NEW LICENSES NOT READY UNTIL FEB. 1

Free License Plates Will Be Issued
New Owners, According to News
Dispatches, From Lansing.

Speculation locally as to the method which will be followed in the sale of 1925 license plates for automobiles has resulted in an unsettled state of mind among motorists who have been kept guessing by conflicting reports emanating supposedly from Lansing
sources of information.

Dispatches in an up-state paper
the latter part of last week printed a letter written by Secretary of State Deland in which it was stated that no deviation will be made from the program followed in previous years, and that motorists must have their license plates by the first of January if they expect to drive their cars on or after that date.

In the letter it was stated that license plates would be on sale December 1,
and during the entire month.
However, dispatches appearing Tuesday with a Lansing date line
state that not only will automobile owners be given until February 1, 1925, to buy licenses, but purchasers of new cars will be furnished license plates gratis until such time as the legislature passes new highway licence laws which are expected to entirely compromise the gasoline and weight tax advocated by proponents for several months. It is hoped this will be done by February,

according to this source of information,
but no assurance can be given.

Shortening of the application
blank to be used for auto owners applying for licenses is also in the program to be presented by the secretary of state. Only the signature of the applicant along with the specifications of the machine would be required should the shortened form be put into use.

MANONIC TEMPLE IN YPSI BURNED SATURDAY NIGHT

Fire of undetermined origin starting in the rear of the lodge, room,
destroyed the Masonic temple in Ypsi Saturday night with an estimated loss of $140,000.

The fire was discovered at six o'clock, spreading quickly to other parts of the building and despite efforts of the local fire department aided by reserve firemen caused the almost complete destruction of the building. A call was sent to the Ann Arbor department which responded but reached the scene too late to be of great assistance. Insufficient water pressure added to the difficulties of the firemen. The new plant of the Detroit Edison company, an adjoining building was at a time seriously threatened.

THANKSGIVING DAY OBSERVED BY FORMER ILLINOIS RESIDENTS

The I. O. O. F. hall was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last Thursday when the former residents of Illinois, but now of Michigan, held their annual reunion. At 1 o'clock a fine hot Thanksgiving dinner of goose, chicken and all the trimmings was served by Mrs. W. C.
Pritchard, chairman of the dinner
committee, and her assistants.

After all had done justice to the fine repast, J. L. Damon, president of the organization, called the meeting to order and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, J. L. Damon; vice president, Mrs. Joseph Mayer; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Carl Schlosser; chairman of refreshment committee, Mrs. W. C. Pritchard; chairman of program committee, Mrs. E.
S. Kennedy.

At this time it was decided to observe Thanksgiving day in a like manner the coming year and also to hold two summer gatherings at such time and place as the committee shall decide upon. The committee in charge of the summer gath-ings are E. S. Kennedy, C. D. Schlosser, W. C. Pritchard and Ed Grabill.
The business being concluded, Mrs.
Joseph Mayer, chairman of the program committee, took charge and the following program was rendered:

Song—"Illinois."

tion—J. L. Damon.
Pantomime—"The Women."

er, Miss Anna Mayer, Mrs. Jane Gray

ity, and A. B. White of Saunemin, Ill.

PUBLIC URGED TO USE CHRISTMAS SEALS

Rev. C. S. Risley, chairman of the local committee on sale of seals,
hands out the following:
The Christmas Seal is the symbol of the organized battle against tuberculosis. Whenever such a seal is seen on a letter or package the recipient is reminded of this battle and is made aware that the sender has enlisted in it. "For this reason,"
says Dr. J. B. Watson of Ann Arbor,
"the Christmas Seal should be used,
not left on your shelf or hidden among the papers in your desk."
This year Christmas Seals are going out to physicians and dentists
the day after Thanksgiving in accordance with their own request so that they may make use of them on prescriptions, etc. One Washtenaw county physician uses the Seal on every prescription he writes during the year.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SALE PLAN FOR 1924 OUTLINED

Seals Will Be Mailed Direct From T.
B. Association to Prospective Users.

Christmas Seals will this year
come directly from the office of the Tuberculosis Association instead of
as in former years, from the Business
Girls' Club of Ann Arbor. In Ann Arbor and for the rural territory
they will be mailed out by the Association office in the Chamber of Commerce. In Saline, Milan, Manchester, Chelsea and Dexter, they will be mailed out by committees organized by the local director of the Association. The return envelopes will carry the address of the Association office in Ann Arbor. The placing of posters will be done by the local committees and local news of the sale handled by them.

For the first time in Washtenaw county the envelopes mailed will contain $2.00 worth of seals. This will place the county on the same basis as the rest of the state. It is not the intention that the seals received should be resold unless the recipient knows of a neighbor not on the mailing list with whom he wants to divide his number. Letters reaching the Association office last year indicated that many people believed that they were being asked to "sell" the seals they received.

There will be no sale by children.
Every effort is being made to avoid duplication and errors in mailing.
The friendship and support everywhere given the Association makes it feel free to ask that any such errors
be reported.

It is hoped that this year Christmas Seals will be USED. They are attractive and add as decorative a touch to letter or parcel as any seal you can buy. In addition they are much more meaningful. They stand for one of the greatest efforts of humanity to help less fortunate brothers. Use the Christmas Seal!

SHORT SESSION OF CONGRESS

The lower house of the American Congress is made up of members elected every two years. Each member is sworn in and becomes a congressman on the fourth of March after he is elected the November before. He is subject to call for service at any time after he takes the oath of office, but there will be no session of the Congress at which he can serve until the December following his being sworn in, unless the President calls an extra session. The session beginning the first of December after he is sworn in, is known as the long session, and may last until the following December unless by mutual assent the House and Senate agree on a day of adjournment. The short session begins the first Monday in December after election. The old members hold their seats until the fourth of the March following, when the session expires by statute of limitation.

In the short session of Congress beginning this month, will there be any attempt to pass important legislation? Generally speaking, it has not been a congressional policy to undertake really important legislation on such as would change tax laws or the policy of the government. At the short session this year, however, there is much insistence on the passage of new tax laws, and to press for an adoption by the Senate of the proposed President Harding.

Some private corporation or firm must operate Muscle Shoals when the great power dam is completed. There is divided opinion as to whether it would be best for Mr. Ford to have the plant, or for the government to operate it for the benefit of the whole public. The public understanding of the offer Mr. Ford made and has lately withdrawn, is not the same as that of Senator Ladd. Mr. Ladd is never understood as Senator Ladd would have it appear.

Muscle Shoals is a great American asset. It belongs to all the people, and should be operated by the people's government for the benefit of all the people.

To those who worry about their stock speculation, they will find, if they adhere to this simple rule, they will never lose, nor have cause for worry: "Buy when the stock is at the bottom, and sell when it is at the top." Of course there is the difficulty of KNOWING—definitely when they are at the top and bottom. The better plan would be, unless you make the buying and selling of such things a life study, do not buy at all, excepting of such stocks as you know to be sound, and then buy only as an investment.

Charles Gray Shaw, professor of philosophy in the New York University, gives the country solemn warning that "knickers and democracy do not go together." The professor is evidently one of those rare lot of American citizens who have never in knickers or otherwise forgotten that at famous nineteenth hole on the golf course, where democracy mixes with and "takes in" everything.

Speaking of the American tendency to athletics, modern philosophers are telling us that if the body is neglected and does not grow powerful, it comes "tax of something" more than $100,000 a year, and a college professor is lucky if he pays $100, we shall see more men training to be athletes than we shall see in training for college professorship.

Various sections of the country, suffering because of high railway rates, and seeing no relief in sight excepting through changes and realignment, are seeking a system of facilities might ship through the nearest sea lane. That appears to be the only solution to the present high freight rates on railroads.

There must have been a feeling of sadness in the hearts of every true American when they read the news of the sinking of the battleship Washington, by the government. There is a reverence and respect attached to the name of everything bearing the name of Washington that appeals to American sentimentality. It should ever remain so.

Scientists are beginning to ask: "If we can hear the human voice clear around the earth, why can't we hear sounds from other planets?" This is a reasonable expectation. We are in the infancy of radio now. We shall see and hear wonders greater than we have yet witnessed because of this marvellous invention.

Watertown, N. Y., is undertaking to enforce the prohibition laws in that municipality. This is a new story, because Watertown seems to be the only New York city that conceals the possibility of doing it. It is a rather odd commentary on our American system of law enforcement.

Thanksgiving came and went. The food was more plentiful than the thanks.

EXPENSIVE WEDDARS

The Egyptians killed Lord Stack, Sirdar. Great Britain demanded many harsh penalties of the government besides the payment of $2,500,000 in cash. She immediately moved troops and airplanes to enforce her demands, one being the evacuation of the Sudan, by Egyptian troops. Egypt paid the cash, and her troops are moving out of the Sudan.

American Consul Ermbrie was killed by a mob in Persia. Our government sent a polite, friendly note suggesting the payment by the Persian government, of $60,000, which has not been paid.

A great many Americans have always thought our government too lenient in dealing with foreign governments, which kill innocent people or citizens while in their jurisdiction.

England has dealt long with such nations. Is her experience worth anything to us?

A very interesting question is coming to the fore for trial in the courts, in the case of the city of Chicago, and the United States government. It is charged that Chicago is diverting 10,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan for sanitary purposes. This water leaves the lake through the Chicago and Calumet rivers, passing finally into the Mississippi river and on to the Gulf of Mexico.

Attorney General Stone, acting for the United States government, has started action to prevent more than 4,187 cubic feet being diverted every second. The Chicago Sanitary district alleges that this is not all sufficient for sanitary purposes, and the courts will finally have to pass upon the question. This will raise many questions of national and international jurisdiction, as Canada has long been protesting against the withdrawal of water from the Great Lakes and its diversion to water-courses wholly within the United States.

Senator Ladd of North Dakota is publishing in serial form his reasons for wanting Henry Ford to have the Muscle Shoals. The government or some private corporation or firm must operate Muscle Shoals when the great power dam is completed. There is divided opinion as to whether it would be best for Mr. Ford to have the plant, or for the government to operate it for the benefit of the whole public. The public understanding of the offer Mr. Ford made and has lately withdrawn, is not the same as that of Senator Ladd. Mr. Ladd is never understood as Senator Ladd would have it appear.

Riches Have Wings

I can remember when I was more enriched by a few cheap rays of light falling on the ponds than by the broad sunny day. Riches have wings. The weight of present woes will express the sweetness of past experience. When sorrow comes, how easy it is to remember pleasure! When, in winter, the bees cannot make new honey, they consume the old.—Thoreau

Vice President-Elect Dawes has declined President Coolidge's invitation to sit in cabinet meetings. General Dawes doubtless thinks—such occasions would not be sufficiently strenuous? He should remember that he would be able to speak his mind freely without danger of dismissal.

Can't somebody start a family fight that will put an end to this crossword puzzle thing?

Only about 30 kinds are known to flower growers and of these only about 25 are well known.—Detroit News.

Concerning Pet Names
The pet name for Mary is Polly, and although this may seem rather a jump, it is a curious fact that the M is often changed to a P. Mary, from Margaret, becomes Peg or Peggy, while the pet name for Martha is either Mitty or Patsy. For names seem to know no law.

CHURCH IS RELIGIOUS HOME, SAYS MINISTER

Editor, Chelsea Standard, Chelsea, Michigan.

In this modern day a great many folks are wondering if the church is really alive or is it a memorial of the past, and there arises this question. May I answer it?

The church is a religious home, a sanctuary for worship, a school for religious instruction, a fighting unit for the new world that is building. It is a social center of the highest type, since it gathers into relation of mutual helpfulness, people of every age and condition and since it adds to the attractions of the ordinary club the power of religion and the generous sympathies of altruistic impulse. The church is the most broadening and catholic organization among men, since its vision is to the ends of the world whither the Gospel is being carried and since its citizenship is in Heaven as well as in earth. Therefore, the man who looks upon the church as a monument of the past, thinks he has a good excuse and it puts me in mind of the story of the puzzled dutchman after hearing the minister preaching out in one of the western towns. The minister did not believe in immersion. He was holding a protracted meeting and one night preached on the subject of baptism. In the course of his remarks, he said: "Some believe it necessary to go down into the water, and come up out of it, to be baptized. But I deem this a fallacy, for the preposition 'into' of the scriptures does not mean 'into' at all times. Moses, we are told, went up into the mountains, and the Savior was taken into a high mountain. Now, we do not suppose that either went into the mountain, but just 'into' it. So with going down into the water, means simply going down close by, or near to the water and being baptized in the ordinary way by sprinkling or pouring." He carried out this idea fully, and in due season closed his discourse, and an invitation was given for who felt disposed to express his thoughts.

Quite a number said they were glad they had been there, on this occasion, and that they were pleased with the sound sermon. Finally, a gentleman of tautonic extraction, a stranger to all, arose and spoke as follows:

"Misther Brecher! I ish so glad I vash here tonight, for I has had explained to my mind, some things dat I never could perlieff before. Oh, I ish so glad dat 'into' does not mean into at all, but shust close by, or near to. For now I can perlieff manish things. Vot I could not perlieff before. Ve read, Misther Brecher, dat Taniel vas cast into de ten of lions, and came out afire. Now I netter could perlieff dat; for de wilt-peasts could shust eat his right off, but now it ish fery clear to my mind. He vas shust close by, or near to and did not get into de ten at all. Oh! I ish so glad I vash here tonight. Again ve read dat de Hebrew children vas cast into de fire, and dat alvish looked like a peeg story too, for day would have been burnt up. But it ish blain to my mind now, for they were shust close by, or near to de fire, and did not get into de fire. Oh! I vash so glad I vash here tonight. And den Misther

Not Always

Everything comes to those who wait except the time they lose.—Good Hardware.

Brecher! Ve read dat Jonah vas cast into de sea and taken into de whalesh pelly. Now I netter could perlieff dat. It always looked like a peeg fesh story, but it ish all blain to my mind, now. He vash not into de whalesh pelly at all, but shust shumped on his pack and rode ashore. Oh! I vash so glad I vash here tonight.

"And now, Misther Brecher, if you will shust explain two more verses of scripture. I vil be O so happy dat I vas here tonight. One of dem ish were if salsh de vicked shall pe cast into a lake dat burns with fire and primstone always. O Misther Brecher, shall I pe cast into dat lake—if I pe vicked? Or shust close by, or near to? O, I hopes you tell me, I shall pe cast only shust near enough to pe comfortable, and I shall pe so glad, I vas here tonight. The other passage is dat vich salsh, plessed are dey who do keep de commandments, dat dey may haf right to de tree of life and enter into de gates of de city. O, Misther Brecher, if I pe good, shall I pe cast near by, or shust close to de city? O, I hopes you tell me I can go into de gates into de city, and not shust close by, shust near enough to see vot I haf lost, den I shall pe so happy, I vash here tonight."

Are we happy and glad tonight for our churches? Remember, what the country is, what our community is, today we owe to the church and its teaching.

PEOPLE URGED TO MAIL CHRISTIAN PARCELS EARLY

Last year, through the generous cooperation of the press, the movies and other advertising mediums, Christmas mailers were induced to dispatch their Yuletide presents earlier in the month than ever before in the history of the institution of gift-exchanging in the holiday season.

As a result, the spectacle of the last minute rush of former years, with its attendant heartbreaking labor on the part of wearied and nerve-worn store clerks and postal employees, was avoided.

This year Postmaster General New and First Assistant Postmaster General John H. Bartlett have determined to make an even better record and to banish for all time the suffering undergone in past years by those engaged in the sale or transportation of gifts. They hope to make "Shop Early" and "Mail Early" a habit with the American people.

Mailing early does not mean December 1 or before, but if everyone could get their holiday tokens in the mail between December 10 and December 20, the post office could not ask more.

Particular attention this year will be paid to greeting cards. Despite the success last year it was noted that the last-minute mail consisted largely of cards. Possibly many of them were returned—greetings to friends, heard from on a previous mail, but overlooked on the original Christmas list. Unlike parcels and letters containing money orders, cards of course, can not well be marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas." Therefore, it is possible that the many mailers hold them until the last to insure delivery on Christmas Eve.

This class of matters this year, however, may find their cards undelivered until after Christmas Day.

Believing that the energies of postal employees should not be sapped to the last degree for any avoidable reason, and intent upon securing for them the same Christmas privileges enjoyed by others, Postmaster General New asks the hearty cooperation of the public. The last-minute, or zero hour, has been moved up so that all postal employees may eat their Christmas dinners at home. Rural carriers will deliver no mail at all on Christmas day and clerks and carriers in the city offices will stop work promptly at noon.

Queen Victoria's Rule Over Royal Household

Princess Catherine Radziwill in a book, "Those I Remember," tells many stories of royalty.

Queen Victoria, says the princess, "was a martinet politically as well as socially. The prince of Wales (King Edward) especially stood in awe of his parent, and when almost an old man himself he hardly ever opened his mouth in her presence.

"Her eldest daughter, the late Empress Frederick of Germany, used to say that whenever she was summoned to the queen's presence she first asked for a glass of water so as to conquer her emotion."

Queen Victoria, adds the princess, never appeared at state concerts or balls, but sometimes she would condescend to show herself at a garden party given by the prince and princess of Wales at Marlborough house.

She used to arrive late and was driven round the grounds in a little pony carriage, beside which her children dutifully walked, talking with her the whole of the time, for Queen Victoria was not above a bit of gossip, and liked from time to time to be told the news of the day, especially if it dealt with the marriage of somebody she knew or the love affairs of some one, she had met.

People Today Longer Lived

The English races are healthier and longer-lived than famous ancient peoples, such as the Egyptians and Romans, says the New York World.

American descendants of European parents are, on the average, bigger and taller than their fathers and mothers, according to Dr. F. C. Shiruball.

Stature and weight today, he said, are not less than in the days of Agincourt or Waterloo. Modern civilized man is decidedly not deteriorating.

Our expectation of life is far greater than ever before. The fossilized bones of the earliest human beings indicate that our most ancient ancestors seldom lived beyond the early adult stage. Mummy cases in Egypt show that an Egyptian child of five years might expect to live to be only thirty-five. A five-year-old child of Rome under the Caesars could expect a life of only twenty-nine years. But a child of five living in present-day London or New York can expect to live to be at least sixty-four years old.

Vinegar for Longevity

A man died in the apple district of New York who had spent nearly all of his ninety-two years in the manufacture of vinegar and he had contended for years that the secret of his longevity was the character of his work and it seems as if there might be something in his contention. For almost simultaneously there comes a story from England where the ages of four employees aggregate 335 years. The oldest of this group was nearly ninety and the youngest nearly seventy. The proprietor of this establishment said he knew of another vinegar distillery where there were four generations of one family at work.

"Bidding Prayer"

A prayer which bids or directs what is to be prayed, for is frequently known as a bidding prayer. This form of exhortation, always concluding with the Lord's Prayer, was enjoined by the thirty-fifth canon of the Anglican church in 1532, to be used before all sermons and homilies. It was, and in its abridged form still is, very impressive, allowing individuals to supply from their own knowledge special cases of necessity under the different heads.

Oldest University in World

The famous university of Bologna in Bologna, Italy, was founded in the eleventh century. Its foundation by Theodosius the Great in 425 A. D. is legendary. This is the oldest university in the world. The university of Paris is the next oldest. Harvard is the oldest university in the United States.

Wealth's Great Power

Wealth may be an excellent thing, for it means power, it means leisure, it means liberty.—Yowell.

Then Called the Police

The Boston Transcript says it found this in an English newspaper: "His face was a striking one, and even without his clothing people would have turned to look at him."

"Crossing the Rubicon"

Caesar's crossing of the Rubicon was significant because a precedent could not legally cross this frontier at the head of his troops. His act was therefore, a virtual declaration of war. Thus "to cross the Rubicon" has come to mean the taking of an irrevocable step.

Christmas Custom Passing

The custom of burning the Yule log on Christmas eve is not generally observed in England. The custom is still followed in some of the rural sections. It is more prevalent in the Scandinavian countries.

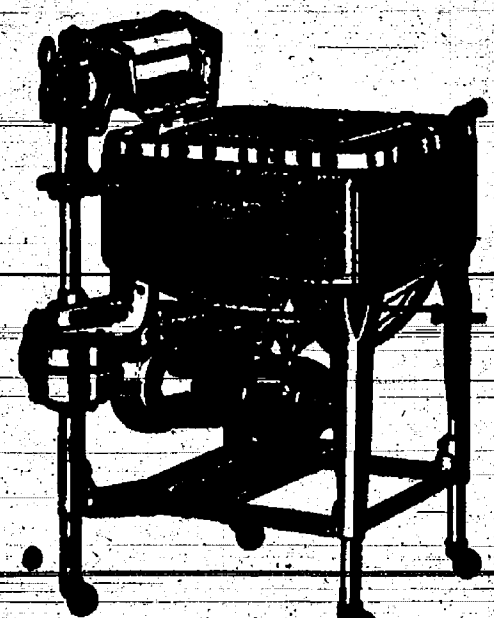

A Case of Plod

Enthusiasm makes a grandstand play, but it is quiet determination that wins in the end.

The Gift that Keeps Christmas

FOR the woman who receives a Maytag Gyrafoam Washer on Christmas there begins a new kind of washday—more real, practical helpfulness than she has ever known before.

Washing, that task which formerly required long trying hours, is magically reduced, by the wonderful principle of the Gyrafoam, to a matter of minutes. A tubful of clothes clean in 3 to 7 minutes. In 60 minutes an ordinary family wash completely, immaculately finished.

It's quick! It's thorough—handrubbing even on wristbands, cuffs or collars, is unnecessary! And since it washes entirely by water action, it is every bit as careful with dainty garments as hand washing.

Take the happiness your wife or mother knows at Christmas and prolong it for her washdays—for all the years to come. Give her a Maytag—she wants that kind of a gift, that kind of help.

- 9 Outstanding Maytag Features

Help Your Railroads Keep Tracks Clear

With every Railroad, passenger safety must be the first consideration always. That implies that there must be a clear track.

As motor vehicles multiply, this problem becomes increasingly difficult almost from day to day for the 24 steam Railroads of Michigan. Despite the most costly and carefully planned precautions on the part of the Railroads, crossing accidents are becoming appallingly frequent.

Such accidents are due to the growing recklessness of the motorists. Yet each accident also imperils the lives of trainmen and passengers.

Separation of grades can never solve this problem, for crossings are multiplying far faster than grades can be separated. And, with each separation costing from $70,000 to $100,000, the entire wealth of Michigan could not accomplish the task.

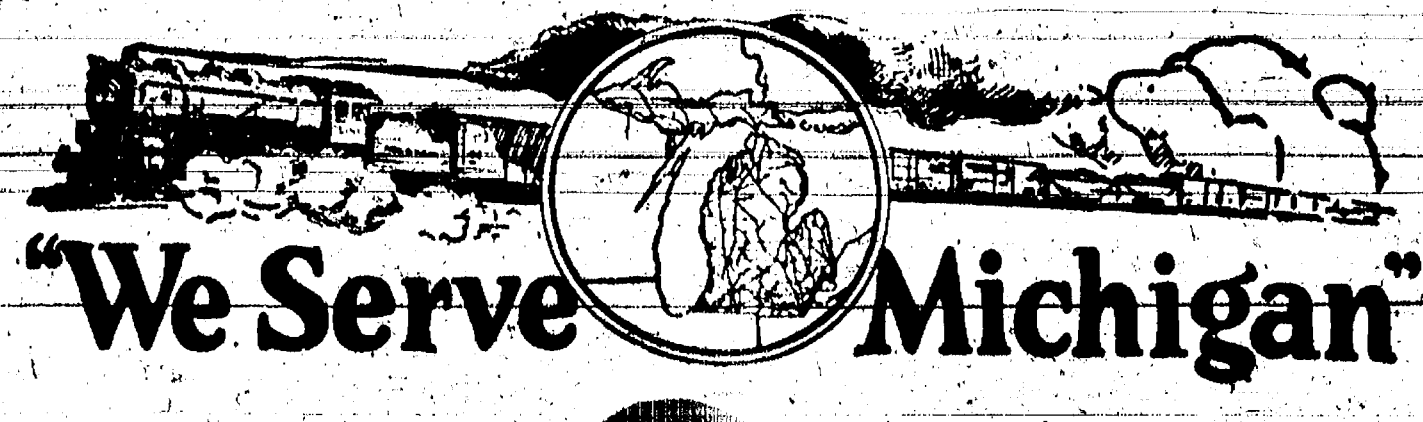

The public demands of us speed—quick delivery—for passengers, mails, freight. To keep our tracks clear for this efficient service, and to maintain our standards of absolute safety, we must have cooperation at crossings.

Most motorists give this cooperation by heeding our request to Stop Look, Listen. For their own protection, as well as ours, those who do not heed this request should be made to do so by the mandate of Law.

Do you agree? Write us your verdict.

Collegian's Faith in Card Proved Justified

Henry Alston was very careful and methodical—a circumstance that called for much good-natured teasing from his college roommate, Tom Bowers.

"If the card with your name and address that I just saw you putting in your pocketbook ever does a particle of good, Hank," said Tom, "please let me know how, when and where you lose the purse and see how quickly you get it back."

"But you that card would help me," Henry replied.

"Some time later," Henry's sailing after he had been in the water several hours. On removing his wet clothes he discovered that his pocketbook containing twenty-two dollars was missing. He could ill afford to lose the sum.

"Never you mind, though," Tom comforted him, "some big kind fish is going to read that address card and money stuck right under his tail."

All that fall and winter a knock at their door usually elicited from Tom some such remark as, "Hurry up, Hank, hurry up!" Bowers that obnoxious old fish with your wallet!

One warm day the following May Henry received a letter bearing the postmark of a nearby town. As he finished reading it he uttered a joyous cry and thrust it under the eyes of his roommate.

"Dear Mr. Alston," the letter ran, "yesterday my wife asked me to round up some ice for ice cream, and while using the mail in vigorous style I came across something black and valuable—a leather wallet containing twenty-two dollars in bills and a card bearing your name and address. The case is a little worse for wear, but the money is O. K. A queer chance, my finding the article and I'd like to hear the history sometime. Am returning all to you intactly registered mail. Yours truly, L. M. Hawkins."—Youth's Companion.

Aged Apple Trees
The apple tree is the longest lived of American fruit trees. In many parts of the East it is not unusual to find trees healthy and bearing fruit at the age of 100 years.

Seems Desperate Remedy
If you have a bad cold, kiss a mule three times, is ancient Roman advice. But be careful to get a mule with an affectionate disposition.

English Cider Customs
Cider making is quite an institution in England. John Phillips, the poet, praised the sweet Herford cider as surpassing Tokay and all other foreign vintages. A footnote to history relates that the earl of Manchester, ambassador in France, frequently palmed off this sweet cider on the French nobles as a wine beyond price. In the West country the old ritual called "Grigging" is remembered, country boys forming bands to tour the orchards and climb after the sweet worthless apples, or griggs. The ringleader would be expected to report at the farmhouse, and recite a certain moral fable, entitled "A Rude Boy Stealing Apples," and telling of such rude ones tales. The good wife of the farm would then pour out cider for all a libation to insure her protection, another year, against rude robbers.

Regrowing Forests
The regrowth of timber provided for in the national forests where the original stand of timber is cut and removed varies with the forest types involved. In many forest types the regrowth is rapid, and the forest is ready to produce again in a few years. In some cases it is necessary to plant after cutting in order to insure a second crop within a reasonable time.

Only a Dream
Hubby listened intently. His wife and her mother were talking. The latter was saying: "You have indeed secured a splendid husband, and a thing you ought to treat him with a little more tact and consideration. Don't always want to know where he is going, and if he comes home a little late, be agreeable and wait until he explains before you begin asking a lot of awkward questions. He's just the sort to appreciate any generosity on your part. Be kind to him."

Hubby stirred uneasily, trying to hear more, when—he awoke.

Thrill Note
Some statisticians announce that only 20 cents a person is spent in this country for soap. And we have been in crowds where some persons had saved their 20 cents—Greenville (S. C.) Piedmont.

Four Glasses of Men
Some men get 10,000 miles and more out of a set of tires—and some men tell the truth—Middlebury Blue Baboon.

Good-Will Rules World
Good-Will is the greatest power in the world. Between employer and employee it compels peaceful relations. Between producer and consumer confidence that is coined into gold. Without good-will there would be lack of stability and little progress in this world.—Grit.

Work of Ancient Scholar
Hipparchus of Nica about 162 B. C. is credited with the determination of latitude and longitude as well as with the discovery of astronomical work done in the island of Rhodes and at Alexandria, of the preservation of the antiquities. He also made a catalogue of 1,050 stars, giving the latitude and longitude of each.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Thanksgiving dinner, held in the high school on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving was the finest dinner in every way, that has ever been held there. The program was in keeping with Thanksgiving. Dinner left everyone in fine spirits.

Plans for the Senior Annual have been started. The book will be something new and more interesting as the order of arrangement will be changed. Slitting Tongue of Crow
There is no truth to the notion that a crow can be made to talk like a parrot if the tongue is slit. It is a cruel practice which has no justification, whatever. Crows sometimes learn to speak almost as well as parrots, but it is not made possible by slitting their tongues.—Pittsburgh Courier.
