THREE PERSONS KILLED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK END

Two Freedom Youths Killed When Car Overturns in Water of Creek Late Saturday Night.

Three persons met violent death in two accidents in and near Washtenaw county over the week-end. Two were drowned and the third was killed in an automobile accident.

The dead are:
Luther J. Griebach, 19, Freedom.
Lawrence Hieber, 19, Freedom.
Miss Helen Springer, 18, Detroit.
The two Freedom youths lost their lives about 9:30 Saturday night as they were returning from a dance at Pleasant Lake. The car in which they were riding, driven by Lawrence Griebach, 16, also of Freedom, struck a concrete abutment on a bridge over a creek about a half mile north of Pleasant Lake as an attempt was being made to pass another automobile, it is reported.

According to investigating officers, the car turned over, the Griebach youth sustaining a broken neck and dying instantly and Hieber being thrown into the creek. The Hieber boy, it is believed, was rendered unconscious by the crash and drowned in about two feet of water. The driver of the car was injured, it was said.

Ensign J. Scott, special deputy sheriff of Washtenaw county, investigated the accident and reported to Coroner E. C. Ganzhorn.

Miss Springer was drowned at 10:20 Sunday morning at Collum Beach, Strawberry Lake, near Lakeland. She was visiting at the lake for the day with a party of friends and was drowned in 20 feet of water while bathing. The body was taken to Detroit. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Springer.

Luther Griebach, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Griebach, Freedom, was born in that township March 7, 1908. Besides his parents, he is survived by five sisters, Lena, Clara, and Emma at home, Mrs. Gilbert Trinkle, Freedom, and Mrs. William Below, Ann Arbor, and three brothers, Otto, Aaron and Simon, all at home.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 at the residence and at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at St. John's church, Bridgewater. Burial was in Bridgewater cemetery.

Lawrence Hieber was the son of Samuel Hieber, Freedom, and was born in that township 19 years ago. Funeral services were held at 10:30 Tuesday morning at Bethel church, Freedom.

COUNTY FAIR WILL STAGE MUSIC CONTEST

Washtenaw County Fair is to offer an additional attraction this year in its musical program. Under the auspices of the State Federation of Music clubs a contest will be conducted for Juniors from the ages of nine to sixteen inclusively, in piano, violin and voice.

In addition to this a contest for Community or Church choirs will be conducted. It is hoped that every town in the county will avail itself of this unusual opportunity for competition. The contests are limited to towns with populations of 4,000 and under, thus eliminating the larger communities where contests are conducted more frequently.

Applications for Juniors who wish to enter the contest should be filed at once with Miss Nina Belle Wurster, chairman for Chelsea.

A choir under Mrs. M. J. Baxter, choir chairman, will represent Chelsea and much interest is being shown in preparation for the event.

While Juniors are allowed to present numbers of their own choosing, Community and Church choirs are required to sing two numbers, which have been selected by the county committee. "Hark! My Soul," by Shelley, and "The Reckless," by Kipling, with setting by To Koven.

Rudolph Jenks of Ann Arbor, is county chairman. A meeting of the committee is being held Wednesday at Ann Arbor.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who were so kind to visit us in our recent sorrow. We also thank the O. F. of Room of the O. F. of Sherrell, N. Y. for their sympathy and aid.

Mr. Buehler told Deputy Fred Looker, who investigated the accident, that he drove onto US-12 from a driveway but failed to see the approaching bus although he looked in both directions down the road. TWO PARKING PLACES ARE OFFERED CHELSEA VISITORS

Machines May Be Parked Off Streets Adjacent to Business Section; Little Work Needed to Put Places in Shape.

With two vacant properties offered the motoring public for parking purposes during rush hours such as Wednesday and Saturday evenings, some decrease in the congestion experienced on these evenings may be expected if the properties in question are lighted and made accessible by the village.

O. B. McLaughlin, proprietor of the American Filling Station, corner of So. Main and Orchard streets, has offered the lot adjacent to the filling station which will easily care for twenty to thirty cars. Very little work is needed to put the property in shape for use. A drive-in over the curb and lighting arrangement would be the extent of preparation necessary there.

E. A. Tisch, of the City Motor Sales, notified the Standard the fore part of this week he is making arrangements to turn over a vacant lot to the south of his garage building on North Main street to the public for parking purposes. This lot will accommodate more than forty cars, according to Mr. Tisch, and will be especially well located for people living to the north of the village who wish to avoid crowded streets and traffic congestion.

Both parking spaces offered free of charge and may be made available at any time.

In connection with the parking problems already brought up, it was suggested to the Standard during the week that parking be prohibited on one side of South Main street from Merkel's Hardware store to Orchard street. At this point the pavement narrows considerably and leaves barely enough room for two cars to pass when cars are parked along both sides. The fact that buses use this street, and are considerably wider than the ordinary automobile, makes it extremely dangerous to everyone concerned. This danger can be eliminated by parking on one side of the street only, between the points mentioned.

World Use of Latin

Even after the downfall of the western Roman empire in the fifth century, Latin continued to be what may be called an international language. It was the written language of all higher education. In the matter of physicians' prescriptions the use of Latin is a remnant of that international standing of the language. It makes a prescription good in any civilized country.

STATE FARMER GET NEW CROP VARIETIES

A new variety of barley, an improved wheat, and a promising strain of biennial sweet clover, which have been developed at Michigan State College, are ready for trial by Michigan farmers, according to announcement of J. F. Cox, professor of farm crops.

The barley is a smooth-awned white variety that is the result of 14 years of M. S. C. experimental work. Michigan black barless barley also has smooth awns, but the color of the grain made the variety unpopular with some farmers.

The new barley, which will be called Spartan, is two-rowed and has a stiff straw which resists lodging. The heads in this variety stand erect on the straw, thus avoiding any loss of heads in cutting the grain.

To meet a demand from the Michigan Millers Association, State College has worked with O. A. C. wheat and has a high yielding strain ready for release to the seed growers of the state. This wheat produces a flour especially adapted for pastry making.

A strain of sweet clover that promises to be better than previous sorts for a pasture crop is the result of a discovery of a single plant by a Cheboygan county farmer. The increase from this plant has been carefully grown on the college plots, and is now ready for trial on Michigan farms.

Visitors at the annual M. S. C. Farmers' Day, August 4, will inspect the new varieties, along with all the other experimental and test plots at the college.

Old English Institution

Waits in the Middle Ages in England were a body of musicians kept by some great persons to announce the hours of the night. Many cities and towns also had their regular waits. After a time the name was transferred to persons who walked the streets about Christmas time singing Christmas hymns and carols.

Plant Parasites

In botany the term parasites is used for plants which attach themselves to another plant and nourish themselves upon its juice. This class includes mistletoe, fungi. The mistletoe grows originally from seed and becomes gradually parasitical, usually fastening itself to the oak.

The Difference

A words' warfare once took place between Lord Birkenhead and Judge Willis, as related in "Lord Birkenhead," by Ephesian. The judge was furious at some remark made by Lord Birkenhead.

"Mr. Smith," he said, "you remind me of a saying by Bacon, the great Bacon, that youth and discretion are ill-wedded companions."

"You remind me," replied Lord Birkenhead, "of a saying by Bacon, the great Bacon, that a 'tough-talking judge is like an ill-tuned cymbal.'"

"You are offensive, sir!" cried the judge.

"We both are," the counsel replied; "the difference is that I'm trying to be, and you can't help it."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Blue a Sacred Color

Blue has been considered favorably by almost all kinds of people. Blue was worn by the Greek gods, especially by Juno, who ruled the heavens; the Jewish priests wore blue to signify contemplation; the Persian associated it with air and vastness; for the Mongol it means authority and power; it is believed by some that angels wear blue to give an impression of faith and fidelity, and it is said that the "Virgin Mary" wore it as a sign of modesty; in heraldry it stood for chastity, loyalty, fidelity and good reputation. Early Christian artists used blue as a symbol of divine eternity and human mortality, and so it came to be considered a mortuary color and was utilized as a covering for coffins.

Origin of "Romance"

The romance languages are Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and French, and they are so called because they are largely founded on the Latin language of the ancient Romans. In the Middle Ages many stories in verse were written about Charlemagne, Arthur and Amadis of Gaul. They were written in the romance languages, and came to be called romances. Hence the term romance has come to denote a fictitious story in prose or verse in which most of the incidents border on the marvelous and impossible.

Wizard Takes a Chance

Trial by ordeal is commonly practiced on the Solomon Islands, though it is not always the alleged culprit who submits to the ordeal. One form of ordeal is for a wizard to swim across a channel infested with crocodiles. If the medicine man survives the swim, the suspect is held innocent; but if the crocodile eats the wizard, the accused is pronounced guilty and is punished, according to Robert W. Williamson in "The Ways of the South Sea Savage."

Different Now

The small girl had taken to scrubbing her neck vigorously every morning. Mother was puzzled, because heretofore it had always been a struggle to get the small girl to put any water on her neck. "Why are you so clean all of a sudden?" asked mother. "Well, boys sit all around me in school now," said the small girl, scrubbing harder than ever.—Springfield Union.

EXTRA a new Hudson

on 118 inch wheelbase

With the New High Compression Anti-Knock Motor that turns waste heat to power

Thousands have asked us to build a shorter Hudson Super-Six. They wanted in such a type the performance, sturdiness, reliability and luxury of the famous 127 inch Super-Six. So the 118 inch Hudson is built for them; and the 127 inch Super-Six is continued for those who prefer the longer car.

In every detail of motor, clutch, transmission, axles and four wheel brakes this new compact Hudson Super-Six is identical with the 127 inch models.

Two body types—the Coach and Sedan—are available on 118 inch chassis. They are richly upholstered and finished, and designed to give generous, even lounging passenger room.

Their lighter weight makes possible sensational performance with outstanding economy, nimbler operation in traffic and easy parking.

FEES TOTALING $2,152.58
 TREAS. BEEN LAST MONTH
 Fees totaling $2,152.58 were turned into the county treasurer last month by four county offices, according to a report prepared by Miss Luella F. Kittell, accountant in the county clerk's office.
 The clerk's office contributed the greatest share of this amount, with the other offices listed in the following order: register of deeds, sheriff, probate department and probate
 court.
 Court costs of $310 made up the largest single item in the total amount of $863.15 in fees turned in by the county clerk. Law and chancery entry fees brought in $176, fishing license fees, $85, and chancery decree fees, $22. The remainder of the fund was made up of miscellaneous items.
 About half of the $789.73 contributed by the register of deeds office came from mortgage fees which totaled $350. The recording of mortgages brought $248.80 and $70 was paid in for filing agreements, leases, rights
 of way and so forth.
 Most of the sheriff's fees, which amounted to $300.70, were made up of justice court costs. This item totaled $207.85. The serving of summons brought in $31.80 and petitions $15.15 while the remainder of the total was made up of various small items.
 J. J. Goodyear, probate officer, collected $107 in probate fees, and the probate court took in $92 for making out certified papers of the court.

DEXTER METHODIST CHURCH
 COMPLETED AND DEDICATED
 The new Methodist Episcopal church, which has grown up during the past six months on the old site at Fourth and C streets, Dexter, is now completed and dedication ceremonies took place last week Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This edifice is another landmark of beauty in Dexter, and Dexter is rightfully proud of it. Being designed along old colonial lines, it seems to fit into the background of Dexter's wide streets and beautiful trees as though it had really grown there under the hand of an expert gardener. The building sets back from the street a distance of 30 feet. The porch, extending across the entire front, supported by six 20-inch columns of stately beauty, presents a pleasing picture. The building is 38 feet wide and 75 feet long with auditorium and class room
 on the main floor and a balcony above.
 The lower floor has a dining room
 which can easily care at a banquet for a crowd of 225 people, and a kitchen quite in keeping with the rest of the building. There are also cloak rooms and furnace rooms on the lower floor. The slope of the hill lends itself fittingly to this type of building, so that the lower floor comes out on a level with the grade at the back, while the floor at the front of the auditorium is only two feet above the grade. The art glass windows add a charm and a dignity to the appearance both on the exterior and on the interior. The auditorium is finished in a shade of weathered oak, with the furniture in harmony.
 Dedication ceremonies began with a community gathering Thursday evening and continued until Sunday evening. Friday night was the lecture,
 "Poor Boy—Great Man," by Dr. M.
 S. Rice, pastor of the Metropolitan
 M. E. church, Detroit. Saturday evening the home coming banquet and program was held, with Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, as the speaker. Sunday morning the formal dedication took place, and in the evening a vesper musical was given, followed by the closing sermon by Bishop Nicholson—Dexter Leader.
