HUGE CROWDS GATHER AT ANNUAL CHAUTAUQU

Full Tent in the Afternoon and Over-Flowing in Evening Greet Artists of Mutual Morgan Bureau.

A packed tent and overflow crowd of many hundreds of people in the evening and practically a full tent every afternoon greeted artists of the Mutual-Morgan Chautauqua bureau during their appearances here four days, from Friday to Monday of the last week-end. Added to this was an unmistakable enthusiasm and eagerness on the part of the public to participate in the most modern method of outdoor summer entertainment—that of chautauqua—which carried the entire four days to a successful conclusion.

Much of interest and value has been gleaned from the four days' program. Not only were the musical artists there with their tuneful melodies and classic numbers, but the dramatic artist, the impersonator, the lecturer, the instructor, the traveler—all contributed to a fund of knowledge and entertainment which crowded short-lengths of their stay here. Opening on Friday evening with a musical concert, and followed by S. Platt Jones, impersonator, folks received their first insight into this year's program. Mr. Jones was especially well received, carrying his audience with him through serious as well as frivolous moments when they remained calm and tense with interest, or rocked in laughter when the entertainer assumed the role of comedian.

The concert on Saturday afternoon and evening was furnished by the Howard Orchestral Quintette, which met with wide-spread favor from large audiences. In addition both afternoon and evening, Dr. A. L. Flude, traveler and lecturer, held his audience with a vivid word picture of his travels in the orient and through Russia and Siberia. The latter, usually associated with ice and snow in thoughts of Americans, Mr. Flude pictured as a land of flowers and sunshine, beautiful cities with inhabitants numbering up into many thousands each. Its people, thought of as barbarians over here, were described as intelligent folk, ignorant because of lack of educational facilities and fighting for the liberty which Americans enjoy and which Mr. Flude predicts they will acquire.

Having traveled extensively in practically every corner of the world and made a thorough study of conditions prevailing in these countries, Mr. Flude is qualified to speak with authority on questions relative to other parts of the world, a fact which his audience were quick to recognize. Numbered among the other lectures which deserve special mention was that of Mrs. Ethel Irwin, a lady who has traveled extensively in Spanish speaking countries of Central and South America. On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Irwin held her audience spellbound while she painted an excellent word picture of Old Mexico, its cities, towns, countryside, its people, their occupations and customs—in fact more comprehensive information was dispensed about this particular country in one hour's time than could be gleaned by reading a score of books on the subject. The speaker carried her audience around the country on a 6,000 airplane tour which took them to almost every city of any consequence, included interviews with prominent officials, visits to gorgeous parks, etc., and landed them safely again on American soil, in spite of many imaginary perils which she assured her audience do not exist. Nine months out of every twelve are spent by Mrs. Irwin in travel and study while the other three are spent on the lecture platform and according to the speaker's own figures more than $7,000 was spent in gathering material for the lecture delivered here on Sunday afternoon.

Last, but not least of the lectures to be delivered was that by Frank S. Regan, national tax expert, who untied a mass of tax facts and figures upon an audience which filled the tent in the afternoon and more than filled it in the evening. Starting in the extreme west some of the facts brought out by Mr. Regan. Most of his work having to do with the unearthing of untaxed property for taxation, uncovering political graft which unsuspecting taxpayers are paying, and bringing to light taxable property which the public never knew existed, Mr. Regan is in a position to awaken a keen interest in problems of taxation. Taxation rates need not be over 1 per cent, according to Mr. Regan, after existing in Chelsea. While there are numerous places where the rate reaches more than twice that of Chelsea's, there are cities with a rate of less than fifty cents per hundred dollars valuation, according to the expert, who stated that these same cities with the low tax rate have a sufficiency of available funds with which to operate. Mr. Regan advocated laws making the limit of taxation 1 per cent and making it possible to force uncovered property on the tax roll. More public money than could be used would be provided, Mr. Regan said. Mr. Regan is also an artist of ability and painted several beautiful pictures during the course of his evening lecture.

The play, "Pollyanna", given by the Elias Day players on Sunday evening, met with great favor, an estimated crowd of more than 800 people attending.

The American Glee club, male quartet, singing aggregation and playing Swiss bells, gave the final concert of the chautauqua, following a pageant given by the junior chautauqua, a group of local young people trained by Mrs. Johnson, junior director with the Mutual-Morgan company.

While it is not expected that all should enjoy the same kind of entertainment, yet much favorable comment has been heard in favor of this year's chautauqua over that of last.

CHELSEA PHONE RATES MAY UNDERGO CHANGE

C. H. Adler of Jackson, manager of the Jackson district of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was in Chelsea Wednesday and while here gave out the rate schedule as proposed for Chelsea if the increase in telephone rates now being sought before the state public utilities commission are granted. The new rates if granted will be approximately as follows:

One party business phone, is $2.88; proposed rate $3.50; one party residence, is $1.75; proposed new rate, $2.50; four party residence, is $1.45; proposed new rate $2.00. Mr. Adler stated that necessary increases in wages, improvements which include a new exchange board for Chelsea and other items of expense make the increased rates for this place imperative. The local program is a part of a state-wide campaign on the part of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to equalize telephone rates in the various sections.

OLD PAPER RECOUNTS BRYAN'S FIRST CAMPAIGN

The death of William Jennings Bryan at Dayton, Tennessee, on Sunday, caused old timers here to recall incidents relating to the political campaigns in which Mr. Bryan was active although seldom successful. Wm. Schatz, local barber, brought to the Standard office on Wednesday a copy of the Detroit News, dated November 5, 1896, in which is contained an account of the defeat the day before of Mr. Bryan by Wm. McKinley. In view of the fact that those were the days of bitter political fights in which everyone took an active part, anyone can imagine the comment of the News on the defeat of the party it was openly supporting. State and local campaigns were treated in almost the same light as the national issues, the republican forces carrying practically everything in the state.

CHELSEA WILL HAVE 1926 CHAUTAUQU PROGRAM

Enthusiasm During Last Week Over This Season's Entertainment Results in Ticket Pledges for Next Year.

Chelsea will have a chautauqua in 1926. This fact was assured Tuesday when, following the close of this season's chautauqua program, the local committee secured the necessary ticket pledges to put it over the top next year. Approximately 350 tickets have been individually sold or have been pledged for sale by numerous persons about the town and country-side.

While for the past two years Chelsea's chautauqua has been free to the public, on partially so, next year's program will be a "paid" affair, purchase of tickets being necessary to participation in the daily programs. Change in the method of presenting the chautauqua program was made necessary because of inability to raise sufficient amount to cover the cost, and it was believed by the committee in charge that the intense interest of the public would be sufficient to put over a ticket selling campaign as the only remaining method whereby a chautauqua could possibly be brought to Chelsea in 1926. Bearing these facts in mind the latter plan was adopted with the result that success has crowned their efforts.

The committee appreciates the interest and support received from the public in this matter and it is hoped that next year's chautauqua will find not only sufficient funds to buy a chautauqua but that an additional amount will be left in the treasury to help carry on during succeeding years. While a free chautauqua may have been the most desirable, the committee, with Conrad Lehman as chairman, was of the belief that it was utterly impossible of attainment.

DEFECTIVE TEETH COMMON

(This is the second of a series of articles by Dr. Forsythe of the University of M. Health Service.)

The analysis of the defects found in county school children shows that about three out of ten have had teeth needing immediate correction.

The diseased conditions known to result from defective teeth make a long list. In children, proper growth and school progress are disturbed by pain from tooth ache, by malnutrition from improper chewing of food, and by poisonings which result from infections which gain entrance through unhealthy mouths. Children with bad teeth suffer more from colds and other sicknesses than do those with good teeth.

The neglect of care and the unnecessary pulling of first teeth may cause deformities of the face which can never be corrected. The common practice of pulling baby teeth before they are loose should be stopped because improper alignment of the permanent teeth may result.

The wrong food, including an excess of sugar for expectant mothers and young children is held responsible for the very common trouble with teeth. Plenty of lime containing foods like milk, whole wheat bread, leafy vegetables and fruit are needed. Bottle fed babies have twice as much trouble with teeth as those who are nursed.

Proper cleanliness helps to prevent decay. One fifth of the children examined never brush their teeth and almost one half have never visited a dentist. Brushing at bedtime is the best single daily cleansing. Thread, or better, dental floss, should be used to pass between the teeth or remove food particles and bacteria which soften the enamel.

If small cavities and early troubles are repaired at least twice a year much pain, expense, and trouble will be avoided. The old adage that a "stitch in time saves nine" is very true in the care of the teeth.

While the weather and roads are good and before school opens children with dental defects would be taken to their dentists and relieved of handicaps to their happiness, proper growth and school progress.

CHURCH CELEBRATES

PASTOR N. H. HUBBARD

One of the greatest social events of the season was held Friday afternoon, July 17, at the St. Jacob's Lutheran church near Waterloo, in honor of the silver jubilee of their pastor, Rev. G. C. Haase. The congregation went about it very quietly to surprise their pastor and invited him from the southeastern district to attend the affair.

Rev. F. M. Krauss of Lansing, president of the Michigan District of the Wisconsin Synod, delivered a very impressive sermon in the German language, and Rev. H. Heyn of Detroit spoke in the English language, befitting the occasion.

The church was artistically decorated with flowers and ferns, and Miss Clara Archenbroom reminded some very appropriate music.

After the services, Rev. Heyn read letters and telegrams of congratulations and at the same time presented the pastor with gifts from relatives, friends and former congregations.

The ladies prepared a sumptuous dinner at the church house, serving about a hundred guests. As a desert the St. Jacob's congregation of Waterloo presented Rev. Haase with a cut glass dish filled with silver coin of large denomination. Speeches and toasts were given by some of the visiting pastors.

Rev. Haase deeply moved, thanked the Ladies Aid for their labors of kindness and all of the members who took interest in his work, to see that his 25th jubilee was celebrated in such a grand manner. After pleasant hours the guests departed, wishing Rev. Haase many more years of active service.

There were fourteen pastors present, who all hoped that the St. Jacob's church would extend them another invitation soon.

Rev. Haase was ordained and installed on the 17th day of July, 1900, in Kingston, Wisconsin, where he served three years, after which he followed a call to Stillwater, Minnesota. There he served fourteen years. From there he went to the state of Washington, where he was the mission fields in the Big Bend of the Columbia River, including Mansfield, Wilkeson, Omak, Leavenworth and Soap Lake. In 1920 he accepted the call to the St. Jacob's church in Waterloo, where he has served since.

Rev. Haase is the second son of Rev. J. Haase of Cold Springs, Wis., who was also present. The latter being in active service for more than fifty-three years, and having five sons in the ministry who are serving in the state of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Goodyear Tires Are Still Low Priced!

On June 1, 1924, rubber sold at about 20 cents per pound. On July 1, 1925, it sold at 82 cents per pound or over four times the price a little over a year ago.

But we are selling Goodyear tires at about the same prices as we did on June 1 last year.

This is made possible by the fact that Goodyear is giving you the benefit of rubber purchased previously at lower than present prices.

If Goodyear charged us on the basis of 82-cent rubber we would have to charge you much higher prices for Goodyear tires.

But they are passing on to us and to you the benefits of former purchases and present factory economies.

So a 30x3 1/2 All-Weather Tread Climber Fabric Casing costs you today 50 cents less than it did in the early months of 1924.

A 32x4 All-Weather Tread Cord costs you only 20 cents more.

A 29x4.40 All-Weather Tread balloon costs you 20 cents less.

We know of no other commodities where your dollar goes as far as for Goodyear tires. The average price of all com-modities is about 56 per cent above pre-war levels.

Goodyear tire prices are actually 36 per cent below those of 1914.

The prices below will show you the excellent values in Goodyear tires now.

Size	Prices
30x3 1/2 Pathfinder Cord	$ 9.00
30x3 1/2 Wingfoot Cord	11.40
30x3 1/2 All-Weather Cord	15.95
30x3 1/2 Pathfinder Fabric	8.00
32x4 Pathfinder Cord	18.55
32x4 Wingfoot Cord	21.85

The space formerly occupied by the boys and girls live stock tent has been levelled and put in good condition.

Seals for onlookers will be erected and it is expected that hundreds of Fair visitors will be seen watching the county's best live stock pass before the judges.

Fair officials have increased the premiums on heavy draft teams and are offering the following awards on teams weighing 2800 pounds or more: First prize, $25; Second, $15; Third, $10; Fourth, $5; Fifth, $3.

Teams competing will be judged in front of grandstand Wednesday afternoon, September 2.

C. Carr of Saline township has offered to organize and supervise a quilt tournament at Washtenaw County Fair September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. This game, otherwise known as "Barnyard Golf" will be a new and interesting feature of the amusement and contest phase of this year's Fair.

With Your Gas Man
Serving All Alike

We serve many customers at a loss. They use such a small amount of gas that were our business like others we would have good reason for dropping them from our books. But you can't do this in the gas business.

We must serve all alike—the cottage and the mansion, the rich man and the poor man. And gas service must be of the same quality and of the same price to all—except in special cases where very large quantities are used.

The gas business is thoroughly democratic. Every customer is considered a good customer and treated as such. And we give just as careful consideration to the complaint received from the smallest customer as we do from the largest. That is the obligation of serving the public.

Washington Victor in First General Election
The first general election in the United States was held January 7, 1789. The Presidential electors so chosen met in February to vote for President and vice president.
Each elector voted for two candidates for the highest office, under a provision that the candidate receiving the largest number of votes was to be declared President, while the second choice had to be content with the vice presidency. George Washington received 69 votes and was elected President, while John Adams, with 34 votes, became vice president. Others receiving votes were John Jay of New York, 9; R. H. Harrison of Maryland, 6; John Rutledge of South Carolina, 6; John Hancock of Massachusetts, 4; George Clinton of New York, 3; Samuel Huntington of Connecticut, 2; John Milton of Georgia, 2; James Armstrong of Georgia, 1; Richard Vel-fair of Georgia, 1; Benjamin Lincoln of Massachusetts, 1.
Before the 1804 election the Constitution was changed so that the electors voted for a President and vice president.

CONGREGATIONAL
E. L. Sutherland, Minister
Sermonette for August 2nd
Theme: "No"

"No" is next to the shortest word in the English language. It is the concentrated Declaration of Independence of the human soul. It is the central citadel of character, and can remain impregnable forever. It is the only path to reformation. It is the steam-gauge of strength, the barometer of temperament, the electric indicator of moral force. It is an automatic safety-first device. It has saved more women than all the knights of chivalry. It has kept millions of young men from going over Niagara Falls of drunkenness, profligacy, and passion. It is the up-drawn portulico and barred gate of the castle of self-respect. It is the dragon that guards beauty's tower. It is the high fence that preserves the innocence of the innocent. It is the thick wall of the home, keeping the father from folly, the mother from indiscretion, the boys from ruin, and the girls from shame. It is the one word you can always say when you can't think of anything else. It is the one answer that needs no explanation. The mule is the surest footed and most dependable of all domestic animals.
So "No" is the multi-power of the soul. Say it and mean it. Say it and look your man in the eye. Say it and do not hesitate. A good round NO is the most effective of known shells from the human howitzer. In the great parliament of Life the Noes have it. The value of any Yes you utter is measured by the number of Noes banked behind it. Live your own life. Make your own resolutions. Mark out your own program. Aim at your own work. Determine your own conduct. And plant all around those an impregnable hedge of Noes, with the jaggedest, sharpest thorns that grow. The No-Man progresses under his own steam and is not led about and pushed around by officious tug-boats. The woman who can say No carries the very best insurance against fires, tornadoes, earthquakes, and accidents that threaten womankind. Be soft and gentle as you please and be all kindness outwardly, but let the center of your soul be a NO as hard as steel.

Packet Money
If I felt called upon to advise parents, I should enunciate solemnly this golden rule: If you wish your son to be honest, see to it that he has pocket money. The sum need not be large, but it must be his own—Henry James Forman, in Hearst's International Cosmopolitan.

Various Leathers
The most important kinds of leather are: chrome, cordovan and patent. Chrome leather is tanned by the aid of chromium salts. Tests made by the government during the World War proved it to be the most durable for shoes. Cordovan or Spanish leather is a soft, fine-grained product that takes a high polish. It derives its name from Cordova, Spain, where it was originally manufactured. At one time it was made from goatskins only, but now it is made from pigskins and horsehides as well. Patent leather was first manufactured at Newark, Del., in 1819 by Seth Boyden, inventor—Fathinder Magazine.

Covering All the Ground
He is a small town tailor who takes his vacation in jerks. When things become dull in his place of business, he locks up the store and leaves for a while without saying anything to anybody about it. Being told by a friend that he should have some excuse to give to his customers when he takes impromptu vacations, he printed a large sign which at frequent intervals he places upon the front door of his business place, bearing this legend: "This shop is temporarily closed. Am sick, out of town, attending a funeral or fishing."—National Republic.

About as Hard
Renewing one's notes sometimes reminds one of the difficulties met in trying to renew one's youth.—Milwaukee Journal.

So It Goes
A boy sneers at a little girl for tressing a doll. Later he spends his life at it.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Pumpkin Sea Story
Years ago a bath attendant selling out of Boston on a foreign voyage took along a great quantity of pumpkins for his crew, but left some of them on the wharf because the steward said he could not use more. They were fed pumpkin so often that the crew became fearfully tired of them so one night a large number of them were taken overboard without the captain's knowledge. The ship was calmed and in the morning the captain saw pumpkins hobbling about on the sea. He called the steward and asked him what he knew about them. "I think those are some of the pumpkins we left in Boston that were thrown overboard after we left, and they have followed us far as here," said the steward with a grin.—Lewiston Journal.

Why Spring Cleaning
The idea of spring cleaning came to the moderns by way of the Dutch people who borrowed it from the ancient Jews. Cleaning up was a custom associated with the celebration of the passover, which falls about the same time as Easter. The first mention of spring cleaning in the English language appears to have been in the writings of Sir Thomas More, the famous lord chancellor, who was beheaded by Henry VIII.

Orange Blossoms
The orange is said to indicate a hope of fruitfulness, and the white blossoms, like the rest of the white or the bridal costume, are symbolical of innocence. Orange blossoms as a bridal decoration were introduced in the United States and England about 1820. The custom was of older standing elsewhere.

Well, Why Not?
Little May, with her mother was taking dinner at the home of a friend. May was very fond of the dressing which was being served with the chicken, and when she wished another helping, she said: "Mamma, I would like some more of the suiting."
