CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM OPENS HERE AFTERNOON OF AUGUST 4

Four Days of Community Vacation Program Will Be Offered in Tent. Ticket Selling Will Start Soon.

That Chelsea's 1927 Chautauqua program will surpass anything ever offered in the way of mid-summer entertainment in this vicinity, is the promise found in an array of talent booked for this village's out door program which opens here on August 4 and closes with the August 7th entertainment.

While tentative plans are under way, details are lacking in that it has not been decided as to location of the Chautauqua tent. Sale of tickets will be started within a few days and with prospect of such high class entertainment as that scheduled for these dates, it is expected they will find ready sale.

Listed among the numbers which will entertain and instruct during these four days are the following:

FIRST AFTERNOON
Ferguson and "his gang"
Harry O. Ferguson, famed Chautauqua director and funder, brings his gifted company of singers to banish the blues and set the Chautauqua wheel whirling gaily thru the long-awaited community vacation week.

FIRST EVENING
Ferguson's Light Opera Singers
Joy night, this year, is the first night. Gems of comic opera, strutting functionaries from make-believe courts, celebrated songs from "The Mikado," "The Girl of the Year," "The Girl of the Year," lights and color and gay good humor make this an entertainment banquet long to be remembered.

SECOND AFTERNOON
The Patterson Players
A music and sketch program by the Patterson Company which combines a varied and attractive repertoire with genial showmanship—a treat for the afternooners.

SECOND EVENING
"Applesauce"
The whole wide world loves applesauce. Here is a hilarious drama of American youth, American love and American homes.

THIRD AFTERNOON
Krantz Family Orchestra
Seventeen instruments besides drums and traps, equipment played in full of musical equipment played in masterly fashion by a talented family of natural-born and highly trained musicians makes this a musical matinee par excellence.

THIRD EVENING
Krantz Family Orchestra
Cathedral chimes, Roman trumpet quartets, song bells, ocarina quartets, orchestral ensembles, novelty and variety give music lovers the treat of the week.

The only lecture of the week is given by a distinguished platform success, last year on the Redpath-Horner Seven Day Circuit, the year before on White and Brown Six Day Circuit. He speaks on "Our Natural Highway to Happiness."

FOURTH AFTERNOON
Hanscom Players
"Bob Hanscom and other members of the 'Give and Take' company give an intimate behind-the-scenes program of delightful dramatic titbits.

FOURTH EVENING
"Give and Take"
The cleverest comedy of a generation with its side-splitting situations and Bob Hanscom playing the leading role will be the irresistible last night attraction. One of Broadway's greatest hits at one-fourth Broadway prices.

CHELSEA'S PARKING PROBLEM SHOULD BE SOLVED AT ONCE

One of the most serious problems facing Chelsea today is that of furnishing convenient and safe parking space adjacent to the business section of the village. Numerous complaints of lack of these facilities leads to the belief that many people hesitate to come to Chelsea because of inability to park near the business section while doing their shopping.

Walking two, three or four blocks with their arms loaded down with groceries and other sundry purchases does not appeal to anyone, and this is necessary to many, especially those who do not get to town until late in the evening on Wednesday or Saturday evenings. While Chelsea is considered as one of the smaller towns, yet that is all the more reason why these facilities should be provided. City parking has reached the impossible stage, and has opened up an opportunity to smaller places to bid for the trade that otherwise would go to larger places to park cars. No one likes to drive around for an hour looking for a place to leave his car near the place he wishes to do his trading.

It has been suggested, and it's well worth consideration on the part of the village council, that the village rent and provide a suitable parking space near the center of town, easily accessible from various streets, well lighted and graded, in which visitors could park their cars for any length of time they desired. Supervision of the ground on busy days and evenings could be provided, and then advertise the fact that "You can park in Chelsea."

Let's be first, not last, in making a move to accommodate the folks who spend their money in Chelsea.

FACTS CONCERNING VILLAGE WATER SUPPLY TOWER

Ever since erection of the water tower by the village earlier in the spring, a number of questions have come up regarding the size, capacity of the tank, frequency of filling, etc., and the Standard has endeavored to get this information. While all inquiries may not be answered here with some of the major questions and the ones most frequently asked, are answered in the following.

The tank is of 100,000 gallons capacity and the standpipe from the ground to the tank holds 20,000 gallons, making 120,000-gallons capacity in all.

The tank is filled by means of a pipe running from the wells in the northwest part of town and extending five feet upward in the bottom of the standpipe. The basin around this five-foot pipe forms a receptacle for dirt and sediment to gather and this is flushed out every few days, assuring the village of clean water.

The village uses, in summer time, approximately 100,000 gallons of water, or almost the capacity of the tank, daily.

The pumps work automatically, and when one-third of the water is used from the tank, the pumps start and refill. When full the pumps automatically shut off.

The standpipe, or upright, section of the tower is 5 1-2 feet in diameter. The tower is approximately 150 feet high.

Sixty-five pounds water pressure is maintained at the faucet.

An auxiliary pump, operated by gasoline motor of seventy horsepower, is kept in readiness at the central plant of the water department, to be used in case of emergency. Should the electric power be off for any length of time and a fire, or other emergency, create a need for more water than the tank holds without replenishing, the auxiliary pump can be operated to re-fill the tank.

GENERAL MOTORS ENTERTAIN PRESS CLUB NEAR BRIGHTON

Genesee-Livingston County Newspaper Men and Wives Hold Monthly Meeting at Proving Grounds of Automobile Concern.

Members of the Genesee-Livingston Press Association were entertained by the Brighton Argus, member of the association, at the General Motors Proving Grounds, near Brighton, Saturday, and practically all of the papers of the two counties were represented.

Gathering at the Argus office in Brighton, the men and their wives proceeded to the proving grounds for a 1 o'clock luncheon served in the club house on the grounds, officials of the corporation acting as hosts. Following the luncheon, O. T. Kreusser, director of the Proving Grounds, addressed the gathering on the purpose of the grounds, operation of the plant and grounds, and results attained because of the thorough testing which the grounds afford.

Many of the technicalities necessary to the correct building of motor cars such as will meet the approval of the buying public, can only be brought out through thorough testing of these same cars, and it is to provide facilities for such testing that the General Motors conceived the idea of establishing a proving ground, where every method of car testing known may be applied to the General Motors products. $2,000,000 have been invested in the 1245 acres of ground which lie east of Brighton. One-half million dollars are expended annually in perfecting various models and testing, this cost being spread over the various companies comprising General Motors, as overhead expense. Seven million miles have been traveled on the roadways of the proving grounds during the past three years, much of it at a high rate of speed, without a single accident of any consequence, and without injury to any employee, according to the speaker.

Engineers of the various General Motors companies and officials of the corporation are in direct control of the proving grounds, on which are located garages and machine shops, an auditorium seating several hundred people, a club house of magnificent appointments, approximately 20 times as large as the average club house, a miles of roadway, including a speedway more than three miles long, and two straightaways each more than a mile long. Considerable of this is concrete.

Following Mr. Kreusser's address the guests were taken on a tour of the grounds in company automobiles, providing one of the most scenic routes to be found in southern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McClure, Chelsea, attended the meeting.

MAIN ST. BLOCK WILL HOUSE BATTERY AND RADIO STORE

E. J. Claire and Sons are at work on the business room recently purchased from the Farmers and Merchants Bank, and occupied by the latter for banking quarters, until two weeks ago, and it is being remodeled to suit the need of their radio and electrical store. For several months they have occupied the Steinbach building on West Middle street.

The outfit and fixtures of the banking offices have been removed and the Claires plan on using the rear room for their repair and storage room, while most of the front room will be used for sales and show purposes. A driveway from North Main street into the front of the building is planned, as well as individual entrance to the store.

Business of the Claires has been steadily on the increase during recent years, when sales effort has been more or less confined to that of Atwater Kent radios and electrical accessories. With the addition of Kelvinator electric refrigerators to their business better show room facilities were needed. Location in the former bank building gives them ideal facilities for displaying their goods to the public and it is expected a further increase in their business will be experienced by the firm. A branch of the business is also operated in Ann Arbor, under the supervision of O. J. Claire, formerly of Chelsea. E. J. and Dale J. Claire operate the Chelsea store.

FUNERAL OF REV. F. O. JONES HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral services over the remains of the Rev. F. O. Jones of the Methodist Old People's Home, Chelsea, were held on Friday of last week, Dr. J. E. Martin, district superintendent of Ann Arbor District, being in charge. There was large attendance, including many from the M. E. church of which the deceased had for many years been a member. The service was held in the parlor of the Old People's Home, and was very impressive throughout. At the opening of the service, Mrs. A. A. Palmer, accompanied by Mrs. George Walworth, very beautifully rendered, "No Night There". Appropriate scripture selections were read by the Rev. Simon Schofield of Ridgeway, after which prayer was offered by the Rev. Reuben Crosby of Saline. The sermon was preached by Dr. A. Leeson of Dearborn, from the words "And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day." (Gen. 3:8). Dr. Leeson, among other things said that those words were peculiarly fitting to the life of the departed, who long years ago had heard the divine voice and had heeded the call. He had faithfully heeded that voice all through his fruitful ministry, having followed its leading amidst the beautiful surroundings of the Home where he had spent his declining years. He had followed that voice to the evening of life, and finally heeded the call to a life of reward.

Mrs. Palmer then sang touching, "Alone With God". After this Dr. Martin gave a brief but impressive speech in the form of a testimony to the departed, telling in well chosen words of the radiant life he had lived, and how he had been called away in the very midst of a life of cheerfulness and activity. His ministries covered a wide range, and he will be missed by a large host of friends, who can never forget his cheery and genial disposition manifest to the very last hour of his untimely end.

The Rev. W. Firth, who has pastoral oversight of the Home, gave the closing prayer.

A good delegation of ministers were present as follows: Rev. A. T. Campbell of Dearfield, Rev. Simon Schofield of Ridgeway, Rev. C. L. Adams of Milan, Rev. F. I. Walker of Detroit, who acted as pall bearer, also Rev. Reuben Crosby of Saline, Rev. Ralph Harper of Dixboro, Rev. B. Reeve of Jackson, Rev. T. M. Mott of Manchester, Rev. Frank Grant of Stockbridge, and Rev. Fred Ross of Salem M. E. church.

The remains were quietly laid to rest in Oak Grove cemetery, with the pastor, Rev. Firth in charge of the committal services, assisted by Dr. J. E. Martin.

OFFICIALS RENEW DOG QUARANTINE

State department of agriculture has renewed the quarantine on dogs in Washtenaw county, according to Sheriff Ernst M. Wurster. The fact that dogs, affected with rabies, have been at large in the county recently is the reason given for the action.

The order, which soon will be posted throughout the county, reads: "Notice is hereby given that all dogs owned or kept in Washtenaw county, unless properly vaccinated against rabies within one year by a qualified veterinarian and tagged for ready identification, shall be securely chained or otherwise properly confined upon the premises of the owner. If allowed to run the animal must be muzzled to prevent it from biting persons or other dogs. All owners are prohibited from removing the canines from Washtenaw county during this period of quarantine unless the dog has been vaccinated properly against rabies within one year of date of removal."

Any dog found at large may be disposed of by an officer who will not be held liable for his act and any person convicted of the violation of the quarantine may be fined not less than $10 or more than $500 and be confined in county jail for a term of not more than six months. Both fine and imprisonment can be given at the discretion of the court.

DAIRYMEN WILL SEE FAMOUS LOCAL HERD

Dairy-day visitors at the Pontiac State Hospital July 26 will see one unit of the largest herd of purebred dairy cattle of one breed belonging to a single owner, according to the statement of dairy specialists at Michigan State College.

The Pontiac herd of Holstein cattle is known wherever farmers own that breed of cattle. The herd is one of the oldest in the country and has produced some of the outstanding individuals of the breed.

The entire cost of the foundation herd at Pontiac was turned to the State by the sale of the animal six years after the herd was established. Other individuals from the herd have brought large prices and have helped make breed history.

In addition to inspecting the famous herd, visitors at Dairy Day will see the animals placed according to their show ring value, and will hear authorities on dairying give brief talks on dairy problems.

Members of the arrangements committee for the day state that there will be plenty of entertainment features to occupy any spare moments in the program. The basket dinner will be supplemented by ice cream, lemonade, and coffee furnished by the institution.

FORMER RESIDENT RECALLS INTERESTING INCIDENTS
In a letter to the editor of the Standard-Orla-B. Taylor, Detroit attorney, recalls incidents which took place at the time of the first graduation exercises in Chelsea which were held at the old Baptist church, torn down a few years ago. His letter, which will prove interesting to all Chelsea folks, follows:
I was greatly interested in the incident at the Annual Alumni Banquet of the Chelsea High School when Galbraith P. Gorman presented the school with the diploma which was given to his father, the late James S.
Gorman at the time of his graduation in the first class to be graduated from the school. I remember very well the exercises at which Mr. Gorman received the diploma, although they happened half a century ago. At that time Prof. G. A. Brown was the principal of the school and the other graduates were Aaron B. Avery, Moses Avery, Mary Brown and Lillian Drake. The commencement exercises were held in the old Baptist church on Main street, which was torn down a few years ago. Congressman Gorman, who even then was looked upon as a public speaker, was the last orator.
At that time there existed a peculiar fashion with relation to flowers. As the graduates closed, their several addresses, their friends arose in all parts of the church and hurled bouquets at the platform. Of course some of them fell at the feet of the speaker, but in most instances the aim was poor and the platform was strewn with flowers. There is where my job came in. I sat at one side and as the bouquets fell, I ran out and picked them up and delivered them to the proud recipient. To me it was a very exciting evening and I think I felt as important as the graduates themselves.
I am under the impression that all of the graduates have passed on except Lillian Drake, who afterward married Aaron Avery. He became a doctor and practiced at Pontiac, where he passed away a few years ago. Mrs.
Avery is still living in Pontiac, I believe. I presume there are a few of the older residents at Chelsea who remember the pleasant event which I have described.

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN STORE OF SHERIFF WURSTER

Fire breaking out twice in the same place and failure of the fire department to receive the second alarm were features of a mystery blaze which Tuesday morning caused considerable damage to the stock and store building at 213 North Fourth Ave., Ann Arbor, owned by Sheriff
Ernest Wurster.
Firemen were called to the store
about 6:30 Monday evening and extinguished a roof blaze at the rear of the building. The origin of this blaze could not be determined by the firemen or Sheriff Wurster.
The second fire apparently occurred about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, according to Fire Chief Charles J. Andrews, who was awakened shortly after that hour by two men who told him the roof of the building was on fire.
The fire held on for some time, but was finally extinguished by the fire department about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning.
