Timely Discussions of various facts that may interest you.

"BILL"

With Thanksgiving comes the time when we have had as far this year as we can get to the merchant and business man it comes with a welcome.

Thursday is turkey day and what does it mean? To the small boy it means that he will fill his stomach to capacity and then probably put a little bit more. Not only does this apply to the small boy, but to other people as well.

During the rest of the year, one hears about eating too much for their best health, but at this season it hardly seems fair to try and restrain because it is a period of Thanksgiving and why not give thanks that our stomachs will hold all they will.

Now we told you last Friday that if our hearts did not fail we would show you how the turkey looks later. The picture below gives a twofold idea of the way the turkey looked, before being prepared and then as it was ready for the big event.

What Mr. Turkey will look like after the dexterous hand of the carver removes portion after portion and then after the hungry guests reflect that vacuum feeling about the stomach, all that will be left to look at will be the bones and after Duke and Fido get their share, there won't be enough left to make an even part of a skeleton.

The only one to be felt sorry for outside the turkey, is the cook. She has all the work to do and by the time dinner is served she has lost her appetite sampling this and that and fixing dishes here and there. The cook is the one who loses out, and although her guests may compliment her that she herself only repays in part for her foibles.

Of course after Thanksgiving comes the usual amount of indigestion as the result of the big meal. And in many homes there are the days of being the "leavin's". Some may say they are not so good, but where is the fun that does not like to sit down at the kitchen table and get ahold of a good home and do it justice? It's just human nature.

And then after we all get settled on again after Thanksgiving we probably the biggest event of the year before us. Christmas then is on four weeks away, and in that four weeks, we have plenty to do.

Christmas presents to make, to buy, wrap, to send, etc. Isn't it just a divine round of pleasure at this time of the year. When the 25th comes of course Mother has to get other big meal ready but the one who really does the figuring and balancing this time is the paymaster.
In some cases may be Dad, in others, Hubby, or in others just your-the big thing to remember is the days are getting short and it pays to shop early and to mail Christmas packages early.

MR. DRAWS BIG CROWD FOR OPENING NIGHT.

Large crowd attended the opening of St. Mary's fair Monday evening of the old time honored stunts in evidence. There were candy stands, and all that sort of things for who wished to take a chance, fish for the children, if you wanted fren or goose you could play the game. The booths many and varied very attractive and showed the designs in lingerie and needlework of the fancy order and of more practical nature, such as pillow slips and luncheon sets.
Feature of the fair was unique made a big hit. Tonight (Tuesday) and Wednesday nights will be and better than ever. There are plenty of stunts and plenty of prizes. The drawings of the prize given Monday night (a

JULIUS GROSS, WORLD WAR VETERAN DIES AFTER HARD FIGHT

Was One of the First Men "Over the Top" in American Lines.

Was Shot For Bravery in Trenches.

Julius Jacob Gross, aged 55 years, passed away after a long illness of about five weeks duration at the U. of M. hospital in Ann Arbor, Saturday, Nov. 24, where he underwent an operation for a tumor on the base of his brain, which had caused blindness. Julius Gross was the son of Fred and Wilhelmina Gross and was born in Northfield, Wachusetaw Co., June 15, 1868. Twenty-one years ago the family moved to Lima where the deceased with his parents lived until the time of his death.

He was a World War Veteran being called to the service as a private in Co. 160 D. Buff. Co. 128, Infantry and served in the first enlistment. He was one of the first to go over the top.

He left Ann Arbor, Nov. 21, 1917 for Camp Custer where he was transferred to the 8th Co. 160 D. Brig. On of Cantigny which was fought from May 28th to June 1, 1918 and the battle of Soissons which lasted from July 18 to 21, 1918.

Mr. Gross was four weeks in the trenches, it was during this time that he was shot and killed. By authority he was cited for his bravery and was in some of the most dangerous places on the front.

He was honorably discharged from Camp Custer, April 3, 1919. His health began to fail gradually after arriving home he was a patient at the hospital for several weeks at a time, hoping that his health might be restored, being young he longed to live and his death coming as the result of the war, seems doubly sad.

He was loved by a large circle of friends, both old and young and was kind, good natured, bright and brave and his cheerful disposition always made him seem something good in everyone.

He was confirmed in St. Paul's church with the class of 1904, March 27. He was a member of St. Paul's church and the Otseninger Lodge No.
9, I.O.O.F. of Ann Arbor and also of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Ann Arbor.

cere sympathy of the community in their great sorrow. The deceased is Hilda Gross at home also 4 brothers, place. This is the third matrimonial

HOME TOWN ROMANCE

"Back Home and Broke" Delightful
George Ade Story

Sometimes the small town boy who leaves his native village to go forth and conquer the world, succeeds.
After years of adversity and hard knocks, he "busts" the market or marries the boss's daughter or invents something profitable. Then he drives into the old home town looking wealthy and wise, while the inhabitants put him on the back and say, "Knew you had the stuff in you to do it, Boy."

Or if he has not been successful, he borrows enough to get himself a regular outfit in which to make his return, for only an "ex-small townner" knows the humility and shame of going home broke.

George Ade in his new Paramount picture for Thomas Meighan, "Back Home and Broke," which comes to the Princess theater next Wednesday and Thursday, sees the side he would naturally see of such a story, and has his hero return home apparently broke.
But there is a reason for this, as the picture which is full of sparkling humor and deft characterizations, proves. Lila Lee heads the supporting cast.

AT 3:30 P.M. THANKSGIVING DAY

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR RED CROSS DUES?

Annual Roll Call Ends Thursday.

All people in Chelsea who have not yet paid their Red Cross dues, or who have not joined are asked to do so in the next day or so. Those in charge of the local unit are not making a house to house canvass as has been done in times past, but are asking all to pay their dues to P. G.
Schubert at the Farmers' and Merchants Bank.

"The Red Cross has never closed its doors since wartime," has been the boast of citizens of Michigan, and according to Red Cross members all over the state it will never close its doors so long as there is a job to be done. With this in mind, workers throughout the state are co-operating to make the Seventh Annual Roll Call the biggest success since the war.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

A Union Thanksgiving service of all the churches will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Paul's church, Rev. E. L. Sutherland pastor of the Congregational church will give the address. Come and get the help needed for Thanksgiving Day, make an effort to be present and fill the church to overflowing. Many were the blessings bestowed upon all during the past year and it is only fitting that we pause and give thanks and not spend the entire day in feasting and merriment.

MY THANKSGIVING

For all the good my days afford,
For all the blessings on me poured,
For every kindly act and word,
I thank Thee, Lord.

I thank Thee, Lord for thoughts that roam
Beyond the narrow walls of home
To gather good from days to come,
And from the past.

I thank Thee, Lord for length of days
For guidance through life's devious ways
And in the darkness for the rays
Of light and love.

I thank Thee, Lord for hours of gloom,
For crushing grief and darkened room,
For shining shadow Thou didst come
To heal and bless.

I thank Thee that the weight of things
No longer binds my soul's free wings,
Than she can soar and soaring slugs Thy praise, O Lord!

That sea and mountain, flower and tree
Their message bring to me of Thee,
And fill my soul with ecstasy,
I thank Thee, Lord.

And so not only on this day
When many hearts Thanksgiving say,
But now forever and always
I thank Thee, Lord!

WASHTENAW COUNTY FARMER HAS THIRD HIGHEST TEST COW IN UNITED STATES

A Holstein cow, Chiffon Queen Coloria Belle II owned by W. L. Randall of Saline, Mich., was recently tested in the cow testing association and made a fine record. During the month of September she produced 1,335 pounds of milk containing 84.1 pounds of butterfat, which is equivalent to 106.70 pounds of butter with two milkings a day. She is 9 years old, and was the third highest in the United States for butterfat production. Her record was surpassed by two Minnesota cows. Mr. Randall without a doubt has one of the finest small herds in the State. He breeds for both type and production. His herd sire is a grandson of King Ona.

CHEAP TRANSPORTATION. CRYPTAESTHESIA SAVES WOMAN FIGHT, MR. SINGH.

BOSS MURPHY WILL LEARN.

The air giant ZII-L, bigger than the biggest steamship, uses less than a gallon of gasoline per mile in her flight of 2,200 miles. A big ocean steamer would need two tons of coal to one gallon of gas for a giant flyer.
That shows the difference in power needed to push aside light air and heavy water and it tells you how cheaply man will travel in years to come if they get rid of that "all the people will hear" slogan. It is quite probable that in future one day's work will earn the actual cost of a flight around the world.

Professor Richet of the French Academy of Medicine says woman possesses a faculty, called "Cryptaesthesia." That's a scientific name for intuition, woman's strange power to judge character at a glance, her ability instantly to tell truth from falsehood.

"Cryptaesthesia" is older than the French Academy of Medicine, older than the pyramids. Women practiced that faculty a hundred thousand years ago, when their husbands came wandering in late from the cave across the valley. It's their one safeguard.

A baby kangaroo born in the Chilen-months, while its hind legs grow

A giant grizzly bear has a baby

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT.

Carelessly reaching for her hair with a hot curling iron, a woman accidentally sticks the iron into her eye. It blinds her. Woman accidentally sticks the iron into her eye. It blinds her. last few months.

Another odd case: A Swiss cheese (its holes filled with accumulated gases) exploded when it was cut open at a Long Island fair. A spectator had an eye severely injured by one of the flying fragments.

Then there's the case of the baby who playfully gouged a Queer accident? It has happened to five women in America in the man's eye with its thumb. Another man's eye was badly cut by the sharp locking leg of a stray grasshopper.

These strange incidents, reported by the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, are reminders of the uncertainty of life. Fortunately, the masked dangers are few and far between. Nevertheless, the improbable occasionally happens.

It is comparatively easy to dodge the common dangers of life. All that's needed is personal caution, along with a few of the safety devices with which man tries to make this a fool proof world.

There is cause for surprise when a Swiss cheese explodes, but not when a train strikes an auto. The train rarely leaves the track to hit any one.

Avery Hopwood, the playwright, once took a steamer trip up a Chinese river. His cabin was shared by a fussy young Englishman who was constantly spraying, fumigating and disinfecting—using every known precaution to dodge Chinese plagues.

Despite all this the Englishman contracted smallpox, while the less careful passengers escaped. How do you explain? Faté?

MAN NOT A CREATOR.

The mummy of old King Tutankhamen will be examined with the X-ray to find out how old he was when he died, also to check up the number of years since the Egyptian undertakers dried him for morbidly curious later generations.

Thus the ancient past makes contact with the fantastic super science of our generation. Rarely we find such a contrast of the old and the new.

The X-ray, most uncanny of man's inventions, existed in nature long before King Tutankhamen, but it was not discovered until a matter of thousands of years later. So, also, existing in nature are super devices which will be discovered by our descendants and will be to the X-ray as the X-ray is to King Tutankhamen's mummy.

Man creates nothing. He merely discovers what already exists and adopts in various forms to fit his needs.

NO NATURAL TALENT PAVLOVA SAYS.

Anna Pavlova, probably the world's most artistic dancer, will dance for us this winter. Pavlova is unusual in that she says the unusual—that no child has "talent." For instance, she claims that at 8 years she had ambition but no talent. The talent was developed by hard work and intense study. Physical exercise, especially fencing, was among the things that created ability.

Ability, after all, is the desire to do and the willingness to labor to learn how. Exceptions are rare. There are exceptions, though Pavlova, speaking glibly, claims not.

OUR REAL SELVES.

Will power of the conscious mind—controls only a fourth of the activities of the body. The other three fourths are directed by the unconscious mind, without us ever knowing it. This is Dr. William J. Mayo's theory.

For instance, digestion is a body activity controlled by the unconscious mind.

The so called "unconscious mind" may be the real self. It is the part of us that dreams. It guides our emotions and much of our thinking. Every one has duo-personality.

AFTER THE WAR.

Over half a million people are drawing pensions from Uncle Sam, and collecting a total of 254 million dollars a year. Most of them are living reminders of a war fought long before most of us were born.

Fifty years from now, future editorial writers will be penning similar comment about the surviving veterans of the world war. The pensioner deserves all he gets and more. But the pension system is an indelible warning that a war doesn't really begin until it's over, as far as the taxpayer is concerned.

TRUTH OF THE MATTER.

Even a healthy woman cannot have more than three children without detriment to herself or to them. So claims a woman doctor at a birth control conference in Chicago.

You get a different impression if you open the old family albums and look at the sturdy women of several generations ago who averaged about 17 children apiece.

Childbirth is wrongly blamed for a lot of economic and health evils that are directly due to unnatural living conditions of today.

Junior Red Cross Spreads Good Will Throughout World

Nearly 5,000,000 pupils in the schools of America are following the standard of unselfish service as members of the American Junior Red Cross, the annual report of the American Red Cross discloses. This valiant host is represented in 125,072 school rooms of 21,289 schools throughout the United States. With a service program that is local, national and international in scope, the American Junior Red Cross is working unflinchingly for health and happiness and in the promotion of activities among boys and girls wherever there is opportunity for usefulness.

Increased activity on the part of the schools enrolled and deeper recognition by school authorities of the educational values of Junior Red Cross have been significant features of the last year. Carrying on educational and relief work in France, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and Rumania, the American Juniors have influenced the forming of Junior departments in the Red Cross organizations of these countries. American boys and girls wearing the "I Serve" button of the Juniors are proving apt messengers of the spirit of good will and mutual understanding through correspondence with pupils in schools scattered throughout the world. At the close of the school year in June 2,666 schools were engaged in correspondence with a like number of schools in Europe; 284 schools in our insular possessions and Alaska territory carried on an exchange of letters with schools in the United States and South Africa. In fact, nearly 2,700 schools with probably 100,000 pupils were busy in this fine act of cheerful communication, while 8,247 articles passed through National Headquarters of the Red Cross in exchanges between the interested pupils here and overseas. An incident of the year's advance was the beginning of activity which will eventually install Junior Red Cross in the Indian schools of the United States.

From every section of the country reports of the tour of the unit of crippled children with their choral which came from the Bakulo school in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to show gratitude to the American Juniors for their assistance declare that nothing since the World War has done so much to awaken the Red Cross spirit in the communities visited by the unit.

The work of the American Juniors in foreign fields is emphasized in the advancement of playgrounds, scholarships in farm, trade and other schools, and community and school garden work, and donations of cash and equipment to children's organizations. In these projects $112,650.17 was spent during the last year in ten European countries, in China and in the Virgin Islands.

PEGGY'S CORNER

Address all communications to Peggy, care of the Tribune.

Candy Cookies.—Take one-half cup applesauce and mix with one-half cup sugar. Cream with one teaspoonful vanilla, a little nutmeg, one-half cup baking powder and one well beaten egg. Add one-half cup boiling water in which a teaspoon of soda is dissolved, and mix with this enough flour to roll out.

Leopard Fur is seen frequently this season in hands on cloth coats. It is particularly good on a certain shade of deep green.

New Evening Slippers are of black velvet, bound with gold and adorned with large rhinestone buckles.

Add one teaspoonful cold water to your egg white before beating and you will find that it makes more after it is beaten.

Good Form.—Except on some public occasions or in very smart society a formal luncheon includes only women guests. The usual hours are one, thirty or two. Small tables are often used instead of one large one. If cards are to follow the luncheon may be served on the card tables. Place cards should be used. Candle light is often used especially in the winter months.

Manicuring.—Toward middle age the nails are apt to grow brittle and break easily. If this tendency appears care should be taken to manicure the nails regularly, giving them a complete manicure once a week and spending a few minutes every day with the orange stick and buffer. File them sufficiently every day to keep them the proper length. The filing and use of the buffer will strengthen the nails and improve the circulation.

Etiquette

What's When to do it
By A. Leda

Readers desiring personal replies on points of Etiquette on their address may write Miss A. Leda, care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

In answer to K. M.'s question, "Is it considered proper for a young lady to go on a spending trip with her young man friend and his parents?" let me say it is quite proper but ill advised. I have heard of so many cases of friendships being broken by just such trips that I was not asked for my advice, and as for its propriety it is quite all right. So best of luck, my friend.

DEAR A. LEDA:

Is it necessary to send both invitations and announcements for a wedding?
Thank you.
MAYOR B. TEXAS.

No. Send the invitations to the friends you wish to invite and then after the ceremony send announcements to those who did not receive invitations.

DEAR A. LEDA:

At luncheon, which side of the plate should the knife and fork be put? 2. Do spoons go on the side with the fork? 3. And if there is a wine glass, where should it be placed? 4. How should the knife and fork be laid on the plate when they are not used?
At luncheon as my other meal the knife is placed on the right side of the plate and the forks on the left. 2. Any spoons used are laid beside the knife on the outside. 3. A wine glass stands directly beside the water glass on its left side. 4. The knife and fork should be laid side by side across the plate. It is very good form to let them be separated on the plate.

HELPFUL HEALTH HINTS

Acid Burns.—If one has been burned from an acid, flush the place liberally with water and then wash with a strong solution of baking soda.

Babies.—Never let a child use a pacifier. It strains the muscles of the throat, is liable to cause adenoids, and smother the shape of the mouth.

Sleep.—Do not sleep in a high pillow. A high pillow causes the head to be tilted back.

Red Cross Field Of Action Covers All the World

Represented by 83,645 members, the American Red Cross penetrates to nearly every part of the world. The insular and foreign roll call statistics for the past year are a most conclusive manifestation of the Red Cross spirit carried into the most remote lands. In Europe there are 4,958 members; in Turkey, and active in the Constantinople Chapter, 3,415. China has an enrollment of 2,252; Africa 156; India, 224, and Australia, 22. Even Vladivostok, in frigid Siberia has a live chapter with 100 members. The Philippine Islands can mobilize 58,747 under the Red Cross banner and Hawaii 7,563. The total funds raised through foreign and insular membership enrollment and sent to national headquarters in Washington amounted to $60,214.54, while an additional $33,350 was forwarded for the endowment fund of the American Red Cross. The high seas roll call in 1922 was an inspiring success. The Navy signed on 4,341 for the Red Cross and the merchant ships 4,141. Of the total membership outside the United States 83,990 are registered with chapters in foreign lands, the insular possessions and dependencies.

"I want to, therefore I can!" is the spirit that animates the Red Cross work in a well-dog.

Three hundred and three years ago a band of Pilgrims from the Old Country, "moored their bark on a wild New England shore." Nine weeks previous this brave band, one hundred in number, fleeing religious persecution, had left Plymouth, England, in their little ship, the Mayflower, and started west across the broad, stormy ocean to the land of freedom.

This was the coming of our "Pilgrim Fathers," and the place of their landing in Massachusetts was known as Plymouth Rock.

Scarcely had these brave pioneers become settled in their new colony when the terrible New England winter was upon them. The suffering which they endured is evidenced by the fact that before the following summer one-half of the party had died.

Nothing daunted, those who were spared, happy in their new-found freedom, stayed on, planted their crops, and prepared for the following winter.

In 1621, the year following their landing, after a good harvest, the Colonists determined on a period of recreation combined with thanksgiving for their many mercies.

The Governor sent out four hunters, who in one day secured enough game to supply the colony for nearly a week.

This was the original American Thanksgiving. For two hundred years it continued to be an Eastern holiday, taking place after every fall harvest. Today it is a national custom, the day being observed throughout the United States.

In commemorating this birth of our nation let us remember that it was founded and raised on the Bible; that religion came first and business was a secondary consideration; that the laws of men were based upon the laws of God; and that the church was the first and most important organization of every community.

The best that is in us we owe to these sober, uncompromising, Godfearing New Englanders. And the farther we drift from their stern teachings and tenets, the greater is our danger of shipwreck as a nation and as individuals.

OLDEST HIGHWAY ON CONTINENT IN N. AM.

Road was Old When Pilgrim Fathers Landed

The most ancient highway in North America is said to be the New Mexico section of the National Old Trails Road. According to Justice J. M. Lowe, president of the National Old Trails Road Association, this section of the great highway is the oldest road established on the North American continent. It extends from Sacramento to Santa Fe, about one hundred and fifty miles. Don Juan Onate, a Spaniard, who was governor of New Spain (which comprehended all of Mexico) in the fifteenth century was the first man to establish a road in America.

Long years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock Onate had marked out and established this road, which started at Santa Barbara, now Jimenez, Mexico, and ended in the vicinity of what is now Santa Fe, New Mexico. This territory had been claimed by the King of Spain in 1598, and later Santa Fe was founded as the capital of New Spain. This route was used later as a highway over which goods were brought from the Gulf of Mexico via Vera Cruz, via the City of Mexico and Santa Barbara, until the Santa Fe Trail was opened under the Act of Congress of 1824. This old road was then known as the "Camino Real." The King's Highway, and it traversed the Rio Grande Valley from the Gulf to Santa Fe.

though they are outnumbered 3,000 to one. Could Mr. Singh imagine one Englishman keeping down 3,000 Irishmen? In these days you only get justice when you fight for it. Even then it is slow.

In five thousand years, India has written millions of different books. And in all these books the word "Liberty" does not once appear. That's the trouble with India. Some day a man will come along, not a Gandhi, trying to fight Manchester with a spinning wheel, but some person of mixed race with thick hairy hair, coarse hands, short stubby fingers. He'll let India elect her delegates to the British Empire's family reunion.

William Factorio is in jail for throwing a cat out of a fifth window, and the Supreme Court says it is unconstitutional to pass a law that would prevent driving thousands of young children into mills and factories. Write that on your tablets. We can protect cats, not children.

Charles F. Murphy, who demands a vet plank in the Democratic platform for 1924, "was firing a shot at McAdoo's ambitions," according to political reporters. McAdoo will welcome such shooting. Before 1924 ends each candidate will be trying to prove himself drier than the others.

Mr. Emmons, president of the Electric Railway Association, says public ownership and an end of "a prosperous, sane nation."

Mr. Emmons is unnecessarily worried. What about the post office? That's government ownership, and quite successful. Nobody imagines that any private company would carry a letter from Miami to Seattle for two cents.

What about the Panama Canal? That's government ownership and government construction also. Quite successful after private effort failed.

It may be that Americans don't elect officials honest or capable enough to manage publicly owned monopolies. But they may do some day.

Private capacity and monopoly is a greater menace to national prosperity and sanity than government ownership.

Tens of thousands of doctors have been turned loose with fraudulent medical diplomas. Thousands of others, with regular diplomas, know little or nothing about disease and its cures. Every doctor once in so often should be asked to prove that he knows the difference between scarlet fever and appendicitis.
