NEGROES DETAINED AFTER COLLIDING WITH WAGON

Herman Pierce had one of his horses injured and his farm wagon considerably damaged when he was run into by an automobile which was occupied by two negroes, Monday forenoon on M-17. The accident happened at the farm in Lima, recently sold by the Pleemeler family. Mr. Pierce was driving westward and the driver of the car was driving in the same direction. Officer Frank Leach was called and took possession of the car which he placed in the Palmer Motor Sales garage where it is to be held until the owner pays up whatever damage he did to Mr. Pierce's property. The driver of the car gave his name as Wm. Whitehead of Albion, who claimed to own the car but he did not have a driver's license. One of the men was taken to Justice Steiner's court where he was fined $15. The other man returned to Albion to raise funds for the fine and other damages. The man who was fined was held until the cash was received.

GOOD FUTURE FOR FUR BUSINESS PREDICTED IN TALK TO BREEDERS

The fur business represents the newest as well as the oldest phase of industry known to man. James E. Downing, of Philadelphia, a field man of "The Country Gentleman," told the Michigan Fox Breeders' association at the Weiss Service building at Grand Rapids last Friday afternoon.

"Fox breeding is one of the very latest businesses," said he, "one that is just coming into its own. But furs have been a commodity of the human race since long before the dawn of history. Furs were used for clothing and consequently for barter and trade by most primitive people."

"The fox breeding industry, like many new enterprises, has to live down many prejudices and false impressions that have been circulated. The industry is becoming stabilized and will take its place with other forms of livestock production."

Mr. Downing advised the members to select and breed with care, asserting that the same methods applied by stockmen in building up certain types of livestock can be followed with satisfactory results with fur bearing animals.

The National Fox Breeders' association has been admitted to the National Society of Record associations and is fully qualified to register pure bred animals. It was announced.

Practically all of the livestock associations are members of this body. Tentative plans for a much larger fox fur sale there next winter than the initial offering last January were discussed.

It will be proven that the "Earth Is Round" at Town Hall, Monday and Tuesday evening. Adv.

ST. MARY'S TEAM WINS IN INDEPENDENT TOURNEY

Players From Three States Compete For Trophies at Ann Arbor Last Week.

Finals in the Independent basketball tourney were played at Waterman gymnasium in Ann Arbor Saturday night and as a result the Pontiac Merchants won the Class A title, Flint Y. M. C. A. triumphed in Class B, St. Mary's of Chelsea in Class C and the Detroit Midgets in Class D.

The majority of the games were hard fought and while some of the teams were rather tired after their three preliminary games, the contests were interesting.

In the closest and hardest fought game of the evening, St. Mary's of Chelsea emerged from the Class C final with a two point margin over the Huntington, Ind., Y. M. C. A. The score was 25 to 23 and a Hoosier rally in the final quarter nearly upset the Chelsea lads.

Both teams played a clever brand of basket ball and it was anybody's game. Chelsea led at the end of the first quarter, 11 to 7 and at half time 17 to 11.

At the end of the third quarter the margin was the same as at the midway mark, the score standing 23 to 17.

In the final eight minutes of play Chelsea pulled out one fine shot while Huntington began to find the ring and drew up within two points of St. Mary's as the game ended.

On Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock St. Mary's played St. Paul's church, Lansing, winning 40 to 19. Friday evening they played the Y. M. C. A., Detroit, and won 25 to 22. At noon Saturday, St. Mary's played the Davis-Furnishing Shop, Detroit, winning 35 to 9 and in the evening the local team captured the final game from Huntington, Ind., with a 25 to 23 score.

Playing for St. Mary's were M. Hoffman, P. Hoffman, Eisele, Keusch, Liebeck and Wheeler with Joe Policht, Leonard Bessel and Carl Risley as substitutes. Witnesses of the games were generous with praise for the hard work and splendid team play of every man on the team. As a reward for their efforts the team was presented a silver trophy and individual basket ball watch charms were given the players.

The tournament comprised Ohio, Michigan and Indiana teams, 52 organizations participating in the two days of playing.

MRS. BEULAH UPDIKE

Mrs. Beulah Updike, 36, wife of Earl Updike, died Monday morning at a hospital in Ann Arbor. She was a member of the Eastern Star, Olive Chapter, No. 108, Chelsea, and the Brookside chapter of Congregational church, Chelsea.

She is survived by the widow; her father, William Comstock of Detroit, and a brother, William Comstock, Jr., of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Hildinger chapel in Ann Arbor. Rev. C. S. Risley of Chelsea, officiated. Interment in Oak Grove cemetery at Chelsea.

LOCAL CLUB MEETING TO BE HELD AT SYLVAN CENTER

The Handicraft and Clothing clubs of boys and girls attending school at Sylvan Center with Mrs. M. W. McClure as teacher and local leader will hold their annual Achievement meeting for their winter project work Friday evening of this week at the school house. At this time the Handicraft work of the boys will be judged by Mr. Pearson, Assistant State Club Leader, and clothing club work for the girls will be judged by Miss Wilder, Assistant State Club Leader.

There will be a program given by the boys and girls who are members of the handicraft and clothing clubs in the Sylvan Center school. G. P. Cantrell, an Ann Arbor attorney, will speak to the boys and girls as part of the program.

NOTICE

All ball players and fans who are interested in organizing a ball team in Chelsea are requested to meet at Fifteenth Hall, Monday evening, April 19, at 7:30.

Caves of Elephanta

Not far from Bombay, India, are the famous caves of Elephanta. Elephanta is an island long held as a sacred place by Orientals. The name was given by the Portuguese from a colossal sculpture of an elephant. A series of subterranean temples are hewn right out of the solid rock. Columns of the natural rock are left standing to support the roof, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

PHILIP KRUSCH PASSED AWAY TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Philip Krusch, who for the past 56 years has been a well-known resident of Chelsea, died Tuesday afternoon, April 13, 1926, at his home on West Summit street, following an illness of several months.

He was born in Freedom, September 23, 1843, and was the last surviving member of the family, two brothers and a sister having preceded him in death. He was an active member of St. Mary's church.

He was united in marriage with Miss Adella Staffan on November 25, 1869, and they have resided in Chelsea ever since their marriage.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Miss Ida Krusch, a teacher in the Detroit public schools, one son, J. E. Krusch, who is engaged in business in Chelsea, one grandson and one granddaughter.

The funeral will be held in St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Friday forenoon, Rev. Fr. Fallon celebrating the mass. Burial in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

MISS FLORENCE BURGESS WEDS GRAND RAPIDS MAN

Miss Florence Burgess, Chelsea, and Mr. Roy Morford, of Grand Rapids, were united in marriage Sunday, April 11, at St. Paul's parsonage, Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiating. The young couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Haffey, cousins of the bride, as best man and bridesmaid. The bride and bridesmaid were attired in suits of blue trimmed in fur.

Following the ceremony a three course wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haffey, west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Morford left Monday for a wedding trip to Detroit, after which they will reside in Grand Rapids.

Relatives from Battle Creek, Albion, Parma and Jackson attended the wedding ceremony and the dinner which followed.

LENA KRUSE NEVARRE

Lena Kruse Nevarre was born in New Jersey, January 1st, 1902. Before a year this tiny girl was brought to Michigan to find a new home. She was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kruse of Sylvan. When twelve years of age her parents moved from Chelsea to the present home at Sherman City.

In 1919 she was married to Lee Nevarre. Four children came to bless this home. Her sunny disposition and cheerful way won for her a place in the hearts of her friends. Her children and her home were her care and to them she gave herself unselfishly.

After a brief illness she was called to her better home April 9, 1926. The center of the home was made vacant. Husband, children and father are left to mourn her whom they had loved so dearly. Gone, we say, yet a mother is never forgotten.

Up-to-Date Magic

A famous magician pours water from one pitcher into many glasses. In one glass the water turns red, in another blue, another smoking and boiling, and in another to tinkling ice. Then he pours from the same pitcher into an empty flower pot, presto, a plant grows before the eyes. Last, he sprinkles a huge vase from which a beautiful woman rises.

Yet no less magic comes daily from a prosaic gas holder—flame, ice, light, hot water, clean linen washed, dried and ironed by gas; and even clean air for city dwellers. The identical gas gives many gifts according to the appliance it goes into. This marvelous magic of today, carried on by thousands of gas company workers, made possible by millions of hard earned dollars invested, eagerly waits to serve you whenever you turn on the gas.

Are you enjoying all the service possible from this magic gas? You are welcome to come in any time and inspect the latest modern gas appliances for giving you greater gas service.

THE KAISER'S FUTURE

Many people are wondering why the letters of Kaiser-Queen Victoria of England are being published at this time. Most of them are seventy-five years old, some of them are fifty years old, all of them show history in the making as it relates to the British and the German Empire.

It must be remembered that the former Kaiser of Germany now sojourning at Doorn, Holland, was the beloved grandson of this grand old queen of England.

When Lloyd George was premier of England and the armistice had not yet come Lloyd George was telling the world how the English were going to catch the Kaiser and hang him to a sour apple tree or words to that effect. This writer at the time called attention to the fact that the mother of the Kaiser was the favorite daughter of the greatest ruler England ever had and that Wilhelm II of Germany was her favorite grandson, rivaling, if not exceeding, the esteem of his grandmother, the queen-mother of England.

These ancient letters of a long dead Queen are calling attention to these facts and this relationship preparing England and others of the allied countries for a day when it will be proposed to restore to Wilhelm Hohenzollern some of the place he occupied in the world before the world war if not in fact some of the power. Mark this prediction: Wilhelm Hohenzollern will not die at Doorn!

OPPOSE TURKEY TREATY
One hundred and ten bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church in America have protested against the treaty made by this country with Turkey. They say that American sentiment is opposed to the resumption of friendly relations with this anti-Christian government. In this attitude the good bishops are wrong. We have had friendly relations with Turkey almost all the time since we have been a free and independent government. Turkey all that while, has been anti-Christian because it is the one great representative government upholding and sustaining Mohammedan religion. It is only recently that Turkey has shown a disposition to throw over its ancient religion and become a free religious country.

We have a treaty and friendly relations with Japan. That government is certainly as anti-Christian as Turkey.

AVERAGE FAMILIES
A smart statistician with nothing much to do has figured out that the average family in this country consists of 2.66 persons.

IN TIME OF PEACE
There is an old saying: "In times of peace prepare for war." We are tentatively at peace with all the world. Just the same we have not forgotten that men do sometimes get warlike, and threaten every country in the world—civilization itself. The United States government announces a bullet that is more accurate at 1000 yards than the bullets formerly used were at 500 yards.

PROPAGANDIST BUSY
There is talk of a fight for the heavy-weight championship next summer between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills. Already the propagandists on the sporting pages are getting in their work, telling how Wills will wallopp Dempsey. We heard a lot of that guff when Dempsey fought Carpenter.

MORE MOTOR CARS
The month of March broke all records in automobile production. 447, 185 cars were built in that month, beating the same month last year, which was also a record breaker.

MORE BIBLES READ
The American Bible Society issued 9,069,120 Bibles in 1923, which is the greatest number ever before distributed in any year. It is 2,500,000 more Bibles than were distributed in 1924.

THYSEN DEAD
August Thyssen, richest man in Germany, died recently, aged 84. He was the son of poor parents who went to work in the iron mills of the Ruhr, came to own most of them and died worth $100,000,000, indicating that for the man with the ability, the ambition and good fortune every country has its opportunities.

1923 STATE FIRE LOSS SHOWS DECREASE (By Ed A. Nowack)

Complete figures for Michigan's 1923 fire loss by counties have been released by Fire Marshal G. V. Lane of the Public Safety Department. They show that for the first time in 12 years the annual fire loss in the state shows a decrease over the preceding year considering increasing value of materials. The report says that the county of Washtenaw suffered 343 fires in its homes and business places, entailing a loss of $280,148. The 1923 fire loss totaled $18,664,324.87 which is $1,754,980.70 less than for 1924 when the total loss was $21,419,385.57.

This state police report shows a total of 20,094 fires in 1923 and 21,053 for 1924, a decrease of 959 fires. Of the total fires 1,786 resulted from exposure to burning buildings adjoining which means that almost one-fifth the fires were not the result of accident or design.

Captain Oscar Olander of the state police says the report conclusively shows that a generous response is being made by Michigan folks to exercise care in the use of fire brands. Olander also says that, Insurance Commissioner L. T. Hands points out that if the decrease in fire loss continues there will be a decrease in fire insurance premiums.

Lowest number of fires were reported in Roscommon, Lapeer, and Benzie counties with 4, 5 and 9 fires respectively. Wayne county led with 7,022 fires while Kent was second with 1,187.

Unknown fires numbered 2,718. Defective heating apparatus caused 2,941 blazes while sparks caused 4,708, explosions 1,005, careless smokers 2,741, lightning 758, incendiary 54, hot metal and water pipes 458, hot greases, oil and tar 131, fireworks 62, open fires and lights 474, spontaneous combustion 372, rubbish heaps and hot ashes 743.

WARN OF SEED CORN SHORTAGE IN STATE

Urging Michigan farmers to test their seed corn carefully this spring and to conserve available stocks, crop specialists at the Michigan State College are sending out warnings that good seed for the crop is scarce this year.

Wet weather and early frozes last fall resulted in lowered germinating power for much of the state crop of seed corn. Tests carried out by the farm crops department at M. S. C. have shown this condition to exist even in many stocks thought to be in good condition. Conditions this year in regard to seed corn are said by Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the college crops department, to compare with those of the disastrous 1917 season. The same situation is said to exist throughout the corn belt and northern states. Full information on testing seed corn is contained in bulletin number 289 of the Michigan Experiment Station, "Corn Growing in Michigan." This bulletin may be secured free on request from Director R. S. Shaw, Michigan Experiment Station, East Lansing.

To Those Who Judge Quality by Price

The quality of Ford cars cannot be judged by the prices at which they are sold—because Ford prices are made possible by conditions that are absolutely unique in the automotive industry.

From mine to market the Ford car is the work of a single organization. The Company owns and operates the mines and forests that furnish the raw materials for its products. This material is carried over Ford transportation routes, fabricated in Ford mills, manufactured in Ford plants—and the finished product is sold to the public through Ford dealers.

The following statement, previously made in an advertising message, is repeated because of its significance to the public:

"If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford, according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design, it would be impossible to offer it at anything like Ford prices. And it is well to note that even with less costly design they have not met Ford prices."

FOWLerville—The Fowlerville school census shows 295 residents of school age, a gain of 26 since the census last year.

MANCHESTER—By reference to the Enterprise of April 10, 1884, we find that the vote for a new jail at Ann Arbor was defeated here 344 to 27.—Enterprise.

WILLIAMSTON—At the meeting of local base ball fans which was held at the town hall last Thursday evening, Ford M. McCarrick was elected manager of the local league team for the coming season.—Enterprise.

YPSILANTI—The two new stories to the Huron Hotel will be completed ready for occupancy in about two weeks. Workmen are busy on the interior now. Obstructions in front of the hotel on Pearl street have been removed for two way traffic again.

STOCKBRIDGE—Aunt Skidmore's sister sent him some coconuts last fall from Montana. Allan put them away in the cupboard and was somewhat surprised Monday morning when two large moth millers flew out as he opened the door.—Brief.

PINKNEY—William W. White of Howell was in town one day last week shaking hands with his many friends here, where he is so well known. The revival of old-time dances this season has made the old time fiddler a personage, and now "Bill" White, aged 70, is claimed by his many friends to be the champion mouth organ player and jig dancer of his age in Michigan.—Dispatch.

BRIGHTON—It looks now as though Brighton is to have a new factory, and that very soon. W. J. Kilpatrick, of the Kilpatrick Machine Co., of Detroit, has arranged for the lease of a certain amount of floor space of Adolph Marten, with the promise of more as needed, in which to bring at least a part of their Detroit plant.—Argus.

SALINE—The operator of the Chicago-Detroit mail plane, in passing over Saline on Saturday during the blizzard, became confused as to directions and tried to land. He was flying low, missing tree tops and buildings by a narrow margin, but at last fortune smiled on him and he made a safe landing on the Armbruster farm on the town line east of here.—Observer.

SALINE—Lots of excitement Monday evening, when Deputy Jahnke chased a big touring car west of town that was suspected of transporting booze. The car went into the ditch and the occupants took to their heels and escaped, and a similar fate befell another car closely following the first. The big automobiles and 32 gallons of moonshine were turned over to the county authorities as the result of Mr. Jahnke's vigilance and pursuit.—Observer.

BROOKLYN—In spite of Saturday's bad storm a class of 13 Odd Fellows was initiated in the degrees of the Encampment at Brooklyn high school gym which had been secured for the occasion. Home City Encampment degree team came out from Jackson to confer the work, and while the attendance was cut much below that anticipated the hundred present had a pleasant fraternal event. The guests were served an excellent supper at the Odd Fellow hall, by the Brooklyn Rebekahs which made them forget the troubles of storm and bad roads.—Exponent.

Outstanding

This brilliant new Oakland Six stands out as the only car combining the advanced engineering features of air cleaner, oil filter, full pressure oiling, four-wheel brakes, automatic spark and The Harmonic Balancer.

Outperforming

Too, it sweeps far ahead of any other car in its field in performance, revealing a combination of speed, acceleration, power, smoothness and economy heretofore undreamed of in an automobile of such low price.

Outselling

Naturally, the new Oakland Six is outselling the country over—scoring greater gains than any other car—winning and holding the good will of all who buy it.

day afternoon destroyed the hundred year old residence on the James Holmes farm four miles south of Ypsilanti. The blaze started from the kitchen chimney and spread so rapidly that nothing could be done except to save the furnishings of the first floor. There was no insurance on the property. The house was built in 1826 by Jonathan Morton, whose daughter, Mrs. Holmes, who resides in Ypsilanti with a son, owns the farm. Mrs. Holmes was six months old when her parents moved into the house. She was 94 years old last September.

MASON—The construction of a new garage, warehouse and general office building on the lots owned by the county on Cedar street in the western part of the city was decided upon at a meeting of the county road commissioners held here on Monday. The plans call for a building 80x150 feet with a paved area 44x150 feet along the south side, the new building to be of steel, concrete and brick construction and designed to house all motor equipment, road supplies and smaller tools with room in front for the general offices and engineering department thus centralizing all the road commission activities under one roof instead of being scattered about the city as at present. The approximate cost is estimated to be from $25,000 to $30,000 and is to be met from accumulated balances now in the maintenance funds of the commission it is stated.—News.

Why you need TWO watches

At the desk, on the train, or for outdoor play, a turn of the wrist should quickly tell you the time. So men and women both have come to depend upon the strap watch.

Yet with evening dress, a man's strap watch becomes out of place, and a woman's sport model an ornament of doubtful taste. Thus convenience and correct dress demand that you possess two watches—a strap watch for business and the sports, and a dress watch for social wear.

If you would choose correctly, examine our extensive assortment of reliable watches dressed in the well-known Wadsworth Cases.

NAMED WARRANT OFFICER IN CHARGE OF FIFTH BAND

Success of a former resident in the musical field is given an account in a recent issue of the Lansing State Journal. Meryl M. Shaver, son of the late Milo Shaver and a nephew of Frank Shaver of Chelsea, is in business in Mason and as a side line has been devoting much of his time to band music and leadership. He is manager and assistant director of the Mason band and is in charge of the 119th Field Artillery band. Wide experience in the music world has especially fitted Mr. Shaver for these positions and Chelsea folks will be pleased to learn of his success. The following article accompanied Mr. Shaver's photograph in the Lansing paper:

Meryl M. Shaver, of Mason, a veteran bandman, despite the fact that he is only 22, has been made warrant officer in charge of the 119th Field Artillery band. Coming from a musical family, he has been in some band from the time he could carry an instrument. When but a lad he joined the famous Chelsea band. In 1915 he organized the Y. M. C. A. band at Dayton, Ohio, where he remained until the outbreak of the war. He then enlisted in the 126th Infantry band of the 32nd division, dividing his time between the duties of horn soloist in that organization and helping to push the Germans back.

After the war, Mr. Shaver went to Detroit, where he played in the Grotto, Odd Fellow and Knight Templar bands, later being appointed assistant director of the Fred G. Fuller band of Royal Oak. At present he is in charge of the Mason city band. Captain Otis Tripp, commanding officer of service battery, of which the band is one section, finally prevailed upon him to take charge of the field artillery organization and keep it intact. Mr. Shaver says that he has a few vacancies in the band for experienced musicians at present. The band is to hold a benefit dance Saturday evening, May 1, to raise money for equipment, at which time a Ford coupe will be given to the holder of the lucky ticket.

IN YOUR WORK HARD!

Many Chelsea Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier.

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back?
 Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?
 There is no peace from that dull ache.
 No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.
 Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Chelsea people recommend Doan's. Mrs. Chas. H. Hagdon, 425 Congdon St., Chelsea, says: "Backache kept me from getting through with my housework. I had dizzy spells when back specks floated before my eyes. My kidneys didn't act regularly and in different ways showed signs of disorder. As Doan's Pills had been used in the home successfully, I decided to try them. Two boxes cured me."
 Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Hagdon had. Foster-McLiburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Early Republic

The title "Batavian Republic" was assumed by the seven united provinces of the Netherlands at the time of their organization as a republic, May 6, 1795. They retained the title until 1806, when the form of government was changed and the provinces were converted into the kingdom of Holland under Louis Bonaparte as king. The title is derived from the Latin name for Holland and the Netherlands.

Lion Has Lucky Bone

Like the children's wishbone, the lion has a "lucky bone," which never in Africa always present to the hunter or other distinguished visitor who comes among them and to whom they wish to express good will. The natives have great respect for the king of beasts and do not tolerate "lion chops" in their meat rations. The white hunters say lion chops are not good eating.

Just a Lover's Quarrel
 By CYNTHIA BLAIR

 "But Ned's wrong!" protested Helena Deland, dropping down on the top step of the porch, and tossing her big sun hat from her so hard that it fell into the bed of petunias nearby. "He just simply won't listen to reason. We've argued for three days over this thing, and I'm just about ready to tell him that I'm through. It seems queer when I look back on it now, that we could quarrel so over a little bit of a thing. But when I realize how stubborn he is—"

"Yes, I know, but—well, just listen to a little story that I'm going to tell you." Granny leaned back in her low chair, rocking gently back and forth for a moment, looking off over the gay little garden as if she didn't see it at all, but saw far into the past instead.
 "This happened when your grandfather and I were on our honeymoon," she began at last, the faint creases of a board beneath her chair making a soft accompaniment to her voice. "We went abroad, though everybody told us that it was just tempting fate to take such a long trip. Traveling is so hard on people's dispositions! We got along beautifully, though, all through England and France."

"Then we went to Italy. It was pretty warm there, and pretty dirty. 'Well, we left Venice one very hot evening to go to Florence. We expected to have a sleeping compartment, but somehow when we got on the train there wasn't one.
 "How about it, Em?" your grandfather said. "Are you game to go on anyway?"
 "I said I was. We were going to stop in Florence just a few days, and then start home, and I was getting anxious to go. I wanted to come back to my new little house here, you see, and really settle down. So we went right on. It meant sitting up all night, as there were two other persons in the compartment that we had to take, which was big enough for six. We could just sort of lie down, but that was all."

"Well, at first it wasn't so bad, though the train was pretty dirty. After awhile, just as we were leaving a town, Tom leaned forward—he was sitting across from me—and said:
 "Sun, did you notice the name of that town we are on now?"
 "It happened I'd noticed the sign over one of the doors. 'Yes, it was Entrata,' I said, 'or Entrata.'"
 "When we got to the next town he looked out, as we went right through. 'That was Uscita,' he said, 'but I can't find it on the map.'"
 "We didn't stop at the next town either, but I saw the sign over one of the doors there. Tom didn't say anything. You were wrong about that last town," I told him. "This one we're just going through was Uscita."

"It couldn't be that was the name at the last one," he answered, sort of short with me.
 "Well, we argued about it. I told him I could believe my own eyes. I guessed, never remembering that I was sensitive about being near-sighted, and he said he'd learned to read when he was five—he was always awfully proud of that—and he couldn't be mistaken."

"Well, finally, I just stopped talking. 'Maybe I'm crazy,' I said to him. 'I just know what I saw over that door. I'm not going to talk about it any longer.'"
 "He leaned back in his corner with the most exasperated look on his face that I ever saw. 'I don't have to talk any more,' he said. 'I know that I was right.'"
 "When we came to the next town we were both pretty eager to see what the name of it was. We leaned way out of the window. And over the first door of the station it said 'Entrata' or 'Entrata.' I never did get that word quite straight in my mind, and over the next one it said 'Uscita.'"
 "We just looked at each other as it went over our minds. And then Tom went into the next compartment, where there was a man who'd stayed at the hotel where we were in Venice, who spoke Italian. He came back laughing at it to tell us.
 "We were both right, Em," he said. "And we were both wrong. One of those words means 'Entrance' and the other means 'Exit.'"
 She laughed softly at the little picture memory had brought up, and Helena laughed with her.
 Other thoughts came swarming to her. Grandpa'd been gone for five years now, and no matter how hard granny tried to fill her days with interest in her grandchildren and her garden and her charities, there were many times when she just sat looking at grandpa's picture and thinking of him. She was lonely then; one look at her sweet little face made her plain enough.
 Suddenly Helena jumped up, snatched her hat out of the petunias and put it on out side before without even noticing that fact.
 "Thanks, granny," she cried, hastily kissing the old lady's cheek. "It's almost lunch-time and Ned will be coming home. I've got to get there first and make a shortcake for him—and he's waiting when he gets there to tell him we're both right!"

Great Painter's Nickname

Donatello, the great Italian painter, architect and sculptor, was nicknamed "Il Greco," the Greek, because he was a native of the island of Crete, whence he went to Venice to pursue his art studies.

Harmless Viper

Contrary to superstition regarding this reptile, the "harmless" viper is harmless. It is not poisonous and its teeth are too short to inflict a wound in case the snake did strike at a person. One of the peculiar habits of this snake is that of feigning death, which it accomplishes by rolling over on its back. When turned over it immediately resumes this absurd position.

Started Popular Phrase

The term "winnon pure" to distinguish the genuine from the false, was taken from the principal character of Mrs. Centilieu's comedy, "A Bold Broker for a Wife," who finally won a rival who had assumed his name.

SOIL FERTILITY SPECIAL

TRAIN HERE LAST MONDAY

More than one hundred persons attended the Soil Fertility special train which spent part of Monday on a switch of the Michigan Central here. More than 30 kinds of soil were carried as samples on the train which is being sponsored by the Michigan State College, East Lansing, and lectures were delivered by experts accompanying the train on its tour around the state. Discussion of local soil problems were also taken up by the speakers.

In discussing the time and fertilizer problems of this community, O. B. Price made the following pertinent statements: "It is estimated that approximately 36 to 60 per cent of the soils of southeastern Michigan and the 'Thumb district' need lime."

"Lime is not a fertilizer, and lime alone will help to exhaust the soil, but combined with clovers, moderate manuring and fertilization, it is the foundation of the improvement and maintenance of fertility."

"Manure, sods, green manure, crop residues, and animal fertilizers, such as tankage, must be acted upon by soil bacteria before their plant food becomes available. These bacteria, as well as those which supply legumes and the soil with atmospheric nitrogen, cannot work efficiently in a sour soil."

"Manure is an excellent lime to use. The purity, cost and labor required in obtaining and applying are important considerations."

"Limestone probably has been used as much or more than any other material. For best results limestone should be fine enough for practically all to pass a 10-mesh screen and contain approximately 40 per cent of 100-mesh material."

"There are very few soils in Michigan that do not respond to applications of fertilizers. The points to consider are: (1) The soil type; (2) the proper analysis to use; (3) the proper rate of application; (4) the proper method of application; and (5) the crops to be fertilized."

"Twenty units of plant food in one ton of a 2-16-2 costs $40.30. Twenty units of plant food in two tons of a 1-8-1 costs $58.10. A 1-8-1 is a low analysis fertilizer containing twice as much plant food in exactly the same ratio. You save $17.50 on every ton of 2-16-2 used."

"Fertilizers should be used to cut the cost of production and help maintain or increase the fertility of the soil. Increase the yield per acre and cultivate fewer acres this will allow more of the farm to be seeded to soil building legumes."

"Growing alfalfa for hay and for soil building are two different things. In order to get the benefit of nitrogen fixation from the air some of the alfalfa should be returned to the soil. Taking off all the crop for hay does not help the soil. The nitrogen supply may be obtained or increased at the expense of other plant food elements such as phosphorus, potassium and calcium. A balanced ratio of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash is necessary. Sweet clover is our best soil builder."

METHODIST EPISCOPAL
Rev. C. S. Bailey, pastor.
Morning sermon topic, "The Power of an Unseen Reality." This will be a continuation of last Sunday's sermon. "What will this unseen reality do for us? What is this tonic of endurance? What does a bride see in her husband or the husband in his bride? Sunday evening, 'Christ, as a Preacher.' This is the beginning of a series of sermons on this theme. "His Doctrine" will be the first. Follow the series. The pageant Sunday evening was well received. The stage settings and costumes were Oriental. The parts were well acted by our young folks.
Question—"Should a Christian and a church member drive his car on Sunday?" The question will be answered at the morning service. The season of the year is coming when the temptation is hard to resist. We will be glad to see you at church and Sunday school.

NAME GOOD CROPS FOR COMING YEAR

Michigan crops which seem destined to find a good market demand in 1935, and are therefore most likely to prove financially successful this year, are named by Prof. L. E. Cox, head of the farm crops department at M. S. C.
Professor Cox points out the need for farmers to study the probable market demands in selecting their "cash" crops. Crops in which surpluses now exist, or are likely to exist, are most likely to meet with low prices.

"Alfalfa heads the list as the most dependable crop to be grown in Michigan," says Cox. "It is exceedingly unlikely that surpluses of alfalfa hay will exist for the next ten years. There are few cash crops which will pay as much as alfalfa, but, of course, most farmers can make more out of feeding this cheap supply of protein hay."

"Sweet clover and clover from domestic grown red clover seed are in the same class. With sweet clover seed cheap and plentiful, much is being planted in Michigan."
"Sugar beets are a certain crop for Michigan farmers this year, since the sugar factories are offering the same contracts as prevailed last year, and growers can be assured of a minimum of seven dollars per ton. Sugar beet growers who prepare land carefully and use fertilizer to give the crop a good start and increase its yield are the ones who make the most money. A big tonnage pays."

"Red kidney beans still bring about twice as much as white pea beans. There was a large acreage of white pea beans last year; hence, it would not be advisable to increase the bean acreage beyond the average. Red kidneys, on the other hand, are still in strong demand. Care should be taken to get seed which is free of the troublesome 'spot' which is a blemish on red kidney bean canners. This is a red bean which turns light colored in the canning process."
