F. MERKEL AND MARY YOUNG MARRIED, CHURCH CEREMONY

Popular Young Couple Left On Wedding Trip to Duluth, and Will Be at Home to Friends in Chelsea.

The church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, August 24, when Miss Mary Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, became the bride of Mr. Ferdinand Merkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martha Merkel, Rev. T. J. Fallon, pastor of the young people, officiated at the service.

Miss Young, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a bridal gown of peach georgette and carried a shower bouquet of yellow tea roses and bridal wreath.

Miss Agnes Young, sister of the bride, who assisted as maid of honor, wore a lovely gown of orchid georgette and carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Norbert Merkel. Ushers were Thomas Young, brother of the bride, and Lawrence Shanshan.

During the ceremony, Mrs. J. V. Bulg sang "I Love You Truly." Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families, at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Merkel are widely known in Chelsea and vicinity, where they have been identified with activities of the younger folks in church and social circles, and early with them the best wishes of a legion of friends as they leave for their wedding trip by boat on the Great Lakes to Duluth and return. Following the trip they will be at home to their many friends in Chelsea.

Earliest Lifeboat

In 1788 Lionel Lukin, a conchmaker of an island town near London, put afloat on the Thames a Norway yawl which he had fitted with water-tight compartments, a heavy iron keel and other essentials in buoyancy and stability, which are the cardinal and requisite features of the lifeboat of today.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS WILL RECEIVE BIDS ON NEW ROADS

While seven-road construction projects are under way in Washtenaw, the county road commission is preparing plans looking toward the taking of bids on September 2 for the proposed Augusta road in that township, and on September 20 for the Ann Arbor end of the scenic Huron River drive.

Gravel work on the new Pleasant Lake road is progressing rapidly but the grading work has been slowed down until a new steam shovel arrives, the commission reports. A concrete crew has poured the floor of the first bridge and a second one has been started.

About one mile of the new Cavanaugh Lake road west of Chelsea is yet to be graveled but this work is progressing satisfactorily, according to the commission. The bridge extension on this highway has been completed except for the removal of the floor forms. The backfilling also has been done as far as possible.

The base course gravel has been placed on a section of the North Territorial road from the Portage Lake highway to the east end of North Lake, four trucks being used in this work. This week will see the completion of the base and top course gravel on the Six Mile road in Salem township.

The Macon-Britton road probably will be finished within two weeks, the commission expects, the contractor having made favorable progress so far. The contractor started placing the top course of gravel on Monday.

The contractor on the Seven Mile road has a full rough grading crew at work and has made a good start on this project, the commission reports. Farmers owning land along the highway, with one exception, are moving their fences back to provide for a wider road. Good work also is being done on the construction of the Saline road bridges which are to be completed in time for the first Michigan football game in Ann Arbor this fall, the commission states.

Workmen of the commission are making a survey and plan of the Michigan Central railroad arch on the Portage Lake road just outside of Dexter to consider cutting down the highway to give more clearance. Large loads cannot pass under the arch at the present time.

KRAZY KLOWN BAND AT WASHTENAW COUNTY FAIR

Considerably out of the ordinary in entertainment features that have been obtained here for the Washtenaw County Fair which commences August 30th and ends September 3rd, is the Krazy Clown Band, according to advance reports received here.

The Krazy Clown Band will be seen and heard all over the Fair grounds during the entire week, the management announces. There will be open air concerts here, there and everywhere. And with the musical programs, such as only expert musicians with this Klownd Band can best render, there will be comedy galore.

These musicians are not content to play expertly and entertainingly, but have a bag chuck full of antics both in physical movements and instrumental antics such as is seldom seen on fair grounds. They promise to be a big treat for men, women and children alike—the whole family in fact.

There are seven men in fact, all funny, clown, tramp or other characters in this band. And this band is heralded as one of the most versatile entertaining organizations to ever appear at the Washtenaw County Fair grounds. The Krazy Clown Band is billed as "America's Greatest Musical Attraction," and they surely live up to their billing. It is famous throughout the United States as one of the finest Klownd Bands on tour, and the Washtenaw County Fair Management is to be congratulated on having this attraction appear at the Washtenaw County Fair.

UPHAUS REUNION

The Uphaus family reunion was held at Pleasant Lake, Freedom, on Friday, with 150 in attendance. A feature of the day was a talk by Miss Koebe, former resident of Sharon, and returned missionary from China. In a ball game between teams captained by George Brady and Arthur Dresselhouse, the latter nine won.

At a business session the following officers were chosen: President, William Uphaus; vice president, Mrs. Thomas Bates; secretary, Margaret Roller; treasurer, Lewis Dresselhouse; sports committee, Arthur Dresselhouse and Elie Scheid.

WILL HEAR 119TH FIELD ARTILLERY BAND IN CHELSEA

Former Chelsea Boy Will Direct Military Musicians in Music and Drill on Streets Here Wednesday Evening.

Chelsea and vicinity will be offered a real treat next Wednesday evening when the 119th Field Artillery band, under the direction of Milo M. Shaver, a former Chelsea boy, will play a concert on the public square and give an exhibition drill on Chelsea streets during the evening. Forty players will appear here in the musical organization and a real concert is looked forward to.

The band, which is a Lansing organization, has been playing at Camp Grayling during the past two weeks. The fact that their director is a former Chelsea boy and still claims this as his home town, is responsible for their appearance here. In addition to the director, two of the players are local, E. J. Notten of Chelsea, and Ben Barber, Waterloo, having been identified with the band for several weeks.

People hereabouts who expect to hear the concert are urged to come to town as early as possible and get set for the program which opens at eight o'clock.

FRIDAY WILL BE CHELSEA DAY AT THE COUNTY FAIR

Business places of Chelsea will be asked to close Friday afternoon, September 2, in order that "Chelsea Day" may be observed at the Washtenaw County Fair on that date. Requests that Chelsea cooperate in the conduct of the annual fair to this extent have been received from fair officials, and to assist in carrying out the plan petitions will be circulated within a few days asking for the closing.

That Chelsea will have a special interest in the fair, especially on Friday afternoon is assured because a union choir of fair size will represent the town in a choral contest to be held in the administration building on that afternoon or evening. Rehearsals have been in progress and, under the direction of Miss Doris Schmidt, the choir is rapidly becoming quite efficient in the rendition of "Hark, Hark, My Soul" and the "Recession" numbers which the various choirs who are competing will be required to sing. This feature has created no little interest over the county and Chelsea stands a fair chance to present the best choir of the county. Only communities which compare with Chelsea in size will take part in this contest. Because of this feature and the fact that one day is set aside for Chelsea at the fair each year, it is to be hoped there will be 100 per cent cooperation in the closing movement.

STUDENTS MUST CLASSIFY FOR SCHOOL AUGUST 30-31

Students who expect to attend Chelsea high school during the 1927-28 term of school are requested to appear at the high school building on Tuesday and Wednesday forenoons, August 30 and 31, for classification. Announcement of Superintendent E. L. Clark states that it is very necessary that all students should classify on the appointed dates since regular school work will start on Tuesday, September 6.

NOTICE OF PRIMARY FUND APPORTIONMENT RECEIVED

The Sylvan Clerk has received notice from the Michigan Department of Public Instruction of the apportionment of the primary school funds for the various schools in the township. The apportionment is made from the reports of the school officers as made to the department September, 1926. The amount of the funds as apportioned is $12.55 per pupil.

The amount each district will receive is as follows:
District No. 2 Sylvan ..... $ 141.35
District No. 3 fr. Sylvan and Lima ..... 8710.83
District No. 4 Sylvan ..... 615.80
District No. 5 fr. Sylvan-Sharon ..... 179.90
District No. 6 fr. Sylvan-Grass Lake ..... 205.60
District No. 7 Sylvan ..... 205.60
District No. 10 Sylvan ..... 295.55
The above does not include the library fund which has not been reported as yet and neither has the Sylvan treasurer received from the county treasurer a check for the primary monies, but will probably receive both funds about the first of September.

A Heat Message From Mars

True, Mars will never heat your home or your person as well as the better known heat-producing planet, the Sun. But, the temperature of the War God's planet does have a direct influence on the temperature of the War God's planet.

A special instrument, called a thermopile by the technically minded, is used by Professor Coblenz, of the United States Bureau of Standards, to measure the temperature of Mars. An adaptation of this thermopile is used by the American Gas Association Testing Laboratory in testing the efficiency of gas-fired radiant heaters.

No emphasis need be given the delicacy of this particular instrument. Called upon to measure accurately the heat of Mars it enables the trained engineer at the Laboratory to check carefully the efficiency of the radiant heater before they admit it to the Blue Star Honor Roll.

When buying your radiant heater make sure it bears the Laboratory Seal—the Blue Star of Approval.

Editorial

WORTH ALL IT COSTS
It is estimated that 30,000,000 persons in the United States have enjoyed vacations averaging two weeks and that the total expenditure amounts to $3,000,000,000. That so many could afford to devote so much money to a matter largely of pleasure is a testimonial to the widespread prosperity which prevails. Railroad traffic has been above the average and summer resorts have had a highly profitable season. Tourist camps have been filled to overflowing. The national parks have had more visitors than ever before. All these things are taken into account in reaching the estimate, which, of course, is nothing more than approximate, since there can be no such goal as accuracy in such a matter.

That so many are able to knock off from the regular vocation and seek relaxation shows that as a people we are learning the value of a bit of leisure. We have a class which devotes itself chiefly to leisure, but the vacationists referred to are those who for the main part of the year are busily employed. The number of vacationists is all the more noteworthy since it must have included the farmers in but a small proportion and they are more numerous than any other class. The summer is the farmers' busy season and his leisure, if he has any, comes at other times. Next winter many of the tillers of the soil will hitch up the car and journey southward for a few weeks and will augment the numbers of the vacationists considered by the year.

The vacation idea calls for the employment of many thousands who cater to the wants of vacationists. This involves business of vast magnitude in itself and it has wide ramifications. What is one's period of leisure is another's time of activity. All of us could not take vacations at once. Somebody has to stay on the job to provide for the vacationists—and take in the money the vacationists have to spend. And the latter feature is attended to with promptness.

COUNTY FAIR SEASON:
The county fair season is here again and thoughts of the county fair invariably are conducive of pleasant recollections. The county fair originally was designed to make urgent and wholesome appeal to the agriculturists and in some sections of the state perhaps it still does strike the imagination of the agrarian, but in more recent years, it is impressive to observe, there has been a decided change both in the manner of conducting these county fairs and in their character.

City people have come to be the largest patrons of these institutions, though it is almost certain that the citizenship of the larger communities are drawn hither largely by curiosity rather than because they expect to come into more intimate contact with the farmer and his problems.

There are many evidences that we need to reconstruct our county fair programs in this commonwealth, in order the better to educate the man in the city with the affairs of his cousin on the farm. The county fair could serve a most useful and educational purpose if directors were inclined to stimulate a little more serious interest on the part of city people in the affairs of the great agricultural producing sections. This, manifestly, was the original intention of the county fair. There was a time when farm exhibits invariably drew thousands and public discussions about the stock exhibits and elsewhere resulted in a better understanding and knowledge among the farmers.

In an attempt to please both the farmer and the city resident fair boards have overlooked in a good many cases real needs which exist for getting back to "first principles." When this time arrives it goes without saying that it will mark an advanced step in making the county fair a useful and important part in our life as a great producing state.

UP TO PARENTS
The announcement of the intention of the American Federation of Teachers to work for a universal compulsory education law for all children under 18 years of age as a remedy for juvenile delinquency appears to be based on the assumption that moral delinquency may be prevented by quantity rather than the quality of instruction. It may be desirable that no child be permitted to end his schooling until the age specified, but adding a year or more to the compulsory age will not of itself operate to attain the end sought.

It is said that inadequately educated young persons are revealed to grow delinquent morally as well as in industrial and commercial advance, but by no means all of education is in the schools. By far the more valuable part is received in the home, if it be had at all. More schooling might help much but it would not do all desirable in diminishing delinquency. If the right kind of principles are inculcated even though schooling be ended before one is 18 there is very little peril of lapsing into delinquency.

Reminders that it is time to order Christmas cards is the first "shop early" warning.

The folly of trying to beat a train to the crossing is often demonstrated by a fatality.

FORESTS AND DROUGHT

Eminent foresters take the position that the cutting of Michigan forests has had much to do with the lowering of lake levels throughout the state in recent years. They contend that the forests serve as reservoirs for holding the moisture, letting it out gradually during the dry season and preventing floods when heavy rainfalls come. They claim that the steady seepage from the woods keeps the lakes at a uniform level, while the moisture in the depth of the woods is drawn up by the sun, causes local showers and keeps a perfect rotation of the water supply. If this is true the forests play an important part in the success or failure of our agricultural interests. Our various farm crops must have ample rainfall if they are to hold up to standard and if the rainfall is decreased by the cutting of our forests we are not only losing the timber, but we are cutting down our other crop production as well. If it is true that by depleting our forests we are reducing the rainfall we are also seriously affecting our navigation and water power possibilities. If these foresters are right in their contention that timber depletion is responsible for the lack of rain in recent years we already have paid a handsome price for our wastefulness and should take immediate steps to overcome this handicap that we have acquired as the result of our own folly.

DOES COURTESY PAY?

Courtesy to the tourists is an investment of something tangible that brings big returns. During the recent past several instances of where folks came back to this section for their summer vacations mainly because they liked the people here, and were so well pleased with the courteous treatment they received. Not only the outing attractions which they find in Michigan, they state, brought them back, but the congenial treatment received on other occasions induced them to seek this section again this year.

Merchants and their clerks, garage and other operators along that line, police officers, hotel folks and all others will find great return by exercising more than ordinary courtesy and attention to the nomads from other parts who find their way through this section, and following that policy constantly would easily earn for Michigan the title of "The Courteous State."

PHEASANTS EAT CUT WORMS
A farmer in Ontario thought that the pheasants were eating his corn. The game department killed two of the birds and examined their crops, in which were found 200 cut worms and no corn. It is a well known fact that pheasants prefer insects to grain food whenever they can get them.

Most men will back the no-smoking-by-women campaign if the campaigners will not ask any sacrifice by the men.

The speed limit in Constantinople is six miles an hour, but there is elsewhere it may be that drivers pay no attention to it.

A Southern Michigan man dropped dead in the postoffice after reading a letter. It was from his son in college, telling him not to send a check that week.

Judicious Coughing
The English clergyman who, in beginning his sermon, asked the congregation to cough only at the end of sentences, was heard, in consequence, to receive a good deal of sympathy. His idea was a good one, and it is capable of extension. The bronchial audience so often in attendance at operas and concerts might well cough, but it can usually be controlled, except in severe cases by a little well-timed "Philadelphia" in quiver.

Norway's National Saint
Saint Olaf, born in 1015, became king of Norway and was a stern opponent of paganism. He was deposed and the crown offered to Canute, against whom Olaf fell fighting. He was buried in Trondheim cathedral, and became the national saint of Norway.

Scottish Delicacy
Haggis is a favorite Scottish dish composed of mutton chopped fine and mixed with oatmeal, suet and spices. The whole is placed in a sheep's stomach and boiled for three hours.

Hunnish Invasion
Huns were a Mongolian race who invaded Europe during the Fourth century of the Christian era. They waged war with the Goths, then inhabiting central Europe, and drove them south into Spain, Italy and the Balkans, thus indirectly causing the destruction of the Western Roman empire. The Huns reached as far west as Gaul, now France.

More Worth While
The man who with a microscope tries to discover in his fellows blemishes and imperfections is engaged in a very unprofitable business. He would be far better employed if he used a telescope to find in them beauty and substantiality of character. - Grit.

Getting Down to Cases
After reading learned disquisitions upon optimism and pessimism we are still of the opinion that the difference between them are mainly a question of how the digestive apparatus is working. - Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Character Shown by "Five-Minutes" Test

Many things—the "placing" of one's eyes, shape of the chin, manner of walking, and so on—indicate character, but surest of all is the revelation made by "the happiest five minutes in the day" test.

Those who, when they go to bed, get a book, make themselves comfortable, sigh with content, stretch themselves, and can say, "This is my happiest five minutes," have mental power, imagination, foresight and self-reliance. They often have some outstanding gift, such as music, or painting skill.

Those whose happiest five minutes are the last possible five in bed in the morning are of strong character, but selfish and domineering. Those who confess that their happiest five minutes are spent when they sit down to their principal meal and let their appetite have full sway are, as a rule, "hard," but just. They are the "big" men of the world of business, with no nerves, and very level to their friends.

Men whose happiest five minutes are the ones given to a stroll around the garden and a pipe, before going to business, are of the nonambitious type. They are honest, loyal, generous, but not among the big-brained. They will follow, but not lead.

Lamps Guide Swimmers
Electric lamps under water have been found a good method of reducing accidents in swimming pools at night.

Cobra Deadliest Snake
The cobra is the deadliest of all snakes. If it has bitten four or five persons in a short period the sixth bite is not necessarily fatal. Other wise the victim dies in a few minutes.

Rules That Govern Kinship of Cousins

In answering a correspondent's query, "What relation are the children of first cousins to each other? What relation to me is my first cousin's child?" the Pathfinder Magazine says:

" reckoning cousin relationships is simple if you start out right. A cousin is one collaterally related by descent from a common ancestor, but not a brother or sister. Children of brothers and sisters are first cousins to one another; sometimes they are called cousins-german, own cousins, or full cousins. The children of first cousins are 'second cousins' to one another; children of second cousins are third cousins to one another, and so on. The child of one's first cousin is a first cousin once removed; the grandchild of one's first cousin is a first cousin twice removed, and so on. Confusion sometimes arises from the custom of some people who speak of the children and grandchildren of their first cousins as second and third cousins, respectively; but the practice is only local. The correct and almost universal rule for reckoning cousins is as we have given it."

More Important Than Laws
There is a movement on foot to establish uniform traffic laws throughout the country, but the biggest job will be to get them uniformly observed after they have been established. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

City Gave Name to Hats
Leghorn hats take their name from Leghorn, an important seaport of Italy and a strong naval station, in south of Pisa. Leghorn, with a population of 100,000, exports straw silks, wines and dried fruits.

What Is a Laxative?

Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A laxative performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasional use, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recnity but has its representation. Ask

SICK & DEAD

C. F. ST. AID

Remedies for sick soils will be displayed on a special truck fitted up by the soils department of Michigan
State College for a tour of several Michigan counties, according to announcement just made by John Sims, soils specialist.

Special emphasis will be placed upon the use of lime and green manure crops in a soil building program. Results have proved that profitable crops depend to a large extent upon the humus content of soils, and the growth of green manure crops is the most economical means of increasing the humus in a soil.

In order to grow a large tonnage of humus to be plowed down, many Michigan soils need lime. Specialists who will accompany the truck will make tests of soils and mail at each stop. As many as 18 meetings will be held in some of the counties.

The schedule as now worked out is:
Ingham county, August 31 and September 1 and 2; N. Michigan,

September 5 to 10; Oakland county,
September 12 through 16; Tuscola,
September 19 through 21; Genesee,
September 22 through 23; Jackson, September 26 through October 1; and St.
Clair, October 3 through 5.

Local county agricultural agents along the route of the "Soils Special"
are making arrangements for the various stops and are furnishing information to their local farmers on the itinerary for each locality.

Matter of History

Confirmed by Coin

Coin do more than throw corroborative light on historical events. In some cases they actually supply data missing in the records which would otherwise remain in the limbo of forgotten things.

There is an old tradition of the Christian church, for instance, that the Apostle Thomas, familiarly known as Doubting Thomas, went to India as a missionary. The Apocrypha contains a book known as the "Acts of St. Thomas," in which it is revealed how the disciple converted one Gondapharnes, king of India, to Christianity.

As far as history can tell us, no such king of India ever lived. But in 1838 coins were found in northwestern India bearing the name Gondapharnes. This tradition was corroborated and the apocryphal book found to contain the truth.

Shortly afterward other coins of the same period were discovered, lacking the name, but bearing a new inscription. The time it was "Great Saviour, King of Kings." No numismatist would go so far as to declare that this inscription refers to the king's conversion, but it may very likely be so. Crawford Wyman in the Saturday Evening Post.

Pumice Deposits Due to Volcanic Activity

Nebraska possesses extraordinary deposits of pumice. Virtually the whole state is overlaid by natural deposits of this substance, in all stages of consolidation, from fairly solid rock to the loosest dust.

Pumice is a volcanic product, and its presence in such large quantities in Nebraska and some adjoining states is taken to be evidence of former volcanic activity in that region. It is produced by the rapid expansion of gases in lava, due to sudden release of pressure, which either forms a very light, porous rock or may completely shatter the lava into dust, in which state it may be transported great distances by wind and deposited in drifts. In the western portion of Nebraska there are impure masses of it, probably deposited in this way, 100 feet or more in depth. Nearly all the pumice or the volcanic ash used in the United States is made into polishing powder or incorporated in abrasive soap. Other uses are the manufacture of semi-fused filling brick or mineral wool or cement and of a cheap kind of glass.

Literary Anecdotes

There was nothing that James Whitcomb Riley liked better than a cup of weak tea. Once when he and Edgar Wilson (Bill) Nye were eating chocolate soldiers after an arduous stage of lecturing, the talk turned to fame.

"The keystone of every famous author's glory is one character," said Nye. "Shakespeare achieved fame through inventing the character of Falstaff. Dickens is deservedly well known for his Samuel Weller. Thackeray created Becky Sharp. Now then, Mr. Riley, from what character of your invention did you obtain your reputation?"

"I got it Orphan Annie," answered Riley, who had not had more than three cups of diluted tea since dinner time. —Akron Beacon-Journal.

Important in Commerce

"Ramel" is the name of a fiber-producing plant and of the fiber produced thereby. The fiber is one of the strongest and finest known. The plant is widely grown in China, more or less in India and has been grown in California on a small scale. From China and India it is exported to various countries of Europe and to the United States. The fiber is employed in the manufacture of nets, cordage, gas mantles, underwear, canvas, dress goods, etc., and for embroideries. Some of the woven fabrics composed of it closely resemble those made of flax-linen in various characteristics, including appearance.

Elephants That Burn

Mixed metaphors are not by any means uncommon. Sometimes they are merely inept; occasionally they are ludicrous. In England the other day the Salford city council emitted a gem.

The question under municipal debate was whether Salford wanted to have an exhibition hall. There seems to have been a considerable difference of opinion. Said one speaker:

"I do not want the council to get their fingers burnt with a white elephant!"

Presidents for a Day

In March, 1849, the United States had three successive Presidents on as many successive days. James A. Polk ended his term March 3. President-elect Zachary Taylor refused to be inaugurated on Sunday, and he did not take office until March 5. As neither administration was in office, David Rice Atchison of Kentucky, president pro tem of the senate, served in the interim.

Appropriated Motto

"Ich dien" is a German phrase, meaning literally "I serve." It was originally the motto of John the blind king of Bohemia, who served in the army of the king of France and was slain in the battle of Crecy, 1346. The victorious English army was led by Edward the Black Prince, who appropriated the motto, which since that time has been the motto of the prince of Wales.

Double Jeopardy

The doctors have it all their own way. They've made life the only thing for which we have to pay as we enter and pay as we exit, too.

First Michigan Settlement
Sault Ste. Marie, settled by Father Marquette in 1668, was the first permanent settlement. The second was Mackinaw, also settled by him in 1671. Detroit was the third, being settled in 1701 by Cadillac.

Peer of Producers

Niagara falls is still the peer of producers of electric energy. Howard P. Quick, the eminent Canadian engineer, has gathered data on all the great falls of the world and finds that after making due allowance for water diverted to scenic beauty the Niagara falls can produce 3,800,000-horse power of electrical energy while under similar conditions the falls of Parana river on the Brazil-Paraguay boundary could only produce 2,600,000 horsepower of electrical energy and the falls of the Zambezi in Rhodesia, Africa, have a capacity of only 215,000 horsepower.

Got Through, All Right

Recently there visited in this city a genuine old Georgia "cracker" from the outlying piney woods section of that state. While here he attended for the first time in his life an Episcopal church service. Later he remarked to a friend:

"It was all as interestin' as a 'possum hunt. I never did know much o' what all the folks about me was a-do in', but I feel kept my wits about me an' fell an' riz with 'em every time." —Boston Globe.

Great Military Leader

Hannibal of Carthage was one of the great soldiers of ancient times. In 218 B. C., when twenty-nine years of age, he led an army of 100,000 across the Mediterranean sea, to Spain, and then marched his force over the Alps into Italy. Only 28,000 men remained with him, and yet for 15 years he maintained a war against Rome. He was finally compelled to return to Carthage; was defeated in the battle of Zama, 202 B. C., and finally committed suicide in Syria.
