POTATOES vs. MACARONI

The economical housewife wants to make her husband's pay check go as far as possible; but still she wants to have good, nourishing food. All right—look at the figures below.

The food value per pound of macaroni is more than three times that of potatoes. In peeling potatoes there is a natural waste of 20 per cent. There is no waste to macaroni.

Comparison of food value per pound—

	Potatoes 295	Macaroni 1665
Calories	9 per cent	46 per cent
Energy	8 per cent	61 per cent
Protein	7 per cent	15 per cent
Calcium	16 per cent	49 per cent
Phosphorus	30 per cent	33 per cent
Iron	20 per cent	NO WASTE

MORE THAN THREE HUNDRED ATTEND SCREW CO. BANQUET

Excellent Program Features Completion of Large Addition to Company's Mfg. Plant Here.

More than three hundred persons were seated at banquet tables spread in the large new addition to the Chelsea Screw Company's manufacturing plant, South Main street, on Monday evening when employees and business and professional men and their ladies joined Screw Company officials in celebrating completion of the new structure. The crowd is said to have been the largest ever seated at a banquet table at one time in Chelsea. Ladies of the Methodist church served an excellent chicken supper in a very efficient manner.

Stressing the need of loyalty to home, church, neighbors and one's self, the speaker of the evening, Mr. F. C. O'Meara, sales manager of the G. F. Bennett real estate company of Detroit, delivered a masterful address on the subject of "Good Citizenship," interspersing his talk with many humorous stories and wit which kept his audience in an appreciative mood from start to finish. Mr. O'Meara also paid glowing tribute to the Screw company and its officials for the development program they are carrying out and the splendid success attending their efforts. He is a decidedly gifted speaker and entertainer who speaks with a spontaneity shown by few orators, and a humorous vein which captures his audience the minute he takes the floor.

Vocal music of the evening was rendered by Henry A. Mellicoe, baritone, of Wyandotte, who sang "The Horn," by Fleming and "I Must Turn to the Sea Again," by Denmore, with three additional encore numbers. Mr. Mellicoe possesses a rich voice of excellent carrying quality and proved highly pleasing to his audience. He was accompanied at the piano by Rachel Hargreaves Campbell.

Instrumental numbers played by Wolcott's orchestra, Ann Arbor, during the dinner and for the old time and modern dance program immediately following the program, were greatly appreciated. Consisting of five pieces, the orchestra played a variety of old time tunes as well as popular numbers of the day, proving itself to be one of the best musical organizations secured locally for any occasion.

M. J. Dunkel, president and general manager of the Screw company called the meeting to order and after invocation by Rev. P. H. Grabowski, pastor of St. Paul's church, spoke a welcome to his guests and following the banquet turned the program over to A. B. McGuire who, as toastmaster, introduced the various numbers on the evening's entertainment.

An incident of the early evening which promised to put a damper on the entire evening afterward proved to be a blessing in disguise. At about seven o'clock and when the crowd had nearly all gathered at the factory a transformer outside the plant burned out, due to overload of the lighting circuit, and left the entire factory building in utter darkness. However when seriousness of the situation was realized candles and gasoline lamps were quickly provided, which together with automobiles driven inside the room with lighted headlights, threw enough light on the situation to permit resumption of the eats and program. At about ten o'clock employees of the Consumers Power company, Jackson, who had rushed to Chelsea with an emergency transformer, succeeded in installing the same and there was light for the balance of the evening. However, the candles and gas lamps served their purpose, producing a home-like effect which added to the sociability of the crowd.

One of the very interesting features of the evening was a tour of the company's plant. Few of the folks had ever enjoyed seeing the machinery in operation and to them it was an eye-opener to see the automatic machines turn out a finished product "while you watched." The brass rod was fed into the machine from one end and when the screw product dropped off at the other end it had undergone eight operations and was finished in every detail. One of these had been given each guest earlier in the evening as a souvenir of the occasion.

Old time and modern dancing finished the evening's enjoyment, a large share of the guests participating in this feature of the program. The Chelsea Screw company was organized thirteen years ago this spring with M. J. Dunkel and C. Lehman as the principal stockholders and in active management of the company. Both Mr. Dunkel and Mr. Lehman were connected with the company well about two years ago when Mr. Lehman retired from the firm as secretary-treasurer and at the present time Mr. Dunkel is conducting the company's affairs as president and general manager, P. G. Selzer being secretary-treasurer.

COMMUNITY AUCTION WILL BE REPEATED SATURDAY

The second community auction being held under the auspices of D. J. Gilbert, of the Chevrolet Sales and John Haselschwerdt, of Haselschwerdt's barn, will be held on Saturday of this week. Success of the first auction held two weeks ago has encouraged the promoters to continue them every two weeks, invitation being extended to farmers and others having surplus stock or goods for sale to list them with either Mr. Gilbert or Mr. Haselschwerdt.

Community auctions have been in practice in other communities with successful results, proving a great influence in drawing folks for miles around to attend, list their goods for sale and incidentally boost the town in which they are being held. It is with this idea in mind that the auction's promoters have instituted this practice in Chelsea. Hope is expressed that more people will visit Chelsea through desire to attend the prospective customers that there exists a better market and better place of buy here than can be found elsewhere. Mr. Gilbert is an experienced auctioneer and takes personal charge of the sale of all goods and stock listed.

MACCABEE MERGER TURNED DOWN BY INS. COMMISSIONER

L. T. Hands, state insurance commissioner, Saturday denied the petition of the Maccabees and the Ladies of the Maccabees for approval of their proposed merger. He ruled that the vote by which the ladies' organization ratified the consolidation was illegal under the statutes covering fraternal insurance bodies. A two-thirds vote of the governing body was necessary, according to the commissioner's decision. Only 192 of a membership of 298 voted for the amalgamation and the ballot was invalid, he decided.

The decision of the commissioner is received by the members of the local lodge with considerable pleasure. By a vote of the members their delegate to the review in Detroit in December was instructed to vote against the proposed merger.

MARRIED 56 YEARS

The following was taken from the Sunday edition of the Jackson Citizen Patriot:

When Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Witherell of Manchester gazed from their windows at a snow-clad log house far back in their orchard Friday morning, they were reminded of their wedding day, their thoughts went racing back to 56 years ago when on that day they were united in marriage, and began housekeeping in that little crude house.

They were married at Franklin Center on January 29, 1870, and celebrated the occasion quietly at their home near Manchester.

Mr. Witherell is 79 years of age, a prolific reader, a Democrat of the old school, and one of the best known residents of this vicinity. He has been justice of the peace and road commissioner here many times. His wife celebrated her 74th birthday on Friday, too.

They have two sons, Herbert D. Witherell, attorney, of Chelsea, and late nominee for probate judge of Washtenaw county, and Vincent Witherell, who works the farm.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Witherell are withstanding the advance of time with remarkable physical fortitude and hope to celebrate many more anniversaries of their wedding day.

MRS. ELMER GAGE OF SHARON PASSED AWAY SATURDAY

Grace Dorr Gage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Dorr, was born in Sharon, Michigan, January 10, 1879, and after an illness of several weeks died in the U. of M. hospital, Ann Arbor, January 30, 1926.

She was married to Elmer Gage, December 8, 1904, and has always lived in the vicinity of her childhood home.

Early in life she united with the Baptist church of Grass Lake, but her interests later centered nearer home in the North Sharon church.

She is survived by her husband, four children, Mrs. J. D. O'Connor of Grass Lake, Alma, Claude and Clarence at home, one brother, Carlos Dorr of Manchester, and her mother, Mrs. Alma Dorr of Sharon.

Her life was devoted to her home, and her passing commands the sympathy of many relatives and friends to those bereaved.

Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday, February 2, at 2:00 p. m. with Rev. Mott of Manchester officiating. Burial in Vermont cemetery.

RE-ARRANGE FARE RATES BETWEEN CHELSEA-ANN ARBOR

Inconveniences Encountered by School Children Along Line to Be Investigated by Bus Manager.

Assurance that a new fare-breaking point between Lima Center and Ann Arbor would be arranged by the Highway Bus Company, operators of the motor buses which run between Detroit and Jackson, including Chelsea in its schedule, was given in a letter from the Michigan Public Utilities Commission to O. J. Claiborne, chairman of a committee appointed by the Local Kiwanis club to inquire into schedules and fares between Chelsea and Ann Arbor. The inquiry was made following complaints that school children living a mile or so beyond Lima Center were compelled to pay 50c to ride to Chelsea or take the alternative of walking to Lima Center to catch the bus from which place the fare is 15c.

In the letter from Commissioner Ralph Duff it was stated that the fare-breaking point between Lima Center and Ann Arbor would come at the Dexter road and fare from Chelsea to this point would be 35c. Personal investigation by Mr. Radcliffe, manager of the Highway Bus company, of the situation being faced by school children living along the route, was promised by the commission, and hope expressed that a satisfactory fare arrangement and schedule could be provided.

Text of the letter received by Mr. Claiborne from the commission, follows:

My dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of January 26, addressed to this Commission, I may say to you that except in two instances, viz. between Detroit and Pontiac, and Detroit and Clemens, on the application of those two cities the Commission has no authority to fix bus rates of fare. Indeed, we are uncertain as to our authority in this matter.

We require bus operators to file a schedule of their fares, and they automatically go into effect ten days after filing. However, the secretary of the Commission this morning called the manager of the Highway Bus Company and was informed that they would establish a new fare-breaking point at Dexter Road, making the fare between Chelsea, Lima Center and Ann Arbor 15c, 35c and 50c. He promised further, with reference to the school children, that he would make a personal investigation to see what arrangement could be made that would be more satisfactory to the patrons of the line. There is no question that to charge 50c from Chelsea to a point a mile or two beyond Lima Center is outrageous.

Very truly yours,
Michigan Public Utilities Comm.

Ralph Duff, Commissioner.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL WINS FROM CHELSEA HIGH

The basket ball games between St. Mary High and Chelsea High at Herbert McKune Memorial hall was witnessed by approximately 250 persons last Friday evening. St. Mary's girls showed good team work and accurate basket shooting, running the score up 30 to 6.

St. Mary's (boys) five demonstrated well coached team work, also strong defense and by their undignified basket shooting rolled up a score of 36-16. Fast ball was played every minute by both teams. Liebeck, the star guard holding his position, took the ball from his opponent, tossing it to Hoffman, the speed king, followed by Tuttle the dodger, who sure had them guessing, and then backed up by Wheeler in close defense carefully waited for Kewch, the hurler, to drop in and basket the ball.

MRS. MARY TORBRON

Mrs. Mary Torbron, 88, died Monday morning at the Methodist Home. She was born in Cleveland but had spent most of her life in Ypsilanti, coming to the home at Chelsea 12 years ago.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home and later at the chapel at Highland cemetery, Ypsilanti. Rev. J. O. Jones of the home of visiting. Interment in Highland cemetery.

Securing Wall Paper

If wall paper persists in peeling off despite repasting, it can be secured with fast-headed carpet nails on the heads of which pieces of paper have been gummed to make them unmovable. Again, doors and door-frames often shrink, causing a streaking under the door. Such a gap is easily got rid of by inserting pieces of paper to build up the casing on the inside.

Clocks and Watches

To keep the works of a watch clean and to insure that it will run smoothly, take out a piece of white paper the size of the watch cover, and after soaking the paper in petrol, place it in the inner watch case. The paper should be periodically removed and a fresh piece, also soaked in petrol, substituted. The same plan may be adopted for small and medium-sized clocks.

MUST PAY TAXES UNDER 1925 LAW

Under authority of an act passed by the 1925 Legislature, directing the tax commission to investigate so-called charitable, religious and educational institutions to determine whether it is being used solely for these purposes, Geo. E. Lord, chairman of the tax commission, has had an exhaustive investigation. He has decided that Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. property shall not go "scot free." His inquiries thus far have disclosed that properties in these classes change for their facilities and equipment expenses make a profit. According to Mr. Lord they are in direct competition with hotels, boarding houses, and other businesses which pay taxes. The extent of taxable liability will be determined by personal investigation.

Parochial schools probably will continue to be tax exempt under the new law. Mr. Lord stated that he has not completed his inquiry into the status of these schools, but they undoubtedly are educational institutions entitled to encouragement. If they were to be taxed out of business it would mean a great drain on the taxpayers of every community. Mrs. Jacob Rieth, because of a broken back, has been provided with a comfortable and spacious paper, he said.
