NATIONAL DEFENSE TEST WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

Programs of Music, Speaking, Parade, Dance and Barbecue Planned as Answer to National Government's Call.

With a program of music, both vocal and instrumental, speaking, a parade and possibly some sports events during the day, September 12, National Defense Day will be fittingly observed in accordance with the call made by national, state and local officers that the day be made one of a general "test" as to the potential military strength of the nation in case of an emergency such as faced the country at the outbreak of the World War in 1917.

That Chelsea and vicinity will fittingly observe the day was assured Wednesday of this week when a committee appointed to outline a program for the day reported a list of sub-committees who have been assigned special duties in connection with the day. Inasmuch as practically every city and village in the country will in some manner observe the day and attempt to unofficially mobilize the manpower of the country as a test of the country's ability to quickly gather defense material in case of emergency, it is only to be expected Chelsea will be in the front ranks of those answering the call.

Tentative plans as formulated at the present time call for programs both afternoon and evening. Services of the band have been promised. Special numbers of vocal and instrumental numbers are booked while able speakers will be on the program to emphasize the importance of this sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel. The American Legion will play its part in organizing and marshaling the day's activities. A parade in which all are asked to take part will be staged during the afternoon and in the evening a pavement dance for those who help the light fantastic will be held near the square. This feature is expected to attract hundreds of young people and where not so young to the scene of the evening's entertainment.

A barbecue, a feature attraction which is expected to cap the climax in the day's program is slated to end the festivities. After the evening meal have been appointed on this committee and there is no doubt but that the roasted ox served to a hungry populace will prove a crowning event.

In another column is printed the proclamation of President W. R. Daniels, of the village of Chelsea, calling on all patriotic citizens to respond to the call for observance of this day. While the call is sent out to mobilize, authorities declare it is not a militaristic movement such as would precede or accompany an intended war, but, as has been stated before, response to the call for unofficial mobilization will aid in securing an idea of the manpower of the country should occasion arise in which this man power was needed. It is to be hoped that the response will be liberal.

The general committee and sub-committees are noted by them for putting over the National Defense Day program are as follows: General—Dr. A. A. Palmer, L. G. Palmer, Dr. Faye Palmer, George P. Staffan and H. D. Withersell.

Advertising—A. B. McClure, Conrad Lehman and H. B. Murphy.

Parade—O. J. Claiborne, E. A. Tisch, Oscar Lindauer.

Barbecue—Dr. A. L. Steger, Herbert Loeffler, Fred C. Klingler, Joe Schnebelt.

Finance—P. G. Schaitler, John Frymuth, Frank Leach and R. D. Walker.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL OPENS SEPTEMBER 8

HARVEY FAMILY REUNION

The Harvey family held a reunion at Cedar Lake, Saturday, August 23, with sixty-one members of the family in attendance.

NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

September 12, 1924, the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, has been set aside as a National Holiday and every community, municipality and citizen has been asked to observe same.

Therefore, and in pursuance of said order the Village of Chelsea and surrounding community is asked to join in observing said day, and all stores and places of business are requested to close for a half holiday and every patriotic citizen is supposed to join in observing same.

The Chelsea band has offered its services, other music, public speakers, and entertainment will be furnished.

WARREN R. DANIELS, Village President.

QUICK, EFFICIENT WORK SUBDUES EVENING BLAZE

Barns on the Mast and Rose Properties Damaged With Fire During Early Evening Tuesday.

Fire, which for a time on Tuesday evening looked dangerous to the business section of the village, broke out in the barn at the rear of the Mast residence on West Middle street, causing a hurried call to be turned in for the fire department. Quick response prevented considerable damage being done, the flames being confined to the Mast barn and one side of the Rose barn immediately to the south of it. Siding and a portion of the roof burned from the latter building.

The fire was first discovered by Miss Lizette Mast, who sighted it about 5:15 o'clock on Tuesday evening. When discovered it appeared to be in the top and next to the east end of the building, an old structure filled with boxes, barrels and some hay and straw, all serving as excellent kindling for the flames. However, in spite of the fact that the entire upper part of the barn was in flames beside the north side of the Rose barn, the fire was quickly extinguished by the fire department.

E. G. BRONSON RETIRES FROM PRODUCE COMPANY

Will Spend Several Weeks' Vacation, During Which Plans Will be Formulated for Future Endeavors.

After more than a year in Chelsea, during which time he has been associated with the firm of Clark & Bronson, as a partner, E. G. Bronson, at the close of business on Saturday evening will retire from the firm. Mr. Bronson's place will be taken by Gilbert Clark, son of the senior partner and the firm will be known as A. H. Clark & Son, dealing in the same line of groceries, fresh fruits, feeds, flour, etc., at the store on Park street.

Retirement of Mr. Bronson from Chelsea business circles comes as a surprise to the general public who are not acquainted with his plans. Original plans did not include their permanent location here and, according to Mr. Bronson, they have already stayed longer than intended. The fact that his firm has been enjoying a flourishing business of rapid growth and that Chelsea generally has made a favorable impression with them has caused Mr. and Mrs. Bronson to remain in Chelsea this long.

An extended vacation, during which time they will visit Chicago and other points in the west and Detroit, is being contemplated by Mr. and Mrs. Bronson. Following this plans may include a winter in the sunny south. Further than that no definite arrangements have been made. But whatever their plans and wherever the latter may take them these estimable folks are assured the best wishes of a large circle of friends who have been fortunate in making their acquaintance.

FAMILY PLANS TO TRAVEL TO TEXAS ON FOOT

With plans to travel from Michigan to Texas on foot, Will Stowe, with his wife and five children, former residents of this vicinity, but for the past few years living at Detroit, are visiting in Gregory for a few days before resuming the journey.

All equipment is carried in small packs on the backs of the party, while the baby is carried in a small wagon. They are traveling almost entirely without funds and sleep at night with little shelter.

Mr. Stowe was formerly a resident of Unadilla, son of Rev. George Stowe, who was pastor of the Methodist church of Unadilla for many years. The party plans to visit Jackson on their way south.

WASHTENAW COUNTY CORN THREATENED BY BORER

Government Inspectors Find Insect in Superior Township and May Mean Quarantine

European corn borer has been found in Superior township by government inspectors and should additional specimens be discovered during the next week, the district is in danger of a general agricultural quarantine. Several townships in Monroe and Lenawee counties are infested with the pest and have been quarantined, tying up thousands of dollars of grain.

This pest is the most destructive and injurious of any attacking farm crops. If it gains a foothold it will cause thousands of dollars loss to corn growers of this section.

Every precaution should be used to have suspicious cases identified. This season several samples have already been received by County Agent but in no case has it been found to be the European Corn Borer.

About the middle of September, County Agent Burton of Monroe County and County Agent Osler of Washtenaw, together with a Bug Specialist from M. A. C. and several farmers, expect to make a trip into Canada and look over the badly infested areas in order to see at first hand the terrible destruction of farm crops in that section.

County Agent Osler advises all farmers to be on the look-out for this trouble and report any suspicious cases in order that the spread of the pest may be held in check as far as possible.

Special bulletins describing the nature of the European Corn Borer and its life habits, can be obtained by making application to the County Agents Office, Court House, Ann Arbor.

HENRY W. DOUGLAS DIES OF HEART FAILURE SUNDAY

Henry W. Douglas, lifelong resident of Ann Arbor, and well known to many in Chelsea and vicinity, died suddenly of heart failure at his home in Ann Arbor at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning. He was aged 57 years.

Mr. Douglas was born in Ann Arbor, January 7, 1867, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Silas Hamilton Douglas. In 1889 he was graduated from the engineering department of the University of Michigan and immediately assumed management of the Ann Arbor Gas Co. In 1902 he was united in marriage with Miss Mabelle Leonard of Denver.

Following re-organization of the Ann Arbor Gas Co. into the Washtenaw Gas Co., Mr. Douglas resumed his position of manager of this company and has since been piloting affairs of the company although he had found time for civic and other public affairs to which he has given material support.

During his term as manager of his company he has made frequent visits to Chelsea in various capacities and has formed intimate acquaintances here who regret very much to learn of his demise.

Surviving are the widow, two sons, a daughter, two sisters and a brother.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the late home, in charge of Rev. Henry Talbot, rector emeritus of St. Andrew's Episcopal church and interment was in Forest Hill cemetery.

LEWICK-SCHAIER WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Clarissa Emma Lewick of Chelsea, and Mr. Elmer J. Schairer of Seio, took place in South Haven, Michigan, on Monday, August 26. Rev. P. W. Dierberger, a former pastor of the Chelsea Congregational church, conducted the services.

The bridal party, which left here Sunday morning, consisted of the bride, her sister, Miss Estner, Miss Helen Schairer, the bridegroom and his cousin, Herbert Schairer.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Lewick. She is a graduate of the Chelsea high school and the Normal college at Ypsilanti and for the past few years has been a successful teacher in the rural schools. The bridegroom is a well known resident of Seio.

The party returned to the home of the bride's parents Monday afternoon where they spent several days of this week.

NEW BARN RAISED AT COUNTY FARM THURSDAY

About 60 men, including members of the board of supervisors, Thursday gathered at the county farm and after working all day, raised the new barn being constructed there.

All of the county supervisors were urged to attend the raising and bring with them. Most of the supervisors turned out. According to reports, good progress was made on the barn Thursday. Lunch was served to the workers at noon and dinner at night.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank Broome and others who so efficiently attended the funeral in our home on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Geo. Mast, son, and daughter.

Editorial

WHAT'S THE ANSWER

Our presidential candidates are airing frequently, if vaguely, their attitude toward child labor, the Klan, and what the farmer needs. But on the biggest issue facing the world, all remain blissfully silent. Because our internal affairs are so closely inter-related, most of our vexing national questions must and will largely settle themselves. Besides, it is inconceivable that any new president could change the existing order much merely by moving into the White House.

The partisan battle; this year will not be warm nor the victory decisive. Yet there is sufficient incentive, if voters could only be persuaded to act on it, to evoke a campaign as live as that of 1916. What is to be America's foreign policy?

That's the burning question of the hour. That's the problem to solve, the big issue, the key to world happiness. Europe is watching to see what we do and we do nothing. We have taken no step which recognizes and acts on the authority and responsibility tacitly given us by warring powers. We take part in deliberations and conferences, but in such a half-hearted way as to get nowhere.

The candidate or the party which can and will elaborate a clear, simple, sincere, effective, and practical attitude toward Europe will deserve the dubious reward of rulership. After we get our attitude straight, action will be simple and easy.

RARE, BUT NOT EXTINCT

A 1,500,000 hospital is being erected at West Chester, Pa., to the memory of Louis A. Mason, a chauffeur of Pierre du Pont powder magnate. Mr. du Pont was convinced that "a modern, well-equipped hospital that would serve humanity was the only thing that was worthy of the chauffeur."

News dispatches gave no details of Mason's merits except that he was loyal. To most folks that is enough. A Book tells of a man who was faithful over a few things being exalted as a reward. Mason was just a chauffeur, a servant, and surely didn't have many things to be faithful over. But he seems to have guarded them well.

Maybe if he had been made of different stuff he wouldn't have remained in his humble position. We tend to glorify rises from the depths more than patient, efficient service there. Even fiction, most misleading of our arts, has only compassion for the man who sticks to his little job, no matter how well he does it.

Yet Mr. du Pont thought otherwise. His chauffeur was loyal, and seems to have done his job well at all times. That is rare enough to suit even space writers in bromide magazines. It is not an extinct trait, however.

At any rate, a million dollar hospital is rising to honor a loyal man.

THE RAIL COMBINE

Folks always scenting a trust in any extensive power may view with alarm the merger of the Nickel Plate, Chesapeake and Ohio, Rocking Valley, Pere Marquette and the Erie railroads. Incidentally, it's the biggest railroad deal of the century, perhaps of all time.

But those who are willing to wait and see results are viewing the deal philosophically. They know the modern tendency for weal or woe—is toward consolidation. They know the railroads can give better service and lower rates by merging—if they only will. They know, too, that the new stock, like the old, will be open to popular purchase, and that there is every likelihood that the new stock will yield more dividends than the old.

Of course, we have oil barons, and coal barons, and sugar barons, all of whom we instantly accuse of despotic money grabbing at public expense. If the railroads tie up in small powerful groups and set out to get as much as they can by giving as little as possible, we shall have still another "big interest" to accuse when hard times come.

CHAUTAUQUA

The Chautauqua Institute, at Chautauqua, New York, is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary. President Coolidge finds the occasion of sufficient significance that he sends his hearty commendation for the lyceum work the Institute sponsors.

The south and west would be deprived of a big cultural and entertainment factor without speakers, musicians, magicians, and other artists who go from town to town bringing the best of the outside world to folks who cannot leave home. Many young folks are inspired to go forth and conquer because of Chautauqua. Many tired men and women growing dull get a new zest for living and a new urge on to half-forgotten ambitions when Chautauqua comes. Many who have left the cities with their indubitable cultural advantages and come to smaller towns, far from both beauty and ugliness, are refreshed and stimulated by the familiar programs. If a town can effectively finance a Chautauque—and it must be very small and very indifferent if it cannot—there is no better way to get out or stay out of the rut than to have a program. In theory, and usually in practice, Chautauqua is a vital force in making new men and women from old and starting eager youth toward the heights of fame and fortune.

THE BATTLE ON

Well, Coolidge and Davis opened the political fight with their recent speeches a few days ago. From now on we'll hear considerable gunnery and blab-blah from both camps. Of course, we'll hear it all over and over again; vague, general charges of this or that, and stupendous promises and wearisome bromides.

La Follette's entry promises to make things interesting, at least. Both Democrats and Republicans say they're glad he entered; of course they're not. But he'll warm up the campaign and stir thousands of voters who never voted, or did so blindly, out of their cozy chairs.

A national society is formed to get voters to the polls. Tragically that we need such a group; perhaps we don't. But people just won't take an interest in elections unless they love or hate strongly.

In this campaign, the issue won't be startling or the views of candidates much different. It won't be an exciting election, but Coolidge and Davis and La Follette are all sure they'll win and all have plenty of evidence. It is astounding, and gratifying too, to see how the nation is taking the election to heart. When the majority of voters are interested in the welfare of their country the nation won't go to the dogs no matter who is elected. An interested majority can't make a mistake.

This new association to get the votes indicates which way the wind is blowing. The columns and columns of political news and views in papers and magazines are also signs of the times. Nothing better could happen than for the people of this community, this state and all the country to begin to get clear and sure the factors in the election. For wise choosing depends upon accurate knowledge which can come only from reading both sides and separating the few grains from the earloads of chaff.

Usually.

If what you are reading is extremely absorbing, your berth on the sleeping car is the first to be made up.

A BIG BIBLE

The Maine Bible Society has copied the Bible by hand in a blank book weighing eighty-eight pounds. Men and women took turns writing it. Now the Bible is on display, and has been photographed for the press, of course, and—now what?

Nobody who really wants to read the Bible need do without one printed and well bound. These people did what they would call a labor of love, much like the woman who poured on Christ's head the ointment she could have sold for a big sum. Did they waste their time. Could they have done themselves and others more good in other ways; during those years they were copying the Testaments.

Who of us has a right to say.

SWAYING THRONES

Cables tell distressing news of Spain and Egypt. Revolutionists in Morocco have defied Madrid and the French rule also, and the Spanish capitol is having rumors that the king must abdicate.

Around the Nile the situation has gone further. London papers are alarmed. Egypt has long wanted to oust the British rule. They've tried it in the Sudan district and in quelling the rebels the British had to shoot. A dozen natives were killed. That won't help matters. Thirty years ago England would send a shipload of soldiers to her resisting child and use plenty of force so that further revolutions would be discouraged. But no big nation dares to do that now, especially since the War. England knows all the world would sympathize with Egypt, the smaller country seeking to be free of "bondage", even as America sought. Perhaps other nations would step in for a hand.

The Spanish trouble is more threatening just now. The Spaniards are quiet as a rule; they haven't been "oppressed" like the Egyptians. They have led a quiet, colorless life.

Now discontentment has come. Maybe they were jealous of the way other nations got into the papers. Maybe they were being so well governed that they thought they weren't being governed at all. Nations do get that way. America gets so feeling occasionally, gets restless and craves action. But turmoil indicates little more than keen interest in government by a few. It does not necessarily reveal evil conditions.

America faces several internal rebellions and at least one outside. Some of the revolt will be seen in the coming election. Men are forsaking all three parties, flitting around just to get action. We're going to hear more from the Philippines soon. They, too, want "home rule" and deliverance from Uncle Sam's bondage. It's a universal condition.

Old American Fort

The fort known as Chef Menteur has figured fairly extensively in Louisiana history. In regard to the naming of the fort, the following legend is told: The Choctaws were conspicuous for their love of truth, but one of the chiefs was known to prostrate frequently. He was called and settled on an island projecting into Lake Pontchartrain, which therefore was called "Chef Menteur," which is French for "Lying Chief."

Whereas, the said State Highway Department will only pave said street to a width of twenty feet, which in the opinion of the council is insufficient for safety of public travel, and it being the consensus of opinion of this council that a width of twenty feet of pavement would not serve the best interest of the public and would make it dangerous for public travel, therefore be it

JACKSON COUNTY FAIR WILL BE BEST EVER

With but a few days intervening before the Jackson County Fair opens it becomes a question of the people as well as the Fair management: Will the Fair equal its past records in educational value and attendance? To those who are on the inside, regarding its booking and detail arrangements, there is no doubt of its taking even a larger leap forward than any preceding year.

There has never been the interest cooperation and general hard work done in its building as this year, and as from year to year its value and importance becomes better known, the public becomes more anxious to exhibit and attend, as the comparison and research it offers, is so vital to their prosperity, that it almost becomes a duty to spend as many days each year at this school as possible, besides all work and no play becomes monotonous. Then what is better to mix in with this week of research and education, than the amusement that is provided with it to bring a happy smile, a thrill of excitement, a general good time with old friends, and all this after a hard year on the farm, in the factory or in business, then why doubt its improvements, there is no doubt the people own it, they make it, it is theirs, and from year to year it will grow and expand in every department and feature, if it continues clean and educational, this is one promise the management is required to make, and they do make it, this year and past years. Thus the future of the Fair is assured, and the 1924 Fair will be bigger and better.

Howell—Monday the sheriff's office was informed that three Fowlerville men, Earl Bristol, Ace Bristol and Ernest Bristol were on a drinking spree. All three were arrested and arraigned before Justice Leon Stowe on a charge of violating the liquor law, having the stuff in their possession. They were bound over for trial on $500 bail each.—Republican.

Stuckbridge—A new fire alarm siren has been installed at the lighting plant, putting us on a par with other villages. It was tried out Friday, and is an alarm that can be heard all over town. People will know when there is a fire, especially the Fire Department which must know when there is a fire if they are to be on hand quickly.—Brier-Sun.

Brooklyn—Albert Walker's tract of 223 acres on the west and south shore of Vineyard lake was purchased Monday by Messrs. Baker and Smith of Northville. The land includes the large orchard on little Vineyard and the fine shore line that extends up beyond J. P. Kline's cottage on big Vineyard. It is hoped for the further benefit of Brooklyn that the new owners will develop the fine tract, a large part being suitable for summer home sites.—Exponent.

Michigan Center—With the opening of the fall term of school the Jackson County Normal will be started, continuing through the school year. This has been brought about through the efforts of the Jackson county school commissioner, Mrs. Bessie Jackson Crawford and is an addition to the educational advantages offered heretofore. The normal will be conducted for those who wish to take teachers' training and will give a course which is complete for teaching purposes and equal to a year in college.—Times.

Saline—The young men whose pockets are filled with cigarette wrappers, mustache combs, angular cleaners, miniature curling irons, looking glasses, etc., and have their mothers censure their pants every day, are not the ones who will make promising husbands. The pockets of those who are helping to make the country bloom and causing two blades of grass to grow where God planted but one, will be found filled with barbed wire staples, and different sizes of nails and screws. They are the boys girls had better look after.—Observer.

Cinton—The grading on the Chicago turnpike from the Washtenaw county line east of Clinton to the village limits west of Saline is completed and was accepted by the State Highway Department yesterday. Roy Mileham, the contractor who did the grading, says state officials drove a car over the road 50 miles per hour to test the grading for bumps, but none were found. The work of pouring the concrete for paving will begin just as soon as equipment can be installed and the tracks laid for hauling gravel.—Local.

Fowlerville—John Proctor, aged 62, a prominent farmer living south and east of Monroe, met with a horrible accident Monday evening, which proved fatal 18 hours later. Mr. Proctor with his son, Roy Womboldt, were in the barn when the M. D. bull which they bought at the M. D. Groat auction last fall, made a lunge for him and before he could side-step was badly gored, the bull striking him in the abdomen. He was taken to the house and Dr. Hasted called. The injured man lived until Tuesday at 5 p. m. when he breathed his last.—Review.

Milan—The young fellows sure do like to sit and visit. Last Thursday, Jim Johnson, the youngest man on our streets, went to Dundee to visit his brother for a few hours. The giddy brother, who is eighty years old, had gone to Toledo to visit. Jim is seventy-six. When Jim got back to town he met seven other youngsters on the streets and they visited for several hours. U.S. Royal Cords

BALLOON ~ BALLOON-TYPE ~ HIGH PRESSURE
Built of Latex-treated Cords

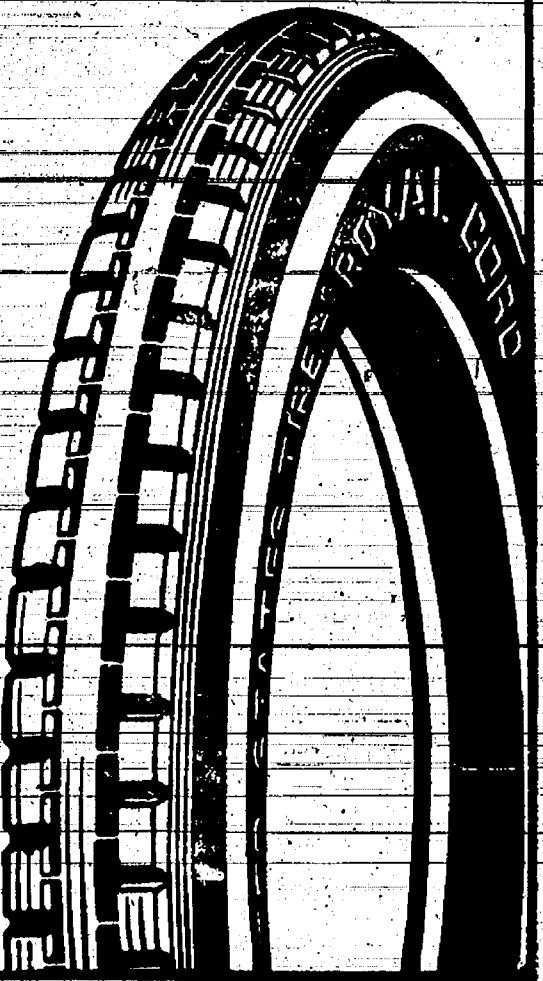

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

The Schools and The Railroads

Teachers in Michigan's primary schools are being supported, to a large degree, by taxes paid by the state's steam Railroads. In many counties, the whole cost of these schools is carried in this way.

Michigan is justly proud of these schools, and of the capable teachers who preside over them.

And Michigan's 24 Railroads are proud of the result which their tax payments have made possible.

These primary school taxes have become a part of the delicate balance which laws have established between Railroad receipts and expenditures.

This balance can be preserved with a steady and continued improvement in Railroad service, as the past two years have amply proved.

To destroy this balance by increasing Railroad taxes, or by imposing any additional burden on your carriers, would be a calamity for the Railroads and a severe blow at Michigan prosperity.

All we ask is a fair chance to keep on making good for you.

Write us freely about any phase of this matter that interests you.

The demand for BEECH-NUT Chewing Tobacco alone is more than 250 million packages in a single year.

That's because we didn't let tobacco growers, labor, manufacturing costs, State, Federal and revenue taxes collect their increases from the quality or the weight.

POOR CROP STORAGE
CAUSES BARN FIRES
Farmers who fail to take great pains in curing their hay and grain crops in the field before storing them in barns are faced with the possibility of the destruction of parts or all of their season's crop by fires arising through spontaneous combustion, according to a warning issued this week by R. C. Rather, farm crop specialist with the Michigan Agricultural College extension staff.

Particular importance attaches to careful crop storage this season as satisfactory drying and curing of the crop in the field has been prevented by weather conditions, rather points out. When hay or grain has become wet with rain in the field and contains more than its natural moisture, overheating in the mow may occur unless proper care is taken, occasionally in such degree that flames break out.

Two instances of spontaneous combustion have already come to the attention of the M. A. C. farm crop department, one at Brown City and the other at Ekton, the latter witnessed by Mr. Rather himself. Slightly over a week after the wheat had been stored in a wet condition, a dull hollow thud was heard and clouds of gray smoke were seen pouring from every crack and opening in the barn. A minute later the barn was a mass of flames and the building with the entire wheat and hay crop for the season was completely destroyed. Cinders from this blaze were found more than a mile and a half away.

Such losses can be prevented if growers will take great pains to cure their crop in the field, Mr. Rather says. "In seasons like the present the round capped shocks are much the more desirable in protecting the grain from weather injury. After curing, these can be opened up and allowed to air on the day they are to be hauled. When the straw down by the band in the center of the bundle is well dried out, it will be safe for storage as the rest will have ample opportunity to air out."
