ELABORATE CEREMONY MARKS NIEHAUS-BAUERLE WEDDING

Emanuel First Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lansing, Scene of Pretty Nuptial Event Tuesday.

A very pretty wedding, in which a Chelsea young man and Lansing young lady were principals, took place at the Emanuel First Evangelical Lutheran church, Lansing, at 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Bauerle, Lansing, was united in marriage to Mr. Paul F. Niehaus, of Chelsea, son of Mrs. Katherine Niehaus, of Ann Arbor. Rev. F. M. Krass, pastor of the bride, officiated.

Preceding the ceremony Julius H. Niehaus, of Ann Arbor, brother of the groom, rendered the vocal selection, "Because," by Guy D. Hardelot. As Mendelssohn's wedding march was being played by Mr. Richard Field, organist, the bridal party entered the church, led by Miss Margaret McPeck, of Jackson, groomed in peach taffeta, and Miss Nona McPeck, in green taffeta, each carrying a bouquet of white roses. Following were the bridesmaids, Miss Amelia Wardell, dressed in an orchid beaded gown of georgette, carrying an arm-bouquet of white roses, Miss Oleta Hützel, of Chelsea, dressed in a green beaded gown of georgette, carrying a bouquet of white roses, Miss Margaret Karkkan, dressed in a gown of pink beaded georgette, carrying a bouquet of white roses, and Miss Thelma Knab, dressed in a yellow beaded georgette gown, carrying a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Esther Bauerle, sister of the bride, followed as maid of honor, and was dressed in a blue georgette gown. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Little Dorothy Bauerle, niece of the bride, and dressed in pink georgette, acted as flower girl, and Master Richard Bauerle, nephew of the bride, as ring bearer.

As Wagner's Wedding March was being played the bride came in alone, wearing a creation of white georgette with pearl beading, and a bridal veil trimmed in orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of white roses, orchids, swansonia and baby chrysanthemums. She was met at the altar by the groom, who was accompanied by Mr. Carl Mayer, Chelsea, as best man, and Mr. Arthur Faust, Saginaw, as officiant.

After the ceremony Mr. Julius H. Niehaus sang "I Will Love You Always," by Dixon.

A wedding dinner was served in the dining room of the church, immediately following the marriage service, places being laid for two hundred and fifty guests, many of whom were from out of town. Table decorations were baskets of pink roses, chrysanthemums, tied with tulle, and pink candles in crystal holders. Southern smilax was used throughout the dining room. The bride's mother was dressed in a gown of dark blue Elizabeth crepe and the groom's mother wore a gown of channel red Molle satin-face crepe.

After the dinner a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Later in the evening the bride changed her tresses to her traveling clothes of channel red and the bridal couple left for a two weeks' motor trip through eastern states. Upon their return they will reside in Chelsea.

Mrs. Niehaus is one of Lansing's most popular and accomplished young ladies, and has been prominently identified with music circles within the capital city. She is a graduate of the piano department of the Lansing conservatory of music, and of the vocal department of the Detroit conservatory of music. She has taught in Lansing for several years. In addition to her Lansing associations, she is well known in Chelsea and vicinity, having visited here frequently. Mr. Niehaus is one of Chelsea's popular young business men and holds a position as assistant cashier at the Farmers and Merchants Bank.

LIMA HOME SCENE OF ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

About twenty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Baldwin Saturday evening, and, as a complete surprise, helped them celebrate their twenty-fourth wedding anniversary.

Friends were present from Ann Arbor, Detroit, Lansing and Chelsea. During the evening much merriment was caused by looking at the wedding pictures taken twenty-four years ago.

Refreshments were served and the guests departed at a late hour, all vowing to return 24 years hence.

FARM SHORT COURSE TO OPEN AT M. S. C.

A general short course in agriculture, running for 16 weeks in each of two winters, will open at the Michigan State College on October 25, according to announcement made here. This will be the first of the more than a dozen special short courses in agriculture and home economics which will be offered at M. S. C. during the coming winter, most of the others starting in January.

Forty different subjects are offered in the "Sixteen Weeks" general course, according to R. H. Tenny, director of the short course work. This course is said to be very practical, taking up nearly all important phases of Michigan agriculture and giving the student a fund of everyday workable knowledge.

IRENE LUTZ-FATALLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Crash of an overturned automobile when the driver is said to have momentarily dropped asleep will probably cost the life of Miss Irene Lutz, Pleasant Lake, she having suffered a broken back in the accident. Physicians at St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor, to which the young woman was taken following the crash, have advised the family there is no hope of recovery.

The accident which will no doubt cost the life of Miss Lutz happened on the Whitmore Lake road, north of Ann Arbor, after ten o'clock Saturday night. A gentleman friend is said to have called for her after working hours on that night and they were on their way to Whitmore Lake when the accident occurred.

Miss Lutz is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lutz, and is well known here, having a number of relatives in and about Chelsea.

CHELSEA HIGH SQUAD BEATS MANCHESTER SECOND GAME

Good Offensive Game Displayed by Locals on Manchester Grid in Second Game of Season.

Results of splendid coaching of Harold Spaulding are showing up in the increasing effectiveness of Chelsea High's football squad, as shown in the score of the second defeat administered Manchester High within two weeks. The second game, played Friday afternoon at Manchester, left the local team victors with a 20 to 6 score in their favor. The first game played a week previous ended 6-0 in favor of Chelsea.

Chelsea put over the first touchdown and kicked goal for a score of 7-0. In the second quarter Manchester crossed Chelsea's goal as the result of two long passes. They failed in an attempt to kick goal making the score 7-6. This ended Manchester's part in the scoring. Chelsea succeeded in crossing the opponent's goal line twice more and the game ended 20-6.

Time and again Fahrner tore around end for long gains, shaking off and eluding tacklers. Eisenbeiser, by skillfully stepping picked up short gains off of tackle plays. Faust and Baris again proved their ability as line plungers and Faust was very superior in punting to the Manchester captain. Chelsea High's line did well opening large holes for the backs to smash thru. Chelsea was not extraordinary on defense but they were powerfully offensive and did not fumble the ball once. The Manchester team fought hard, never gave up and displayed good sportsmanship.

Line-up: qb, Baris; rb, Faust; hb, Fahrner; hb, Eisenbeiser; e, Beach; e, Steiner; t, Adrian; t, Loveland; g, West; g, Barbour; c, Webster. Subs, Dancer, Potts, McLaughlin.

Next Friday, Saline High comes here to play at the golf course, and it is hoped a big crowd of fans will be present.

TRAIN WRECK-AUTO AT CEMENT-PLANT CROSSING

Harry Stofer Narrowly Escapes Death When Two Trains Crash Into His Automobile.

Watching the approach of a westbound train and failing to note the approach of an eastbound train nearly cost the life of Harry Stofer Tuesday evening when his automobile, in which he was riding alone, was struck by one train and knocked into the path of the other, being completely demolished, at the crossing just east of the cement plant.

Mr. Stofer approached the crossing from the north and noted the approach of the westbound train, which was yet some distance from the crossing. Because of the numerous lights at the cement plant he did not notice the eastbound train which was bearing down on him from the west, and he drove onto the crossing far enough so that the eastbound train struck the front end of his car, hurling it back on the other track in front of the westbound mail train. Mr. Stofer had barely climbed from the partially wrecked car when the second train ploughed into it, carrying part of the wreckage almost past the cement plant and reducing it to a heap of junk.

Aside from a few cuts and bruises Mr. Stofer was unhurt from the first crash, but hasty action on his part no doubt saved him from instant death had the second train caught him along with the machine.

Harry Springstead, residing five miles east of Plymouth, was arrested Friday at his home, by Constable Frank Leach, and is charged with the theft of fourteen lambs from Dr. G. W. Palmer's farm in Lyndon. Springstead had been employed by Dr. Palmer and disappeared simultaneously with the sheep.

Arraigned after his arrest he pleaded not guilty and is scheduled for a hearing before Justice E. P. Steiner next Tuesday.

SCHOOL NEWS

As speaker in the Chapel period Tuesday, we had Rev. Canby of Ann Arbor and Lansing. He gave a short analysis of Classes: A Freshman is raw material; a sophomore thinks he knows more than the faculty; a junior thinks himself "a thing of beauty and a joy forever"; a senior is the real beginning of the future man or woman. This last probably applies more to college seniors.

In his talk Rev. Canby emphasized the lack of knowing and appreciating our opportunities. Our country is one where, regardless of social or financial standing, we can obtain 12 years of school training.

In view of our great opportunities we should make the best of what is offered us. To work independently gives us self-reliance. Besides this, if we aim high we will surely be benefited by our efforts.

And in conclusion, character is of great importance—character is capital—"It is the set of the sails that counts and not the storms and trials."

A trio composed of Mae Hamp, Jean Turnbull and Delores Hamp sang several numbers. Katherine Fletcher entertained by playing a bell solo.

In a Bank Account

In a bank account there is more than money, more than protection for the future, more than temporary or even permanent pleasures.

There is something of manhood and womanhood wrought by self-denial and discrimination in choosing values. There is self-confidence developed by constant self discipline. There is will-power which is the directing force of all power.

A bank account is worth while for the intangible enjoyment it brings as well as for the concrete pleasures it affords.

A dollar or more opens an account.

Um, But It Felt Good!

Fourteen hours and thirty-one minutes in the icy waters of the English Channel—the shore at last cheers—congratulations—clicking of cameras—excitement—and then a hot tub! Take the word of the only girl swimmer who has ever conquered those stubborn straits, it was a mighty welcome luxury to relax and enjoy the soothing tingle of a good hot bath.

That hot bath saved the discomfort of stiffness after her muscles were feeling sore. It gave her the appetite to eat much-needed food, calmed her nerves and refreshed her tired body. "Um, but it felt good"—can't you just hear her sigh of contentment after that day's work was done and she'd had a restful relaxing hot bath?

Do you know the pleasure and tonic of a satisfying hot bath? Have you a gas water heater to supply an abundance of hot water instantly, no waiting—when you're tired? If so, you can appreciate how the little American swimmer felt when she had soaked the strain and weariness right out of her system in that first joyous hot tub.

Editorial

A FRIEND—WRONG OR RIGHT
There is an old judge of the supreme court in New York who recently in private conversation was heard to vigorously defend one of his friends who had fallen by the wayside. He was challenged for defending a man who had been proved to be wrong.

"That is only one failure," said the old judge, "consider the fine things about him."
"But," objected one of the critics, "I don't see how you can stand up for this fellow even if he is a friend. He certainly was wrong."
"Any man will stand up for you when you are right," replied the old judge. "But it takes a friend to stand up for you when you are wrong." And there was silence.

BEAUTIFY THE HIGHWAY

Increased automobile traffic, with people naturally seeking the more attractive routes, has resulted in growing agitation for planting of trees along the now frequently barren roadsides. Interest in country highways has increased so rapidly during the last few years that some of the states have laws providing for planting of trees along the highways, and now the department of agriculture has issued a new bulletin entitled, "Planting the Roadside."

Suitable tree planting, which greatly enhances the appearance and comfort of public highways, is most satisfactorily done by the community as a whole rather than by individuals, says the bulletin. The traveling public has as much interest in the appearance of the road as a whole as the adjoining property owner. Furthermore, it is usually difficult to get each property holder to approve and act on a given plan. For these reasons, says the department, it is best to place the planting and subsequent care of roadside trees in the hands of a public body such as the state, county, or township.

THE EASY MONEY BOYS

Every day sees the birth of new schemes for separating man and his money. Barnum was right only his estimate was too low for this day and generation, and the swelling lists of trusting individuals who invest in wildcat schemes proves it. Conservative estimates place the amount of profits taken by fake stock vendors alone last year at $600,000,000. The reason for the displacement of this enormous amount of money—that should go into legitimate enterprises, is easily seen—the big money of speculators who are constantly inviting these wholesale frauds in worthless enterprises.

When any man goes after easy money, there is always somebody near at hand to help him obtain his object. The inherent desire of individuals to reap large profits on small investments is what makes the average easy mark so gullible when the glib salesman of fake stock is hawking his wares. As long as such desire and gullibility combine to make the game of the fraudulent easy, the promoters of such fake stock schemes will continue to take their toll. The case is one in which the victim helps in his own undoing, and the protection that can be given him depends, at least partially, on his willingness to heed the warning against biting tempting bait.

VILLAGE LIFE

Village life in the United States offers a greater opportunity for a man to become his own boss, than does city life, according to Dr. C. Luther Fry, who has just completed a survey of village life in this country for the Institute of Social and Religious Research. This survey which covered every portion of the nation, reveals some interesting facts and episodes, some heretofore accepted theories on city and urban population. During the past decade the cities have been growing at the expense of the open country, or strictly rural areas. At the same time the villages have been growing even faster than the cities, and this Dr. Fry points out may be a future grouping of farm population in the smaller communities in order to enjoy greater social advantages. Of the foreign population coming to our shores, the greater part of it is absorbed by the big industrial centers, while the 100 per cent homogeneous group of American citizens may be found in the smaller villages. Young men who have a longing for city life should bear in mind that they have a 70 per cent greater chance to become their own boss, than they would have if they left village for city life. If his sister elects to stay with him in the village she will have a far greater chance to become a managerial or professional person. Villages contain more home owners, have a greater proportion of children attending school, less poverty and greater advantages from a social and religious standpoint. Village life in America at the present time offers much in the way of opportunity.

JUST FAIR PLAY

No merchant expects you to buy at home, just because he happens to have a store in your town. All that he asks is an opportunity for fair comparison of both quality and price, then let the decision of a sale rest with you. This much, in fairness you owe to those who make your community progress possible. When the peddler, who pays no taxes and supports no local institutions, calls at your door it is your duty to buy only by comparison. If the local merchant can give you just as good values as the peddler has to offer—and they can—don't you think you owe them your patronage? No church spire was ever raised toward heaven, no school was ever built, no community enterprise was ever brought to fruition on the money you spend with a peddler. Think this over.

Are You "Toxic?"

It's Well, Then, to Learn the Importance of Good Elimination.

FUNCTIONAL inactivity of the kidneys permits a retention of waste poisons in the blood. Symptoms of this toxic condition are a dull, languid feeling, drowsy headaches and, sometimes, toxic backache and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning as they should is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many readers have learned the value of Doan's Pills, stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, in this condition. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor.

There is not the slightest scientific evidence that lemon juice is of any value in beautifying the human form, says Hygiene Magazine. However, both the juice and the peel have been found to contain vitamins, which is a sufficient reason for the use of the fruit as a food.

The Ideal Life

BROOKLYN—Chicken thieves visited the J. W. Pierce place one night recently and filled several crates with chickens, but did not get away with their plunder. They also left the truck on which the crates were loaded. What the thieves did was to come down to Watts & Every's shed and after trying to start their new truck, finally got away with their old one. It is thought that the dog at the Pierce farm frightened them away and they were afraid to go back and transfer the chickens to the old Ford truck they had taken. The truck left by the roadside had a license indicating ownership by some man in Hamtramck and is thought to have been stolen. State police took charge of it.—Exponent.

FARM TAX FIGURES, SOUGHT BY M. S. C.

The ratio between the earning capacity of Michigan farms and their assessed valuation for the past seven years will be sought through questionnaires which are being mailed out over the state by the department of agricultural economics at the Michigan State College.

Figures received in answer to these question forms, and the ratios determined upon, will then be available to any individual or organization interested in the problem of farm land taxation, according to R. Wayne Newton, research associate in the M. S. C. economics department, who is conducting the tax survey.

A total of 30,000 of the questionnaires will be distributed to Michigan farm owners, in order to get information from every section of the state. The divisions of Finance and of Land Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are said to be cooperating in the work.

"This investigation is an opportunity for farmers to submit their side of the land taxation question," says Mr. Newton. "A high percentage of questionnaires filed out and returned will insure accuracy in the figure determined upon to represent the ratio between the earning power of farms and their assessed valuation."

Mailing of the question forms was started on October 1.

"THE UNEXPECTED IS THE REALISTIC" STATES BROWNING

Director of Chaney's New Picture Tells How He Sustains Interest

"Achieve the unexpected in pictures and you usually find you have achieved realism to life."

This is the odd philosophy of Tod Browning, noted screen director, famous as an apostle of realism and who never permits a character in his pictures to be "conventional." Browning's most startling venture in realism, which will be shown at the Princess Theatre in "The Road to Mandalay," Lon Chaney's vivid new starring vehicle of the Orient, Wednesday and Thursday, October 20 and 21.

In the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, Browning's penchant for realism resulted in four of the best known actors of the screen being seen in roles so different from anything they have ever done before that it is literally hard to recognize them.

Lon Chaney plays the sinister "Singapore Joe," a one-eyed ruler of the Singapore underworld—bad to his fingertips but still with a great love that in the end redeems him. His make-up is startling.

Kamihama Sojin, famous delineator of mysterious Orientals, sounds a new note as an Oriental, educated in San Francisco's Chinatown, and returning to the Orient with all the American tricks of a big city added to his native sinister traits. He is proud of his murders and his mechanical cigarette case.

Henry B. Walthall plays a priest, battling the evil influences of the Orient, and Owen Moore is realistic as a derelict navy officer, victim of drink and the pitfalls of the tropics. Each is patterned from life.

Lois Moran plays the heroine of the strange story, a gripping mystery lavishly staged with interesting replicas of Oriental haunts, strange mixed-Singapore crowds in which every race and costume is seen, and many odd details of life in the Far East. Tod Browning, creator of "The Unholy Three," has in this picture shown the other extreme of Chaney's dramatic versatility.

Lois Moran plays the heroine of the strange story, a gripping mystery lavishly staged with interesting replicas of Oriental haunts, strange mixed-Singapore crowds in which every race and costume is seen, and many odd details of life in the Far East. Tod Browning, creator of "The Unholy Three," has in this picture shown the other extreme of Chaney's dramatic versatility.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and creases, characteristic of old paper. A small, dark, irregular stain is visible near the bottom center of the page. The left edge of the page shows the binding structure, including what appears to be a metal clip or staple used to hold the page in place. The overall lighting is even, highlighting the subtle variations in the paper's tone and texture.

SEDAN or COUPE

You need to drive a Pontiac Six for only thirty minutes to discover abilities and qualities absolutely unique at the price.

You experience a mastery of performance once undreamed of in any low-cost six—acceleration that borders on the sensational, lugging power and sustained high speed capacity that would be impossible save for the fact that the Pontiac Six engine is the largest six-cylinder power plant used in any car costing less than $1000.

Yet, unprecedented as they are, these performance results only typify the pronounced over-all superiority that has made Pontiac Six such a spectacular success from the day of its presentation.

In the beauty of its Fisher bodies, in its supreme roadability, in its economy of operation and its unfailing stability, the Pontiac Six represents a departure from the standards that have ruled in the field of low-cost sixes.

—a fact that you can prove to your own satisfaction by a thirty minute drive—at any time, under any condition.

When a Child Turns on its Parent

HOW TO PREVENT FIRES

1. Matches — Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away.

2. Tobacco — Be sure that pipe ashes and cigar or cigarette stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves or needles.

3. Making Camp — Before building a fire, scrape away all inflammable material from a spot 5 feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the center and in it build your camp fire. Keep your fire small. Never build it against trees or logs or near brush.

4. Breaking Camp — Never break camp until your fire is out — dead out.

5. Brush Burning — Never burn slash or brush in windy weather or while there is the slightest danger that the fire will get away.

One tree will make a million matches, — and one of the million matches can turn on its parent and destroy it, and a million more giants of the forest with it.

A three-fold loss results:

(1) Property loss.

(2) State expense for fighting fires, $366,193.33.

(3) An ideal vacation land denuded of its attractions; for timber fires take the beauty from the woodlands, and cause partial drying up of lakes and streams.

Care—vigilance!—on the part of every tourist and camper, both from Michigan and from without our state,—will stop this loss. Remember that northern forests burn easily. The pine needle floor picks up a spark like tinder. Practice the Prevention Rules shown here, which all trained woodsmen use. Additional copies will be sent free on request to this office. Your friends, and travelers, will be glad to have them.

COUNTY OFFICIAL KILLS SELF AT HOME IN ANN ARBOR
Merle H. Stitt, attorney, circuit court commissioner and public administrator for Washtenaw county, shot himself Friday afternoon at his home on South Main street, Ann Arbor. Coroner E. C. Ganzhorn returned a verdict of self-destruction. Mr. Stitt, it was learned, had an appointment at his office for 2:30 in the afternoon to meet Under Sheriff Dick Elliott and Atwood McAndrew, a Ypsilanti undertaker, for a discussion of the condition of funds controlled by Stitt.

One check for $588 issued to Mr. McAndrews by Mr. Stitt against the Gavine estate, it was learned, had been protested at the bank because of insufficient funds. Two other checks, one for $975 and another for $890, also had been issued against estates by Mr. Stitt, both being returned. As far as could be learned, the worthless checks totaled slightly less than $2,000.

County officials were unwilling to give this matter as a reason sufficient to cause Mr. Stitt to end his life. It also was learned Friday that the commissioner had undergone an X-ray examination in the morning for stomach trouble and was scheduled to return for further examination in the afternoon.

Both his physician and the doctor in charge of X-ray examinations at the hospital declared that so far as they could determine, Mr. Stitt was in good health.
Stitt leaves a wife and a son and daughter. The family is well-known in Ann Arbor.

SYLVAN RESIDENT ENJOYS DAIRY FEDERATION BANQUET

Through the kindness of our County Agent, H. S. Oeler, I had the great pleasure of attending the American Dairy Federation banquet at the Book Cadillac hotel of Detroit, last Saturday evening. Just one thousand sat down at the tables. The meeting was opened by prayer and music by the Detroit orchestra. A fine chicken supper was served, and after the meal the program for the evening was opened by the toastmaster, Mr. Nicholson, his remarks being interspersed with jokes that created a great deal of laughter.

The first speaker that he introduced was Mr. Butterfield, president of Michigan State College, and among his noteworthy remarks he said that in going through the county he could not help but come to the conclusion that in the future the farmers will have to farm it in a more scientific way. The next speaker, whose name I have forgotten, was an expert on the taxation problem. He spoke highly of the President of the U. S. He has reduced the national taxes one billion dollars, but he said, come right home in our own state, our taxes has been raised a billion. He said it is amazing, it is astonishing. What are you going to do about it, sit quietly and let this expense go on? The next speaker the toastmaster introduced was Mr. Taber, the Master of our National Grange. His subject was a three-horse team. His talk certainly was highly appreciated. Last but not least the toastmaster introduced our noted poet, Edgar A. Guest. He held the audience spellbound, and in his closing remarks he said that he intended so to live that when he departs from this world, he wants to meet his Heavenly Father with a smile. Ah, I tell you, he is a fine man.

So in conclusion I wish to say that during all this time, while I knew of these men, I had a desire to meet them, Mr. Taber and Mr. Guest, and through the kindness of N. P. Hull, our Past State Master of the Grange, who had charge of the committee, I had the pleasure of meeting these men. So I have nearly come to the conclusion that all good things worth while comes to him who waits.

ANN ARBOR THEATRE TO SHOW SCREEN CLASSIC

Arche Theatre, Ann Arbor, Will Present the Famous Red Grange Foot-Ball Classic, "One Minute to Play," Starting Sunday, October 17th.

Much interest and concern is being felt concerning the film Flash, Red Grange who will make his bow to Ann Arbor audiences and surrounding vicinity. In view of the fact that this Illinois boy probably was brought to the limelight after his sensational eighty-five yard run on the kick-off against Michigan for a touch-down which totaled exactly fifty-two seconds, those who have not had the good fortune of seeing this football wizard are anxiously awaiting the opening of the Arch. and those who have seen him perform before the camera.

The work of Red Grange, whose name is a by-word with every lover of the pigskin, is shown to splendid effect in this sparkling drama of college life, and plenty of appealing romance and a powerful and brilliant climax, as well as copious quantities of humor, make it a picture of great entertainment value for everyone. Sam Wood, the noted director, has handled the production with extraordinary skill, and a superb cast, including Mary McAllister as the leading lady, Charles Ogle as the father, Ben Hendricks, Jr., as the rival, George Wilson, the famous University of Washington football star, as the leader of the opposing team; and Lincoln Steadman, Edythe Chapman, Leo Shumway and Jay Hunt, give remarkable support. Byron Morgan, the author of the well-known Wallace Reid racing pictures, wrote the story and continuity.

CHEVROLET MOTOR CO. SETS NEW HIGH RECORD

The Chevrolet Motor company, largest manufacturer of three-speed cars, shattered two of its marks during September when it established a new monthly record of 81,158 passenger cars and trucks and attained a production total of 593,281 units for the first nine months of 1925, eclipsing the half-million production of the entire 12 months of 1924, Chevrolet's greatest year.

Neither of these figures ever has been approached by any builder of cars with three-speed selective transmissions.

The September production averaged 2,712 units daily for the 24 working days of the month. This also is a new record. The 31,158 total for September followed several recent months of record-breaking production. April, May and June with respective productions of 71,157, 74,617 and 72,241 each established successive production records. July production was restricted somewhat to permit the tooling and other changes necessary to effect several further improvements in the Chevrolet models. August production then snapped up to 78,551 units, only 600 fewer cars than were built in June which stood as Chevrolet's high record until out-distanced by September.

Chevrolet's entire 1925 production was 5,919,060. This is 74,221 units less than the 1926 production to the end of September. The 1925 total was passed during the second week of September.

Chevrolet's remarkable progress may be shown by the fact that the company has produced so far during 1926 a number of units approximately equal to the entire Chevrolet production from 1912 to 1920 inclusive, the first nine years during which Chevrolets were manufactured.
