

BILL'S COLUMN

Timely Discussions of various facts that may interest you.

"BILL"

The first auto show in Chelsea went over with a bang! All who visited the show spoke with words of the highest praise complimenting the managers of the show upon their wonderful success. Many spoke with words that showed that interest was far from lacking and that next season when the show was given it was hoped that a much larger place would be needed and that every make of car possible would be on exhibit.

As the saying usually goes, "the first time is generally the hardest," and so it is with an auto show. This first show was a stern test for those who managed it but it was done up in fine shape.

Cooperation was the by-word of the show and through it the wonderful results were obtained. Cooperation is the by-word of every success, without it no good and true results can be obtained.

The following was taken from the "Christian Business Man," and meets this discussion well:

"Business, in order to attain success that is imperishable must be founded on the rocks of fellowship and good will, and the principles of cooperation must be staunchly and fearlessly adhered to. As these principles are infolded by the law of love the law of Christianity, it seems that Christianity needs business to give it meaning—a meaning that is inseparable from peace, happiness, success, and prosperity; a meaning that teaches its practicability to yield the more abundant life which the Master promised; a meaning which identifies the Christ religion as religion whose all-enfolding law is the law of universal love and cooperation."

It has not been the aim of the writer to go into religious matters in this column, but the ultimate end that is desired by all here, is unified efforts that will bring about a greater prosperity to the entire community.

We have felt the spirit and have seen the results, this all being the case, are all in favor of carrying out the matter to such an extent that organization can be brought about? This is asked as a question for the simple reason that if such is the case all will be glad to cooperate with one and all to bring about organization that will bring results.

Have you seen the new sign since it has been painted and decorated? Wonderful to the fullest extent. A piece of workmanship and an end look some time to attain. The committee in charge of the erection of the sign are to be highly complimented, as well as the president of the village and the council. Next will come the lights and there will be the completed efforts of a few who worked hard and diligently to bring about the improvement.

The sign will mean a lot to all concerned. It will mean that no longer will people say that they passed directly by this beautiful village without knowing of their mistake. Passers and tourists will be well directed to our fine village from now on.

The basketball season is again in progress. The various teams have started practice for the winter sport from all appearances Chelsea will again have a fine representation on the indoor courts.

RUSTIC ROMEO MEETS WITH HEARTY APPLAUSE.

One of the most successful home-plays was presented at the hall Friday evening. The attraction was "A Rustic Romeo," a comedy in two acts and prologue by the Independent and Carry Lasses of the Methodist Sunday school.

The crowded house greeted the actors, performed the various roles with costumes and stage setting much to the play. The choruses perfectly executed. The organ and the xylophone solo by Catherine Fletcher rendered excellent numbers.

The entertainment showed splendid enough training and was a treat to the Sunday School, the play-diretors, Mrs. H. D. Little and S. P. Foster and Miss Marshall, under whose direction supervising the entertainment given.

FERS A BROKEN SHOULDER.

William Luick had the misfortune to fall and break her shoulder, evening, near the D. U. H. room.

ERNEST DANCER LOSES FOOT IN ACCIDENT

Crushed by Large Piece of Metal Which Fell.

Ernest Dancer while working at the Michigan Portland Cement plant Saturday had his left ankle crushed, necessitating the amputation of the foot just above the ankle.

Dancer was passing from the warehouse to another building to get a drink of water about 3 o'clock Saturday and passed by a car from which large pieces of sheet metal were being unloaded. One of these pieces weighing approximately 900 pounds fell and struck Mr. Dancer just above the ankle, crushing it.

A local physician was called who gave first aid, and then the injured man was rushed to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor, where it was found necessary to amputate the left foot just above the ankle.

Mr. Dancer is doing as well as can be expected. He is in a greatly weakened condition because of the loss of blood.

CROOK IN "SKIN DEEP" WINS RESPECT OF SOLDIERS

Ex-Convict Cheered by Veterans for Bravery.

Facing "Bud" Doyle, as he sat in the place of honor on a long platform were hundreds of disabled soldiers veterans of the World War. In the crowd were "buddies" who had fought by Bud's side in the trenches, and gone over the top at the zero hour.

A hand seemed to catch at his throat and the ex-convict who had "atoned" at the risk of his life for past misdeeds choked suddenly as the faces before him blurred.

Some one was speaking—the doctor who had picked up a mangled mass of a man in convict's uniform and rebuilt the repulsive features of a crook into a handsome countenance.

"There was a ringing cheer as the doctor acclaimed the convict with the new face" the hero of the hour for invaluable services to the cause of the disabled veterans.

You will want to cheer him, too, when you see Thomas H. Ince's "Skin Deep" at the Princess Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, under the auspices of the Herbert L. McKun Post of the American Legion.

CHELSEA PARTIES MAKE EXCEPTIONAL TRIP TO COAST

Two Chelsea boys, Clayton and Raymond Webb, left Detroit about seven o'clock on the morning of Oct. 24th in a Buick Six for Hollywood, Calif. They reached their destination during the morning of Nov. 5th. This is one of the fastest trips that has been made across the country by motor the two men travelled only during the day. Word was received by relatives here of their safe arrival at the western coast. According to a letter from one of the men, they made Chicago the first day, covering 307 miles. They were held up one day, on account of a bridge being washed out, and for 150 miles they went through mud that came up almost to the hub. For another stretch they had deep snow to plow through. They report a wonderful trip, even after all the tribulations. The two expect to remain in the west for some time.

Opera Star Forms Her Own Company

FLORENCE MACBETH

To be of royal blood and a famous opera star is not enough for Florence Macbeth of the Chicago operatic forces, who has now become an impresario, formed her own company and is planning to tour the United States with the opera "The Secret of Suzanne." Other women before her, like Mary Garden, have achieved distinction by directing an opera company. By promoting the company in which she will be the principal factor, Miss Macbeth has gone further than her contemporaries.

HIS 1923 THANKSGIVING DINNER

CAR CRASHES INTO FENCE TO MISS HITTING TRAIN

Unknown Motorist Makes Getaway After Breaking Two Concrete Posts.

Sombody evidently thought it better to hit a cement post than to try and stop a fast passenger train. Saturday evening, and all will agree that the party used their head. A Maxwell touring car coming down Main street at a good rate of speed, said to be driven by a woman, turned off the street and ran over the curbing and into the fence around the Michigan Central property, in order to avert running onto the tracks in front of a fast train.

The car ran over the curb and sidewalk and into the fence, breaking two of the concrete posts and bending the metal piping between the posts.

The car evidently was not damaged to any great extent, as the driver backed out and went on as soon as the train had passed. As far as can be determined the person driving the car or the owner are not known. From all evidence no one was hurt. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Agnes Ellsworth is back in school after a short absence due to an injured foot.

Berbert Kilmer, sophomore, has left high school.

The boy's basket ball team are practicing regularly and are preparing for the games as they appear on the schedule, this schedule is not entirely arranged but is rapidly nearing completion.

On Friday evening, November 23, a team from Ann Arbor will journey to Chelsea. This team is composed of a mixture of students. It is a strong team and will give the green and white a real battle. The lineup for this team is not exactly known but it will be a great game for the boys. The high school team has as good a lineup and has not been beaten in some time by any high schools of this class. They have a splendid record and deserve our support. Let's all go and give Chelsea our loyal support. Let's help them win the first game of the season. The high school will all be present to cheer the boys and boost them to an overwhelming victory. Let's make the first game a good one. Tickets will soon be on sale at a very reasonable rate so that no one will be excused from attending the first big game of the season.

GRASS LAKE SCHOOL PUPILS VISIT AUTO SHOW MONDAY.

A large group of pupils from the Grass Lake school motored to Chelsea Monday afternoon where they spent some time visiting the auto show and having a good time about the Chelsea schools and town. The Grass Lake school closed Monday afternoon in observance of Armistice Day.

Ladybirds are bred systematically in France and Italy to destroy insect enemies of grapevines.

One tells she has a fellow so stingy he figures out how much it costs him her hug.

TRIBUNE SMILES

Excellent way to learn football is by kicking every lap dog you see and then running.

Football players must be tough. They must be tough as cafe steaks. Eating cafe steaks will help them.

Never feel a football player on raw meat. It is dangerous. He may bite off his girl's nose.

Looking for needles in haystacks will train a football player's eyes to see the point.

Best way to train a footballer is make him fall in love. Then he will fight like a bulldog.

FAMILY ARRIVES FROM RUSSIA

Mrs. Aron Marofsky and family arrived in Chelsea Sunday night from Poland, Russia. Mr. Marofsky has anxiously awaited the arrival of his family for some time. Friday he went to Detroit to await their coming, and during the many hours of waiting he finally became so tired he could not keep awake. His family arrived in Detroit in the evening and when not met by her husband Mrs. Marofsky again boarded the train and came to Chelsea. The train was not supposed to stop here but the conductor made arrangements, and allowed the family to get off. During all this time Mr. Marofsky was in Detroit waiting. Local parties cared for the mother and children who were at a loss here, and Mr. Marofsky was wired for in Detroit. His expressions of joy at seeing his family are beyond words.

On the Banks of the Wabash
THE RED LOCK
By DAVID ANDERSON

The title does not refer to canal construction, although the story is written about a period when canals and other waterways were the principal avenues of transportation; it does not refer to doors, bolts or bars; in fact, you will be greatly surprised and interested when you learn just what the title does mean.

It is a romance from our grandfathers' days, of Indiana and its famous river; when men were strong and fought for the favor of women; when adventure was life and hearts attuned to its when souls thrilled at the prospect of conquest; when emotions were simple and actions direct. It brings vividly to mind the days of fore steam, electricity and machinery were common, and modes of life were similar to those of prior centuries.

A Fascinating Serial Starting in
THE CHELSEA TRIBUNE, FRIDAY NOVEMBER 16.

FIRST AUTO SHOW IS BIG SUCCESS

Patrons as Well as Exhibitors Well Pleased With Show.

The first automobile show held in Chelsea on Sunday and Monday of this week was an overwhelming success in every respect. The show opened Sunday morning and visitors were there early. Throughout the entire day and evening the City Motor Sales building on North Main street was kept filled with people.

Monday was another successful day with still more crowds who were all desirous of seeing the displays. The exhibitors are to be highly complimented on the extremely beautiful displays that were made. The cars were all beautiful and a prospect was held in wonder as to which was the best.

The interior of the building was cleverly decorated aiding greatly to the display. In the front show room were cars and also an elaborate display of radio equipment which included the latest known improvements in this line. The rear of the building was filled with cars of the various exhibitors that were indeed impressive.

During both afternoons and evenings an orchestra entertained the many visitors with music. While the orchestra was not playing radio programs from various broadcasting stations was a means of entertainment. At all times the visitors were kept entertained.

The first day of the show assured its success, when at least 1,000 people visited the building and witnessed the wonderful exhibits. Monday there was another large crowd that came to look at the display.

As the last visitors left Monday evening they expressed the hope that the show might be made an annual one, feeling assured that the only limit that could be reached would be the one made because of lack of floor space.

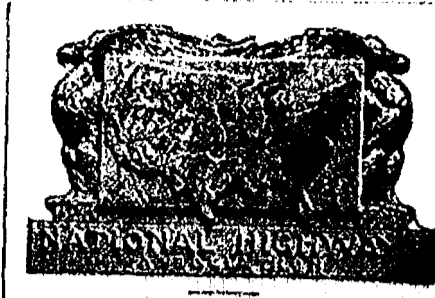

HOG CHOLERA IN COUNTY

Few Scattered Cases Located.

According to reports of County Agent Osler, Washtenaw County has been comparatively free from hog cholera during the fall. Only a few cases have been reported. There has been a small outbreak in the southwestern part of the county and also along the Lenawee county line and a case or two in the vicinity of Ypsilanti. The promptness of neighboring farmers in vaccinating their herds has done much to prevent its spread in these communities. In order for vaccination to be effective it must be done before the hogs become sick. It is a preventative and not a cure. Once the animals contract the disease it is unfortunately that they ever recover. Farmers having sick hogs should report name immediately. Services of the Federal Veterinarian can be secured for diagnosing this disease. The County Agent asks that farmers be prompt in their reports so that all cases can be immediately investigated.

The world's gold supply is increased at an average rate of $400,000,000 annually.

Our summer resort will be resorting to the ice box from now on.

Newspaper Association Member No. 2574
PRESIDENT HARDING
FRIEND OF GOOD ROADS

Believe in Federal Participation in Construction

The late Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, thought as clearly and as logically upon the great question of road construction and improvement as he did upon other public questions of far-reaching importance. Now that death has added emphasis to the words of wisdom he uttered, it is well to recall his pronouncement in regards to roads. In his first message to Congress, Mr. Harding said:

"Transportation over the highways is little less important (referring to the railroads), but the problems relate to construction and development, and deserve your most earnest attention, because we are laying a foundation for a long time to come, and the creation is very difficult to visualize in its great possibilities.

"The highways are not only feeders to the railroads and afford relief from their local burdens, they are actually lines of motor traffic in interstate commerce. They are the smaller arteries of the larger portion of our commerce, and the motor car has become an indispensable instrument in our political, social, and industrial life.

"There is begun a new era in highway construction the outlay for which runs far into hundreds of millions of dollars. Bond issues by road districts, counties, and states mount to enormous figures, and the country is facing such an outlay that it is vital that every effort shall be directed against wasted effort and unjustifiable expenditure.

"The Federal Government can place no inhibition on the expenditure in the several states; but, since Congress has embarked upon a policy of assisting the states in highway improvement, wisely, I believe, it can assert a wholly becoming influence in shaping policy.

"With the principle of Federal participation acceptably established probably never to be abandoned, it is important to exert Federal influence in developing comprehensive plans looking to the promotion of commerce and apply our expenditure in the surest way to guarantee a public return for money expended."

THE STEP BEYOND FEDERAL AID

Common Sense Applied to the Nation's Road-Building Program

It is generally recognized that existing roads fall into four classes: Interstate roads, state roads (important to the whole state), county roads (important to the whole county), and local roads, serving only a small part of a county.

The United States Government recognizes the importance of the interstate road by providing in the Federal Aid act, that interstate roads of a mileage not to exceed seven percent of the total system, may receive Federal aid in construction.

States recognize the importance of the state road, and build it, often wholly from state funds. Counties build their own roads and sometimes local roads, although many such are enterprises constructed by a community of less size than the county.

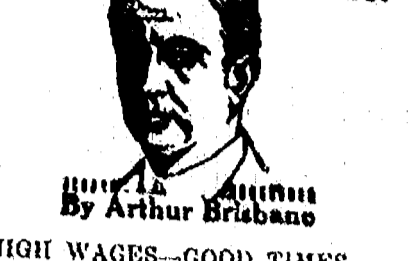

State roads and interstate roads usually join. Some state roads may not have good connections across a state line, but as a general rule they do; indeed, many interstate roads become truly national in scope, and become known by their national name as the National Old Trail Road, the Lincoln Highway, the Lee Highway, etc.

It is the argument of those who believe that the United States should go further than Federal aid, and become the original constructor and permanent maintainer of truly national roads; that, just as states build state roads, counties build county roads, and communities build local roads, so should the nation build the main interstate trunk lines; that there are roads which truly serve the whole nation, which should be built by and maintained by the whole nation, just as there are state roads which truly serve the whole state and which the states recognize are rightly built and maintained by the state.

BROKE HIS HIP.

Mr. Frank Ford, age 78 years, had the misfortune to fall down stairs, breaking his right hip, at the Methodist Home.

This Week

HIGH WAGES—GOOD TIMES A REAL RADIOGRAM. TO HANG FOR AN IDEA. McADOO, JOHNSON AND FORD. AMLE BRITISH STATESMAN.

What makes the United States prosperous? Answer. High wages. Citroen, the greatest French manufacturer of automobiles, says everybody in France ought to have his own automobile. The trouble is: "In America the workman, saving one day's pay per week can buy an automobile with the money at the end of a year. In France it would take a Frenchman's entire salary for two years."

If you want a good crop, put water and fertilizer on the land. If you want a prosperous country, put good wages in the pockets of those that work.

It all comes back to the big people in dollars for one.

If you are a radio enthusiast, and understand such things, you will be interested in the latest announcement. A message, receiving its only impulse on this side of the ocean, made the trip of 9,000 miles to Warsaw and back twenty times, a total distance of 360,000 miles. That is almost twice as far as light and electricity travel in one second. It amazes us now. We see it, and work it, and know nothing about it. Some day we'll send messages to outside suns, ending with "please answer," knowing that at 186,000 miles a second the answer will not be back in time for our grandchildren to read it.

Eugene V. Debs says prison didn't frighten him. Right now he would "hang for an idea." That's noble, once in a while, although you must first be sure that your idea is sound. For one man hanged for a good idea, ten thousand have been hanged for ideas thoroughly bad.

If you have a sound idea, don't hang for it. Publish it, repeat it, persuade others to accept it. Voltaire opposed torture of witnesses, breaking every miserable judge in one famous case, after a fight of many years. He defied Frederick the Great and greater powers, and finally died peacefully in his bed, nearly eight-five years old, rich in money, adored by the people that drew his carriage through the streets. He showed the right way to deal with an idea. That was better than poor John Brown of Harpers Ferry, never living to see anything accomplished.

It takes one kind of ability to 'hang' for an idea, and it takes a higher kind, to convert or hang those that oppose the idea when it is right.

McAdoo lets it be known that he is in the race for President. Of course he is, being the most conspicuous Democratic candidate.

Hiram Johnson will be in the ring also. This is a free for all, and Hiram Johnson probably can get more votes in Presidential primaries than any other Republican. Albert Lasker will work for Johnson as he did for Harding. He's a first class dynamo.

One of Mr. Ford's secretaries says he wouldn't accept the nomination for the Presidency. But it isn't Liebold, the real secretary, and probably doesn't mean much.

Mr. Ford has his day for Presidential running and his days for forgetting all about it. If the nomination should come on the right day he would probably take it. Meanwhile he's starting a plant near Philadelphia, to cost twenty or thirty millions, and hire a few thousand men at high wages. That's not bad politics.

Honar Law lies in Westminster Abbey. American tourists fifty years from now will look at his grave and ask: "Who in heaven's name was that?" as they pass on to the place where Pitt and his father, Chatham, lie in the same grave.

Honar Law's family is pleased. That is what the burial was for.

They dug up Cromwell and stuck his head on a spear for every one to laugh at and let it gradually go to pieces. They dug up and sent to the dust of Voltaire. But men of that kind, real men, don't need burial in Westminster Abbey. There wouldn't be room in any building for names as big as theirs.

The Government learns that taxes on sales of jewelry haven't been paid. Careful watch is being made, also with regard to household furniture. (Continued on page two.)

THE CHELSEA TRIBUNE

C. W. Klamser, Publisher H. W. Klamser, Editor

Entered at the Postoffice at Chelsea, Michigan, as second-class matter.

Published Every TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

OFFICE:—102 JACKSON STREET

Address all communications to the Tribune, Chelsea, Michigan

The Chelsea Tribune is mailed to any address in the United States at $1.50 the year, 75 cents for six months and 40 cents for three months.

OUR POLICIES

Let us all get together for a bigger and better Chelsea. A sewerage system for Chelsea. A building program that is bound to build.

COOLIDGE NOT A PATERNALIST

The country is getting a lot of satisfaction and reassurance from the fact that President Coolidge is not one of that group of political leaders who believe in legislation as the cure for all ills.

The agricultural products of the United States are worth a billion dollars more this year than last, but prices are not good especially for hogs and wheat in comparison with prices the farmer must pay government fixing of prices on the products.

Fortunately Mr. Coolidge is of that deliberative turn of mind which does not easily go into hysterics. He did not immediately call a special session, nor did he finally refuse.

What the country needs is not more legislation but less. The business world wants relief from the injurious and hampering demand that its leading managers be sent to Washington to attend innumerable "hearings."

WANTING TO STOP

Man, did you ever try to stop smoking? Probably your experience was a lot like Rodger Dolan's. Dolan had high blood pressure. It was the nervous kind, not due to hardening of the arteries.

"Your smoking too much," the doctor explained. "Nicotine is over stimulating the adrenal glands. Makes them manufacture and cast into the blood stream too much adrenaline. This superpowerful drug over stimulates the heart and constricts the 'pipes' thru which the blood flows.

Dolan swore off. Nearly drove him wild. Seemed that everybody suddenly began offering him fine cigars. He could smell tobacco smoke a block away. Chomped gum, package after package. Couldn't sleep nights. Fought the battle six days. Then surrendered.

Later the doctor, warm friend of Dolan, tried a psychological experiment. He said: "Radger, your lungs are in dangerous shape. I don't want to alarm you, but you'll have to be extremely careful. Smoking is the worst thing you can do. It irritates the lungs. Quit altogether? I don't care. That's up to you.

Dolan experienced a sudden chill. He had a vision of himself dying from tuberculosis. He suddenly discovered that life was more attractive to him than tobacco. Quit? Instantly. Easily.

Now he learns, from the doctor, that he was hoaxed. Nothing wrong with his lungs except bronchitis.

"It taught me," says Dolan, "that I was unable to quite smoking that first time because I didn't really want to quite. I hypnotized myself into believing I couldn't quite. Properly scared, I hypnotized myself into believing I could quite—and had to. It's all a matter of mental attitude—imagination."

MAKING THE GOOD FIGHT

A doctor tells us that autopsies reveal four people out of five have had a struggle with tuberculosis at some time or other during life. This is shown by scars in the lungs, indicating that the dread disease had been overcome by the body's power of resistance.

Keep the general health in good shape and there aren't many diseases that a person need worry about. Exposure to bad weather, strain, over work, lack of sleep and overeating—these are the chief things that lower the body's powers of resistance.

FEWER STRONG MEN

The he man is becoming extinct in our country, claims an Indiana health expert. He refers to the muscular man of great strength and endurance, with the courage to back them up.

There's something to the health expert's idea. It's still easy to find plenty of men for athletics and the hard industrial jobs. But as a race we're weak compared with the he man who pioneered America. Sitting in an auto instead of walking—that's one reason. However, as we get weaker in muscles, we may get stronger in the brain.

A man who landed in Chicago without a cent owes $4,000,000 now.

WHISPERS

Ah-h! That's it. Dorothy: "Oh, mother, the new family next door have got two little girls and a baby boy what was born in a Ford."

Mother: "Dorothy, what are you talking about. A baby born in a Ford? How do you know?" Dorothy: "One of the little girls said they had a bouncing baby brother, too."

At Dumb Dan's House Son (sticking head through door): "Hey, Pop, the garbage man is here." Father (still shaving): "Tell him we don't want any today."

Pets Must Exercise. It was on a city side street leading to the four-foot square of green grass, called a park, that an awkward youth carried a bird cage in which sat a contented Tom cat.

"What are you doing with that cat in a cage?" asked Nosey. "Taking the missus' bird out for an airing," was the reply.

"Where's the bird?" "Inside the cat."

In a short time the youth returned, leading a bulldog.

"Where to now, Simple?" again asked Nosey.

"Taking the missus' cat home."

"Where's the cat?"

"Inside the dog."

Giddap, Napoleon.

We've Heard This Before. The maple syrup's runnin', We've honey stored away, Waffles are a delightful dish On a cool October day.

And so is "pumpkin" pie.

Just Like That.

Crabby Diner — "Well, if this is chicken, I'm an old fool."

Sweet Young Waitress — "Quite right, sir. It's chicken."

Something to Attain.

Jones: "What is your highest ambition?"

Bones: "To be as good as the man my wife says she could have married if she hadn't married me."

It Might Be Coming.

Suitor (fervently leading up to possible proposal climax:—"Oh, Helen, I have had something hesitating on my lips for some time."

Helen: "Yes, I have noticed it—but shave it off, George. It'll never grow."

Specific.

Burglar (to lawyer who has just succeeded in having him acquitted)—"Thanks, sir, I'll drop in and see you some time."

Lawyer — "Why—er—yes. But make it in the day time."

THIS WEEK

(Continued from page one) libraries and musical instruments."

Could you imagine anything more barbarous, more worthy of a Congo savage than putting a tax on the sale of household furniture and especially on the sale of libraries and musical instruments?

Why not tax a child two cents every time it says its prayers? Reading a good book or hearing good music is the next best thing to praying.

The son of the former Kaiser, once Crown Prince, has obtained permission to leave Holland. The dispatch says that he is talking of a trip to Switzerland "to enjoy the Winter sports."

Germans, wondering how their children will be fed this winter, will read that with interest.

Celebrations of National Apple Week, with "Michigan Apples for Michigan Folks," as its slogan, were held at Detroit. Other sections of the country emphasized in many ways the importance of apples as a food, their abundance at this time of the year, and urging the people to use their own home-grown apples.

Governors and mayors have taken occasion to call the attention of the people to Apple Week through proclamations.

For the first time in its history Monroe had a real Halloween festival. It was given under the auspices of the Monroe Community Service, formed recently. The parade was more than a mile long, with practically every organization in the city represented.

Exercises were held on the public square, attended by 5,000 people. With tents and booths erected the scene resembled a Mardi Gras celebration.

Captain John Stevenson, Detroit, state representative, who served Michigan in the role of purchasing agent in connection with the acquisition of two new boats to be used in state ferry service at the Straits of Mackinac, has been advised that the boats have left Boston under their own steam, for Detroit. They are the "Colonel Card" and the "Colonel Bond," both practically new vessels.

Ann Arbor's 1923 tax rate totals $30.92 per $1,000 assessed valuation, an increase of 63 cents over 1922. The assessed valuation of the city this year is $39,285,250, compared with $35,752,300 a year ago, the total valuation of the county now being $87,572,763. Ann is making up the 1923 tax rate are state, $3.30; county, $5.25; city, $10.54; school, $11.80.

PEGGY'S CORNER

Address all communications to Peggy, care of the Tribune.

Brown Bread. One cup molasses, one cup butter, one cup sugar, one cup flour, one cup white flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon baking powder. Bake in a loaf pan.

To Decorate a Davenport. Make a cretonne slip cover to cover your worn out davenport and you will be surprised at the results.

Mark Your Table Cloth's in the hem, stating size. Then you will not have to hunt through the lot to find the size you want.

When Humming Net Curtains, pin hem in with wire hair pins. They stay better than ordinary pins.

Good Form.—Salt should be taken from the open cellar with a salt spoon. If no spoon is provided a clean spoon by the plate or the blade of a clean knife can be used, but never a spoon or knife that has been used. Do not put the salt on the table cloth, nor distribute it over the food, put it in one spot on the plate and take a small portion on the end of the fork when eating savourless food.

Manicuring.—The first requisite for a good manicure is the possession of proper tools, and these are so inexpensive, comparatively speaking, that it is curious how many women fail to acquire them. They are not many and it is best perhaps to purchase them separately rather than in a set. Ask for the style used by professional manicurists, and of the very best steel.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Our Phone No. 193

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Walworth and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Walworth attended the Michigan-Marine game, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Litterer spent Sunday with Mrs. Litterer's mother, Mrs. Schenk, at Sylvan.

Mr. Paul Maroney entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staffan, Miss Roxanna Alexander, Miss Jessie Clark and Herbert Schenk, Sunday, at his cottage at Cavanaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Freeman were in Chelsea Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Haarer of Detroit, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Noyes.

Mrs. H. Spiegelberg and daughter Enid of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday with Chelsea relatives.

Miss Lillian Hawley of Jackson, was a Chelsea visitor, Sunday.

The bake sale and bazaar given by the Rebekah lodge No. 130, Saturday afternoon, at their hall was a fine success and netted the society $70.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kline and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of North Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Bitten and Mr. and Mrs. L. Runciman of Brighton, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cooper and family of Waterloo, spent the weekend at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Runciman.

Miss Roxanna Alexander of Wayne, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staffan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hunt of Ann Arbor, were in Chelsea Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Schenk have as their house guest for the week, Mrs. Robert Lee Rabson of Springfield, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, and George, spent Sunday in Sharon, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Alber.

Mrs. J. Dann, Mrs. L. H. Liebeck, and Mrs. Howard Gilbert are spending the day in Detroit.

Mrs. Edith Contant spent the weekend in Detroit.

Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Detroit, delightfully entertained the following ladies from Chelsea at a theater party, Friday, November 9: Mesdames Earl Updike, J. H. Boyd, M. J. Baxter, John Freymuth and J. E. Weber.

Mrs. C. Steinbach and son Albert of Detroit, spent the weekend in Dexter, at the home of her son, Henry Steinbach.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Steger spent Sunday in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plemeier and son Paul, spent Sunday at Springport, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alber of Ann Arbor, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alber.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kanteleher and Fred Brocstamle of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Kanteleher of Jackson, spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kanteleher.

Three hundred and three years ago a band of Pilgrims from the Old Country, "unroofed their bark on a wild New England shore." Nine weeks previous this brave band, one hundred in number, fleeing religious persecution, had left Plymouth, England, in their little ship, the Mayflower, and started west across the broad, stormy ocean to the land of freedom.

This was the coming of our "Pilgrim Fathers," and the place of their landing in Massachusetts was known as Plymouth Rock.

Scarcely had these brave pioneers become settled in their new colony when the terrible New England winter was upon them. The suffering which they endured is evidenced by the fact that before the following summer one-half of the party had died.

Nothing daunted, those who were spared, happy in their new-found freedom, stayed on, planted their crops, and prepared for the following winter.

In 1621, the year following their landing, after a good harvest, the Colonists determined on a period of restoration combined with Thanksgiving for their many mercies.

The Governor sent out four hunt-men, who in one day secured enough game to supply the colony for nearly a week.

This was the original American Thanksgiving. For two hundred years it continued to be an Eastern holiday, taking place after every fall harvest. Today it is a national custom, the day being observed throughout the United States.

In commemorating this birth of our nation let us remember that it was founded and raised on the Bible; that religion came first and business was a secondary consideration; that the laws of men were based upon the laws of God; and that the church was the first and most important organization of every community.

The best that is in us we owe to these sober, uncompromising, God-fearing New Englanders. And the farther we drift from their stern teachings and tenets, the greater is our danger of shipwreck as a nation and as individuals.

"By Marcus."

Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank

Founded 1876

Three Per Cent Interest on Savings

The extra quality's there, all right. Without it you couldn't have the easy starting, quick acceleration, abundant power that comes when Staebler gasoline is used.

Costs you no more than ordinary kinds

Woodman's Supplies that stand the test

Axes, saws, choppers, mauls and wedges. The necessity of quality in such tools is realized by all.

Linoleums---Many designs Robes and Blankets

Good used cook stove, priced right

A. G. HINDELANG

Phone 2

Twice-a-Week Chelsea Tribune $1.50-a-Year

Fresh and Salt

Fish

also

Oysters

every day

FRED C. KLINGLER

CHELSEA, MICH.

C. M. GIBSON

CHIROPRACTOR

Fenn Building, Chelsea, Mich.

Office Hours:

Mondays and Fridays

9 to 12 A. M.

Wednesdays and Saturdays

7 to 9 P. M.

Phone: Ann Arbor 241-M

DETROIT UNITED LINES

CHELSEA TIME TABLE

Eastern Standard Time. — Eff. July 10, 1923.

Limited Cars

For Detroit 8:45 a. m. and two hours to 8:45 p. m.

For Jackson 9:15 a. m. and two hours to 9:15 p. m.

Express Cars

Eastbound—7:14 a. m., 9:30

and every two hours to 7:30 p. m.

Westbound—10:25 a. m. and

two hours to 8:25 p. m., 10:22

Express cars make local stops at Ann Arbor.

Local Cars

Eastbound—10:25 p. m. For

Ann Arbor only, 11:52 p. m.

Westbound—8:25 a. m., 12:30

Cars connect at Ypsilanti for line and at Wayne for Plymouth Northville.

Three wrecked fishermen used for signals. Not always best to your shirt on.

The Cortlandts of Washington Square

by Janet A. Fairbank

COPYRIGHT BY THE DODDS-HEARILL CO.

"You'll do nothing of the sort. This isn't—it's going to rain. . . . Ann? Stop, I tell you!"

"Take your hand off me!" She shook Peter off, and stalked away from him; she walked so rapidly, alone in the dark streets, thinking bitterly that it was for this she had left her guardian. Subconsciously she listened for Peter's footsteps, but she heard no sound, and concluded that he had left her to go without him. Miserable tears began to steal down her cheeks.

In a few moments there came a great rattling, and a clatter of a horse coming toward her over the rough pavement. A carriage stopped furiously to the curb, and she swerved nervously away as a man burst from its dark interior, but at once she knew it was Peter. He seized her roughly, and drew her, unwilling, into the misty privacy of the back. He kissed her wet face passionately.

"Ann! Don't cry. I've got such a devil of a temper! I'm sorry. Don't sob like that! I never knew what I say when I'm angry! It was all my fault, Ann, kiss me!"

She kissed him, her frozen anger melted by the fire of his contrition, and in reconciliation she found a new stimulation to love. . . . It was late when she went to sleep. . . . Long after Peter was deep in slumber, she lay, very still and wide-eyed in the dark, thinking things over. She bore no rancor; her forgiveness was complete, but she recognized something in her life, with which she must reckon. . . . Peter's temper. . . . Presently she slipped one finger into the loose crease of her sleeping husband's hand, and yet the touch did not entirely reassure her.

In the morning Peter was all sunny good humor. He went off to work reluctantly, and yet she knew that he was eager to start again. And so their life together began.

For the first few weeks Ann was completely absorbed in her housework. In a month she had learned to have the essentials of a simple meal all ready at the same time, but she never became more than a fair cook. She worked all day, just as Peter did, but often she walked to the shop with him in the morning, and came home laden with packages from the cheaper stores of Hasted street. It was not, it is true, what she had imagined her life with Peter would be, on the morning they had discussed it in Washington square, but after two months of marriage Ann felt infinitely removed from the girl she had been. She was all wife; her life hung on Peter. The two laughed at each other like children; they played foolish games together, and called each other ridiculous names.

In due time Ann's trunk arrived. Her things were just as she had left them, but there was not a word from the Cortlandts. Peter came in his dinner, to find her brooding, and his meal was not ready. He said unkind things of the Cortlandts, while she tried his chops.

About her center the war raged on, and now interest in the Army of the Tennessee, for the western newspapers printed little of the exploits of the Army of the Potomac. Often Peter took her to Union mass meetings. They stood swaying back and forth with the crowd in the Court House square on the night that George Hood's "Battle Cry of Freedom" was sung for the first time. Every one joined in the chorus, and Ann put all the fervor of her nature into it, but except for fiery moments like this, the war seemed to her remote. It was dwarfed by her personal experience.

"Dear Ann:

"I write this letter to you with great apprehension, for my mother has strictly forbidden further intercourse between us, and you know, Ann, I am just scared to death, but I cannot get married without telling you about it.

"I am to wed my cousin Hendricks on the twentieth day of December. When he is to have a leave of absence from the Army of the Potomac, for a whole fortnight.

"I am to be wed in your white satin dress, which you left behind you. Your other fine clothes my uncle, who is now returned from Europe, directs shall be sent you, even the black velvet, which surely is more suited to a New York matron than to the wife of a Chicago mechanic.

"How could you so misbehave yourself, Ann, when my uncle had even made your wedding settlements, and that good young count so adored you? My mother says blood will tell, and I suppose she is right, but I hope you are happy, even with Peter.

"With love,

"FANNY."

Until she knew her guardian had returned and had made no effort to communicate with her, Ann was not aware of how confidently she had counted on his doing so. Even the fact that Mr. Cortlandt's silence shut her off with her husband, was an inadequate consolation. She could not rouse herself to any interest in Fanny's marriage, although she was indignant at her slighting reference to Peter.

"They still do not think you are good enough for me," she told him. "It's laughable."

"Things had been going better with Peter of late. Ann was enormously proud of him, every day that passed buried deeper that remote time when she had been his superior.

He took Fanny's letter and slowly read it. "It's natural enough, I suppose," he said, "but things will go hard with me if I don't make more of a success of my life than your Captain Hemmester does of his." He glanced over the note again, briefly. Then he said, "That velvet dress, Ann, why don't you send it back to her for a wedding present?"

Ann gazed at the magnificence of this gesture, but she was delighted at the idea; after all, she wanted to send Fanny something in proof of her affection.

It was only the next day she looked out of her front window to see a station hack come laboring down the street. Ann was sorry for the laboring horses, but her interest was impersonal until, unexpectedly, they stopped before her gate, and a sudden pronunciation turned her white. A hand on the door handle inside the lowered glass had a familiar look, and she could see the sharp lines of a silk hat in the dusk of the interior. She rushed to the front door and flung it wide, and there was her guardian in her open gate. He paused at the bottom of the short flight of steps, looking up at her, too agitated to move. The sun was in his eyes; Ann's red hair was like a nebula about the pearl white of her face. In the instant that they stood gazing at each other, their old companionship was re-established without a word. She aroused herself and ran down to him; she hung her arms around him and kissed him; she found that she was in tears, but it made no difference.

Mr. Cortlandt said, "My dear, to see you again!"

She thought how old he looked, and broken. She tried to help him up her steep steps, and once inside the house she told him how sorry she was that she should have disappointed him.

Mr. Cortlandt brushed all this away with a brusque gesture. "Never mind that, Ann," he said. "Are you happy? That is what I came to Chicago to find out."

Ann clung tightly to his hand. "Now that I have you again, I am," she assured him. "I can't tell you about Peter; you will have to see for yourself. He is just right for me, uncle. Those others—somehow they were all wrong."

"You are in love with him, then?"

Ann's wide eyes laughed. "Yes," she said. "I should say I am. I am awfully in love with him. Of course I know he is only a workman, but there are plenty of men out here, uncle, who began like that, and now they are getting on their feet."

"You can bring him back to New York, Ann. I don't believe I can live without you, and I can easily get him something to do."

The radiant joy was swept from Ann's face. "It's dreadful not to go to you when you want me," she said soberly, "but Peter would never consent, uncle. He has his own life out here, and it is my life too. You must understand about Peter. He loves his work more than anything in the world, except me. Sometimes I am afraid he loves it more than me, even, but I am proud of him for it, uncle. Even to be near you, I wouldn't have him leave it."

The look of discouragement and fatigue cleared from Mr. Cortlandt's face. "That is as it should be, my child," he said. "Possibly you have been wiser than I could have been for you. You have always been an instinctive creature. . . . I should have trusted to your instinct in this. . . . I hope I shall like your Peter. . . . And now put on your hat and we'll drive down and surprise him at his shop."

They drove back along Washington street, which was gay with the crowd going to the race at the new Chicago Driving park. About them the busy young town sprawled unconcerned. The trees of the Garden city still held some of their autumn leaves; the prairie sky above them was a deep unshaded blue; the clean wind of the lake had an edge which made Mr. Cortlandt glad of his overcoat. He turned to look at Ann smuggled beside him, clear skinned, calm eyed and keen. She had a look of capacity for experience, and something his bet- ter acceptance of life made the old man, too, untroubled.

[THE END]

An echo of an accident six years ago was experienced by Orville Thoms, 16 years old, of North Plains Township near Ionia recently. Six years ago, Orville fell out of a cherry tree and landed on a piece of glass chimney, suffering a bad wound in the foot. At that time a physician removed a piece of glass from the foot. Subsequently young Thoms experienced no trouble until the other day when a sore appeared on the other side of his foot. He was taken to a physician who removed a piece of glass about the same size as the first.

Sturgis' new Memorial Hospital will be ready next spring. This announcement followed the signing of an agreement with the heirs of the late William C. Grebbiser, furniture manufacturer, by which $250,000 bequeathed in his will, becomes available immediately for construction purposes, and an additional $25,000 is made available for an endowment fund to help maintain the institution. The city recently voted $75,000 from the municipal treasury for construction. The hospital will be erected on a five-acre plat just east of Sturgis.

RED CROSS HELPS WAR'S SUFFERERS

Aids 200,000 Veterans and Their Families—27,000 Disabled Still in Hospitals.

SPELDS $5,866,255 IN YEAR

Individual Attention Assured to All Physically Ailing or in Distress.

Washington. — War service five years after the armistice, which on November 11 the American Red Cross marks with the opening of the annual membership canvass, shows that during the past year assistance was extended by the Red Cross to some 200,000 ex-service men or their families. To 136 hospitals throughout the country approximately 75,000 ex-service men were admitted for treatment, and to 62,296 of these men definite and specialized service was extended. In all hospitals under government operation a total of nearly 27,000 disabled veterans were reported by the Surgeon General of the Army.

These facts of the aftermath of physical and mental disability five years after the World War, and the burden resting upon the relations and dependents of the ex-service men, show conclusively the great need of the Red Cross to act as a supplementary arm of the government in service to these many thousands of men who were the nation's in the United States. It should be emphasized that government assistance is necessarily standardized along special lines affecting them as a whole. The Red Cross service is to the individual man and the solution of his problems. This the Red Cross designates "home service" for its aim to give the loving care and interest of the home to these men undergoing physical reconditioning far from their actual home influences.

Year's Expenditures $5,866,255

In the year ended last June 30 the Red Cross reports $5,866,255 spent by its Chapters in extending individual attention to the ex-service men and $1,916,255 spent by National Headquarters of the Red Cross, a total of $5,866,255. In behalf of the men called to duty in the World War the Red Cross since July 1, 1917, has spent nearly $161,000,000. Today there are 2,508 Chapters in as many localities operating on this work, aiding the individual veteran, assisting his family, furnishing creature comforts and funds to tide over troublesome periods.

The strong connecting link between the Red Cross and the United States Veterans' Bureau takes the completion of all difficult cases of claims. The Red Cross in this work requiring personal representation of the ex-service man has acted in appeal cases, insurance matters, personal and family problems, camp and hospital activities, and in cases of death. This service handled nearly 12,000 compensation and insurance claims, and 2,225 allotment and other claims.

Solves Serious Problem

The financial problem of the ex-service man when traveling to and from hospitals is a serious one, and in meeting this constant demand the Red Cross expended $135,377 during the year. For extra recreational equipment in Veterans' Bureau training centers $14,206 was spent, and for the blind veterans in the government school funds were supplied to enable some of these unfortunate men to enter business as storekeepers and poultry raisers.

In Veterans' Bureau hospitals the record of a single month illustrates the large service rendered by the Red Cross. For example, 15,501 new cases required attention, and a total of 26,007 cases were acted upon; 42,365 letters and 1,833 telegraph messages written, and more than 1,600 entertainments given in recreation houses for the benefit of the patients.

Authorities declare that the present is a critical time in the lives of many of the disabled ex-service men who during the five years since the armistice have developed ailments of recovery.

Work Among the "Regulars"

Service to the enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps is a charter obligation of the Red Cross, which in the last year recorded over 200,000 cases of assistance extended and $1,420 visits to the sick and disabled. Inquiries by the Red Cross at the request of Government authorities into the home conditions of soldiers, sailors and marines aggregated 17,714, and there were nearly 6,000 instances where the Red Cross located men for their families.

All these activities constituting a single responsibility of the American Red Cross demonstrated during the year that its "war service" in behalf of the veteran and the man enlisted in the nation's defensive arms must go forward unflinchingly and with good will of funds. The work of the last five years has welded a close bond of regard between the men who sacrificed and the Red Cross, whose efforts are praised and indorsed by the veterans' organizations. To do all that can be done to soften the consequences of the hard blows of war is the supreme duty of the Red Cross, to which it is giving its best work and most liberal service.

John Riley, 59 years old, shot and killed John Chapp, 35 years old, father of seven children, in Riley's home on the Elyon-Mile road, near Royal Oak, Monday night, in a quarrel over three eggs.

After working 46 years on the canal locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Captain Charles Spaulding, 72, has been officially retired on pension as assistant superintendent of St. Mary's Falls canal. He built the first coal chute for loading steamers in 1878.

SPORTS

THIRTY YEARS OF FOOTBALL

CHARACTER OF ATHLETICS PAST AND PRESENT.

We treasure the memory of the good men who have gone before. This is true of the world's history, a nation's history, that of a state, and of a great university.

In every college and university there is a hall of fame where the heroes of the past are idolized by the younger generations. Trophies, portraits, old flags and banners hang there. They are rich in memories. And just so rich are the memories we have of the great athletes who have gone before.

So far as I can see, the character and instincts of football players have not changed materially from what they were thirty years ago. Men today, as they have been throughout all time, are led off the field of play battered and whipped physically, but fighting to go back and carry on the game, their bodies physically unfit but their spirit unconquerable.

As long as I have known the game of football, the players have always been men of the finest character who were willing to give their all for the benefit of their group which after all is a primary requisite in life under any conditions. I have taken untold pleasure in my associations with these men and their life and feeling has been hallowed into my heart.

Thirty years ago, men of great physique were a requisite of every football team and I suppose the old adage, a good big man is better than a good small man, still holds true. However, today, size is not necessary to a man's success on the football field. Granted of course that size is a worthy asset, I would rather have a small man, who possesses speed, nerve and instinct, than a large man who does not possess these powers. And I believe every coach will tell you the same thing.

Some authorities state that the game of football has changed with it. Of course the game does change and take on new aspects every year but I earnestly believe that football players today and thirty years ago possess the Approximately 3,000 of the men students in the University of Michigan are wholly or partially self-supporting, according to estimates made by Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, director of the university student employment bureau. More than 1,000 permanent and part-time jobs have been found for students so far this fall by the university bureau. In addition, the Michigan Union and the Student Christian Association also conduct employment bureaus which furnish hundreds of jobs for students.

For the first time in the history of the organization, the state and provincial health authorities of North America will hold their annual meeting outside of Washington, gathering in Lansing May, next year. It has been announced. This association is composed of commissioners of all states, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico and Philippine Islands. The convention was secured for Lansing through Dr. R. M. Otis, state health commissioner of Michigan.

Miss Oils Briggs, of Flint, and Miss Beulah L. MacMillan, of Ionia, who has been spending 18 months in the United States as representatives of the Congo Island mission, will leave soon for the Belgian Congo. Miss MacMillan already has spent two years in the Congo. Miss Briggs will make her first trip to this region, which they will penetrate to the land of one of the Bantu cannibal tribes, which has never seen a missionary.

A big bronze gobbler caused the villagers of Wayland, Hopkins and Martin to be without power and light recently, when Mr. Turk flew from a tree, where he had roosted for the night, into the transmission wires of the M. & W. Light & Power Co., causing a short circuit. The power company's linemen found the turkey beneath the wires with his head bare.

Mrs. Martha Portwine, 82 years old, and for 63 years a resident of Alpena, died there recently. The Portwine family was among the earliest settlers of that section.

Two hundred credit men of the state convened at Grand Rapids for the annual convention of the Michigan Credit Men's association.

Ephraim A. Jennings, 75 years old, Civil war veteran and at one time vice-president of the state G. A. R., died at Flint recently.

More than 400 degrees were awarded by the regents of the University of Michigan at their meeting this fall.

The Fremont apple and potato show, was the largest and best ever held by the Newaygo County Horticultural Society, according to County Agent Clair Taylor. A poultry exhibit was an added attraction.

The man whose muscles obey instantly develops into a far better player than his brother who has slow reaction and these same impulses have always been present in football as well as other games.

Football will go on indefinitely and every year will see new stars whose merits will be shouted to the four corners of the earth and they will be rightly claimed wizards of the game. Unquestionably they will be stars and will exemplify the very acme of football perfection but their characters defined will show the same true qualities that made the football players of the early days beloved by their admiring followers.

KITH and KIN

"Now here is a picture of Norman, brother Torrance's youngest boy. It was taken last Christmas. Isn't he cunning? Really—of all my Christmas remembrances, I prize this picture most. He's such a dear boy."

Photographs Are The Ideal Christmas Gifts

To maintain the high standard of our studio photography we suggest that you arrange for an early sitting.

We also specialize in camera film, developing and printing.

Operating hrs. 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

McMANUS STUDIO

Chelsea, Michigan

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY

wastes your strength, makes the delicate throat tissues raw and sore, exposes you to more serious trouble. You can check coughing with Dr. King's New Discovery. Naturally and harmlessly it stimulates the mucous membranes to throw off clogging secretions. Has a pleasant taste. All druggists.

I. L. VAN GIESON

Real Estate Broker

All kinds of Real Estate sold and exchanged

PHONE 271

Office: 236 East Middle Street, Chelsea, Michigan.

FLOWERS For All Occasions

Give us a call

THE CHELSEA GREENHOUSE

ELVIRA CLARK-VISEL, Florist. Phone 180-F21

TOYLAND

IS NOW OPEN

TOYLAND—the place that Wee Tots dream of all year around, is open. A bigger and better Toyland than ever before.

A wonder place, in the new main floor store, where there are talking dolls, speeding trains, velocipedes and cuddly play animals, is ready.

And from now until Christmas Eve Toyland will be the most joyfull and gaiest place in the world. Playthings to fill every child wish are there in most amazing numbers. Children are invited to come often to choose the toys they want Santa to bring them on Christmas Eve.

MACK'S MAIN FLOOR

Mack & Co

ANN ARBOR

WUERTH THEATRE

ANN ARBOR, MICH. Admision 35c Shows: Matinee 2 to 3:30 Evening: 7 to 8:30 to 10:00 November 11, 12, 13, 14. Tom Mix and Billie Dove in "Soft Boiled." On the stage, The Georgette Trio. November 15, 16, 17. Double Feature. Mark Twain's "The Prince and the Pauper." Betty Dlythe in "His Wife's Husband." Nov. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24. Harold Lloyd in "Why Worry?" Nov. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29. Kenneth Harlan in "The Virginian" by Owen Wister. Nov. 30, December 1. Double Feature Program. Fairs Binney in "What Pools Men Are." Marjorie Day in "The Lying Truth." Present this advertisement at the box office, good for 5 cents on admission.

WANT AND FOR SALE ADS

FOR SALE--Double barrel shot gun. Call Phone 260-W. 2112 FOR SALE--Large Continental six cylinder motor, mounted on chassis. Runs perfect. Cheap if taken at once. Overland Garage. 2111 FOR SALE--Strictly modern 7 room house and 2 large lots, 564 McKinley street. 1212 FOR SALE--2 good milch cows, one yearling heifer, 3 hogs, 5 small pigs. Phone 103-P-21, Terrence J. Foster. 2112 LARGE Detroit Music House has fine Piano in Chelsea, slightly used and partly paid for, which reliable party can have for the balance of small monthly payments. Write for full, confidential information to P. O. Box No. 471, Detroit, Mich. 2113 FOUND--32 x 4 wire wheel and cord tire, between Ann Arbor and Chelsea, Monday night. Owner may have same by proving property and paying for this ad. Call Tribune office. 1912 CIDER MAKING--Our cider mill will be in operation Tuesday and Friday, November 13 and 16 for the season. Schanz & Holmes. Phone 182. 1912 WANTED--Two men and team to bid on cleaning Palmer-Baldwin drain. See Dr. G. W. Palmer. 1912 FOR RENT--House on Washington St. Enquire of Mrs. Frank Storms, Phone No. 1. 1912 FOR SALE--Apples, all kinds. Spaulding Bros., Chelsea. Phone 141 P. 11. 1911 FOR SALE--Ford coupe, enquire E. Wagner. 1811 WANTED--To hear from owner having farm for sale in Washtenaw county. Warren Helmer, LeGaugport, Indiana. 1617 FOR SALE--Sarah E. Reed property in Orchard street. Enquire B. B. Turnbull or H. D. Witherell. 1611 FOR SALE CHEAP. 1 STAR SEDAN, nearly new. OVERLAND TOURING CAR. 1 DORT TOURING CAR. All in Good Running Order. OVERLAND GARAGE. 16 FOR SALE--Two fine wool bucks. A. J. Prince, R. D. No. 4, Grass Lake. 1318 GIRLS WANTED--apply at the Trojan Laundry. 1211 NOTICE. Now is the time to order your wood. We try to keep all kinds at all times and treat you right. E. L. BENTON Phone 260 817 FOR SALE--Spring tooth harrows, drills, fertilizer drills, all kinds of plows. Chelsea Co-op., G. W. Coe, Mgr. 10011 HEMSTITCHING--Pecot edge, cord laying, etc. Mrs. Henry Almond, 140 VanBuren street. 7011 CHELSEA CAMP No. 7338 M. W. A. Meets 2d and 4th Friday evenings of each month. Insurance best by text Norman J. Dancer, Clerk. S. A. MAPES Funeral Director Calls answered promptly day or night STAFFAN AND SON UNDERTAKERS Established over fifty years Phone 201 Chelsea, Mich. Scientists have never been able satisfactorily to determine why a whip makes a noise when cracked. Foolishness--trying to get a small boy to work while a brass band is passing. Call phone 100-Y for that next order of job printing.

In the Realm of Society

Auto Show. From the north and the south and the east and the west, riding in their auto's and with family's all well blest, going to the auto show the very, very best. From the north, south, east and west. The City Motor Sales was decorated with red, white and blue, and bouquets of poppies to remind you of the boys so brave and true. The Atwater Radio was broadcasting concerts from afar, while the people were gazing at the nice display of cars. The people came from miles and miles and miles and miles away, to Chelsea to the Auto show to see the grand display. November 11 and 12 you could see the Stars so bright, with the Durant and the Chevrolet and the Buick right in sight. The ladies all sat down to enjoy a little rest, while the orchestra was playing their very, very best. The first annual auto show was declared a fine success. From the north, south, east and west. I. W.

Miscellaneous Shower. A miscellaneous shower and surprise party was given Thursday evening by Mrs. C. Trinkie and Mrs. Reuben Grieb at the home of the latter in honor of Mrs. Wilber Trinkie, formerly Miss Hilda Bauer, 58 were present from Ann Arbor, Dexter, Seio and Chelsea. The evening was devoted to music and games. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Trinkie received many beautiful and useful gifts. Friday evening the Y. P. society of St. Andrews church, Dexter, surprised Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Trinkie at the home of Mr. Trinkie's mother, Mrs. C. Trinkie. Games and music furnished the pastime for the evening and later on refreshments were served. The young people presented Mr. and Mrs. Trinkie with a beautiful clock.

Surprise Party. A number of young people gave Miss Elsie Koopinger a surprise Friday evening at the home of her parents. The occasion being her birthday anniversary. Lunch was served and a pleasant evening enjoyed by all present.

To Entertain Chat 'N' Sean. The Chat 'N' Sean ladies will be entertained Tuesday November 20 by Mrs. Paul Helser and Mrs. Howard Boyd at the home of the latter. Scrub lunch supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock. A good time is promised to all who attend.

Farmer's Club. The Western Washtenaw Farmer's club will be entertained Friday, Nov. 16 at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Riskey assisted by Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Palmer, instead of at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson Dancer as previously announced. The program is as follows: Roll Call, Thanksgiving thoughts. The question for discussion will be: "Are you in Favor of the Gas Tax?" led by O. C. Burkhardt. Vocal solo by Rev. E. L. Sutherland. Reading by M. L. Burkhardt. Recitation by Mrs. Elmer Smith. A large attendance is desired.

To Entertain Young Ladies Chapter. The Young Ladies Chapter of the Congregational church will be entertained by Mrs. Sidney Schenk and Mrs. Howard Holmes at the home of the latter, Tuesday, Nov. 13. Scrub lunch supper will be served at 6:30, each member may bring a friend. A good attendance is desired.

Chicken Pie Dinner. Coming Thursday December 6, both afternoon and evening. What? A big chicken pie supper and bazaar at the Congregational church by the church guild. Another attraction, the big fish-pond right in line. Everyone cordially invited. Come out for a good time.

Armistice Day. The fifth anniversary of Armistice Day was fittingly observed in all the churches in Chelsea Sunday. The impressive sermons by the pastors, the silent prayers for the dead, the peace and quiet of Sunday added much to the solemnity of the occasion. Hundreds of poppies were sold by the American Legion and worn on Sunday in remembrance of the heroes "who sleep in Flanders Fields."

Family Reunion. Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson, and Miss Beatrice Roell of Greenville, arrived Friday to spend a few days with Dr. Johnson's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson. Saturday afternoon they attended the football game at Ann Arbor and were accompanied to Chelsea by Dr. Duncan of Williamston, where a delightful dinner party was awaiting them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson. Dr. and Mrs. Faye Palmer of Chelsea were also invited to the party. Sunday a family reunion of the Johnson family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson. Besides the guests present Saturday to partake of the delicious dinner that was served at noon were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and Hubert Johnson of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Watts of North Lake. Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson returned to their home Monday.

The Willing Workers. The Willing Workers of St. Paul's church will meet Wednesday afternoon, November 14, at the home of Mrs. Adam Faust. All members are asked to be present. Bring your thimble and be prepared to sew.

Dinner Party. Mr. and Mrs. Klamser pleasantly entertained at a dinner party Sunday the following guests from Detroit: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mrs. Clara Mack, Mrs. George Heide, Miss Katherine Finnette, Mrs. Louis Rheinfrank, Mrs. Louis Lempeke, Miss Stella Lempeke and Mr. A. Whitlaw and daughter Virginia.

R. N. A. Meeting. Lakoside Camp, R. N. A., will meet with Mrs. Jos. C. Dreyer, on Wednesday, November 14.

L. C. B. A. Banquet. The L. C. B. A. will hold their anniversary banquet at the home of Mrs. Howard Canfield, on Thursday evening, November 15, at 6 o'clock. Every member invited. Please bring dishes.

Bake Sale. The young ladies of St. Mary's church will hold a bake sale at Penn's store Saturday, November 17, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Each young lady is requested to donate.

Birthday Surprise. About 40 relatives and friends gave Mrs. Albert Schiller a pleasant surprise Friday evening. The occasion being her birthday. The evening was spent in cards and a fine lunch was served. Mrs. Schiller received many pretty gifts.

St. Paul's Auxiliary. St. Paul's Auxiliary will be entertained by Mrs. Martha Weimann and Mrs. Sam. Bohnet at the home of the latter, Friday afternoon, Nov. 16th. Please bring dishes.

Fair and Bake Sale. The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's church will hold their annual fair and bake sale Saturday, Nov. 17 in the Steinbach block. Get your gifts for Christmas at this time.

Fair and Supper. Get ready for what? The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a fair and supper Wednesday evening Nov. 21 in the church dining rooms. Everyone is cordially invited.

F. & A. M. No. 156. Special meeting of Olive lodge, F. & A. M. Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, work in the first degree.

Command of Legion His Reward

John R. Quinn of San Francisco is the new National Commander of the American Legion. His reward for taking the World War veterans to the Golden Gate for their 1923 convention. Last year at New Orleans he prevailed upon them to go West this year. With him are his wife and mother.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Our Phone No. 190

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Rolly Johnson and children of Detroit, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Martin spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wurster.

Mrs. Otto Kalmbach and son Robert of Flint, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Currier.

Mrs. Hubert Schwikerath of Detroit, is spending this week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Conrad Hafner and other relatives here.

Mrs. E. McLain spent the weekend in Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hall of Jackson, are spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moltrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Oltmar Gerstler and family, and Miss Elenora Lambert of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Sargent of Jackson, spent the weekend at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lambert.

Harold Taylor attended the football game at Ann Arbor Saturday.

The Farrel Shop for the new silk and wool hose. 2012

Mrs. Anna Paul spent Saturday in Ann Arbor.

Paul Niehaus and Carl Mayer spent Sunday in Lansing.

Herbert Schenk and Herbert Paul attended the football game at Ann Arbor, Saturday.

Miss Louise Merriman of Grass Lake, spent Friday with Mrs. H. W. Schmid.

The Farrel Shop for Christmas handkerchiefs. 2012

Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith and James Speer, expect to leave for a trip to California Wednesday, where they will visit friends and relatives.

The following people attended the football game at Ann Arbor, Saturday: Mr. and Mrs. E. Lindeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindeman, Mrs. Ernest Hutzel and daughter Oletta and son Ren.

Mrs. Mertz Cole arrived from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, last week to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. Geo. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Gray and daughter of Windsor, Ont., spent Sunday at the home of his mother.

Miss Dorothea Schanz spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schanz.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Calkins of Jackson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hatt.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gentner spent Sunday with friends in Lodi.

Mrs. Charles VanAtter and baby of Kalumazoo spent the week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall.

Mrs. J. B. Oker and daughter, Mildred were Jackson visitors, Friday.

The Farrel Shop for Christmas handkerchiefs. 2012

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nordman of Detroit spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Nordman.

M. J. Guinan of Manchester spent last evening with his sister, Mrs. Geo. Nordman.

The Farrel Shop for the new silk and wool hose. 2012

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McLaren, who have been spending some time in Los Angeles, Calif., arrived home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spiegelberg of Ann Arbor, were Chelsea visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Runciman and family of Ann Arbor, and Miss Lorraine Thurston of Jackson, were Sunday guests of Mrs. J. Ruffrey.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bigford entertained guests Sunday from Lansing and Grand Rapids.

Mrs. J. Nelson spent several days of the past week with friends in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence of Detroit attended the game in Ann Arbor Saturday and spent Sunday with his parents.

Catarrhal Conditions. Catarrh is a local disease greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. It therefore requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the system. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE gives the patient strength by improving the general health and assists Nature in doing its work. All Druggists. Circulate free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

THOS. H. INCE PRESENTS

Florence Vidor in "Skin Deep"

"SKIN DEEP"

with Milton Sills. A powerful drama with the "Ince punch." A picture that combines the last word in melodramatic action with an intensely interesting theme--a complete change in identity. "Skin Deep" sets a new high standard in screen thrills with the most gripping prison escape by aeroplane clever plot ever filmed. The love story is wonderful.

Presented under the auspices of THE AMERICAN LEGION of Chelsea

at the Princess Theatre

Wednesday and Thursday, November 14 and 15

Mrs. Albert Green of Clinton is spending a few days with her sister Mrs. L. B. Lawrence.

J. Nelson Dancer and Herman Dancer called on their brother Ernest in Ann Arbor, Sunday.

Mrs. George P. Staffan was in Ann Arbor, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Chandler spent Sunday with Mrs. J. F. Waltrous.

Mrs. Alvin Hatt was in Jackson Monday.

Dr. F. V. Auberle, osteopath, Penn Hdg. Phone 188. 8511

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jones of Detroit and Junior Bycraft spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bycraft.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson of Detroit spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kern.

Carl Chandler of Battle Creek was home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Koch and family and Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Wacker spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Frey in Seio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schanz and family spent Sunday in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schiller and Clara and Ernest Schiller of Freedom spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Schiller of Ann Arbor.

The following guests were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Eisenar: Mr. and Mrs. John Kirchburg and family of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schiller of Bridgewater, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schiller and daughter Marion of Lima, and Miss Mary Gutbrodt of Ann Arbor, and Julius Haas of Freedom.

7 Distinctive KANTLEEK Features

- Unlosable Stopple. Stopple socket molded into rubber. No wires or cement required to hold it in place. No seams or bindings to become loosened. No patches to come off. Kantleek medallion is molded into bottle. Pure Para rubber. Molded in one piece, that's why it can't leak. Universal Guarantee for 2 years. FREEMAN Druggist

LYCEUM COURSE

Town Hall, November 17, 8:15 p. m.

The I. Verne Slout Players is the first number of the Lyceum Course given under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the Congregational church and Young People's League of St. Paul's church. They will present a three-act comedy full of humorous sayings and mirth provoking situations entitled "When Mother Goes On a Strike." In addition to the three-act comedy, a costume sketch from the "Faming of the Shrew" is presented. The other three numbers are:

- The American Glee Club The Colonial Trio The Jugo-Slav Tamburica Orchestra Adult season tickets, including reserved seat, only $1.50. Single admission 50c and 25c. Seats reserved at Vogel's store. Saturday morning November 17th at 8:00 a. m. BE SURE AND BRING YOUR TICKETS.

Let Us Help You Make It another ELGIN CHRISTMAS

Everybody welcomes assistance in choosing gifts. The service of this store safeguards you against an unsatisfactory choice. You profit by this experience with every purchase you make, whether it is inexpensive Cuff Links, or an Elgin Watch for any member of your family. Our stocks are selected with careful regard to your Christmas gift needs. Come in and make your selections now. There's an Elgin Gift Watch for every member of your family.

E. A. WINANS & SON JEWELERS and OPTOMETRISTS

ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Business and Accounts of the Wm. Bacon-Holmes Co. Are being adjusted in the office of the Chelsea Milling Co.

In the Realm of Society

Good Mr. Turkey.
 During Mr. Turkey Cook, you feel so gay? Don't get as if you know Thanksgiving day. I hope you don't remember though at when it came last year. And haven't any calendar to tell when it's near. Well, never mind. Come, take this one.
 For you must look your best. We'll let you know in plenty time and you needn't dress!

Young Ladies Chapter
 The Young Ladies Chapter of the Congregational church will entertain Tuesday evening by Mrs. H. S. Johns and Mrs. Sidney Schenk at the home of the former on Middle st. A delicious buffet supper was served to twenty-four guests at 6:30, after which fancy work chatting made the hours pleasant.

Party For Guest
 Mrs. Sidney Schenk entertained at two tables of Bridge Tuesday afternoon complimenting her house guest Mrs. Robert Lee Ralston of Spring, Ill., and Miss Estelle White of Michigan, Ind., guests of Mrs. H. S. Johns. Yellow Chrysanthemums were used about the rooms while small boxes of Bon bons were used as favors. An attractive prize was given Miss Zeta Foster who held high score and to both honor guests. Other out of town guests were Mrs. H. W. Freeman of Ann Arbor and Miss Zeta Foster of Grass Lake.

Bridge Party
 Mrs. Geo. Staffan delightfully entertained at Bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home on park street. Four tables were played. A lovely prize going to the holder of high score. Refreshments were served.

Olive Lodge, F. & A. M.
 A special meeting of Olive Lodge No. 156, F. & A. M., Tuesday evening, November 20. Work in first degree.

Box Social
 The Lima Center school will hold a box social in the town hall, Friday evening, Nov. 23. A big Thanksgiving program by the children has been arranged. Prizes will be offered for the prettiest box. A fish pond and other amusements will also be in store for all. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Lima Center school.

Michigan Happenings

Advertising for bids on $3,000,000 of 4 1/2 percent state highway improvement bonds was authorized by the State Administrative Board. This will bring the total issue to date of highway bonds to $35,050,000. Issuance of $50,000,000 in all has been authorized. Issuance of these $3,000,000 in bonds will raise the total state bonded indebtedness to $68,050,000. State soldier bonus bonds account for $30,000,000 of this. Highway bonds account for $35,050,000. The Michigan War Loan accounts for the remaining $3,000,000.

The state administrative board authorized Highway Commissioner Frank Rogers to award a contract for seating about 1.3 of a mile of box line M-65, in Genesee county, the highway committee of the board decides to improve the road next year. The trunk line is known as the Flint Ponton road. No action has been taken by the committee to decide whether it will be on next year's program. The board awarded contract for the surfacing of six miles of M-23, between White Pigeon and Sturgis, with concrete.

The state administrative board has authorized the acceptance of a contract for the construction of a hallurgical and ore dressing building at the Michigan College of Mines, Brighton, to replace a structure destroyed by fire. The cost will be approximately $184,000. Dr. F. W. McPherson, president of the college, appeared before the board and explained the contract price was well within appropriation for the building authorized by the legislature.

Students hold full away in the spring college of the University of Michigan, no women having entered for engineering courses during a two years. Nineteen co-eds, on the other hand, are studying there. The first woman enrolled in the university in 1867 was followed in 1867 by 12 women students. The enrollment continued about the same footing until 1919, when the number dropped to three.

John N. Clark of San Jose, Calif., into student in the University of Michigan, has been awarded an C. Hinsdale scholarship. The scholarship fund was established in 1921 by Genevieve S. Hinsdale of Detroit, in memory of her father. The income on $25,055 is for graduate scholarships in the school of zoology.

The village of Wayland won its bid to the State Highway Department in order to remove the flag-stand in the center of the town and which was erected as a memorial to its honored dead.

IN THE CHURCHES

CHELSEA METHODIST CHURCH
 C. S. RISLEY, Minister.
 Public worship 10:00 Sermon, by Rev. F. B. Johnston.
 Sabbath School 11:15 - "Jesus, A Missionary."
 Epworth League 6:30 "Witnesses for Christ."
 Junior League 6:30 Notes on Sermon.
 Evening service 7:30 - "Where find God?"
 Thursday evening 7:30 - Prayer meeting and Mission study.
 We want you to hear Rev. Johnston, of Detroit, Sunday, no collection or subscriptions. Sunday evening, the topic is one of much interest. "Where do you find God?" Where does God find you? Subscribe for the Advocate Sunday, Sunday School and both Leagues are growing in interest.

S. P. L.
 The S. P. L. club will be entertained Monday evening, November 19 at the home of Mrs. Lester Winans. A Mother Goose program will be given.

Supper and Fair
 The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a fair and supper Wednesday evening, Nov. 21 in the church parlors. Fancy articles, baked goods and canned fruit will be on sale in the Epworth League rooms, during the afternoon. A good supper will be served at 6 o'clock, price 35 cents.

To Entertain Chat 'N' Seat
 The Chat 'N' Seat ladies will be entertained Tuesday November 20 by Mrs. Paul Belsor and Mrs. Howard Boyd at the home of the latter. Scrub lunch supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock. A good time is promised to all who attend.

Bake Sale
 The young ladies of St. Mary's church will hold a bake sale at Fenn's store Saturday, November 17, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Each young lady is requested to donate.

Fair and Bake Sale
 The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's church will hold their annual fair and bake sale Saturday, Nov. 17 in the Steinbach block. Get your gifts for Christmas at this time.

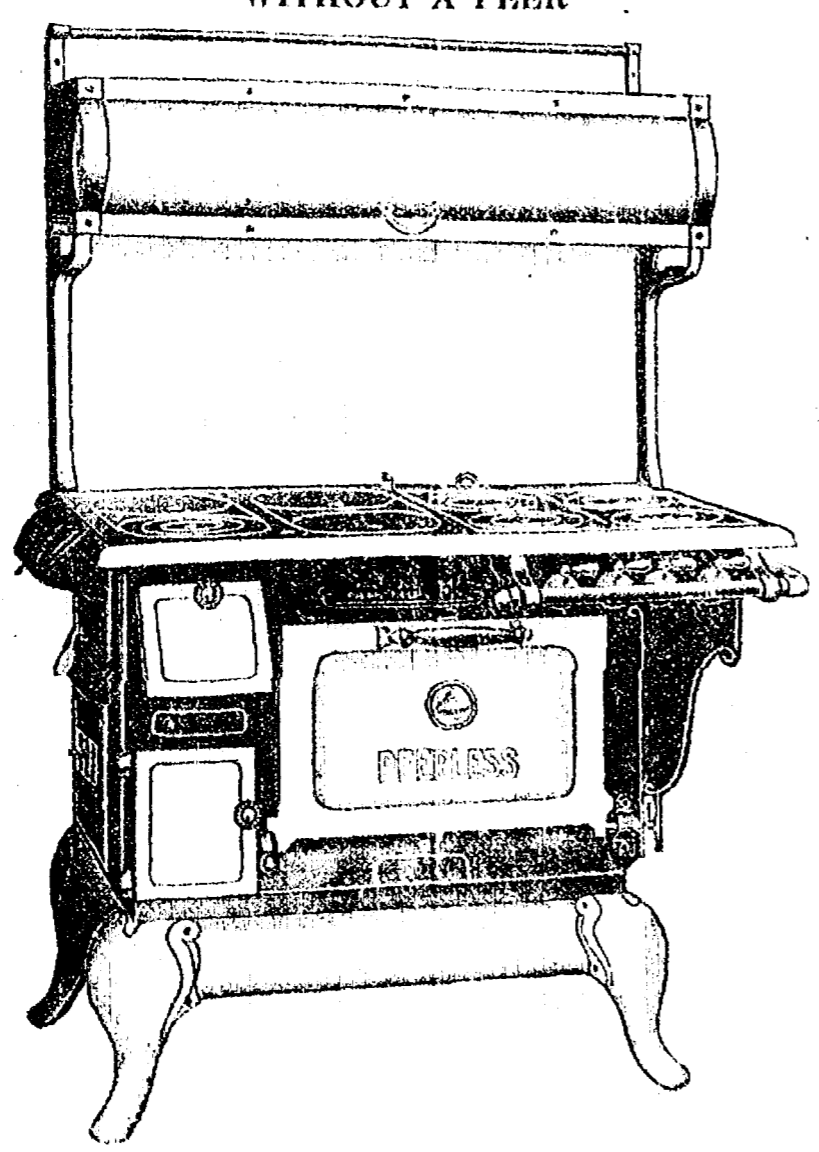

Fair and Supper
 Get ready for what? The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a fair and supper Wednesday evening Nov. 21 in the church dining rooms. Everyone is cordially invited.

Chicken Pie Dinner
 Coming Thursday December 6, both afternoon and evening. What? A big chicken pie supper and bazaar at the Congregational church by the church guild. Another attraction, the big fish pond right in line. Everyone cordially invited. Come out for a good time.

Mrs. A. A. Colson of Muskegon, was taken ill while visiting with her husband who is recovering from an appendicitis operation at a Muskegon hospital. A few hours later Mrs. Colson was taken to the operating room and operated on for acute appendicitis.

Gov. Alex J. Broesebeck celebrated his fiftieth birthday anniversary by working at his desk from 8 a. m. to 11:15 o'clock p. m. The Governor received numerous gifts of flowers and greetings of friends.

The Popular Priced Combination Range WITHOUT A PEER

Saves Room Saves Time Saves Fuel

Flash Lights and Batteries - all sizes. Priess Right.

CHELSEA HARDWARE COMPANY

General Hardware, Farm Implements, Furniture
 Phone 32, Chelsea, Michigan.

NEVER DINED IN A RESTAURANT

Mrs. Grace Astel, teacher of commercial at the Part Time school, of Jackson, found a little girl Monday who had never dined at any restaurant or hotel, and invited the little miss to accompany her to luncheon. Many viands brought onto the table were new to the girl, for instance, she said she never had tasted apple sauce. She didn't know apples could be cooked. In the strange place and surrounded by many persons at nearby tables, the girl was so excited she could scarcely eat anything. She is the breadwinner for a family of a mother and seven children, the step-father having disappeared. One important phase of the work of the Part Time school is to come in contact with neglected children and give them advantages they have thus far lacked. Mrs. Astel was formerly of Chelsea.

UNIVERSITY BUILDING PROGRAM PROGRESSING

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 15 - Marked progress has been made in the building program of the University of Michigan since Dec. 15, 1922, when President Marion L. Burton publicly announced the program. Seven buildings, now under construction, are being financed by the University, while two others have but recently been constructed by private funds and turned over to the University, and a third is under construction.

The Clements library, erected as a gift of Regent William Clements, was opened for use soon after the fall term of classes began. Saturday the University dedicated the new Athletic Field house on Ferry Field.

Other new buildings which are being used at the present time are the Engineering shops and the University High School, although neither is as yet completed.

A new building devoted to the study of Physics is nearing completion, and the concrete skeleton of the new Library building is completed. Work is again going forward on the University hospital, after being held up for more than a year because of a lack of available funds. A temporary heating system has been installed in the hospital in order that work may be continued throughout the winter months.

Work on the Literary buildings, the largest of the new buildings now under construction, with the exception of the hospital, is delayed temporarily by lack of supplies, but these are expected within two weeks.

The foundation for the new Medical building has been started and is now about one fourth completed. It is estimated that this structure will cost about $1,000,000. It is hoped it will be completed by February, 1925.

Another feature of the program of expansion is the enlarging of the University power plant to double its present size. This step is made necessary by the increased heating load with the completion of the new buildings.

Probably the most elaborate of the new buildings will be the Lawyers' club, which is being erected on State street, opposite the Michigan union. The lawyers' club, donated by a Michigan graduate who thus far has held his name, will be one of the finest buildings on the campus and will be used solely as a club house and living quarters for students in the law school. Eventually it is planned to make an addition to the structure in the form of a new law college.

POPULAR

Daek. "My, I'm getting popular, the whole family just watch me all the time."

Turkey. "I'm afraid they're feeding me too well, Thanksgiving must be coming."

Man in Lima, O., refuses to wear any clothes at all, so perhaps he has seen the new prices.

A Store for Men

If you are in doubt as to styles and leathers, that are being worn, just call on us and we will gladly show you the latest. Our prices are reasonable for high grade merchandise.

We also carry a full line of Goodrich Rubber Ware.

J. J. O'KANE

SHOES
 ANN ARBOR 355 S. Main St.
 Opp. Elks Temple

FORD Atwater Kent Ignition System

1. No morchard starting with this on your FORD.
2. No timer.
3. No coil points.
4. Only 1 coil.
5. Increases power, speed and gasoline milage.

E. J. Claire & Son

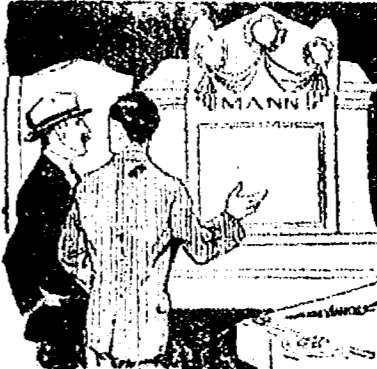

Starting Lighting and Ignition for All Cars
 Willard Batteries Atwk. Radio

BUY YOUR HARD COAL NOW

WE HAVE ON HAND THE FOLLOWING SIZES

STOVE EGG, GRATE

CHELSEA ELEVATOR CO.

Monuments

An expression of esteem and a tribute to the departed. We make and erect all kinds.

We also handle a complete line of cemetery vases and furniture.

We welcome your visit.

J. L. ARNET

208-14 W. Huron Street Phone 772 ANN ARBOR, MICH.

THE TELEPHONE MANAGER

Will Help Solve Your Problems

The Telephone Manager holds his position because he is expert in every branch of the telephone business. He passed through years of experience before he became manager.

He is therefore, able to understand and help solve any telephone problem you may have. In his organization are men and women who are at your service.

Consult them freely. Take your telephone problems to them.

They will be glad to be of service to you.

MICHIGAN STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

SPORTS

By J. M.

FIRST PRACTICE HELD LAST EVENING

The American Legion basketball team holds first practice of the season last evening and was successful from many angles.

Three of last year's independent players reported. All these who showed up well, even those who have not been out for several years.

The Legion's first game is scheduled for December 7th when they will meet the Napoleon (Mich.) on their new floor.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM PRACTICING HARD

The Chelsea High school basketball team is rounding into fine shape under the coaching of O. J. Claire.

Dr. A. E. Bonnville, a widely known surgeon, died at his home in Alpena of injuries suffered in an automobile accident a few weeks ago.

About 2,000 delegates met at Lansing recently for the annual convention of the Michigan Good Roads Association.

The Farm Bureau received at Kaleva a carload of scotch, an expensive purchase by Manistee County farmers, to remove large boulders and pine stumps.

Wind in Panama destroyed 350,000 banana trees. Another evil result of that no banana song.

Chic Short Coat for Fall and Winter Wear

This winsome short coat for fall and winter is beautifully designed to please the careful dresser.

Over-Neatness Causes Agony in Some Homes

There is a woman who prides herself on being such a flawless housekeeper. It is true that she makes life a joy for her family and friends.

Wind in Panama destroyed 350,000 banana trees. Another evil result of that no banana song.

the immaculate floor, or spill anything on that sacred table linen.

With her order is life itself. Neatness is her fetish, before whom she worships every moment of her life.

If she comes in and finds a chair a little out of the position in which she has placed it she always flies into a rage.

She is always trying to think of some excuse left unexplained, and worrying for fear her bread will not rise on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

For church or society she has no time. She hates to go out because she always sees so many things that are not straight.

Among the recent departures from Paris is a model of dull green crepe made on straight lines.

Ostrich Trimmings on Gowns and Accessories

Ostrich feather trimmings are seen on the new evening dresses and all sorts of accessories to the evening toilette.

A frock for a young girl is of lemon yellow silk and has a large motif of golden brown feathers at the waistline.

Last but not least, Ford Flour 25 full pounds for 80c. Bread or pastry--this is the best flour on the market.

SATURDAY SPECIALS

- New pack Sun Maid apples, raisens, 15 oz. pkg. 12c
English walnut meats, large, fresh meats 1-2 lb. 25c
Large paper shell California walnuts 1223 crop 30c lb.
Sweet, juicy oranges the large ones 10c and 25c doz.

Last but not least, Ford Flour 25 full pounds for 80c. Bread or pastry--this is the best flour on the market.

Clark & Bronson Produce Co. "The Little Store Around the Corner." PHONE 174-W. CHELSEA, MICHIGAN.

Chats With Your Gas Man

The average person is more dependent on the service rendered by the public utility companies than he realizes.

A recent estimate by a competent authority showed that in a certain private home the equivalent of about fifteen tons of anthracite coal was used for heating while the equivalent of about thirteen and one-third tons of bituminous coal came through pipes, wires and the kitchen door in the form of gas service, electrical energy and ice.

Engineers predict that in another generation coal will be seen in only two places--in the museums where it can be examined by school children, and at the mines.

Washtenaw Gas Co.

TROLLEY CAR CANNOT CHANGE ITS COURSE

Dangerous Practice to Follow Street Cars Too Closely--Keep Twelve Feet Away.

The body of Frank Tread who disappeared while hunting two years ago, was found recently in the wilds of a Buller settlement and River by E. D. P. ... principal of the South Junior High School, who was hunting.

S. W. Coombs, Battle Creek, Mich., was elected president of the Michigan State ... at its annual convention in Grand Rapids.

THREE REPAIR KIT ESSENTIAL

One of the Most Important Accessories for Every Motorist to Carry in His Machine.

Probably one of the most important accessories for every motorist to have in his car is a tube repair kit.

AUTOMOBILE ROSSIP

A tire with low air pressure creates vibration and causes the car to slow up.

A right shift will bind unless the alignment is perfect and provision is made to prevent frame deflection.

Youngest of all the 2,000 freshmen at the University of Michigan this year is Alexander Winkler.

The last link in the concrete highway from Indiana state line on the west Michigan pike to Pontwater, is completed. It is the longest stretch of paving in Michigan.

Chelsea Lumber & Coal Co.

DEALERS IN Coal, Lumber Builders' Supplies

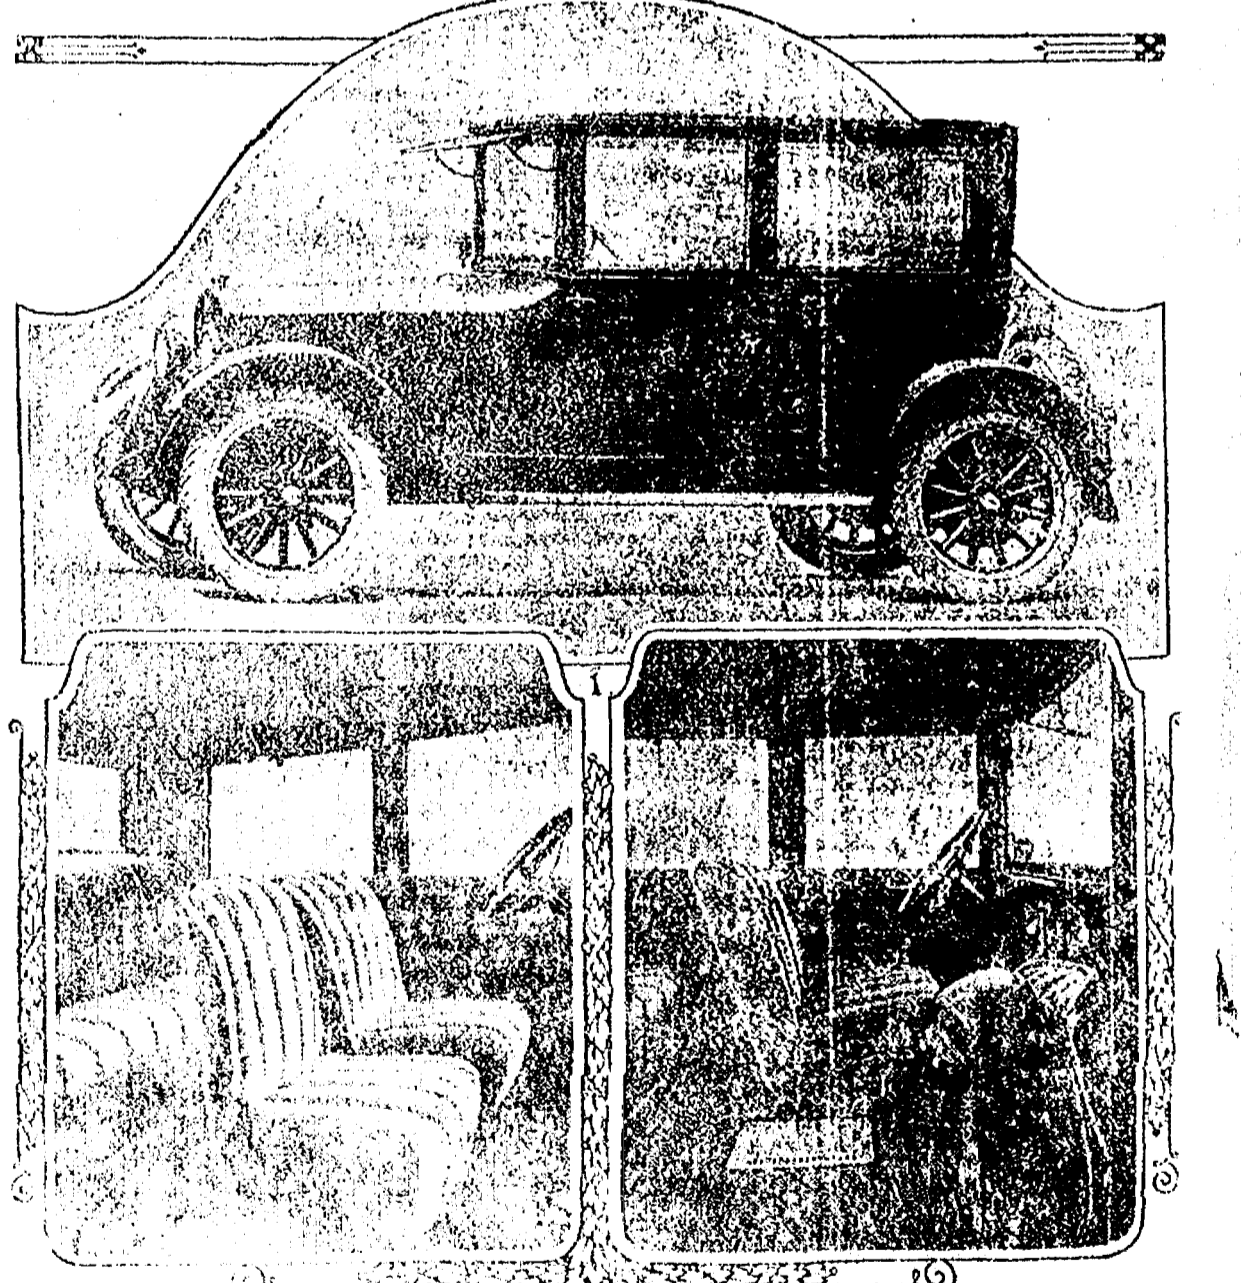

All Kinds of Grass Seed Your Patronage Solicited

Better look out for your coal supply, it looks as if cold weather would soon be here. Hard coal is very scarce, but we have coke that will take its place.

Your Patronage Solicited

CHELSEA LUMBER AND COAL CO.

Studebaker Announces New Enclosed Model--5-Passenger Coupe Added to the Light-Six Line

The new Studebaker Light-Six Five-Passenger Coupe is strikingly handsome in appearance. In construction it measures up to the high standards long since established by Studebaker cars.

Announcement

National Showing of New Model Star Cars

NOV. 16-17

The Star car slogan is, "It's worth the money." We say, "It's more than worth the money."

City Motor Sales

E. A. TISCH G. C. CLARK

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Angel Food, Cream Puffs, Marshmallow Roll, Pineapple Roll, Fruit Cake, Wheat a Laxa Health Bread, Rye Bread, Blue Bird Bread

also Pies---Mince, Cream, Coconut cream and apple A General Line of Bakery Goods

The WHITE BAKERY H. J. SMITH, Prop.

Washtenaw Motor Sales, Agents, Ann Arbor, Michigan

THE RED LOCK
A Tale Of The Flatwoods
By David Anderson
Author of The Blue Moon
Illustrations by Irwin Myers

INTRODUCTORY

The frontier of the United States is now represented only by a coast line...

One of the most interesting American frontiers was that represented by a line beginning at the southern end of Lake Michigan...

David Anderson, a native of the Wabash region and who knows its history, has written a story...

Here is presented natural scenery with a brush of many colors and a neighborhood drama...

CHAPTER I

The Bound Boy.

A girl came out of the back yard of a red-roofed cottage...

Away beyond the bend where the placid Wabash lost itself among the hills the sun crawled toward the rim of the West...

But the girl was not watching the sunset. The splendor of the wide-spread landscape at her feet was lost on her.

Crawling out from under the sunset, bulging the village and whining away up the river between cliff and bottom...

The girl's eyes were on the road. Far up the river—twenty miles of gravel and gray sand—it led to the city.

Seven years ago to a day she had stood there and watched the Milford stage carry her brother away to the end of that road...

The eyes, grown pensive, turned slowly to the upstanding pinnacle of sandstone, polished smooth by a thousand winds...

The girl picked up a piece of ragged shale and with a sharp corner scraped clean each knife stroke...

KEN
TEXIE
JACK

She dropped the piece of shale; thoughtfully pushed her fingers over the names and glanced down at the foot of the upstanding pinnacle...

Preventions—just that; a promise of comfort and affluence never fulfilled. There was every evidence that the farmstead had been laid out on a scale much more elaborate than was usual in the Flatwoods...

Outlined among the weeds and on-stretching branches lay the extensive foundation of the farmhouse, but it had been carried little beyond the foundation. A few sills—huge squared logs, cut and hewed in the upland woods...

Back of this creaking skeleton of time-blackened timbers, and nearer the cliff, stood a pile of a log cabin, ricketyly constructed, where doubtless a man had housed while dreaming his unfinished dream of house and barns and happy homestead...

Three horses grazed in the barn lot down near a big elm that stood at the road gate; some geese squatted along the dimly visible rivulet leading from the spring...

The eyes of the girl suddenly waked from brooding; darted to a point a short distance up the cliff; lived. The stomach but and drab corduroy hunting blouse of a tall young woods man with an immense spread of shoulder had fitted past a break in the bushes as he sprang down the steep and rugged path that picked its way among the rocks from the uplands...

Seven Years Ago Today She Stood There and Watched the Milford Stage Carry Her Brother Away to the End of the Road.

Down by the big elm at the road gate one of the horses, a powerful gelding, glossy black save for one white lock in his foretop, raised his head; came trotting up the lot.

"Good of Graylock!" he muttered. "bound 'r free, 't you a man's man—"

A shadow subdued the bold frankness of his face, as a chance cloud drives across a fair field; he gazed hard at the wind-staggered skeleton of the unfinished farmhouse.

His roving eye, following the glow of approaching sunset, found the girl upon the rock, her pliant body softly outlined against the silver-green black ground of the woods.

"Texie—w-y—"

In another moment he was racing up the cliff. The girl was waiting for him by the upstanding pinnacle of sandstone, a half sadness in her eyes that gradually subdued the eagerness in his.

He laid his big hand on her shoulder; slid it down her arm and gathered her fingers in his great palm. There was not even a twitch of response. He dropped the fingers, backed away a step and stood studying her.

"Jack—? Do y'u know what day this is?"

He puzzled to find the answer she doubtless had in mind; finally ventured the only one he could think of—"Tuesday, May 10th, 1840."

She stared around at him. "You know that ain't what I mean."

"The girl pointed to the carved names on the mouth of sandstone. He followed the motion; stepped past her and ran his hand over the three names, lingering an instant over the middle one.

"Here Ken—" he muttered, "he could 'n be'n anything he wanted to, 'most."

you and me and rest 'em." She spoke more to herself than to him. "Then the letters got fever and faith or heaven, till they put 'em in the 'bin' that was of no satisfaction in with 'em."

It is curious and interesting how some of the greatest names of the Anglo-Saxon race have looked. The river drift, along the byways and waterways of what was once the great American woods.

Ken, Texie, Jack—the first two Catholics; the third a Warioppe—names that have been spread wide on English literature. And of the two ancient families, probably no purer strain existed than the far-flung thread that had found lodgment here in this out-of-the-way corner of the earth—the great Flatwoods that seventy years ago stretched for many an unbroken mile along the north bank of the upper Wabash.

The man swept a hand toward the distant end of the road. The girl glanced at him.

"Ten more days"—there was a strained firmness in his voice, as if that he was about to say some hard word to him—"and I'm ridin' out yonder 'nself."

He felt her eyes upon him. "Ten more," he went on, "this is the tenth of May. When it's the twentieth, I'll be twenty-one—and free. Ten more—I be'n countin' 'em."

A deep seriousness clouded his face; he stared down at the wretched skeleton of the unfinished farmhouse. The girl fumbled the bit of ribbon at her waist.

"My father dreamed that dream," he went on, "before it could come true, the Southsides bolted their reservation and he dropped everything and rushed away to the head of the rangers. You know how he—fell at Okeechobee,"

He paused a moment; gripped his hat and went on. "Mother never saw a well day no more. You know how she lingered along down there under the rose vine till I was twelve. When she

And What Word Could Alter the Stern Fact That He Was a Bounty Boy—Bound Out to Her Own Father.

—died, it was found out Pap Simon had a mortgage on everything. He foreclosed; had me—bound out to 'em; and—"

The girl stole a look at his face. It was so hard and bitter that she dared not venture a word. And what word could alter the stern fact that he was a bound boy—bound out to her own father?

She glanced away along the distant skyline of the road. "When you 'n the woods ride out—yonder, they 'n come back. Ken—died."

The man's eyes searched her face for some hidden meaning in her words; apparently did not find it.

"I ain't aintin' 't let the big w-o-ot yonder sw-fer me up like it did—Ken. Some flatfooten told me yesterday there's a wagon train makin' up in the city for the gold diggin's in California. You know, when a bound boy's time's out, the man he's bound to most generally starts 'im off with a hoss and saddle and billie. Pap Simon said he fig'd on givin' me Graylock."

"I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

He stole a shy look at her. She dropped her eyes.

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

Down by the rivulet in the barn lot the geese honked and clipped their wings. The sound aroused the man from the half bitter mood and he glanced at his companion, to find her eyes upon him.

"Jack—" she hesitated, "do y'u w-osee it could be the red lock that made Ken act like 'e did?"

More legends of Michigan farm lands come from Illinois than from any other outside state, according to report just compiled. Indiana ranks second; Ohio is third and Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota just about tie for next honors.

"That's it," he commented. "I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

Down by the rivulet in the barn lot the geese honked and clipped their wings. The sound aroused the man from the half bitter mood and he glanced at his companion, to find her eyes upon him.

"Jack—" she hesitated, "do y'u w-osee it could be the red lock that made Ken act like 'e did?"

"It ain't the red lock," he finally answered in his slow way, "it's the drop of blood that come along with it."

He glanced away along the distant skyline of the road. "When you 'n the woods ride out—yonder, they 'n come back. Ken—died."

The man's eyes searched her face for some hidden meaning in her words; apparently did not find it.

"I ain't aintin' 't let the big w-o-ot yonder sw-fer me up like it did—Ken. Some flatfooten told me yesterday there's a wagon train makin' up in the city for the gold diggin's in California. You know, when a bound boy's time's out, the man he's bound to most generally starts 'im off with a hoss and saddle and billie. Pap Simon said he fig'd on givin' me Graylock."

"I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

He stole a shy look at her. She dropped her eyes.

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

Down by the rivulet in the barn lot the geese honked and clipped their wings. The sound aroused the man from the half bitter mood and he glanced at his companion, to find her eyes upon him.

"Jack—" she hesitated, "do y'u w-osee it could be the red lock that made Ken act like 'e did?"

"It ain't the red lock," he finally answered in his slow way, "it's the drop of blood that come along with it."

He glanced away along the distant skyline of the road. "When you 'n the woods ride out—yonder, they 'n come back. Ken—died."

The man's eyes searched her face for some hidden meaning in her words; apparently did not find it.

"I ain't aintin' 't let the big w-o-ot yonder sw-fer me up like it did—Ken. Some flatfooten told me yesterday there's a wagon train makin' up in the city for the gold diggin's in California. You know, when a bound boy's time's out, the man he's bound to most generally starts 'im off with a hoss and saddle and billie. Pap Simon said he fig'd on givin' me Graylock."

"I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

He stole a shy look at her. She dropped her eyes.

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

More legends of Michigan farm lands come from Illinois than from any other outside state, according to report just compiled. Indiana ranks second; Ohio is third and Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota just about tie for next honors.

"That's it," he commented. "I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

Down by the rivulet in the barn lot the geese honked and clipped their wings. The sound aroused the man from the half bitter mood and he glanced at his companion, to find her eyes upon him.

"Jack—" she hesitated, "do y'u w-osee it could be the red lock that made Ken act like 'e did?"

"It ain't the red lock," he finally answered in his slow way, "it's the drop of blood that come along with it."

He glanced away along the distant skyline of the road. "When you 'n the woods ride out—yonder, they 'n come back. Ken—died."

The man's eyes searched her face for some hidden meaning in her words; apparently did not find it.

"I ain't aintin' 't let the big w-o-ot yonder sw-fer me up like it did—Ken. Some flatfooten told me yesterday there's a wagon train makin' up in the city for the gold diggin's in California. You know, when a bound boy's time's out, the man he's bound to most generally starts 'im off with a hoss and saddle and billie. Pap Simon said he fig'd on givin' me Graylock."

"I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

He stole a shy look at her. She dropped her eyes.

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

Down by the rivulet in the barn lot the geese honked and clipped their wings. The sound aroused the man from the half bitter mood and he glanced at his companion, to find her eyes upon him.

"Jack—" she hesitated, "do y'u w-osee it could be the red lock that made Ken act like 'e did?"

"It ain't the red lock," he finally answered in his slow way, "it's the drop of blood that come along with it."

He glanced away along the distant skyline of the road. "When you 'n the woods ride out—yonder, they 'n come back. Ken—died."

The man's eyes searched her face for some hidden meaning in her words; apparently did not find it.

"I ain't aintin' 't let the big w-o-ot yonder sw-fer me up like it did—Ken. Some flatfooten told me yesterday there's a wagon train makin' up in the city for the gold diggin's in California. You know, when a bound boy's time's out, the man he's bound to most generally starts 'im off with a hoss and saddle and billie. Pap Simon said he fig'd on givin' me Graylock."

"I low well fine that wagon train—Graylock and me. And when we find gold, we're countin' back."

He stole a shy look at her. She dropped her eyes.

"You'll forget the Flatwoods when you've found gold."

He seemed to search her words again for some meaning that he wished much to find. But her face was very thoughtful and turned aside.

"Forget the Flatwoods! Where else in the world is there a sight like that? The minute I've got money enough I'm comin' back. I'll buy the homestead back from Pap Simon; finish the house; and then—"

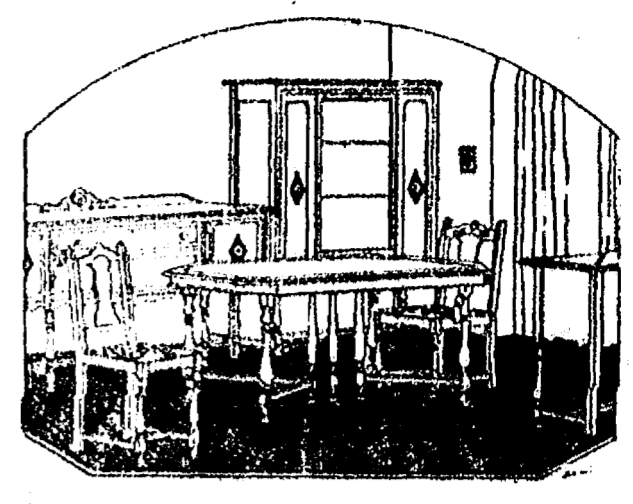

An arm unobtrusively reached to ward her. The movement brought the red-roofed cottage into his line of vision—the red-roofed cottage where by a paper that bound him to servitude he drew his arm back, crushed his hat rim in his powerful fingers.

Fresh Meats

What is more appetizing than a well broiled steak for supper these cool fall evenings. It makes the meal.

Fred G. Loeffler, Chelsea, Mich.

Thanksgiving season suggests Dining Room Furniture. There's beauty in design—it lasts thru the years, made of American Walnut and in combination.

When you're in Ann Arbor let us show you our displays. Prices are reasonable

MARTIN HALLER Furniture ANN ARBOR Rugs

ST. MARY'S FAIR
At St. Mary Hall Chelsea
Three Big Days November 26-27-28
Come --- Don't Miss This --- Come

STOP THAT BAKE-DAY Waste!

That's what Millions of women have done with CALUMET THE ECONOMY BAKING POWDER

I. L. VAN GIESON Real Estate Broker

Lower The Cost of Being Well Dressed! R. B. SUITS AND R. B. OVERCOATS Were Tailored For Men Dressing on Moderate Clothing Budgets! $25 AND THIRTY DOLLARS

WUERTH THEATRE
ANN ARBOR, MICH.
Admission 35c
Shows Matinee 2 to 3:30
Evening: 7 to 8:30 to 10:00
November 15, 16, 17.
Double Feature. Mark Twain's "The Prince and the Pauper." Betty White in "His Wife's Husband."
Nov. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24.
Harold Lloyd in "Why Worry?"
Nov. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29.
Kenneth Harlan in "The Virginian"
By Owen Wister.
Nov. 30, December 1.
Double Feature Program. Faire Amoy in "What Fools Men Are."
Marjorie Daw in "The Lying Truth."
Present this advertisement at the box office, good for 5 cents on admission.

WANT AND FOR SALE ADS

FOR SALE—Double barrel shot gun for sale. Enquire, John Edel, Liberty Cafe. 221f.

FOR SALE—Large Continental six cylinder motor, mounted on chassis. Runs perfect. Cheap if taken at once. Overland Garage. 214f.

FOR SALE—Strictly modern 7 room house and 2 large lots, 664 McKinley street. 212f.

FOR SALE—2 good milk cows, one yearling heifer, 3 hogs, 5 small pigs. Phone 103-F-21, Terrence J. Foster. 2112.

LARGE Detroit Music House has fine piano in Chelsea, slightly used and partly paid for, which reliable party can have for the balance of small monthly payments. Write for full, confidential information to P. O. Box No. 471, Detroit, Mich. 214f.

WANTED—Two men and team to bid on cleaning Palmer-Baldwin drain. See Dr. G. W. Palmer. 1912.

FOR SALE—Apples, all kinds. Spaulding Bros., Chelsea. Phone 141-11. 191f.

FOR SALE—Ford coupe, engine E. Wagner. 181f.

WANTED—To hear from owner having farm for sale in Washtenaw county. Warren McKee, Lansingport, Indiana. 1616.

FOR SALE—Sarah E. Reed property in Orchard street. Enquire B. B. Turnbull or H. D. Witherell. 161f.

FOR SALE CHEAP.

STAR SEDAN, nearly new.

OVERLAND TOURING CAR.

DORT TOURING CAR.

All in Good Running Order.

OVERLAND GARAGE. 15

GIRLS WANTED—apply at the Trojan Laundry. 121f.

NOTICE.

Now is the time to order your wood. We try to keep all kinds at all times and treat you right.

E. I. BENTON
Phone 250

FOR SALE—Spring tooth harrows, drills, fertilizer drills, all kinds of plows. Chelsea Co-op., G. W. Coe, Mgr. 1001f.

HEMSTITCHING—Perot edge, cord laying, etc. Mrs. Henry Ahnemi-ler, 140 VanBuren street. 701f.

CHELSEA CAMP No. 7855 M. W. A.
Meets 2d and 4th Friday evenings of each month. Insurance best by test. Herman J. Dancer, Clerk.

A. A. MAPES
Funeral Director
Calls answered promptly day or night

STAFFAN AND SON
UNDERTAKERS
Established over fifty years
Phone 201 Chelsea, Mich.

MEN YOU SHOULD MARRY
By E. R. PEYSER

Has a Man Like This Proposed to You?

Symptoms: Large overgrown puppy—with overgrown clothes—comes about you before he really speaks to you! Says, "Gosh I'd give you the buttons on my shirt!" Later he says: "Never went out with such an entertaining chicken in my life!" and you know he's said that to every skirt he has ever met. Good spender and a good earner. Loves approbation and adores to talk to a good listener.

IN FACT

His life will always be a still hunt for the antidote: called the listener.

Prescription to bride:

Get a good ear specialist. Be killed to his hunting trips.

Absorb This:

TWO ARE COMFORTING, BUT THREE OR FOUR MAKE A SAFE CROWD.
(By McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

NON-STOP RECORD IS ESTABLISHED BY A STUDEBAKER CAR

Year's Mileage Crowded into a Week's Running—5504 Miles Covered By Light-Six in Seven-Day Run, Conducted in N. Y.

Running continuously for seven days for a distance of 5504 miles at an average speed of 38.9-16 miles per hour, a Studebaker Light-Six has just completed another remarkable performance record at Syracuse, N. Y.

The run was undertaken by Gore & Willis, Studebaker dealers in Syracuse to demonstrate the merit of Studebaker Light-Six cars for performance, endurance and economy.

In seven days' time, the Light-Six delivered more than the average mileage for a whole year and did it so decisively that it is causing wide comment among motorists in that section of the country.

Outstanding features of the long run were the fact that the highest average for any one hour during the run was 48 miles; the highest speed, 67 miles an hour; the use of but three gallons of water for the whole run and the further fact that no air was put into the tires during the entire seven days.

The best gasoline average for a six-hour period during the trip was 23 miles, and for the whole trip, the average was 18.1 miles to the gallon.

Thirteen men took turn-about driving and at all times an observer of the Syracuse "Post-Standard" accompanied the car.

Exclusive mechanical features of the Light-Six motor account largely for this remarkable record in the opinion of the Washtenaw Motor Sales Co., Studebaker dealers in this county.

"For example," said one of the men "Studebaker machines all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods of the Light-Six engine instead of the usual practice of machining only the bearing surfaces. This insures exact balance and uniform weight of reciprocating parts.

"Vibration is, therefore, practically eliminated, a feature that is responsible in part, for unusual records of performance such as the run at Syracuse."

Season tickets for the Lyceum course can be secured at Vogel's store Saturday morning, November 17, at 8 a. m. Be sure and bring your tickets. First entertainment Saturday evening, November 17. 1f.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Laros and daughters and Mrs. Otto Steinbach and son of Flint spent Sunday with relatives in Chelsea.

Gertrude Mapes is confined to the home of her parents by illness.

Shipments of apples from Michigan thus far this season are above the amount shipped during the entire 1923 season, according to R. H. Shoemaker, federal and state market representative at Grand Rapids. About 6,100 car lot shipments have been reported to date as compared with 5,012 for the entire season last year.

Announcement was made at East Lansing of the election of Miss Ruth Christopher, of Lansing, as corps sponsor for the military department of the Michigan Agricultural college. Other elections were: Infantry, Miss Hester Hedrick; cavalry, Miss Ruth Abbott, and artillery, Miss Miriam Reebol, Shelby.

Funeral services for former Rep. E. L. Hamilton were held at Niles last week.

Total enrollment in the University of Michigan for 1923-24 is placed at 11,762 by Dr. Arthur G. Hall, who has made public the latest compilation.

Call phone 190-7 for that next order of job printing.

SOCIETY

Stag Party

"That Old Gang," entertained another one of their members who is to be married in the near future, last evening. About fifteen men gave a most wonderful chicken banquet at Pleasant Lake Thursday evening in honor of Claire Penn whose marriage to Miss Agnes Welber will be an event of the near future. The crowd of men who have been old time friends met at the lake and after the dinner spent an enjoyable evening talking over old times. Mr. Penn was presented with a fine cigar stand by the men.

Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The L. C. B. A. celebrated the 25th anniversary of its organization at the home of Mrs. Howard Canfield. Twenty five members being present it was lovely in all its appointments. The colors being pink and white. Each member was presented with a corsage bouquet. The table was lovely with silver candlesticks with lighted tapers. Rose nut cups and place cards marked the table. A delicious four course dinner was served. Entertainment consisted of music, songs and the branch history being read by the president.

Evening of Bridge

Miss Beryl McNamara entertained in a graceful manner Wednesday evening at two tables of Bridge. Miss Marguerite Israel receiving a lovely gift for holding high score. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. Out of town guests were Miss Estelle White of Marion, Ind. and Mrs. R. Halston of Springfield, Ill.

To Entertain Civil War Vets

The S. P. I. club will entertain the Civil War veterans at a five o'clock dinner this evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mr. J. Straehle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Scheider.

Entertains Worthy Grand Matron.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Freeman entertained Mrs. Edna K. Wilcox of Menominee, Worthy Grand Matron of the O. E. S. of Michigan, during her stay here.

American Legion

Herbert J. McKune Post, No. 31 will hold a regular business meeting in the club rooms, Monday evening. All out and hear reports of committee and get in on the cats.

Mrs. Fred Koch and daughter, Betty Jane, and Mr. and Mrs. George Fox of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Stricker of Ypsilanti spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Koch of Lima.

Mrs. Lester Winans spent Thursday in Jackson.

Miss Carrie Lutz spent Thursday in Ann Arbor.

Miss Estella White of Warren, Ind. is guest of Mrs. H. S. Holmes.

Dr. F. V. Auberle, osteopath, Penn Bldg. Phone 188. 851f.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence of Detroit and George Lawrence of Chelsea left today for Madison, Wis., to attend the Michigan-Wisconsin football game which will be held there Saturday.

Catarrah Conditions

Catarrah is a local disease greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. It therefore requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the system. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE gives the patient strength by improving the general health and assists Nature in doing its work.

All Druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Call phone 190-7 for that next order of job printing.

FREEMAN'S

Make This Your Holiday Headquarters

We carry the largest and best line of Dolls, Toys, Games and Bazaar goods in town.

FREEMAN'S
The Busy Store on the Corner

LOCAL BREVITIES
Our Phone No. 190

Mrs. John Franklin, spent Sunday at the home of William Dumble, in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Freeman and family and Miss Minnie Schumaker were in Adrian Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hummel and Walter Hummel and son spent Sunday in Jackson.

Mrs. Elizabeth Runciman, who has been spending the past month with her son in Lowell, returned home the first of this week.

Mrs. John Spiegelberg of Ann Arbor spent Thursday in Chelsea.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Curtis of Manchester spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George K. Chapman.

M. J. Guinan of Freeman spent one day the past week with Mr. and Mrs. George Nordman.

Mrs. Ray Alexander spent Wednesday in Ann Arbor.

Charles Schiller spent Thursday in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Andrew Ruen of Detroit is visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John McGuinnis.

Season tickets for the Lyceum course can be secured at Vogel's store Saturday morning, November 17, at 8 a. m. Be sure and bring your tickets. First entertainment Saturday evening, November 17. 1f.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sulton attended a banquet given the Michigan State Telephone employees in Jackson Wednesday night.

Miss Eleanore Evans of Seattle, Wash. daughter of Verne Evans, visited her father here Thursday.

Herbert Loeffler spent Tuesday in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. H. W. Freeman of Ann Arbor was in Chelsea Thursday.

Paul C. Maroney left this noon for Battle Creek where he will meet a group of men who are going to Madison, Wis., to attend the Mich.-Wis. game, Saturday.

Princess Theatre
SATURDAY, NOV. 17
GLORIA SWANSON
in
"THE IMPOSSIBLE MRS. BELLEW"

Glorious Gloria in a play of her own choice. Cast includes Conrad Nagel and June Elvidge.
COMEDY—"BATTLING TORCHY"

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18
Hoot Gibson
in
"A Gentleman from America"
A joyous laugh feast all the way through
CHARLES HUTCHISON IN "SPEED" Chapter 6

Coming Next Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 21 and 22
Hall Caine's immortal masterpiece
"THE CHRISTIAN"

Four-Door Sedan Interior Features

A cozy, attractive interior has been achieved in the Ford Four-Door Sedan. Broadcloth upholstery, soft brown with a slightly darker stripe, harmonizes with the lighter shade in the head lining.

Decorative interior fittings are finished in nickel.

Doors are made of one solid sheet of heavy aluminum, very light and strong.

$685
F. O. B. Detroit
This car can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

Palmer Motor Sales

Ford

CARS · TRUCKS · TRACTORS

Furniture

We have the dandy line. See the beautiful chairs. You know we have the best at the lowest prices.

Dolls and Toys

We have the one swell line.

Special while they last $19.00 mattress for $12.75.

HOLMES & WALKER
We treat you right Telephone 35

Millen's Busy Store
Ann Arbor, Mich.

A COAT SALE!
For Two Days, Friday and Saturday,
That Will Bring Crowds

More Than 300 Handsome Velour Beaverette Collared Coats. The Most Wonderful Coats We Have Ever Sold For This Price!

Fashioned of The Soft Velour Fabrics with Beaverette Collars

$15.00

The Coats Are in All Sizes. Come Early Because They Will Go Fast

THE GREATEST Dress Sale!

For Two Days, $15
Friday and Saturday

These Dresses are the newest models comprising purchases just made in the New York market. Long and short sleeves. Point Twill, Velvet, Satin Face Canton. Wool Dresses, Street Dresses, Silk Dresses, Dinner Dresses, Afternoon and Dance Dresses.

A Wonderful Lot of Dance Frocks in Short Sleeves For Misses . . . $15.00

See Our Window Display

PROTECT YOUR LOVED ONES
Against the cold weather and buy Munsing Underwear for the entire family. 10,000 garments ready for a Big Sale Friday and Saturday.

CHAS. S. MILLEN
Ann Arbor's Busy Store