ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

The Election Of Trustees Created A Good Deal Of Interest And The Result Was Very Close—Two New Trustees Chosen

The annual school meeting held at the Chelsea High school gym on Monday night attracted more than ordinary interest with the result that there was a good attendance of both men and women. The meeting was called to order soon after 8:00 by President D. E. Beach of the board of education and the minutes of the last annual meeting were read by Secretary Kent Walworth. The minutes were approved as read. The secretary then explained some of the recent changes in the school laws which require that the annual report be withheld until the close of the school year, hence no detailed report was given. This report will be published in full, however, during July. Mr. Walworth then reported on a number of items of receipts and expenditures, however, in order that the patrons of the district might be familiar with the condition of the district's finances.

The next order of business was the election of two trustees to succeed Mr. Walworth and Paul G. Schabbe. O. C. Burkhardt and L. G. Vogel were appointed tellers and the officers were sworn by Attorney H. D. With. Mr. Walworth was nominated to succeed himself and John Kalmbach was named in opposition and the first ballot resulted in no choice. Mr. Walworth received 43 votes and Mr. Kalmbach an equal number with seven scattered votes which were divided between a number of men. The second ballot resulted in the election of Mr. Kalmbach, who received 56 votes to 51 for Mr. Walworth. With three scattered votes, making the whole number of votes cast 110.

For the second trustee to be elected M. J. Schabbe and Paul G. Schabbe were nominated and the ballot resulted in the election of the former, who received 69 votes to 64 for Mr. Schabbe. Dr. H. W. Schmidt, who had made a previous motion to lay the report submitted by the secretary on the table because it was not completed, moved that the board of education call a meeting of the taxpayers when the annual report was prepared so that they might approve of the school budget for the ensuing year. The local board has been in the habit of submitting its budget for the approval of the taxpayers at the annual meeting of the board, but the new governing matter was changed some years ago, making it unnecessary to do so. While the motion was being discussed a motion to adjourn was made and carried.

With the recent changes in the school laws which have been put through the legislature at Lansing the only voice the taxpayers of any graded school have in the management of the school is in the election of trustees. After the board is elected they are empowered to raise whatever funds are necessary to properly conduct the school.

MRS. C. C. HELLING DIES IN JACKSON

Mrs. Elizabeth Helling, wife of C. C. Helling, 207 West Wesley street, died at the W. A. Foote Memorial hospital Friday at 8 p. m., following a brief illness. She survived the husband, one son, Morrison P. Helling of Kent County, three brothers, Chris, Boos, and Gus Boos of Jackson, and Adolph Boos of Seattle, Wash., three sisters, Mrs. Christine Merker of Jackson, Mrs. Anna Henry of Oakland, Cal., and Miss L. Boos of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held at the home Monday at 10:30 a. m.; burial in Maple Grove cemetery, Sylvan Center.

Mrs. Helling was a native of Sylvan township, the family home was on the farm at present owned by Lewis Kahmer.

PLANNING FOR ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Extensive plans are being made for the proper celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Salem M. E. church at Francisco on Sunday, July 1st. There will be morning worship at eleven o'clock with Sunday school preceding the service. At noon a chicken dinner will be served in the newly remodeled basement of the church for which the ladies have expended a considerable sum. Many former members and friends of the church and congregation are expected to return for the celebration.

IMPROVING APPEARANCE OF SALESROOM

The Chelsea Light and Water Commission have masons and others at work reconstructing the former dynamo and engine room. A portion of the front wall has been removed and replaced with a large plate glass, and a new coping is being built across the west and south portion of the building. The room which is used for the display of electrical goods will be greatly improved by the change that is being made and far better lighted than in the past. Entrance to the salesroom is through the office department of the plant.

MASONS TO ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY MORNING

On Sunday morning next members of Chelsea Lodge, F. & A. M., will attend services at the Congregational church, and it is requested that all meet at the masonic temple at 9:30. Rev. A. E. Potts will deliver the sermon of the morning and there will be special music for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Reichert, of Chelsea, are a number of friends

LOCAL COMPANY USES AIRPLANE FOR DELIVERY OF NECESSARY PARTS

The Chelsea Screw Company is now employing a force of more than 90 men, and they are working day and night with only one hour shut-down in twenty-four and even at that speed it is difficult to keep pace with the orders that keep pouring in. The first of the week they needed a special tool to make a certain product for which they had orders. In order to speed up its delivery from Waterbury, Conn., it was arranged with the manufacturer in the east to dispatch the particular tool by airplane mail to Detroit on Wednesday and when the mail-bags reached the Detroit post office a motorist with a waiting car was there to speed the part to Chelsea.

The first piece of the product for which this part was so badly needed will be preserved with other curious and antiquities in the home of Mr. Dunkel.

DOES CHELSEA WANT BAND CONCERTS?

If the people of Chelsea desire to have band concerts here by the local band during the summer, some definite action must be taken immediately, or our boys will accept other offers for their services. This week the business men's organization asked the price for one concert a week for the balance of the summer, and other towns are making similar inquiries. The members of the band prefer to play here if the people want them, of course, and they are ready to do so. If Chelsea people want the concerts some effort must be made to raise the necessary funds and there should be no delay.

TO MEET AT MOOREVILLE

The next meeting of the Washtenaw County Brotherhood will be held at the Mooreville M. E. church, on Sunday, June 17th, at 4:30 and 7:30. A program is being arranged for each session. Lunch will be served at six. Election of officers will be held at the evening session.

SENIORS REACHED HOME

LATE MONDAY AFTERNOON

After A Delightful Motor Trip To Washington And Other Interesting Points—Fired And Happy

Members of the Senior class of the Chelsea High school who made the journey to the national capital and return reached home Monday afternoon, a tired but happy lot. They were glad to get back to Chelsea again. On Friday morning last the Standard received the following letter from the class, which we gladly give space in to-day's paper:

Washington, D. C., June 5th.

We arrived in Washington early Sunday evening. That night we went to the congressional library which adjoins the Capital grounds. It is of the Italian Renaissance order of architecture and of white granite.

Monday morning we went to the capital building, where we had a chance of seeing Chief Justice Taft and his eight associates as the court was in session. Then went to the Union Station which has the greatest length of any station in the United States. Proceeding from there we went to the postoffice. That afternoon we visited several public buildings, namely—Pan-American Union, Continental Hall Memorial, the Red Cross building, and the Lincoln Memorial.

To-day, Tuesday, we went to Arlington cemetery, visiting there the tomb of the unknown soldier, the amphitheater, Robert E. Lee mansion, and various other statues. From there we went to Alexandria, visiting the "Christ church"—which Washington attended. Proceeding, we went to the old Masonic hall where Washington was worshipful master and then made our way to the Carlyle House where the taxation of the colonists was begun in 1775 and the headquarters of General Braddock during the French and Indian war. Our next stop was at Mt. Vernon, spending the afternoon in going through the home and estate of General George Washington. We finished the afternoon by visiting the Corcoran Gallery where we saw many original and famous portraits painted by both European and American artists.

We are certainly having a wonderful time and look forward to the remainder of the trip with as much interest and enthusiasm as when we started.

Sincerely yours,

Members of the Senior Class.

UNION MEMORIAL SERVICES

HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Oddfellows And Pythian Organizations Honored The Memory Of Their Departed Members—Many Graves Decorated

The union memorial services Sunday afternoon, in which the Oddfellows, Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters took part, were most impressive and were well attended. The members of the three organizations met at their respective halls at 1:30 and soon after two o'clock a procession was formed, headed by the Chelsea band and with each member carrying a floral remembrance, they marched to the village cemetery where the graves of departed members were decorated. There are five graves in which Pythian Sisters sleep, and 25 Pythians and 25 Oddfellows lie buried in the two cemeteries, and at Sylvan there are three Oddfellows graves and at the Salem cemetery there are four. Above each of these graves a floral tribute was placed and at the conclusion of that part of the ceremony the members gathered and listened to an address by Rev. A. E. Potts, who took for the theme of his discourse "The Greater Brotherhood."

Brothers and sisters of the various lodges here assembled, inasmuch as the several fraternal societies of our splendid community have with united purpose come here to do honor to the memory of those who for a time labored with you in your benevolent and social enterprises, I think it fitting that we take a few moments of our time to meditate upon the subject, "The Greater Brotherhood." I believe this subject to be in-keeping not only with the spirit of the occasion but with the spirit of our modern world.

When I speak of the "greater brotherhood" I mean a brotherhood greater than citizenship and greater than Pythianism. It is greater than any fraternal organization on earth. I do not mean that you may by formal application and ritualistic ceremony unite with this brotherhood; it is not possible to get into it by that route. The only way to get to this brotherhood is to get the spirit of it. We are to be united in spirit and in purpose, even as the several societies through a unity of purpose are today cooperating in the accomplishment of a very worthy project.

Speaking for myself, I am always a very enthusiastic advocate of a spiritual union of peoples and organizations. I am one among the few that are left who do not wax enthusiastic over the thought of "organic unions." No one ever gets a very enthusiastic hallelujah out of me when they picture a world made perfect through great leaders and one great church. There are fond of telling us of what wonderful things will happen when we have at last succeeded in uniting divided protestantism, and they never tire of telling us of what dire things are in store for us if we fail to unite. Well, they may be right. However, I am a bit suspicious of organic union. Without going into the history of these great organizations we all know how easily they lend themselves to exploitation. No sooner do we have a mighty organization that the politically minded begin to covet its influence. And when the mighty organization and the politicians begin to work and scheme together, it is time for the people to beware.

Of course, I know the argument of the "organic union" advocate. He claims that the different religious societies and fraternal groups keep the people apart, and feed the fires of jealousies, etc. I see the point and know that there is a certain amount of truth in the argument. My stand at that point is: that I prefer the lesser of two evils. I prefer to have the fires of new jealousies fed to being exploited and bullied by a powerful organization working hand in glove with scheming politicians.

Then again I sometimes think that the people of this day are unduly alarmed over our divided religion and our divided fraternalism. Jealousy is a human trait. We all have it. Some more, some less. In every organization, big or little, we find it. It is a very great sin. It is a universal sin. But I have never heard that "organic union" would overcome the sin of human jealousy. The spirit of Jesus Christ will overcome it, but membership in a great organic union is no guarantee that the members will manifest the spirit of Jesus.

Please do not misunderstand me. I am not setting myself against all this talk of church union. There ought to be and will be a uniting of certain organizations and denominations. Those who are alike in traditions and training will, without doubt, merge. The economic situation and other reasons make it advisable. But let us not be impatient. Let union come naturally and gradually. As God's word says: "First the corn, then the blade, then the ear, then the full-corn in the ear." Cooperation is the seed. Out of much cooperation will come some unions, then after many years, it may be that we will have one great christian organization.

The first step, however, is the lesson of cooperation, learning to neighbor with one another. We must cease being self-centered. The time is just when we can live on a self-centered ideal. Once we were able to live on self-centered ideals with some degree of safety, but now it is sure suicide. When the natural barriers of the world were sufficient to keep us apart it was less dangerous to be self-centered and prejudiced. That is to say, when mountains, oceans, rivers and climate were impassable barriers to the various races in the world, each race could be as jealous of the other, or hate the other as they pleased. Occasionally a small war would break out as the result of those self-centered attitudes. But now modern transportation, communication, and the moving pictures have overcome every natural barrier. We are now a neighborhood. I mean the entire world is now a neighborhood. We are today actually closer to China, Japan, India, and Africa than we were to New York a century ago. And in the next twenty years they will move up to within one-half of that distance. We are so close to those nations that we used to think were so very far off that we can see them, hear them, and almost smell them. I am sure that we can all sense the need of a peaceful neighborhood of nations. The old saying is: "Familiarity breeds contempt." This is especially true if one's conduct is not such as to compel respect. It affords us white people a very interesting and helpful study to discover the reaction of the various colored races toward us—now that they are so close to us that they can see us, hear us, and as I said before, almost smell us. We have for centuries looked upon the people of Asia and Africa as inferior people. Once they did not respect it. They really thought we were superior. But in those days they saw only our best. They met the missionaries, the soldiers superior in training and arms, they met the merchant and trader who could and did beat them in bargaining. They really felt inferior to us. But the new intimacy has changed their attitude entirely. They now see us as we are. They do not hesitate to criticize. They say: "You Christians may not practice polygamy, but through your system of divorce many of you accumulate just as many women as our men take. You steal, murder, lynch, and many of you appear to be utterly irreligious and Godless." They have said in no uncertain tones that a close view of our civilization does not all them with great feeling of admiration and envy. Above all, they now resent being spoken of as the "inferior peoples."

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT AT JACKSON COSTS LIFE

Claude Michaels of Jackson, was killed and Elmer Whitworth of Ann Arbor, and an unidentified man and woman were seriously injured in a freak traffic accident at Jackson Friday night. A motorcycle on which Michaels was riding, was pinned between a car driven by Whitworth and the one in which the unidentified couple were riding. The wreckage caught fire and Michaels was burned to death.

UNION MEMORIAL SERVICES

At this point let me say a word to you people who are not in favor of foreign missionaries. Whatever of a genial atmosphere exists between the East and the West, between the pagan and the Christian, between the heathen and the civil, has been created by the foreign missionaries. The work the foreign missionary has done and is now doing is the only hopeful feature of the whole situation. Certainly they have no reason to love us because of what our soldiers have done in their lands, nor do they love us because of what the traders and politicians have done. The only time they become anxious of the foreign missionary is when they think that the missionary is working hand in glove with the trader, soldier and politician. Just recently several missionaries have lost their lives rather than receive protection from our soldiers. And thank God many of the foreign people have come to understand that the missionary movement is the way of the salvation of the nations to exploit their natural resources. If any of you people ever invested a dollar in foreign missions it was one of the best investments you ever made. And if you are at all interested in bringing about a neighborly spirit among the nations of the earth your best chance is to work through your foreign missionaries.

Perhaps it is too radical a thought to think of uniting with the other races in a great union of some sort. But surely it is not too much to expect that we look upon them as neighbors and treat them as such. You will recall that Jesus told us that we are neighbors. In the parable of the "Good Samaritan" He made it plain. The Jew did not like being told that the Samaritan was his neighbor, nor did the Samaritan like it.

Perhaps we do not like being told of our relationship and responsibility to the Chinaman, Japanese, and Negro. But whether we like it or not, the fact of our relationship and responsibility remains.

Once more permit me to congratulate you Oddfellows and Pythians, Rebekah's and Pythian Sisters who have in a spirit of unity met here today. This is the spirit of the "greater brotherhood." It is the spirit of our blessed Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. It is the spirit that will save the world from a fate dreadful to imagine. If we stubbornly continue in our self-centered, prejudiced attitude toward the other races of the earth, if we still continue to feel that we have the right to help ourselves to the wealth of other nations simply because we know how, and have the wealth and power to do it, the outlook is far from hopeful. Instead of having a peaceful neighborhood of nations we will have warring nations. When we consider the modern implements of war, the airplane, the submarine, poison gas, and worst of all, disease germs, war looks like suicide. May God grant that the spirit of this "greater brotherhood" will spread to every corner of the globe lest our civilization perish from the earth.

Carabao Ideal Beast of Burden in Tropics

One of the greatest obstacles to any industrial progress in the tropical countries is the lack of transportation facilities. In Central Africa the tsetse fly is so fatal to horses and cattle that they are practically excluded from millions of miles of territory. Ticks, flies, mosquitoes, and the like, even if less menacing than the tsetse, often irritate horses to a frenzy that diminishes their strength, increases their susceptibility to disease and shortens their lives. Among work animals the water buffalo, or carabao, as it is called in the Philippines, is indeed an exception. Its optimum climate is warm and moist; its digestive system is adapted to coarse, watery vegetation, and its thick skin, plus the coat of mud with which it loves to encase itself, makes it fairly immune to insects. But unluckily the water buffalo is useful mainly for wet crops, like rice. For other kinds of agriculture, the native humped cattle of India and the allied banteng of Java are the best available, but they are relatively small, inefficient and unintelligent compared with the horse, and they suffer from attacks by insects.

HERE ARE SOME CAKES

A good cake is always an addition to any food supply. The kind that keeps is popular, providing it is good.

Quilt Cake.—Cream one-half cupful of butter with one and one-half cupfuls of sugar; beat very light, then add the yolks of three eggs beaten well; add one-half cupful of milk alternately with one and one-half cupfuls of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Fold in the beaten egg whites and add six tablespoonfuls of chocolate dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of boiling milk, added the last thing. Bake in a moderate oven and cover with:

Butter Frosting.—Take two cupfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, three-fourths of a cupful of milk. Boil ten minutes, add a teaspoonful of vanilla and beat until it thickens, then pour over the cake.

Pork Cake.—Take one pound of fat salt pork through the meat chopper and pour on two cupfuls of boiling water and let stand for twenty minutes. In a mixing bowl put one cupful of molasses, two cupfuls of brown sugar, one-third of a cupful of boiling water in which two teaspoonfuls of soda is dissolved. Add the pork and water, one-half pound of currants, one pound of raisins, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, the same of cinnamon, cloves, salt and allspice. Add enough flour—about four cupfuls—to make a stiff mixture. Add a teaspoonful of baking powder. Mix and bake one hour in a slow oven. This recipe makes four loaves, which will keep and taste like fruit cake. Dried apples which have been soaked and chopped may be added, using fewer raisins.

MANY COACHES WILL ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

More than 200 coaches from all parts of the country are expected to register for the University of Michigan's summer session for coaches which will be held from June 25th to August 3rd.

For the first time in the history of the summer session a complete program of intramural work will be offered for all students. In addition to the new Sports building which will house all intramural activity at Michigan will be near enough completed so summer session students will be able to see and use one of the finest intramural buildings in the country.

RULES TO PREVENT FIRE

Fire Chief Scott, of Los Angeles, enumerates ten rules for fire prevention which should be followed by every citizen. Their observance would contribute greatly to reducing fire losses to a minimum:

1. Remove all dry grass and weeds from around barns, garages, fences, etc. Never build bonfires on windy days.
2. Do not pile up refuse. Do not leave them lying around, as there is danger of spontaneous combustion fires.
3. Remove and dispose of all rubbish and other waste material from the premises.
4. Provide yourself with an approved type of incinerator. That is the only safe way to burn rubbish and other waste materials.
5. Chimneys should be cleaned and examined once each year, especially in using coal or kerosene. Many fires each year are caused by defective chimneys and sparks flying on shingle roofs.
6. Do not use gasoline to clean garments or gloves in the house. Do that kind of work in the open air away from the fire.
7. Keep an approved fire extinguisher in the house for emergency use. It is better to be safe than sorry.
8. Do not use flexible gas hose to connect gas heaters or stoves. Use solid pipe connections only.
9. Cooperate with the fire department by making your building safe against fire, by removing the cause of fire.

MICHIGAN GIRL WINS THIRD PRIZE IN DODGE CONTEST

Michigan had the honor of producing a third prize winner in the Dodge Brothers $20,000 contest to find the best slogan that described the Victory Six car, with the announcement that Miss Florence M. List of Bay City, received a prize of $250.

Miss List's slogan was "Unrivaled in Construction, Unequaled in Beauty—The Victory Six," and was selected for a third prize from a total of 340,000 slogans. First prize of $1,000 went to C. C. Michael of Colorado Springs, with "Making a Good Name Better."

SEINING FOUR MILE LAKE

The state department of conservation has been at work seining Four Mile lake. The lake is well filled with carp and gar fish, (best known as bill fish) and these are being removed from the lake and buried on the shore. These specimens of the fish family are two of the kinds that destroy large numbers of young fry. All other varieties of fish that are caught in the seine are put back into the lake.

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

From the very minute that we deliver the General Electric Refrigerator to your home, there's no connecting or plumbing to be done. The all-in-one icing unit is merely lowered into the top of the cabinet (built to receive it) and the cord is plugged into any convenience outlet.

Then automatically, quietly, economically it gives you perfect refrigeration. The current turns itself on and off at just the right moment to keep the temperature of the box always safely below the 30 degree danger point.

You never have to oil the mechanism, because a permanent supply of oil is enclosed in the hermetically sealed casing which holds all the machinery. Study these refrigerators carefully. Come in today and see them. Time payments can be arranged, if you prefer.

THE CHELSEA SCHOOLS

WILL CLOSE THIS WEEK

Fitting And Appropriate Exercises Mark The Closing Days Of A Successful Year's Work

Class day exercises for the Chelsea High school were held at the auditorium on Wednesday evening and they were enjoyed by an audience that taxed the capacity of the building to its utmost. The platform had been attractively decorated with potted plants and the class colors, green and gray, when the members of the class had taken their places upon the stage presented a pretty and attractive picture. The exercises were opened by a selection by the school orchestra and at its conclusion Rev. A. E. Potts offered the invocation, in which he asked for the blessing being upon the young people who were going out from our school and upon all institutions of learning. Miss Oleta Seitz gave the salutatory, which will be found in another column of to-day's paper. Doris Coe and Marian Crafts gave the class history in which they related many happy and amusing incidents covering the past four years when the class started out with 42 members. Roy Ives followed with a well-rendered oration, his theme being "The One-eyed Octopus—Crime." Miss Oleta Seitz and Marie Finkbeiner then favored the audience with a piano duet and this very delightful number was followed by the prophecy by Misses Marie Finkbeiner and Lorena Coe, as Doris Coe gave the class song, which follows:

Assemble tonight to the final call
For four years of study and sun thoughts
Not drifting over the fall
Tas is the end, we have wrought portals are about to unfold

Through the courtesy of the Ann Arbor Daily News we are permitted to publish this group picture of the class.

"And we pause for a backward glance,
Ere we slip across the threshold
Into the strange world of chance.
With joy and sorrow combined—
We slowly turn away,
Our future path to find.
This bright and present day,
Where it leads no one can tell
So now dear Chelsea High,
As we pass your stately portal
Our class bids you goodbye.
Classmates to you I say farewell
As we bid adieu to the years now past.
Of our high school life we tell the knell
But to friendship—let us still hold

A sextette composed of Misses Agnes Dancer, Marie Finkbeiner, Ruth Vogel, Alberta Winans, Evelyn Bohnet and Oleta Seitz sang "My Bonquet of Memories," which was heartily applauded. The class was given by Miss Ruth Vogel and Edw. Potts and everything about the school premises was bequeathed to some one. The giftatory was given by Misses Lorena Seitz and Ruth Freeman, and the class song was presented by Doris Coe. To Miss Nadene Dancer was given the honor of presenting the valedictory, which we are pleased to publish elsewhere.

SALUTATORY

Oleta Seitz

Tonight, we as the class of 1928, are entering the harbor of the future, having completed the journey of the past. As we gaze into this new world of faces who welcome our return, and who wish us success on our coming journey, which will be long and difficult, there is a feeling which arises within us that speaks the word "welcome" to you all.

We cannot tarry long. We must hurry along for the world is moving fast today, but there is always time for a word of thanks, and so to you, parents, who have given your untiring efforts and sacrifices, to make possible this occasion, we owe our sincerest thanks. We realize the sorrow, yes even pain which we have often caused and hope this evening may serve as a reward for all which you have done.

"To our faculty may I speak a word. Throughout four long years, you have ever been by our side, to help, advise, guide, and cheer us when difficulties arose in our daily routine. In our Freshman year, when our members were forty-two strong, it was you whom we sought when in trouble, even as we did in this our last year when there were only twenty-four left. Often our thoughts have been led astray and we considered you harsh and unsympathetic but today do we realize that too well the value of those times and benefits to be derived therefrom in our future life. Friends, we appreciate your presence here this evening and hope that it gives you as much pleasure as it does us; for really this is not a time for sadness—but, actually for joy. As we stand on the threshold of a new life, we see our rosy dreams of youth, bright and full of promise in the hour future, we see ourselves being successful in the business world and enjoying the real beauties of life.

But we must not take too much time—the other ships of life are waiting to take us on our various journeys—some to college and some into the business world.

Whatever course our paths may take, we shall be mindful of this occasion and therefore, with the sincerity and gratitude of youth for what you, our parents, teachers, and friends, have done for us, we say—"You are most heartily welcome!"

VALEDICTORY

Nadene Dancer

We, as a high school class, have reached in our course of study, that which comes to all through patient perseverance—the end. There is always pleasure in accomplishment and there is gratification in the thought that we have, by conscientious work, reached the close of our high school days, and are now ready to take a step beyond.

If our high school life has given us true ideals, and a start toward a method of independent thought, it has done much—and fulfilled its proper purpose. These we truly hope have been the results—and feeling that we have been thus benefited, our thoughts turn to you, kind friends, in heartfelt gratitude for the educational advantages with which you have favored us.

Munith—William Mayer has had an electric range installed in his residence.

Dexter—Five residents of this village, Edward M. Hoey, Brian W. Blakey, Roy M. Lyndon, Henry B. Steinbach and Miss Sarah E. Nixon, will graduate from University of Michigan with the class of 1928.

Ann Arbor—Mrs. Nellie E. Gorman of this city, fell on the cellar stairs at her home, recently, and fractured her left arm. Mrs. Gorman was a resident of Chelsea for many years. She moved to Ann Arbor after the death of her husband, James S. Gorman.

Manchester—Grading for the paving of Main street in this village has been started. The dirt excavated from the street is being used in grading the public square, Emanuel church grounds and other places about the village.

Grass Lake—The Grass Lake baseball team "died a boring." After meeting defeat at the hands of the American Oils at Clark lake, last Sunday, it was decided to disband the local nine, one reason for the action being that it would be difficult to book games so late in the season. It is hoped to organize earlier next year before teams have completed their summer bookings.—News.

On Friday, June 15, at the Michigan State College, a very interesting day has been prepared especially for livestock men. Feeding experiments that have been carried on for the past years in the various livestock departments will be observed. Plans are being made to care for a large crowd.

Powerville—One of the auto-body trucks caught fire in some way in front of the oil station on East Grand River Tuesday evening and made it pretty lively for the driver for a little time until the fire truck arrived and quickly extinguished the flames and drew the truck into a side street.—Review.

Jackson—The police force of this city have donned the summer uniforms and white caps.

Ann Arbor—The state department of agriculture June 6th was permitted, by reason of a stipulation filed in circuit court, in the injunction suit brought against it by several residents of Northfield township to restrain the enforcement of certain corner regulations, to clean up six fields in the township without being considered as violating any order issued in the case.

Milan—The first of the free entertainments to be given by the merchants of Milan, on the Village Park during the summer will be given next Thursday night. For a number of years the merchants of Milan have been hosts to several thousands of people every Thursday night during the summer and have provided free entertainments. Funds have been raised and the schedule calls for twelve nights with free movies.—Leader.

South Lyon—Mr. and Mrs. John Monahan celebrated the 58th anniversary of their marriage at their home at Silver Lake Wednesday night, June 6th. Fifty relatives and friends were present and a repast was served. Mr. Monahan has resided in his present home almost his entire life.

Contained in a case less than four inches deep, a new radio-receiving set is intended to be installed in an automobile instrument board.

The largest steam turbine in the world will be put into service in Ohio in November to supply about 1,000 cities and towns with electric power.

ST. MARY'S HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The graduation exercises of St. Mary's school, which were held in St. Mary's church Sunday evening, were attended by a large number of the relatives and friends of the class of 1928. Father Backett, of Kalamazoo, delivered a very masterly address, which was fully appreciated by the large congregation present. In a very able address, their pastor, Rev. Father VanDyke, presented the members of the class their diplomas.

A very entertaining program of music was another feature of the exercises.

Also, for the interest you have shown in our progress year by year, for the words of encouragement which often spurred us on in this occasion, and we aim and hope to become members of society, a credit to the school so well established and maintained by this community, acting through their appointed school board.

As we look back upon our record and think of the intercourse of the school years, as classmates together, thoughts of regret, and of the day away some of the pleasure from the day. Year after year we have learned the same lessons, overcome the same trials, and shared the same school triumphs and pleasures. Our thoughts and interests have been one; but the day of graduation marks the first great change in our lives.

The course of each classmate will be different in the future. Whatever that future may unfold, it must surely be a life of greater activity and variety. But we must say farewell, and break the ties that have long bound us as a class. Wherever you, my classmates, may go, whatever you may do, may you succeed in the life of usefulness, carrying with you the free and buoyant spirit of school days. Though we can never be classmates again, the class feeling of true friendship need never cease.

Kind teachers, as pupils, we say farewell to you, but nothing can remove from our minds remembrance of all you have done for us, nor darken the picture of those bright school days spent as classmates and teachers together.

But, mingled with these feelings for the past, come anticipations for the future, which must lure us on. Time speeds with flying feet, and all alike must follow. The curtain falls upon the past school day scenes, but another and more glorious scene lies before our eyes—the dawn of a new life is breaking, and before us stretches far into the distance widely diversified paths which lead us ever onward, to an unknown future.

Teachers and classmates, one and all, with a last lingering look at the setting sun of our high school days shining with a tender radiance, clothing the scene with glorious beauty, we turn and fix our gaze upon the day just dawning.

MORE EARLY HISTORY OF CHELSEA VILLAGE

Mrs. Ann E. Sears Wrote Interestingly Of Chelsea Many Years Ago

Continuing the account of the early history of Chelsea we take the following from an article prepared by Mrs. Anna E. Sears and published in The Standard of December 13, 1906:

The older people of Chelsea remember the hills and ravines of fifty years ago, the younger ones can hardly conceive how the change has taken place. Main street was then a rugged hillside, a deep ravine crossing it about where J. S. Cummings store stands. The south side of Park street is a terrace, the north a deep ditch which in order to build on has to be made ground. In front of the residence of George McGole was the hardest sand hill anywhere around for teamsters. In hauling goods from the depot here to Manchester, they were obliged to take up half the load, unload and return for the other half. All who wished to build houses in Chelsea could not build on the hill, consequently they had to build in the hollows, and where some of the handsomest residences now stand were fifty years ago unsightly building spots, so much has the topography of the village changed since it was platted in 1850.

It is said the reason of our narrow streets is because the town that Mr. Elisha Congdon came from had very narrow streets, and naturally he thought it all right for the West to copy the East in laying out towns.

The first brick store was erected by John A. Clark who drew his brick from Sylvan Center on the site of the present laundry. Later this was occupied as a dry goods store.

In the fall and winter of 1852-53 there was no house on the east side of Main street north of the Michigan Central railroad. Newton Robinson had a blacksmith shop on the ground where the Harrington house was later torn down. Elisha Congdon who is the Glazier-Stove Co. Shop No. 18 now stands, and Thomas Godfrey a restaurant just north of that corner which he lived. No other buildings until the corner of Main and Middle streets where the Kempf bank is located.

S. D. Breed had a residence facing Main street where he carried on his trade.

Going back to the north end of Main street, Aaron Durand lived on the west side in the house recently occupied by Mr. Monks and Robert Foster in a house just south which will be remembered was burned a few years ago while owned by Theodore Swartout.

The next building south was the wagon shop of M. M. Boyd, over which he lived that winter, located where Mr. Beissel lately had a cooper shop. On the site of the store of W. P. Schunk & Co., L. Randall had a blacksmith shop and a house on the corner where now stands the Chelsea Savings Bank.

Across South street was the residence of John C. Winans, Lewis Harlow and father kept bachelor's hall where George Wackenhut now lives. The dwelling of Dr. Bancroft where C. E. Whitaker lives completed Main street going back to the north side east of Main Joe Frisbie occupied a stucco house and Newton Robinson a frame house farther east, both recently removed by the Glazier-Stove Company.

Back of the Congdon store Jacob Berry had a small house and on Middle street, Mr. Samson, telegraph operator, lived. West of Main street, facing the railroad and west of the office of the stove company T. Winters had a saloon and a few feet farther west Asel Harris a hotel. This was at this time the sum total of Chelsea.

The population was about as follows: Joe Frisbie, wife and son; N. Robinson, wife and apprentice; Jacob Berry and wife, Mr. Samson, wife and son; T. H. Godfrey, wife and son; S. D. Breed, wife and son; L. Winans and wife; Mr. Parkell, wife and son; E. Congdon, wife and eight children; A. Durand, wife and child; Robert Foster, wife and two sons; M. M. Boyd, wife and apprentice; Ed. Winters; Asel Harris, wife and two sons; Asa Blackney, wife and three children; L. L. Randall and wife; J. C. Winans, wife, daughter and clerk; L. Barlow and father; Dr. Bancroft and wife—making a total of sixty-two. There were perhaps a dozen transients but this practically constituted the population of Chelsea, January 1, 1853.

MICHIGAN'S HABITUAL CRIMINALS MAY GET LIFE

County prosecutors of Michigan will discuss at their meeting in Lansing June 29 and 30 the advisability of sending approximately 65 men now in Jackson and Marquette prisons up for life imprisonment under the criminal code which makes commitment of a fourth felony a life imprisonment offense.

Arthur D. Wood, commissioner of pardons and paroles, and Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of public safety, will join with the attorney general's department in requesting the life terms, it was understood. Tentative plans are to grant temporary paroles to men who have committed four felonies, arraign them at about the same time in their different counties and return them for life.

The public will commend this procedure. There is absolutely no excuse for any person to commit four crimes, one after the other. Such people do not desire to reform or be reformed.

DOGS KILL SHEEP IN SHARON

The first of last week, on the farm of John Haussler, of Sharon, a number of sheep were injured and one was killed. The one that was killed had been eaten as if by a hungry dog or dogs. One dog was killed. There are many dogs running at large in all of the townships in this part of Washtenaw county that bear no license tag for either the annual tax or the vaccination tag. Perhaps a well organized hunting party would relieve the taxpayers from being for so many sheep that are killed by dogs that seem to be ownerless, so far as paying the license to the county dog fund.

Mary and Her Little Lamb

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

WHEN Mary arrived home from her work at the factory with a muddy little lamb tucked tenderly under her worn coat, Mrs. Thunet was really cross.

"Now, Mary, this is going too far. Where do you think the food is coming from for three cats, two dogs, a thrush with a broken wing, six chickens and all the assortment of sparrows you've got about this place? I won't have it. You can just take that lamb back."

"Oh, mother, dearie, I'll not eat a bite for lunch any day if I can just keep him—he's a poor little thing I found bleating near the railway track—he seemed all alone in the world. And Mary's tears splashed down on the wee lamb, and as usual, Mary's mother gave in. She was just as soft-hearted as her daughter when it came to dumb animals, but Mary's animal family was growing out of all proportion to the income earned by the Thunet family.

But the younger children, three of them, went into ecstasies over the new arrival and if the animal family looked askance at the funny little wooden-legged woolly thing, it was not an unwelcome stare.

They had, one and all, been rescued from hedges, gutters, ash cans and other stray animal habitations by Mary, who had tenderly taken them in and nurtured them in her very heart. They loved her in consequence with a love that only dumb animals could know.

Out in the garden behind the house Mary had them stand on their heads, turn somersaults, sit up, and beg. Even the six chickens would fly in a straight row to their perch when Mary ordered. The thrush with the broken wing loved to sit on Mary's shoulder and peck bits of bread crumbs from her lips.

When Mary came home a week or two later with a goat her mother just flopped into a nearby chair and said nothing. What could she say? The tiny goat's eyes were already gazing in complete adoration at its rescuer's face.

Suddenly Mary had a perfect brain-wave about finances.

"Mother, dear, couldn't we serve coffee and doughnuts to motorists on Saturday and Sunday, while I am at home to help? We are so close to the main road that I'm sure we could make some money."

"My darling girlie, you mustn't think of working every day in the week—it would be too much."

"But I should love it and the change from office work would do me good. Please let's have a try at it."

And it was no sooner tickled of than started. An attractive little sign at the head of the lane pointed the way and Mary and her mother did the rest.

From the big old dining room that looked out on the garden to the front bay window, there were little tables and chairs, cheap but adequate, and the time came when these were all well filled with people who enjoyed a good cup of coffee and homemade doughnuts.

Mary's little lamb followed her in and out of the kitchen with each tray. Sometimes the thrush sat upon her shoulder and more often than not a cat or two strolled in with her. Sometimes the goat was seen gazing in at the window.

Then one sunny Saturday afternoon a great gray car drew up in front of the house and a party of six alighted in quest of coffee.

Mary served them all, then slipped out, as was her wont to play with her pets. The young man seemed unable to keep his eyes off her as she sat but her cats, dogs, chickens, the lamb and the goat all through their daily tricks.

"The thrush and the lamb had one little stunt of their own that both seemed thoroughly to enjoy. The thrush got a firm hold of the woolly back and together they had what looked like a private round—the lamb's wooden legs kicking about in all directions and the thrush hanging on like mad."

The party inside having coffee were consumed with laughter. "I say," said David Gregory, film producer, "if I could get an adorable little like that on the screen in a series of pictures I'd make another fortune."

"You've said it, old man—never saw anything so cute in all my life. Tell us, look at what a yellow cat's doing now!"

While the rest of the party were in fits of laughter, young David Gregory was talking seriously with Mary's mother.

"For afraid she wouldn't consent," Mrs. Thunet was saying, "Mary wouldn't have a hair of one of those animals hurt."

"That'll put up a studio in that field at the back and give her a salary that will enable her to feed all the stray animals in the world. Do try to talk her into letting me make just one as a starter."

Mary looked like a little girl of ten in the pictures when they were shown, but in reality she was a full-blown married woman. David Gregory had married her out in that garden with the lamb, the goat, the silver cats and the thrush with a broken wing and all the rest of her pets as witnesses.

SPRAYING AND DUSTING POTATOES DEMONSTRATION

The Crops club members of the Lima 4-H club will meet at the home of E. O. Outwater, Saturday afternoon, June 16, for a special demonstration in spraying and dusting potatoes for the control of the diseases and pests.

COUNTY CLUB NOTES

Mildred Beeman, Anita French, Emily Kuschall, Clara Long, Eleanor Lang and Orson Beeman joined the Lyndon 4-H club at the regular monthly meeting at the Lyndon town hall Thursday evening, June 7th. The club voted an appropriation of ten cents per member toward paying the expenses of Raymond Girbach, Washenaw county 4-H club member, to the national club camp at Washington, D. C.

Albert Cooper was elected captain of the baseball team and he will try to organize a game with the fathers of the club members for their next meeting, Thursday evening, July 5th. Orson Beeman, Anita French and Dale Boyce were appointed a program committee for the next meeting. They plan to hold their next meeting and program around a campfire in the form of an Indian council service at the home of Dale Boyce. The meeting will be preceded by a baseball game with the dads. The club voted five cents dues per month for each member.

Through the efforts of Mrs. B. C. McAuliffe, a leader of the Endwell 4-H club north of Ann Arbor, the State Savings Bank of Ann Arbor will give a trophy to the 4-H club of Washtenaw county that carries out the best all-around club program during the summer of 1928.

garding contests for livestock club members in which Washtenaw boys and girls will be able to participate. J. Swift and Company of Chicago are again offering a trip to the Junior Livestock show at Cleveland, Ohio, December 10-13, 1928, (value not over $40). This trip winner will be the outstanding boy in one of these phases of 4-H club work—beef, sheep or pig. 2. The Blue Valley Creamery Institute of Chicago will award a trip to the outstanding dairy club member from Michigan to the National Dairy Show at Memphis, Tenn., October 18-20.

Two clubs, the Industrial Three-in-One of the eastern part of Lyndon, and western part of Dexter township, and Progressive 4-H club of Superior and Ann Arbor townships, will meet Tuesday evening, June 12.

The 4-H club convention to organize a county organization of 4-H club members was held at the county building, Ann Arbor, at 10 o'clock, Wednesday morning, June 13th. Leaders, presidents and newspaper reporters' conference began with a report given by the Ann Arbor Rotary club at the Chamber of Commerce building, Ann Arbor, at 12 o'clock noon.

says the United States excels them all.

Last Thursday the board of managers of the Home held their monthly meeting here. They were accompanied by their families and other friends. A feast was held in the dining room covers being laid for 135 and the commissary department did themselves right for the way they fed and housed the large company.

A request was taken to the parlor where a social time was spent listening and talking. Superintendent Palmer gave a few words of welcome and responses were made by several members of the board. The interests of the board of managers and family are cemented closer together by such gatherings.

Mrs. L. C. Brabb returned on Sunday from an outing in her home town of Romeo. She was accompanied by her grandchildren, Dr. and Mrs. Carlton E. Brabb. Dr. Brabb was recently graduated from the original college of Osteopathy, in Kirksville, Missouri, and begins his duties this week as an interne in the Detroit Osteopathic hospital, in Highland Park.

"SENIOR REMINDER" APPEARS

The "Senior Reminder," the Chelsea High school annual, made its appearance the first of the week and it is a very creditable book. The book is dedicated to Mrs. Florence Howlett in recognition of the many years of splendid service which she has rendered to both the Grade and High school. One page is devoted to a memorial in memory of Dr. C. W. Palmer as a gentleman, a scholar, a friend of youth, and a progressive member of the board of education for nearly a half century.

FORMER RESIDENT BUYS LARGE FARM

Report is made of the sale of the C. F. York land holdings on the north side of Clark's Lake to Joe Seckinger of Manchester. The holdings are said to include the summer home of Mr. York on the lake shore, his Malena Park subdivision and two farms totaling 280 acres. Local people are glad to have Mr. Seckinger take hold of this property and have confidence in its future development. Mr. York has not occupied the place for a number of months on account of his health and he is said to be now in Florida where he has a hotel property and other interests.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Mr. Seckinger resided in Chelsea several years ago, and Mrs. Seckinger is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weber of Sylvan.

AMERICAN SERVICE STATION BEING IMPROVED

O. B. McLaughlin, who conducts the American Service Station at the corner of Main and Orchard Streets, is having extensive improvements made at the plant. The former driveway, which was built over the basement of the old Baptist church, had settled considerably and the water stood on the cement for some time after a rain. Among the other improvements for the benefit of the patrons will be water taps at each of the three gas pumps. A curb is also being built along the east line of the property from the street to the south line of the property. When the work is all completed the station will be second to none in this vicinity. The construction work is being done under the supervision of Clarence Vogel.

CHELSEA CANDY WORKS STORE TREATED TO NEW PAINT

The interior and exterior of the Chelsea Candy Works have been redecorated during the past week. The tint is of a cream shade and presents a very attractive and inviting appearance. Mr. Panaxitis, the owner of the business, is always on the lookout for anything that will add to the attractiveness of his business place and which will improve the sales as well as the manufacturing departments of his candy, ice cream and soda fountain business, which he has conducted here for several years.

E. E. Tompkins, painter and decorator, did the job which is an especially good one. Mr. Tompkins has been exceptionally busy this season which would indicate that the people of this section appreciate good work and prompt service.

PUPILS OF FOURTH AND FIFTH GRADES ENJOY PICNIC

The pupils of the fourth and fifth grades enjoyed a picnic at the Holmes Memorial Field on Monday. A big dinner, field day activities and stunts followed by a double header ball game were the chief events of the day. Judge Belser's girls' team winning and the fifth grade boys' team winning the ball games. The day ended with an outdoor theater party directed by Margaret Lanson, which was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hauer and son of Woodland, are guests at the home of Miss Josephine Hoppe, of Sylvan. Mr. Hauer is rural mail carrier at Woodland and is enjoying his vacation there.

OUR FLAG 151 YEARS OLD TO-DAY, JUNE 14th, 1928

U. S. Marines raising "Old Glory" at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, purchased by the United States from Denmark in 1917. Upper left: The Liberty Bell, which first rang to celebrate the Declaration of Independence, July 4, is shown guarded by two U. S. Marines during an anniversary celebration. The bell now stands on the lower floor of Independence Hall, and is viewed by thousands who visit the shrine yearly. Upper right: Home of Betty Ross, traditional maker of the first Stars and Stripes, which has changed but little during the more than 150 years it has stood on Arch Street, Philadelphia; only a few hundred yards from Independence Hall. The sign over the door reads: "Birthplace of Old Glory."

We Americans may well be proud of our flag. It is the most beautiful of all national colors. Our flag has pointed the way to freedom to countless thousands; its stars and stripes have helped to cheer our faltering troops to final victory. It stands for patriotism, loyalty and fidelity to the ideals of America.

Our flag—our country! Those words should be indelibly stamped upon the hearts of Americans, young and old. Especially should we render homage to the Stars and Stripes on Flag Day, June 14th. This attractive emblem of our nation that has come down to us through the years, has been evolved from those earlier banners that once cheered the hearts of the colonists.

Before the Revolution the colonists were disposed to design flags which followed their several fancies, the one most commonly used being the cross of St. George, consisting of a white banner with a red cross. Later scores of designs, emblematic of the several colonies, came into existence.

The first flag in general use by the colonists consisted of thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, typifying the thirteen colonies, with a union bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew combined, and signifying the Mother Country. It was known as the Grand Union flag, was known as the Congress Colors, and in addition was the First Navy Ensign.

This flag was hoisted by John Paul Jones over our fleet in the Delaware River, in December 1775, and was blown to the breeze at Cambridge, Mass., when the Continental Army came into existence in January, 1776.

But the Grand Union flag was never formally acknowledged by Congress. It was the Stars and Stripes, which we so often call Old Glory, that was destined to be accorded that honor. Its birthday was on June 14, one hundred and fifty-one years ago.

Romance has trailed Old Glory from the beginning. It harks back to the days of Betty Ross, whose nimble fingers wrought with loving care the first sample of the national flag, which was almost identical with the flag, as we know it today.

Mrs. Ross was a widow, whose skill as a flag maker was known far and wide. Late in the spring of 1776, her little shop in Arch street, Philadelphia, was visited by some distinguished patrons.

A committee, headed by George Washington, called on Mrs. Ross and submitted a rough design of a new type of flag. Stars had been substituted for the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew. The committee was of the opinion that the stars should be six-pointed. Mrs. Ross showed them how a five-pointed star could be made by one snip of her scissors, and her suggestion was adopted.

Some historians believe that Betty Ross did not make the first flag. Her descendants have vouched for the authenticity of the historic visit, and it is known that not long afterward Congress made an order on the Treasury to pay Mrs. Ross a sum amounting to upward of seventy dollars in the British currency then used.

In view of the facts Mrs. Ross would seem to have a rightful claim to the distinction of making the first Stars and Stripes, even though many others may have had a part in the designing of it.

It is of interest to know that Mrs. Ross was a flag maker for some sixty years, was three left a widow, lived to be 84 years old and died in 1866.

Five or six weeks after Mrs. Ross was commissioned to make the flag, the Liberty Bell, so vitally associated with the flag and the nation, rang out the glad tidings of the Declaration of Independence, proclaiming Liberty throughout the land.

Nearly twelve more months rolled around, however, before the official birthday of the Stars and Stripes on June 14, 1777. On that date Congress resolved that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternating red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in blue field, representing a new constellation.

At last the colonies were united under one national banner. Henceforth the nation was to be represented by a flag which today is acknowledged by even the most unsentimental persons, as the most beautiful of all flag designs.

The market has braced up since one week ago on wheat and 54c is the point price now for red or white. A good foreign demand and rumors of damage to western growing wheat did it. Rye 45c, begins $1.40; oats 38c; potatoes 30c; eggs 35c; butter 12c; wool 8c to 10c for unwashed and 10c to 14c for washed. Receipts light yet because better prices are expected next month. There will be a considerable arrival of wheat the next two weeks to make room for new wheat.

Miss Agnes, daughter of C. McGowan, died at her home in Dexter township Tuesday, June 12. She was 26 years of age. The funeral will be at St. Mary church Friday morning at 10 o'clock and burial at Dexter.

Dwight Riggs, whose home was about five miles west of Chelsea, was found dead in bed Wednesday morning. He had been sick but a short time and death was unlooked for. He was 64 years of age. He leaves one son and two brothers. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of James Riggs.

Mr. Burkhardt, photographer, will take a flash light picture of the class of students on the stage immediately after the commencement exercises are over. Charles Steinbach is now preparing to move away the frame building in which he has carried on his harness and music business for many years, and will erect a brick building, which he will occupy when it is completed.

Unadilla—Chandler Lane, of Wood's Corners, spent Sunday with his parents, Charles Hadley, the veteran sheep shearer, reports that the shearing in this vicinity is about done for this season.

HOW TO KILL YOUR CHURCH

Don't come to the services.
If you do come, come late.
If the weather doesn't suit you, don't think of coming.

If you do attend, find fault with the work of those in charge.

Get sore if you are not elected to office or appointed on a committee, but if you are, do not officiate or committee meetings.

Don't affiliate with any auxiliary organizations of the church such as the Sunday school, Missionary society or Christian Endeavor.

If asked by the chairman to explain your opinion regarding some matter, tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting, tell everyone how it ought to have been done, etc.

Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary, but when other members roll up their sleeves and willing, unselfishly use their ability to help matters along, howl because the organization is run by a clique.

Hold back on your pledges as long as possible, or don't pay them at all. Don't bother about getting new members. Let the minister do it. Exchange.

A STATEMENT RELATING TO THE FUTURE OF THE CHRYSLER CORPORATION and DODGE BROTHERS, INC.

The widespread public interest in recent events affecting the Chrysler Corporation and Dodge Brothers, Inc., deserves an authentic and official statement and an assurance regarding the future of these two corporations.

Subject to the approval of stockholders, Dodge Brothers, Inc., will be acquired by the Chrysler Corporation, the plan of amalgamation having been recommended by their respective boards of directors.

Each of these great institutions will retain its identity, and will continue, as heretofore, to produce and market its own product in accordance with the high and progressive standards from which motor-car buyers the world-over have previously benefited.

Each will benefit from the consummation of a plan which unites such tremendous resources in material, manufacturing facilities, financial power and manufacturing genius.

Dodge Brothers will continue to be Dodge Brothers, and Chrysler will be Chrysler. Their products will be separate and distinct and will be continued in production without interruption. Their sales organizations will be unrelated except as they shall mutually share in the advantages of the consolidation.

Both public and dealers may look forward to the greater benefits which the consolidation of such tremendous resources will produce—and the men identified with these businesses may be assured of a stable and definite future, inspired by the progressiveness which has been responsible for this uniting of two great companies.

SUNDAY IS FATHER'S DAY

A few weeks ago everybody observed Mother's day in a most fitting and endearing manner. The one day was given fully to the expression of love and respect to the mothers, living and dead. The day was associated with many hallowed memories and countless thousands spent the day in mother's presence—some in reality, some in memory only. It was a fine thing to do and our mothers greatly appreciated all the homage that was paid them.

Now comes Father's day next Sunday, the 17th, and it is altogether fitting that he be honored also. Father may be just a little shy of fragrant floral tokens and letters written on pink paper, but he will appreciate none the less our expression of our affection and your appreciation for all the labor he has done and is doing in your behalf. To hear these expressions from daughters and sons may be a surprise, and the surprise in many cases, may be quite a shock for father, but it will be a fine thing to do just the same.

Fathers are having a pretty "hard row to hoe" these days because there are so many demands upon the pay checks as they come along each week or month, but he goes forth each day with a song, labors long and faithfully until the day is done and returns home at night to his fireside. There are not many roses along that daily pathway from home to shop and back again, but there may be some flowers of appreciation when he returns from his days work if we would occasionally thank him for what he is doing and what he has done for all of us.

By all means, let us observe father's day next Sunday by giving some tangible expression of gratitude we owe our fathers. They will appreciate our thoughtfulness and we will become better men and women, better boys and girls, for having shown our respect for them.

PROMPT ACTION NEEDED

New York state leads the way in taking definite action to reduce crime. Instead of passing new laws and regulations to encroach upon the rights and privileges of law-abiding citizens, it passed the Baughn's law in 1926, which automatically sentences a man convicted for the fourth time of committing a felony, to life imprisonment. Naturally there have been objections to this law because it has "teeth" in it, but if crime is to be reduced the number of criminals and potential criminals must also be reduced. There is no excuse for a man committing four crimes of a character to involve a penitentiary sentence. Why should the public be subjected to the danger of mounting habitual criminals?

New York has taken a step in the right direction. It should be upheld in its program to catch the crook, keep him caged, hand him a fitting sentence, and see that he serves it. Sentimental individuals claim that severe punishment does not deter the criminal but makes him hate society. This apparently has not been the case in New York. The certainty of life imprisonment for a fourth felony has stayed the hand of the hardened criminal. He thinks twice before sentencing himself under such a law.

What New York has done the rest of the country must do if it actually desires to overcome the criminal element, make crime not only unprofitable but highly inconvenient and dangerous for the perpetrator.

MERITS OF INDUSTRIAL PEACE

"We have never known a time when employer and employee worked together in such genuine partnership," said Secretary of Labor James J. Davis recently. "Strikes and discords have never been fewer. The country has never been so filled with general contentment."

"This harmony, this smoothness of operation in most of our industries, has undoubtedly played a great part in bringing about the prosperity we now have enjoyed for several years. And because it is now pretty thoroughly understood to be responsible for much of our prosperity, I think American industry means to preserve this new spirit of harmony and make it a permanent thing."

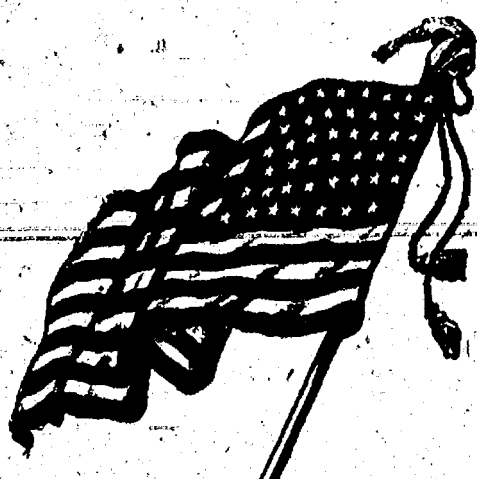

"Such has been its broad benefits to the country as a whole. In my estimation its benefit to the individual has been almost revolutionary."

Questions once handled by committees and groups, with everlasting misunderstanding and discord, are now in the main ironed out around a table in a friendly manner. The worker and his boss have found that they are simply two business men, who prosper best when they settle between them as business men should, all matters at issue between them.

THE LARGEST CORPORATION

The annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company issued recently showed that its employees 308,611 persons and is owned by 423,580 stockholders. In 1927 its 56,822,895 miles of wire earned $128,614,000. That is well organized bigness, not mere bulk, but a fine species of service.

Dickinson, the lawn-mower man of Stockbridge, agent a dollar for locals in The Standard and was kept busy several days sharpening and repairing lawn mowers in Chelsea. He declares that standard linear pay well.

HOW TO DISPLAY THE FLAG

When the flag of the United States is being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same—that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

When used on a speaker's platform, the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk or to be draped from the front of a building.

When a speaker's right is on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the state flag or other flag should be at the left of the congregation. It in the States should be the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation and other flags on his left.

OUT FISHIN'

The season for black bass and blue gills will open Saturday and from now on life will be worth living. Edgar Guest expressed it about right when he wrote "Going Fishin'."

A father isn't thinkin' mean, Out fishin'; His thoughts are mostly good and clean.

Out fishin'; He doesn't knock his fellow men, Or harbor any grudges then; A feller's at his finest when Out fishin'.

A feller's glad to be a friend, Out fishin'; A helpin' hand he'll always lend, Out fishin'.

The brotherhood of rod and line, An' sky an' stream is always fine; Men come real close to Gm's design, Out fishin'.

THIS OUGHT TO SETTLE THE ARGUMENT

Judging from the conflicting opinions expressed by fishermen and would-be fishermen the new law regulating fishing in Michigan is not very well understood.

Some claimed that all persons desiring to fish must take out a license. Others claimed the law only applied to those who desired to fish for trout. In order to settle the argument and thus prevent bloodshed, The Standard dispatched the following letter of inquiry to Lansing last week:

Chelsea, Mich., June 8th, 1928. Conservation Commission, Lansing, Michigan. Gentlemen:

There has been an argument here regarding the provisions of the fishing laws. Does every person desiring to fish have to take out a license? Or does that provision apply only to those who desire especially to fish for trout? A prompt reply will be appreciated.

To this letter we received the following reply in Wednesday's mail: Lansing, June 12, 1928. The Chelsea Standard, Chelsea, Michigan. Dear Sir:

The only law requiring residents of the state to secure licenses for angling is Act 350, P. A. 1927, which provides for licensing for trout fishing only all male residents of the state over 21 years of age.

Very truly yours, G. McCANN, Chief Clerk.

CELEBRATED FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

The home of Mrs. Michael Kappler of Sylvan township, was the scene of an enjoyable family party Sunday, celebrating her fiftieth birthday anniversary, also the recent marriage of her daughter, Miss Olga. At five o'clock a delicious turkey dinner was served, after which the honor guests were presented with many beautiful gifts. Guests at the party included Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Sager and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Broderick and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Broderick, Miss Lillie Kappler and Herman Podewell, of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Best Dalton and children, of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Steffe of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wackenhut and Julius Reilly, of Chelsea.

CONSERVING HUMAN LIFE

Michigan is in the midst of a traffic safety campaign that will continue until the last of June. How to make driving more safe, how to prevent motor accidents is occupying the time and minds of those who would help in cutting down the enormous loss of life through automobile accidents in this state. Motorists are being urged to check up on their cars, to see that brakes are in perfect condition, that their lights meet with the requirements of night driving, that every faulty condition of the machine is corrected. Drivers are being educated to observe the rules of the road and to remember that courtesy pays big dividends. Not much to ask when it results in such saving of human life—every decent and responsible owner of an automobile will gladly lend his aid and support to this campaign. Visit an official safety garage, today and see if your automobile meets all requirements.

STREAM POLLUTION PROBLEM NEARING END

Cities of Michigan, almost without exception, are working rapidly toward solution of their sewage disposal so that there may be no stream pollution from their waste, and are co-operating with the conservation department. H. S. Murphy, in charge of stream pollution for the conservation department, said at Lansing, Monday.

Murphy estimated that there are approximately 100 municipalities in the state which should undertake some nature of sewage disposal to correct pollution conditions. Many of these already have taken definite steps in the right direction, he said.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT and SHOE REPAIRING

"Good care of shoes includes prompt repair. It is never true economy to wear down-at-the-heel dilapidated shoes. Such shoes neither protect the feet nor properly support the body. What might be saved in leather may be paid eventually to foot specialists and doctors. The minute a seam rips, a heel twists out of shape, or a hole wears through the outsole, the shoe needs repairing."

HOW GOOD IS A PROMISE?

"I PROMISE TO PAY." Every Automobile Insurance Policy might just as well begin in this well known manner, for it is an obligation to pay the policyholder immediately upon information regarding amount, and proof of loss or accident.

The quality of any promise depends upon how good it can be kept. During the past eleven years, since its organization, Auto-Owners Insurance Company has kept 56,461 promises—every one it has ever made with policyholders who have sustained losses.

A car insurance promise, to be faithfully kept, depends upon strong financial standing, good business management, and fairness to all concerned.

Every Auto-Owners policy is protected by

Assets of $1,325,000.00

...THE PERFECTED WHIPPET...

The Most Valuable Car Ever Offered For So Little Money

A Quality Car at the Lowest Price in Our History

Within its price class, no car, we believe, combines so many advantages—offers such remarkable value as the perfected Whippet.

Today's light car standards are a tribute to the pioneering the Whippet has done. Four-wheel brakes—lower center of gravity—greater economy—greater roominess—quieter engines—faster speed and pick-up—these are advantages you would not think of being without today.

Many Added Features

Among the many things you will like in the perfected Whippet are more beautiful bodies with ead-type visor, full crown pressed steel fenders, an engine that doubles its rated horsepower, full force-feed lubrication, silent timing chain, gasoline tank in rear, long semi-elliptic springs, and oversize balloon tires and standard equipment includes automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror and combination stop and rear driving light. The new colors of the 1928 Whippet add beauty and smartness that set this modern car entirely apart from other light cars.

Holds Remarkable Records

Owners had driven and tested the Whippet for more than five hundred miles before this perfected Whippet was produced. It holds the A. A. A. Coast-to-Coast Economy Record, averaging 48.2 miles per gallon. In a national economy test 5500 owners averaged 38 miles to the gallon. Whippet established a record of 71.6 miles per hour in a speed test on Rockingham Speedway. In Pittsburgh stock Whippet was driven from a standing start up an 850-foot incline—a 37 per cent grade—in 46 seconds. You will be pleased with every detail of this up-to-date car. Drive it and make your own decision—comparing it with other light cars.

MICHIGAN MOTORISTS BENEFIT GREATLY BY NEW LAW

Motorists of Michigan will benefit to the extent of many thousands of dollars as a result of legislation affecting the car owner passed at the first session of the seven-hundredth congress, according to B. C. Belcher, secretary of the Michigan branch of the Detroit Automobile club. In reviewing the measures enacted, Mr. Belcher declared that the final repeal of the excise tax on new automobiles was by far the greatest achievement in behalf of the motorists and has already cut $46,000,000 from the annual tax bill of motorists. "The effect of this bill," said Mr. Belcher, "is that every purchaser of a new automobile will save from $25 to $250. It will also stimulate automotive sales and add to the prosperity of the state."

MICHIGAN MADE ENVIABLE RECORD FOR THE YEAR

During the past school year Michigan University won 44 and lost 19 contests in competition against other Western Conference schools.

The swimming and golf teams made the best showing by winning all of their contests. The cross country team had an equally good record although it had only one meet with Purdue, which it won. The baseball team lost missed the select circle of Western Conference schools when it lost to Ohio State in the final Big Ten game of the season. The baseball team won eleven games and lost one. Against Chicago and Iowa, Michigan teams won all the contests and lost one each to Northwestern and Indiana. Michigan and Illinois each won and lost the same number of contests while Minnesota was the only Conference school to win more contests from Michigan than the Wolverines did from the Gophers. Hockey, in which Michigan failed to win, was responsible for this.

The Wolverines won nine less contests against Conference teams this year than they did last. The record for a year ago was 53 victories and 18 defeats; however, there were eight less contests this year than last.

The record of the Wolverines against Big Ten competition follows:

	Wan.	Lost
Chicago	5	0
Iowa	3	0
Northwestern	4	1
Indiana	4	1
Ohio State	7	2
Purdue	4	2
Wisconsin	7	4
Illinois	4	4
Minnesota	3	5
Totals	44	19
