CHELSEA ALUMNI ENJOYS A SUCCESSFUL BANQUET

Many Former Pupils Return For The Glad Reunion—Banquet—Faulstich Served To 162

The thirty-second annual banquet of the Chelsea High School Alumni Association was held Friday evening in the public school gymnasium marking the close of the activities for commencement week.

About 160 people were in attendance. At seven o'clock a delicious three-course dinner was served under the supervision of the Congregational Ladies Guild. The orchestra of Ann Arbor rendered several numbers during the banquet. The alumni colors, yellow and white, predominated in the decorations, which consisted of festoons of yellow and white crepe paper, potted palms and large baskets of white flowers. A special kindergarten table was reserved for the class of 1928, at the head of which was a silver canoe with their class motto "Rowing—Not Drifting," and streamers of maroon and silver, yellow, rose confections with yellow candles, baskets of marguerites and yellow roses, and marshmallow baskets with spice sticks.

In the absence of the president, Howard S. Holmes, the business session was called to order by Vice President George W. Walworth. The secretary's report read by Miss Dorothy Hasegawa, was accepted. The report of the nominating committee was given and officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—Waldo H. Kusterer.
Vice President—Mrs. Harold E. Spaulding.

Secretary—Miss Ella M. Barber.
Treasurer—Carl J. Mayer.

The president then introduced Chandler Rogers as toastmaster, and the program opened with a vocal encore, "May Morning" by Denza Boyd, rendered by Mrs. Whitford Bacon Palmer, who responded to an encore, "May Morning" by Denza Boyd, accompanied by Mrs. Rena Walworth. A toast "Looking Backward Four Years" was given by M. Gordon Bickmiller. Violin solos "Kreisler's Lieberlied" and "Farewell to Cuckoo" were rendered by Mrs. Jerry H. Bacon, with Miss Doris Schmidt as accompanist.

A toast "About Ten Minutes" was given by Karl E. Vogel. The program was concluded with a toast, "Yesterday and Today" by Miss Marie Finkbeiner.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Those from away who attended the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schoettler, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler A. Rogers, Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, Mrs. George Turnbull, Miss Florence McQuillan, George A. Taylor and George Naeckel, Miss Nina Greening and James Bacon of Detroit, and E. J. Vogel of Omaha, Nebraska. Mrs. Fred R. Stevens of Devil's Lake, N. D.; Miss Edith L. Congdon of Ottawa, Ont.; Miss Grace Bacon, of State College, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. George S. Bacon, of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Elmer Hammond, of Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. L. W. Kline, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vosler, of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. John Hauer, of Woodland; Mrs. Eva Gilderleeve, of Jackson; Miss Nellie Congdon, of Hillsdale; Miss Helen Beck, of Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. William Keubler, of Manchester, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wilson, of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Elmer Feldkamp, Mrs. Hollis W. Freeman and Miss Lena Foster, of Ann Arbor.

McKUNE-FRY NUPHIALS

Miss Agnes McKune, of Chelsea, and Paul Fry of Detroit, spoke their wedding vows Tuesday morning in St. Mary church. The Reverend Father Henry VanDyke performed the ceremony. During the ceremony Mrs. J. Vincent Burg rendered a vocal solo, "Ave Maria" by Lounson and was assisted at the organ by Miss Wills.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Katherine McKune, on North Main street. The bride chose for her wedding attire a flesh colored georgette crepe gown with picture hat to match, and carried a showy bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary McKune, sister of the bride, wore a gown of old rose georgette, with hat to match, and carried pink roses. William Sullivan, of Detroit, assisted Mr. Fry as best man. After the reception the bride and groom departed for a two week motor trip through Ohio and Indiana, and upon their return they will make their home in Detroit.

On Saturday, June 16, a shower was given in honor of Miss McKune at the home of Mrs. J. Vincent Burg. The hostesses were Mrs. Burg, Mrs. Clarence Ulrich, Mrs. J. P. Cook and Mrs. Wilhelmina Burg. The evening was spent in playing games, followed by a luncheon. Miss McKune received many beautiful gifts.

MRS. KATHERINE CRARY DIED SATURDAY EVENING

Mrs. Katherine (Logie) Crary, aged 82, died Saturday afternoon at her home on Orchard street after a few weeks' illness. Mrs. Crary was born August 13, 1845, in Blue Earth, Minnesota. She was united in marriage to Dr. Hunter Crary, a physician, much beloved in the west. He retired from practice and for several years traveled abroad, giving years with stereotyped views, travel talks, and was a resident of California. She became a resident of Chelsea in 1921.

Mrs. Crary is survived by two brothers, Eugene Logie, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Dan, of Blue Earth, Minn. Funeral services were held at three o'clock Monday afternoon at the Maps & Plunkett funeral home. Rev. Sidney S. Robins, of Ann Arbor, officiated and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

NEAR-BY LAKES ARE ATTRACTING MANY

The Ann Arbor Y. W. C. A. on the south shore of Clear Lake opened for the season on Monday of this week. The association acquired five acres of land at their present site last year and have disposed of their camp property at Cavanaugh Lake, which they have occupied for several years. The season opened Monday will continue for eight weeks.

Many of the owners of cottages at the near-by lakes are having them fitted up for their use this summer. Some of the owners have already moved into their summer homes and they will all probably be occupied within the week or ten days. Camp Newark, at Dexter, was opened for the season on Monday of this week. The camp grounds were given to the Boy Scouts of Washtenaw county by Mrs. H. Wirt Newkirk of Ann Arbor, and D. E. Hoey of Detroit. The scouts who opened the camp this week will remain for a period of two weeks and during the season Scouts from various parts of the county will occupy the camp for two weeks periods.

BUILDING A MODERN AND COMMODIOUS BARN

Henry Hein has a force of carpenters at work building a modern barn on his farm in Sylvan. The building is 38x70 feet, with a basement and the two floors above the basement will be used for the storage of hay and grain. The lumber used in the construction of the building was cut from timber grown on the farm.

JEWISH WELFARE CENTER TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY

The Groups of Attractive New Buildings Will Be Occupied Next Week—Others To Follow

There has been a great deal of interest shown in the group of buildings being erected on Lehman's Lake, about five miles west of Chelsea, but there seemed to be a great diversity of opinion as to the purpose of these buildings. The purpose of the project, and the organization back of it.

The United Jewish Charities of Detroit, are the sponsors, and this particular camp is called Mothers' Camp, and is primarily for the use of mothers and children under six or seven years of age. Present accommodations are for about a hundred and more buildings will probably be erected next year.

The camp now consists of a main building, two cottages, a garage and a bath-house. The main building is a hundred feet long, averaging twenty feet in width and has a kitchen wing thirty feet long in addition. In the center is a large social hall, or general assembly room, fitted with a large fireplace, book shelves, and equipment for giving entertainments. To the right is the superintendent's room, a nurse's room, a room for a doctor, a sick ward. To the left is a large dining room, and off of this a splendidly equipped kitchen. In the excavated portion are the laundry, two bath rooms, store rooms, machine room, and care-taker's quarters. Each cottage is over eighty feet long and twenty-nine feet wide, divided into sleeping rooms, one large dormitory room, and bath-rooms, linen-closets, etc.

Electric light is furnished by their own power plant, a gas machine furnishes heat for the kitchen, and steam tables; a four-inch well and steam electric pump and 1500 gallon storage tank supplies the water; and two large refrigerating plants are installed in the kitchen.

Everything is modern and up-to-date, and all equipment the best of its kind. The formal dedication will take place on Sunday, June 24th, at which time upwards of a thousand people are expected to be present to take part in the ceremony. And the following week the first group will occupy the camp, followed by other groups throughout the summer.

Harry D. Mills of Ann Arbor, had the contract for the erection of the buildings and judging from general appearances he has done an exceptionally good job. Everything about the premises is in fine condition, giving evidence of careful planning and substantial construction. Chelsea people who have had dealings with Mr. Mills have found him a very courteous and obliging gentleman.

ALL-KIWANIS NIGHT WAS MOST FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Chelsea Kiwanis Club Entertained The Ladies of Sylvan Estates Monday Evening

All-Kiwanis night, an annual affair in which all the clubs in the United States and Canada join, was very fittingly and enjoyably observed on Monday evening by the members of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club to the number of about 35, the ladies present making the company number about 70. A bountiful dinner was served at 6:30 by Mr. and Mrs. Lowry of the Country Club and following the delightful repast an enjoyable program was given. Dr. A. A. Palmer, vice president, presided and announced the songs which were rendered by the orchestra furnished music during the serving of the dinner and added a few numbers to the program. Past President J. H. Boyd gave an address in which he told of "The Meaning of All-Kiwanis Night," and this was followed by a vocal solo by J. N. Niehaus. George Ward H. has spoken on the subject "The great men that golf has produced." H. D. Witherell gave a "speechless address" in which he went through all the "motions" but did not utter a word. This was a most unusual number because speakers usually like to talk when they have an opportunity.

Schallie made a few brief remarks on "Kiwanis Activities," in which he told of some of the conventions and Kiwanis meetings he had attended. Singing of some familiar Kiwanis songs was enjoyed by the merry company under the leadership of Jerry Niehaus, and this feature always proves popular at every Kiwanis gathering. Rev. A. E. Potts was assigned the subject "The use of tobacco, or what can we convert our filling stations into in the years to come?" and his treatment of the subject brought forth much merriment and applause. During his discussion he took occasion to pay his compliments to Attorney Witherell for having suggested a subject relating to the use of the noxious weed. At the conclusion of the talk, Kiwanis Witherell was given an opportunity to reply and he did so with words instead of "gestures."

Cards and dancing were enjoyed until the "zero hour" when all clubs joined with the delegates attending the national convention at Seattle, Wash., in a brief service during which a message from Henry C. Heinz, president of Kiwanis International, was read by H. D. Witherell, in which the aims, purposes, and ideals of the organization were set forth. It was nearly midnight when the program was concluded and the company dispersed.

NEW MARKET TO OPEN HERE SATURDAY

The Eckert Market Company will open a new meat and vegetable market in the Joseph Lebeck building, first floor west of the Kephk Commercial & Savings Bank on West Middle street, on Saturday and the public is cordially invited to attend the opening. The building has been put in excellent repair and everything about the place is as clean and as sanitary as painting and cleaning compounds can make them. A large ice box has been installed in which the products of the market can be stored and the new market presents a very attractive appearance.

The Eckert Market Company has twenty stores in this section and they aim to give Chelsea one of their very best. They buy in large quantities and are thus enabled to sell cheaply. A special announcement in today's Standard cordially invites the people of this section to visit the new market on Saturday, the opening day.

Elmer W. Yaw will be the manager of the new market.

LEHMAN FAMILY ENJOYED REUNION LAST SUNDAY

The annual Lehman family reunion was held Sunday in Ann Arbor, at the home of Mrs. Michael and Carl Lehman with an attendance of 125. When the guests had all arrived a program was given as follows: Prayer, Ida Barth; scripture reading, Carl Lehman; song, "America," address by George Lehman; recitation, Nadene Lehman; song, Robert Nordman; recitation, Geraldine Gummie; remembrance, Marion Barth; recitation, Irene Lehman; song, Agnes Barth; recitation, Virginia Lehman; song, Lucile Barth; recitation, Dorothy Heydlauff; song, Lucile Barth; songs, "God Be With You" and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

A wonderful picnic dinner was served shortly after noon and the gathering proved one of the most enjoyable ever held by this well known family. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Pres. Conrad Lehman; vice-president, Carl Lehman; secretary-treasurer, Laura Lehman. The next reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lehman in Chelsea.

LOCAL MACCABEES HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

A joint meeting of the two orders of the Maccabees in Chelsea was held Tuesday evening in the room over Kephk's restaurant, which was fairly well attended. Great Camp Commander E. W. Thompson of Detroit, and Mrs. Ivan Garner, of Detroit, and Mrs. E. O'Brien of Ypsilanti, representing the Lady Maccabees were present.

Mr. Thompson gave a very interesting address in which he discussed the various features of the order. As neither the men or ladies of the Tent and Have have held any meetings for a year or so, the meeting of Tuesday evening was in the nature of a social get-together of the members of both orders. In the near future the both orders expect to have a representative of the orders here to make a thorough canvass of the local situation.

THE VERDICT OF NUMBERS

Most people know what they want. In spite of bitter experience, they get the best eventually—in tires, as in other things.

Above the baffling claims of rival tire manufacturers and allurements of price-cutting dealers, the judgment of numbers cannot be denied:

SALE OF FIREWORKS RESTRICTED UNDER THE STATUTES

The following are sections two and three of the public acts of 1925, regarding the sale of fireworks. There are a number of pieces of large fireworks that cannot be sold in the state except under certain conditions and their sale is limited. The two sections are:

Sec. 2. It shall hereafter be lawful from the twenty-first day of June to the fifth day of July, inclusive, of each year, for any person or persons, firm, copartnership, or corporation to sell, offer or expose for sale, at retail, such fireworks as are not rendered illegal to sell by section one thereof; provided, however, that it shall be lawful hereafter for a wholesale resident dealer or jobber to sell at wholesale such fireworks as are not prohibited by section one at any time during each year.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to discharge, set off, ignite or explode any fireworks in public excepting on the third, fourth or fifth days of July of each year, and no fireworks shall at any time be discharged, ignited or exploded within one block or square of any hospital, asylum or infirmary.

WHY FARMERS NEED TARIFF

There are two aspects of the protective tariff that are of particular interest to American farmers. One is its effect in adding to the cost of importing foreign products that compete directly with their crops. The other is its influence in providing a broad and active market for the things they have to sell.

The second is by all odds the more important of the two. Of the total farm output of the country, 85 per cent is consumed within its borders; only 15 per cent is exported.

The domestic market of the United States is the greatest market in the world. The average expenditure of the American family for food and clothing, under which classifications are included practically all farm products, is greater than in any other country. It is larger because the policy of protection to American industry has led to the payment of better wages, and the maintenance of a higher standard of living than prevails elsewhere.

This is a phase of the tariff question that is seldom dwelt upon by those who advocate opening our markets to the products of the whole world; yet it is the feature of the most vital importance. Facts About

TOO MANY INSPECTORS

We have always believed that the manner in which the corn-borer campaign was conducted for the first two years was a disgrace to the government. It is larger because the policy of protection to American industry has led to the payment of better wages, and the maintenance of a higher standard of living than prevails elsewhere.

If the clean-up method is the only sure way of eradicating the corn-borer evil then every farmer ought to be willing and anxious to do their part and we believe most of them are, but they do not like the manner in which they are ordered about by a lot of young college students who know very little about farming and who seem to be more eager to display their authority than they are to impart any helpful suggestion.

REMAKING OLD ROADS

A perfected surface is being put on the famous Columbia Highway in Oregon. Sharp rock screenings are mixed with thick asphaltic oil, and heavily rolled into the existing paving, with clean, dry screenings loose on top. This makes a surface on which wheel spindles are practically impossible, but which is safe for rubber-tired automobiles.

Thousands of miles of old roads are being made over widened in this manner into perfect modern highways.

ORPHAN BOYS NAMED AS PARTY LEADERS

Making good on the talk of its campaign, officers about this great land of opportunity for all, the Republican party has presented to the nation its national ticket for 1928, two men who started life as orphans at the bottom of the ladder.

For president—Herbert Hoover, of California.

For vice president—Charles Curtis, of Kansas.

The party offers for president—the son of an Iowa blacksmith, who worked his way through Stanford university by waiting table, on wealthy students, became one of the world's great mining engineers, director of Belgian relief and of America's war-time food administration, secretary of conference at the Haywood and Coolidge cabinets, and now the republican nominee by an overwhelming majority vote.

FATHER

Who is it wears the patch work hose
And seldom goes to picture shows,
That his girl may have fine clothes—
It's Father!
Who is it wears last summer's suit,
That his boy may be a sporty frat,
And thinks it quite all right at that,
It's Father!
Who is it buys the bread and meat
Who keeps the shoes on all our feet
And then gets shoved in a back seat,
It's Father!
We've Mother's Day and Poppy Day,
And lots of other holidays,
But almost all are Labor Days,
For Father!

KNOW MICHIGAN

Know Michigan. And know
That all her fields and woods,
And lakes and streams—
Her cities teeming with mighty industry,
Her colleges like lamps of learning
Set upon a hill—
Her farmsteads in the valleys—
All these treasures and rich
Possessions and all these resources
Are ours, because they're Michigan's.
Here in this pleasant land
Bounded by inland seas,
A working people prospers;
Here is a happy balance
Of toil and play;
And roads that lead out everywhere
Measuring distance by a sundial,
And when work is done
Take calling not so far away
And woods with their Mysterious whispers lure the aweared
To newer concepts
Of Truth and Beauty.
Here is our Commonwealth—
Here will we work, and
In this playland recreate ourselves
For larger tasks.

HOOVER, CURTIS CHOICE OF C. O. P.

Named as Candidates of Republican Party on First Ballot.

For President:
HERBERT C. HOOVER
For Vice President:
CHARLES CURTIS

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

Kansas City, Mo.—The following is a picture of the Republican national convention as a neutral observer—one of probably not more than 50 of that kind—saw it, from the preliminaries of Sunday morning to the final curtain drop on Friday.

After all the fuss, all the noise, all the furor and all the speeches this is what actually happened:

Herbert Hoover was nominated for President on the first ballot. Charles Curtis of Kansas was nominated for vice president also on the first ballot. A platform was adopted declaring for and against many things among which were:

Recognizing a need for relief for agriculture and a need for each crop to have its own market.

Advocating the creation of a national farm board as another means of aiding agriculture.

Promising a strict enforcement of the prohibition law.

The real red flag and enthusiasm of the convention came with the naming of Herbert Hoover as the candidate. It was undoubtedly augmented because of the rather sullen message sent to the convention by Governor Lowden when withdrawing his name. The Lowden message did more than any other one thing to heal any wounds that may have been the result of the farm-plank fight. Other candidates stayed in the fight to the end, but placed themselves good losers. It was Kansas that moved to make the nomination of Hoover unanimous, promptly seconded by every other state that had been voting for a favorite son. On that one ballot Hoover received 837, Lowden 74, Curtis 64, Watson 45, Norris 24, Goff 18, Coolidge 17, Davies 4, Hughes 1, not voting 5.

Starts Off Quietly.

Take Sunday morning as a time to start. On the surface Kansas City at that time was as quiet as a country village. The city had entered into a national convention once before, and the people were not there to display any wild exuberance over the coming show. To be sure the city was decorated with a tasteful display of flags, of streamers and red, white and blue bunting such as might have anticipated strategic preparations for the opening of the barrage fire on Tuesday morning. From these suites at frequent intervals would come communiques announcing the arrival of reinforcements, and other "facts" intended to spread consternation in enemy camps. Most of it was pure political bluff that did not cause a ripple, and did not so much as affect the correspondent's game of golf.

During the day Senator Jim Watson modestly announced his candidacy by quoting words once used by Uncle Joe Cannon: "As to this talk of nominating me for the Presidency I must say the Republican party could go a d—n sight further, and do a d—n sight worse."

On Sunday evening Mrs. Medill McCormick issued a communique to the effect that the convention would arrive on Monday morning in the person of Secretary Mellon.

On Sunday evening the festivities were culled by the mysterious New York delegation, each and every one of whom were immediately besieged by the draft-Coolidge and the anti-Hooverites.

By Monday morning it was definitely known that the vanguard of the Hoover army had arrived. The financial department reported 14 of them camped in Electric park, 12 from Minnesota and two from Iowa all of them distinguished by big yellow badges reading "Equality for Agriculture."

Gossip, rumor, surmise. They filled the air all day of Monday. The New York delegation consisted of eleven men as its chairman. "That," said the anti-Hoover allies, "means the worst of the Hoover campaign."

And it was all guesswork or little hope of hope.

No Light From Mellon.

The one big event of Monday, an event looked forward to with varying degrees of hope or fear, was the arrival of the Pennsylvania delegation, including that most important of all delegates, Secretary Mellon. Those stands of visitors, delegates and others, and Jimmie the great Union station to get a glimpse of the man who moved would name the candidate. Some hoped and others feared to hear him utter the fatal words that were expected to settle the tense situation. But Mr. Mellon had the crowd for one thing he wanted by the back door of the station, and for another he refused to talk, except to say that he brought no further word from the President. According to him, the Pennsylvania delegation had not received any decision as to which candidate it would support, and would not do so until it held a caucus on Tuesday morning. That gave the political prophets several more hours in which to operate without fear of dignified contradiction.

Senator Norris of Nebraska and Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, free, predicted the organization of a party split should the convention fail to take action which they believed would be unacceptable to the core body of states. They were supported by a letter from Senator Brandegee of Iowa, and from New Orleans, saying the farmers of the core body would join with the dry and Smith Democrats of the South and organize a third party, yes, Monday at Kansas City was a hectic day.

On Monday evening the Kansas delegation took charge of affairs for a time. Up to that time they had turned the city over to the visiting politicians and let them run things about as they pleased, but when the session began, not a great home folks took over the show for a time. It started out to be an odd-time home political party, such as the Republicans have, when the "dime" James G. Wilson was talking to Gov. Cleveland. But it was that only in part, for mixed in with the torch carriers were many local or foreign ones, many of them and many of them. And the home folks who were not in the parade turned out to see the home folks who were. The result was streets packed solid by with local journalists who thought they were home town show and it was worthy of the home town.

Usual Political Bluff.

Such was all the usual conventional bluff seen on the surface. Digging down a bit, one found other things tucked away in local suits, political opinions of the Hoover forces, the draft-Coolidge forces and the anti-Hoover forces were busily engaged in Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, who came with their wives and children to see the big show. The city and the city's parks were alive with them. Each new arrival was promptly gathered in by representatives of the contending factions, and each was decorated with badges, and ribbons, and buttons, all of which were graciously accepted and worn, and all of which will constitute treasured souvenirs of their visit to a national political convention. They played no favorites, and wore the decorations of Hoover, of Lowden, of Goff, of Curtis, of Norris, and even sought those of Representative Wilson, and ex-Gov. Chase Osborn of Michigan, announced candidates for the vice-presidential nomination.

The early hours of Tuesday morning brought a settlement of the question as to who would be the nominee, and a collapse of the draft-Coolidge movement. When Chairman Butler advised the Massachusetts delegation to stop thinking and talking of the President and vote for Mr. Hoover, and when Senator Hec. Vane of Pennsylvania announced that he was for Hoover, most people realized it was all over except the formalities, though the anti-Hooverites were not yet willing to admit defeat. Mr. Mellon had still not made any announcement of where he stood, but it was generally conceded by the prophets that the secretary of commerce could be nominated even without the support of the secretary of the treasury.

Before the first session of the convention opened on Tuesday morning the Pennsylvania delegation had met to decide on what action it would take on the nomination—or rather on what Secretary Mellon was going to say to the delegates from that state. They were assembled at the Baltimore hotel waiting on his attendance. When he came it was to utter a comparatively few words, but they were words that would make history. He told the delegates that in a conversation he had had with the President before leaving Washington he was impressed with the idea that the President could under no condition be considered as the nominee of the party, and that Secretary Hoover was the best man for the job.

All Over but the Shouting.

That simple statement practically settled the nomination. The Pennsylvania delegation voted to cast its entire vote for Hoover on the first ballot, and other doubtful states fell into line immediately.

At eleven o'clock Tuesday morning the convention was called to order. After a prayer, the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," by Madame Schumann-Heink, the reading of the call for the convention, National Chairman Butler called Senator Vane of Pennsylvania to deliver the keynote speech. For an hour and a half the speaker talked of the virtues, but none of the faults—if any—of the Republican party.

Hooverites in Front Rows.

It was of interest to note the seating of the various delegations. In the front rows directly in front of the speaker's stand, was the Pennsylvania delegation, with Secretary Mellon sitting at its right. He was in a position to know all that was going on, and to pull the strings in line with any instructions he may, but probably did not, have. Other states favored with front-row seats included Maine, California and Oregon. It was very largely all Hoover boys. Just back of Pennsylvania was the Massachusetts delegation, which Chairman Butler had turned into a Hoover unit when the draft-Coolidge movement was stopped. Tuesday evening the military band element made their first demonstration, but it did not go far. A second demonstration was made on Wednesday morning when some 500 men and women headed by a band, marched through the streets to the convention hall, where they attempted to storm the doors, but were stopped by the police. Typical of the banners carried were: "We want a real Republican," "Al Smith says Hoover is easy to beat," "Justice here or we go to Hottentot."

Steam-Roller Not Used.

The minority fight was really made in the committee on resolutions. The majority might have closed the argument at any time, and passed such resolutions as it wished, but there was nothing of the steam-roller tactics displayed, every one was given an opportunity to present his views and all the argument in favor of such views, Secretary Hoover himself well accept a nomination on a platform declaring for the McNary-Haugen bill, or for any legislation involving the equalization law, and that is what the farm bloc in the committee wanted. When the platform was presented to the convention on Thursday morning Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, presented a minority report embodying a farm plank endorsing the equalization law in principle, but without a direct mention. Senator La Follette also submitted a substitute plank directly endorsing the McNary-Haugen bill, thus carrying the farm plank right to the door of the convention, where both were quite naturally defeated, and the platform as presented by the majority of the committee was adopted.

The only other plank in the platform over which there was any argument was the one on the Eighteenth amendment. Senator Borah wrote the plank, and it was adopted to be Vane of Pennsylvania, but when it was introduced practically unanimously it was decided it was useless to carry opposition over the floor of the convention.

Farmers' Reach the City.

Monday night and Tuesday morning the farmers had arrived. They were the real dirt farmers, not the political variety. These dirt farmers were but neighbors from Missouri,

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDED COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Twenty-five Young People Finished Their High School Course And Received Their Diplomas

A large audience attended the annual commencement exercises of the Chelsea High school last Thursday night when twenty-five of our best young people received their diplomas from the hands of Superintendent E. L. Clark. The program was opened with a selection by the band and was carried out as published last week. Rev. F. I. Walker offered the invocation, Mrs. A. A. Palmer sang two numbers both of which pleased the large audience greatly, and the address of the evening was given by Prof. Wilbert L. Curry, head of the Latin department of the University High school of Ann Arbor.

An added feature of the program and one that was listened to with a great deal of interest was an account of the Seniors' Washington trip as given by Miss Agnes Dancer.

Our class this year had the opportunity of getting in on a few extras which the preceding classes had the misfortune of losing out on. On our way to Wheeling, W. Va., we stopped at Marion, Ohio, and visited the Harding Memorial. It is approached by a climbing a goodly number of steps and is built on a circular foundation supported by huge marble pillars. In the center lies the sarcophagi of President and Mrs. Harding.

Our first day in Washington we attended a session of the supreme court Chief Justice Taft presided and Brandeis, Stone and McReynolds, associate justices, rendered decisions on cases which had been brought before them. Later we visited the Smithsonian Institute and saw Colonel Lindbergh's plane "The Spirit of St. Louis" in which he made his famous flight to Paris. On the hood of the engine are painted the flags of all the different countries which he visited on his aeroplane trip.

On our way to Mt. St. Albans Cathedral we passed near Georgetown University where the instruments recording earthquakes are kept. Mt. St. Albans Cathedral has been under construction for the last 17 years and 10 more years will be required for its completion. We had the pleasure of participating in the vesper services which are conducted in the Bethlehem chapel. Here lie the bodies of President Wilson and Admiral Dewey. For the services we were conducted through the underground chapel and crypts. In each chapel is to be hung in oil painting depicting some event in the life of Christ. It is in this building that all our famous men are to be buried.

We were fortunate enough to be in Annapolis on graduation day. We saw the graduates, all in white, carrying their diplomas and headed by the band, march from the large assembly. It was in this hall that we were shown the mechanism of the large camera, the naval instruments, and a large torpedo.

In Philadelphia we stayed at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, the best in the city. This meant to us a great deal when one considers that Philadelphia is the third largest city in the U. S. and the sixth largest in the world. Staying at such a hotel was decidedly a treat.

While in Philadelphia we were taken to the mint where all our coins are made. In the entrance hall there is a wonderful ceiling made of leaf gold which is worth $50,000. The guide showed us first where the copper and gold are melted, later where the money is put into large boxes to be placed in the vaults or sent to the banks.

On our way home we stopped at Valley Forge and here again we participated in the vesper services. The service was opened by singing one verse of "America." Then Rev. Burke offered up the prayer which George Washington is supposed to have given at Valley Forge and in concluding we sang the "Star Spangled Banner." The beautiful stained glass windows in this cathedral are all red, white and blue and depict some event in the life of our country. The ceiling is marked with the arms of the different states of the Union and above each choir stall is a miniature soldier. The choir stalls are fashioned after those in England and are beautifully carved. The cathedral has been rightfully named by Wilson "The Shrine of the American People" and by Wilfred Powell the British Consul General, "The Westminster Abbey of America." Connected with the chapel is a collection of colonial antiques. Here at Valley Forge ring out "The Star Spangled Banner National Peace chimed." They consist of 13 bells and have been pronounced the most perfect chim of bells in America. All the bells are cast in the United States and have been given by different states. Ohio has just given her bell which cost $8,500 and now Rev. Burke is anxious that Michigan should have one there.

These chimed, every hour from 10 o'clock until sunset, fill the air of Valley Forge with religious and patriotic music, when our national anthem is played. This building impressed us all with a deep feeling of sacredness.

The trip was a most wonderful one, and one which we shall never forget. It has made real our book knowledge and by seeing these places we have realized more their grandeur and beauty.

EUROPEAN TOURISTS

Most people take only a casual interest in the high tide of tourists going abroad each year to Europe. But they all take money with them and spend it abroad. It is pointed out that American tourists' expenditures abroad, remittance by immigrants in the United States to their relatives at home, American charitable contributions to foreign delegations and payments to other countries for freight in combination, almost exactly offset the net amount paid this country by foreigners for interest on their private debts and upon their war debts to the United States government. Thus do these seemingly inconsequential trickles of money abroad really amount to a serious total.

20 MICE BREED 50 MILLION IN 30 YEARS

New Yorker Makes Specialty of Raising Them.

New York.—To the list of novel occupations in New York add that of David Mayer, the world's champion breeder of white mice.

In the 30 years he has been specializing in this line, he has bred more than 50,000,000 mice for research purposes.

He supplies all the white mice used for experimental work by the New York City board of health, the United States public health service and government hospitals.

His mice are used in the laboratories of most of the schools and colleges in the country. Only recently, on an order from the Royal Society of London, he shipped 80 pairs of white mice to the government hospital at British Guiana.

Most of the governmental experiments with mosquito and yellow fever serum are tried on his mice in the Canal Zone.

His weekly output is between 3,000 and 4,000 mice during the months from September to May.

Flaw With Lindy.

From May to September his shipment of mice is about half that number—due to the fact that colleges are closed and many doctors go abroad in the summer.

A pair of white mice flew with Lindy, when he carried pneumonia serum to Quebec in an attempt to save the life of Floyd Bennett—the serum was to have been tried out on the mice.

Mayer casually regards his odd profession as "simply a study in genetics" and says he "grew up" with the work.

Thirty years ago when he started an experiment with 10 pairs of white mice in his father's animal shop, he was hardly more than a boy and little medical work was done with mice.

With the increase of scientific interest and economic value of mice, has come the development of 50,000,000 mice from the original 10 pairs and the expansion of Mayer to the leader of mice-breeding.

There are only two other big mice breeders in America, one in Philadelphia and another in Kansas, but their work is not as extensive as Mayer's.

His firm is the largest shipper of animals in the world.

Once in a great while, there will be a pure white mouse in a litter. This, Mayer says, is a throw-back from perhaps a hundred generations.

Grandfather in Six Weeks.

Mice breed every three weeks—a fact which makes them invaluable for scientific research.

A mouse born today will be a grandfather within six weeks, Mayer says.

Besides white mice, he specializes in white rats, also for research work.

He has developed an interesting rat with black eyes—considered a rare feat, since all white rats, like the rabbit, belong to the albino group and have pink eyes.

Mayer is the only man in America showing the kangaroo rat—an interesting little brown and white animal with long rear legs and short front ones. He breeds, like the kangaroo, on his hind legs.

One of Mayer's jobs has been that of "professional rat-catcher," employed by steamship companies.

His legs and arms have hundreds of scars from rat bites.

In breeding rats and mice Mayer could not take more trouble if he were bringing up babies.

The rodents have special diets and are fed on balanced rations. If the mice eat stale white bread, water and solid today, tomorrow their diet will be canned salmon. They need variety, the same as a human being, Mayer says.

They are fed and live—all to give a glossy sheen to their coats.

Mayer has tried out vitamin experiments with his mice. With certain foods they reduce, with others they gain weight.

Some rats weigh as much as two pounds—they are considered gentle when they reach that weight.

The tremendous economic system of mice-breeding works out so that animals unfit for research work become food for the snakes in the various zoos throughout the country.

Michael Mayer, father of the champion mice-breeder, started his animal business in New York 30 years ago.

He is still in the game and goes to work every day. He is interested in the commercial end and enjoys the reputation of being the oldest man in the animal game in New York.

Napoleon Death Mask Declared Rare Treasure

Chapel Hill, N. C.—A death mask of the Emperor Napoleon, owned by the University of North Carolina, has been placed in a safety deposit vault since an offer to buy it made university officials aware of its value.

The plaster cast of the emperor's features had lain for years unguarded on the desk of the president. When a handsome offer was made for it, research developed that it is one of six made by Dr. Francesco Antommarchi, Napoleon's physician, on the morning after the emperor's death.

Burke's Wise Words

I found in Burke, the other day, a passage from which I must often unconsciously have been quoting. Here's the pith of it: "Public duty demands and requires that what is right should not only be made known but be made prevalent; that what is evil should not only be detected but be defeated." That, it seems to me, is no bad motto.—Woodrow Wilson.

NEW TRAFFIC SAFETY LAW IS NOW EFFECTIVE

Motorists Will Do Well To Obey Its Provisions To Avoid Arrest On Public Highways

The new traffic law enacted by the last legislature became effective June 15th—last week Wednesday, and all motorists, both of commercial and pleasure cars, will do well to obey its provisions to avoid arrest on the public highways.

Commissioner Oscar G. Olander of the state department of public safety has announced that all uncertified automobiles, whether passenger or commercial, will be held by state police for roadside tests of brakes, lights, steering and horn. Drivers of cars having foot or hand brakes either of which are inadequate to stop within forty feet at 20 miles per hour, or lacking one or more of the two required headlights, or tail light, or having too loose steering, will be required to appear in court to answer to having committed a misdemeanor. The penalty is $100 or 10 days for the first offense, $200 or 20 days for the second and $500 or six months or both for the third.

Windshield stickers—certificates issued on free test at more than 2,000 official garages in over 800 cities and villages of the state, under auspices of the Michigan Safety council, will be recognized by state and local police as evidence of approved safety equipment. The issue of these certificates free at official test garages will continue until June 30. State police, and in many cases city police, will test cars at roadside stations. The state constabulary is to establish test stations near 15 cities and villages of the two peninsulas, later changing their locations to new territory. Advantages are offered motorists in the administration of the law in that they may obtain free test at official garages without arrest, in event that safety equipment is found to be defective. Those who do not avail themselves of this opportunity, but in the police tests are found to have defective equipment will have to appear in court.

OLIVET COLLEGE IS TAKING ON NEW LIFE

After Many Years Of Usefulness This Splendid Institution Refused To Die

From the last issue of the Charlotte Republican we take the following article concerning Olivet College, one of Michigan's oldest and foremost educational institutions:

Ten years ago this week the trustees of Olivet College met in Detroit and decided to close the college for the duration of the war. Always a struggle, most people regarded the action as the closing chapter in the history of the college. What do we find today? Never in the history of Olivet has the outlook been more promising. Within a short time, possibly a month, work will be started on the new boys' dormitory to replace Parsons Hall, burned down a couple of months ago. The endowment has passed the half million mark and shortly the totals will reach the requirements of the North Central Association. For some time, perhaps, Olivet has fully maintained all the academic requirement of this association but was kept off this preferred list because of the lack of endowment. George R. Wilson, the energetic president of the board, intimated in his talk at the overflow alumni meeting Saturday, that the trustees hope to be able in the not distant future to do something for the girls which can only mean that Shepherd Hall is to give way to a modern structure. Other things could be surmised and still be within the hopes and ambitions of the official board but all this is enough to mention at present. No school in the country furnishes a more refreshing and compelling exhibit of deep seated determination and loyalty than has been shown by the executives, faculty, alumni and undergraduates of this beloved institution. Time apparently has strengthened and increased the measure of devotion that has characterized this school from its foundation. Eaton county has no simple object, spiritual or material, that deserves our admiration and veneration above Olivet College, the school that refused to die.

WILL RESTORE DEXTER'S FIRST POSTOFFICE BUILDING

Some time ago Senator Copeland purchased what is known as the Rohm building and Tuesday morning workmen began preparations for restoring the structure, that it might be preserved for future generations, because of the associations and traditions connected with it.

The building, Senator Copeland informs the Leader, was Dexter's first postoffice. Judge S. W. Dexter, the first postmaster, was appointed in 1820, and both the senator's grandfather and father received mail there.

At the time of his appointment Judge Dexter built the original post office, which is the central section of the present building, a front and rear section being subsequently added. Later, for many years, it was used by Jacob Rohm as a shoemaker's shop and in recent times for various other purposes, at present being occupied by John Becker's barber shop, which is soon to be removed to another location.

The building shows the effect of the passing years, but aside from the shabby exterior, it is of a good state of preservation and it is Senator Copeland's plan to restore it in such a manner, that it will be a credit to the village and serve as a permanent memorial of pioneer days.

The idea is a kindly and thoughtful one on the part of Senator Copeland and is a most fitting expression of the deep interest he has always shown in his old home town. It is sure to be appreciated, not only by the residents of the village but by people of the entire community.—Dexter Leader.

GAS RATES TO BE REDUCED IN THE CHELSEA SECTION

Washtenaw Gas Company Announces Substantial Reduction in Rates For Chelsea And Dexter Territory

Customers of the Washtenaw Gas Company in Chelsea, Dexter and other townships served by the company are due for a pleasant surprise when they receive their next gas bills. They will find they have been given the benefit of rate reduction in the price of gas. The reduced rate gives a reduction amounting to five cents to ten cents per thousand, depending upon the quantity used.

Manager Charles R. Henderson of the Washtenaw Gas Company made the announcement of the reduction to-day. "The reduction is rendered possible through economies effected in management and operation," said Mr. Henderson. "The company is sharing the benefit of the savings and gains with its customers by giving them a lower rate schedule."

"The reduction is already in effect. Bills for gas used in June now being prepared for presentation on or before July 1st will be based on the new rate scale."

"The Washtenaw Gas Company has been working toward the reduced rate for some time. The company is as pleased at being able to give it to the company's customers as they will be in receiving it."

The new scale for Chelsea, Dexter and the outlying territory around Ann Arbor is as follows:

First 300 cu. ft. $.50 net
m bill, cubic feet; 1/8 $.50 net
Minimum bill, 0 to 300 cu. ft. $.50 net
First 300 cu. ft. $.50 gross
50 net

Next 1,700 cu. ft. 1.70 per M gross
1.45 per M net
Next 3,000 cu. ft. 1.45 per M gross
1.20 per M net

Over 5,000 cu. ft. 1.20 per M gross
1.00 per M net

The old scale for outside towns and districts was on a somewhat different basis. It was as follows:

Minimum bill, 0 to 300 cu. ft. $.50 net
300 cu. ft. to 5,000 cu. ft. used per month $1.75 per M. gross; $1.50 per M. net.

For all gas above 5,000 cu. ft. per month, $1.55 per M. gross; $1.30 per M. net.

The last reduction in the price of gas was made about two years ago.

ARE WE TO HAVE A BALLOON MENACE?

Balloon Lands Near Howell And Wrecks Electric Light Wires

Saturday evening about eight o'clock the lights in Howell went out, throwing the entire city into darkness for many hours. Investigation showed that a huge balloon trailing a drag-rope was on its trial trip fouled the wires south of town, causing the power cut off.

The story of the trip begins with the arrival at the Ford air port of Signor Bradley of Argentine, S. A., for the races June 30th. He brought his 30,000 cubic foot balloon, costing $3,400.00, in Germany and wanted to try it out. He arranged a party of Harley Klemmer, Mrs. Klemmer and a friend, Miss Gwen Dew, and together they left the airport about 3:45 p. m. The balloonist had great sport catapulting up and down along the general route of Grand River Road. They trailed a long drag-rope that tore through trees and fences and wires. After an exciting ride of four hours and four minutes Signor Bradley landed safely, but not without breaking the tension wires, in a clover field on the Clay Musson farm, three miles south of Howell.

Bradley, whose forbears went to South America from the United States 50 years ago, holds the distance, altitude, duration and speed balloon records of South America. He was the first man to pilot a balloon over the Andes. He says he likes the United States and expects to return to Detroit after the Gordon Bennett races, when he and Klemmer plan to make a long balloon flight beginning from Detroit.

Klemmer is connected with the aircraft events committee of the board of commerce. He lives at 551 Sheridan avenue.

According to Leslie Bruff, to whom the Press is indebted for some facts of the case, 150 people witnessed the landing and helped back up the huge balloon.

Ernest Lounsbury returned the balloon to Detroit via truck Sunday.

NORTH FRANCISCO

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Notten again united with their children and grandchildren Sunday at Clear Lake, it being their fifty-first wedding anniversary. A splendid dinner was enjoyed by all in the pretty grove at the Smith landing. After dinner the men strolled around the lake to the Scout camp. Mr. Notten spoke of the changes that had taken place around the lake, and of the old days when fish were plentiful and how they used to catch them. Although the entire family could not be present, a very enjoyable day was spent. At a late hour they all left for their homes, hoping to meet again another year.

South Lyon—J. H. Webber of Green Oak, who owns what was formerly known as the Parker farm, decided to the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association last week, three acres more or less, on the western side of his farm for the purpose of establishing a fresh air camp for needy children of Oakland county, who otherwise would have no chance of receiving the benefits of fresh air and sunshine. The place will be known as the "John Henry Webber Camp," and will be conducted by the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association.

The day was warm and bus windows open, and spinning along the pike west of town, they ran across the road, and flying low into the little "busy bees" were hurled into the bus. Most people know that when bees are swarming that they are not in the best of humor and you can imagine what happened when they landed on the faces and necks of the passengers. Their appearance when they reached here gave full evidence. Observer.

ELBERT HUBBARD'S "CREDO"

Elbert Hubbard was among those who bent down to death upon the Lisitania and it is said that his books and other publications have had a larger sale since his death than they did when he was able to direct the destinies of his great publishing business. He left the world a lot of wonderful things to think about, among them his "Credo." Here it is:

"I believe in myself.
"I believe in the goods I sell.
"I believe in the firm for whom I work.
"I believe in my colleagues and helpers.
"I believe in American Business Methods.
"I believe in producers, creators, manufacturers, distributors, and in all industrial workers of the world who have a job, and hold it down.
"I believe that Truth is an asset.
"I believe in good cheer and in good health, and I recognize the fact that the first requisite in success is not to achieve the dollar, but to confer a benefit, and that the reward will come automatically and usually as a matter of course.
"I believe in sunshine, fresh air, spinach, applesauce, laughter, butter, milk, babies, bombazine and chiffon, always remembering that the greatest word in the English language is 'Sufficiency.'
"I believe that when I make a sale I make a friend.
"And I believe that when I part with a man I must do it in such a way that when he sees me again he will be glad—and so will I.
"I believe in the hands that work, in the brains that think, and in the hearts that love. 'Amen, and Amen.'

WE BUY IN LARGE QUANTITIES

We keep our own Chicago Buyer. We do not mean a commission buyer, but a wide-awake, alert man in our own employ, who is looking at all times for bargains which we immediately pass along to you!

Buy Pork Products If Possible

At this time pork and pork products are much cheaper than beef. So for your pocketbook's sake, Buy Pork!

WE BUY LIVE POULTRY

We will be in the market for a limited amount of live Poultry, as we expect to make Chelsea a buying point for several larger towns, for our poultry needs.

A FINE SANITARY MARKET

We cordially invite you to call and inspect our store, if you wish to purchase or not. This invitation is especially extended to the Ladies, as we well know that the housewife is the buyer nearly always!

SEND THE CHILDREN

We try at all times to give the children special attention! Send the little folks! Please give them a note, specify if you can, your second choice as we might not be able at all times to have just what you might have in mind. Send the children! We will take special care of them!
