CHELSEA KIWANIS CLUB ARE HOSTS AT BANQUET

Members Entertain Their Ladies and Guests At A Delightful Dinner and Dance Monday Evening

One of the most enjoyable social functions of the season was given at the public school auditorium on Monday evening when the members of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club entertained their ladies and a number of invited guests at a banquet and dance. Guests began to arrive about 6:30 and at seven o'clock they found their places about the attractively arranged tables; the Kiwanis colors and most inviting spring flowers making them most inviting. A orchestra under the direction of Wesley Smith furnished music and the guests were being seated and rendered a most enjoyable program during the serving of the beautiful repast. Rev. A. W. Stalker of Ann Arbor offered the invocation. The dinner was served under the personal direction of William G. Kolb of Kolb's restaurant and was all that could be desired. Teachers and young ladies from the high school served the guests in a most gracious manner.

In addition to the music by the orchestra, community singing under the leadership of L. P. Nicholas, with Mrs. Nicholas at the piano, was enjoyed and all joined heartily in that feature of the evening's festivities. The first number was a rollicking song which we're here for fun right from the start.

So drop your dignity, just laugh and sing with all your heart. And show your loyalty. May your loyalty be forgot, but this night be the best you'll see. Join in the songs we sing to-night be happy with the rest.

This was followed by that "sweet refrain" so familiar to everybody—"Hail, hail, the gang's all here" and it was a happy "gang" at that. The ladies were then asked to sing and they entered into the spirit of the occasion right loyally. They sang "The more we get together, get together, get together, the more we get together the happier we'll be."

For your friends are my friends, and my friends are your friends, the more we get together the happier we'll be.

Other numbers were sung during the evening, but the outstanding feature of the enjoyable "songs" was the number rendered by the club's new quartet composed of Con Lehman, Lee Palmer, A. L. Steger and P. G. Schable, who sang that familiar classic "In the sweet" in a manner that brought forth generous applause—and some other things. The singing of the "silver voiced four" was a revelation to the banqueters and it dispelled a great amount of gloom in Kiwanis circles. For some time it has been feared that the Kiwanis quartet, which had become popular both at home and abroad, would cease to function because of the removal of one of its members from Chelsea, but that fear has now subsided and Chelsea is assured a "singing four" who will continue to carry the Kiwanis banner.

The slogan of the Kiwanis Club is "We build," but no one seemed to realize that singers with melodious voices were being trained at the weekly meetings. But such seems to have been the case.

When all had been served the assemblage was called to order by President L. G. Vogel, who stated the program would be in charge of E. L. Clark, who announced the various numbers. The first number was a marinibus solo by Miss Katherine Fletcher, who responded to the generous encore given. Mrs. Vincent Burg sang two solos, which greatly delighted all. James Breakey, a member of the Ypsilanti Kiwanis Club, rendered a number of piano solos from Mozart, Chopin and Mendelssohn and he received a great ovation at the conclusion of the numbers. Rev. A. W. Stalker of Ann Arbor, the popular pastor of the First M. E. church, was the speaker of the evening and he entertained his hearers for an hour with an address upon the subject of education—the kind one receives from contact and association, from experiences and accomplishments. The address afforded the banqueters a rare treat, because who can sit in a room without being inspired to better thoughts and better living.

Mr. Breakey favored the company with two other piano numbers and the tables were soon cleared and dancing was enjoyed until after midnight. The music furnished by the local orchestra was generously applauded by the merry dancers.

Twenty-one delegates were chosen to a state convention to be held in Bay City, May 9th, and among those thus honored was Supervisor George W. Beckwith of Sylvan. ## CHELSEA'S BASE BALL LEAGUE BEING FORMED

Chelsea's Base Ball Season To Open April 30th With Eight Teams At Play

The fans are becoming impatient and after many conferences it has been decided to open Chelsea's base ball season on Monday, April 30th, weather permitting. At a recent meeting of representatives of the several teams it was decided to move the bases and pitcher's box two and one-half feet, and to have the players wear steel spikes in their shoes. J. Munro is president of the organization and B. I. Plankell is secretary and treasurer. Harry Lyon, Chet Miller and C. Bahmiller have been appointed a committee to care for the grounds.

There will be eight teams in the league this season—Congregational, Oddfellows, Methodists, American Legion, C. R. Club, St. Paul's and Knights of Pythias. Schedules for the games will soon be arranged and they will be posted at The Standard office for the inspection of team managers at any time.

There will be a meeting of those interested at Miller's barber shop to-night—Thursday, at 7:30—to make final plans.

In former years the games have created a great deal of interest and have furnished good wholesome sport and it is the desire of those in charge of this affair this year to receive all possible fans. There will be some fast and snappy teams step out this season when the umpire sounds the whistle. There are those who have already picked the winners, but we shall see if their far vision is not defective.

Local fans are urged to make a note of the opening game—Monday night, April 30th, at 6:30.

DEAD MAN FOUND ON U. S. 12 SUNDAY MORNING

Was Evidently Walking Along The Pavement When Struck By A Car Driven By South Lyon Man

Ross Axford, of the Sylvan Estates Golf Club, while driving eastward on U. S. 12 about seven o'clock Sunday morning discovered the body of a man lying on the south side of a highway, about half way between the houses of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dance. Mr. Axford notified Deputy Sheriff Atkinson, and accompanied by his son George, Justice of the Peace Howard F. Brooks, acting coroner, and George P. Staffan, at once drove to the scene of the accident. They found the body frozen stiff, and they also found that the man had been struck with sufficient force, so that his oxford had been torn from his foot and thrown over the highway fence into the field, and a sack of crackers were strwn along the road near the dead man.

The body was brought to the funeral home of Geo. P. Staffan on Park street.

Shortly after the dead man had been taken into the Staffan funeral home, Deputy Sheriff Floyd Genter from the sheriff's office and Sergeant S. H. Mortenson of the Police department of Ann Arbor arrived in Chelsea and viewed the body. The sergeant stated that a resident of South Lyon reported to the man in charge of the night force in Ann Arbor that he had struck what he thought was a dog above where the man was discovered. He drove to his home in South Lyon and after telling his wife of the occurrence returned to Ann Arbor and informed the police department of what had happened. Accompanied by a policeman the two drove to Chelsea and returned to Ann Arbor but did not discover anything along the roadside. In his statement to the authorities, the driver of the car stated that he had dimmed his lights in order to meet a car that was going westward and did not see anything ahead of him, but felt quite a jolt and thought that it might have been a dog on the roadway. One of the glasses of his head light was broken and was picked up by the driver.

Papers on the dead man's person identified him as Erich Nitslaff, who was born in Hohenkitch, Poland, April 25, 1900. The certificate showed that he had applied for American citizenship papers, April 12, 1927. He was employed on the farm of Mr. Schaller, who resides on rural route 5, on the Plymouth road near the gravel pit about three miles from Ann Arbor. A letter from his sister in Germany was also in his effects.

Deputy Sheriff Atkinson informed The Standard that he was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prudden to take charge of a man who was walking eastward on U. S. 12. That the man had entered the car of Mr. Erich Nitslaff, who was making a call at the Prudden home. As she left the house she discovered that someone was occupying the vehicle.

Mr. Prudden was called and when the occupant got out of the car he crossed the road and entered the barn where he laid down. Mr. Prudden then called the officer. Mr. Atkinson brought the party to the village lock-up which was occupied by two so-called tourists. About eleven o'clock when he went to lock the door for the night he discovered that the man had disappeared.

A. K. Collins, the night telegraph operator at the passenger station, who went on duty about mid-night, discovered the man in the waiting room and as he was sick at the stomach he chided him for soiling the floor, following which the party left the premises.

From all indications the man, when he left the passenger station, started for Ann Arbor, and it is thought that the accident happened about two o'clock in the morning, and after the hour reported by the South Lyon resident. The distance from Chelsea to where the body was found is about three and one-half miles east of the village.

An examination by Dr. A. Gulde disclosed the fact that the man's neck was broken and some of his ribs were fractured. Acting Coroner Brooks de-termined that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was removed to Ann Arbor and an undertaker was retained among his effects was $113.69 in his purse.

After the arrival of the body at Staffan home in Ann Arbor, the prosecuting attorney ordered the funeral director to hold it for further investigation.

The funeral was held Tuesday.

FOREST WEEK IN MICHIGAN

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation in which he has designated the week of April 22 to 29th as National Forest Week. Michigan is realizing the great importance of a proper observance of the week have also joined in the movement and the week will also be known as Michigan Forest Week.

Sometimes when we think of reforestation we are inclined to feel that it is a job for the other fellow, but in these days of farm owners and home owners can do toward helping this great movement. As one rides about the country they are impressed at the lack of tree planting along the highways, and in the yards. Yards that ought to be made attractive, and could be with but little expense, are barren of trees or shrubs. Village homes that might be made beautiful with a few shrubs are neglected year after year.

Why not resolve this year to plant some trees and shrubbery about the home place and thus add your part to the reforestation movement and at the same time add to the attractiveness of your home.

More and more people are coming from the cities to buy farms in this section and a few well selected trees and shrubs will do a great deal toward attracting buyers who will pay a good price.

CLEANING ILLINOIS

The nomination of the Deneen ticket at the Illinois primaries—Emerson for governor, Glenn for Senator, and Spooner for prosecuting attorney of Cook county—must be interpreted as great moral victory. At last the electorate of the state has repudiated the Small Smith-Thompson forces, and all of evil for which they have stood. Frank L. Smith, twice rejected by the United States Senate on charges of excessive campaign expenditures, will no longer be a blot on the state's escutcheon. The people of Chicago show that they are emerging from the hypnotic trance in which Big Bill Thompson has held them. That would at least save us from the second revolutionary war which Big Bill's Angliomania might have precipitated.

For the state at large it is a step toward the political house cleaning so badly needed. For the city of Chicago we hope it will mean an end to the reign of terror by bootleggers, hi-jackers, gunmen and their ilk which has marked the "wide open city" of Thompson's campaign—and a reward for it the unenviable sobriquet of "the most corrupt city in the United States."

HIGHWAYS OF PEACE

Legislation is proposed in Congress which would create a national highway fund of $407,941,145 from the money obtained from maturation of bonds accepted from France as payment for surplus war material, highway equipment and supplies. This money would be distributed to various states and such states would not be required to contribute more than 20 per cent of cost of highways so constructed.

Good national highways in conjunction with county roads, are one of the nation's greatest assets. They bring the states closer together and make agreements easier on national problems.

Using money from sale of surplus war material, to build highways of peace is a worthy project.

THE MAN FROM THE COUNTRY

Why do so many men from "the country" wind up in the chief executive position in industry and in public office?

Probably because they develop a stronger physical constitution and a broader education on many and varied lines of human endeavor and activity. The average man raised in the city does not have the same opportunity for mental and physical growth.

The man who gained his early training away from the great centers of population generally has a broader vision of human affairs, and a better mental "yardstick" with which to see and measure the possibilities of the future.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week will be observed throughout the country as fire prevention week, and that means that every citizen is urged to take an interest in this matter. It is a good time to look after the chimneys and the stove pipes that have been in use during the winter and to clean up any accumulation of rubbish that may be about the premises. A little time spent now in preparing for summer, and in an effort to prevent fires, may save a lot of time later in the season when every thing becomes dry.

Holy writ tells us that if a man is diligent in business, he shall stand before kings. Well, this familiar scriptural saying is being admirably illustrated in the case of Henry Ford, who with Mrs. Ford, is visiting in England. King George not only has become greatly interested in Mr. Ford's visit and in his views concerning international questions, but the House of Commons gave a dinner in his honor. Monday night which was attended by many members of that distinguished body and by members of the royal family.

As everybody expected when he was acquitted of killing his wife, George Remus, the king of bootleggers, is now legally sane to go about as he pleases, to violate every law on the statute books and to steal and kill as he desires. Is it any wonder that we sometimes lose faith in the justness of our courts?

St. Johns—Ground broken for construction of milk station at Sandusky Milk Products Co. on North Clinton avenue.

Jackson police officers raided thirteen places Saturday and Sunday and arrested 80 persons.

THE OLD MILL IS GONE

The neighborhood blacksmith shop has followed the neighborhood mill into oblivion. They were two picturesque institutions lost to the country.

At a recent meeting in Dowagiac, George Melvin, a past resident of the Operative Millers' association of America, said only one mill survives of more than a score in Southwestern Michigan that flourished when he was learning his trade 30 years ago.

Poets and singers have found a theme in the old mill wheel, the old mill by the stream, the busy miller and the revolving mill stones. Here and there one of the old mill buildings survives, but the wheels are idle and the water rushes through flume and waste gate without service to man.

The neighborhood miller lost out in competition; the big, centralized industries with their aggregations of capital, better facilities for buying, milling and shipping have taken possession of the field. Some people say the loss of the little old mill is a misfortune. The flour is whiter now, but there are those who insist that the products of the grinding by the old mill-stones were better for the health of the people. Probably the modern millers will dispute this, and the old miller is gone at any rate, the thrill of going to mill with a grist, remembered by the older generation, seldom can be experienced nowadays. Detroit News.

Yes, the old mill has gone, but in its place we have in some localities at least, the modern flour mill, which can make more flour in a day than a dozen of the old-time mills could make. Chelsea is fortunate in having one of these modern mills and its product finds a ready sale in the best stores of the state. Many car loads of choice wheat are shipped here from distant points to be converted to snowy white flour, because it is impossible to secure wheat in sufficient quantities in this section. It is a fine enterprise for Chelsea.

Who remembers the days of the old mill when it required all day and sometimes longer to go to "mill with a grist"; when the head of the family would make his annual or semi-annual pilgrimage to the village mill, and come home late at night with a dozen of flour, middlings and bran. While you were waiting at the mill for your grist, it was great sport to fish in the pond or the creek near by. But now the ponds and the creeks are being used for other purposes, and our modern mills are being operated with steam or electric power. Memory may family cling to the days of the old mill, but they could scarcely serve us in this day and age.

The modern mill is a twentieth century enterprise, strictly up-to-the-minute in every department and its products are the best that have ever been produced.

The old mill has gone with the old horse and wagon, with the cradle and the scythe, with the days when mother made butter and did all the baking for the family. Those days are gone and gone forever.

MARY PICKFORD IN "MY BEST GIRL"

Coming To The Princess Theatre For Two Nights And Matings—Everybody's Favorite

Mary Pickford apparently believes that modern film audiences like wide variety in their pictures. In the past few years Miss Pickford has made a romance of Spain, a story of Old England and a drama of an "orphan farm," and now in her current vehicle, "My Best Girl," she uses the modern five-and-ten-cent-store as the background for a comedy. The picture is shown at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, April 25 and 26th, with a matinee after school on Wednesday.

In keeping with the present day demand for humor, Miss Pickford secured the best obtainable staff of specialists to build up every possible opportunity for a laugh. Sam Taylor, whose work with Harold Lloyd has made him the most outstanding comedy director of the day, had charge of the megaphone during the filming, and three of the foremost comedy constructors in Hollywood, Tim Whelan, Clarence Ickes and Alton Neill, exercised their talents to great advantage.

But comedy alone is not the only unusual feature of the picture. The appeal of an "idiotic" boy-and-girl romance is utilized, Charles Rogers, the young Famous Players-Lasky sensation, playing the youthful hero. Notable camera effects have been introduced by Charles Rosher, who has been Miss Pickford's camera-man for the past ten years and who spent nearly a year in Germany studying the newest photographic technique for use in the film.

HEALTH CLINICS TO BE HELD IN THE COUNTY

To insure every child who will enter school in September for the first time, the best physical fitness, the get-ready-for-school health examination will be conducted again this year in a number of Washtenaw county towns. Clinics are planned to serve the whole county and are to be held in the town centers. They will be held at the following places:

April 27—Friday—2 to 4 p. m.—Saline village school.
April 30—Monday—2 to 4 p. m.—Dexter village school.

May 2—Wednesday—2 to 4 p. m.—Manchester village school.
May 3—Thursday—2 to 2 p. m.—Milan village school.

Child specialists from the department of Pediatrics will assist at these clinics. Parents in this section will do well to keep these dates in mind.

Mason—Consumers Power Co. plans to extend lines 2 miles southward from this place.

DODGE BROTHERS DELIVER EXCEED FACTORY QUANTITY

With the added stimulus that has been provided by the introduction of the new low priced Standard sedan deliveries by Dodge Brothers for the week ending April 17, country and Canada, excellent shipments by 67 units, according to John R. Lee, general sales manager of the company.

Retail sales of cars and trucks totaled 6,232 units, which exceeds week last year and set a new mark for 1928. Factory shipments dealer reports show an increase in sales of passenger cars and trucks over the corresponding week of 1927. Last week's retail deliveries were 18 per cent over those of preceding week, and 32 per cent of those for the same week last year.

Alber has secured a contract amounting to about $3,000 for plumbing. The main building is to be 40x100, there will be two cottages 40x80, and a large garage, and a bath-house on the shore of the lake are to be erected after the main building is completed. As yet no contract has been let for the steam heating plant.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

Chase S. Osborn, former governor, uses the occasion to prove his contention that the boys and girls of today are more honest and morally better all around than were the boys and girls who grew up with him. The songs of the boys of the olden times were coarse and vulgar, he says, and they were "bad" stories. Vice reports, in small cities and villages, as well as the big towns, were wide open. "We fought in church, while a bit earlier men and women fought about the war at all gatherings, and there were riots at every election." As for the girls, many at an early age began to "kiss" the boys and to corner and kiss them when occasion offered. Yet Mr. Osborn says that few of them went to the bad; some of the worst of them are today men and women of prominence, with recognized integrity and responsibility.

Cupid Busy in Beth's Garden

By CLARISSA MACKIE

COURSE the old Mordant place had a garden. Beth remembered coming there years ago with her mother, before Uncle Jeffrey died. The flowers were so marvelous and the garden so weedless that they appeared almost unnatural to the young girl and her mother, who lived in a small cottage near by.

When Uncle Jeffrey died Beth and her mother found that his beautiful property had been left to them—but there was not money enough to keep it going. Every year Mrs. Mordant divided the tiny income so that there was just enough to live on, and nothing was ever left for the garden. People whispered that there must have been more money for Uncle Jeffrey was very rich, and grew quite miserly in the last year of his life, and they declared that some-where about the old place he had hidden either one large sum or many smaller ones.

One day a good-looking man came to the door. Mrs. Mordant met him and greeted him pleasantly. "Mr. Smith, who said he was your lawyer, suggested that I come and see you about clearing up your garden and lawn in return for my board," he told her frankly. "I had pneumonia in the late winter and I really had to get outdoors work to keep me out of bed. I was standing near the lake yesterday, and I cannot understand how I spent money for a vacation. Your pleasant voice grew wistful as he scanned the delightful old neglected garden. "It would be a wonderful opportunity for me," he added, "but you may have other plans."

Mrs. Mordant did not hesitate. "If Mr. Smith says here you are certainly welcome—my daughter and I were just discussing the needs of the garden." Then she introduced Bruce Wayne to Beth and went to the house to select a room for him. "Mother," said Beth one August morning, "remembering is so beautiful to do come out and witness the cleaning out of the large fountain. Bruce is going to do that next."

Bruce whistled off his hat and grinned delightedly at the woman who had been so kind to him for several months. He had brought a deep vicarious cheer from the fountain command and soon Mrs. Mordant was comfortably settled and watching the young couple, who worked together so harmoniously. She was wondering whether her daughter, Beth, cared at all for the embryo doctor, who's heart was in his blue eyes whenever he glanced at the lovely girl. There was no doubt that Bruce Wayne had lost his heart to her gentle Beth, and she sighed a little as they worked so happily together, because she was thinking about the lack of money and the years they would have to wait.

Bruce had a large hammer and was working on the fitted base of the fountain when the "clunk" he thought when the section had been removed and the rusty stained proportions of the fountain were revealed. "Are you going to pull the fountain, Bruce?" asked Beth's mother. "It should be painted, don't you think, Mrs. Mordant?" And then, bending over the deep basin he lifted out a big and rusty steel box. "What the deuce do you suppose this can be?" he queried. "Buried treasure?" He set it at Mrs. Mordant's feet.

"Oh, Bruce, smash it open," begged Beth. "Perhaps that is where poor Uncle Mordant hid his money." A few blows of the stout hammer opened the rusty box. Inside of that was a huge rubber pocket which held the missing wealth of Uncle Mordant. They sent Bruce for Mr. Smith, and during his absence, Beth confessed to her mother that she and Bruce loved each other and that he had asked her to marry him. "And I want to, mother darling," sobbed the girl, "even if we are quite poor at first. You understand, don't you?"

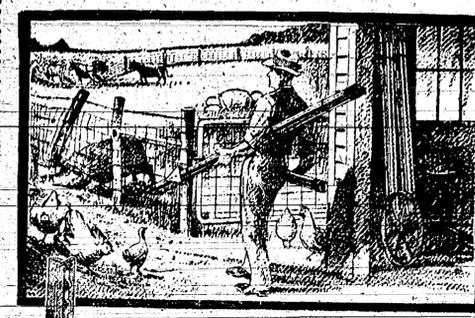

Mrs. Mordant nodded happily, and then the two men appeared and Mr. Smith checked up the contents of the old box. "The missing securities," he said. "You see there was about a hundred thousand missing—and here it is!" Bruce Wayne looked very glum. After the lawyer had left, Beth's mother said to him: "Well, Bruce, aren't you going to give up your good luck?" "Oh, yes, Mrs. Mordant—of course, only you see, well, I'm so poor—and Beth's a rich girl now." "But, Bruce," said Mrs. Mordant, smiling understandingly, "the money's really part yours—you found it." And she went off to the house.

Bruce turned stammeringly to Beth. "Don't you see, dear," she said, "if you hadn't come into my garden we might never have found that money. So it is part yours—it's ours." And so when Bruce left her garden, Beth had promised to wait for him to finish his training, and he had promised to start out his professional and married career in the old Mordant home.

KEEP SURFACE CLEAN

After cornstalks and stubble have been turned completely over, it is necessary that they be kept there. The surface must be kept clean so that the borers, when they come up, will not have any refuge to crawl into. The roller or cultipacker is well adapted to preparing the seed bed as it does not drag corn remnants to the surface.

Every Time a Fence Breaks You Lose Money

POSSIBLY it's only part of the crop, perhaps the stock that breaks through dies from gorging or is maimed or killed. Either way you lose enough to pay for many rods of sound, tight fencing. Be prepared for such emergencies. Keep a few RED TOPS handy on the farm. Strengthen at once the weak spots that develop in your fence lines. Replace rotting wood posts with RED TOPS. This makes the fence stronger and saves losses.

WASHTENAW BROTHERHOOD MET IN CHELSEA SUNDAY

Held A Very Enjoyable Meeting At The M. E. Church, Inspiring Addresses Given—A Good Attendance

The Washtenaw County Brotherhood, interdenominational, had charge of the services at the local Methodist church last Sunday afternoon. The meeting, conducted by Rev. P. E. Stocking, a service at 4:30, when Prof. Stocking, of the University of Michigan, was the speaker and at 7:30, when Dr. A. W. Stalker, of the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor, delivered the message. The afternoon service was called to order by Vice President Ordway, of Ann Arbor. An inspiring service of song in which the large audience joined most heartily was one of the features of the afternoon. Prof. Stocking gave a most interesting address using for his topic, "Gates." He referred to his boyhood experiences on the farm and the important purpose that gates filled in the farmer's life, and also to the frequent references made to that term in the Bible and drew some helpful applications of the theme to every day life. He then called for a general discussion on the part of the congregation. At the close of the afternoon session the Fellowship Club, of the local church served lunch to all the visitors and a very pleasant hour was enjoyed. The president, Mr. Taft, of Ypsilanti, and the secretary, Mr. Ordway, of Ann Arbor, both gave reports of the work of the Brotherhood recently organized in Stockbridge and commented on the work very highly. George Atkinson, of the local church, greatly inspired the audience with a beautiful solo, after which Dr. A. W. Stalker, pastor of the local church, greatly inspired the audience with a sermon on "Gates." He took for his text two passages from the old testament scriptures, Eccl. 1:14 and Psa. 126:6, and made his plea for a holy venture in life following the example of the saints and heroes of all the ages.

These certainly doing good.

Mrs. Frances Suter and John Lowe entertained company last Thursday. Mrs. Frances Chapman, Mrs. W. Engelbrecht and Mrs. A. Tucker, all of Detroit. The first three are sisters and nieces of Mrs. Suter. They enjoyed their visit and congratulated the home on its present showing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ordway, son Carl and Miss Gates, of Ann Arbor, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Park Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Chas. E. Head and wife of Ann Arbor, visited friends in the Home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. W. J. Balmer spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas William in Royal Oak.

There are but three members of the Home left who were here when Mrs. Hilligos came in November 1912—Mrs. Sarah Black, who came in 1909; Miss Elizabeth McArthur, 1910, and Mrs. Ellen G. Brennan, 1911.

The Stockbridge circle in the Home entertained last Sunday the Stockbridge delegation consisting of Mrs. Russman, Harold Smith and wife, Mr. Kenzy and wife, Mrs. Parks and Pearl Smith and yet there was room for more.

The expectations are that services next Sunday will be conducted by Rev. Frederick Johnson, of Detroit. Mr. Johnson is the executive secretary of the conference endowment fund and comes here by a special invitation of Dr. Balmer.

Rev. H. L. Schwarzkoft and wife of Milford were visitors at the Home Saturday. They did not leave until they had called on Mrs. Susan Dansen, who lived many years at that place.

Mrs. Elizabeth (Raider) Hilligos, died last Friday after a long illness, aged 85 years. Last November she fell in her room, breaking her hip. That resulted in other complications which confined her to the bed ever since and she had been a great sufferer. She was born in Indiana in 1843, married Wm. Hilligos in 1862, just as he was departing to join the Union army where he served until the end of the war. He died in 1901.

Two children were born to this union. The eldest daughter Delina died in her 21st year. The youngest daughter Mrs. Luetta Thomas, of Detroit, survives her as does a sister, Mrs. Mary J. Grose, of California, whose health has not permitted her to visit her at the Home. Her remains were taken to Indiana to be placed beside those of her husband. Services were held in the parlors Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. J. Balmer. Those who attended the services were Du-etroit were Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Thomas, Mrs. Lydia M. Hovey, Mrs. Mary L. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. McElwain of Florida. Mrs. Luetta Thomas, who has spent so much time with and exhibited so much devotion and care for her mother, Mrs. Hilligos, has gained the admiration of every one who has come in contact with her. Such devotion between mother and daughter is rarely seen.

THE PRESIDENTS DAUGHTER

by Nan Britton

Revealing the Love-secret of President Harding.
Seized by the police, released by the courts, praised by critics, hailed by bookshelves and bought by amazed and amazing thousands of readers, The President's Daughter is probably the most astounding book thing that has happened in this land of printing presses.
Price $5

H. L. Menckon, editor of The American Mercury and America's foremost literary critic, in The Baltimore Evening Sun, says:
"THE PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER" is a new departure in fiction and a highly romantic account of the fair author's platonic with the late Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States. Miss Britton's writing is extremely vivid. She achieved a portrait so grotesque, and yet so palpably true that it convinces instantly.
On account of the price of this book our rental charge has been placed at 5 cents daily, 25 cents minimum.

FRIENDLY PLANET TO VISIT US SOON

To Come Within 13,000,000 Miles of Earth.

San Francisco.—Astronomers of the University of California are making preparations already for the approach of the planetoid Eros, scheduled to come nearer the earth in 1930 than it ever has been. Eros will be 13,500,000 miles away, and in such a position as to enable the scientists to make good observations.

Much importance is attached to the event because Eros will be in a good position to carry out the process of checking the distance of the earth from the sun, says R. H. Tucker, astronomer emeritus. Preliminary studies have been carried out by Professor Tucker at Mount Hamilton, in which he has determined the position of 402 stars which will form a background for Eros in 1930.

In making these determinations, Tucker spent 77 nights at Lick observatory, during which he made 100 observations. The period, which is just passed, constitutes one of the best observing seasons, from the standpoint of atmospheric conditions, recorded at Lick observatory in 30 years.

The positions of the fixed stars appearing in the same portion of the sky will be the same, although much further away, will aid in determination of the distance of Eros from the earth. The calculations will be made both in terms of miles and in terms of a common unit, the astronomical unit, which is fixed as the distance of the earth from the sun once a year.

Eros' move will be its first close approach since its discovery in 1828.

Mongrel Dog Tries to Save Drowning Child

East Marion, I. I.—A mongrel dog did his best to save the life of a little playmate, Frankie Smith, five-year-old son of Polish farmers, near here, but the child, who fell through an ice hole in the ice recently, was drowned before help could reach him.

The little boy and his dog were playing on the frozen inlet leading to the Long Island sound near his home, romping around the child did not notice a hole that had been cut in the ice for eel spawning. When Frankie fell through the dog started to bark furiously.

The dog's mother, attracted by the barking, looked out on the ice and, not seeing her child, began to scream. A number of men who were calling about a quarter of a mile away, ran to the woman, thinking something was wrong at the house. In reaching the house they found the child lying on the ice and found the little dog springing to hold the child's clothes in his mouth.

Frankie was pulled out of the freezing water, but by the time Doctor Heath and Doctor Loper arrived from Greenport, eight miles away, the boy was dead.

Finds Most Men Are Irked by Given Names

Berkeley, Calif.—Three men in four have a pet "grouch" on account of their given names, declares Professor George R. Steward, Jr., of the University of California faculty. He has completed a survey of thousands of Christian names to determine the popularity trend from 1870 to the present time—and coupled with it a study of names.

"There is no man who doesn't wish they had a different first name," Professor Steward says. "The majority of men, however, he says, are satisfied if given the more common names and William and John are as much in use now as 40 years ago.

Since 1880, "Mary" for some unlearned reason, has become less popular than "Elizabeth," which now ranks first. Next to Elizabeth and Mary, in order, are Helen, Dorothy, Marie, Katherine, Louise, Ruth, Eleanor and Evelyn.

CAR OF SHINGLES IS CACHE FOR LIQUOR

W. A. Shelly Has Unpleasant Experience As Result of Activities Of Bootleg Smugglers

Suppose you, a good law abiding citizen, were to find several bags of liquor in your automobile or in the garage of your home. What would you do about it? Maybe you think you know what you would do under such circumstances but it is doubtful if you would know just what to do if the situation presented itself.

W. A. Shelly, of the Shelly Lumber Yard found himself in a tangle of this kind, only the liquor wasn't in his automobile but in a carload of shingles, via the railroad. Shelly, O. C. Connor and Barton Shelly, the latter a son of W. A. Shelly, were engaged in unloading a car of shingles that had been received from Canada when they came upon a cache of liquor in several burlap sacks near the top of the car. Mr. Shelly was in Jackson when the discovery was made and upon his return he was informed of the find by his son. Mr. Shelly was alarmed. He pictured in his mind his liquor, rum runners who were using his car to smuggle their contraband into this country, and gunmen who might stop at nothing to recover their liquor.

Mr. Shelly immediately telephoned the Mack Lumber Company, of Toledo, through whom the lumber was purchased, and asked that a representative be sent here. The representative named an inspection of the bill of lading showed a notation that the car had been broken open at St. Paul, Minn., and 35 bundles of shingles thrown out. These shingles were replaced in the car and it was sent on its way. Mr. Shelly was advised to report the matter to the sheriff and he did so. Sheriff Lovell taking charge of the liquor, officers here have been scavenging for several days to trace the liquor but thus far have been unable to do so. It is believed it was placed in the car in Canada or at St. Paul, the rum runners planning to remove the cargo further down the line. Their plans went wrong, possibly through arrest of a mistake in the car number and the shingles came through to this company to whom the shingles were consigned.—Grass Lake News.

YOU CAN ALWAYS GET REPAIRS FOR YOUR MODEL T

The manufacture of replacement parts for the millions of Model "T" Ford cars still in daily use continues to demand nearly one-third the production capacity of Ford plants.

Ford officials estimate from reports of dealers all over the country that there are still approximately eight million of the Model "T" cars in constant use in the United States. Some of these cars are many years old. Every now and then there are reports of Ford cars of the old brass-bulb radiator type, still running after more than a hundred thousand miles of steady use.

The newest of the Model "T" Ford is now nearly a year old for the production of assembled Model "T" cars was suspended in May 1927 to make way for the new Model "A". This suspension of assembled Model "T" cars did not affect the production schedule of Model "T" replacement parts, however. Throughout the past year the manufacture of Model "T" parts continued to occupy about one-third the production capacity of the Ford plants.

A few days ago newspaper correspondents asked Henry Ford how long he expected to continue making parts for Model "T" cars. "Until the last Model "T" is off the roads," Ford replied promptly. "That may be ten years, but we do not intend to allow any Ford car ever to become obsolete as long as it can be made useful with reasonable replacements."

HEEP RIG INJUNS WANT MUCH FISH

A Lansing dispatch of Saturday stated "A demand that the Chippewa Indians be permitted to fish in Michigan's lakes without consideration of the season prescribed by law is being vigorously investigated by William M. Buckner, attorney general.

According to Poh Fahsonk, a full-blooded Chippewa whose home is at Alma, this tribe never surrendered its rights to the domain. Treaties guarantee them free fishing rights, he claimed in a petition to George Hogarth, conservation director.

The Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture gives the following directions for cooking eggs properly in their shelled state.

The best method is to use a double boiler. In the top part put the eggs and a cupful of boiling water for each egg to be cooked. Cover closely, and keep warm over the water in the lower part of the double boiler. Leave the eggs in the hot water for 6 to 8 minutes if they are to be soft-cooked, or 10 to 12 minutes if they are to be hard-cooked. Eggs prepared in this way are they ready for use in salads, for stuffed or deviled eggs, or for sandwiches.

MAD DOG AT LARGE

Russell Sawdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sawdy, was bitten by a mad dog recently. A dog, owned by the family, was bitten by a stray dog and went mad. A dog belonging to Arthur Russell also went mad and was killed. Earl Russell, a son of the mad dog owner, was bitten and is recovering treatment as is the epidemic has not been located.—Grass Lake News.

STATE MAY ACQUIRE HOSPITAL ROOSEVELT

That the Roosevelt American Legion Hospital at Camp Custer probably will be taken over by the State of tubercular patients within the next few weeks was the declaration of Dr. Guy L. Keifer, head of the Michigan State Department of Health, Saturday. Dr. Keifer revealed that Atty-Gen. Wilbur M. Brucker has been asked to investigate the legal angle of the transfer of the hospital to the State and that his decision is awaited by the State Administrative Board. If Mr. Brucker's report is favorable, Dr. Keifer said, steps probably will be taken immediately by the State to acquire the hospital. American Legion officials of Michigan are favorable to the plan and it is said that Gov. Fred W. Green is eager to obtain the institution for care of tubercular patients needing hospitalization, but who cannot be cared for now because of lack of room.

The hospital first was opened for the convenience of relatives of soldiers in training at Camp Custer. Theodore Roosevelt, when in Battle Creek on a speaking tour, dedicated the building and it was given his name.

At the close of the war, the State leased the property to Bernard MacFadden for a health resort. Later the American Legion took over the building to care for returned soldiers afflicted with tuberculosis.

POPULAR EDUCATOR DIES

Prof. Charles O. Hoyt, for the past thirty years the head of the department of education at the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, died at his home in that city Sunday, aged 71 years. He was active in educational affairs of the state for many years and during his long service had spoken before audiences in every section of the state. Before going to Ypsilanti he was superintendent of schools at Grass Lake for a few years.

Clean surfaces like this make it tough for the corn borer. After being plowed under, the borer comes to the top but can find no refuge. The pest is exposed and soon perishes. A clean surface makes the borer easy prey for birds and other animals.

Don't Neglect Your Kidneys!

You Can't Be Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly. Do always find yourself running down? Always tired, nervous and depressed? Are you stiff and achy, subject to nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizzy spells? Are kidney excretions scanty, too frequent or burning in passage? Too often this indicates sluggish kidneys and should be neglected.

GOVERNOR GREEN ASKS NEW CRIMINAL CODE BE GIVEN A FAIR TRIAL
 One day last week while addressing a gathering at Lansing, Walter H. North, who was recently appointed supreme court justice by Governor Green, took occasion to condemn Michigan's new criminal code, or so much of it as applies to criminals who have been convicted four times of crimes. A day or two afterward Governor Fred W. Green addressed a meeting of the Michigan Safety Congress and he took occasion to express himself concerning the action of Judge North. Governor Green said: "When a justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan sees fit to express his opinion of a law before the court has had an opportunity to pass upon the validity of that law, I think he should not sit upon the bench as one of the judges when a case involving the validity of the law comes up for hearing. The new criminal code is to my mind one of the greatest safety measures ever adopted. Its purpose is to protect the public. We should not be afraid of taking power away from somebody. What we wish to do is to make sure that dangerous criminals will be kept in prison until they are no longer a menace to society. Who sentences them is a matter of minor importance."

"The bar association is going over our laws carefully with the object of recommending such changes as appear necessary. When the Legislature passed the crime code, it declined to give it immediate effect. The Legislature said: 'Let's not have this take effect until September and then it will be in operation only a year and a few months before another Legislature has the opportunity to change it.' There are mistakes in law, yes, just as there are mistakes in the compensation law, and all other laws of similar magnitude. I plead that it be given time to show its value before it is condemned."

It is believed the habitual criminal provision of the code will be the means of ridding Michigan of a lot of desperate repeaters. At least it ought to be given a fair trial.

JUST A LITTLE
 It takes so little to make us sad; Just a lightning word or a doubting peer;
 Just a scornful smile on some lips held dear; And our footsteps lag though the goal seemed near.

So little it takes to make us glad; It takes just a little to make us glad; Just a cheering clasp of a true hand; Just a word from one who understands; And we finish the task we long had planned; And we lose the doubt and the fear; So little it takes to make us glad.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.
 The following is a delicious soup to serve on special occasions:

Sweetbread Cream Soup.—Parboil one pair of sweetbreads, remove the skin after parboiling slightly, cut into cubes and fry in a few tablespoonfuls of butter; sprinkle with flour, stir and cook for a few minutes, then add two quarts of veal broth. Let simmer for thirty minutes, skimming from time to time. Season with salt and grated nutmeg; before serving add one-half pint of cream beaten with four egg yolks.

Cornish Pasties.—This is a full meal and when made in cold weather can be reheated on either side. The Cornish miners carry these pies for their dinners, making a good meal with a cup of hot coffee.

Line a deep pie plate with a rich biscuit dough and fill with the following: A layer of half-inch cubes of beefsteak with plenty of salt to add fat; season well with a layer of mashed rutabagas sliced; a layer of thinly sliced onion, and a layer of thinly sliced potatoes, all uncooked as well as beef. Use plenty of seasoning and if the meat lacks fat add butter. Cover with the biscuit dough, leaving a vent. Bake at least two hours in a moderate oven. Take from the oven when in a cloth and set in a cool place for ten minutes. This stops the crust and seasons it.

Veal Birds.—Take one thin slice of veal, pound it to one-eighth of an inch in thickness, cut into pieces three by five inches. Scrape all the meat from the beginnings of a half pound cheaper cut of veal. Add one slice of chopped salt pork, one-half cupful of bread crumbs softened in milk, salt, pepper, chopped mushrooms and mix all together. Spread over the pieces of veal; tie up with cotton twine. Fasten with a string, cook if preferred and fry in pork fat until nicely browned. Place in a baking dish and cover with thin cream, with a bit of flour mixed with a little cream to thicken the gravy. Bake for an hour.

WASHTENAW CLUB LEADER TOLD HER EXPERIENCES IN CHICAGO
 Miss Arley Elliott, of the Ridge Road club of Washtenaw county told her experiences in Chicago last December at the National Club Congress, to the real audience of station WKAR, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Monday evening, April 16th.

She compared her experiences in A-H club work to mile stones along a pleasant road that she has followed for several years. She said that the outstanding "mile stone" was her experience in Chicago in December 1927.

Some of the places she visited while there was the International Livestock show, Swift & Company packing plant, Art Institute, Northwestern Yeast Company, Montgomery Ward Company, and Lincoln Park. She recounted her experiences at the big banquet that she attended with the other 1200 boys and girls attending the conference, at some of the manufacturing concerns, at Hotel LaSalle, and Sherman Hotel.

Miss Elliott won this trip for being a member of the state champion home economics demonstration team in the 4-H department at Michigan State fair last fall.

ROYAL OAK AND ZEELAND TO MEET IN FINAL DEBATE
 Royal Oak and Zeeland, having emerged successfully from the stiff schedule of debates arranged by the Michigan High School Debating League by eliminating their opponents, Memphis and Cheboygan respectively, in the semi-finals April 12, have won the honor to meet in the finals for the state championship, to be held in Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor, April 27.

Other teams battled their way through perhaps the hardest schedule ever arranged in a state forensic contests in which more than 244 teams competed. More than 1,600 pupils have participated in the 500 debates held to date.

All debates have been upon the subject of "Resolved: That the Direct Primary System of Nominating Candidates for Public Office in the United States Should Be Abolished." Since the nation is approaching a presidential electoral problem, these debates have stimulated great interest among high school students and the people of Michigan.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU OFFICIALS TO MEET
 Officials and directors of county Farm Bureaus of Jackson, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, and Washtenaw Counties are holding a district meeting at Ann Arbor on April 25th. This meeting is one of a series of district meetings of Farm Bureau officials being held in the different districts of the state. Their program will include a discussion of special services for members, and plans will be considered for further developing the work of the organizations in different counties. About 40 or 50 officials from the different counties are expected to attend according to W. E. Hoover, secretary of the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, who is arranging for this meeting.

J. MARTIN ROHRER DIED AT GRASS LAKE MONDAY

Death Came Suddenly—Has Relatives Here

J. Martin Rohrer died suddenly and without warning while seated in his chair at his home Monday night about 9:45. He had attended to his business duties as usual throughout the day and his death came as a great shock to his family and many friends.

For more than 30 years, Mr. Rohrer was connected with the Lakeside Elgin Bitter Company and at the time of his death held the controlling interest in the company. He at one time served on the village council in Grass Lake and was prominent in Masonic circles, both in Grass Lake and Jackson, being a member of Grass Lake F. & A. M. and the Chapter and O. E. S. of the village and a member of Jackson Council No. 32 and Jackson Commandery No. 9 and of Moslem Temple Mystic Shrine of Detroit. He was past worshipful master of the Grass Lake Masonic lodge, past high priest of the Chapter and past worthy patron of the O. E. S.

Mr. Rohrer was born in Francisco July 5, 1873, and came to Grass Lake with his parents when a small boy. He has lived virtually his entire life in the village. He is survived by the widow, four brothers, John, Fred and Paul Rohrer of Grass Lake and William of Pineson, Mich., and two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Worden of Grass Lake and Miss Pauline Rohrer of Kalamazoo.

Funeral services were held at the home, 1300 Church, Thursday afternoon and from the Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock. Services were under the auspices of Jackson Commandery No. 9 and the Grass Lake Masonic lodge acted as escort. Burial was in East Cemetery of Grass Lake.

Mr. Rohrer has a number of relatives in this section.

SCRAMBLED EGGS STRAIGHT UP TURNED OVER

A truck owned by C. H. Glover of Hartford, Mich., and loaded to the top with 111 cases of strictly fresh country laid eggs was "slop swiped" by a truck going west on U. S. 12 Tuesday morning about five o'clock, with the result that parts of the truck body and the contents of the eggs were scattered along the pavement for a distance of four or five rods. One forward wheel of the Glover truck was broken by the crash. Of course the load was a total loss. The accident occurred a short distance east of the Floral switch along the D. U. R. The truck which did the damage was able to proceed on its way.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY NOTES

The students of St. Mary's High school are giving a dance on Tuesday evening, April 24th, for the benefit of the Junior-Senior banquet. Juhnke's orchestra from Ann Arbor, will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served.

The blue clouds that seemed to be hovering over St. Mary's Monday and Tuesday in the form of blue books, have been announced. Judging from the oh's and ah's we heard, most of them must have been "the kind that satisfy." They were well worth the work and worry that always go with examinations.

We, the pupils of St. Mary's High school, wish to thank all those who by their cooperation, helped to make "The Love Mart" a remarkable success. We are especially grateful to Messrs. Carl Swickerath, Weber and Geddes.

TO HOLD SCHOOL REUNION

Photo taken on farm of J. C. Seabrook, Rockville, S. C. DIPDUST treated seed yielded 20 bushels more per acre than same seed, not treated.

Increase Your Potato Yield

15 to 25 Bushels per Acre

with This Instantaneous Dipdust

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Dip them in DIPDUST solution and out again—all ready to plant. DIPDUST protects the seed and insures a heavy, profitable yield. It is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment. Besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed.

After one trial of DIPDUST you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. Compare this New Treatment with the older ones.

THE OLD WAY

Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant

1. Requires less than 1 minute. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.

2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without the slightest injury.

3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.

4. Controls surface-borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and black-leg.

5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20%.

THE NEW WAY

1. Require from 1 1/2 to 2 hours. One man can treat only from 50 to 75 bushels per day.

2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.

3. Before cutting, give no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently decays in the ground before the young plants get started.

4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia and scab, do not control black-leg.

5. Frequently decrease the stand and therefore the yield, to a serious extent.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds to

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

GUARANTEE

Print a few acres of DIPDUST treated seed in a test plot. If you are not satisfied with the results, you are not entitled to return the empty DIPDUST can to us and we will refund price paid.
