MANUFACTURE OF BUMPERS STARTED AT SPRING SHOP

Manufacture of spring bumpers for the automobile trade has been started at the local spring shop during the past week or ten days and production is under way, according to Edward S. Lyons, in charge of operations at the plant.

Increased output of the company's product which goes to fill a large contract and initial order, is being pushed by Mr. Lyons, and an effort is being made to secure experienced fitting men and form machine men at once. It is the hope of the management that former employees of the spring plant who are familiar with necessary operations will become identified with the present concern and assist in production.

TAXPAYERS VOTE $18,000 AT ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

Howard S. Holmes Elected for Three Year Term, Succeeding L. P. Vogel; Dr. G. W. Palmer Re-elected.

Approval of the secretary's annual report, voting $18,000 to be raised by direct tax in the district, and election of Howard S. Holmes and Dr. G. W. Palmer to three year terms on the board of education, were the only outstanding features of the annual school meeting held at the town hall on Monday evening when approximately sixty people took part in the proceedings. Mr. Holmes was elected to succeed L. P. Vogel and Dr. Palmer to succeed himself.

Reduction of direct tax by $2,000 under last year's voted tax resulted from the meeting and while it is slightly under the board's estimates as presented Monday evening, it is expected this amount will amply care for expenses of the coming year. Added to the above amount will be approximately $8700 primary money which will be available at a later date. This amount is practically the same as last year, this district receiving $8932.

The secretary's financial report for the last year will be published in detail in next week's Standard.

At a meeting of members of the board of education, including the newly elected members, to be held this evening, organization will be held with president, secretary and treasurer to be elected.

THIRTEEN SHEEP KILLED IN TITUS YETTAH FLOCK

Marauding dogs, four in number, early Tuesday morning, killed thirteen ewes and one lamb of the Titus Yettah flock on the Skinner farm, North Lake road, and injured several more of the 28 ewes and 27 lambs owned by Mr. Yettah. The dogs were first heard by C. DeWitte, residing on the Dr. C. C. Lane farm south of Mr. Yettah, who shot at the dogs and is believed to have wounded most if not all of them. However, if wounded, the dogs succeeded in dragging themselves into the swamp at the rear of the farm and could not be located.

Justice of the Peace E. A. Ward made an appraisal of the dead and injured sheep Tuesday.

All of the dead ewes are said to be mothers of twin lambs and loss of the lambs is feared by Mr. Yettah.

Announcement of the candidacy of Dick Elliott, of Ypsilanti, for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Washtenaw county is being formally made today.

Mr. Elliott has been a resident of this county for nine years and for eight years of this time has been actively engaged in his chosen vocation, serving first as a deputy under Sheriff Pack during the past two years of whose term he was advanced to chief deputy.

During the four years of Sheriff James Robinson's term in office Mr. Elliott has served as undersheriff, and in this capacity has had much to do with directing all of the important cases of criminal work to be investigated and prosecuted in this county.

Cooperation which Undersheriff Elliott has been able to receive from officials in Detroit and surrounding counties in his police work evidences the high regard in which he is held by his fellow-officers in other sections of the state and at the same time has been of benefit to the county in securing arrest, and information upon which conviction of criminals could be secured.

A clean business like administration, continued cooperation with all officials engaged in enforcement of laws, both in the county and throughout the state, and conscientious service to the people of the county is promised by Undersheriff Elliott should his campaign end successfully in his election to the office of sheriff.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish through the columns of this paper to express our sincere thanks to all who so kindly assisted us in the burial of our loved one.

Especially to Rev. C. S. Risley for his comforting words. Words cannot express our appreciation.

Aeroplane Without Tail Said to be "Fool-Proof"

Amongst the new types of aircraft at the Royal Aeronautical Display at Horden, England, is this tailless aeroplane.

This odd-shaped craft—built by Capt. G. T. Hill, M. C., in the section afforded him in a little country cottage—is reported to have brought flying well within the classification of being "fool-proof." Its inventor's idea in designing it was to perfect an aeroplane which would never, through a pilot's error, get beyond control. Whether he's fully succeeded will be shown in forthcoming tests.

What's going into your Basement?

Are you thinking of laying in a big supply of dirt and ashes and hard work for the coming winter?

Of course not, you remonstrate. You're merely going to get in touch with your dealer to make sure of next winter's fuel supply. Yet, what he'll deliver, after a large payment in advance, is really only dust, smoke and ashes in the end.

The man who burns gas in his furnace doesn't worry in summertime or any time about next winter's fuel supply. He doesn't pay out money six months in advance for winter warmth—he pays after enjoying the warmth. His wife has no ordeal with a tramped up lawn and a dirty, sooty house while getting the fuel into the bins. Gas is in the pipes, ready and waiting for the first winds of Fall.

Now, before winter comes, is the time to have a gas furnace installed. Investigate gas before you order solid fuel.

COLLEGE AND PRISON

Algernon Vivier Tassin, professor of English at Columbia University, would have the colleges more like prisons and the prisons more like colleges.

He said he would like to have half the students of Columbia sentenced to Sing Sing. He would "like to see more discipline in college and less of it in prison."

"The law is an ass," said Professor Tassin, "for not finding out what all parents know—that punishment in itself is not enough, and that it should be followed by love and kindness."

"As to colleges there are too many distractions, especially in a city, and the students would be better off if they had more of the seclusion and discipline of the prison. For a certain type of man a little prison is a splendid thing. I would like to send half of the boys at Columbia to prison for a while; it would be good for them."

Perhaps that is one of the troubles with our crime waves and growing tendency of the youth of the land to have supreme contempt for the law—this preaching of college men such as Tassin, that the prisons are too severe and that they are places where tenderness should be practiced where punishment should be a secondary consideration.

There should be degrees of punishment, as a matter of course. Many a lad goes to prison a penitent young man, willing and eager to begin life anew, and profit by his mistakes. He sees the hard side of prison life, and comes out a hardened criminal, or possessing the traits of a hardened criminal.

For the old offenders there should be one prison with one code of punishment, and for the youthful prisoners who have not the criminal heart or instinct, there should be a prison that is radically different.

But to cease punishing the criminal—the man who makes a profession of crime, would be to take the last prop from under society and civilization.

WORLD'S AUTOMOBILES

America makes over 90 per cent of all the automobiles in the world, and Americans own 90 per cent of all the automobiles in the world, according to a survey made by the United States Department of Commerce. There is one automobile owner among every seventy-one of the world's population on the basis of 1,748,000,000 world population for 1925. This means that more than 24,000,000 persons are automobile owners.

These figures revealed also that the United States has the greatest number of automobiles and the highest ratio of such vehicles to population, with one to every six persons. Hawaii has one to every eleven, and Canada one to every thirteen.

In the lower ratios are found Afghanistan, with one to every 1,200,000 persons; Hejaz, with only four cars or more for every 225,000; Abyssinia, one for 133,333; and China, with one for every 31,871 inhabitants. The Solomon Islands with 151,000 persons have only two automobiles, while Liberia has fifty-four, or one for every 54,259.

In 19 of the 59 countries surveyed at least 90 per cent of the automobiles owned were of American manufacture.

BRITISH BAR AMERICAN FILMS

The British and Irish owners of film theaters voted by a large majority on Wednesday to bar American films and to refuse to stand for the "block system" of film booking. The American film trust has a monopoly of films, and have been using the monopolistic method first to compel the theatres to take whatever was offered at the producers' price.

If England and Ireland can break the stranglehold of the American moving picture trust in that country, then we can break it in America. It has turned out the most unspeakable trash and rot that has ever been seen on the screen. It has combined and conspired in this country to make the film houses take its offerings—not what they want—but what the trust wants them to take, or get nothing at all.

If there ever was a case that cried to heaven for the interposition of the strong arm of the law, the film trust is that particular organization that ought to feel the weight of the hardest blow that could be struck.

FIRE IN WATER

Oscar Brunler, a Belgian inventor has invented a flame that will burn under water. It is obtained by getting the flame started in an oil burner, with forced pressure. The pressure seeps the water from interfering with the flame to put it out, after it is started. The flame is then submerged, and will burn as long as the oil and pressure are kept up.

The invention, it is related, will add very materially to the efficiency of steam generating and will materially lessen fuel cost in generating steam in boilers.

HORSES! HORSES! AT FAIR GROUNDS IN TRAINING GRIND

Between 150 and 160 horses are now at the Michigan State Fair Grounds at Detroit training for the Grand Circuit races and the other light harness races which will be held at county and state fairs throughout the Middle West this summer and fall.

First arrivals at the stables in Detroit were at the grounds by May 1 and within three weeks more than fifty horses were in daily training. Of the 130 horses approximately half are trotters and pacers and the other half are saddle horses in training for the horse show.

A number of horse shows and fairs have already been held in Ohio and Indiana, and many of the animals which were being conditioned at the Michigan State Fair track have left their stables for short periods in order to compete in these shows and fairs.

Because this past spring has been quite backward, no fast time has been recorded for any of the horses at the track, but by the middle of July real speed will be on tap. By the opening of the State Fair on September 5, the horses which are to enter the various events at the Michigan State Fair will be at their peak form.

SHOW RING BEING BUILT AT STATE FAIR RACE TRACK

A show ring is being constructed at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit at the center of the mile track for the horse show which will be staged in connection with the annual Michigan State Fair to be held from September 5 to September 11.

The show ring will be 350 feet long by 100 feet wide and is being built directly in front of the grandstand at the finish wire.

Bean of the Ancients

Crimson flowers of our native Cherokee beans, or coral plants, belong to the same genus as the famous coral trees of India, beloved of Krishna, says Nature Magazine. Little Old New York

Just after the termination of the Revolutionary war the population of each of the states of Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Massachusetts outranked that of New York. Virginia had more than double the number of New York's inhabitants, and Maryland was its peer. It was only in 1820 that New York, with 850,049 inhabitants, passed every other state in the country in population.

Honeymooning with the aid of Long Distance

They were married in Saginaw—and John and Mary left on a tour of Michigan that would take them to Detroit, Ann Arbor, Lansing, Grand Rapids and up to Petoskey; thence across the Straits of Mackinac.

Wise John changed plans, at the last moment, to outwit the well-wishing jokers, however.

And so he telephoned ahead, changed hotel reservations and got into touch with Aunt Jane at Grand Rapids, a friend at Petoskey and another at Sault Ste. Marie. The value of Long Distance appeared to him.

"A Highly Desirable Community in Which to Live"--- that's the opinion of those who have already purchased summer home sites at Inverness Country Club and Park Lawn Beach!

As a location for a summer home, there are many favorable factors about this property to consider. Probably the most unique feature is the life membership in the Inverness Golf and Country Club that goes with each lot purchased in Park Lawn Beach Developments. The club house is already on the property and the golf course will be ready soon.

The location, on the shores of North Lake, makes it possible to enjoy all water sports as well as golf, riding and tennis. Really, it would be hard to find a more desirable place for a summer home.

You must see this property to appreciate its many advantages. The enthusiastic endorsement of present owners is a recommendation you can bank on. Come anytime and see the place!

ANN ARBOR—Work was started last Thursday on the new storm sewer which is to be laid on North Main street, from the city limits to a point near the Ann Arbor railroad bridge. Contract for the work was let this week by city council, the bid of E. J. Ryan being accepted. The contract calls for 22-inch tile along part of the section and 12-inch tile along the remainder.

STOCKBRIDGE—Philemon Styles, age 72, of Leslie, was found dead in the front seat of his automobile in the middle of the main street here late Thursday afternoon. Death was caused by heart trouble. Mr. Styles, who has been a resident of Leslie for the past 40 years, drove here accompanied by his daughter to transact business matters. He was in the act of turning his car about in the street when he died. The car was not in motion when death came. Deceased is survived by a widow, three daughters and two sons.

MUNITH—Fire starting from lightning during the electrical storm here Thursday afternoon caused damage to the extent of $12,500 on the farm of Frank Holland three miles west of here, when a small barn containing a large quantity of hay burned to the ground. A small amount of machinery and some grain, also destroyed by the blaze, were entirely covered by insurance. The Holland family was not at home at the time of the fire and neighbors, seeing the blaze, extended every possible effort in order to save adjoining buildings from the fire. No livestock were in the building at the time.

PINCKNEY—Another old landmark has disappeared from this section, the old hotel at Hudson on the Dexter road having been torn down last week. This edifice was about 100 years old and was famous as a tavern in the old days before the advent of the railroad, when Dexter was the terminal of the Michigan Central. It was a favorite stopping place for the many wagon trains hauling freight from Dexter to points in Livingston and Ingham counties. It went out of existence as a hotel years ago and of late years has been used as a hay warehouse. The building was owned by the Howard estate.—Dispatch.

CLINTON—A crusade against reckless driving is being staged by village officials in an attempt to make the streets safe for sane drivers. Cars must come to a stop before crossing M-23, an especially bad corner. Motorists have been placed at all intersections on Chicago street and repeated warnings have been given to drivers for the last few days to stop before crossing this street.—Local.

Why I'm going to the Greater
MICHIGAN
STATE FAIR

By Eugene Joe

THE BIGGEST THRILL
IN SOME TIME
In the first place, I'm always ready for a little change around about September. And I just jump into my flivver and point her for the State Fair Detroitway. Been doing it for 17 years and going to do it again this September. Last year I got the thrill of my life. The stunnerest girl kept looking at me and I kept wondering who she was and where I'd seen her before. Finally she said: "Joe, don't you recognize me in this new dress I got down town at noon?" Doggoned if it weren't my wife!

PROGRESS OF THE GREATER
MICHIGAN STATE FAIR
Construction work is progressing rapidly on the New Agricultural Building which will be completed in time for this year's Fair, Sept. 3th to 11th. It will be the finest structure of its kind in the country and devoted exclusively to the display of flowers, fruits and agricultural products.
Michigan State Fair 1928

Standard Time Adopted
Standard time was adopted in the United States in 1883, and by act of congress, March 19, 1918, was made legal throughout the United States.

And Narrow-Gauge, Too
There are too many wrecks in a one-track mind.—Flint Daily Journal.

The Dirty Work

The helplessness of mere man in the presence of ordinary domestic tasks was illustrated in the case of the old miner, who explained that he had once tried to improve his cooking by studying a book of recipes. "It was no use," he said sadly, "because every one of them receipts starts off with 'take a clean dish.'"

He was kin to one of the sons of a Mrs. MacLeod. She was called away from home one day just after dinner. As she was leaving she said to one of the boys: "One of you must wash the dishes and the other wipe them and put them away, so that everything will be tidy when I get back."

"All right, mother," said Jack, "but will's not to wipe them. I'm willing to wash, but wiping is such greasy work."

Most Famous City

London was described as an important commercial center by Tacitus in 61 A. D. Its attractiveness to the traveler arises in large part because it presents the opportunity to study the development of thought from the primitive beginnings of nearly 2,000 years ago down to the latest improvement of today. It is a picture both of life and of things of all historical epochs.—Christian Science Monitor.

Indian Famine Tolls Big

Between 1876 and 1900 the toll of 18 famines in India was about 20,000,000 persons. As a result human bones have been carted to the fertilizer factories by the tons. Whole communities perished at times. In these periods of famine many head of cattle were available had there not been a religious taboo among the Hindus precluding their eating that flesh.

Post Lost at Sea

William Falconer, a Scottish poet of the eighteenth century, was the son of a barber. He was lost at sea in 1760, when the frigate Aurora, of which he was a purser, went down with all hands.

And on like motion, It is Further Ordered, that the said plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be mailed to said defendant, at his last known address, by Registered Mail, and a return receipt demanded, at least 30 days before the date herein prescribed for his appearance.

Famous Spike in Museum
A good many misconceptions exist as to the final disposition of the golden spike which was driven at Promontory, Utah, May 10, 1869, connecting the Central Pacific and the Union Pacific—and the tie into which the spike was driven. The spike, the last tie and the hammer used by the Union Pacific railroad are now in Stanford university museum, Palo Alto, Calif.

Only Weak Can Find "Refuge" in Suicide

Accounts of suicide in the news are almost always depressing. They lessen one's confidence in the strength of the human spirit. They may arouse pity, it is true, but except in unusual circumstances this is pity based upon a recognition of weakness.

For suicide, speaking generally, is an abject confession of defeat, of complete failure of courage. And it signifies so narrow a vision, so limited an interest, for any man to say that in all the wide world nothing is left for him.

Consider the words Jasper Patulengo, the Norfolk gypsy, spoke to George Norrow:
"Life is sweet, brother."
"Do you think so?"
"Think so! There's night and day, brother, both sweet things; sun, moon and stars, brother, all sweet things; there's likewise the wind on the heath. Life is very sweet, brother; who would wish to die?"
"I would wish to die—"
"You talk like a glorio—which is the same as talking like a fool—were you a gypsy that you would talk wisel. Wish to die, indeed! A Romany chad would wish to live forever!"
"In sickness, Jasper?"
"There's the sun and stars, brother." "In blindness, Jasper?"
"There's the wind on the heath, brother; if I could only feel that, I would gladly live forever."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Return to Normalcy After the Big Fight

Little Elspeth and a friend were playing about the house and having seen the fire apparatus go down the street, thought it would be a lot of fun to play fire. So they shouted "Fire! Fire!" until Elspeth's mother came rushing in from the back yard crying, "Where? Where?"
Upon learning that it was all a joke, she sent Elspeth to her room, with the admonition never to play that game again, and went to her own room to take a nap.
The quiet was soon broken by a monotonous thump, thump, thump on the stairs and there was Elspeth, attired in her best coat and gloves, dragging her doll's trunk down to the front door.

"I is going to find a lady that wants a little girl," she said determinedly, but finally was persuaded that no one wants a little girl half as much as her own mother.

Cuddled at last in her mother's arms, Elspeth sighed contentedly and then said:

"Now zat you are my own good mummy an' the big fight is over; s'pose we go an' nupack."

Soup Early Human Food

The art of soup making is one of the oldest forms of cookery of which we have any knowledge whatever. It is noted a distinct step forward of the civilization of the world, when man learned that game which he trapped or killed might be prepared by a process of "stone boiling," affording him a broth and a meat in place of the charred product which hitherto he had cooked over the hot coals. The skin of the animal was his soup kettle in which he placed the meat and covered it with water. Then the improvised stock pot was hung in some convenient spot, and stones, heated in the fire, were placed in it, one after the other as they became cool, until finally, after hours of toil, the broth was ready for serving.

Discord Her Specialty

In classic mythology, Eris was the goddess of discord, and the sister of the war god Mars. In the legend of the Trojan war, Eris was the goddess who, indignant that she was the only one of all the gods and goddesses who was not invited to the marriage festivities of Peleus and Thetis, threw into the midst of the guests a golden apple, known since as the "apple of discord," which bore the inscription: "For the fairest of the fair." The rivalry of the three deities, Hera, Athena and Aphrodite, for the gift was left to the judgment of Paris, the son of the king of Troy, who, being appointed umpire by Zeus, bestowed it on Aphrodite.—Kansas City Star.

Peculiar Form of Disease

Catalepsy is a peculiar motor phenomenon, not a disease, found in a number of nervous disorders and consisting of a persistent muscular attitude of some part of the body. Catalepsy may or may not be accompanied by unconsciousness.

Wood Used for Excelsior

Experiments have been carried on under the direction of the forest service on the suitability of allanthus, chestnut and black gum for making excelsior. Black gum produced a good grade of excelsior, but chestnut and allanthus were found to be unsuitable for extensive use on account of brittleness, chipping and other undesirable qualities.

Lame Prose, by Rose

There was a young lady named Rose, who always wrote verses as prose. Had they scanned, we might spot what was meant to be witty; but they didn't, and nobody knows.—London Tit-Bits.

First Horses in America

Horses were not known to the Indians prior to the advent of the white man in America. The first horses seen by the mainland Indians were those of the Spanish invaders of Mexico. A few years later De Soto brought the horse into Florida and westward to the Mississippi, while Coronado, in 1541, introduced it to the Indians of the Great plains.

Shields Baby From Sun

The dark-skinned mother of the southern Sudan has a unique method of protecting her baby from the direct rays of the sun. First, the baby is strapped in a straddling position on her back, the straps going over her shoulders. Next the youngster's head and shoulders are covered with a drumlike contraption made from the half of a huge calabash.

Distilling Turpentine

Turpentine, in the form known as "gum spirit," is distilled from the sap of the pine tree, the residue being resin. "Wood turpentine" or "wood spirit" is distilled from waste pine wood.

Savages at Feast

The natives of Abyssinia are very fond of raw meat, but as such a diet is attended by considerable cost it is not so frequently indulged in and the result is that bread is the mainstay of the people.

Occasionally a carcass is secured and a feast is indulged in by a number of persons who consume it entirely without cooking or any other preparation. The carcass is cut up and each of the participants takes a piece with a bone attached. Squatting on his haunches he holds the piece by the bone and makes a cut with a sharp knife.

The partially severed piece is then taken in the teeth and finally severed with an upward movement of the knife. As one witnesses the operation it would seem that there was danger of severing the nose of the diner.—Chicago Journal.

Love vs. Delirium

People in love are not happy, but they always think they are going to be. Being in love is a delicious process of gathering together all imagined happiness, and believing that some other human being is the sum of them. You will be happy when you get it. The conclusion is almost mathematical. Millions of young people arrive at it, just as we did. When we were married we would be happy ever after.

The number of persons who are not happy, though married, should have suggested to us that there was a flaw somewhere in our reasoning. But it didn't.—Rose Wilder Lane, in Hearst's International Cosmopolitan.

Moon's Action at Poles

The naval astronomer says that at either pole the moon is above the horizon continuously for about two weeks, and then below the horizon continuously for about two weeks. At the Arctic and Antarctic circles there are some years when for a few days in each month the moon does not set, and a few days in each month when it does not rise; otherwise at these circles it rises and sets daily. In the polar regions, during the winter months, the moon is generally above the horizon when it is full and below the horizon when it is new, and the reverse is the case during the summer months.

Bird Sacred to Indians

The ptarmigan like the Indian, is susceptible to civilizing influence. Since the Indians of the Glacier National park reservation took up agriculture, this mountainous bird has come down into the valleys, even to mingle with the barnyard chickens and eat of the Indian's wheat.
The ptarmigan turns pure white like a snowshoe rabbit in the winter time, and the Indian has a sacred regard for the feathered creature in this immaculate transformation.

The Mad Book

Why doesn't somebody write a mad book, dedicated, "to all the poor people who have lost their tempers and don't know where to find them?"
A few suggested chapters:
To have your feet stepped on.
To have a conductor abuse you before a carful of people.
To have a cross voice on the telephone tell you to "Butt off the line."
To see what you want on the counter and have a clerk tell you: "We don't keep it."

The Agile Pianist

In playing Chopin's Etude in E minor the pianist has to interpret 860 musical signs in two and one-half minutes. That means that his eye has to catch correctly and his brain to comprehend clearly more than 1,600 signs a minute, and his fingers have to execute accurately more than 2,000 movements a minute. Since it requires at least a tenth of a second to recognize a letter of print, the musician must have marvelously quick mental and muscular to perceive and understand his more complicated typographical characters and to translate them into manual motion at such a rate.—Lier's Magazine.

Marionettes Old Toys

Since puppet shows were invented the world has echoed the march of many conquerors. The children of Israel became familiar with them when marionettes were the toys of the soldiers of Cushan Rishathaim, overlords of Mesopotamia. Boys and girls of India smiled at the antics of the dolls that moved, while Alexander the Great won on his way to invade their land in 328 B. C.—Century Magazine.
