C. F. KANTLEHNER DIES AT DETROIT HOSPITAL

Prolonged Illness and Operation Proves Fatal to Pioneer Chelsea Resident.

Christian Frederick Kantlehner was born in Fremdenstadt, Wurtemberg, Germany, September 22, 1842, and died June 26, 1925, at Grace hospital, Detroit, at the age of 82 years, 9 months and 4 days.

When a young man he learned the cutlery and gunsmith trades, both of which he was active in up to the time of his last illness.

At the age of 23 years he sailed for America and after a sea voyage of 41 days on a sail boat, landed in New York August 25th, 1865. He went directly to Lancaster, Pa., where he remained one year, then going to St. Louis, Mo. Two years later he settled in Ann Arbor, Michigan, opening a cutlery and repair shop which he moved to Chelsea in 1870.

He continued this business together with the jewelry and optical business, which he took up in the early 80's, until April, 1912, when he was succeeded by his son, Walter F.

In the spring of 1879 he built the building now occupied by the post office, and was severely criticized for building so far out.

He was united in marriage with Mrs. Eva Mary Brosamie, August 23, 1870.

To this union were born one daughter and six sons, all of whom survive him, together with one step-son, seven grandchildren, one great-grandson and three sisters in Zurich, Switzerland.

Funeral services were held at the residence on South Main street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. A. A. Schoen of Manchester and Rev. F. H. Grabowski of Chelsea, officiating. Burial in Oak Grove cemetery, Chelsea.

Mr. Kantlehner was a man who took great interest in all public affairs but never cared to enter into politics. He never faltered in what he felt to be his duty and always stood firm for right and justice, winning many friends in Chelsea and neighboring communities. He will ever be remembered as Chelsea's master mechanic.

WE MUST DO IT OURSELVES
Everybody knows how in recent years we, and that means most people, have been neglecting the small duties of government. We take little interest in primary elections, we do not vote, we shrink jury duty whenever possible; we expect the constable or sheriff to enforce the laws without any help or influence from us. As a result great crimes of agents, commissioners, inspectors, teachers, and who can tell what, have come to think they must come in and do our business for us. Some of them are self-appointed, other have government jobs, and thousands are trying to have more jobs created for their special benefit. The most support them all, and a good proportion of them are parasites trying to do for us what we can far better do for ourselves if we only would.

The business of feeding parasites has only begun. If we let it go much longer, we shall reach the point where every five taxpayers must support one of these useless officials in addition to his own family. We may find families and typical cases in the growing efforts to standardize our system of education.

The politicians have long had their eye on our district school system, which is about the last remaining vestige of home rule in education. The educators, perhaps, without knowing it, are playing right into the hands of the politicians in this matter. It was with red blooded American patriotism that we saw the rural people of Washtenaw County rise up to the realization of the situation and fight for what little they have left, knowing full well their last control of education was passing away.

It makes the rural people feel that in the estimation of some of the educators were all hoppers of the clouds and feeder of the hogs whose chief purpose in life is to furnish the children and pay the expenses.

President Coolidge in his address on Memorial Day took for his theme, "The need of preserving our local rights of government and our need of enforcing home rule." It is a strong presentation. "If we permit some one to come to support us we cannot prevent some one coming to govern us. If we are too weak to take courage of our own morality, we shall not be strong enough to take charge of our own liberty."

"If we cannot govern ourselves, if we cannot observe the law, nothing remains but to have some one else govern us, to have the law enforced against us and to step down from the honorable abiding place of freedom to the ignominious abode servitude."

It is with pride and admiration that the rural patrons of Washtenaw County saw our supervisors (especially those that did not switch their vote) stand by us to the finish. We must all bear in mind that there are advantages and disadvantages.

Canadian Confederation
The first legislative step toward a federal union of the provinces of British North America was made by the legislature of Nova Scotia in 1801, when a motion in favor of such a union was adopted by the house of assembly by unanimous vote. Six years later confederation was an accomplished fact, having been established by the four provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario.—Family Herald.

Strange Death Pact
A strange death pact of lovers was revealed at a coroner's inquest at Johannesburg. A nurse was found stabbed with a pair of scissors. Before she died, the coroner said, she stabbed her lover with a baton, which penetrated his heart.

Was Said by Jefferson
The original quotation said of office holders that few die and none resign. It is from one of Thomas Jefferson's letters, as follows: "If a due participation of office is a matter of right, how are vacancies to be obtained? Those by death are few; by resignation, none."

For Scorched Cloth
Wool and silk scorch much more readily than cotton or linen and because the fabric is disintegrated by the high heat, they cannot be restored. Very slight scorch on the surface of materials which are not particularly delicate may sometimes be rubbed away with a bread crust. If the garment is fast color hanging it in the sun may help to improve the appearance.—Housewife.

Shades of Mark Twain
A patron of the Boston public library writes this to the editor of a Boston newspaper: "The other day while in the Boston library I had occasion to ask an attendant there where on the shelves could be found a copy of 'Tom Sawyer.' Imagine my surprise when she replied, 'Who is it by?' And this in Boston, too."

"Chaperon"
The word chaperon is not feminine, although it is generally applied to a woman. It means a hood, and when used metaphorically signifies that the married woman shields her youthful protegee as the hood shields the face.

GREAT TAX REDUCTION

Reports from the Summer capital state that the President is conferring with various heads of departments of the government, and with tax experts, with a view to having a very serious tax cut made when the next Congress meets in December.

The experts have advised that a cut of $400,000,000 or more may be made without in any wise impairing the credit, or the functioning of the federal government.

If such cuts are made, President Coolidge goes to see to it that the relief is extended to the taxpayers where it will work the greatest good to the greatest number. He must remember one of the worst nuisance taxes—the tax on motor cars is still on, and that placed upon every buyer of such vehicle is an unfair burden. The president no doubt recognizes that the motor car is one of the most useful as well as one of the most necessary commodities of American life.

Without enumerating them there are other tax burdens that bear on the people and effect the costs of living. These should be removed entirely.

And another thing. At the last session of the American Congress the postal pay bill was passed increasing the pay of employees in the postal service, which was all well and good. But at the same time the postage increase bill went along with the pay increase bill raising the cost of postage.

There is no place where a tax could be passed which would work a greater hardship on the people than this one piece of legislation. It puts the cost on those who are the least able to bear it. It increases the cost of living, for it effects sales costs, and no manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, jobber or what not, can sell goods without getting his costs out of them. This increase of postage increases the cost of doing business, and only one man pays that cost—the consumer.

There are more ridiculous features of that measure than any that has been passed by an American Congress. For instance, under the provisions of that measure, the government will furnish the stock and print the postcards to be mailed at one cent. A card exactly like it in shape, size and weight, furnished by the sender costs two cents. Any house organ advertising any business, if less than twenty-four pages, must pay 1½ cents, whereas a twenty-four page catalogue or house organ can be mailed for one cent.

This should challenge the first attention of the president and the next Congress.

MORE RAILROAD LUXURY

The railroads of this country have been hurt by high fares, poor passenger service, and the increased use of automobiles and buses since the war. Since railroads have ceased to advertise, have let their competition for business wear out, and made passenger fares so high; travel on trains has grown less and less, until it is frankly confessed business does not pay excepting in congested areas of population, where fares are at the minimum.

Railroad executives, seeking a remedy for the condition are discussing the addition of more luxurious equipment, more accommodations, more attractiveness on railroad trains.

The betterment of equipment and service, and giving more for the money would undoubtedly help railroad earnings. It is a general complaint among railroad executives that "The Government ruined the railroads by taking them over." Nothing could be further from the truth. The government took rundown, bankrupt properties, rehabilitated them at public expense, allowed rates to be raised to such a point that roads could earn money on the wind and water in railroad stocks, as well as the cash invested, and then the roads have crippled the goose that was laying the golden eggs, by curtailing in-service, and making the passenger pay more than twice as much in some instances as he paid before the war. If the buses and the automobile have hurt passenger business the railroads need look no further than their own executives for the cause. The public will travel in that conveyance which offers the most in service for the least money.

PERU IN PERIL

Peru, the South American Republic which asked the good offices of the United States to help solve the quarrel between Peru and Chile, arising over the boundary of Tacna-Arica, has sent another note to Washington asking guarantees under the plebiscite decided on as proper, by President Coolidge. Peru will never interest another American president in doing anything to help her out of her troubles.

OUR DAY OF INDEPENDENCE

Next Saturday, July 4th, we will celebrate the 146th anniversary of the birth of these United States of America. Perhaps as never before in the history of this nation, there has been greater need for us to pause and take stock of those things for which as loyal American citizens we should be grateful. We are living in a land where individual citizenship has found its widest expression in the control of governmental affairs. Here we find greater opportunities than ever came to the people of any land for self-advancement. Our country today is ringing with the hum of a new prosperity and this coming national natal day will find us happy, contented and at peace with all the world. It will find us intent in weaving out our own destinies and willing to assume our full individual share of the world's burdens and responsibilities. Heretofore our only danger, with but one possible exception, has been outside, but of late have come to our shores a merciless horde bent upon sowing the seeds of discontent, which if not stamped out may some day assume a growth beyond our power to control.

This newspaper, in common with hundreds of other weekly newspapers in Michigan, is dedicated to the battle of driving every semblance of radicalism out of this state. We have no room here for the teaching of the red revolution, and next Saturday we call upon you as loyal American citizens to join with us in this new spirit of Independence, this new declaration of freedom which our Revolutionary heroes dreamed of in the days when Paul Revere rode out to warn his fellow countrymen of their danger, of the days when Washington stood at Valley Forge and saw the blood-stained tracks of his following in the river snow that gave us the red and white in our flag of the free, a flag born under the blue skies of a new day and a new world.

FRENCH DEBT ENVOYS COMING

It is definitely announced that France will send debt envoys to Washington next September to take up the question of a settlement of debts that France owes America on account of monies advanced during and after the World war. This puts at rest, for the time being at least, the rumors that France will repudiate these debts. Again, it may be no more than a fore-runner of propaganda in favor of another huge French loan from private American bankers. There ought to be no further advances to France from any source, public or private, until that country has actually done something.

TO RAISE OIL TREES

Florida land owners have planted 100,000 Chinese Tung trees, to produce tung nuts from which is produced tung oil, an oil absolutely essential to the manufacture of all kinds of water-proof paints. Anticipating that the time will come when his oil can not be received from China, this preparation would forestall the future and assure a steady supply. This country now imports 12,000,000 gallons of this oil annually, and should the supply be cut off, the water-proof paint and varnish business in this country would be at a standstill.

ROCKEFELLER AIDS PALESTINE

Through the Rockefeller Foundation, John D. Rockefeller is reported to be aiding in an effort to remove malaria from Palestine. It has been demonstrated by our own government in Panama and at other places in America, that malaria can be stamped out, by ridding the country of mosquitoes. The process is comparatively easy and inexpensive. If Rockefeller, with his limited capital, compared to the United States with its almost limitless capital and resources, can stamp out malaria and malarial in Palestine, our own government could do such tasks for the United States much more easily. An investment of government funds in such a country-wide campaign to rid us not only of mosquitoes but house-flies and other pestiferous insects, would be a task that would add more to human happiness, comfort and efficiency than anything any government has ever undertaken.

VULTURES PREY ON SOLDIERS

The United States Secret Service Department on Saturday seized 235 certificates of soldiers' bonuses in the hands of one money-lender in San Antonio, Texas. The certificates were taken as collateral on loans at usurious interest. The Secret Service Department has declared war on this practice, and will make arrests all over the country where the traffic in bonus certificates is carried on.

TO EXTEND THE LINE

Lincoln C. Andrews, who has charge of the fight to enforce the prohibition laws, is planning to extend his battle line all along the Atlantic coast, beginning July 1. It is claimed that the use of ships and patrol boats to prevent the landing of rum off the Jersey and New York coast, has been a success, and that it will be applied along the entire Atlantic seaboard.

The Dry Chief in New Jersey has been removed and other state directors are sought for displacement because of illegal inactivity in co-operating with the forces of the government endeavoring to dry up the East.

Over the country where the traffic in bonus certificates is carried on. Vultures, such as prey on the men who fought in the World war are of a type lower than any other which preys on the unfortunate, and such usurpers ought to meet with the punishment warranted by the extreme penalty of the law.

SAFE WAYS OF TRANSFERRING MONEY

Every time you pick up a paper, you see an item about someone who has lost money and perhaps his life because he carried large amounts of cash on his person.

There are safe ways of transferring money without carrying the actual cash. The most common way is by check. That is one of the easiest and safest ways of sending money through the mail. Drafts, Travellers Cheques, Certificates of Deposit, and Cashier's Checks are safe and most convenient to carry. They must be signed before they can be cashed. If they are lost it is only necessary to notify the bank upon which they were drawn and payment upon them will be stopped.

Don't risk the safety of your savings and don't endanger your own life by carrying large amounts of cash.

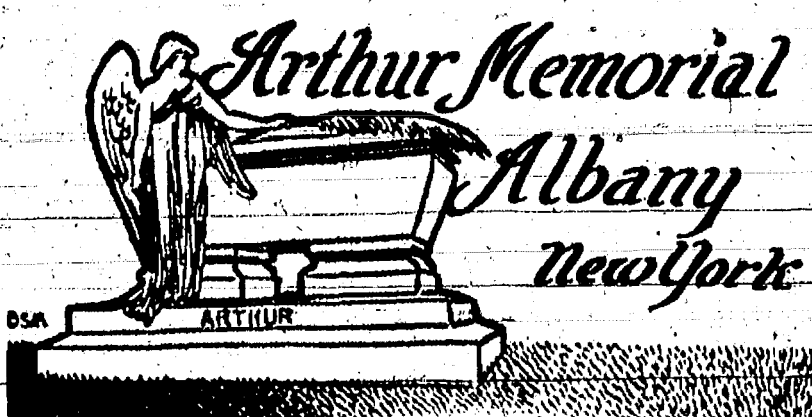

Along with its many other services this bank can furnish you safe and convenient ways of transferring money. It will be to your advantage to use them.

Easy to Discover the Moral in This Story
It was indeed a lucky day when Harry Raymond of Los Angeles embarked for San Francisco. The steamer was crowded with passengers and there were not enough staterooms to go round. Harry noticed an old gentleman who had no place to sleep, and taking pity on his age, offered to share his stateroom with him.
The old man gladly accepted and the two occupied the room together. Samuel Harrison, Raymond's guest, proved to be a brother of Raymond's mother. Then Raymond learned that another uncle, Henry Harrison, had died leaving a fortune of about $500,000 to Raymond's mother. But Raymond's mother was dead and Raymond was entitled to the inheritance. So his kindness rewarded—not only in romance but also very often in everyday life.—Pittsburgh Magazine.

Tardiness Great Evil in Modern Business
Executives of our large business organizations are spending much time and trying all manner of experiments in an effort to induce employees to be punctual.
A wide investigation and search into "the history of being late" shows that "business tardiness" has been the problem for many years, and that the situation has assumed large proportions in its effect on company morale, says "Shift Magazine."
Fundamentally, lateness, if habitual and without good cause, is an act of dishonesty on the part of the employee with respect to his relations with his employer.
A few years ago many employers tried the plan of imposing a fine for tardiness, but this did not work satisfactorily, and is no longer resorted to by progressive business men.
A few plans to encourage punctuality of business men are now being tried. It is working out better than anything previously attempted. In fact, it is a very effective method of inducing punctuality.

Jade Is Deceptive Gem

Pearls and jade are two precious gems widely worn by women today.

and one cause of their popularity is the difficulty of telling at a glance the real from the artificial. This is especially true of jade, even when held side by side. There is no perceptible difference, even to an expert, between one piece that costs a few dollars and one that costs hundreds.

Is your watch up-to-date as well as on time?

Would you wear a suit of clothes in the style of a half century ago?

Certainly not. And yet even today, when a watch is considered to be as much an accessory of dress as it is a timekeeper, many a pocket bulges with a cumbersome watch 25 to 50 years old. Remarkable progress has since been made in watch-making. Graceful, thin models which retain all the accuracy and sturdiness of their cumbersome predecessors but give an added beauty and charm, are worn today by men and women of good taste.

Such a watch is up-to-date as well as on time. Come in and see our latest watch models of well-known makes, dressed in the famous Wadsworth Cases.

The Judge's Jest

Two young lawyers, both trying to make reputations as orators, happened to be pitted against each other in argument. Both spoke at great length, and in closing the second speaker remarked that he was sorry to find his colleague on the wrong side, for there was every reason why they should agree. "We were brought up together, we studied together, and we were born on the same day."

"Did I understand you to say that you were born on the same day?" asked the judge.

"Yes," came the prompt reply.

"On the very same day?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then it must have been a windy day."

Importance of Light

Too much light can be as bad for the eyes as too little. Artificial light is now supplied so readily and so cheaply that it is a temptation to direct too much of it—or at least to direct it with too great intensity on what is in front of you. Did you ever try to read a book or newspaper with the light shining directly on the page? If you have, you will understand why excessive light can strain the eyes. The golden mean is to have a soft, diffused light to live for. Youth's

Whence Ermine Comes

The European vernal in his winter costume was the original purveyor of ermine. The snowy white pelt, set off by the jet-black at the end of the tail, attracted attention centuries ago and was adopted as the royal costume for the kings of England. It is said that Edward III. forbade its use by any one not of royal blood. This ancient royal costume adorns the "King" in packs of playing cards. Later it became the distinguishing fur of nobility, and especially of judges, who representing the royal power, were regarded merely as the king himself acting through his agents in dealing justice among his people. As showing their imperial power, ermine is worn in the official regalia of the pope and cardinals of the Catholic church.

Discouragement to Thrift

The neighbor of a man noted for his extreme thrift saw him rolling down the road on a week day dressed in his Sunday clothes. "What's up, Jim?" he called out. "Why the 'Lord'?" "I've got to go to the 'Lord'!" "What's that?" "I've got to go to the 'Lord'!" "What's that?" "I've got to go to the 'Lord'!"
