FUNERAL SERVICES FOR DR. G. W. PALMER HELD TUESDAY

Pioneer Washtenaw County Physician Had Practiced Medicine Here for More Than Fifty Years; Laid to Rest in Oak Grove

Funeral services for Dr. George W. Palmer, aged physician and lifelong resident of Chelsea and vicinity, were held at the Methodist church here Tuesday afternoon. Rev. F. I. Walker, pastor of the church, and Rev. J. W. Palmer officiating at the services. Dr. Palmer passed away at an Ann Arbor hospital Saturday morning as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident Thursday forenoon, when a car driven by Dr. W. Faust, of Grass Lake, skidded into the car of Dr. A. A. Palmer in which the elder Dr. Palmer and Mrs. Palmer were riding. The accident occurred east of Grass Lake on US-12, while the Palmers were enroute to Lansing to attend a convention of health officers.

Dr. G. W. Palmer was a native of Lyndon township, Washtenaw county, being born July 24, 1848. He was a son of William and Charlotte Palmer. In 1877 he graduated from the medical department of the University of Michigan, and for more than fifty years he had practiced his chosen profession in Chelsea and vicinity. On April 12, 1878, he was united in marriage with Ida M. Collins, the widow who survives. Beside the widow there remain to mourn their loss, two sons, Leigh G. and Dr. A. A. Palmer, both of Chelsea; two brothers, L. B. Palmer, of Chelsea, and Perry P. Palmer, of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. W. S. Clark of Lodi, California; a daughter, Miss Florence Palmer, now a student in the nurses' training school at the University of Michigan.

DR. G. W. PALMER

Dr. Palmer, for fifty years, has been active in community and church affairs, and for more than 25 years has held executive positions with the village, the board of education and official board of the Methodist church. At the time of his death he was a member of the village council, treasurer of the board of education and a member of the official board of the church where he was a faithful attendant. He also was fraternally interested, being affiliated with Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M., Olive Chapter, No. 108, R. A. M., Chelsea, and the Ann Arbor Commandery, No. 15, Knights Templar.

In the loss of Dr. Palmer, not only does the family lose a devoted husband and father, but the entire community feels keenly the vacancy left by his passing. Fifty years of activity in his profession gained him the confidence of a host of patients who became friends, the trust of unlimited numbers of folks who came to him for counsel. His was the sympathetic understanding of one who shared the troubles of those who placed their confidence in him and he thereby won to himself an enviable legion of loyal folks, who gave him their esteem in life and paid homage to him in death.

The remains were interred in Oak Grove cemetery.

LIMA CENTER STORE SOLD TO DEXTER MAN

Frank Lemmon, who for the past several years has operated the general store at Lima Center, on Wednesday sold the store to H. H. Hackney, of Dexter. Mr. Hackney took possession of the store immediately.

Mr. Lemmon is undecided as to his future, and will continue to reside in Dexter until some other opportunity presents itself.

Auditing Committee—Miss Nina Crowell, Mrs. Leora Collins, Mrs. May Staffan.

Pianist—Mrs. Lola Dancer.

The evening's program opened with a talk by Raymond Armstrong, describing his automobile trip to Vermont, after which a poem was read by Mrs. Lola Dancer. This poem was written January 19, 1918 by Private Carroll B. Mansfield of Jackson, then a soldier boy in France, in appreciation of a Christmas gift from his fellow employees.

Two vocal numbers, "The Thrill of You" and "Among My Souvenirs," were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Burg.

Remarks by J. George Webster were followed by a reading, "The Submarine," by Mrs. Josie Johnson, and a piano solo, "William Tell," by Mrs. Mattie Woods.

ST. MARY'S PARISH TENDERS FAREWELL RECEPTION

With a large number of Catholics and non-Catholics in attendance, as well as visiting clergymen from this section of the state, Rev. Thos. J. Fallon, pastor of St. Mary's parish in Chelsea, was tendered a farewell reception in the Herbert J. McKune Memorial hall on Wednesday evening. Rev. Fallon will leave Friday for his new charge in Detroit, where he is establishing a new parish.

The evening's program consisted of music by the high school orchestra, the Burg family and the Kivans quartet, while spoken tribute was offered by various members of the clergy, including Rev. Command. of Ann Arbor.

Chauncey Hummel presided during the evening. Refreshments were served.

DANIELS' BUICKS CONTINUE WINNING STREAK TUESDAY

Handing the Fireside Industries basket ball team of Adrian, their first defeat of the season, Daniels' Buick Quintette continued their winning streak for the season. The game was one of those fast affairs which hold the interest of the crowd from start to finish, although at no time did the local team threaten to crowd the visitors. At the end of the first quarter the score stood in Chelsea's favor 14 to 2, at the half 18 to 8, the three-quarter period ended 23 to 14, while the game ended 29 to 18.

In a preliminary game the C. O. Class of the Methodist Sunday school defeated St. Mary's high by one point, the final score being 14 to 15.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, The great and supreme Ruler of the universe has in his infinite wisdom removed from among us one of our worthy and esteemed fellow-laborers, Dr. Geo. W. Palmer; and whereas, the long and intimate relation held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties on this board makes it eminently fitting that we record our appreciation of him; therefore,

Resolved, That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the aid of our council by service, and counsel, will be held in grateful remembrance;

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a life from among our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members of this body, and will prove a serious loss to the community and the public.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased, we extend our sympathies to them, and pray that God will comfort them in their sorrow.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed in the Chelsea Standard and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

Resolved, That the members of this body do hereby express their sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

Resolved, That the members of this body do hereby express their sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

EIGHTH ANNUAL MASONIC BANQUET ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Approximately Two Hundred Persons Assemble for "Program and Dancing at Public School Auditorium"

One of the most enjoyable parties ever enjoyed by local Masons and Eastern Stars and their wives and husbands, was given by members of Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M., at the public school auditorium last Friday evening, when approximately 200 persons gathered for the eighth annual banquet.

A splendid banquet was served by ladies of the Auxiliary of St. Paul's church at seven o'clock, with a menu of fruit cocktail, wafers, roast pork, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, buttered peas and carrots, pickles, apple pie a la mode, coffee and mints. Following the banquet a program of music and speaking was enjoyed. J. B. Cole, worshipful master of Olive Lodge, introducing B. B. Turnbull as toastmaster, who in turn, introduced the various numbers of entertainment. Several vocal numbers were given by a male quartet composed of E. E. Williams, A. B. McClure, P. F. Niehaus and J. H. Boyd, with Mrs. P. F. Niehaus accompanying at the piano.

The main speaker of the evening was Wilber E. Campbell of Detroit, prominently identified with Masonic work and business men's organizations of that city, and editor of the Mack Avenue Enquirer. Mr. Campbell contributed considerable humor to the evening's entertainment, but the main part of his address pertained to the ideals of Masonry, the responsibility of individual members and the part the ladies' organizations play in the building up of this particular fraternal body.

The last two hours of the evening's program was taken up with dancing, Shadford's orchestra, of Ann Arbor, furnishing the music.

Editorial

FROM MAIN STREET
Perhaps it is advisable at this moment to observe that Mr. Charles Lindbergh, famous in the news of the day as the world's greatest aviator, hails from Main Street. Born in Detroit, reared in Little Falls, Minn., and educated in the University of Wisconsin, he seems to be a Triple A specimen.

Exactly what this proves, if anything, this editorial will not attempt to say. However, it may have some relation to the fact that Sinclair Lewis, the novelist, who has won fame and fortune as a diagnostician of the spiritual diseases common to the human products of Main Street, is himself a product of Main Street. So are Carl Sandburg and Sherwood Anderson and Edgar Lee Masters, to mention a few other gentlemen of literary endeavors who have assisted in revealing the nature of Main Street. Others who have come from Main Street to achieve greatness in different fields are John J. Pershing, Henry Ford, James A. Reed, Charles G. Dawes, William E. Borah, Roscoe Pound and the Doctors Mayo.

And noting the emergence of these gentlemen of varied distinctions, followed by the emergence of Colonel Lindbergh, one may, without imprecision, ask the more intellectual of our young intellectuals, who are tormented by Babbitts by day and terrified by Babbitts by night, whether there is a remote possibility that the vulgar striving for improvement which so offends them is really the expression of a great and ardent spirit in a youthful people? And whether it underlies the achievements of such men as those noted and prophesies other achievement in the future? Main Street has no monopoly of genius and intelligence, but neither has Broadway, Wall Street or Fifth Avenue.

"TIGHT TROUSERS" IN OFFING
"Doing a cornstalk" as a stroll on the Cornmarket at Oxford is termed by students of that ancient university, in an exercise which promises to attract widespread attention if the change in masculine fashions there is as reported.

Oxford lads are said to be wearied of the flaring trousers which have run around the world from the banks of the Cherwell and Isis, and to be returning now to a mid-Victorian pattern modeled to the leg and having a strap under the instep of the shoe to hold them tight.

"What Oxford thinks today the world was thinking three-quarters of a century ago," once said an embittered critic of the famous institution. Poignancy is added to the observation by this reincarnation of bygone male attire in what may now justly be called a seat of learning. But whether Oxford is behind or ahead of the times in this matter of strapped trousers remains to be seen.

Thousands who don't know the Bodleian from the Bullingdon, to whom the names of Jowett and Spooner bring no appropriate reaction, are none the less all too familiar with what is meant by "Oxford bags." The new variety may yet be seen on the streets. For if Oxford is the home of lost causes in the mental world, it is also a potent influence in the cosmic trend of sartorial bifurcations.

With British dandies going back to the fashions of the mid-Victorian period and Parisians advocating popularization of knee breeches in brilliant satins and silks, and American beau brummels ready and willing to adopt any new mode no matter how extreme or freakish, the future may be sartorially interesting.

FRANKLIN'S GENIUS
The 222nd anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin comes at a time when there is a marked revival of interest in this genius of Revolutionary America. His country is rediscovering him.

The passing of generations has not dimmed him. He seems to tower more and more over his contemporaries as the perspective of history lengthens.

This is hardly because Franklin brought the lightning down from the sky, or because he collected data on waterspouts and earthquakes, or devised a remedy for smoking chimneys, or invented bifocal spectacles, or made a clock, or had more than an average knowledge of medicine.

Nor is it due to his political services, great as they were; nor to his publishing and printing activities; nor to his having signed the Declaration of Independence.

He was the first "civilized" public man in America. That accounts for his ever-growing fame.

It was the many-sidedness of Franklin, along with his humanity and his magnetism, that has projected

LOCness of him down to the present time. In his era, the man was a mid to set. There was nothing reactionary in his make-up, and yet he was not a radical.

Benjamin Franklin's enduring fame seems to rest upon the fact that he was so far in advance of his day and generation. He would not be lost in this modern world, nor be bewildered by it. It is in the many ways in which he differed from his contemporaries rather than in his kinship with them that he stands out from his time.

Free Touds as Prophets

It is quite commonly believed that the tree toad's loud, piping voice is a sign of rain. Like most weather prophets, however, he cannot be depended upon. The skin of the tree toad is very moist and is sensitive to the least increase of moisture in the atmosphere. He feels moisture in the air before most other creatures do and it is his practice to let the world know he is thankful for it. Where he fools people, or rather where people fool themselves, is in respect to the meaning of moisture in the air. It does not necessarily indicate rain, but many believe it does.—Exchange.

Presidential Yacht

In the days of Presidential luxury, which began with the Roosevelt administration, the yacht Mayflower was first applied to the purpose she has since served. President Roosevelt took over the vessel in 1902 by permission of congress. Upon her decks he introduced the Russian and Japanese commissioners who met at Portsmouth, N. H., and made the peace between their countries. Since then she has received the guests of four subsequent Presidents, and has served all of them as a part-time summer White House.

Costly Ship Models

The cost of models of war vessels varies with the type of ship. Models of dreadnaughts such as the North Dakota, which was completed in 1923 under the terms of the limitation of armaments pact, cost from $10,000 to $15,000 and sometimes take two years to build.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Ambros of Fremont, Ohio, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Seyfried.

E. J. Chaire returned home Monday evening from his farm near Wauseon, Ohio, where he spent several days of the past week.

Mrs. Carrie Young of Pontiac, was entertained several days of the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brosamle.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harper and family were entertained Sunday at the home of his brother, Ed Harper and family, of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Mabel Blum of Ann Arbor, is a patient in a hospital in that city, where she is receiving treatment.

Mrs. Bert Taylor of McKinley street is a sister of Mrs. Blum.

A. G. Hindelang was in Chicago, Monday and Tuesday, where he attended the Chicago Furniture Mart, world's largest exhibit of fine furniture and rugs.

A Ceremonial of Ann Arbor, Michigan, No. 7, I. O. O. F. will be held in their Temple, Saturday evening, January 21. A number of Chelsea residents are members of the organization.

John B. Oker, who is in the U. of M. hospital at Ann Arbor, is very ill with an attack of pneumonia. His daughter, Miss Mildred, was called to his bedside Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schieferstein were in Ann Arbor, Sunday, where they called on Mrs. Schieferstein's brother, Wm. Taylor, who is a patient in the U. of M. hospital.

Rev. Bruce Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hindman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grau, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eschbach and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Buss attended the tenth anniversary banquet of the Zion Lutheran Brotherhood at Ann Arbor, last Thursday evening.

Daniel E. Foley, retired, late inspector of maintenance of the Michigan Central Railway Co., died Monday morning, January 16, at his home in Jackson, aged 72 years. The funeral was held from St. Mary's church, Jackson, at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was survived by his wife, a sister and a niece. Mr. Foley was well known to many residents here.

Fire, evidently kindled by some wanderer by which he expected to keep himself warm for the night, was seen from South Main street about 9:30 Wednesday night, and the fire department was called to the old pent plant. It is said that while the fire department entered the front door the chilly one or ones vanished via the back door. Be that as it may, the only fire to be found was in a corner where kindling had been ignited, presumably for the comfort of the temporary lodgers.

The Kiwanis quartet made their radio debut Wednesday evening when they sang over station WJLM, Jackson. The quartet sang several numbers from 7 until 7:30, during which time the Jackson board of retail merchants was on an imaginary journey to Chelsea, via bus. The program was picked up by a number of local radio fans, some of whom telephoned the station while the program was being given.

The WJLM broadcast was on a wave length of 201.5 meters, which is low and difficult for some of the older model radios to pick up, especially when other stations are broadcasting on a wave length within a few meters.

"BACK OF BEYOND"

An African Novel

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Young Macklyn Keough's father was about to give his son up as a bad job, when the idea struck him to send the boy to Africa. He was placed in charge of an old Scotch hunter named Breck, who had secret maps to unexplored territory in the interior.

Old Breck believed that the boy had fine stuff in him, and they set out. On the way they ran across a young English girl, immensely attractive, who was living with her brother in the jungle. For some reason, Macklyn told her that he was going on a long and difficult journey which no woman could stand.

The rest of his life is bound up in the consequences of this taunt, for when he next sees her, it is under strange and dramatic circumstances that bind their fates together. The story of how she made a man of him is one which for interest and beauty is second to none of Mr. White's famous novels.

ENTIRE COMMUNITY MOURNS AT DR. PALMER FUNERAL

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at a local funeral gathered at the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon to pay homage to the memory of Dr. G. W. Palmer, Chelsea's aged physician. The body of the deceased lay in state at the church from one until two o'clock while friends and neighbors bade farewell to the remains of a lifelong counselor and adviser.

Barbed about the casket was a miniature mountain of flowers from a "host of people" who desired to express their appreciation of his friendship.

Dr. J. W. Balmer, superintendent of the Old People's Home, read from the scriptures, and offered prayer, after which Rev. F. I. Walker, pastor of the deceased, delivered an inspiring and comforting address, taking as his text "Now we see in a mirror darkly; then face to face. Now I know in part, but then shall we know even as also we are fully known." The speaker paid beautiful tribute to the life and ministrations of Dr. Palmer, and at the close quoted a favorite poem of the deceased—"The House By the Side of the Road," by Sam Walter Foss.

Those from out of town who attended the funeral were:

Dr. R. W. Palmer, Fairmont, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gott, Lansing; Mrs. Ada Sprout, Pinckney; Mrs. Marian Suyland, Mrs. Smith, Stockbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Claud Super, W. B. Collins, Geo. Whitaker and daughter, Fannie Hill, Gregory; Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Penny and son, Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Palmer, Gladys Passage Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sorrenson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cahoun, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Runciman, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Runciman, Chas. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leonard, Detroit; Mrs. A. B. Bitten, Brighton; Milo Updike, Edward Robinson, Dr. and Mrs. W. Faust, Grass Lake; Mrs. Nellie Gorman, Ann Arbor; Miss Lillian Hawley, Herbert Eder, Mrs. Burdette Brown, Jackson; and Galbraith Gorman, Dexter.

NORTH LAKE

Mrs. Homer Stoffer entertained the Sewing club at her home Saturday afternoon.

Ralph Delsenroth returned Monday to Jackson, where he has accepted a position for the winter.

Misses Lucy Webb and Florence Wright of Ypsilanti, and Dr. Harmon Webb of Detroit, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mester and daughter, Elsie, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mester, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren McDaniels and son, James, of Chelsea, visited at the home of E. W. McDaniels, Sunday afternoon.

Charles McDaniels was home from East Lansing over the week-end.

WASHTENAW COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers for the ensuing year and a talk by Dr. Carl E. Badgley, assistant professor of surgery in the University and in charge of the department of bone and joint diseases, University hospital, featured the meeting of the Washtenaw County Medical society held Thursday night at the Michigan Union.

Dr. F. A. Collier was chosen president, Dr. Theophilus Klingman, vice president, and Dr. Theron S. Langford was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Dr. Andros Gulde, Chelsea, was elected to the board of directors to fill a vacancy. Dr. I. D. Loree is the retiring president.

Discussing lesions of the hip joint, Dr. Badgley said that disease of the hip now can be placed in six different classifications due to the advent of the X-ray, whereas a few years ago the groups numbered two or three.

These classifications, he said, are congenital lesions, such as dislocations, and malformations; developmental lesions, including rickets and scurvy; infections, including tuberculosis and osteomyelitis; arthritis; fractures and dislocations, and tumors. The diagnosis of bone disease also has improved since the perfected use of the X-ray, the speaker asserted. His talk was illustrated with slides.

FINE $25,000 STRUCTURE WAS DEDICATED LAST WEDNESDAY

A large representation of Masons were at Henrietta, near Pleasant Lake, Wednesday evening of last week, where the new $25,000 Masonic temple was being dedicated. Masonic dignitaries from various parts of Michigan were in attendance, grand officers of the state participating in the dedicatory rites. The new building is a two-story structure of unique design, eminently fitted and well equipped to serve as a community gathering place. Henrietta lodge is recognized among the Masonic fraternity as one of the most active and enthusiastic lodges in the jurisdiction of Michigan, notwithstanding its location in a strictly rural community.

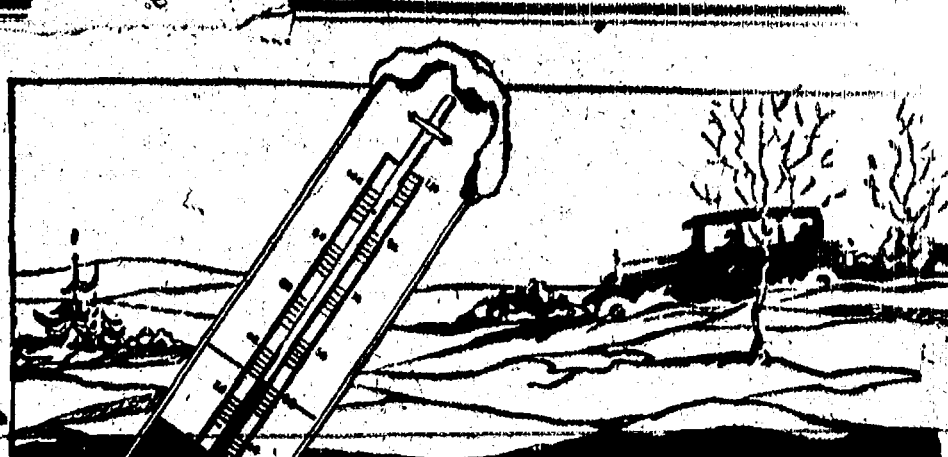

The building is constructed on lands contributed by a Mrs. Neddy, who also gave liberally to the building funds. Pleasant Lake lodge has a membership of 175 with 200 members in its O. E. S. organization.—Mason News.

CLUB MEMBERS TO TALK OVER STATION WKAR

Miss Leona Gale, member and leader of the Ridge Road Canning and Food Study club, will speak over the radio station WKAR, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Monday evening, January 23, at 7:15. She will tell the rest of the boys and girls, and other listeners, what 4-H club work has meant to her.

Leona has been a veteran winner of honors and trophies in club work for about three or four years. She recently won second place in the national Farm Journal 4-H leadership contest and also won three county championships in Washtenaw county during the season of 1927.

George Needham, leader of the Junior Swine Growers pig club of Saline, will speak over the same station February 27th. His topic will be "A livestock program which received its start in a 4-H pig club."

George has developed into one of the strongest competitors in the Poland China show ring in the state of Michigan. He took one-fourth of all of the prize money awarded in Poland China classes at 1927 Michigan State fair.

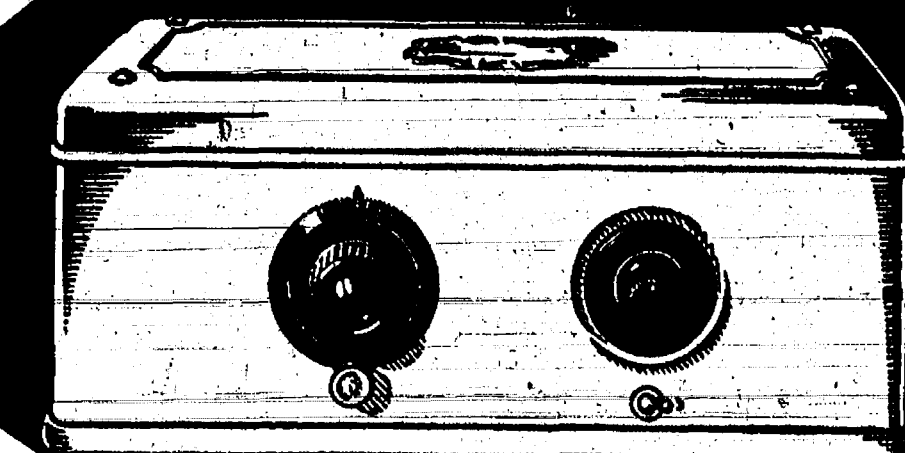

Various talks pertaining to 4-H club work will be given over station WKAR from 7:15 to 7:25 on January 23rd, February 6th, February 13th, February 20th, February 27th, and several dates in March and April.

Jack's Old Brass

Jack's Old Brass Kettle
By CLARISSA MACKIE

AS Jack Benson who named his new car the "Brass Kettle" of his friends hinted that he had Jack had bought the car who no longer new, and had given her a flippant name—and potter in her, thankful because he was any car at all.

He never denied this accusation, and seemed to find a lot of comfort in "Brass Kettle." The girls were rather upbush about right him.

He went and came, free as a bird at the old Cranbrook farm he said that he liked the home and plain ways, and even when growing bigger, brown like a young dog, than was much, as one irritated spinster hotel remarks.

One of the boys reported to Jack, he blushed awfully to Jack, here what he was

"I'm a white man," she assured him when, "and I do hope that you win the race!"

"I win it," he told her confidently. "Just because you have been in me and my old Brass." "At the start of the race people most strategic places along. When the pistol shot broke and the two cars started a shout of laughter that ran forward repeated. Asked for It

A resident in a street which was undergoing repairs protested about a pile of broken paving outside his front gate.

"Can't you take this away?" he shouted to one of the men on the job-an Irishman.

"Where will I take it?" asked Paddy, with a grin.

When the man told him clearly "Have you any space, he might take it. Mary?" she asked in her bit to heaven?

"Anything you are taking up or 'e more you care about?"

"Well, mum," replied the simple Mary, "I have been taking up with the baker's boy, but I don't know as 'ow I cares for 'im much!" - Weekly Scots.
