STANDARD OFFERS READERS ACCIDENT INSURANCE POLICY

Small Registration Fee Will Bring Protection Against Hardships, Accompanying Accidents and Disability.

Insurance against the loss of life, sight or limbs by accident is now added to the service being rendered by The Chelsea Standard in a further effort to keep abreast or ahead of the times in the benefits it may bring to its subscribers and readers. Addition of this latest service branch is made beginning this week and comes at a time when almost everyone is thinking in terms of accident and disability.

A $1500 travel accident insurance policy for only $1 in connection with subscription to The Standard is the newest proposition yet to be sponsored by newspapers in the interest of their readers and it is this policy and price which is sure to prove popular with Standard readers. On another page of this issue will be found a more thorough description of the advantages of this insurance which is open to subscribers and members of their families without the red tape of physical examination and embarrassing questions. $1500 for the loss of life, both hands, both feet, sight of both eyes, one hand and one foot, one hand and sight of one eye or one foot and sight of one eye, $750 for loss of either hand, either foot or sight of either eye, in accordance with clauses in the policy. In addition to the above provisions $10 per week for 13 weeks or less will be paid where victim of accident is disabled to the extent that he cannot attend to regular duties of his business or occupation. This clause alone is worth many times the registration fee ($1.00) which delivers the policy to your address.

Added to the benefits already mentioned is that of accumulation of the face of the policy. Ten per cent of the face of the policy is added annually for a period of five years until at the end of that period the policy is actually worth $2500 and the annual cost is only $1.00.

That this policy which is provided by The Standard at such a low cost will meet with the approval of Standard subscribers is not doubted. Terms of the policy are identical with those being distributed by Detroit papers and many of the dailies in large cities of the country where readers have wholeheartedly taken advantage of this liberal offer. Any claims for insurance money will be promptly settled in a satisfactory manner by The Chelsea Standard.

All the persons who wish to be insured against accident need do is sign the coupon found on another page, pin a dollar to it, place in an envelope and mail to the Standard. Your policy properly filled in, signed and executed will be mailed at once.

Feeling the genuine need of an accident insurance policy, kind readers of the Standard to get in line with the accident insurance idea locally. Automobile accidents are numerous and becoming more so every day. With the spring and summer season upon us, bringing with it increased traffic on every highway opportunity for accident is greatly increased. Appearance of the motor bus and passenger traffic on the public highway only adds to this hazard. Crossing accidents are numerous, while collisions and wrecks of interurbans and trains are not beyond the realm of possibility, happening frequently throughout the country. And while it is to be hoped none in this territory will become victims of another's carelessness, yet there remains the fact that accidents do happen with more or less regularity and possession of an accident insurance policy such as is offered by the Standard to its subscribers and readers would prove welcome to the ones who must carry on.

Every member of the family from 15 to 70 years may register for one of these policies by simply remitting the dollar with the name, age and address. Do it now!

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Awarding of contracts for erection of the new high school auditorium and gymnasium recently voted by this district, has been completed by the board of education and work on the construction is expected to begin within a few days.

The general contract which calls for erection of the auditorium proper and some work on the old buildings, was awarded the J. W. O'Connor Construction Co. of Kalamazoo, at a cost of $25,000. Heating and plumbing which includes an efficient ventilating system was awarded the Lige Heating and Ventilating Co. of Auburn, Ind., at a cost of $10,600. Electrical work will be done by the Fowler-Barker Electric Co., Lansing, for $20,500.

Total of the three contracts is well within the $40,000 voted at the election and members of the board are gratified with the success which has met their efforts thus far. Original bids of contractors for each of the jobs were "out of sight" and it is only after considerable time spent in figuring with contractors that these were pared to satisfactory amounts.

LIMA YOUNG MAN IS FATALLY INJURED BY HORSE

Wilbert Bristle, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Bristle of Lima, died at a hospital in Ann Arbor, Wednesday morning, April 28, 1926, following an accident that befell him about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening when it is thought he was kicked by a horse.

The boy had assisted his father with the chores at the farm. When he did not appear at the house for supper one of his brothers was sent to the barn to have him come to the evening meal. He was found lying in one of the stalls and was removed to the house. Physicians were called and when they arrived, they discovered that the boy had a fractured skull and one leg broken. An ambulance was called and the boy taken to a hospital in Ann Arbor where an operation was performed.

Just how the boy received his injuries is unknown. The team, so far as is known, was a gentle one and the boy had been in the habit of handling them for the past several years.

Wilbert Bristle was born in Sylvan, September 18, 1910. He graduated from the 8th grade of the Stone school house in Lima last June and during the past winter attended Zion church school at Rogers Corners. He was president of the sheep club that was recently organized in the vicinity of his home.

He is survived by his parents, five brothers, one sister and several uncles and aunts.

The funeral will be held Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the home and at 11 o'clock from Zion church at Rogers Corners. Rev. E. Thieme conducting the services. Burial in Zion cemetery.

HERMAN ORBRING DIED THURSDAY

Herman Orbring, 69, died Thursday at his home in Sylvan township. He was born November 30, 1856, in Hanover, Germany, coming to this country when 14 years old. He was married April 28, 1881, to Mary Hartbeck. Since their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Orbring had lived in Sharon and Freedom townships and have resided for the past nine years in Sylvan township on the farm where he died.

He is survived by the widow, a son, Henry of Lima township; a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Pfitzmeier of Sylvan township; three sisters, Mrs. John Wulfer of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Henry Plowe of Francisco and Mrs. Mary Schroeder of Hopkoken, N. J., and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the residence and at 2:30 at St. John's church, Rogers Corners. Rev. J. Ronte officiating. Interment in Mt. Hope cemetery.

FRENCH DEBT

Washington has announced that in a short time it is expected there will be an agreement between this country and France for a settlement of the French debt to the United States. No terms, however, nor suggestions as to what the settlement may mean, are given out. It is assumed, however, that the settlement will be something a little better than that made with Italy, and not so good as that made with Great Britain.

Some of our senators seem to have reached a point where they think that a settlement which brings in anything at all is better than no settlement. We do not believe that. If the ability of countries to pay is the chief stumbling block in the way of debt settlements, we would be better off to wait a time and see whether or not conditions improve in Europe. Such settlements as have been made are most unfavorable to the American people. No settlement, in all, would be better, in our judgment, in the long run.

Take our settlement with England, for instance. That settlement has let England off for a very long period of years, with the American people paying part of the interest on the British debt, while England is taking the money, which should have gone from one honorable nation to another, to discharge an honest obligation. She is using it to finance her foreign trade, and to bring back lost customers. She is, in other words, using money borrowed from America to make herself a greater competitor with America. American money is being used to destroy a part of America's trade. So it is with Italy and France, when settlements are made, which will shove off onto American shoulders the greater part of the burden of paying interest on these borrowings.

WORLD COURT

Much is made of the Republican primaries in Illinois, where Captain Smith defeated Senator McKinley for the Republican senatorial nomination. Captain Smith was openly and strongly against American participation in the World Court. Senator McKinley voted for it, and was avowedly for going on with the plan to enter the Court next fall. The verdict was decisive against Senator McKinley.

Opponents of the Court believe that was a direct and intended slap at American court entry. In several states there will be such a primary test. If the verdict is generally, or appreciably against those who favor court entry, it will probably give us cause before we get to the door of the Court to say nothing of hesitation on the threshold.

CHECKS BY RADIO

On Tuesday a check was radioed from London to New York and was cashed in New York twenty minutes after it had been signed in London. It was for $1,000. Pictures sent Tuesday by radio, appeared in the papers within twenty-four hours after they were taken by London. General J. G. Harbord, of the Radio Corporation of America wrote out an address and it was transmitted in his handwriting.

The wonders of radio are just beginning.

EARLY PLANS FOR

THIS YEAR'S GARDEN
The ambition of every garden lover is to obtain a succession of bloom that will provide color and beauty throughout the season, from the early blooming snow drops and crocuses to the brilliant chrysanthemums and asters. Such a garden cannot be made in a day, but a plan can be worked out and carried through as the proper planting seasons succeed one another.

Many flower garden annuals may be started within doors in window boxes or in cold frames in April and transplanted after May 10. With some this assures an earlier flowering with others it is done so that a steady plant growth may be obtained. The list of May planting is a lengthy one and comprises most of the well-known flowers of garden and border beds.

Vegetable gardens should be diagrammed and plants located with due regard for their habits of growth.

SULLIVAN SAYS VARE LEADS

Mark Sullivan writing of politics in Pennsylvania, says Vare, Philadelphia wet, is getting the solid support of the Pennsylvania wets, and leads the Senate race for the Republican nomination in today's sentiment. The dry support is divided between Binch and Pepper. Unless there is a change and the dries pick one of the other, Vare will receive the nomination, thinks Sullivan. A very probable outcome. There is much wet sentiment in Pennsylvania.

Weighty Heroine

At Montreal Toofus heard grand opera "Roméo and Juliet" "Fine music," Toofus says, "I admire those music very much." "What of Juliet?" ask Germaine. "I hear you say nothing of that lovely young girl," "What that lovely young girl weigh 250 pounds," Louisville Courier-Journal.

MILLS WITHDRAWS BILL
When it developed in the House at Washington last week, that Representative Ogden Mills of New York was a stockholder in a company which would be affected by the legislation provided in the Mills bill providing for an adjustment of German claims, Representative Mills withdrew his measure.

It would be well if all members of legislative bodies were as conscientious as that!

START CORN BORER STATION AT MONROE

Establishing of a special European Corn Borer experiment station in Monroe county this spring, with the Michigan State College and the bureau of entomology of the U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperating in the project, was announced recently by R. S. Shaw, dean of agriculture at the college.

An entomologist from the bureau of entomology at Washington and a crop man from M. S. C. will be in residence permanently at the new station. A complete experimental program aimed at study and development of methods of controlling the dangerous crop pest will be undertaken. The corn borer has already spread over much of southeastern Michigan, offering a problem of immediate and vital importance for the agriculture of the state.

That the work of the new station will be purely experimental in nature is pointed out by authorities at the college. The State Department of Agriculture, at Lansing, is handling quarantine and other control measures for the corn borer. The Monroe sub-station will merely aim at developing information necessary in adequate control work.

The entomology and farm crops departments at M. S. C. will have direct supervision of the college end of the Monroe station work.

Chrysler "70" Roadster, $1,600.
f. o. b. Detroit

Chrysler "70" Means 70 Miles Per Hour Plus

Chrysler model numbers have a special significance and are an actual index to Chrysler performance and value.

Motor car model numbers up to the present time have meant little or nothing to the public.

They have rarely expressed horse power and almost never miles per hour.

In the case of Chrysler you know what you are buying in miles per hour and all that miles-per-hour implies as soon as you see the model and know the number.

Chrysler "70" for instance is a 70—in other words it delivers 70 miles an hour.

The model number is not the maximum—Chrysler "70" delivers 70 miles per hour and more.

Comparatively few people, it is true, care to ride as fast as 70 miles an hour; but the power which is indicated by 70 miles plus represents the utmost in acceleration, in smooth performance, as well as in sheer speed.

We are eager to demonstrate its outstanding superiorities to you.

BREVITIES.

DEXTER—The Federated church has extended a unanimous call to Rev. J. V. Fradenburgh, of Stockton, N. Y., who occupied the pulpit last Sunday, to become their pastor, and it is expected he will move his family here in about a month.—Leader.

BROOKLYN—Russell Noble is foreman of a state gang of workmen building a new side-track for unloading road material in the local railroad yards. He will also have charge of the narrow gauge track that will soon line the right of way along M-50 to aid in the building.—Exponent.

SOUTH LYON—Work is progressing nicely on the test well being drilled on the Edison lot for the South Lyon waterworks system. A distance of 78 feet had been drilled up to Wednesday night. The work is being done under the supervision of Richard Kliney, local well driller.—Herald.

STOCKBRIDGE—With the last number of the Lyceum Course given last Thursday evening, it is not hard to prophesy that it will be the last seen here for some time. The fifteen signs of the course were forced to "dig down in their heels to the tune of $14.00 each" to make up the amount guaranteed the company.—Brief-Sun.

ANN ARBOR—University of Michigan is to have a new football stadium. Regents of the University Thursday evening voiced their approval of plans for the erection of the new structure. In passing the measure, regents reported that they could see no reason for confining the seating capacity to 60,000 and suggested that a stadium of 70,000 seating capacity "would not be objectionable."

ANN ARBOR—Catherine Howland of Perry school, Ann Arbor, has been awarded first prize for her cover design of the 1926 Washtenaw County Fair book, the committee in charge of the contest announced Thursday. Honorable mention for second and third places went to Edythe Lowrey, St. Thomas school, and Dorothy Osborne, Forest ct., respectively. Miss Howland will receive $10 in gold for her drawing.

BROOKLYN—Last week a steam shovel and trucks worked on the grading of M-50 south of the public square where a gang of graders have since been at work. The steam shovel this week has been cutting down the hills on north Main street. About 90 per cent of Brooklyn boys who have watched the shovel operator dipper that all of them want and expect to be steam shovel engineers at $12 a day when they grow up.—Exponent.

WILLIAMSTON—A committee composed of supervisors Lane, of Onondaga, Rumsay, of Leslie and Howell, of Lansing appointed by the chairman of the Ingham county board, to comply with the provisions of the new state law for re-apportionment of the county with regard to the two representative districts of the county, brought in a report adopted unanimously, making Lansing the first legislative district, and all the county outside Lansing the second district.—Enterprise.

MASON—Under orders from the state highway department, State Trunk Line M-14 is closed to all traffic between Mason and Laxton's corners, four miles south. Workmen are getting the surface of the road in readiness to receive the five inch layer of asphaltic mixture with which it is to be covered. Announcement is also made that owing to the condition of the road bed south of Leslie it has been decided to abandon the idea of an asphaltic covering there but that instead a twenty foot concrete slab is to be built by the state from the end of the pavement south of Leslie to where it will join with the end of the present pavement in Jackson county.—News.

MANCHESTER—The village came near being without adequate fire protection a few nights ago and only prompt action on the part of the common council committee connected the pump and made things ready for an emergency. In dismantling the municipal plant the shafting used for the pump was taken out, then it was intended to use a belt which was kept laid away in a closet. But the belt had disappeared—been stolen—within a few days, while the work of dismantling has been going on. It was a perfectly good seven-inch double thickness belt more than 30 feet long. To be able to operate the water pump it was necessary to cut down a larger belt to the required

BODIES BY FISHER

A Decisively New Order of Beauty

EXECUTED by Fisher, the bodies of the new Pontiac Six mark a unique development in the field of low-priced sixes. Contrasted with the creations hitherto available, they establish a decisively new order of beauty.

Until now, no six-cylinder closed car costing less than $925 offered the superlative craftsmanship that the Fisher emblem denotes. And in these new Pontiac-Fisher bodies have been achieved such richness of Duco finish, such beauty of line and color as to literally explode the theory that a low-priced six-cylinder car has to present a commonplace appearance.

Oakland Six, companion to the Pontiac Six—$1,025 to $1,295. All prices at factory.

A Change of Physicians
A Boston paper declares a woman who had five different cooks in five weeks was told by her doctor that she needed a change of diet. No wonder they had to give her smelling salts.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Unfolding of Genius
A man's genius is always in the beginning of life, as much unknown to himself as to others; and it is only after frequent trials, attended with success, that he dares think himself equal to those undertakings in which those who have succeeded have fixed the admiration of mankind.—Hume.

They "Anstated"
Little Billy Rigby came in from playing with his wee trousers torn. Mrs. Rigby was much put out and scolded Billy. "Well, mamma," he said, "The boys wanted to play bear and they just anstated and anstated that I be the bear, so they put me in a barrel and a big old naff sprang up and tore my pants."—Copper's Week.

The Pyramids
The "Pyramid Field" lies in the eastern desert near Cairo, Egypt. There are altogether about seventy pyramids, nineteen of which have been identified. The best known are the three pyramids of Giza (Giseh), that of Unas, the brick pyramid of Dahshur, and that of Seneferu at Medum. They are said to be the tombs of royal and august personages.

Strength of Hyena's Jaws
The hyena is one of the strongest of mammals, but it is known also as one of the most cowardly. A small dog has been known to send one flying. Only when cornered will it fight. Its jaws are strong enough to crush the shinbone of a horse. In Asia and Africa, where it is most commonly found, the animal is held in contempt because of its striking habits.

AS WE VIEW IT.

the funeral director of today is a professional man, who serves all alike, not taking into consideration material factors of any kind.

Believing this, we offer our service to all, regardless of those distinctions which so often make much difference in life. We feel that in doing this we are correctly interpreting the spirit of the more progressive members of the profession.

Ford

Highest in Quality Lowest in Price

Ford cars are built throughout of the finest materials that can be produced. The very best steels available are used in Ford manufacture. The plate glass for windshields and windows is as perfect as can be made. Upholstery material contains a larger percentage of wool than is ordinarily specified—even from higher priced cars. The basic features of Ford design have never been improved upon by any manufacturer.

No other car offers greater dependability. The Ford car has won the favor of millions of users under every conceivable motoring condition. Its convenience is known and appreciated the world over; its performance is taken for granted.

Such quality is possible at Ford prices because every operation, from mining of ore to final assembly, is under direct control of the Ford Motor Company.

Iron is taken from Ford mines in Michigan; coal from the Company's mines in Kentucky and West Virginia. Glass comes from Ford glass plants; wood from the Ford timber tracts in the North. Raw materials and finished products are carried over the Company's own transportation routes; coke ovens, blast furnaces, a steel mill, foundries and saw mills—all are part of this complete organization. There are even salvage plants, paper mill, cement plant, etc., to transform waste materials into useful by-products.

In this way every possible economy is effected. Under no other circumstances could Ford quality be had at Ford prices.

The Pendulum of Fate Swings Back and Forth and With Every Stroke Some Are Killed, Some Are Injured In Travel Accidents.

YOU? YES, WHO CAN TELL? YOU MAY BE THE NEXT VICTIM

Not for one short second can you even delay that swinging pendulum. Ceaselessly it travels its course unmindful of whom it brings to misfortune. Wrecks, collisions, smash-ups in trains, automobiles, street cars, buggies, daily add their toll.

WATCH OUT! YOU CAN'T STOP IT--BUT YOU CAN BE PROTECTED!

With story after story of such catastrophes finding their way into the columns of newspapers every day, The Standard believed that it would be offering a splendid service if it could find a way to protect its readers against just such misfortune at a small cost. And a way has been found. The Standard readers can now be protected. Indeed we are proud to advertise the fact that every Standard reader, both men and women, between the ages of 15 and 70 may without delay, red tape or medical examination, purchase a

Name to Zulu Tribe

The name "Zulu," which means "strong," was, not further back than a hundred years, confined to a small and insignificant tribe, occupying that part of the White Umfolosi valley which falls between the Mhlabatini mountains on the north and that of Melmoth on the south, according to Adventure Magazine. Zulu, son of a certain Meladela, flourished in Zululand probably during the sixteenth century.

This son is said to have quarreled with his older brother Qwabe, who took exception to the former being presented by his mother with a certain white ox, with the result that Zulu left with his followers to occupy the White Umfolosi valley, while Qwabe went to live nearer the coast on the south side of the Umhlanga river and in what is known as Esheve district.

It was with the help of the chief of the Mtwana tribe that Zulu, who was not the proper heir, became chief of the Zulu tribe. No sooner did he become chief than he began to build up an extraordinary military organization, and to attempt what had never been attempted before, namely, to fuse the various tribes into a nation.

Lesson to Humanity

Found in Bee Hives

It is more than sweets and fruits and many a lovely flower that would fall us, lacking bees. We would lack books—a few books. In fact, more books have been written about bees than about any other domestic animal. We should also lack something of sympathy and history. Beekeeping is the oldest craft in the world. As a beekeeper, I am continuing an ancient line; joining the oldest of human guilds; speaking a language known of all lands; supporting and practicing an art beloved of all people; subscribing to a simple faith wiser than any creed or color or the folds of any flag. The bees are a good first step in an all-world brotherhood, and could well be included in any world-peace plan. The symbol of that plan might be the hive for its universality, its unbroken continuity as a peaceful occupation, no less than for its social significance—its practice of sacrifice for the common good. Dallas Lore Sharp, in "The Spirit of the Hive."

Curse Trademark Fakers

In the latter part of October each year the English city of Sheffield celebrates its Cutlery feast, a civic function that has been held annually since 1645, when the first of the city's master cutlery was elected. The banquet is attended by captains of industry from all over the empire, and by at least one minister of the crown. Two toasts that are always drunk with enthusiasm are: "Eternal destruction to all false marks on Sheffield goods" and "success to the Hallamshire Whittells." This quaint wording is explained by the fact that the park of Yorkshire where Sheffield is situated was once known as Hallamshire, while "Whittell" is an old name for a knife. There is no public office more highly esteemed than this. As head of the ancient Cutlery guild the master takes precedence next to the lord mayor of Sheffield.

Why Is It?

That a woman will wear a ball gown when she doesn't care to dance, a riding habit when she wouldn't even think of getting on a horse, a golf outfit when she doesn't know how to play and wouldn't if she did, a bathing suit when the very sight of water makes her seasick, but when she gets a wedding dress she means business?—Washington Dirge.

Sugar in Early Days

Sugar was found in the East Indies by Marco Polo, admiral of Alexander the Great, in the year 325 B. C. An eastern people in alliance with Ptolemy the Great, the famous Hellenistic general, used the juice of sugarcane as a common beverage.

Work Worth While

A student's residence, or hotel, was recently dedicated with impressive ceremonies in Montevideo, Uruguay. The hotel was established to furnish home influences for students and to offer a center for the intellectual life of the community.

SATURDAY TAG DAY FOR STARR COMMONWEALTH

On Saturday, May 1, citizens of Chelsea will be given an opportunity to lend a hand, and thereby a bit of encouragement, to the remarkable work that is being done at the Starr Commonwealth, that unusual home and school for delinquent boys, located near Albion, Michigan. On that day, several Commonwealth boys will be in Chelsea to assist in putting on a tag day for the benefit of this home.

It is taken for granted that everyone who is interested in the work at Starr Commonwealth will welcome an opportunity to help financially in this human enterprise, but there are those who, knowing intimately of the good that is being done in that little school have given largely, and by such support the school has grown and developed.

Twelve years ago, Floyd Starr, founder of the school, bought a forty acre farm near Albion, on the shore of Montcalm lake. Here he began with very small and limited materials, the building of a life-long dream into a thing of reality. Seven boys whom nobody else wanted, went to this farm home with Mr. Starr and helped him build their first shelter, "Gladstone Cottage."

As knowledge of the work spread about the country, more and more boys came to Mr. Starr's family until Gladstone Cottage could no longer hold them. Then, by the hands and heart of one who deeply sympathized with the work, another cottage was built and furnished, and still the family grew. In this way, another and much larger cottage was financed and built, besides a school-house and community house.

These cottages shelter fifty-six homeless boys, all under age, who had blundered into criminal paths not understanding their probable destination, or just what had led them in that direction. Nine times out of ten, it has been lack of love and sympathy and home training that has been to blame; but had it not been for Mr. Starr's interest and understanding and love, the boys must have paid the price with lives of failure and tragedy.

Under the best home influences with which the Starr home is surrounded, these boys forget the mistakes of the past, are encouraged to develop their best, rather than their worst traits; in the end every one of the two hundred and forty boys who have thus far come under this hospital roof, has not only redeemed himself but has been instructed in helping other boys.

The only creed known at Starr Commonwealth is "There is no such thing as a bad boy!" What are they? At Starr Commonwealth they are thought of as misdirected victims of environment. There the environment is changed. In an atmosphere of hope, love, loyalty, culture, encouragement, helpfulness and high ambition, a boy's soul can grow and find itself.

This is a democratic non-sectarian institution, conducted on one and only one principle—love for unfortunate boys. The work has grown in popularity, not only with the boys themselves, but with those who know its aims, its scope, and its results. Until its influence is felt far beyond the borders of Michigan. Many workers are now employed. Here the first, but not the only requisite for employment, being always, "can you place the interests of these boys above your own?" Every one who is employed at Starr Commonwealth as cook, matron, teacher, must answer that question in the affirmative and must prove it in order to hold the job.

Only Michigan boys are accepted, though applications come in constantly from a score of states. Not all who should or would come from our own state can be accepted on account of limited accommodations. Tag days are definitely for the extension of this work, so that more and more of our own boys may be saved the stigma of crime and sin and may be shown the dignity of labor, the beauty of purity, and the obligations of citizenship.

ARE YOU ALL RUN DOWN?

Many Chelsea Folks Have Felt That Way.

Feel all out of sorts? Tired, achy, blue, irritable? Back lame and stiff?

It may be the story of weak kidneys. Of toxic poisons circulating about upsetting blood and nerves.

There's a way to feel right again. Help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many Chelsea people.

Mrs. Sarah Rothman, Madison St., Chelsea, says: "I have had a good opinion of Doan's Pills ever since they cured me of an attack of kidney trouble. My kidneys were weak and I felt tired and not able to do any kind of work. I began using Doan's Pills, and they cured me. Kidney trouble was removed and backache was a thing of the past."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Rothman had. Foster-McMillan Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

FUNNIEST CHAPLIN IN "THE GOLD RUSH"

"The Gold Rush," Charlie Chaplin's new screen feature coming next Wednesday and Thursday, May 5 and 6, to the Princess theatre under a United Artists Corporation release, is a "symbolical autobiography" by Chaplin himself.

With that genius which is peculiarly his own, and against the background of old-Algonkian gold rush days of Chaplinesque conception, the greatest screen comedian has depicted with subtly tender and delicate masterstrokes the struggle of man's eternal hunt for happiness, its heart-breaks and tears and its laughter and joy.

Charlie Chaplin of the derby, cane, baggy trousers, funny mustache and waddling walk who has made the whole world laugh more than any other mere comedian that ever lived, has built in "The Gold Rush" a delightful structure of fun and laughter.

On the tragedy and misery suffered by the pioneers who first journeyed to the ice-bound Alaska, and on the drama of the soul sufferings of the sordidness who, braved mountains, ice, snow and starvation and death in their mad rush for gold, Chaplin has built the funniest and most hilarious comedy of his career.

He has clad himself in the role of a hard-luck sordidness who chases rainbows of the soul and heart in the midst of a mob that chases one thing only—gold—and nothing but gold. Pathos and suffering are converted into comedy and laughter; there is a laugh in every one of the eight thousand or so feet of "The Gold Rush."

"We Serve Michigan"

What Co-operation Is Accomplishing

THE American shipping public since the war period has come to realize a certain responsibility devolving upon it beyond the mere payment of the authorized charges for the transportation service performed.

There is, for instance, the requirement of the prompt loading and unloading of the railroad equipment on the part of consignors and consignees, respectively.

There is the obligation on the shipper of early advice of car requirements to enable the railroads to "mobilize" equipment.

THESE two requirements enter largely and eventually into the cost of steam-railroad transportation and they are dependent upon the good-will directly manifested by the shippers and altogether beyond the control of the railroads.

Recognition of these factors has brought about the organization of the Shippers Regional Advisory Boards and enables the country to get more service from the equipment of the American railroads.

THIS is entirely voluntary service on the part of the shippers and is a unique page in the history of business. It has also been a profitable expedient, a lesson in co-operation gained from the world war, a phase in the onward march of the times, which Judge E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, recently described as the application of the Golden Rule in business, a condition that was inconceivable twenty-five years ago.

It is a manifestation of a quiet but certain revolution in American business thought which is gradually progressing towards the finest ideals, and incidentally tending to the greater well-being of our people and making for greater material returns.

THE Michigan Railroad Association is keeping step with the shippers and heartily seconding those ideals of an enlightened business opinion and appreciates that this policy is as important to the stabilizing of business as are the operations of the Federal Reserve Bank System. In its particular branch of public economy, in fact, it is the identical application of that principle to transportation. Michigan industry has much to gain through the policy of the Shippers' Regional Advisory Boards.

Why you need TWO watches

At the desk, on the train, or for outdoor play, a turn of the wrist should quickly tell you the time. So men and women both have come to depend upon the strap watch.

Yet with evening dress, a man's strap watch becomes out of place, and a woman's sport model an ornament of doubtful taste. Thus convenience and correct dress demand that you possess two watches—a strap watch for business and the sports, and a dress watch for social wear.

If you would choose correctly, examine our extensive assortment of reliable watches dressed in the well-known Wadsworth Cases.

Three Modern Sins.

Digest of the sermon delivered April 25, 1938 by Lionel Crocker at the Congregational church.

There is no sense in fooling ourselves into believing that we have no sins. So thought the rich young ruler. None of us is guiltless. We are all sinners. Three of the many sins we commit are: Breaking the laws of the state, living beyond our means, and ignoring the spiritual life.

For example, who of us is there who when riding does not keep one eye peeled for the motor car. Yet to speed is wrong. It endangers the life of others. Laws are for the protection of society. None of us would want to live in a barbarous state. We speak in merry tones about someone's violation of the 18th amendment, when we ought to scorn the violator. Let us hold ourselves more strictly to account in obeying the laws of the state, and by our public opinion require others to do so, too.

Who is there among us who hasn't bought strawberries at this time of the year. Wanton extravagance. Such waste would cause our pioneer forefathers to turn over in their graves. They knew the worth of a dollar. DO WE? I know a young man who has eight suits of clothes. He cannot wear more than one at a time. Why should we buy things we do not need. It is false economy. We are living too fast. Mortgaging our homes, to buy cars. Going into needless debt. Worrying ourselves sick for nothing.

By living beyond our means we tend to loosen our hold on ourselves. We let go of the steering wheel of our lives. We land in the ditch. We live too much on things of the flesh rather than on things of the spirit. Let us realize that we are meant for something more than a hat rack to put clothes on, or animals just to feed. Let us face the master squarely, and not turn away when he says, "One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross, and follow me."

Subject for Sunday, May 2nd, "In Gratitude, the Marble-Hearted Friend."

L. E. S. A.

E. H. Ehrich, U. D. M., of Jackson, will speak Sunday evening at 7:30. His topic will be "The Birth of the New Nation."

Wednesday evening study at 7:30. "God's Covenant with Noah." Did mankind worship God before the flood? How was the earth watered before the flood, and what is the significance of the rainbow as a pledge? Is the flood compatible with God's attributes and the flood and attending conditions were typical of what?

All interested in Bible study are welcome to these services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schenk.

River Has Some Drop

The Colorado river is more than 1,400 miles long and drops more than 14,000 feet from its head waters to the Gulf of California.

Hypocrite Handicapped

Hypocrisy is folly. It is much easier, safer and pleasanter to be the thing which a man aims to appear than to keep up the appearance of being what he is not.

Famous Bank's Nickname

The origin of "The Old Lady of Threadneedle street," the nickname of the Bank of England, never has been definitely established, according to the Kansas City Star, but the London Economist traces the appellation back as far as May 22, 1797, when William Pitt induced parliament to suspend cash payments at the bank. This moved Gilray to draw his famous cartoon, which shows an old lady, seated on a chest labeled "Bank of England," being savagely attacked by Pitt. But, it is argued, Gilray may have made use of an old idea. As early as 1685, a medallion appeared, and still appears, on the bank's notes. It consists of a seated, draped figure, with the head uncovered, holding a sprig in one hand and a spear in the other, and throughout more than two hundred years it has remained substantially the same.

Old Language Revived

Credible and hopeful though it may be for a revival of Hebrew culture, the establishment of a Hebrew university in Jerusalem does not begin to compare in importance with the fact that little children are again talking, playing their games and calling each other names in that language of the prophets, which had once been classed as one of the world's dead tongues. Zangwill said that the index of life is speech. This is true. A people that speaks is not dead. And in order that world Jewry might share in this renaissance, which Sophie Irene Loeb called "the greatest experiment of the century," there must be somewhere in this world a place where the Jew will have at least cultural predominance. And that place is Palestine—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Many London Bridges

London bridge has never actually fallen down. Old London bridge, begun in 1170, was completed in 1209. It carried a row of timber houses, which were frequently burned down, but the main structure existed until the beginning of the Nineteenth century. The old bridge was the center for booksellers and other tradesmen. On it stood the chapel of St. Thomas of Canterbury, and a tower, which the heads of traitors were exposed to view. The present London bridge was begun in 1824 and completed in 1831. It is borne on five granite arches, is 939 feet high, 65 feet wide and 53 feet above the river.

Spell of Eloquence

Eloquence is made up at once of individuality and of sympathy. To live much in ourselves, to live much in others—such is the double condition of powerful speaking.—Vinet.

Symptoms of Revolt

There is no reason why you should buy something for which you have no use because the young man trying to sell it wants a college education.—Follett Blake.

Earth's Doubtful Age

A scientist at Princeton University believes that recent discoveries in radio-activity have given us means of estimating the age of the earth. Uranium loses one-half of its radiating power in 5,000,000 years, and the presence of this element in the earth's crust would indicate that it is not less than 1,000,000,000 years old.
