JOHN O'LEARY TAKEN TO ANN ARBOR BY SHERIFF

Local Officials Narrowly Escape Injury at Hands of Crazy Man Saturday Evening.

John O'Leary, for several years a resident of Chelsea, was arrested on Saturday evening by Deputy Sheriff Palmer, and taken to Ann Arbor, where he was lodged in the county jail, after he had terrorized the neighborhood in which he lived, with actions which caused officers to be called.

First reports to local officials was that the man, who lived a secluded life in a shack on Taylor street in the southern part of the village, was ill. Deputy Palmer found the man lying on the floor of the house apparently in pain. However at sight of the official O'Leary jumped to his feet and made for him with verbal declarations of what he would do when he got him. Retreating to his automobile Mr. Palmer, after several attempts, managed to get it moving and get away from the crazy man.

A call for help was sent to Ann Arbor, and in the meantime Deputy Sheriff Palmer and three other men were called in to help capture O'Leary. With the arrival of two more men from the sheriff's office in Ann Arbor, the residence was raided and the man placed under arrest. Almost superhuman strength on the part of O'Leary called forth every effort of all six men to handle him until handcuffs were placed about his wrists, according to Deputy Palmer, the powerful physique of O'Leary matching in strength that of several men under ordinary circumstances in the opinion of the sheriff.

Mysterious actions of O'Leary, who has been a resident of Chelsea for approximately 10 years, and the fact that no one here has become intimately acquainted with the man, has led to general suspicion on the part of both officials and public. Past history of the man is a blank so far as local people have been able to learn.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION APPROVES PAVING PROJECTS

Kalamazoo Contractor Will Proceed With Construction of So. Main Street Paving on Bid of $18,500.

At a meeting of the state highway commission on Tuesday afternoon at Lansing, the South Main street paving contract which has been uppermost in the minds of Chelsea folks for the past several months was finally awarded J. H. Lowe, Kalamazoo contractor on his bid of $18,500. The bid was approximately $1,300 lower than the lowest previous bid received by the commission.

O. D. Luick, county road commissioner, who was present at the hearing Tuesday, stated upon his return that it was quite likely Mr. Lowe would proceed with the South Main street paving within a very short period so that the road may be finished before winter.

Several other road jobs, including stretches in Jackson county, East Lansing, Pawama, and various bits in Oceola county were also awarded, besides which Michigan road forces will build sections of road on M-23 east and west of Sturgis, the administrative board decided Tuesday.

The state is able to construct the road for $3,000 less than the lowest bid. Road Commissioner Frank Rogers informed the board.

Word of the award of the South Main street project will be welcome news to Chelsea and vicinity, inasmuch as the street has been under discussion for several months past, and for a time prospects of its completion this year were very uncertain. That its completion will mean considerable to Chelsea merchants as well as rural patrons and tourists is believed by everyone concerned in its improvement.

COUNTY TEACHERS WILL MEET IN ANN ARBOR

The next examination of Washtenaw county teachers will be held August 14-15-16 at the City Y. M. C. A. building on Fourth Avenue across from the court house.

KEUSCH FAMILY REUNION HELD SUNDAY

The annual reunion of the Keusch family was held in the park at Grand Lodge, Sunday. Fifty-five members of the family were present and a picnic dinner was served.

At the business meeting following the dinner, E. J. Keusch was chosen president and the remainder of the officers were re-elected for the coming year. It was decided to hold the meeting next year in Lansing.

Those from Chelsea who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. Philip Keusch, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keusch, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Heiber and daughter, Miss Ida Keusch, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Staffan and son "Abbe" and daughter Katherine.

LYNDON TOWNSHIP BOYS DROWN IN SOUTH LAKE

Family Reunion at May Cottage Ends in Disaster for Youths Who Go Swimming in Afternoon.

The May and Marshall family reunion which was held Sunday at the cottage of Arthur J. May on the shores of South Lake came to a sad ending when two of the young boys of the party lost their lives by drowning, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

After the dinner had been served Lloyd May, aged 14 years, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur May of Lyndon and Claude Marshall, aged 18 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marshall of Unadilla, went in bathing. Both boys were good swimmers and just how they lost their lives is unknown, but the cause of their death is supposed to have been cramps.

A young man in a boat nearby witnessed the drowning but was unable to assist or tell how the accident occurred.

B. B. Turnbull, Hubert Beissel and D. W. Caswell, who were in a boat some distance away heard a sister of young Marshall calling that the boys were drowning. They pulled their boat to the scene as soon as possible and other boats from the May landing arrived almost immediately after the alarm was given.

The boys were drowned in about 12 feet of water and both bodies were recovered about 15 or 20 minutes after they went down. The bodies were recovered by Howard and Francis May, brothers of Lloyd, who dove into the lake fully 25 times before they brought the bodies to the surface. Young Marshall was the first to be recovered and was taken into the boat of B. B. Turnbull. After reaching the shore Mr. Turnbull and others worked over the body of Marshall until their strength was exhausted. As soon as the body of young May was brought ashore every known means of reviving drowned persons was used. About thirty minutes after the bodies were recovered physicians from Pinckney arrived and proceeded with the same course that Messrs. Turnbull, Beissel and others had used, but they were unable to revive the two boys.

Funeral services for Lloyd May were held at 10:30 Wednesday morning from the home of his parents, Rev. Hubert, pastor of the Unadilla Presbyterian church, conducting the services. Burial at Unadilla cemetery.

The funeral of Claude Marshall was held at the home of his parents at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday, Rev. Elwyn Stringer, pastor of the Unadilla M. E. church officiating. Burial at Stockbridge.

BASKET PICNIC, FIELD DAY SCHEDULED BY MASONS

Eisenbeiser's Grove, North Lake, Will Be Scene of Third Annual Outing of Washtenaw Co. Ass'n.

The Third Annual Basket Picnic and Field Day of the Masonic Masters Association of Washtenaw County will be held in Eisenbeiser's Grove-North Lake, about five miles north of Chelsea, on Monday, September 1, Labor Day.

All Lodges within a radius of twenty-eight miles have been invited by the Masonic Masters Association of Washtenaw County to participate. This includes the Lodges in Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Howell, Dexter, Tecumseh, Mason, Pinckney, Grass Lake, Stockbridge, Saline, Manchester, Williamstown, Chelsea, Ann Arbor, Danville, Fowlerville, Milford, Brooklyn, Clinton, Northville, Onondaga, Leslie, Brighton, Okemos, Napoleon, South Lyon, Milan, Cement City, Webberville, Onsted and Henrietta.

A very interesting program for old and young has been prepared and it is anticipated that there will not be a dull moment. Baseball, a band concert, barn yard golf, tug-of-war, trap shooting, stunt races, Punch and Judy show, clowns and other events will keep things on the jump every minute of the day.

Ample parking space has been secured to take care of all automobiles on private grounds adjacent to the picnic grounds.

Suitable prizes have been secured for the Lodge having the highest percentage of its membership on the picnic grounds that day; also for the Lodge having the greatest number of entries in the different events. Some prominent member of the fraternity will deliver an address when these prizes are presented.

The place selected for the picnic is a beautiful spot with ample shade and facilities to take care of all the members and their families, including the "in-laws" and a very pleasant time is anticipated for all.

Sixth Sense in Dogs?

A seven-year-old collie recently returned to a farm in the Cumberland falls from Liverpool, a bonded miles away. No satisfactory explanation has ever been offered for the feat, though some people ventured the opinion that the dog has a kind of second sight, of which human know nothing.

VEHICLES MUST STOP AT MAIN STREET INTERSECTION

Village Council Passes Amendment to Ordinance No. 56, Covering General Traffic Regulations.

Passage of an amendment to Ordinance No. 56, an ordinance dealing with traffic rules and regulations within the village passed about the first of this year, was passed at the regular meeting of council on Monday evening. The amendment to the ordinance requires that vehicles come to a full stop before turning onto or crossing Main street in the village of Chelsea.

Passing of the amendment was considered by village officials to be necessary to safety of motorists, who, while driving on state trunk lines are given right-of-way over tributary roads. Main street is a part of M-22. The amendment conforms to ordinances being passed in most cities in which "stop" streets are laid out and main thoroughfares given right-of-way.

The amendment to the ordinance mentioned reads: "When any vehicle approaches an intersection of Main street, they shall come to a full stop, before proceeding to turn on to, or across, said street."

Electric light officials were considerably discussed because of failure to light the "Chelsea" sign at the intersection of South Main street and M-17. The sign which was erected several months ago has been in darkness during the night time whereas it was to have been lighted electrically as soon as possible after erection. While no decision was reached it is quite likely officials of the village will meet with the Electric Light and Water Works Commission at their next meeting to insist that the sign be lighted.

That the band will have a "movable" stand, built on wheels, so that it can be moved from one location to another without tear-down was indicated by members of the committee appointed to handle the matter, who report that part of the necessary equipment has been secured.

GREENING-LONGE NUPTIALS CELEBRATED TUESDAY A. M.

Popular Young Lady of Lyndon Becomes Bride of Detroit Man at St. Mary's Church.

A very pretty church wedding took place Tuesday forenoon in St. Mary's church when Miss Mildred, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Greening of Lyndon, was united in marriage to Mr. Daniel Longe of Detroit. Rev. Fr. Walls of Jackson, cousin of the bride, performed the marriage ceremony, during which John Hoey, of Dexter, a cousin of the bride, rendered a vocal solo.

The couple were attended by Miss Elizabeth Longe, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. Ambrose Greening, brother of the bride who was given in marriage by her father.

Following the church service the wedding party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greening where a wedding dinner was served to ninety guests, relatives and friends of the couple.

MARY PICKFORD in "Tess of the Storm Country"

From the novel by Grace Miller White. By arrangement with Joseph Zukor. Direction by John J. Robertson. Photography by Charles Rosher.

The Beautiful Mary Pickford

As a girl again—More beautiful than ever—with the sunny curls and tawdry tatters, roughish smile, quaint impudence, of the inimitable Tess. An entirely new picture—as new as it is beautiful—so gripping that it hurts—so superb that it awes. The crowning achievement of Mary Pickford's career.

Not an old scene in the whole film.

PRINCESS WILL SHOW

"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY"

After fourteen weeks of continuous work, Mary Pickford completed her new version of "Tess of the Storm Country," the famous Grace Miller White's story which established this little star's perennial fame eight years ago when she made her first feature picture. This new "Tess of the Storm Country" is coming to the Princess Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, under a United Artists' release.

The last scene was made on location near Los Angeles and showed a dog capturing the villain just as he was about to grasp the fleeing Tess, that belligerent hoyden of the squatter's village so convincingly portrayed by the lovely Mary.

Owing to the popularity of "Tess of the Storm Country," every precaution has been taken with the production to make it superior to anything Miss Pickford has ever done. Direction was under the guidance of John S. Robertson, especially loaned by Jesse Lasky for this feature. Charles Rosher, who has handled the camera for practically all of Miss Pickford's most famous starring vehicles, presided over the photography on this production. In the cast are such celluloid notables as Lloyd Hughes, Gloria Hope, Forrest Robinson, David Torrence, Jenn Harshoff, Danny Hoy and Mino de Rodanave.

CONTESTANTS OF KEMPE

WILL DENIED NEW TRIAL

Judge Sample sustains Jury's Verdict in Awarding Decision in Favor of Defendants.

Denial of the motion for a new trial in the matter of the contest of the will of Mary C. Kempf, deceased, Harry V. Angevine, contestant and granting of an order allowing expert witness fees and expenses as a part of taxable costs, are contained in a decision handed down in Wayne County Circuit court by Judge Geo. W. Sample, of Ann Arbor, on July 29. The case, which has occupied the attention of Wayne county court for five weeks, has attracted considerable local interest inasmuch as the late Mary C. Kempf, widow of the late Geo. H. Kempf, was for several years a resident of Chelsea and widely known here. Verdict for the defendants was reported by the jury.

In handing down his decision to deny a new trial to contestants Judge Sample carefully reviews procedure of the trial up to and including the jury's verdict and, without comment on the verdict, compliments the jury on its conduct, and reliability, and discusses evidence as submitted by parties to the litigation. In reviewing the evidence submitted during the trial with reference to the mental competency of Mrs. Kempf, the judge's decision says:

"In view of the fact that it was admitted upon the trial, and nobody has questioned the mental competency of Mrs. Kempf, to execute the will in question, I fail to see how any person, court or jury is concerned in the disposition of her property. The showing moreover, was and is conceded to be that the testatrix was possessed of a superior and refined mind, and that she was of general high intellectual attainment. On September 7th, 1923, she had gone from her home to the office of her counsel and legal advisor for an extended accounting as an executrix, with her co-executor, Leon Kempf, in her husband's estate. Near the close of office hours upon that day, she retired with her counsel to the privacy of the library room adjacent to his general office, and an hour's consultation, or thereabouts, was had. Her counsel made memoranda of her desires, she urging him to promptly prepare her will with pen and ink that evening at his home, as she then proposed going to Cleveland, Ohio, early the following day, and wanted to execute her will before making the trip. Overnight, however, three or four desired changes came to her mind, which she had her counsel insert into the paper she had prepared the evening before, for her. Such facts show a competent and alert disposing mind. Her physical condition at the time was such as to cause her to contemplate an eight or nine hour automobile journey with her nephew, Leon Kempf, from Detroit to Cleveland, Ohio, for a visit of one week or ten days at his home. It matters not what she had in her mind previous to the actual making of the will as to the disposition of her property or those who may have been theretofore the objects of her bounty. Just as she changed certain provisions of her will over night, so also could she have made other changes in her natural life, so long as her good mentality remained with her.

"The only question for the jury to determine was whether the paper writing offered for probate was her will. As to the claim of undue influence, the jury settled that fact. A wide range of latitude in that regard was submitted to the jury. Few, if any, facts tending to establish the claim of undue influence were proved. A verdict on that branch of the cause might well have been directed against contestant. Merely charging undue influence, or merely showing the opportunity therefor, is not sufficient to do the fact that certain provisions of the will do not meet with the approval of others furnish a reason for distributing its provisions. Courts and jurors do not, nor should they, make wills of people."

"The decision, a lengthy document covering several typewritten pages, was in the hands of local parties part of last week and was received with satisfaction by those most interested in the case.

Maytag Gyrafoam Washer

"DOES THE WORK IN HALF THE TIME"

This new machine gets its name from the gyrating currents of water and soapy foam. It is not like any other type of washer. It is not a dolly machine. It is not a cabinet machine. It is not a vacuum or an oscillating machine. It is not like anything ever built. It is the only absolutely new principle of washing in the past ten years.

Cleans as no other principle can. See how it works. Water gently cleans your clothes. The gyrating currents of water flex and work the fabrics until the dirt is loosened. Then the turbulent action of the water carries the dirt off the clothes.

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Are Appreciated by Chelsea People.

Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one kidney medicine that has earned a reputation for lasting results and there is plenty of proof of its merit right here in Chelsea.

Here is the testimony of one who used Doan's Pills years ago, and now makes her testimony even stronger.

Mrs. W. D. Arnold, E. Middle St., Chelsea, says: "I suffered greatly from dull, nagging backaches and a distressing pain through my kidneys which gave me a great deal of trouble. Doan's Pills from Fenn's Drug Store helped me wonderfully. They rid me of the backaches and corrected the action of my kidneys. I was better in every way after using Doan's."

The above statement was given July 7, 1909 and on April 27, 1920, Mrs. Arnold added: "I have the same good opinion of Doan's Pills now as I did when I recommended them before. They cured me and the cure has lasted."

RECORD FARM CROWD GATHERS AT M. A. C.

Official Estimates Show Attendance of Six to Seven Thousand at August 1 Conference

The largest crowd of farm people that ever gathered for a single meeting of its kind in the history of Michigan agriculture attended the seventh annual summer Farmers Day at M. A. C. on August 1.

Official attendance figures given out by E. B. Hill, chairman of the college farm day committee, placed the crowd at 6,000, an admittedly conservative estimate. Other estimates made by officials and visitors ran up to 8,000 and even 10,000.

After inspection of the college farm and experimental plots in the morning and a general visit to the buildings and barns, the crowd gathered under the campus trees for a basket picnic lunch at noon. Neighborhood and county groups from all sections of the state were in evidence during the luncheon hour.

Following inspection of the specially prepared agricultural exhibits, the crowd gathered in the outdoor meeting ground at one-thirty for the big afternoon conference. A special system of amplifiers carried the speakers' voices to all corners of the assemblage, which was spread out on the slope of the campus near the home economics building.

G. I. Christie of Purdue University; H. T. Horner of the M. A. C. economics department; and A. M. Brown, of Schoolcraft, former secretary of the college, were the principal speakers. A special livestock "style review" of college animals featured the meeting which was presided over by acting-president Robert S. Shaw, dean of agriculture at M. A. C.

TEN MILLIONTH FORD MAKES TRIP TO COAST

Ford car No. 10,000,000 completed its trans-continental journey July 29 at one o'clock when it arrived at the Western terminus of the Lincoln Highway, according to a telegram just received by the Ford Motor Company from Frank Kulick, former racing driver, who piloted the car across the continent.

The arrival in San Francisco was auspicious. The car accompanied by a large number of motor cars, bedecked with California's choicest flowers was driven to the City Hall where Mayor James Rolph received a letter from Mayor John Hylan of New York, in the presence of an enthusiastic crowd. It was then driven to the end of the Lincoln Highway where a final greeting was extended by James H. Houghlin, official representative of the Lincoln Highway Association on the West Coast.

This marked the completion of one of the most memorable demonstrations in automotive history.

The ten-millionth Ford was started westward across the nation's greatest highway on June 16th, not to prove performance but to commemorate an achievement, and throughout the journey demonstrations, bands and parades marked the progress for nearly every mile of the entire distance. Greetings were extended by officials of every state through which the car passed and all along the route sentiment was freely expressed that to Henry Ford belongs the greatest of credit for having brought the benefits of the automobile within the reach of the largest number of people in all walks of life.

Burdened with the responsibility of upholding Ford tradition—which has come to mean reliable transportation at the lowest possible cost Ford car No. 10,000,000, one of approximately 7200 standard cars produced in a single day, performed in characteristic Ford fashion. The entire distance of a little less than 4,000 miles was covered with but one minor adjustment and with absolutely no mechanical difficulty of any nature. Although many hundreds of miles of road, particularly through the western states and across the Rocky Mountains are of dirt and gravel formation it is noteworthy that this, the lowest priced car built averaged approximately 110 miles a day for the entire six weeks and was on schedule to the minute in every town visited.

The trans-continental trip of the ten-millionth car has formally ended but interest remains so keen that the car is now being routed up the Pacific coast to Portland and Seattle from which point it will be shipped by boat back to San Francisco and then driven overland to Los Angeles and probably back across the country to Detroit over a southern route.
