BASEBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZED AT MEETING TUESDAY EVENING

Seven Teams Will Take Part in Season's Sport; Ed. Miller Elected President, Harry Lyons Secretary-Treasurer.

That Chelsea baseball fans will have an opportunity to enjoy the sport this summer was assured Tuesday evening when representatives of seven organizations about town met at the K. of P. hall and organized for the coming summer.

In the election of officers, Ed. Miller was elected president of the organization, and Harry Lyons was elected secretary-treasurer. Rules and regulations were adopted which will govern the major points of the games, and committees were appointed to select umpires, make out schedules, etc.

Teams participating in the league will be: K. of P. L. O. O. F. Catholics, Masons, Kiwanis, Methodists, and St. Paul's.

At the Tuesday night meeting the following rules were passed: Schedule to start May 2. Games will start at 6:30.

Regulation paraphernalia only may be used.

Only teams which play during evening will be permitted to practice on the ground during that evening.

No player may change teams during season.

Seven inning games will be played, although five innings will constitute a game in case of darkness or rain, when the game may be called by the umpire at his discretion.

Each team will be required to pay $15 toward expense of field and balls for the season.

There will be no admission or collection taken at games.

Committee to select umpires: Ed. Miller, Emmett Hanker and Arnold Pomeroy.

Committee on schedule: Jas. Munro, Louis Eder and A. B. McCune.

Games will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, with postponed games to be played on Friday evening.

STORES WILL REMAIN OPEN ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

As has been the custom in former years, business places of Chelsea will remain open on Wednesday evenings during the summer months, starting this week.

It is difficult for them to get to make the day, and the additional town during hours of business hours is for their convenience, although many towns folks take advantage of the time to do their shopping rather than walk the streets during the warmer hours of the day, especially during the summer time.

BIDS ACCEPTED FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Contracts for road construction work totaling about $98,000 have been let by the county road commission for three projects to be completed this year, it was announced last week.

The excavation and gravel contracts for the Pleasant Lake road between the Saline and Manchester

Chelsea highways, were awarded to the Inker Carriage Co., Detroit, whose bid on the grading work was 44 cents a cubic yard and whose figure for the gravel was $1.49. A total cost, based on these figures, will be about $76,000, the commission estimates.

The contract for grading work and construction of drainage structures on the two miles of Six-Mile road in Salem township was let to Clara White, taken of Salem, whose total bid amounted to about $4,800. Gravel bids on this project were rejected by the commission which probably will do this work itself as the highway is near a county owned gravel pit.

All bids on the commission, and were rejected by the commission, and new ones advertised for April 22.

The gravel contract on the Pleasant Lake road from Chelsea to the lake also was not let but the grading work building of drainage structures was awarded to Howard J. Pontiac, with a total bid of between $10,000 and $11,000.

MRS. E. L. BENTON WILL PRESIDE OVER INSTITUTE

The Inter-Denominational Institute for Children's Division workers of Washtenaw county will be held at Ann Arbor Saturday, April 23, in the Church of Christ. The purpose of the institute, which is under the direction of the Children's Division of the Michigan Council of Religious Education, is to train teachers of children under twelve so that they may be more efficient in the Sunday school, to assist parents as well as Sunday school workers understand the religious needs and development of children.

The institute will be divided into three sessions. Mrs. E. L. Benton, of Chelsea, will preside over the morning session. The evening address, "Measuring Road," will be given by Miss Irene Rockenbach. The afternoon adult session will be under the direction of Miss Rockenbach, a state superintendent. Children's Division superintendent, Miss Florence Carmichael, of Indianapolis, will give an address on "Teaching Through Story-Telling." Mrs. Ann Miller Grenquist will conduct a children's program in the church parlor at the same time of the church session. The evening session will be in charge of Mrs. E. A. Ryan. A program "My Task," will be given. A program of the main address of

BUSINESS WILL BE SUSPENDED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Following the custom of former years and in recognition of the suffering and death of Jesus on the Cross, business places of Chelsea will close Good Friday at 12 noon, until 3 o'clock.

MEN TO BE WOMEN IN HOME TALENT PRODUCTION

She came to Chelsea 11 months. She was taken of Salem, whose total bid amounted to about $4,800. Gravel bids on this project were rejected by the commission which probably will do this work itself as the highway is near a county owned gravel pit.

FINAL NUMBER OF LYCEUM COURSE HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Randall Ensemble Players Present Musical Number and Dramatization of "Madam Butterfly"

The best entertainment in the series of lyceum numbers which have been given here the past winter, is expected to be seen and heard at the public school auditorium next Tuesday evening when the Randall Ensemble Players present the final number on the season's course, with a feast of good things in dramatic, vocal and instrumental music, impersonations and comedy. Eleanor Randall, a distinguished dramatic artist, heads the company.

"Madam Butterfly," Puccini's immortal opera, is presented in dramatized form with a musical setting, and with handsome lighting and scenic effects. Miss Randall gives a synopsis of the first act, and interprets the second and third acts wherein Madam Butterfly awaits her American lover, Lieutenant Pinkerton. She waits for three years and when at last his ship comes into port, Pinkerton brings with him an American wife. Butterfly, taking heart-breaking farewell of her infant son, kills herself. Pinkerton finds her dying because he did not return to her "When the robins nest again." Incidental to the story is given much of the exquisite music of the opera by piano, violin and voice. The costuming, lighting and scenic effects are elegant.

The miscellaneous half of the Randall program is in lighter vein. There are comedy sketches by the company; readings of modern plays, exclusive readings and child impersonations by Miss Randall; readings with piano and violin accompaniments; violin, piano and soprano solos; comedy, fun, and beautiful costumes in generous measure.

Shortly after the ceremony the newly-weds left for Chicago on a wedding trip and upon their return they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Laird.

Mr. and Mrs. Butcher are widely known and highly esteemed young people, the latter being a popular member of the younger set about Chelsea, and Mr. Butcher has, for some time, been employed on the force of the Ann Arbor Press, Ann Arbor. They will carry with them the best wishes of their many friends.

EASTER AND SPRING

One cannot dissociate Easter and spring, no matter how early or late the religious festival may come nor how unseasonable the weather attending its advent. Easter is spring and life is reborn. The dead days are past and the requiem of winter is forgotten as the birds sing the resurrection of nature. The poet sighs, the sun smiles, perhaps, and the woman with a new spring that looks anxiously at the meteorological emanations from the shrine on Olympus which the irreverent flippantly call the weather works. Enveloping and hallowing it all is the atmosphere that sends the soul journeying beside still waters, through peaceful valleys, soft grasses and awakening buds and soothing it with imaginary scents of flowers awaiting only warmth to spread their sweetness on a newly aroused world. Besides its religious meaning, that is the spirit and significance of Easter and it is older even than the Christian religion. The display of colors and raiment in unison with the earth throwing off its old garments is as ancient as the race. Man always has wanted to sing as soon as the birds did and he has done so. Even the Bible has its beautiful poetic allusions to spring, and the vernal festivals of ancient days were a public expression of the song that was in the hearts of the people as a whole. We do not have anything we did not inherit, so it is not strange that a woman wants a pretty hat at Easter time. As a matter of fact it would be strange if she did not. And it is not to be expected that poets will quit caroling about spring as long as nature sends winters that inspire poets to say "Oh, wind, if winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

Renovation

Communities looking about at this time of year for ways of expressing civic pride can find no better vehicle than a "clean-up, paint-up" campaign. Than the present, there is no time of the year when a community can look drier and more uninviting or cleaner and purer. Undisturbed, winter's accumulation of dirt and debris hides all that is clean and fresh. Washed off and carted off it reveals a panorama little the worse for the wear and tear of the rigorous months. Every property owner, householder and business man should sense an overpowering duty in the spring of the year to make his buildings and grounds fit into nature's picture of cleanliness and freshness. And the performance of this civic duty costs little in time, expense and effort. It is the little thing that counts. A rusty car can mar a yard; a new coat of paint can "make" a house. Undesirable neighborhoods are known by the cans they keep, desirable ones by the well-kept lawns they keep. Nothing better tells the character of a community and its people than the size of its public dumps. So the town one wants to live in is busily engaged these days in clearing away the wreckage left by winter, covering up the scars and helping nature mend her wounds.

MOVING TIME

Well, it's getting toward moving time again, and how busy a good many folk will be! They'll have to bring in the piano box from the back yard, where it has been either a playhouse for the children or a coop for the chickens. They'll have to wrap the old comforts around the chiffonier, and newspapers around the chair-lugs. The old house will have to be cleaned up, and so will the new one. Something will be lost—something always is—and much will be thrown away.

There is a great deal of waste about moving. You remember Ben Franklin, in his wise way, said: "Three removes are as bad as a fire." Yet when spring comes we see all the disadvantages of the old place; the landlord isn't willing to do very much in the way of papering and painting, and a new place looks a lot better.

What is even better than a new house of someone else to live in, is a home of your own. Then when you want something done you do it your self and have the satisfaction of knowing it has added little to your own property. You feel established and your neighbors begin to think you amount to something. This year you buy new screens, and next year put a little hedge around the lawn. The whole thing's yours. You have a just pride in it.

It is a fine plan, if you must move, to move just once more—into a home of your own.

The wonderful thing about man is the way he builds his life on mystery. He draws his inspirations out of mystery, where he does not see and believe where he cannot prove. A Royal Princess Cooks with Gas

The former Princess Astrid of Sweden, now Crown Princess of Belgium, is not only one of Europe's most beautiful royal daughters, but she is likewise, perhaps the most accomplished. In addition to her many other talents, Astrid is a very good cook, having completed an advanced course in domestic science at a Housekeeping School in Stockholm.

And she learned to cook with gas, which is just another evidence of the universal favor with which this fuel is accepted, for only the best is good enough for a royal princess! Many years of service in many countries have proved gas to be the most practical fuel known for cooking, to say nothing of its innumerable other uses in home and industry.

Even royalty respects gas, considers gas service a privilege, and yet this pure concentrated fuel is available to you at an unbelievably low cost and in any quantities, always ready to the tip of your finger.

The Promise

Easter Day has once more rolled round to remind us that there is a Resurrection and a Life Everlasting. The Day is a symbol, it would seem, that man's soul never dies.

It is good that such a day should be sent once a year to remind us of God's promise that we shall live again. It is fitting that we should contemplate reverently the meaning of this Day of the Risen Christ.

Explaining Small Checks
Checks may be drawn for less than $1, though there is a federal law stating that they are not lawful. Many individuals and even governments, however, make checks for less than $1, but they are not intended to pay the entire amount of the check to the person the check is made payable to. A check is not lawful money and consequently cannot be passed as lawful money. A check is a personal credit instrument used in place of money.

Straw Vote
A straw vote is an informal and unofficial vote taken to test the relative strength of candidates in certain groups. Straws are supposed to indicate which way the wind blows. Suppose a group of people, a school, a club, a political gathering, or the like, take a vote to see how the members stand on candidates standing for election some time in the future. Such a ballot or expression of sentiment is a straw vote.

HELP STARR COMMONWEALTH WEALTH SATURDAY

Floyd Starr, Grandfather Permission to Hold Tag Day in Chelsea
Is Doing Wonderful Work Among Boys
Capacity of Present School is Limited to Fifty-Six; Hope to Enlarge Building

When P. B. Storms, mayor of Chelsea, granted to Mr. Starr of the "Starr Commonwealth," Albion, permission to hold tag day in Chelsea, Saturday, April 14, he was not letting the citizens of Chelsea in for one more drive.
This action was based on the highest loyalty to the people of Chelsea in a quarter of a dollar into a worth every investment. Investment! Not every financial venture offers as satisfactory returns as does this "investment in boyhood."
The little tags which will be for sale on the streets of Chelsea, in the hands of several Commonwealth boys represent so many shares of opportunity for some misguided, neglected, misunderstood boy who, save by this means, might never have a second chance at life. By means of many investors in such "shares" in the past, two hundred and forty delinquent boys, who otherwise would have become a curse to themselves and a liability to the state, have been given a second chance to many of them it has been their first chance and not one of this number has failed to respond favorably to the "home treatment" offered him at Starr Commonwealth.

To those who know the plan, the scope, and the results of Starr Commonwealth for boys, no philanthropic work seems more worth while. It is missionary work in our own door yard, and yet confined to no sect or creed. The only creed recognized in this school is "There is no such thing as a bad boy." This is the underlying principle upon which are built all the relations of the school. Mistakes of the past are forgotten and a new future for every boy who is fortunate enough to find a place here, is founded on love for boys and manhood, prayer and faith, confidence and cooperation.

Starr Commonwealth is not a new project among us. For twelve years Floyd Starr, founder of this unusual school and home, has given his untiring energy, his remarkable business ability, and everything he has in the world, to the building and materializing of his life's dream, a real home for unfortunate boys. It is not the institutional type of "orphans' home" or "reform school." It is just such a home as any of us might wish could be assured to our own boys should life and fortune and friends suddenly be taken from us and our children left to the cold mercy of society.

This school is a Commonwealth in every sense of the term. Mr. Starr and his workers have no necessity or pleasure that they do not share with the boys; there is no problem of discipline settled without a student council; there is no boy among them, whatever his former condition of vice or misery, who is not taken into the fold and given an equal share in the love, responsibility, education, recreation, privilege of fatherly counsel from Mr. Starr whom they all call "Uncle Floyd"; and there is no limit on shackles placed upon any boy's worthy ambition.

Owing to the limited capacity, only fifty-six boys can be accommodated at Starr Commonwealth at one time. It is the desire of Mr. Starr and his board of trustees to enlarge the building plan so that two hundred boys may be cared for continuously. For not a mail but brings to Mr. Starr an appeal to take some boy whom nobody else wants. These appeals have come from seventeen states, but the sad fate of them all is, that all that come from outside the state of Michigan must be refused. And, of course, not all Michigan boys who should come, can be accepted, on account of inadequate accommodations. The gradually spreading knowledge of the school increases the volume of appeals that pour daily upon Mr. Starr's desk.

The greater Commonwealth of Michigan owes more to this little commonwealth at Albion, than many citizens realize. Can anyone imagine in money the value to a state to have two hundred and forty misguided boys under age, trained from the paths of crime and tragedy into the way of life? Would the state of Michigan exchange for any price these two hundred and forty specimens of promising young men, for the same number of human apes? As citizens of the state of Michigan, we owe to Starr Commonwealth the bit that will purchase a little tag next Saturday. And we owe it to ourselves to wear that tag at least for one day.

LOW BUILDING COSTS FOR POULTRY HOUSES

Michigan shed roof type poultry houses will be built in several counties from the department of agricultural engineering at Michigan State college. A specialist from the poultry department of the College will also be present at the demonstration meetings to discuss methods of raising, feeding and housing poultry. Two days will be spent at each demonstration. The first day will be devoted largely to actual construction work and discussions of poultry problems will be taken up on the second day. The estimated cost for the materials necessary to build the 18 by 20 foot house is $240. This cost includes the cement necessary for foundation and floor, and lumber for, ventilators, roosts, dropping boards, nest boxes and a supply bin. The building will house 100 birds.
The farmer for whom the house is built pays for the time of the two carpenters who do the construction work, and has the foundation for the house built at least a week before the date of the demonstration. After five houses were built by the specialist in the upper peninsula last year, farmers themselves erected 120 of the buildings.
This year poultry houses will be built at demonstrations in Livingston, Oakland, Washtenaw, Jackson, Lenawee, Hillsdale, Branch, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Van Buren, Allegan, Barry, Eaton, Kent, Ottawa, St. Clair, Sanilac, Huron, Muskegon, Oceana, Newago, Mecosta, Midland, Wexford, Antrim and Osego counties.
