WORMS OR THRIFT—WHICH?

Are your shoats putting on a pound or more each day or are they wormy? Here's how you can tell: Get a pail of

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

Start in to give double the regularly prescribed dose for a week or ten days, until the bowels move freely. Make sure that each hog gets its share. Mix it with the feed, or swirl, or drinking water. That will bring the worms. Then give the Tonic regularly as directed—two tablespoonfuls to every 500 pounds weight twice a day. This will tone up your herd and put them in fine, thriving condition.

COSTS LITTLE TO USE

The price of one pound of pork pays a shoat's Tonic bill for thirty days.

TWENTY-FIVE BOYS FORM LOCAL BOY SCOUT TROOP

Coach Fielding H. Yost, of Ann Arbor, presents Boys With Tenderfoot Pins and Aids Congratulations at Kiwanis Meeting.

More than twenty boys, members of the first Boy Scout troop to be organized in Washtenaw county outside of Ann Arbor, will remember Monday evening as a red letter event as long as they live. The boys were guests of the club and during the evening's program were given the Scout oath and law by F. H. Yost, scoutmaster, and were presented with their insignia and tenderfoot badges.

Perhaps the feature of the evening which these boys will remember longer than any other one thing, is the honor of having Coach Fielding H. Yost, of the University of Michigan, and scout commissioner, pin the tenderfoot badges upon their coat lapels. This, in the eyes of scouts as well as older ones present, adds significance to the ceremony in that Mr. Yost, while serving in his official capacity at the University, has found time to interest himself in the boys of Washtenaw county outside the university.

The committee in charge of scout activities in Chelsea is composed of H. S. Holmes, H. W. Schenk and A. G. Hindelang, all of whom have been active in boys' work heretofore. E. P. Steiner has been secured as scoutmaster and the troop is "all set" and ready for business.

Beside the boys' scout committee and scoutmaster, T. Bruce Rider, deputy scout commissioner, of Ann Arbor, was also a guest of the club. At the close of ceremonies which made the boys a troop of scouts, Coach Yost addressed the gathering along lines interesting to boys, their habits, development and service. At the same time mixing in considerable sound advice and several suggestions for the benefit of his more mature listeners. In closing he expressed the hope that he might return to Chelsea at a later date and pin eagle badges on every one of the boys receiving the tenderfoot pins.

Boys who were given the scout oath and law and received the pins are: Frederick Steiner, George L. Staffan, Raymond Dancer, Elwood Bearbow, George Meyers, Alvin Schiller, Carl Riley, Robert Hall, Stewart Meyers, Kenneth Beach, Leland McDaid, Wallace Fisk, Leon Boutler, Robert Winans, Claude Rogers, Dean Rogers, Allen Hagaden and William Howe.

DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT WILL BE HEARD MONDAY

Miss Helen Waggoner, gifted dramatic entertainer and reader, will be heard on the local Lyceum course Monday evening, January 19 in a series of short sketches and a clever one-act play.

Miss Waggoner's character sketches represent many interesting personages found in real life. Through her marked interpretative ability and sympathetic understanding, she reproduces, with startling accuracy, a panorama of types familiar to all. Her rendition of an entire play, such as Miss Waggoner will feature here, requires adaptability and dramatic skill such as she possesses in bounteous measure.

Quoting the words of a McKinney, Texas, report, "Miss Waggoner is an expressionist of rare talent. She delighted the audience, more perhaps than any artist who has ever appeared here. In addition to her artistic achievement, she possesses unusual personality."

Helen Waggoner is one of the most popular of the younger entertainers appearing on the Lyceum platform.

NEW CHEVROLET PRODUCT OF TIME

Evolution of the new Chevrolet, which made its initial bow at the New York Automobile Show this month, was marked by hard-exacting yet interesting labor extending over a period of more than a year.

As far back as 1923 automotive and metallurgical experts started drawing plans for the new automobile. Sample cars were made, containing the forty-odd new improvements, including disc clutch, springs, axles, manifold, etc., and these cars were turned over to selected drivers working directly under the engineering staff for the hardest tests human ingenuity could devise. Every detail of the new car was forced to prove itself more than adequate for any demands it might be called upon to fulfill.

The new semi-elliptic springs underwent harder usage than any car owner could give them in five years. Day and night drivers tore over bumpy roads, taking railroad crossings, ruts and inequalities at high speed. The drivers were working under orders to "bust those springs if you can."

The new axles, front and rear, were subjected to similar trials. Every strain expert drivers could think of was placed on the axles, which had already withstood severe laboratory tests. Stresses that ordinary driving or world-cruise were placed on the channel steel frame and its five cross members.

In fact every detail that is incorporated into the new Chevrolet was

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES AWAY AT JACKSON HOME

Willis H. Benton, aged 52 years, a former resident of Chelsea, died at his home, 311 West Ganson street, Jackson, Friday afternoon, following an illness of about one year.

He was born in Dexter township, where his boyhood days were spent, and for several years before he became a resident of Chelsea he conducted the farm of his father where he was born.

Mr. Benton was a member of the Chelsea M. E. church; Chelsea Masons, Modern Woodmen and of the Jackson Lodge, K. of P. He was united in marriage three times, two of his wives having passed away several years ago. His last marriage was with Nettie E. Winans of Chelsea.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Evert L. Benton of Chelsea, one daughter, Mrs. C. B. Carroll of Flint, one granddaughter, one sister, Mrs. Roy Hicks of Dexter.

A prayer service was held at the home at 10:30 o'clock Monday forenoon, and the body was brought to Isham, Mrs. Faye Palmer, violin, W. C. Smith, cornet, Miss Georgia Smith, at the Methodist church at 2 traps, and Miss Dorothy Cavanaugh, pianist, played a concert of classical selections.

Following the banquet, a program of music and addresses, by Chelsea Masons with the exception of the main address of the evening, was thoroughly enjoyed. Rev. R. L. Tucker, pastor of Cass Avenue Methodist church, Detroit, delivered the principal address of the evening, taking for his subject, "The Puritans." MAKES NOTATION OF CHANGES IN BUILDINGS OF VILLAGE

John Faber, clerk at the Michigan Central freight house, completed twenty-five years of residence in Chelsea on January first, and in this period of time recalls at mind many changes in the growth of the village. He has compiled, by giving considerable time and effort to the task, a complete list of the residences, and business places of the village which have undergone change or been built since his advent here.

The record Mr. Faber has compiled is interesting from more than one standpoint. One is the completeness of the record and another is Mr. Faber's ability to recall to mind all the changes which have occurred in Chelsea's building program during this time. Starting at either end of all the streets, Mr. Faber takes each property in turn and notes whether it has been rebuilt, remodelled or whether it is new. In the business district he gives the name of present occupants, and in most cases notes what has occupied the room in years gone by.

The record is quite interesting, and while space does not permit publication in its entirety, it can be seen at the Standard office for the next few days.

A HIGH-CALIBERED GUN

The editor of a Kansas paper states that he borrowed a Winchester rifle recently, and started up the street to deliver the weapon to its owner. The delinquent subscribers got it into their heads that he was on the warpath and everyone he met insisted on paying what he owed him. One man wiped out a debt of 10 years' standing. On his return to his office he found a load of hay, 15 bushels of corn, 10 bushels of apples, 22 bushels of potatoes, a cord of wood and a barrel of turnips that had been brought in. All the country editors are now trying to borrow Winchester. Publishers' Review.

Retaliation

Although there were only about thirty persons in the house during the performance of a revue in a small Warwickshire village, the two principal performers were continually hissed. It is reported, however, that the audience, with great presence of mind, brought its whole company on the stage and out-hissed the audience. Evening Show, London.

FIFTH ANNUAL BANQUET HELD BY OLIVE LODGE

Capacity Crowd of Masons and Ladies Gather for Program of Music and Other Entertainment.

Upward of 155 Masons, and their ladies gathered at the Macedonia hall on Tuesday evening of this week to celebrate the Fifth Annual banquet of Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M. The banquet, one of the outstanding affairs in the Masonic social calendar for the year, met with a success equal if not greater than any yet held by the local fraternity, the crowd taxing the capacity of the spacious hall.

Amid elaborate decorations which included blue paper ribbons draped lengthwise on the tables of white and blue candles lighted and placed at intervals along the tables, a sumptuous three course dinner was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul's church, while an orchestra composed of Dr. Faye Palmer, clarinet, Henry Isham, Mrs. Faye Palmer, violins, W. C. Smith, cornet, Miss Georgia Smith, at the Methodist church at 2 traps, and Miss Dorothy Cavanaugh, pianist, played a concert of classical selections.

Following the banquet, a program of music and addresses, by Chelsea Masons with the exception of the main address of the evening, was thoroughly enjoyed. Rev. R. L. SUSTAINING THE PRESIDENT

When the United States Senate last week voted by a bare majority of one to sustain President Coolidge in his veto of the postal pay increase bill, it gave the President the first victory he has had in a sustained veto.

Before the election last November Mr. Coolidge vetoed several acts, and all the vetoes were over-ruled. It may be that the Senate has a profounder respect for the president because of his great majority in November, but let us rather believe that the vote sustaining the veto was due to a desire on the part of the Senate to support the President in his program for greater economy. President Harding's slogan was "back to normalcy." President Coolidge seems determined, without having any particular slogan, unless it be "economy," to bring the country back to common sense in all matters pertaining to government.

RESPECT THE LAWS

President Elbert H. Gary of the United States Steel Corporation in a speech last week in New York at the dinner of The Committee of One Thousand, said that disregard for the 28th amendment to the constitution is partially responsible for the prevalence of crime. He urged respect of the law on the part of all citizens, and the upholding of the laws of the land by jurors as a prime necessity for our institutions to survive.

There is a growing sentiment in the country that all laws should be more strictly enforced to the end that if a law is good we may have its full benefits. If it is bad the quickest way to secure its repeal is through strict enforcement.

Reports in the East indicate that 1925 will record the greatest business mergers in American history. There is to be a gigantic combine of the sugar companies of the country that will make over U. S. Steel appear small by comparison. Combinations which work out economies in manufacturing, selling and distributing the necessities of life, affecting great savings thereby are good, accordingly as they pass on a fair percentage of their economies to the great army of American consumers, or had as they put up prices, create monopolies, and increase the cost of living.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woods of Boston claim the record for family votes cast in 1924. Mr. and Mrs. Woods, their sons and daughters, sons-in-law and grandchildren cast fifty-five votes in the presidential election. They cast a vote 100 per cent strong. If we had more families, even if they were not so large, all of whom would vote, we would have nothing to complain of in government.

INVESTIGATING GUN ELEVATION

The investigation of the congressional committee at Washington into conditions in the American Navy has disclosed the fact that only Great Britain objected to American raising the elevation of naval guns so that the gun range of our fighting ships would be equal to that of England and Japan.

There are American citizens—good, patriotic citizens, who do not believe we should have a navy. The majority of the people, we believe, think America should have a navy at least equal to any other on the seas. We believe nearly every American feels that if we have a navy at all, our guns should match in efficiency and range, the guns of any other navy in the world.

It does not strike the average American as possible that we should by treaty or any agreement whatsoever, allow any foreign power to dictate or even suggest to us what the elevation, power, efficiency and range of our guns should be.

AT PUBLIC INITIATIVE

Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, in his third inaugural address last week made a proposal that he appealed to the popular mind, in his recommendation to the legislature that a law be passed which would permit the people to initiate their own proposals to the state constitution.

At present, if any amendment to the constitution is sought, the legislature of the state must first pass an act authorizing the submission of such amendments to the people. If such amendments, to the people, the matter recommended by Governor Smith should become a law in New York, constitutional amendments could be put up to the voters without submitting them to the legislature, and having the proper legislation passed, or the matter pigeonholed for all time.

Whether this would be a safe and wise measure might well be questioned. It would throw down the bars and open wide the gates for all sorts of proposed amendments to the constitution, and if all the amendments wanted by various groups of people would make a ballot so large that the tremendously big, blank ballot now necessary would look like a small pocket handkerchief compared to a big sheet.

A great many Americans believe that our state and national constitutions are already too much amended.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up; is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (cal oil). The inventor, L. E. Johnson, 600 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Lon Cheney's Hunchback Role Is Last Word in Stage Art

Lon Cheney, admittedly the finest interpreter of unusual character roles on either stage or screen and whose work as the fake cripple in "The Miracle Man" stands out as a bit of remarkable acting, to say nothing of his other wonderful impersonations, has added another striking characterization to his already long list in his appearance as "Quasimodo" the stellar role in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the massive picture production, based on Hugo's classic, which begins an engagement at the Princess Theatre, January 21-22.

There is probably no actor behind the footlights, or before the camera, today who has mastered the art of make-up to the extent Lon Cheney has. His Pugin in "Oliver Twist" was an example of his proficiency in this line. Besides being a player of intelligence, with a keen sense of the requirements of a role, Mr. Cheney is an acrobat and contortionist, abilities which he is often called upon to use in his characterizations.

Some idea of the regard Mr. Cheney has for detail of make-up and why his Quasimodo in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" is so remarkable and impressive in this line may be gathered from the fact he was on the "lot" at Universal City, where the mammoth production was made, each morning three and one-half hours before the remainder of the company, his work of transforming himself into Hugo's unique character requiring that amount of time. No effort was spared by Mr. Cheney to make the deformed, bell-ringer of Notre Dame as near like what the famous novelist conceived him to be, as possible.

Incidentally, throughout the day Mr. Cheney was forced to carry 72 pounds on his back. It was another one of his torture roles for which he later paid the penalty by spending three weeks in a private hospital.

"Realizing that I had been chosen to play probably the most difficult role ever presented on the screen," Mr. Cheney said, "a role that called for the greatest artifice in facial transformation, contortion of the body, poetic, yet life-like impersonation. I put into my work all of the talent and capabilities I possessed. Never have I worked so hard or so faithfully in presenting a characterization."

"At all times I had the help and encouragement of Mr. Carl Laemmle, who had impressed upon me the fact that no matter time, effort or money was to be spared in making "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" the greatest picture production ever turned out. Not only were we to be supplied with the biggest and most artistic settings ever used in a film play, as near perfect atmosphere to the unfolding of Victor Hugo's story as possible, but we were cautioned that the portrayals of the various roles would have to be on the same high artistic plane. The perfecting of this exactness in every detail required a long time, and the cost was stupendous, but I believe the results have justified everything that was done."

The engagement here in Chelsea will be for two days—Wednesday and Thursday, January 21 and 22.

The roof was burned through in one place and the loss was small.

Neglected Cough Dangerous—How to Stop It Quickly

When the delicate tissues of your throat are raw and sore from coughing, and your strength is exhausted with the constant hacking, you may fall an easy prey to more serious trouble. So stop the cough the quickest you can, before it creeps too deep. By a very simple treatment you can stop the cough practically at once, and relieve the heavy chest often in 24 hours. The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing. Without following with water, it has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. With the case treated in this way, the whole coughing action goes in a very short time. The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. It simply helps Nature. It is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis and spasmodic croup. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. For sale at all good druggists. Ask for

Is Prosperity Ahead?

A COMMUNITY is as good or as bad as its gas service. The two things go hand in hand. If the community is prosperous, the gas company will be prosperous likewise. Or the contrary may be true.

Watch what takes place in 1925. If business expands and conditions are generally prosperous, you will be able to read the real story in the records of this company.

When the makers and users of gas service are on friendly terms, both benefit from prosperous times. Where there is lack of co-operation between them, both parties suffer.

All signs point to a prosperous 1925. We are equal to the tasks ahead, and can meet increased demands, but we must have the co-operation of our customers. To try to do the job alone would be to court disaster.

Coming to Arcade Theatre, Ann Arbor, Sunday, January 18th.

"Boys," says Lois Wilson, "boys are broke. I'm busted clean and fair."

That's the start of Emerson Hough's novel, "North of 36", which Irvin Willat produced for Paramount on the actual locale of the story as it took place sixty years ago.

At that time, many in the south were bankrupt. Miss Wilson, who plays the part of Talsie Lockhart, owner of the Del Sol ranch in central Texas, is no better off than the rest.

Nobody counted their cattle; for cattle couldn't be sold. There was no market, no railroad.

The carpet-baggers at Austin, led by Sim Rudabaugh (Noah Beery) are stealing land scrip, driving off cattle, and dreaming of a day when they will be masters of a great empire in the south.

Then comes word that a railroad has been built as far as Abilene, Kansas. Cattle, it is said, are in demand there at as much as ten dollars a head.

Talsie decides desperately to drive all the cattle left by Rudabaugh's raiders to Abilene, more than one thousand miles away.

Nobody has ever driven cattle that still behind. They have been joined far. There is no trail. But Ernest Torrence, playing Jim Nabours, the grizzled ranch foreman, and Jack Holt, as Dan McMasters, think that it can be done.

The Comanches, however, are even worse enemies than Rudabaugh. Under Chief Yellow Hand they cut the herd to pieces and surround the drivers. Just in time the tiny handful of pioneers are saved by a company of United States cavalry from Fort Sills.

At last Abilene appears in the distance. But that is not the end.

Just when fortune is within Miss Wilson's grasp Rudabaugh and his men sweep down upon her once more in one of the most dramatic and colorful climaxes in the history of screen drama. It is a thing that will inscribe itself in the history of one's heart as a thing never to be forgotten.

Here's the second "Covered Wagon" story, just as big a production by the same author and with a cast that spells perfection.

There's not a red-blooded American in the land that's going to miss this story. Rudabaugh and his men are on.

SCHOOL NEWS

Friday night the Grass Lake boys and girls basketball teams met the high school teams on the local floor. Both of the girls' teams went on the floor determined to win and as a result a very fast game took place. Throughout the game the scores of both teams ran close but with Chelsea always a little in the lead. Dorothy Weinmann, left forward, did most of the scoring for Chelsea, but she was able to do so by the efficient team work of the rest of the team. When the final whistle blew the score stood 13 to 12 in Chelsea's favor.

Friday night was a test for a practically new boys' team, and it showed that they could play basketball. The hard work of the boys kept Grass Lake on the jump all the time. Several long shots were made by Kinner, but Steger, Beach and White also helped in rolling up the score. Chelsea continued to hold the lead in scoring until the fourth quarter, when Grass Lake made several successful shots. Had the Chelsea boys played as hard in the last few minutes as they did all during the first of the game, the score would not have been a tie, but a victory for the H. S. boys. In the five minute overtime period which was played to work off the tie the Grass Lake team gained seven points. The score was 26 to 19. At the end of the first quarter Broesamle was substituted for Fox. A fine crowd whose support was greatly appreciated attended the game last week and it is hoped that an even better crowd will see the game Friday of this week. The game will be played with Manchester on the home floor.

OUT OF THE GLOOM

Many a Gloomy Countenance in Chelsea Now Lightens With Happiness.

A bad back makes you gloomy. Can't be happy with continual backache. The aches and pains of a bad back are frequently due to weak kidneys.

Doan's Pills are recommended for weak kidneys. So Chelsea citizens testify. Jacob Houk, 211 Lincoln street, Chelsea, says: "I was in bad shape some years ago and had lumbago and rheumatic pains. For awhile I was compelled to lay off work as the pains across my back were severe. The rheumatic pains were worse in the spring and in damp and cloudy weather, especially in my lower limbs. My kidneys didn't act regularly so I knew something had to be done. I saw Doan's Pills advertised and went to Penn's Drug Store and got two boxes. I used them until the trouble left entirely."
