Mrs. Rebecca A. Snyder was born in Webster, October 26, 1843, and was a daughter of Robert and Mary Ann Snyder. She was united in marriage with Aaron Burkhardt September 28, 1867. For a few years after their marriage they resided on a farm at North Lake. After leaving the farm Mr. and Mrs. Burkhardt became residents of Chelsea where they resided until Mr. Burkhardt's death, which occurred December 24, 1916.

To this union two sons were born, Delos, who died several years ago, and Munson L. Burkhardt. She is survived by one son, one granddaughter, two brothers, Geo. S. Snyder of Kendallville, Indiana, and Theo. Snyder of Benbridge, Minn. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Burkhardt at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. E. L. Sutherland conducting the services. Burial in Oak Grove cemetery, Chelsea.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE PRISON CEMENT PLANT

Fast Moving Freight Furnishes Screen For Successful Getaway Sunday Morning.

A fast moving freight train made possible the escape of two convicts from the Michigan State Prison cement plant east of Chelsea, shortly after 6 a. m. Sunday, while a third was captured, after he had been shot in the leg by a guard while attempting to gain freedom.

Clarence Williams, alias Clarence Batiste, 21 years old, who was wounded, was being held in the prison hospital, Monday. He was not in a serious condition.

The three men, Ben Mason, 23 years old, Solomon Smith, 19 years old, and Williams, made their way over the fence which surrounds the plant just as the shifts were changing Sunday morning. Mason and Smith ran across the Michigan Central tracks just in front of a fast traveling west-bound freight and by the time the long train had passed, they were out of sight. Williams was shot down before he reached the tracks.

Mason and Smith, were still at liberty late Tuesday evening, according to prison officials. No trace of either of the men had been found. Williams was recovering in the prison hospital at the plant.

SCHOOL NOTES

Grass Lake defeated Chelsea Monday night in a hard fought battle, the team putting up a better fight than the score would indicate. Grass Lake's backfield averaged 172 pounds, Chelsea's 135. The Lakers' team was made up of veterans, using perfect interference or end runs, which resulted in four touchdowns. The first half was close, the score at the end being 13-6. Chelsea's touchdown was the result of a costly fumble by Grass Lake and a sensational recovery and run by H. Fox. In the second half the light Chelsea team was overcome by their heavy opponents.

In the final quarter both teams opened a passing attack which was unsuccessful. The game ended with the score 16-6 in favor of Grass Lake.

Dansville will play our team at our home field tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everybody be there!

"ARIE" TO ENTER
TWENTY-FOURTH WEEK
"Able's Irish Rose," Anne Nichols' stupendous success at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, seems to be the world's approach so far to perpetual motion. The famous Irish-Jewish comedy will begin its twenty-fourth week in Detroit on Sunday, with no end in sight. Last Monday marked the 200th performance, and according to present indications the show will stay at the Griswold street playhouse at least until after the Christmas holidays.

The crowds which attend this production, which is the most popular ever staged, continue to fill the house to capacity almost every night, and many people have traveled some distance to Detroit to see the show two or three times.

They say that even when they know what is coming they get just as big laughs as the first time they saw the play, and the continuous roar of hilarity which can be heard on Griswold street every night is proof of the funniest even produced.

Theatrical critics agree that the acting is as fine as anything ever seen in Detroit, and this is easily understood, because the actors and actresses all fit their parts perfectly. The Irish parts are taken by real Irishmen, and the Jewish parts by real Jews, who talk on the stage just as they do when not in the theatre. Matinees are given at the Garrick each Wednesday and Saturday afternoon, and it is good judgment to place orders for tickets early. They may be purchased two weeks in advance.

NOTICE TO HUNTERS

THOMAS FLETCHER, FORMER RESIDENT, DIED FRIDAY

Word was received in Chelsea of the death of Thomas Fletcher of Mason, Friday, October 2nd, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Fletcher was born in Sylvan township, April 4th, 1842. He was married July 3rd, 1867, to Miss Clara F. Jewett, and located on the farm now owned by A. B. Shutes, later moving to Sharon where they remained for about three years, then coming to the farm now owned by George Lindauer of Lima, where they lived until 1897. They then moved to Chelsea and later to Mason, where Mrs. Fletcher died November 23, 1912. To this union three children were born, Elsworth J. of Mason, Alton E. of Jackson, and Mabel L. Place of Williamston, all of whom survive, together with several grandchildren, nephews and nieces. About eight years ago he married Caroline Jewett of Mason, who also survives. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at his home in Mason. Burial in Mason.

NOTOR FACE IS A FAST PACE

Economists are beginning to be alarmed, lest with the great influx of automobiles, thrift is being rapidly eliminated as one of our great national characteristics. Are we, in our mad rush to outdo the other fellow, investing in more costly cars than we can afford, and once having made the mistake have not the moral courage to retrace in time to avoid social and financial disaster?

All of us are inclined to believe that it is the other fellow, not ourselves who is making the mistake of traveling the too fast pace, and we try to deceive ourselves into believing there are lengths we can go without financial danger. The easy plan of purchasing automobiles has a tendency to lure many a man into investing more than good business judgment will warrant. Used, as it should be, the automobile is a wonderful boon to modern life, but abused it becomes a menace to thrift and integrity that promises to exact a painful penalty. The automobile has brought the factory nearer the worker, business nearer to the business man, but when any attempt is made to overdo its rightful use there is grave danger of business suicide.

MAINE TO HARNESS TIDES

The State of Maine has started something that may revolutionize the right, heart and power business of America, if it is successful. That is the voting of bonds to build power houses to harness the tides in the Bay of Fundy, and furnish electric current therefrom.

When put to a vote of the people of Maine, the proposition carried by nearly ten to one.

This project was for years the dream of one man, Dexter P. Cooper, engineer. Mr. Cooper worked on the proposition, finally got tangible plans, interested influential people, an election to vote on a bond issue, to finance the project was called,
with the result stated above.

There are dams to be built, costing $85,000,000. There will be a storage area 150 square miles. The power plant at Passamaquoddy Bay will generate four times as much current as Muscle Shoals, and nearly as much as the great plant at Niagara Falls.

If this Maine project succeeds, as there is no reason to doubt it will, it will be the forerunner of scores of other like plants on the coasts of America, at strategic points. It will mean that enough current will be ultimately generated by the tides that wash American shores to furnish heat, light and power to all that part of America which is removed from points which could be served by power-generating rivers and streams, and will revolutionize the whole American mode of living.

Other states will follow the course of Maine. Texas has long had such a dream of harnessing tidal currents.
Texas, with her rich resources in oil, will be amply able to finance the proposition without a bond issue, if the oil wells on her public domain continue to furnish the great flow of income that exists at present. This money, of course, belongs to the Texas school fund, but it can not all be used for school purposes, and will have to be invested. What better investment than to develop power houses to harness the waves of the sea—something as eternal as the granite hills?

HELP AMERICAN FARMERS

Former Governor Frank E. Lowden of Illinois, a banker and a farmer as well as a lawyer and a politician, addressing the American Bankers' Convention at Atlantic City warned bankers that they must be more liberal in credits extended to farmers, and more favorable to this class of loans, or American agriculture was doomed to serious deterioration. This, he said, would be reflected in injury to banking industry, commerce and transportation, and to the serious detriment of the public in general.

Mr. Lowden is quite right. The time has arrived in our country, when the farmer must be given at least a fair chance at as low-cost money, as the gamblers in Wall Street. When a farmer reads of call money at 2 per cent when he is paying six, seven, eight and as high as twelve in some states, he doesn't feel much like valuing another crop.

FINNISH LUMBER COMING

Ever since the war period, the United States has been at the mercy of the American lumber trust.

Finland, looking across the sea, observes here a wonderful market, and a very fancy price. Finland will undertake to invade the American market, and undersell the lumber trust. Finland has a great many ferocious bears in her borders—but none so ferocious as the American lumber trust.

If Finland should find a market here, and should undersell the lumber trust, there would be an immediate application for a raise in the tariff rates to "save the starving American lumberjacks."

The lumber trust is organized, and would probably get the higher tariff rate. The people who need homes are unorganized, and would probably be helpless to prevent it.

U. S. MERCHANT MARINE

When the armistice had been signed, and peace was in sight, the American people were told that they had more ships than any nation in the world.

"Glory be," or something which meant that, went up all over our blessed country. At last we were to have the great Merchant Marine for which we have sighed through generations! At last American commerce was to be carried in American bottoms to the utmost parts of the earth!

We started out boldly and bravely by creating a Shipping Board. Then an Emergency Fleet Corporation. We had organizations to burn—and perhaps some of them should have been burned.

Anyway, American hope ran high.
At last we were to cover the sea like blankets—all that sort of thing.

We wasted some few hundreds of millions of dollars in this, that and the other. We let ships rot at our ports—we allowed engines to become so eaten with rust that they were worthless.

Our Emergency Fleet Corporation became a political football. Near Shipping Board became a nest of political hangers-on. Inefficiency ate the heart out of our fleet, and today we are thanking God that Henry Ford bought some 200 of our rusty, rotting ships for less than $2,000,000 in order to scrap them.

Our shipping industry has been conducted by amateurs and politicians. It has been run like children might have run it. The hundreds of millions—yes billions of dollars—of the money of the American people tied up in perfectly good ships has been allowed to waste and dwindle until it is a mere bagatelle. Our ships are doing little or nothing—our dream of merchant marine is shattered—our hopes of trade expansion to the farthest corners of the earth by virtue of our dominance in boats and seamen is another dream from which we are awakening—with one of those beastly headaches that denote the morning after the night before.

We have wasted a rich heritage that the god of War tossed into our laps. We have shown our utter incapacity to compete with other countries on the high seas, and we have again demonstrated that as a great industrial, commercial or financial nation we are best when we sit behind a high granite tariff wall and exploit each other.

The fellows outside are just a big too keen for us.

CRIMES BY INSANE

Dr. Max O. Schlapp, professor of Neurology at the New York Post-Graduate Medical School, and director of the children's clinic of New York City says that crimes committed by the insane are on the increase, and suggests ways and means of controlling these human derelicts, so that society may be protected from their violence when they become violent.

What is insanity?

Isn't anger a species of insanity?
Isn't any man insane when he commits a crime? How can a rational, normal human being be guilty of arson, theft or murder, unless it be a crime committed in self defense or in the way of self-preservation?

LOS ANGELES UNIT

And now the American public is informed that the shipyard Los Angeles, another Zeppelin secured by the American government from Germany, is unfit, and not to be trusted on a long voyage in the air.

The change is made that rust and moisture have so damaged the steel and fabric that it is dangerous to undertake a voyage in her. It is said that the big airship has not had the proper care.

Can anyone doubt that we need practical men to direct all the affairs of the American navy—and that appointments should be made on account of fitness, rather than for political services rendered?

Senator Capper of Kansas returning from Europe, reports that he found a rapid change in European countries, and that in a short time they will be on the high road to industrial, financial and commercial recovery. All the more reason why the American people should not be taxed to pay a part of the interest on the debts owed us by European countries, which is the case at present.

DOWN WITH PEANUT EATERS
Port Arthur, Texas, is the first city in America to pass an ordinance prohibiting the cracking of peanut hulls in public places.

Hereafter, that bold brigand who would munch peanuts in the ears of the elite of Port Arthur, must munch them, shells and all or run the risk of spending an unpleasant evening in the city jail.

The civilization of the fathers, which burned witches at Salem is rising again in Port Arthur!

Salt Lake City should be famous for its honest people if they are all like the customers of Albert Mour's store, there. Mour goes to the theatre when he likes, leaving the store open and change in the till.
Customers wait on themselves, pay for what they get and leave. He has not yet been cheated, he says.

Care of Umbrellas

With a little care umbrellas will wear much longer. If they are oiled at the joints, they will not rust and break off. The oil should be applied carefully with a toothpick or a broom straw to prevent it from getting on the material which covers the umbrella. Wet umbrellas should be left until completely dry to avoid cutting and discoloring.

Food Without Acid

The following foods contain no acid: Oatmeal, cream of wheat, potatoes, green vegetables such as cauliflower, cabbage, onions, beets, carrots, spinach, asparagus, etc., white bread, butter, milk and cream, eggs and simple puddings, such as rice pudding, chocolate pudding, bread and custard puddings.

Mice Blind Nineteen Days

The young of the red-tree mouse, which lives in California, does not open its eyes until the nineteenth day after it is born. The red-tree mouse is said to be more truly free-living than any other mammal in the United States with the exception of the flying squirrel.

Seals and Tuna Fish

Have Hiding Places

There is a mystery surrounding the fur seal which has never been solved.
No one has ever been able to discover where they go in winter. No one has yet been able to make a record of their hiding place.

All that is known, says the Minneapolis Tribune, is that on the islands of St. Paul and St. George, in Alaska, the seals begin to appear about the end of April or the first of May and toward the latter part of August or in the first weeks of September they disappear as strangely and mysteriously as they came. In this respect they are not less puzzling to scientists than the huge schools of tuna fish which appear and disappear from the waters of southern California regularly each year.

Tuna fish have been caught, marked and turned loose, with the hope that some of them might be caught in other waters during the winter months, but so far none of them has been captured. A similar method of marking seals would do no good, for they are never seen during the winter months.
Years ago the seals numbered 5,000, 000 or more, where today they may be counted only up to four or five hundred thousand. Yet even in the days when they were most numerous, their habit of disappearing suddenly, without leaving a trace of their whereabouts and as suddenly reappearing after an absence of several months, was just as mysterious as it is today.

Hawk's Odd Perch

Birds sometimes choose queer perches. A sparrow hawk elects to spend his time perching on a tombstone in the cemetery adjoining the Southfield Reformed Presbyterian church on Evergreen road, Detroit.
For some reason, or other the hawk always chooses the same tombstone.

Shortens Tongue

Doctors at the Kyushu (Japan) University are puzzled by a case of a woman's tongue. For two years it Aida Torii, eighteen, has been affected by the disease. She was taken to the clinic at the university, where an operation on the tip of her tongue seemed to check the shrinking for while.

Mack's Basement Store

Ann Arbor

Instead of turning hogs into a large pasture, fence off a 30 acre or 50 acre patch into three lots and put the hogs into one lot until it is cropped off and then turn them into the next and later into the third.

Michigan farmers say that an alfalfa patch fenced in this way will feed a third more hogs than when they are all turned into a big patch, where they root and trample as much as they eat.

Use American Woven Wire Fence—the most economical fence you can buy.

Many People Pass Your Store

Do They Enter And Buy?

Great throngs of people passing your store do not matter. Crowds of potential buyers pass every store daily. Your profits depend on the number who stop, enter and buy.

No factor does more to attract attention to your store than good lighting. Nothing else makes merchandise so attractive, and thus accentuates quality in goods. No other element adds so much to the hospitality and welcome of a store, or extends such a warm invitation for customers to return and, most important of all perhaps, good store lighting practically guarantees customers later satisfaction with the things they buy.

Is your store profitably lighted? It will pay you well to get the kind of lighting that makes the cash register ring. We can supply you with such lighting.

DODGE BROTHERS TYPE-B SEDAN

Its exceptional comfort is commented on by everyone who drives it.

Doctors, tourists, salesmen, and all who find it necessary to spend eight, ten and twelve hours on the road at a time, are particularly emphatic in their praise.

The fact is, that with its admirable spring suspension, deep seats and generous lounging room, the Type-B Sedan delights the most exacting seeker after restful transportation.

Irish Wake

A wake is a vigil with a corpse. The word is derived from "wacan," Anglo-Saxon for a watching. It is still customary in many countries for friends and neighbors of the deceased to sit up nights with the corpse until it is buried. The custom probably originated in the ancient superstition that "unless" carefully guarded, a corpse was in danger of being carried away by spirits from Hades. The Irish wake is especially notorious. In some parts of Ireland those remaining up nights with a corpse spend the time in drinking, dancing and telling jokes and stories. It is a highly festive occasion. Grace Greenwood in her "Stories of Travel" has this to say about the Irish wake: "A wake, sure it's an entertainment a man gives after he's dead, when his 'disconsolate' friends all assemble at his house, to discuss his virtues and drink his pother."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Dignities in Store

The dignities that confront the elder brother are usually appalling to the small sister, and there is a little girl in Baltimore who has been giving to the subject much careful attention. She electrified the family at breakfast on one occasion by announcing: "Next year Samuel will be a lawn mower. I wonder why they call him that." "A lawn mower," echoed the astonished mother. "What do you mean?" "That is what you told me," replied the little maid, gravely. "This year he was a freshman. Next year he'll be a lawn mower, and then a janitor and then a senior. And then he'll graduate."

First Wireless Messages

A record has been discovered of alleged wireless telegraphy as long ago as 1802. In that year a book by P. de l'Ancre was published, in which the author reported that a man had demonstrated to King Henry of Germany a means of communicating with absent persons. The inventor rubbed two needles against a magnet, and attached them to different clocks. As an operator turned the needle on one clock dial the needle on the other made the same movement, regardless of the distance which separated the clocks. King Henry, it is stated, forbade the publication of the invention.

Time at the Poles

The Naval observatory says the phrase "local mean time" has no meaning at the poles; but the common practice all over the earth is not to keep local mean time, but that of some meridian passing near the place. In the United States the time is that of the seventy-fifth, ninetieth, one hundred and twentieth meridian. At the poles, as elsewhere, some meridian would have to be agreed upon. From a purely theoretical standpoint, any meridian would be as good as another.

Lake Always Ice-Covered

On Mount Kenya, which is the second highest peak on the African continent, and near the equator, there is a large lake which is covered with ice the year around.

BREVITIES.

ANN ARBOR—According to Prof. Irving of Ann Arbor, Michigan's present low water level was exceeded by one inch in 1880, the record making low level mark was reached.

MANCHESTER—Announcement is made that the Manchester baseball team is the winner of the Southern Michigan pennant for 1925. This is the second year for the Manchester team has carried off the pennant.

BRIGHTON—After twenty-eight years of separation, Gus Reiner of this village and his half-brother, John Reiner of New York City, had a grand old visit last week. The New York City man is now visiting in Howell—Argus.

During the terms of court, which opened Monday before Judge George W. Sample, two hundred and fifty-eight cases are listed in the October docket. This figure is tentative, as some cases have been disposed of since the printing of the docket, some are to be added and others stricken.

HOWELL—Cassie Martin, of Parshallville, paid a fine of $50.00 and costs of $7.50 in Justice Wilber's court at this place, last Saturday for driving a car while intoxicated and his driver's license was revoked for three months. Martin was also fined $10.00 and costs for carrying a loaded gun in his auto, contrary to law.—Democrat.

WILLIAMSTON—Duffy Brothers, manufacturers of church furniture, of Lansing, who recently purchased the former "Knitting factory" property here are now ready to move their equipment to this location as soon as the building can be supplied with power. They want to make the change during this week and will do so providing the power can be supplied.—Enterprise.

HOWELL—A big rattlesnake tight in the city of Howell with seven rattles—well that is what John Zmuda found in his garden the other day. It is thought that this snake might have begged a ride into town in a load of hay as Will Allen, buys and stores hay in that neighborhood. One was killed on E. Grand River not far from the Catholic church when that street was being paved.—Republican.

ANN ARBOR—The Boy Scouts of the county now have at their disposal one of Washtenaw's beauty spots—where they may further the work of their organization. The acquisition of this property by scout officials was made possible through the gift of Mrs. Eleanor J. Newkirk, wife of Judge H. Wirt Newkirk, who donated the land for the "use and benefit of the Boy Scouts of this county."

POWELLVILLE—Immunization work has begun around Powellville, 21 children have taken the first treatment, three treatments makes them immune from diphtheria, the child is not sick from the serum, it is hoped others will follow. The state board of health is trying to make this work general throughout the state and the Livingston county Public Health Service organization is trying to work it up in the county so as to put on a county campaign in the near future.—Review.

ANN ARBOR—According to a report of auditors from the auditor general's office, Washtenaw county paid $25,573.50 to maintain its circuit court during the year starting May 1, 1924, and ending April 30, 1925. Jurors' fees, which is listed at $10,395.70 is the largest item. The salary of the circuit judge which is $5,000, comes next in size, and the court stenographer's compensation of $3,000 is third largest. The fees for witnesses, attorneys, printing and binding, traveling expenses, a new library, telephone and telegraph service, and many other minor expenses go to make the amount paid by the county.

ANN ARBOR—Two persons were killed two were seriously injured and six others were less seriously hurt Friday morning when Washtenaw passenger train No. 12, bound for Detroit, struck a railroad velocipede with three trailers, four miles west of Milan, between that village and Cone. The men killed included an assistant section crew foreman and a Negro worker. The two seriously injured are in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital at Ann Arbor, where one is in a dying condition. The accident occurred about 8:30, when the men were on their way to work. According to the station agent at Milan, the two men were killed instantly.

Paper Cups and Dishes

Made by Electricity

Exemplifying the many diversified applications of electricity, ingenious machines are now used for making paper cups and dishes by a manufacturing concern in Brooklyn. The creation of these paper cups is an interesting process. Mechanical fingers on an ingenious electric-driven machine pick up a single disk of fine quality paper and place it in a section of the machine for pressing. This pressing gives the cup its shape, plating the sides for strength and rigidity. The piece is then transferred to another unit of the same machine, where it is sterilized by heating.

When the second step has been completed, the cup has assumed its final form with plaited sides, natural curved lip and tumbler shape. But, as a measure of added efficiency, it is put through a third process, being sprayed with hot paraffin, which seals the joints and gives increased rigidity and crispness. From this point the cup passes into a baking chamber, where the paraffin is drained off. The finished cups are carried along on an endless conveyor past a fan, the breeze from which hastens drying.

Relieves Workers of #### Stigma of Suspicion

To save workers in factories which employ in their products gold, silver, or precious stones from suffering the indignity of being selected for searching, a Danish engineer has invented a special apparatus.

Hitherto, the custom has been to stop a certain proportion of the workers—leaving such factories at night, thus apparently casting suspicion upon the individuals selected. By the new invention the worker asked to adjourn to the searching-room is chosen by a machine.

The apparatus consists of a container holding a number of balls, corresponding to the number of workers engaged in the factory. Some of the balls are made of a material conductive of electricity. As the workers pass to the exit they press a button, when a ball is released. It rolls out of the container and a white lamp glows for a moment. In such case the worker passes on.

Should one of the conducting spheres roll out, the electric current turns on a red lamp, which means that the person indicated is one of those to be searched.

Wife Was His Memory

"Your story of the absent-minded minister," writes a contributor to the Youth's Companion, "reminds me of a minister whom I knew in a little Wisconsin town many years ago. He had a wretched memory, but for all that he was nothing less than a saint."

"His absent-mindedness was chronic. He seldom could remember his text, and, being averse to notes, he depended on his good wife to come to his rescue. He would lean over the pulpit and say, 'What was my text for today, my dear?'"

"She would tell him, and he would then proceed to preach a long sermon from it."

"One Sunday after the singing of the second hymn he opened his Bible and, leaning down, made the minister's query: 'My text for today, my dear?'"

"I don't know, I'm sure," composedly replied his wife. 'You forgot to tell me!'"

Butterless Land

The supply of fluid milk in the Dominican republic is fairly adequate, and although it is in general use for adults, modern methods of production and distribution do not prevail. A large amount of condensed, evaporated and powdered milk is imported into the country each year and one of the other uses of these preserved milks is always used for infant feeding. No butter is made anywhere in the republic and the demand for this commodity in the local market is met by importations chiefly from the United States and Denmark.—New York Times.

She Pitted the Lion

Uncle had just returned home from an expedition into Africa after big game, says the Tatler, he was delighting all the family with stirring tales of adventure in the jungle.

"One of my beaters was so savagely bitten by a lion once," he announced, "that he had to have his arm amputated."

There was a short silence while the information sank in, and then the small daughter of the house said in a sympathetic voice:

"What a pity, uncle; the poor lion might just as well have had it."

Big Pittsburgh Industry

The manufacture of glass was started in Pittsburgh in 1797 and now it furnishes the United States with more than half its window glass, a third of its plate glass and one-eighth of its bottles.

Novel Book Covers

Old books whose bindings are shabby can be made very decorative by the addition of covers of hand-blocked papers in fascinating little designs. When each book is covered with a different pattern the effect is extremely gay.

happened, and Saline no more enjoys the faithful and regular trips of Old Maud to and from Ypsilanti, her swan song having been written at midnight Sunday, accompanied by the discharge of a few torpedoes on the track and the blowing of the horn as she sedately made her exit from town on the last run of her career over the Ypsilanti-Saline branch of the D. U. R. On Monday morning a crew was on hand to tear out such rails within the village as could be spared, loose. The benches, stove, etc. in the waiting room were removed, and the fact that we have enjoyed electric service for more than a quarter of a century soon will be but a memory.—Observer.

Ocean Waves Trikes to Those of the Air

It is rather startling to learn, and from high scientific authority, too, that we are living most of the time submerged in waves to which the greatest waves of the ocean are mere ripples in point of size. When a current of air blows across a water surface waves are produced, and when a current of air blows across a surface of quiet air, or air having a different motion from the first current, then air waves are produced.

These atmospheric waves, we are assured, have all of the phenomena of water waves—troughs, crests, foam, breakers and spray—but since the qualities of air and water are so different the air waves have dimensions over 2,500 times those of the corresponding water waves.

Thus the great ocean waves of perhaps twenty-five feet height would have atmospheric counterparts extending upward a distance of ten or twelve miles above the earth's surface.

The undulating movement of such air waves accounts in part for the intermittent gusts of wind which we notice so frequently in storms.—Washington Star.

Little Reverence for Long-Dead Statesmen

The Pantheon is visited nowadays under conditions which seem decidedly lacking in respect due to the memory of great men. You pay a franc to get inside the building, and for 50 centimes more you can join an assembly of trippers for a visit to the crypts in the wake of a guide who appears to be on very familiar terms with the distinguished dead buried there, says Paris Figaro.

The foremost guide will rather disdainfully show you the basement where not less than forty statesmen of the first empire sleep. The other day he pointed out the tomb of Zola, Jules and Carnot, and an English woman in the party asked if she might go into one of the rooms. "No," the guide replied, "because that is really not worth while, as she could see all these fellows at the Musee Grevin, where they're all life size and made of wax."

Few "White" Buffaloes

In the old days Indians cherished the white buffalo robe as almost beyond price.

In 1882 or 1883 the Mandans, says the Pittsburgh Sun, hearing that the Blackfeet at the mouth of the Yellowstone had a white buffalo robe, sent a delegation with eight horses and with trading goods the 200 miles to procure the robe if possible.

The delegation left the horses and the goods and returned afoot with the robe. This was consecrated to the Great Spirit and hung upon a pole, out of touch, as powerful medicine. It is said that not one in 100,000 buffalo was white. Even at that, the color was likely to be a yellowish white, and the robe was known by the plainsmen as a "buckskin" robe. The pure white robe scarcely existed.

Basilicas

The name "basilica" was given in ancient Rome to buildings used as meeting places for business men, and as courts of justice. A basilica consisted of a long central hall or nave, with aisles, the aisles being separated from the nave by pillars supporting the roof. At the end of the nave, opposite the entrance, was a raised platform or dais, with seats for the judges. To give additional space there was sometimes added, at this further end, a semicircular structure called an apse. After the introduction of Christianity, basilicas were very generally converted into churches, and thus it is that the form of the modern cathedral is derived from the ancient Roman basilica.—Kansas City Star.

Patriotic American

The pledge to the American flag that is used in most of our schools is attributed to James P. Upham, a Boston publisher, who in 1888 suggested its use in the schools. The idea was adopted by the National Education Association, which persuaded congress to urge it to the attention of President Harrison, who, by proclamation of July 21, 1892, naming October 12 as a holiday in commemoration of the four-hundredth anniversary of the landing of Columbus in the New World, suggested the pledge to the flag be recited by the pupils and the flag raised over every school house.

Testing the Pay Envelope

A writer in a recent number of Printers Ink asks this question, in substance: "Would you rather receive $200 a month and know you were more than receive $300, with a sinking conviction in your heart that by the standard of wages paid to others you were being overpaid? There are probably quite as many people overpaid in the business world as there are those who are underpaid. When business slumps the overpaid ones are headed for a fall; the underpaid ones keep what they get and perhaps a little more."

Offered Congress Home

The first fiscal proposal received by congress looking to the location of the seat of government came from Kingston, N. Y. The state legislature living on March 14, 1788, authorized the trustees of the township of Kingston to grant to congress a sufficient quantity of land within the said township to secure to congress a place of residence adequate to their dignity."

Sunny House

During Helen's visit to her aunt, it rained incessantly, and when she got home her mother inquired if the bad weather hadn't spoiled her pleasure. "Oh, no," replied the little one, "There were so many smiles at Aunt Mary's I didn't notice the rain."

In Banking Business

By JACK WOODFORD

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

THERE was a stir at the door of the little country bank as the automobile of men from the city drove up. Curious, the townspeople gathered around to watch what was going on. At first they thought it was a holdup, but evidently it was not for Mike Henry, the president of Rickston's little bank, was to be plainly seen in conversation with one of the strangers in his little office.

"This is an outrage!" declared Mr. Henry vehemently, banging his large, tanned fist down upon his desk. "You're using rather strong language," said the Federal reserve agent calmly. "We are acting well within our legal rights."

"Well, perhaps you are, but anyway, at any time, we may have to come here with your city clearings and demand the long green for them. We may or may not do it again—just as you may or may not decide to come into the system with the rest of the bankers in this country."

"But it is my right to charge exchange on out-of-town checks. It's a source of revenue that is perfectly legitimate."

"I'm sorry that I have to disagree with you there, Mr. Henry. While it is indeed legal, you will agree that when all banks are on the par list no individual bank will lose one penny through refraining from making the charge and the public at large will be saved much inconvenience."

"Jack," ordered Mr. Henry, "get me a one-dollar silver certificate returned with the bill. The president studied it for several moments. 'Excuse me for just a second, please,' he said to the Federal Reserve agent, as he rose and walked from the room. In a moment he was back, looking much happier after having had a short talk with the bank's attorney over the phone.

"I'll pay you cash for your clearing, sir, and I want to tell you right now that aside from my interest in this bank I am worth approximately a quarter of a million dollars."

"Very well, sir, I'm sorry that you take it so hard; if you only—"

"Well, see, we'll see," smiled the president.

Several days after the excursion to Rickston, by the Federal Reserve Bank, banker Henry sent his card to the young manager of the Federal Reserve Bank, and was at once granted an interview.

The official greeted the country bank president pleasantly, receiving only a snort in return.

"What can I do for you, Mr. Henry?" inquired the suave young governor.

"You are, in every sense, a fiscal agent for the United States government," questioned the old banker.

"We are," agreed the governor. Mike Henry took out his bill-fold and handed a one-dollar bill across the desk to the puzzled official.

"It says upon that bill that it is payable in silver, on demand, does it not?"

"It certainly does," smiled the governor a little uneasily.

"Well," drawled Mike Henry, leaning back in his chair and putting the thumbs behind his vest, "I think that thirty days is fair enough time for me to give you to get me two hundred and fifty thousand silver dollars."

"Two hundred and fifty thousand silver dollars would require several wagons to handle, and Lord knows how many men."

"Well, I'll get the wagons and the men," responded Mike Henry confidently. "We can back the trucks right up in front of your place here, and have a few boys stand around, with shotguns while you deliver 'em to me."

"Course, if I should decide, after driving around through the city with 'em for a while, to come back and turn 'em in again, there's nothing illegal about a man's changing his mind, is there?"

"Nonsense," asserted the kind of a man who would go through with the threat.

"Nonsense indeed! You just call your attorney on the phone and ask him whether or not, in the event that you do not have the silver dollars for me at the end of thirty days, I can call in a notary and protest every single silver certificate I hold in my possession, and have the notary charge a fee of twenty-five cents on each!"

The official turned a trifle pale. "And," went on Mike Henry, "don't forget that your own notes read, 'payable in gold on demand.' I may decide to have a couple loads of gold later on."

"Forget the whole thing, please, Mr. Henry; you'll not be troubled with your clearing any more."

"All right, young man," smiled Mike Henry, "get me an application blank and I'll join your damned system. I just wanted to show you, before I came in, that no youngster can outdo a man that's been in the banking business for fifty years."

"Nice old duffer," mused the governor after Mike Henry had stamped out of the office. "I'm glad I didn't tell him that a recent decision provided, in cases of that kind, that the Federal Reserve bank's draft on Washington for silver or gold is valid and legal; it would have spoiled all the fun he evidently had in 'outdoing' me. But he'll be telling his cronies about it for the rest of his natural life."

Millions of Coins Unused

In the United States more coins to the value of about $1,000,000 are being turned out daily, that are destined never to go into circulation. They are coined to balance the output of gold certificates as there is a law that at least one-third of all gold certificates issued must be represented by actual gold coins in the treasury. Nearly $800,000,000 in gold coins is needed for the background for the $770,564,000 outstanding gold certificates.

Historic African Region

The Gold Coast region, long famed in history and fiction, is a portion of Guinea, on the west coast of Africa. Here gold was found, and the country became the mecca of the adventurous and seekers after fortune. The Gold Coast is bounded on the east by the Slave coast and on the west by the Ivory coast, and has a coast line of about 350 miles. — Kansas City Star.

Not Fortune That's Blind

It is we who are blind, not fortune; because our eye is too dim to discern the mystery of her effects we foolishly paint her blind, and hoodwink the providence of the Almighty. — Sir Thomas Browne.

Vanity

A man should fear when he enjoys only the good he does publicly. Is it not publicity rather than charity which he loves? Is it not vanity rather than benevolence that gives such charities? — Henry Ward Beecher.

Hugh Fuller

Friday Evening, Oct. 23, 1925

Monday Evening, Dec. 21, 1925

Friday Evening, Jan. 15, 1926

Thursday Evening, March 25, 1926

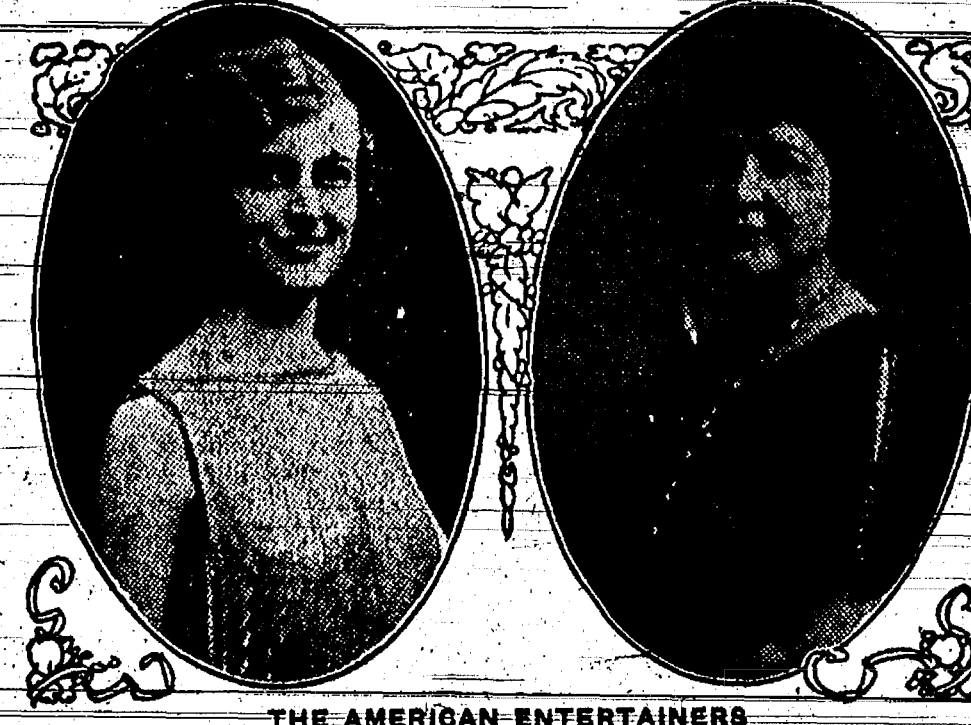

FARNUM TRIO

The name of Doris Farnum, who heads the Farnum Trio, is well known to Lyceum audiences everywhere. Miss Farnum possesses a contralto voice of rich quality. Her presentations of the folk songs of Ireland to her own accompaniment on the Irish harp are a delightful part of the Trio's program. Another feature of her work is her miscellaneous readings consisting of cuttings from such popular plays as "Hop O' My Thumb" and "Mr. Antonio." Humorous pianolos and monologues, given in Scotch, Italian, Swedish and English dialects, further attest her versatility in the entertainment field.

Edwyn Hames, violinist with the Trio, is a talented young Australian who is widely known in his native country. He is a graduate of the Melbourne (Australia) University Conservatory. Mr. Hames possesses rare artistry, based upon a nicety of phrasing and a keen depth of feeling.

Another member, Evelyn Dalin, soprano, pianist and violinist, has many Lyceum successes to her credit and completes an ensemble whose programs of wide diversity and real entertainment are popularly acclaimed.

THE AMERICAN ENTERTAINERS

The American Entertainers is a distinctive novelty entertainment company known as "The Company Unusual." Two charming young ladies, Corine Jessop and Helene Portune, make up this popular company. Both Miss Jessop and Miss Portune are experienced entertainers, and together they provide entertainment of rare interest and pleasure.

Corine Jessop is a splendid reader and pianist, with a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice. Many of the numbers she gives are original with her.

Helene Portune is a singer of notable rank. Possessing a brilliant coloratura soprano voice, she sings with an artistry and a sympathy which have made her a delight to audiences the country over. Miss Portune is also a talented violinist.

The program is cleverly arranged and staged. Costumed song numbers and musical readings—quaint, picturesque and highly entertaining—are especially attractive features, as are also instrumental and dramatic interpretations.

THE FAUBEL ENTERTAINERS

A sparkling novelty program of outstanding quality will be presented by the Faubel Entertainers who will appear here. This splendid company has established a record for popularity which has spread from coast to coast. Unusually diversified novelty entertainments are presented to the keen delight of audiences everywhere.

Clarence Faubel, who heads the company, is a gifted platform entertainer. His character portrayals are clear cut and versatile, ranging from the intensity of his dramatic interpretations to the robust humor of his rural dialect characterizations. His impetuous "fiddle" numbers are always a pleasing program feature.

Associated with Mr. Faubel in the company are Mrs. Faubel, talented violinist; pianist and impersonator, and Miss Marie Williamson, whose specialty solo numbers on the piano-acordion contribute greatly to the enjoyment of the program.

The Faubel Entertainers are sure of a hearty welcome wherever their delightful program is given.

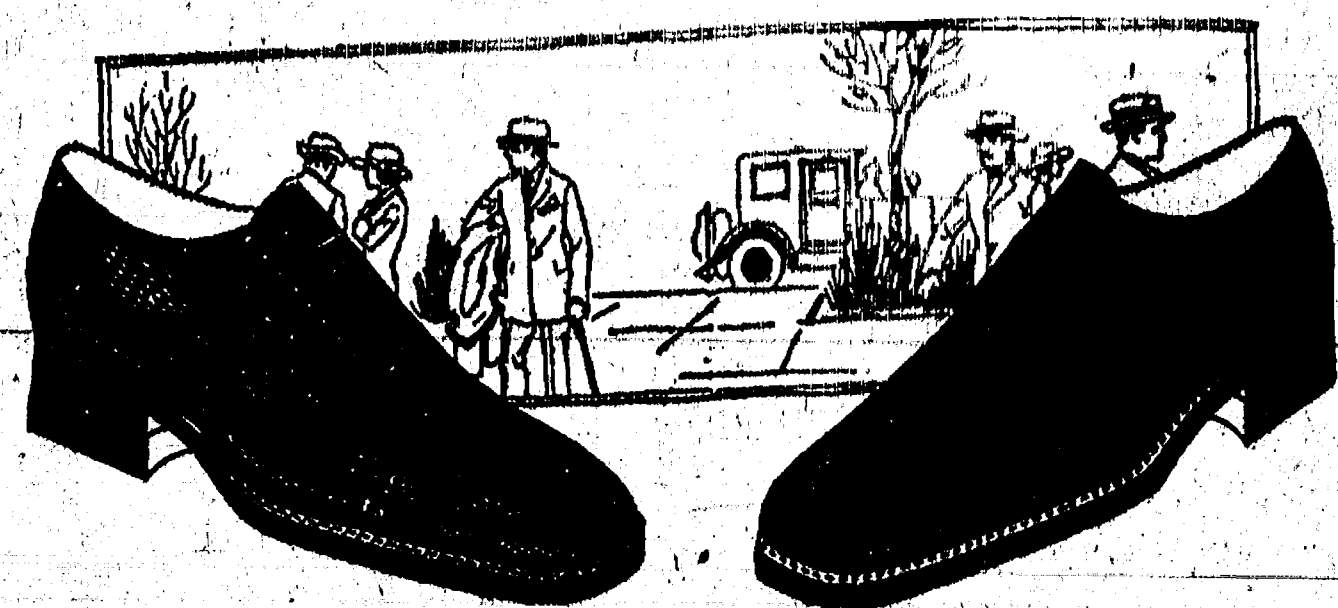

HUGH FULLER

In "Bits of Life from the Byways," Hugh Fuller, the "philosophical" humorist, offers an entertainment that vividly demonstrates his talents as a writer, humorist and impersonator. With costumes and make-up, he brings a series of character delineations, packed full of laughter, but with sufficient sentiment to keep the heart-strings vibrating. All of his stories and poems are new and original.

His is an entertainment of the higher type and can safely be recommended.

SEASON TICKETS, including reserved seats: Adults $1.50 Children $1.00. Seats reserved free for all four numbers
