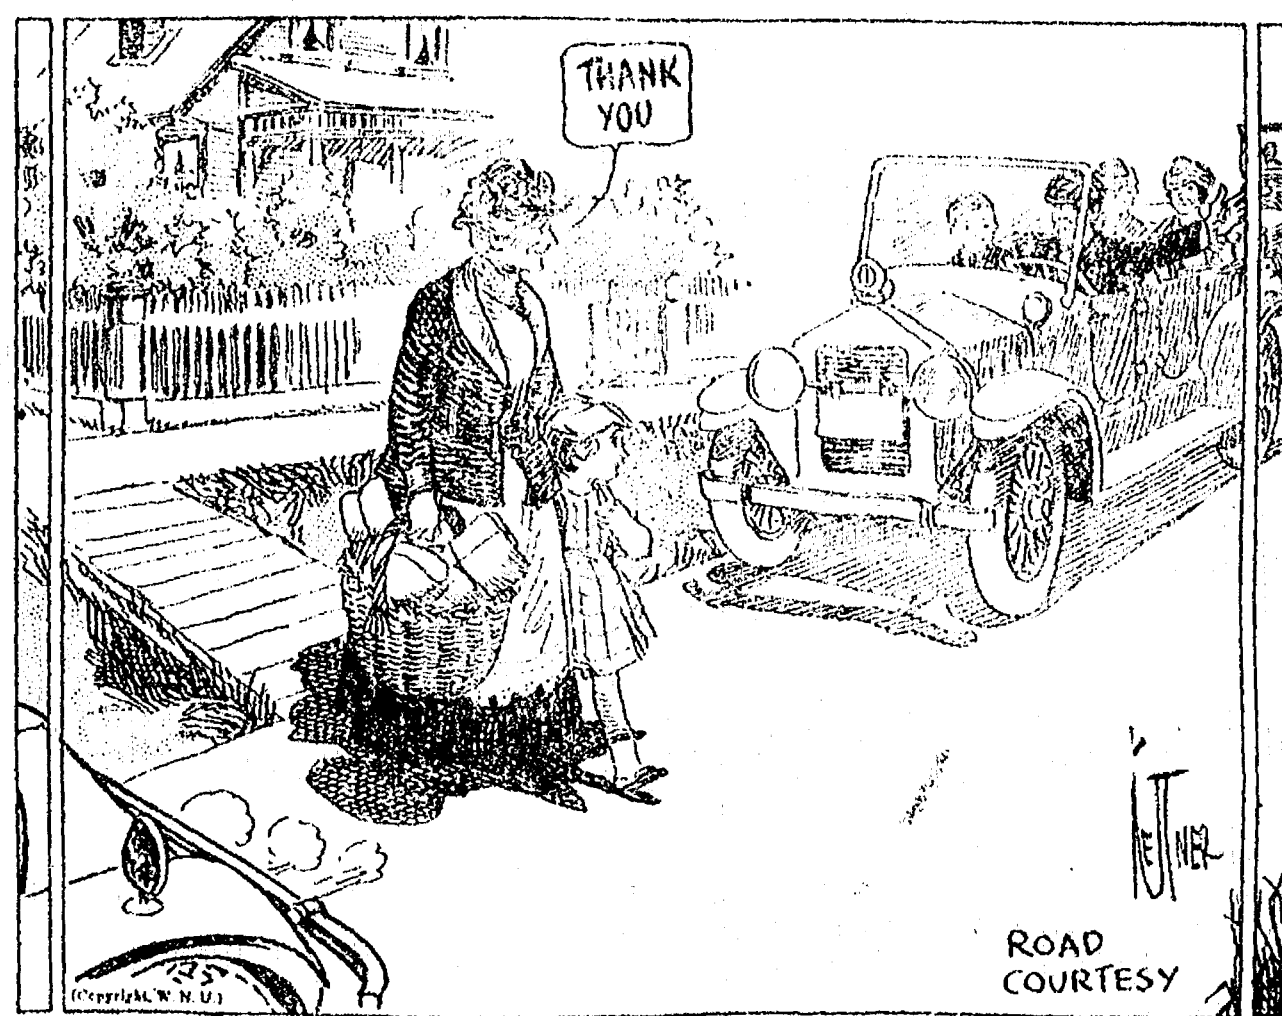

Naturally people that keep their lawns and sidewalks clean are pro- voked when their neighbors do not do the same, but rather leave the fallen foliage on the ground to be blown about by the wind as it may. Of course the clean lawns and sidewalks suffer the most. If everyone cleaned their lawns and sidewalks of leaves, we wouldn't have this to contend with, but in as much as all are not alike, we just try to get along.

AMERICAN LEGION SECURES EXCEPTIONAL ATTRACTION. WED.

Noted Holland Troupe of Six Bell
Ringers, Will Give Entertainment.

The Herbert J. McKune Post, No. 31, of the American Legion have se- cured one of the most noted and highly recommended groups of artists traveling about this country to en- tertain the people of Chelsea, Wednes- day evening, October 31.

The Six Holland Bell Ringers will present one of the greatest novelty musical attractions of the entire country. The company has recom- mendations from the King and Queen of the Netherlands and from some of the leading clubs and organizations of this country.

Their entertainment is educational, entertaining and exceptionally un- usual. The actors appear in costume, and use such instruments as the Swiss Hand Bells, the Cymbal Harp, Catho- dral Chimes, Rattlebones and the Oc- carino.

The American Legion was indeed fortunate to secure these noted peo- ple to entertain here, and it was only after considerable effort that the ar- rangements were made.

Tickets are now on sale. For the boy selling the most tickets a 1000 shot air rifle will be given and to the girl selling the most tickets will be given a pair of silk hose. Seats will be reserved Wednesday at Vogel's Drug Store, no charge being made for reservations.

CHAPTER TO HAVE SPECIAL CAR TO GO TO DETROIT

Members of Olive Chapter, R. A. M. No. 140 are planning a big time for Monday evening when they will go to Detroit at the invitation of one of the Detroit Chapters. The special car will leave Grass Lake at 4:20 p.m. eastern standard time and will leave Chelsea at 4:40 o'clock. About 40 members of the Chelsea Chapter and about 30 from Grass Lake will go to Detroit to attend the banquet to be given there and will then watch the work in the Most Excellent degree exemplified. Three candidates from here will re- ceive the degree.

HENRY WICKHAM, OF DETROIT DIES, WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Henry Wickham, aged 68 years, died in Detroit, Tuesday, Oct. 23. Mr. Wickham acted as assistant receiver for the Glazier bank when it was put into the hands of the receiver. The funeral was held this morning at 9 o'clock from the cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, Detroit.

Don't fail to see the Holland Bell Ringers, Wednesday evening at the Sylvan town hall. Wilhelmina, Queen of the Netherlands says: "The Royal Holland Bell Ringers are great fa- vorites in the Court of Holland. Their programs are most delightful, enter- taining and instructive."

ROADS SHOW DEGREE OF CIVILIZATION.

Highways Index to Kind of Lives Its Users Live.

Gibbons, famous historian, wrote "The character and civilization of any community can be properly judged by the class of roads it has."

The community which can afford a good road and is content to wallow in mud, is, by this standard, not thor- oughly civilized. This may not be agreeable reading to those contented with bad roads, yet these very people will judge their neighbors by stand- ards no more exacting. The man who can afford an automobile, a tele- phone a lighting system, a warm house, and good clothes, and who walks, borrows his neighbors' phone, reads by candles, has a cold house and wears rags, is not called civilized by his neighbors.

A good road is as necessary for the enjoyment of the advantages modern civilization has to offer as is the ability to read (which was once the ac- complishment only of the priest and the king.)

The abandoned farm is seldom or never found on a good road. The il- literate child does not live beside a good road. People who live on or near good roads get to town, see pic- tures, mix with their fellows, enjoy a rich social life, visit each other, buy and sell quickly and easily, are in touch with the world. Those who live on bad roads cannot even depend upon the R. F. D. if rain or snow lays its prohibition upon the carrier.

This great country is away down the list among the literate nations; one of the reasons is the difficulty of educating either child or adult where mud prevents attendance at school.

Gibbons' measuring rod may not be comfortable, but the facts seem to show it is accurate.

PIONEER RAILROAD TELEGRAPH OPERATOR, JAMES SPEER, RETIRES FROM ACTIVE SERVICE

LOCAL OPERATOR, AGED 70,
ENDS LONG SERVICE.

Will Be Placed on Michigan Central Pension List, After nearly 50 Years Service.

Thursday, October 25th, 1923, mark- ed the 70th birthday anniversary of James Speer, one of Chelsea's most highly esteemed citizens. He was born in Sylvan township, October 25, 1853, on the farm that is now known as the Sam Guthrie farm, about two miles west of Chelsea. At the age of five years he moved to Chelsea, with his parents and located on Railroad street where now the gas plant is situated. Mr. Speer, better known as "Jim" when a young lad of 14 years was fond of playing along the rail- road track and jumping on cars. On April 26, 1867, he had the misfortune to lose his foot when a car ran over it. After he recovered from his ill- fortune he returned to school, only for a short time, leaving with just a fair education. In his boyhood days he was known as a great athlete. In many instances the remark could be heard: "Who is that great ball player, the one-footed lad?" He never liked school and was always trying to get away to some ball game or go on a fishing trip. Perhaps you will think it strange, but the loss of Mr. Speer's foot was the turning point of his life.

In 1872 he decided to take up the work of telegraph operator and started as a student in the old passenger house at Chelsea, which was destroyed by fire later, nothing could be done at that time, but petition of the old freight house, where the work was carried on until 1881 when the present depot was built. April 8th 1874 he was transferred to Frankenise, as night operator for eleven months, then back to Chelsea, as night operator and re- mained here until spring 1881. He was transferred to Delhi, as day operator for two years and back to Chelsea, as night operator in fall of 1883 and remained until March 1884. Then to Prospect Pit, until Sept. 1st, from there to Wayne, as day operator for one month. October 1st, he was transferred to Monroe for two years from there back to Chelsea, as day operator and remained until November 1st 1923 when he was honorably re- tired. April 26th 1876 Mr. Speer was married to Ada R. Cunningham, of Dexter, after which he purchased the home on Railroad street where he now resides and where Mrs. Speer passed away over a year ago. This home was paid for with the small salary from $35 to $40 a month earned by Mr. Speer. Five children were born three daughters and two sons, all were given a high school education, the youngest a graduate from the University of Michigan, all from (Continued on page four.)

TWO HURT BY ENRAGED COW

Cow Frightened By Dog's Barking
Attacks Girl of Five

John Lucht and his little grand- daughter Della Eschelbach aged five were going after the cows on the farm of Mr. Lucht near Four Mile Lake, Thursday evening, when a cow with calf became enraged at the barking of a dog and charged the two per- sons.

Della was struck by the cow and thrown to the ground and Mr. Lucht, was also caught by the attack, but threw himself over his granddaughter to protect her. After the first at- tack the cow walked away, and Lucht quickly picked up the little girl and threw her over the fence as the cow made a second attack. Lucht was able to protect himself by dodging behind a nearby tree.

The little girl, daughter of Mrs. Mary Eschelbach, of this place, was taken to Ann Arbor by a local phy- sician. She suffered a severe gash on the head, which exposed a large sur- face of the skull. Although the skull was not fractured the little girl is considered in a serious condition.

Mr. Lucht suffered a broken should- er and had body bruises. He was cared for by a local physician.

CHELSEA BUSINESS MAN BUYS TWO MORE LOCATIONS

Local Baker and Restaurant Owner
Buys in Ypsilanti and Dearborn.

Joe Schnebelt has just completed a deal with Ypsilanti parties in which he has purchased the Old Bakery System Bakery and Restaurant on W. Michigan street. The deal has been under consideration for several days, but was completed today and Mr. Schnebelt will take over the busi- ness at once.

At present the plans as made by the local baker, are that he will run the bakery and restaurant as before and handle the business which he is considering in Dearborn from this place. Mr. Schnebelt has the pur- chase of a Dearborn business under consideration, and with its completion he will have a bake shop in that place.

Some time ago Mr. Schnebelt pur- chased a bakery in Ypsilanti and ran that place in conjunction with the Chelsea bakery. Only a short time ago he purchased the Liberty Cafe from G. W. Kolb of this place and is operating that now.

Mr. Schnebelt has built up a won- derful business in the past few months through much hard work and dili- gence. He is at present operating several bake shops and will now have two restaurants.

POPULAR VOTE WOULD DECIDE

Drastic Changes in Automobile Taxation Impossible by Legislature

Detroit, Oct. 25—With the growth of intelligent interest in automobile taxation, and the consequent warning enthusiasm regarding a possible gaso- line tax, has come the certainty that should a successful attempt be made to railroad a gasoline tax bill through the legislature, the effort would be promptly followed by a state-wide de- mand for a referendum.

Michigan laws fully provide for such a contingency, stipulating only that adequate petitions be presented, proving that a fair proportion of voters do not approve the action of the legislators.

Ready Last Spring

But for Governor Grosbeck's veto of the measure last Spring, a referen- dum would surely have been called for. The machinery for petition circula- ting was ready, and the petitions would have been signed and presented in record time.

Automobile Clubs of the various cities are steadily growing in strength, and provide rallying points for the motorist whom such a tax would so severely penalize. Led by the Detroit Automobile Club, with its 25,000 membership, the entire strength of the state's motoring el- ement would be enlisted in the referen- dum preliminaries.

Once before the people and on the election ballot, the gasoline tax would be squarely discussed and not- ed on its merits by popular vote, and nobody could quarrel with the result.

A condition very similar is now in evidence in Massachusetts, where af- ter the passage of a gasoline tax law by the legislature, the outraged motorists circulated their petitions, secured their quota of signatures in short order, filed them within the time limit, and automatically stopped the law from going into effect on the scheduled date. In 1924 the state's voters will decide in due form whether or not the measure shall be- come a law.

Farmers in Line

In addition to the motorists who can confidently be depended on to re- buke this penalizing legislation are the opponents of the sales tax prin- ciple in general, which such a tax so clearly exemplifies. These sales tax opponents recognize clearly that a tax on gasoline is purely and simply a sales tax and would logically pave the way for sales tax as a general method of raising revenue—a basic principle which they are determined to combat.

Many farm organizations have al- ready taken a stand against the sales tax, thus adding a formidable element to the ranks of those sure to vote ac- cordingly, should the issue ever reach the election booth.

MAGNETIC MABEL'S MAIL.

She Tells 'Em

Dear Mabel: I am greatly dis- tressed at a seeming coldness on the part of my husband. When we were first married and I was very dom- inative. He always called me "little one" and would hold me on his knee for hours. We were so happy. I am now twice the woman I was then. I weigh into 200 lb., yet he no longer holds me on his knee and never calls me little one. He has no call to freeze up on me, the miserable little worm—he only weighs 115 lbs. on the hoof. I'll give you my word he's not so much to look at. Between you and me, Mabel—mind you, I say this en- tirely without malice—he's a hair stripe. He should grow cold and hard me the Klondike shimmey. I'd can him tomorrow, only he's a real good check signer. I'll hand him that. You know all about men and their weights, Mabel. What would you do?

Elfie D.

Dear Elfie: You must have lined up against a awful proposition. Any man who will cease holding his 200 lb. wife on his 115 lb. knee must be a waster and beef so expensive and all. The only thing to do, if you want to hang on to Henry, is to reduce. He doesn't seem to appreciate volume. Re- duce! Not all over at once, but in inch at a time. Read all the ads in the Sunday Supplements. Buy every- thing that comes in bottles for the purpose. Wear every appliance that is recommended from an assafocida amulet to a rubber union suit. Take something inwardly and rub some- thing on the outside. If you're not reduced in tonnage, you will be in purse, then all else failing, try holding the thought.

Mabel.

THE WORMS ARE BUSY

Charles Darwin found 53,000 "fishworms" in the average acre of British soil. The number was around half a million an acre where the soil was exceptionally rich.

Right now is the busiest season of the year for earthworms. Wherever the autumn winds are making withered leaves flutter to the earth, our old friend fishworm is dragging the dead leaves into his tunnels, there to rot and enrich the soil.

Prof. J. Arthur Thomson, in "The Outline of Science," records that on the average, the fishworms in an acre of ground pass 10 tons of soil thru their bodies each year—"and they have been doing this for many millions of years. They cover the surface at the rate of three inches in 15 years, and they are thus continually circulating the soil. An age-long ploughing field, which was so thickly covered with hard flints that it was known as the stony field, was left untouched for 30 years, after which a horse could gallop from one end to the other without ever striking a stone."

Darwin wrote this: "The plough is one of the most ancient and most valuable of man's inventions; but long before he existed the land was, in fact regularly ploughed by earthworms. It may be doubted whether there are many other animals which have played so important a part in the history of the earth as have these lowly organized creatures."

The earthworm made life on earth possible for man. We couldn't continue existing, without its assistance at preparing the soil for the food we eat and for the trees so chemically necessary in our system of air supply.

Despite the earthworm's important function in nature's scheme of things, a lot of us are surprised to learn that it has a purpose other than to be used as fish bait.

WHAT GIVES COURAGE.

It isn't true that the ostrich attempts to hide from danger by burying his head in the sand. Instead, he lies down with his neck stretched along the ground. In which position, he looks like one of the large desert ant hills, even close at hand.

So the ostrich, after all, is wise and we've been unfair to him for centuries by jesting about his stupidity. A lot of other inherited ideas that we confidently accept as gospel truth are really as false as the hokum about the "stupid" ostrich.

The truth about the ostrich is from the fascinating book, "Animal Personalities," by Samuel A. Derieux. He finds the goat is the busybody of the animal kingdom, more curious than any creature except man.

The goat's curiosity leads him to poke his head into everything. So we get our expressions, "butt in" and "buttsky." Wells overlooked this in his "Outline of History."

Derieux says he has never been able to figure out why one dog is courageous and another not. One theory is that each animal does the thing which is best for its own protection. So a weak dog is protected by a natural timidity. A strong dog doesn't need this protection.

That's also the case with men. You rarely see a really strong man who is cowardly. Size doesn't matter much. A small man often is powerful, a big man fundamentally weak.

When it comes to intelligence, Derieux rates dogs third. He agrees with Dr. Hornaday that the chimpanzee is the most intelligent animal, with the elephant second. The smartest bird, he finds is the crow—which travels in bands and posts sentinels to warn of danger.

JOY OUT OF LIFE.

Regarding that penniless doctor who died in California under the delusion that he was worth five million dollars: As far as he was concerned, the delusion was just as good as having the actual money, and maybe better.

When Ford, the world's richest man, banks a million, he doesn't get half the thrill of the small boy finding a few pennies. Joy and sorrow are states of mind—largely imaginary. Unhappy the man without illusions. Nature is kind in not letting us know too much.

CIGARET SMOKING INCREASES.

Forty per cent more cigarettes are being manufactured in America than in 1921. The output is about six billion cigarettes a month, not counting the "roll your own" kind.

We wonder if this gain has anything to do with the great increase in bronchial infections and common colds. The cigarette is a lighter smoke than the cigar, but it is easier to inhale. To inhale a cigar requires leather lungs.

PLENTY OF COAL

Half of the unmined coal in the world lies underground in our country. Such is the latest estimate by geologists. Our reserve of unmined coal is sufficient to last us over 9,000 years at the rate we are now using it.

In view of this enormous available supply, it is downright ridiculous that we ever have fuel shortages or high priced coal. It's a case of nature being too liberal to us.

All of these dinosaurs dug up in Mongolia lived in a cave, proving rents were high then.

PEGGY'S CORNER

Address all communications to Peggy, care of the Tribune.

Peach Cobbler.—One cup sugar, one cup water, two cups flour, one heaping teaspoon baking powder, hard size of egg. Let sugar come to boiling point. Pure and pit peaches, fill cavity with butter. Roll out paste in shapes large enough to cover peaches pinch edges together. Bake in syrup in deep pan.

Good form.—As soon as one is seated, the napkin should be unfolded once and laid over the knees. It should never be spread out nor tucked into the waist as a protection. It may be raised to the lips from time to time or the fingers may be rubbed on it as it lies on the knees, but it must serve no other purpose.

Pockets. are shown in short fur coats of the jacquette type. Carnuel takes first place in the short models which are shown from 26 to 30 inches long.

When frying meats remember that steaks require from 10 to 15 minutes chops from 8 to 10 and cutlets 7. Bacon is usually done in about two.

Feather trimmings are the most popular for hats now, and frequently the entire brim is composed of them. On the panne velvet shapes, the stick up of ostrich fancy is almost inevitable.

Care of the Hands.—The lily-white hands of the idle woman is a thing of the past. The ideal today is the well-cared for hand, firm, strong, expressive of the woman who knows how to use it to advantage. Hands show advancing years as quickly as does the face and neck. Hands intelligently cared for will remain beautiful to advanced old age, neglected, they will show the effects of ill use before forty is reached.

HELPFUL HINTS

Mr. Housewife: This newspaper will publish "Helpful Hints" in this form at regular intervals. We suggest you clip this column and paste it in your recipe book.

Vines.—A glass receptacle is the best thing that can be used to grow vines and slips in, as this allows the sun to get at their roots.

White Leather.—To clean white leather bags, belts, etc., use oxide of zinc.

Corn.—An easy way to remove silk from corn is by using a vegetable brush.

Birds.—If your canary refuses to take his bath just sprinkle a few seeds on top of the water, and he will be drawn to his tub.

Trouble Savers.—A pile of newspapers kept in one corner of the kitchen will save much trouble if used to set soiled pots on.

Milk.—It is said that if milk is heated until it is lukewarm and then suddenly cooled there will be much more cream.

Peach Stains.—A peach stain is very difficult to remove. It may be done, however, if these directions are followed. First wet the stain thoroughly, then spread cream of tartar on it. After this wash in the ordinary way. It will probably be necessary to repeat the process if the stain is very old.

Frying Eggs.—Put a spoonful of flour in the pan in which eggs are to be fried. This will not only keep them from sticking, but from breaking as well.

Stuffed Eggs.—When eggs are to be stuffed they should be put in cold water as soon as they are taken from the stove. This will keep the whites in better shape.

Sandwiches.—Sandwiches may be kept as fresh as when first made if they are wrapped in a napkin wrung out in hot water and then put in a cool place.

Toilet Water.—A simple toilet water may be made by putting two ounces of elderflower and distilled water together.

Porcelain.—Porcelain-lined tubs and sinks can be easily cleaned if a cloth (preferably flannel) wet with kerosene and used.

Briefs filed by W. W. Potter, Chairman of the State Public Utilities Commission, with the Interstate Commerce Commission, in connection with the latter's general hearing on depreciation reserve, recommend that the public be not required to pay for the excessive depreciation of railroads or telephone systems caused by mismanagement.

The Muskegon County supervisors voted 26 to 5 to place all male prisoners serving sentences in the county jail at work on highways. The men are to receive no additional compensation. The action was inspired by reports of the state's success with prison labor on highways.

Share in on the SERVICE we extend to our clients

It usually is far easier to interest people in an oil well in Canada or a gold mine in Alaska than in safe and sound operations here in Chelsea. Yet virtually every well-to-do family in this community made its money through local activities, right here where they could examine all detail and watch developments.

Don't be looking far afield for opportunities. They are right here in this town every day. The person with available funds is the person who can take opportunity by the forelock and realize a happy contentment. We are in a position to serve you, whether it's in investment or the method to save and be in position to extend your activities.

Birthday Party.
A birthday dinner was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. Johnson in honor of the anniversary of Mrs.
Mrs. Lewis. Black cake, goblets, with festoons of black ribbon, crepe, to-fall flowers, made an appetizing in the dining room.
he table from which a deer was served, was a beauty cake which sent forth
the minds of those birthdays. Following

Entertained.
A few friends of Mrs. John L.
were entertained at her home
rfield street, Monday evening.
evening was spent in playing
e, after which a dainty luncheon served.

Masquerade Party.
The L. O. T. M. will give their annual Masquerade party on Oct. 30,

Farewell Party.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barth were pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when forty neighbors and friends arrived at their home to express their regrets at their departing and to bid them farewell. Mr. and Mrs. Barth will move to Stockbridge, Tuesday.
A beautiful potluck supper was partaken
by the guests and the evening hours were happily passed in a social manner. Mr. and Mrs. Barth were presented a beautiful gift as a remembrance.

New Tea Gowns Are of Turkish Trouser Style

Longing robes made in Turkish designs are very much like an elaborate of pajamas with the trousers pathing to at the ankles. This may seem an absurd fashion, says a fashion writer in the New York Tribune,
there was a time when pantalones were a very important feature. Instead of their straight robes, short and loose, beneath which dangled feebly pantalons, permitting only the merest of tiny slippers to appear.
It is just as reasonable to suppose that present-day women may be wearing in the privacy of their homes, velvet suits made on the lines of Turkish trousers. These are doctrine modest than the pantalones which nineteenth century women wore abroad.

The gown in no way resembles the modesty of the negligee, although they are generally supposed to be close fitting. The difference is marked in the line and fabric. Long and straight these tea gowns and their materials are in striking contrast to the loose, gauzy, lace and ribbons in the negligee indulges itself in the dining room. These stately robes, in fact, may wear the negligee.

Pleasant Lake Grange.

Circular Panels and Flounces Brought Out
So anxious have the French designers been to avoid mistakes and to please fastidious Americans that many of them have settled on a compromise in design. This they have effected by giving straight lines a circuitous treatment.
This may sound incongruous, but there is truth in the statement that nothing is impossible to a French dress-maker. It has been accomplished by the use of circular panels and flounces on straight-line full frocks.
Circular bands and loops without number are employed and the skirts are often gathered or given a circular effect by a slash at the front or one side. Singular decorations are given below a straight-line bodice by wrapped skirts and the apron at front back or sides is frequently utilized in a similar manner. Circular insets of fur and over-tupes offer opportunities for like effects.
Length is likewise compromised by uneven hem lines, longer at back than front or trailing at the sides. Here, too, the ever-present apron comes into play. Skirts for daytime dresses are generally of moderate length, however.

Stencil Walls Add
to Appearance of Home Colors for stenciling can be bought in various shades at almost any paint store. Get a short bristled brush and before painting starts, see that your colors are thinned as directed. Then your stencils at the top and side if you are stenciling a frieze about the top of your wall. In this way you can get near the ceiling and into corners.
Thumb tacks should be used to hold the stencil flat against the wall when you put the color on, use a rotary motion, like scrubbing, and be sure to keep your stencil clean for that one of the secrets of successful stenciling. Every time you take it from the wall, lay it on a sheet of clean paper and wipe off with a soft cloth.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.
State of Michigan, County of Washtenaw, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Washtenaw, held at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on the 10th day of October, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three.

Present, Emory E. Leland, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Kearns, Catherine Millman, Henry
McNally, and John McNally, deceased persons.

On reading and filing the duly verified petition of Elizabeth McNally Schleicher, sister, praying that the court adjudicate and determine who were at the time of their death the legal heirs of said deceased persons and entitled to the estates.

It is ordered, that the 6th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be appointed for hearing said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Chelsea Tribune, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County of Washtenaw.
(A true copy.)

EMORY E. LEELAND,
Judge of Probate.
Dorcas C. Donegan, Register. 1213

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHTENAW.

IN CHANCERY.
ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Louis Rominger and
Eva C. Rominger,
Plaintiffs,

vs.
John Allen and John H.
Cornish, Martha S. Cornish, Darwin A. Pettibone, and Amy H. Pettibone, and Mary A. Richmond, and their unknown heirs, devisees and legatees.

At a session of said court, held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor on the 17th day of September,
A. D. 1923.

Present: Hon. George W. Sample,
Circuit Judge.

In this cause it appearing by the bill of complaint duly verified, presented and filed and to the satisfaction of the court that John Allen,
John H. Cornish, Martha S. Cornish,
Darwin A. Pettibone, Amy H. Richmond and Mary A. Richmond, and their unknown heirs, devisees, lega-tees and assigns, are necessary and the proper parties to the above entitled cause and are interested in the subject matter involved therein and whose names appear in the office of the Register of Deeds for the county of Washtenaw as having at some time claimed a right, title, interest or estate in the subject matter of said cause, or some portion of it, or as having a lien or charge thereon without having conveyed or released the same, and who might at any time, under the provisions or legal effect of said instruments of record claimed or attempt to claim or be entitled to claim benefits thereunder, and it further appearing to the satisfaction of the court that said above named parties are dead or their whereabouts unknown to the said plaintiffs, and after diligent search and inquiry they have been unable to ascertain the same or where any of them or their heirs reside or whether such interest as they may or might have therein has been disposed of by will or otherwise, and that such defendants cannot be personally served with process, therefore, on motion of Cavanaugh & Burke, attorneys for said plaintiffs, it is ORDERED that the appearance of the said defendants and each and all of them be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and that in case of their appearance they cause

their answer to the bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof served on the attorneys for the plaintiffs within fifteen days after service upon them or their attorneys of a copy of said bill of complaint, and that in default thereof said bill be taken as confessed by each of said defendants, and it is further ORDERED that the said plaintiff shall cause a copy of this order to be published in The Chelsea Tribune, within forty days from this date, a newspaper printed and published in said county of Washtenaw and circulated therein, and that such publication be continued therein once in each week for at least six successive weeks, or that said plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be personally served upon the said defendants and upon each of them at least twenty days before the time prescribed for their appearance.

GEORGE W. SAMPLE,
Circuit Judge.
(Countersigned)
JAY PRAY, Clerk.

TO SAID DEFENDANTS:

TAKE NOTICE, that the above entitled cause involves the title to the following described premises situate and being in the city of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, and is brought in said Circuit Court for the county of Washtenaw, in chancery, for the purpose of quieting title to said described premises, to-wit:

"The east thirteen feet of lot four,
lots five and six, block number one south of Huron Street, range number seven east on what is known as the Cornish Addition to the city of Ann Arbor, and a strip of land 8.44 feet in width lying east of said lots five and six and extending from Washington Street to Huron Street in said city of Ann Arbor."

MICHIGAN WILL PROBABLY USE AERIAL ATTACK ON M. A. C. SATURDAY

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25.—M. A. C. decidedly envious of Michigan's athletic prestige is coming en masse to Ann Arbor, Saturday, to do battle with Coach Yost's romping Wolverines.

Word of the decisive Ohio State rout last Saturday caused considerable consternation in the Aggie camp and with Eckert, their veteran tackle, in the hospital and the whole squad awaiting the effects of an inoculation to which they were just forced to submit, the farmer backers are shaking their heads and allowing as how the old team will have to fight in there the 27th, to make a showing, by heck.

Not so with the Michigan coaching staff, however. From all information gleaned from the various scouting trips at Aggie contests the farmers are rated with an unusually strong eleven. In the habit of trouncing the Lansing men for the past few years, stories of strength in the farmer's quarters have thrown some into the Wolverines and the team is being given a thorough training in Aggie plays that there will be no slip up.

Ralph Young, the new M. A. C. coach is an unknown quantity as far as the Wolverines are concerned and they are not taking any chances by not being prepared. Advance reservations at Lansing designate a record breaking crowd for a state school contest and as last year, spectators are expecting to witness an aerial attack launched by the Yostmen which will be a football revelation. And such is quite likely to be the case. Yost and his assistants know the passing game and they have some information up their sleeves which they are anxious to bring to light.

Nothing could be finer than to see a team classed as a first rater display a well planned aerial attack and that is just what is promised for Saturday.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN TO HAVE FIRST MEET, SATURDAY

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Michigan's cross country team, after training daily since school started, will meet the M. A. C. harriers here Saturday morning before the M. A. C.—Michigan football game.

Last year, in a meet held the same date, Michigan had little trouble in placing all of her men in order as the first to come in but this year M. A. C. as in football, is credited with a fleet group of hill and dalers and the sliding will not be so easy for the Wolverines.

Isbell, last year's Conference champion on who was lost from the Michigan squad this fall, has left a vacancy which is hard to fill and Saturday will show just how well this hole in the team has been plugged.

Harry Davis, last year ineligible, is returned to the squad this year and has been turning in some extremely fast times for early season running. Coach Farrell is counting on big things from Davis in the annual Conference run.

The men who will run for Michigan Saturday, as announced today, will include Capt. Arndt, Davis, Reardon, Shensfield, Bowen, Calahan, Mike Reinke, Hicks, Polyhemus and Griffen.

PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST OPEN TO SCHOOL STUDENTS

New York, October 25.—Thomas E. Johnson, State Superintendent of Education, has been officially notified of the opening of the Prize Essay Contest of the American Chemical Society in which all students of high and secondary schools in the State of Michigan have been invited to compete in a national contest for $10,000 in cash prizes and scholarship to Yale, Vassar and other universities and colleges.

The contest which is the result of the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Garvan of New York, is a memorial to their daughter, Patricia, and is intended to stimulate interest among high school students in the development of chemical science in this country. All arrangements for the contest are in the hands of the Committee on Prize Essays of the American Chemical Society, with headquarters at the Munson Building, New York City. Six prizes of $20 in gold are to be awarded in each State in the Union and scholarships to Yale and Vassar will be given for the six best essays in the United States. These scholarships will carry with them tuition for four years in chemistry or chemical engineering and $500 a year in cash. In addition to these awards many other scholarships will be offered through various universities and colleges. A set of five books which include Creative Chemistry by Slosson, The Riddle of the Rhine by Lefebvre, The Life of Pasteur by Vallery-Radot, Discovery, The Spirit of Science by Gregory, and The Future of Independence and Progress of American Medicine in the Age of Chemistry by a Committee of the American Chemical Society, is being sent from the New York headquarters to every accredited high and secondary school in the country, and sets of these reference books are being placed in the libraries of the State for the use of students who enter the competition.

The contest which has the endorsement of Dr. John Tigert, Commissioner of Education of the United States, is fully described in a pamphlet, which will be distributed through the high schools and libraries. This pamphlet contains in addition to facsimile letters of endorsement from Dr. Tigert, and from Dr. E. C. Franklin, President of the American Chemical Society, a full outline of the terms and conditions of the contest together with the letter of gift of Mr. Garvan. The entire supervision of the contest and the awards of the prizes has been left to the American Chemical Society by Mr. Garvan. H. E. Howe, Editor of "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry," the official organ of the American Chemical Society, has been named as Chairman of the Committee, and he is assisted by Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft, Professor of Chemistry at Cornell University, one of the best known men in educational circles in this country and President of the American Chemical Society in 1910; by Dr. Charles H. Herby, President of the Synthetic Organic Manufacturers Association and President of the American Chemical Society in 1916; and by Alexander Williams, Jr. of New York, who is acting as Secretary of the Committee. It is the plan of the Committee in charge to appoint a national Committee of fifteen who will be chosen from all walks of life; from among the leading educators, scientists and public spirited men and women of the country. It will be the duty of this Committee to judge the essays and to award the scholarships in the national competition. They will be assisted in their work by State Committees of eleven whose duty will be to award the prizes in the State competitions.

SUCCESS OF RURAL FREE DELIVERY

The photograph shows rural free delivery carrier starting from Bloomington, Ill. Fully 50 per cent of the success of the rural free delivery mail service must be credited to the motor car. The horse is now a rare exception on the route and Old Dobbin is only resorted to in periods of mud and caliche when the automobile cannot operate.

LEGITIMATE USE OF CHAINS

Many Drivers Find Ways of Overdoing Things and Get in Habit of Driving Too Fast.

Chains have their legitimate use, but as used by drivers find ways of overdoing it. The latest is the habit of driving too fast. Even the chain manufacturers don't advertise that their articles will guarantee motorists against accidents, but drivers seem to have a notion that the chains justify greater speed. As a matter of fact, the chains simply make the normal speed of the car for wet weather safe. If 15 to 20 miles an hour is the limit for wet weather driving the chains will make this speed practically safe. But if the driver clips off 30 miles per hour or over he must remember that in event of need for a quick stop conditions are about the same as though he were caught going 20 miles per hour without chain protection. Too much confidence in chains is like getting careless with the gasoline foot because there's a fire extinguisher in the car.

CROSSING RAILROAD TRACKS

Speeding Up and Coasting Is Dangerous Even if Clear View Is Had From Road.

Crossing railroad tracks by speeding up and coasting is dangerous, even if a clear view of the track is had from the road. The crossing may be rougher than it looks, or there may be some of an up-grade then appears at first glance and the momentum of the car can be quickly dissipated.

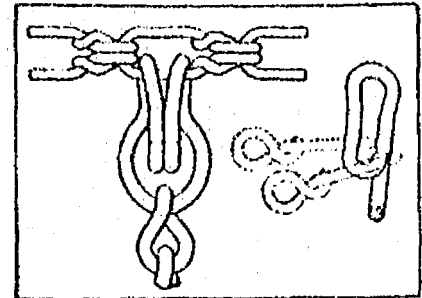

Automobile tourists travel across the United States in the heaviest of the central road is, namely, the Lincoln highway, the National Old Trails road and the Yellowstone trail.

DEVICE TO AVOID SKIDDING

Simple and Inexpensive to Manufacture and Prevents Detachment of Chains.

The Scientific American in illustrating and describing anti-skid device, the invention of C. E. A. Nodding of Hewlett, L. I., N. Y., says:

An object of the invention is to provide a construction in which accidental detachment of the cross chains from the side chains will be prevented. Another object is to provide a connection between the side and cross chains by means of which said chains may be readily detached from each other. The device is simple and inexpensive to manufacture.

Anti-Skid Device.

STEP ON STARTER IF CAUGHT

Few Motorists Realize What a Source of Emergency Power Electric Device Can Be.

Few motorists realize what a source of emergency power an electric starter motor can be.

When caught on railroad tracks with a stalled motor the thing to do is to place the gears in "second" and step on the starter. The car will move on the tracks slowly but surely, and in half the time that would be required to crank the motor. Some starters make so much noise that a train couldn't be heard approaching while the motor is being cranked.

A practice of relying on the starter motor, of course, is a good way to get acquainted with the repair shop, but it is assumed that stalling on railroad crossings is not a habit. Many abuses of the car are justifiable in an emergency; the point is to know what ones can be relied upon as life savers.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

There are about 12,000,000 automobiles in the world, and about 10,000,000 of them in the United States.

An automobile piloting device has been invented by a former army officer to guide small balloons used to distribute advertising matter as they sail across country.

the meager earnings of "Jims" chosen occupation. During the fifty years service as operator in Chelsea, four students have been taught telegraphy under his instructions. E. J. McNamara, of Chelsea, now traveling salesman, O. D. Cummings, now operator in Ypsilanti, Miss L. C. Maroney, now employed in Ann Arbor depot and his eldest daughter the late Mrs. Willis Benton, and Wm. Martin Jr., now deceased. Mr. Speer is the only surviving charter member of the K. O. T. M. and has been commander for many years. He is also a member of the Old Time Telegraph Association and the M. C. R. R. Pioneer Association. He has been granted a pension and also a life pass on the M. C. R. R. and all its branches and a foreign pass if he wishes one. Success at telegraphy necessarily extends over a long period of years. In connection with any other undertaking it has its downs as well as ups. If we persist in counting the downs, without ever stopping to consider the ups we leave ourselves open to attack from the first "Gloom Bug" that happens along. But "Jims" idea was, it goes to count the blessings too.

Mr. Speer announced to the Tribune this morning that he would remain with the company until another man had been appointed to take his place.

Chats With Your Gas Man

Customers sometimes asked us "Why is the heating value of gas so much higher in summer time than it is during the cold winter weather?" They seem to think that gas like everything else gets cold in winter.

The fact is that the heating value of gas is actually higher during cold weather than it is during hot weather. The reason for this is that the heating value is increased one per cent for each five per cent decrease in temperature of the gas.

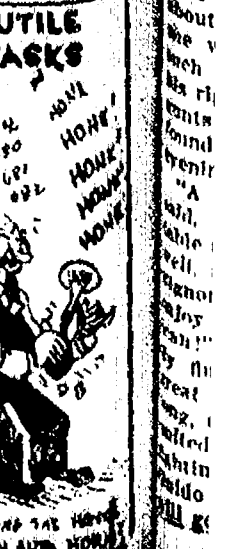

However, the starting temperature of the food and water that must be heated in cooking will be colder in winter than in summer; therefore, a larger quantity of heat will be needed to bring the food or water to the boiling point. This explains briefly, why more gas is used for cooking in winter than in summer.

FORD'S POWER PLANT AT MINNEAPOLIS TO BE WONDERFUL PROJECT.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 26.—All major decisions covering the construction of the Ford Motor Company's plant to be erected along the Mississippi river between Minneapolis and St. Paul have been made and details just announced here give the first information regarding the magnitude of the new Ford project.

Hydro-electric plant, steam plant and manufacturing and assembly plant constitute the three important buildings with interest centering chiefly about the hydro-electric development since it represents the company's most extensive undertaking of this kind.

The dam where the power will be developed is 574 feet long and was completed by the government in 1917. When the Ford engineers started work it was discovered that modification of the power house substructure built by the government was necessary in order to take advantage of improvements since made in water wheel design. More than 6,000 cubic feet of concrete work was torn out and the changes are now nearly completed. They will permit installation of modern turbines and besides improving flow conditions will effect the highest efficiency.

The power house will be 160 feet long by 74 feet wide and 48 feet above the foundation. Four water wheels of 4,500 horse-power will be installed, which, in conjunction with four vertical generators, will under normal conditions produce approximately 18,000 horse power.

Within a short distance of the hydro-electric plant, and on the river bank, it also is planned to erect a steam power house to supplement the water power in case of emergency.

The immense manufacturing and assembly plant will be erected and is designed to present a most attractive appearance.

The building will be one-story high, 1,720 feet long and 600 feet wide and will have more than 1,000,000 square feet or 23 acres of floor space.

Railroad tracks will, of course, enter the building, but a transportation feature will be two tunnels leading underneath the factory from a river dock to elevators which will carry freight directly into the building. This anticipates a new era of river transportation on the Mississippi.

Special attention will be given to landscaping and general improvement of the grounds in the company's 187-acre tract so that all will blend harmoniously with the surrounding parkway development.

This is the age of organization, and the dominant note is the institutional one. The worlds work is done through nations, political parties, social agencies, fraternal organizations, labor unions and groups of capital. This is inevitable, but presents a temptation to lose the individual in the mass. The danger is that in the contemplation of the forest we will forget the trees.

Do not think that you are forgotten, you are not, but come and do your little part in Gods great program. We need you, and you need us. Every minister in the city will welcome you to both services.
