SEWER MASS MEETING WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Interest in Chelsea's Proposed New Sewer System is Increasing—People Anxious To Be Informed

The mass meeting which was held in the Sylvan town hall Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing the proposed sewer and disposal plant proposition was attended by about two hundred and fifty residents of Chelsea.

Mr. F. E. Stoen called the meeting to order. E. D. Rich of the state health department and two of his assistants, from Lansing, and Dr. Finkbeiner, representing George Champs, engineer in charge of the proposed system, were present.

The presiding officer called upon Mr. Rich as the first speaker, who said that from the brief investigation of his department of the specifications on file, there was no doubt but what they met with all the requirements for the present and would be adequate to care for the needs for several years to come. When asked if he thought that the proposed sewer and disposal plant could be built at the cost of $124,000 as the estimated price by the engineers, he replied that it could and he thought for less, judging by the costs of similar plants in other towns as shown by the files in his office.

Mr. Finkbeiner, of the engineers in charge of the work, showed a blue print of the system, which consists of two trunk lines. The one on the east side of the town to be built on Madison street and to the proposed location of the disposal plant, which is to be located in the north end of the town and where it will not be near any residence of any person. The west section will connect with the present sewer on South Main street at Lincoln street and west to Grant street, thence north to North street and in an easterly direction to the proposed location of the plant. The west section will require a pumping outfit, as the terminal will be below the east level of the tanks. The east section will be on a level with the tanks. The present storm system of the town will not be discarded but they will be used at present to carry the surface water into Mill creek.

Mr. Finkbeiner gave an outline of the necessary legal process that is required for bonding the village for $36,000 for the improvement and he answered many questions that were asked by the questioners. He stated that the remainder was to be paid for, aside from the funds at present in the village general fund was raised and the answer was that there were two ways that could be provided.

One was to assess the property benefited at a front foot basis, which would average about $80 per lot. The other was to spread the cost at large. However, the board of assessors to be appointed and the common council will probably determine the way in which the balance of the funds will be raised and the time that will be given the property owners to make their payments.

At the meeting of the newly elected council, held Monday evening, it was decided to have another mass meeting of Chelsea citizens on Friday evening, April 6th, at 7:30, at the town hall for the purpose of further considering the sewer question.

FORMER LIMA RESIDENT CELEBRATES 95TH BIRTHDAY

Ebenezer Smith of Scio township, recently celebrated his ninety-fifth birthday anniversary. He is a pioneer of Washtenaw county, says the Ann Arbor Daily News, having been born in Lima township January 16, 1833. He was the second of a family of six children, three boys and three girls, and he knew well the struggle of pioneer days. His mother died when he was but 14 years of age, leaving the family without the guidance only a mother can give. For many years he was engaged in farming, the oldest homestead having been divided among the three sons after the death of the father. He had been paid in cash for his interests. At the age of 17 years Mr. Smith decided to become a teacher and he taught three terms in district No. 1, Freedom, 11 terms in district No. 2, Freedom, 11 terms in district No. 3, Freedom, 11 terms in HAPPINESS AND HEALTH

In all societies man feeds more upon abstractions than upon facts. He is most content who finds his kingdom in his mind. Such was the teaching of the days when the right to the pursuit of happiness was written into the Declaration of Independence, and the doctrine is not yet dead. Yet the tangible and negotiable things are what appeal to most people in this age of utility and comfort.

There are any number of men and women, both young and old, in whom is a healthy, theoretical and practical factors in the securing of happiness.

The right to happiness can well be viewed through the bestowments which have come through an era of prosperity and progress. The ratio of happiness may not be higher than when the dictum of the Declaration was written, but it is certainly just as high in some people.

Despite spectacular crime and pillage, there never was a day of worthier enterprise with higher awards than exists in this country for the young man who is willing to do one thing—buckle his best intelligence to honest work.

Not all Americans find happiness in the accumulation of money, in increasing their business profits or in acquiring material possessions. It is not uncommon for young men and women of the severely criticized and depreciated jazz age to choose that path in life which gives them the most mental satisfaction though less opportunity to amass a fortune. They are the true creators.

CO-OPERATION HAS WON AGAIN

Co-operation among the people of any community can accomplish most any task desired. Co-operation on the part of the citizens of this village with the residents of the farming section surrounding Chelsea has made possible the purchase of a new fire truck to serve both the village and the farms. Those who have been in charge of the solicitation of subscriptions for this fund inform The Standard that the project is an assured accomplishment and that the final details will soon be completed.

This speaks well for the community, and really is rather refer to the matter as a community undertaking than to call it a rural project. In community projects all the people become interested—people of the village and people of the farms—and it is that fine spirit of co-operation and mutual helpfulness that is going to make this section more and more a delightful place in which to live.

The farmers who have subscribed toward the fund are to be commended for their assistance in this community project as also are those citizens of the village who have given the enterprise their endorsement and support.

In a community like this, village and farm must progress together and stand still together. Co-operation and proper spirit of helpfulness will work wonders. If Chelsea grows, the value of every farm in this section will be enhanced, because farm values and values of village property are determined by population after all.

BUY FROM HOME DEALERS

The housewife usually regards the peddler who comes to her door as a nuisance. But half the time she encourages him by the upside-down process of "buying something to get rid of him." She finds it easier, in the individual instance, to buy a package of bad needles, or a rug, or a rubber apron which turns out to be a second, than it is to listen to a stream of talk and force herself to argument as to why she should not buy.

Yet if all housewives of a given town were to unite in refusal to buy of itinerant salesmen for a year, they would find themselves left, long before the year was out, in peace and quiet to attend to their home duties without interruption and to do their marketing according to their own good judgment.

Use of your local dealers is a very wise policy. If they do not happen to have what you want they will gladly secure it for you.

WHO PAYS FOR SHORTER WEEK

It has been announced that a determined effort will be made this year for a five-day working week. This means the sacrifice of older men, less keenly alert men, victims of past industrial accidents, everybody who could not stand the swifter pace. It means a few hours more leisure for the swift, though they pay at a greater or nerve sacrifice and an earlier breaking point, but it means fewer jobs with the slower worker a jobless derelict on every labor market.

To maintain present production on a shorter work week, is to make no new jobs; it only throws out men who cannot get jobs under harder competition. But production along with the cut in hours, in order to give few jobs, is to increase costs to everybody; a desperate hazard, almost certain to destroy any industry that tries it.

JUST A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

Defending the American tariff policy, Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, argues that no tariff can accomplish the impossible or suspend operations of economic law—no act of Congress can arbitrarily and successfully defy the laws of the universe. "There is something out of nothing, alter human nature or create wealth."

Some people, he says, seem to think that an act of Congress can work miracles in any field of human activity, "while in truth, it can only create tendencies and help or hinder in the struggle of life or of nations. While our tariff laws are of course, not perfect, they are in the right direction, and safeguard many of our home industries from ruinous competition of low-wage countries."

If the people of Chelsea decide to create this tariff system this summer the system will provide a job for a good many people. That will help everybody.

SOUSA'S BAND A ST. FAIR ATTRACTION

Featuring two daily concerts by Lieutenant-Commander John Philip Sousa and his famous band of 70 internationally known musicians and soloists, the Michigan State Fair will open its 79th annual exhibition at Detroit Sunday, September 2, continuing through Saturday, September 8.

Sousa's band, noted for the playing of its famous director's march compositions, will be heard by the public at a 25-cent admission charge which includes entrance to the grounds and many of its attractions. Ordinarily, Sousa's concerts range in admission prices as high as four dollars.

On Sunday afternoon Sousa will give a sacred concert, following in the evening by a patriotic program assisted by Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girl organizations and units of the Michigan National Guard. No midway shows or amusements will be open on Sunday.

BEWARE OF THE STRANGE EYE-DOCTORS

Fake eye doctors are attempting to swindle residents in this county, according to the story of Harvey S. Day and Lenore Day, both of Augusta township, who have signed complaints in justice court for the arrest of two men known as Curtis and Gibson. Their methods are similar to those used in Eaton, Ionia and other counties recently.

Mrs. Day says she had an eye examination by one of the men who claimed to be a specialist and she was told that work valued at $1,400 would be done for $470 in her particular case. The "specialist" claimed, Mrs. Day had a trouble that would ultimately cause blindness, deafness and insanity and probably would be a victim of the plague within six months unless something was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Day became suspicious of the pseudo doctors when they demanded payment in currency, refusing a check.

Subsequent examination of Mrs. Day's eyes reveals she is not troubled with any eye diseases.

Several counties in the state have been having trouble with such specialists, —Washtenaw Tribune.

SIZED HIM UP

"I don't suppose you keep anything so civilized as dog biscuit in this one horse, run-down, jay town do you?" the tourist snarled.

"Oh, yes, stranger," the village merchant responded pleasantly. "Quite a few folks like you come through from the city, and we aim to have everything called for. Have 'em in a bag or eat 'em here?" —Boston News Bureau.

If you are a member of the Hoyt family—brother, cousin, aunt or uncle—you will want to attend the meeting of the Hoyt clan to be held in Lansing on March 27th, at the Y. M. C. A. building in that city. Luncheon at noon and business session will follow.

WINNING STORY EACH WEEK WILL BE PRINTED HERE THE FOLLOWING WEEK.

It takes courage and brains and industry to build a business of $500 into one to be expressed in six figures, with a state-wide reputation, but Charles Preketes did it, and he has done it all since 1911 when he took over a bankrupt little shop at 109 South Main street. He did all the work himself, and now he has from 30 to 50 others working for him, depending on the season. The little shop at first only had seven small tables. Since then he has added, first a little at a time, and then in larger pieces, until the former little shop includes 18,000 square feet of floor space on three different floors, with 50 serving booths on the main floor, and complete ice cream and candy-making factories in the basement and second floor.

Mr. Preketes took in his three brothers, Paul, Frank and Anthony as the business expanded, but the four soon found that they could not do the work of handling a candy plant which does a wholesale business throughout the state, and makes all its own ice cream, lunches, and candies for sale in Ann Arbor.

The Sugar Bowl, the Preketes' shop, is by far the largest confectionery in Ann Arbor, and it ranks among the largest of its kind in Michigan, and it is still growing. The last addition, made in 1927, nearly doubled the space on the ground floor, but even that change was not enough to care for the summer trade. Many cannot find room during the summer months, even with 50 booths in the store. The last addition was the fourth and largest to be made.

Mr. Preketes does not like to talk about himself. "Other people can judge you well enough," he says, so he keeps his personal work in the background, and is content to show folks his store and factory of which he is justly proud. However, he is willing to tell that he came to Ann Arbor 25 years ago, and his family is well established in the city. He is only 40 years old, and has expectations of seeing his plant and store at 109-111 South Main street grow much more before he gives up the active work of managing it. The next change will come in four or five years, he expects, when he figures that another addition to the shop will be a necessity.

MICHIGAN TO HONOR THE MEMORY OF JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

The name of the late James Oliver Curwood of Owosso, author, conservationist and at the time of connection with conservation work his death a member of the state conservation commission, will be commemorated for all time in Michigan, as the result of action taken by the state conservation commission in establishing a 30,000-acre state forest and naming it the James Oliver Curwood state forest. The land which will make up the beginning of this new state forest is between Potosky and Wolverine and was obtained by the state several years ago from the Cobb-Mitchell interests at Cadillac and the Kneeland-Bigelow Co. which lumbered off the land. The land now is cut over hardwood country and experiments during the last two years indicate that it is very adaptable to the raising of white pine. There is already a good second growth of hardwood on the property. Until now it had been set aside as a game refuge.

Commissioner Harry Whitley of Dowagiac, who succeeded Mr. Curwood on the commission, suggested the commemoration of Mr. Curwood's work.

It is the plan of the state to block out the new forest and when this work has been completed it will embrace more than 50,000 acres.

RURAL WOMEN STUDY WAYS TO EASE WORK

Farm women have no union hours, but more than 1500 of them in Michigan are trying out methods of lightening the tasks that they perform every day, according to the reports of home management specialists at Michigan State College.

One of the means of making the day's work easier is to adjust the heights of tables and other working surfaces so that they are the correct height for the person working upon them. To test the height, stand erect before the table and place the hands upon the top. If the palms lie flat on the table while the person's arms are held straight and the body erect, the working height is correct.

Stoves can be placed on blocks, and fuel boxes can have legs attached to raise them to a desired level. In lifting objects, less effort is required if both knees are bent in lowering the body to start the lift.

The home management specialists say that a housewife who lies down and relaxes a short time every day is exhibiting good judgment rather than rebellion against work. Women are also advised that the etiquette books do not require that such tasks as ironing, peeling fruits and dish washing be performed while standing. A kitchen chair or stool which is the proper height will save its owner a great deal of energy.

Warren C. Stoddard, former sheriff of Jackson county, and 24 of 28 other persons indicted a year ago on charges of conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition law, went on trial in the United States district court in Detroit, Tuesday.

The way was cleared for opening of the trial when Federal Judge Charles C. Simon Monday denied a defense petition to quash the indictment on the grounds that it is not specific enough in its charges and that the court is without jurisdiction.

Immediately after Judge Simon passed on the motion, three of the original 24 defendants pleaded guilty to the charges. Their previous pleas of not guilty, and sentences were deferred until the conclusion of the trial. The three are Harry Russell, former deputy sheriff under Stoddard, and Lawrence Boyce and Charles Phillips of Jackson. Another defendant, Harry Fuller, of Port Wayne, Ind., is dead.

Arguments on the petition to quash the indictment were heard Monday morning and shortly before noon Judge Simon took the matter under advisement until 3 p. m. when he announced his decision. Arguments for the motion were made by Richard Price of Jackson, a defense attorney, and it was opposed by John Watkins, district attorney.

All of the defendants to go to trial are under bonds. They include two other deputies under Stoddard and two former State troopers. One woman, Helen Coleman, of Jackson, is accused.

HANDICRAFT FURNITURE CO.

HAS ALTERATION SALE

The Handicraft Furniture Co., 337 East Liberty street, Ann Arbor, has an important announcement in today's Standard which our readers will wish to peruse. The company has inaugurated a great alteration sale in all departments of their immense store because of building operations now in progress. The present store building is to be greatly enlarged and when the new addition has been added the store will contain 22,000 square feet of space.

Naturally, it is necessary to move this great stock of furniture before carpenters and masons begin actively to tear down the present structure, which will be very soon. To move the stock quickly, specially low prices are being offered all through the stock.

PRINCESS THEATRE PATRONS TO HAVE REAL TREAT

"What Price Glory," One Of The Greatest Pictures Ever Filmed Will Be Here Next Week

Chelsea theatre patrons have a real treat in store for next week when the celebrated and thrilling picture, "What Price Glory," will be shown at the Princess Theatre for three nights, beginning Tuesday night, the 27th. No picture of recent times has attracted so much favorable attention or such large crowds.

New York rocked with laughter for more than a season at the comedy scenes in "What Price Glory," the William Fox screen version of the celebrated stage success by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson. The Queen Martin, the well-known critic of the country has been wonderful and return engagements have been presented in many places. Critics of the metropolitan dailies have been unanimous in their commendation of this supreme motion picture achievement. Queen Martin, the well-known critic of the country has been wonderful and return engagements have been presented in many places. Critics of the metropolitan dailies have been unanimous in their commendation of this supreme motion picture achievement.

I can only bend low in acknowledging a fine and great work by my appreciation for one of the grandest and things which have ever spent before a motion picture screen.

Plan to see this picture at the Princess next week. Take the family for all will enjoy its presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor, of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Taylor.

"RED RUST"

By CORNELIA JAMES CANNON.

"Red Rust" belongs to the tradition of novels which have pictured the elemental struggle of man with the earth and forces of the food. Its characters move against a background of the soil and the seasons. It is an epic of the pioneer spirit.

Matt Swenson, the son of a Swedish immigrant farmer in Minnesota, earns the misunderstanding of his neighbors and the neighbors by his day-dreaming and by a vein of gentleness, curiosity, and humor which sets him apart. He is given to studying the habits and characteristics of animals and plants, and conceives the idea of producing by selection a wheat superior to that grown by the other farmers. The breeding of this perfect wheat becomes the major passion of Matt's life, but the boy has much to learn of human passions and conflicts during his struggle with the forces of nature. A new family moves into the neighborhood, Jensen's brutality toward his wife and his experience in Matt's, whose impulse to protect Mrs. Jensen and her young children turns the story into absorbing human drama.

"Red Rust" is a volume of beautiful simplicity, in which the theme of unadorned genius is handled as seldom before. The result is a pastoral in a setting of strength—a moving, thrilling tableau of life in all its grandeur, its depravity, its multifariousity, in the great wheat lands of our Northwest.

OUR NEIGHBORS

Manchester.—A Mr. Way of Jackson, has purchased the J. F. Schable building here and will open a bakery about April 1.

Millan.—The merchants of this village have decided to close their places of business from one o'clock to three o'clock on Good Friday, April 6.

Leader.—Because of the fact that they had not placed a cash deposit with one of the local banks as requested, the village fire department had to refuse three calls into the country. In another case where a deposit had been made to cover costs in case of a fire, the call was answered and the property saved.

Brooklyn.—The limit in theory was approached last week when someone stole the front door off the Rhodes house west of Brooklyn on M-14. Several other items are missing from the house which has been unoccupied for several months. The farm is owned by Mr. and Mrs. David Walker of Brooklyn.

Adrian.—Sheriff Arch Wilson of Lenawee county, will continue to arrest truck drivers operating with overloaded vehicles on county highways in spite of reports that Frank Rogers, state highway commissioner, has frowned upon the arresting of drivers, the sheriff said Friday.

The board of supervisors upped Sheriff Wilson in resolution passed Friday.

Howell.—Out of the ashes of Loyce's Temple theatre which was destroyed by fire on March 1, Howell is to realize something far beyond its fondest hopes. We are informed that several of Howell's prominent and progressive business men have become interested in this proposition. As a result, a suitable location has been secured for a new and modern theatre. Democrat.

Ypsilanti.—Washtenaw county organization of the Council of Religious Education will hold a banquet at the Methodist church here April 27, it was announced today by Mrs. Charles Harris.

Washtenaw county superintendent of adult work. At that time the principal address will be given by Bernard Coggan, state superintendent of adult work, whose topic will be "The Adult and Religious Education."

Brighton.—Quite a little excitement was caused on the M. & D. Burgess farm, 1 1/2 miles north of Hartland on U. S. 28, a few days ago when a deer was chased and brought down by a dog in one of Mr. Burgess' pasture fields. The animal, a doe weighing about 125 pounds, is thought by game wardens to be the same, to have come down from the north, as it sustained half head wounds and showed marks of long travel.—Argus.

Party of Government engineers inspecting Boulder Canyon dam site on the Colorado River where it is proposed to erect the world's largest flood control dam. The project is unique in that it is to be financed entirely from the water and hydro-electric power it will make available.

With the Colorado River threatening to break over its banks and permanently destroy a dozen towns, the homes of a hundred thousand people and a million acres of fertile farm land in Arizona and Southern California, the Department of the Interior is preparing to push forward the construction of Boulder Canyon flood control dam immediately upon the adoption of legislation now pending in both houses of Congress.

Boulder Canyon is situated 125 miles below the Grand Canyon and is in that section of the river that forms the boundary line between Arizona and Nevada. According to plans already prepared by Department of the Interior engineers, Boulder Dam will be 550 feet high and will create a reservoir 80 miles long and 30 miles wide, capable of holding 28,000,000 acre feet of water. It will be the world's largest dam and will be twice as high as the largest dam now in existence.

Acting on the recommendation of Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior, authors of pending Boulder Dam legislation have written into the bill a provision which specifies that the government is not to expend a single dollar on the project until the Interior Department has received from private and public agencies in the Southwest sufficient contracts for the sale of water and hydro-electric power rights to guarantee the return of all money expended on the dam plus interest.

Construction of Boulder Dam will provide a site for the development of a million horsepower of hydro-electric energy, according to government engineers.

Legislation providing for Boulder Dam has been favorably passed upon by the house committee on reclamation and is scheduled to come on the floor of the House for action the latter part of March, it has been announced by Congressman Addison T. Smith, chairman of the committee.
