COUNTY DEMOCRATS NAMED FULL TICKET

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held Friday Night—Geo. W. Beckwith Named For County Clerk

Members of the democratic party from all sections of Washtenaw county gathered at the supervisor's room in the court house at Ann Arbor last Friday night to ratify the nomination made at the national convention at Houston and to place in nomination candidates for a full county ticket. The state central committee and a number of prominent members of the party held a similar meeting in Detroit last week at which candidates were selected for a full state ticket and plans laid for conducting a vigorous campaign. The meeting at Ann Arbor was attended by a large and enthusiastic audience and a ticket was selected with a feeling of confidence not shown by the democratic workers in this county for a number of years. Chairman W. L. Walz of the county committee called the meeting to order and expressed his belief in a victory this fall "all down the line." He believed victory was in the air and if good men were selected he was confident of success. Other speakers were Edmund Shields of Lansing and Carl A. Lehman of Ann Arbor who also expressed confidence in the party's success this fall.

After some discussion it was decided to offer the following ticket at the primary election on September 4th:

State representative—George Gill, Supervisor township.

Judge of Probate—Tracy L. Townsend, Ypsilanti.

Sheriff—Sheriff Ernest M. Wurster, County clerk—George W. Beckwith of Chelsea.

County treasurer—Miss Sylvia Braun of Ann Arbor township.

Prosecuting attorney—Louis Barker, Ann Arbor.

Register of deeds—Albert Lutz of Ann Arbor.

District commissioner—Webster P. Lane, Salen township.

Coroner—Dr. W. G. Wiley, Dexter.

Surveyor—H. H. Atwell, present surveyor.

Circuit court commissioners—John Conlin, Ann Arbor and Frank C. Cole, Ann Arbor.

It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that Washtenaw county democrats should support Attorney John W. Miner of Jackson as a candidate for congress.

Plans were discussed for the conduct of the campaign and it is the intention of the committee to make it a vigorous one. Numerous meetings will be held and the issues of the campaign will be presented to the electors in every section of the county.

Mr. Beckwith, who was chosen as candidate for county clerk, is supervisor of Sylvan township. He has served two terms as county clerk and he has also held the office of circuit court commissioner and by experience and natural ability to meet the public he is well qualified to discharge the duties of that very important office. He will receive loyal support here and throughout this section of the county.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED SATURDAY EVENING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Haselwerdt was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday evening when their eldest daughter, Dorothy Myrtle, was united in marriage to Gerald O. Luick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto D. Luick, of Chelsea. Rev. Albert E. Potts officiated.

Using the ring ceremony. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Dora Chandler. The bride wore a gown of light blue georgette with trimmings of pink and carried a shower bouquet of roses. Her sister, Miss Lucille Haselwerdt, as maid of honor, was attired in black and white georgette and carried pink roses. David Beach, cousin of the groom, attended him as best man. Mrs. Haselwerdt, mother of the bride, and Miss Chandler, the pianist, wore corsages of roses, corn flowers and sweet peas, gifts of the bride.

Following the ceremony a two-course wedding supper was served the assembled guests, who included only the immediate relatives of the bride couple. Bouquets of roses and delphiniums made the tables very attractive. Mr. and Mrs. Luick left on an automobile trip to Thousand Islands, Washington, D. C. and other eastern points, accompanied by the best wishes of a host of friends. Both bride and groom are popular young people of Chelsea and both are graduates of the local High School. Miss Haselwerdt also attended the State Normal College and for several years has been a successful teacher in this vicinity. The groom is employed in the office of the Palmer Motor Sales. They will make their home in Chelsea.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McWatters and sons who spent the past two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Spoor, returned to their home in Detroit Friday.

Mrs. Allen Tucker, accompanied by her three sisters, were Chelsea callers Wednesday. They were on their way to their home in River Rouge from Stockbridge, where they were called by the illness of a relative.

REV. M. S. RICE TO SPEAK AT SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The program committee of the Washtenaw County Sunday school picnic which is to be held at the fair grounds in Ann Arbor, August 1st, announce they have secured Rev. M. S. Rice, of the Metropolitan M. E. church of Detroit, as the speaker for the afternoon. Rev. Rice needs no introduction as he is well known to nearly every one. He has had wide experience in this country and abroad. There will be a full day's program consisting of band music, sports of all kinds, ball game. The committee on raising that each Sunday school be on hand with a banner. The committee is expecting 100 per cent attendance. H. E. Wright, chairman of the stands committee, says there will be plenty of ice cold lemonade to cool off with after that hundred yard dash.

CHELSEA'S TWO BANKS SHOW PROSPEROUS CONDITION

The two reports to the state commissioner of banking at the close of business June 30th, published in The Standard to-day, show our two local banks to be in a very prosperous condition. The report not only indicates that these two strong financial institutions are in fine condition but they also tell an interesting story of the financial resources of this community. The combined resources of the two banks is nearly two million dollars, to be exact $1,912,251.77, a substantial gain over the report submitted at the close of business February 28 last, indicating the people of this section are both thrifty and prosperous. Nothing better proves our prosperity than these bank statements.

THE LOCAL CEMENT PLANT WILL NOT BE CLOSED DOWN

Governor Green Writes The Matter Was Never Discussed By Administrative Board

Last week there appeared in The Standard a dispatch from Lansing to the effect that at a meeting of the administrative board held Monday, July 2nd, the question of closing the cement plant at Four Mile Lake would be considered.

Desiring to learn the outcome of the conference a letter was written to Governor Green asking for information regarding the action taken at the meeting. Monday morning we received the following letter from the governor which will explain itself.

The Chelsea Standard.

"Replying to your letter regarding the Chelsea cement plant, would say the board took no action on the plant as there was no occasion. I don't know where the report started that the plant was to close. This is something we have never discussed."

Sincerely yours,
Fred W. Green.

SPEEDERS COME TO GRIEF HERE

Two traffic violators were taken before Justice of the Peace O. J. Walworth by Officer Atkinson on Saturday. The men were going down Main street at a 40-mile clip, and for their act of speeding they each left with the court a fine of $10 and costs of $5. A third violator who was chased by Officers Atkinson and Leach was given a race from the intersection of Main and Middle streets to Laird's hill on the Cavanaugh Lake road before he was stopped. He failed to appear in court as he promised and will be brought back here from Detroit in a few days, according to reports.

SCHOOL BOARD ORGANIZED

The trustees of school district No. 3, fractional, Sylvan and Lime, held a meeting Tuesday evening of last week for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other business. The following officers were chosen: President—D. E. Beach. Secretary—John Kaimbach. Treasurer—E. P. Steiner.

The board voted to raise by direct tax $22,000.00. This is the same amount that was voted by the electors for school purposes last year.

A LARGE CROWD AT DRAIN HEARING FRIDAY

Hearing On Proposed New Drain Was Postponed—Large Crowd Was Present

There was a large crowd of interested land owners present at the farm of Benjamin Kuhl in Sharon township last Friday forenoon when the board appointed by the judge of probate met to determine whether in their judgement the proposed Pleasant Lake drain was a necessity. Among the large crowd of farmers, and most of those present were farmers, there were a number of women who seemed to be just as much interested in the proceedings as anybody, and why not? The women have to plan and save on the farm these days just as well as the men.

The petitioners for the drain were represented by Attorney J. A. Waters of Manchester and those opposed to the project had as their representative Attorney John P. Kirk of Ypsilanti, and thus the usual amount of legal fireworks were injected into the proceedings, but the gathering was a very harmonious one and there was a good feeling expressed by the supporters and the opponents of the drain. Those who asked that the drain be constructed told the members of the board and the crowd why they regarded it as a necessity and all expressed the opinion that their lands were being flooded because of the lack of proper draining, or because the water had no outlet to get away. They contended that the drain would relieve that condition and that lands that they were able to cultivate five or six years ago they would again be able to work and from which they could receive an income. Those who opposed the drain contended that there was not sufficient fall of water at the lower end near the Jerusalem dam to permit the water to get away, and that the proposed drain was too wide in places and that the cost of constructing the same would be more than the re-claimed land would be worth.

Practically all agreed that if the dam at Jerusalem could be done away with the water would soon disappear from the marshes further up the drain and at the same time lands at the lower end would be benefited.

After questioning a number of those present and discussing the proposition the commission adjourned the meeting for a period of three weeks to give those who are in favor of the drain an opportunity to procure by purchase or otherwise the dam now owned by Emanuel Wacker, and from the water impounded there he is able to operate his mill. If this can be accomplished it is believed that there will be no occasion to construct the drain, but if later developments should indicate that course was the right one there would be nothing in the way of a proper "get-away" for the water from the drained area.

LADIES' DAY—PROVED A DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

The ladies of Sylvan Estates Country Club enjoyed a most successful and interesting day on ladies' day, Tuesday, July 10th.

At eleven o'clock a flag tournament was held in which Mrs. Robert Gauss of Ann Arbor, was winner by eight strokes over any other contestant. A prize of two golf balls was given her. A delightful luncheon was served at 1:30, the ladies being seated informally at one long table.

Mrs. John Fletcher of Chelsea, was the winner of the first prize at bridge in the afternoon, the consolation being given to Mrs. George Wood Hays of Sylvan Estates.

As a climax to the afternoon's pleasure, Mrs. Hays invited the ladies to her beautiful home on Crooked Lake, for a swimming party and ten or twelve ladies accepted her hospitality with pleasure.

On next Tuesday another ladies day program will be held. All members and their friends are cordially invited.

On Thursday evening, July 12, an evening bridge party will be held on the cool porches of the Sylvan Estates Country Club. It is hoped that all members and their friends will be present.

WHEN YOU WANT BUSINESS

The time to advertise is when you want business. The time to quit is when you are ready to step down and give the other fellow the limelight. Support your newspaper as a selfish proposition—it will pay you liberally. Adequate advertising support will enable your publisher to give you a lively progressive newspaper. A lively newspaper means a live town with busy stores.

No argument from me is needed to prove what newspaper advertising will do for any business if given a chance. You can take the finest automobile in the world; fully equipped, and it won't do anything but stand still or run down hill unless you supply two things. You must furnish gas for the tank in the rear and put an intelligent driver in the front seat. Put some real high-power ideas into your advertising tank—jump into the front seat yourself and do some intelligent driving—and your business won't run down hill unless you want it to.—R. E. Morgan, Seattle, Wash. Times.

THE LUCKY RURALS

A recent survey made in Missouri shows that every community having a population of more than 700 in that state is provided with electric lights and telephone. There are 175 villages of but 250 population which have electric service, and 211 with telephone service.

Contrasting the modern small town with that of twenty-five years ago and less, shows what American industrial initiative has done to improve living conditions. The day of isolated communities, living apart from the world of ideas and affairs and action, is past. Where once dwellers in rural sections had but the bare necessities, and none of the comforts and luxuries of life, they are now provided with almost all that once belonged exclusively to the cities.

Now the small town citizen and the modern farmer is as far removed from the life of his father and grandfather's time as they were from Neolithic man. Industry has given the country-dweller a complete and enviable civilization.

All this talk about the farmers and dwellers in our rural communities being paupers and penniless is simply political bunk, and if the designing politicians will let the farmers alone they will be able to manage their own affairs pretty well. American farmers never lived better than they are today and while they have their "lean seasons," like any other business, they are better off than the great army of day laborers in our large cities who have no assurance of a steady job and no promising future before them.

LAKE SHOULD BE ADVERTISED

The value of the lakes in this section to the business interests of Chelsea is being recognized more this season than ever before and many strangers are being brought into this community who have never known of our delightful resort country. Upon the shores of our numerous lakes are room for hundreds of cottages and all it will require to have people become interested is to let them know about them. More and more people in all stations of life are feeling the urge to own a little strip of land on some lake and this section affords opportunities to procure building lots on the shores of our numerous lakes that cannot be found elsewhere.

If some plan could be devised to conduct an aggressive advertising campaign scores of people could be attracted this way from Detroit. On July 4th over 100 Detroit citizens gathered on the shores of Cedar Lake and spent the day in a delightful grove there. Many of them had never been in this section before and some of them purchased lots along the shore before leaving for home back in the big city.

Every family that can be induced to locate at any of our many lakes will add considerably to the business of Chelsea during the summer months, and local merchants are realizing the resorts present a problem worthy of their consideration.

CONTINUE SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Michigan has just concluded a state-wide campaign for safe driving upon the highways. Motorists were asked to see that their cars were in perfect mechanical condition, that they obey the simple rules of the road, to take every precaution that safety and good judgment demanded. This policy closely adhered to, will result in cutting down automobile accidents to a minimum—it will be the means of saving many human lives.

Now that the campaign is ended much is left to each individual motorist. Brakes soon get out of order, lights have a faculty of suddenly growing dim, a car without attention becomes dangerous when driven upon the roads. The campaign will have been unusually successful if we remember some of the essential things it has taught us.

"LET GEORGE DO IT"

A little clique of disappointed and disgruntled republicans held a meeting in Detroit one night last week for the purpose of placing in nomination a full state ticket in opposition to Governor Green and the present state officials who will seek re-election this fall.

A number of names were suggested for the various places on the ticket and among them was the name of George Lord of Detroit as a candidate for United States senator in opposition to Senator A. H. Vandenberg. But Mr. Lord was not foolish as those who attended the conference, and he very promptly declined the honor. Others will also decline to be made political stool pigeons for a few fellows who feel they have a grievance.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

During the past year a large amount of money has been expended for the construction of the Cavanaugh Lake road, but unless something is done to protect that strip of highway it will soon become rough and in a very bad condition. The loose gravel on the surface has become very fine and great clouds of dust arise as autos traverse the road, and it is this fine dust that is needed to "pack" the coarse material in the roadbed. Some action should be taken to protect this highway.

Port Huron—New seven-story hotel will be constructed here at approximate cost of $850,000.

Twenty-four Years Ago

July 14, 1904

Glazier and the annual report was read by W. J. Knapp. The receipts for the year were $8,103.64. The expenditures including $150.84 on hand were $8,103.64. The estimated receipts for the coming year were $7,550.84. Expenditures for the year $7,550.84. T. ## NEW CHURCH IN IRISH HILLS TO BE DEDICATED

A Tecumseh dispatch contained the following regarding the new church soon to be dedicated in the Irish Hills country:

Nestling among the picturesque and beautiful Irish Hills, the new St. Joseph's Catholic church, which is similar in type to the old church erected in 1854 by the pioneers who gave the hills their name, is now open for services. Although the formal dedication will not take place until a little later this month, Rt. Rev. M. J. Gallagher of Detroit, bishop of the diocese, will officiate at the dedication.

The first services in the new church were held Sunday morning and, as usual, the regular congregation of about 60 members was large augmented by tourists and worshippers from nearby towns.

The new church is constructed of native stone and it is built in the Spanish mission style, with red tiled roof and tower with its background of green foliage. Nearby lakes which may be seen from the site lend added beauty to the spot. There still remains some work to be done about the grounds but it will be completed as rapidly as possible.

During the summer months mass will be said at 8:30 and 10:30 in the morning.

In 1929 the church will celebrate its diamond jubilee and a special celebration will be held in honor of the Egar, Marr, Kelly, Brighton, Nicholas and Monaghan families who settled the hills and built the first church.

GOLF IS CREATING GREAT INTEREST AT SYLVAN ESTATES

Sylvan Estates Country Club has been the scene of many pleasing activities during the past week.

Over the week-end was played the opening flight of the golf bag tournament in which thirty-two men from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Jackson and Chelsea qualified. Among the most interesting matches of the tournament was L. G. Palmer's match with A. E. Edwards of Saginaw. Mr. Palmer, in addition to winning his match six up, played one of the best games of the course this season, getting an eagle on No. 8 and a birdie on No. 3.

Another match of note was the one between Fred Benz and George B. Huntington, both of Ann Arbor, in which each player made the same medal score of a 78. Mr. Huntington was the winner of the match by one hole.

Other winners were Dr. A. J. Hill of Cleveland, over R. A. Campbell of Ann Arbor, Frank Staffan of Ann Arbor over L. Wenzel of that city and Howard Holmes, Jr., who eliminated Earl Brighton of Wyandotte.

Several matches have not yet been played.

The second flight in this tournament will be played before July 17th.

A consolation tournament for those eliminated in this tournament will be held over the coming week-end.

Owing to the number of Kivans who were playing matches off on Monday, the usual Kivans sunset tournament was not played.

All Kivans golfers are urged to play in the qualifying round of their club championship next Monday.

IMPROVEMENTS GOING ON AT CEDAR LAKE

C. F. Hewitt of Detroit, who purchased the parcel of land on the shore of Cedar Lake last fall, is developing it as a private summer home for lot owners. His assistant, R. Thomas, a former Chelsea resident, is on the site most of the time directing the extensive improvements that are being made on the property known as the Starr Commonwealth for Girls.

The grove facing the lake has been cleared of the underbrush and dead timber. The low land along the site is being filled in with sand from the large hill near the house that was built for the girls headquarters. All of the lots have been laid out in the grove and all are within easy reach of the lake front which has a fine bathing beach. A drive is to be constructed along the south and north boundaries of the property and also a central driveway through the wooded park.

Two cottages have been erected on the property by parties who have purchased lots and several other lot owners are making arrangements to build.

The open field in front of the grove is to be laid out for a miniature golf course; tennis courts, archery range and a baseball lot.

The property faces the Cavanaugh Lake road and is a very sightly one. Cedar Lake is considered to be one of the best fishing sites in this vicinity and has been a favorite stamping grounds for many Chelsea residents who are ardent followers of the rod and line and enjoy the pastime of "just watching the cork bob."

Centering the table was a large bowl of rambler roses, while a feature of the dinner was a birthday cake with candles for each honor guest. Those present at the party were Hovey and Marjorie Sargent of Jackson, Madeline and Susanne Truesdell of Detroit, Jennette, Howard and Marilyn Gerstler, and Barbara Jean and Jane McMahon of Ann Arbor.

ADAM HOUCK HAS A FINE VEGETABLE GARDEN

How would you like to start out some morning and harvest and prepare for market 24 bushels of radishes? You would naturally think it was a real days work, and it would be, of course. Well, that is what Adam Houck and his three willing helpers did one day last week and on Monday of this week they harvested something like thirteen bushels more. The radishes were raised in Mr. Houck's vegetable patch just at the edge of town—within the village limits, and has a showing of other vegetables as well—beets, carrots, lettuce, onions, and later he will have cabbages.

The writer spent an enjoyable half hour in the "garden patch" Tuesday afternoon when Mr. Houck and his "crew" of three boys were preparing a load for the Ann Arbor curb market and the product of the garden was very attractive as it was put in crates for market.

All of the products of the garden looked well and the ground showed signs of careful cultivation and expert planning.

CAVANAUGH LAKE ROAD WORK

In its report of progress in county highway work the county highway commission has the following to say regarding Cavanaugh Lake road, section two: The contractor has made good progress and today completes the rough grading and will move his camp tomorrow to the Willis road.

There remains to build the new road behind the Armstrong store. The finishing grading gang has completed nearly a mile ready for gravel. The gravel contractor is setting up his plant and will start work Monday.

Our county park is now of some use. The survey boys have cleaned up the ground along the lake, buried wagon loads of tin cans, etc., trimmed the trees, burned brush and filled the rough shore line in with earth from the borrow so that now the lake front owned by the county presents a respectable appearance. We are all proud of it even though it is small and a lot remains to be done. The deed to the land was signed yesterday.

FARM WOMEN TO ENJOY A WEEK IN CAMP

The farm women of Washtenaw county are going to be given an opportunity to enjoy a week of camp life and the date selected for the outing is August 6 to 10th. The camp will be located at Camp Newkirk on the banks of the Huron river near Dexter—a most delightful spot.

It is expected that all attending figures of previous years will be surpassed this summer. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Mrs. E. W. Lutton, chairman, Mrs. A. L. Braddy, Miss Julia Gordon, Mrs. A. C. Cole, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Dorey Farley and H. S. Osler, county agricultural agent.

Something in Exchange

By EDGAR T. MONFORT

(Copyright.)

"Now, just don't people have the hardest time of anybody?"

Clarice Mackay addressed this remark to the walls of her back bedroom. The room was frequently, and for long periods, her sole companion and listener since she had been sick and out of a job, so she conversed freely as she lounged in the shabby old chair by the window, her gray-blue eyes looking rather wistfully at the weather-beaten brick walls that faced her across the way.

After two weeks of sitting by that window she had learned a great deal about the families around her. She knew that there were five little tow-headed tots in one of the apartments that backed up close to her window. She knew that the father always shaved by the kitchen window, that the mother was small and energetic and always laughing.

One day Clarice was interested to know why there was so much bustling and excitement over there. The children seemed noisier and happier than ever; they ran around all day squealing with laughter and chanting some ridiculous tuneless thing over and over. "Uncle tomla today, Uncle tomla today!" She could hear it through the open windows. The mother new around from room to room, seemed to be concentrating her efforts in the kitchen. Clarice could see her mixing something in a bowl while the children stood excitedly around the edge of the table, then with a deft movement pouring it into a pan and putting it in the oven.

"Cake!" said Clarice to her room. "Somebody's coming to supper. I bet. Company! And I'm so lonesome!"

She tried to turn away from the window and concentrate on the book in her lap, but it was useless.

At last she threw down the book and leaving her chair put on her hat and went to the cafeteria three blocks up and two across, for an early supper. She wasn't hungry, but she thought it might help to kill time and she simply couldn't stand to look out the window any more. She wished she had her old job back, but her boss had said that he could not turn off the substitute until she'd finished out her month. Beside, he told Clarice that more work would be good for her.

When she returned to her room after supper the light was on in the apartment across the court and she had scarcely seated herself by the window when she saw a tall, young man walk into the tiny kitchen, followed by the father. He was greeted by wild screams of delight from the children, who dashed across the room and frantically hugged his legs while the mother went over and gave him a gay little peck on the cheek.

"Uncle, Uncle!" the children screamed, capering around him and trying to reach into his pockets. The happiness and warmth of the family scene went through Clarice like a stab and she felt the quick tears rushing into her eyes. Jumping up she threw herself across the bed in the dark.

It was some time later that she heard a tap on her door, followed by a quick entrance and the voice of her landlady speaking as she found the button and switched on the light. "Here's somebody to see you, dear."

she said as Clarice looked up and recognized the little woman across the court standing behind the speaker. "I'm Mrs. Watson. I grew up in the country," she laughed apologetically as she came into the room, "and I guess it's still sticking to me and makes me feel neighborly. I've been trying to come over and visit you for days. We've seen you sitting by the window and I knew you were sick and you seemed to be alone. My brother's just come to visit us for a few days and the children wouldn't give me any peace until I came over and asked you to have supper with us. I guess you think I'm crazy."

"Thank you," echoed Clarice with a little catch in her voice. "I wish I could tell you how glad I am to go."

It was a hilarious evening that the girl spent in the Watson apartment. The children were too excited to be tame. They showed Clarice the toys Uncle Jack had brought them and played with her as if they'd known her all their little lives. After they had gone to bed the four grownups settled down to a game of bridge and it was nearly twelve o'clock when Uncle Jack finally escorted Clarice back home.

He had only planned to spend the week end at his sister's, but the days dragged out into a week and it was on the last evening as he was taking Clarice home that he turned and took her in his arms.

"Clarice, I guess you think I work fast," he whispered, "but, honey, I must go back tomorrow and I want to find out where I stand with you before I leave. I know you have a wonderful job and maybe you'd rather live in town than out on the farm with me—but I do love you with my whole heart and I'd do anything in the world to make you happy. Can't you love me a little?"

Clarice looked up at him and smiled soberly.

"I feel that if I did give up my job and city life I'd be getting something—well worth while in exchange," she said simply.

And he—oh, well, you know the rest.

Valuable Lichens

Several species of lichens are of economic importance, yielding dyes and foodstuffs. Iceland moss is a lichen, yielding a nutritious jelly. Reindeer moss is the principal food of the Lapland reindeer in the winter. Archil, a violet dye, is obtained from Roccella tinctoria, Roccella fuciformis and Lecanora tartarea. Litmus, also a dyestuff, is obtained from these lichens by exposure to the air in the presence of ammonia, potassium carbonate, etc.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES AT KALAMAZOO NEXT WEEK

A Great Field Of Fast Steppers Will Appear At The Annual Classic In Celery City

To every lover of horses and of horse racing, the week of July 16th to 20th will be a red letter one, as on that week will be held the only grand circuit race meeting to be given in Michigan this year at Kalamazoo.

For twenty-one years Kalamazoo has been holding grand circuit races, and that city is now the oldest in point of continuous meetings of any in the "Big Ring."

Manager William P. Engelman has built up an enviable reputation among horsemen the country over for giving a meeting second to none in the country, and for fair and honorable dealing with the horsemen and public alike. They race for big purses at Kalamazoo, and the public is always treated to a real horse race.

This year the program consists of 21 races, for purses totaling $70,000.00, the headline being the fifth renewal of the H. O. Reno Great American Pacing Derby for a purse of $25,000.00. This race has always been a hot one, with big fields, and the entry to the event this year was a record breaker, 52 horses being named. This assures a large field of starters and the horses eligible are the most evenly matched lot of stakes pacers that ever faced a starter.

This great race will be contested on Tuesday.

The Kalamazoo Exchange Club 2:10 race, to be held on Wednesday carries a purse of $10,000.00 and also drew a big entry. This race was won last year by Walter Cox with Sam Williams in 2:02 1-4; and that horse was sold this spring for $25,000.00. This is the 21st renewal of this stake and winning it carries not only a large amount of money but high honor as well.

Thursday is Colt Day and on that day will be raced the 2 year old, and 3 year old trotts and the 3 year old pace, as well as the Park-American Total Stake for 2:08 class pacers. The fastest baby trotters and pacers in the world are entered and fast time will surely be in evidence.

Friday will no doubt produce one of the greatest exhibitions of speed ever seen at Recreation Park as the card for that day includes the Kalamazoo Ice & Fuel Company Stake for 2:06 class trotters, the Trotting Horse Club Stake for free-for-all trotters and the famous Free-for-all Pace. Recreation Park is being put in fine shape, the painters are at work, and horse lovers will see a fine plant and will enjoy a wonderful week of sport.

MICHIGAN AIR LINES BEGIN SERVICE ON JULY 17

According to Michigan Roads & Pavements, R. C. Marshall, vice president and general manager of the Thompson Aeronautical corporation, of Cleveland, has announced that his company will begin operation of the commercial air route, No. 27, July 17.

The corporation route covers 534 miles of airways, radiating from Kalamazoo, with terminals in Pontiac, Bay City, Muskegon and Chicago. Other cities touched by the mail and passenger planes are Detroit, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Saginaw, Flint, Lansing, Grand Rapids and South Bend.

Mail picked up by the Thompson planes and transferred at Chicago to the transcontinental air lines will reach its destination one to three days earlier than train schedules provide, depending upon the distance of the addressee. The company's passenger time table indicates transportation from Bay City to Chicago, extreme points in three hours and 40 minutes, reaching Chicago at 7:15 p. m., with connections with transcontinental night trains. This compares with approximately 10 hours between the two cities by other means of public travel. Inter-travel between all 14 cities on the air route effects a proportional saving of time. With the exception of one and a half hours on the approach to Chicago during the winter months the company's entire route is flown in daylight. The Chicago approach is over beacon-lighted transcontinental airways. Two open cockpit and four Stinson-Detroler cabin planes, the latter equipped to carry three passengers and 1,000 pounds of mail will be put into service at the outset.

GRAHAM-PAIGE AGAIN BREAKS ALL RECORDS

The number of cars shipped was 8877, also a new all-time record, exceeding May by 317.

A new record for a single day's production was established June 26, when 415 cars were built.

FOREST DANGER BY CAMP-FIRES BRINGS WARNING

The danger from forest fires is certainly one that will become serious before this dry season is over.

Although few fires may be attributed to experienced campers, it is doubtless true that many of the inexperienced ones start most costly conflagrations.

In the first place, the camp fires made by most inexperienced campers are many times in excess of what they should be for efficient cooking. They are made so large that it is practically impossible to get close enough to them to cook. The smaller the fire the better for camp cooking, and there is accordingly much less chance for the blaze to get away and cause damage.

Another point that should not be forgotten is the fact that at ordinary temperatures there is no need for a rousing campfire at night. Even in extremely cold weather one's face blisters while his back freezes about a great fire. The time has passed when campers must build a fire to keep wild animals away and all that a big bon-fire does is encourage forest conflagrations.

FATHER JOHN R. COMMAND DIED SATURDAY MORNING

Rev. Father John Richard Command, pastor of St. Thomas Catholic church in Ann Arbor, died at St. Joseph's hospital in that city Saturday morning, aged 54 years. Death was due to a fatal heart attack, following an illness of pneumonia.

Father Command was ordained July 2, 1899, at the Detroit cathedral by Bishop John Foley, being one of the group which included Fr. Joseph McCabe, Fr. Joseph Marx, Fr. Charles Hanigan, Fr. Alphonsus Sharpe, Fr. Edward Schrauder, Fr. Richard Grace, Fr. Frank McQuellent, Fr. Henry O'Neill, Fr. Frank Hewlett, Fr. Henry Kaufman and Fr. Thomas Luby.

He was appointed to St. Thomas church, Ann Arbor, Dec. 1, 1922, and continued his duties here until his failing health forced him to leave the greater share of the work to his assistants.

THE LOWLY VEGETABLE LOOKING UP

The last statistical report of the truck crop of the country shows that there are now approximately 126,000 acres, scattered in twenty-eight different states, devoted to the raising of cabbage. There are over 100,000 acres planted annually in cantaloupes. Sweet corn is another large crop, necessitating the planting of more than 300,000 acres for the national consumption. There are more than 100,000 acres of cucumbers annually. More than 100,000 acres are devoted to the raising of lettuce for the market. Green peas are raised in about thirty different states, the total acreage planted annually exceeding 260,000 acres. The tomato is raised in thirty-five different states, on land amounting to 376,000 acres—Thrift Magazine.

CHEVROLET MAKING A GREAT RECORD

Positive indication that the Chevrolet Motor Company in 1928 will again establish a new production record and go well beyond the million mark this year, was seen in an announcement Tuesday by W. S. Knudsen, president, that output for the first six months of the year totaled 751,536 cars and trucks, as compared with 607,749 for the corresponding period of 1927.

Responding to the greatest demand in its history, Chevrolet established new monthly production records every month this year. Like the five preceding months, June was the best sixth with a total of 132,734 units as compared with the history of the company pared with 112,704 for June of 1927.

HAPPY TIMES FOR MOTHERS AND BABIES

Ginsburg Camp At Lehman Lake Is Merry Place These Days—All Join In The Festivities

The recreational activities of the Ginsburg Camp for Mothers and Babies, conducted by the Jewish Centers Association are now in full swing. These vary greatly, covering especially every phase of child and adult interest. The camp is run on a very strict, though happy schedule, in such manner as to teach discipline, neatness and industry in a fascinating way.

In the morning, following breakfast, there is bed inspection by one of the older children who make a report during the dinner assembly as to neatness of each room. Then, of course, comes the long hikes or games and swimming. During the heat of the day the children are congregated under shade trees, and told stories. During such times handicraft classes are conducted, and the children are taught to make beads, paint vases, benches, etc.

Immediately following the midday lunch comes "Best Hour" when there is absolute silence and relaxation in the dormitories while young and old take their afternoon siesta. Later the children frolic in the water again while the mother's gym class goes through reducing exercises on the beach.

The evening programs vary from movies to dancing and camp-fire ceremonies, songs and games. A precedent has been established whereby Friday-night has been set aside as "Bible Story Night."

Last Saturday night a very colorful costume ball was held in which each person represented some character and the audience had to guess who each one represented, by his costume, conduct and conversation. Prizes were awarded to the winners. Among the boys the "Sheriff" won first prize and "Charlie Chaplin" second. Honorable mention was given to "Lindbergh." Among the girls the "School-teacher" won first place, and the "Scrub-woman" won second. Honorable mention was given to President Coolidge. If do not choose to sit out, the ceremony was supervised by Mrs. Morton Steinberg, who characterized an Arabian Worshippier and Miss Mary Vizenhal, who characterized a Russian maiden. The prizes were awarded by Miss Mary Caplan, who acted as judge. Each of the contestants received a treat of candy.

In such manner the days slip swiftly by. At 10:00 everything is wrapped in silence until another happy day at the mothers and babies camp.

Savior-Wife of Their Son

By BROWNLEY JONES

(Copyright.)

"If ONLY you had one saving imperfection!" Dorothy said plaintively with her most fetching glance. Her sole auditor, J. Hubert King, Esq., accepted the tribute at face value, though he made a pretense of deprecation with, "That's just your awfully too-kindness."

"Impossible," said Miss Dorothy, with accent deserving italics. "I've watched—and studied—you ever since you came, trying to pick a flaw. Tell me—there's anything—anything at all—you really can't do?"

"That really can't be seen," J. Hubert answered with a significant look. Dorothy dropped her eyes, murmuring delicately: "When you see—won't you please tell me?"

"If you promise not to sympathize," from J. H., essaying the subtle. "She clapped her hands—crying joyously. 'Instead I shall felicitate you. It must be dreadfully lonesome—this being in a class by yourself.'"

"She was, your perceptive, wholly devoid of conscience—at least where the male of her species, cooing fustiness, conceit and wealth, was concerned. J. Hubert was truly as perfect a specimen of the gentleman strictly hand-made as was ever turned out by tutors, tuteurs, ministers of each social grace, as ever adorned himself in the finest French plate mirrors. He was indeed the supreme achievement of his worthy parents—plus the millions thriftily accumulated in the cloak and suit trade.

"They had tolled early, married late—after the money began rolling up, came this crowning mercy, a son to inherit it. So nothing had been spared, much less scented, toward his perfecting. It spoke well for his native fiber.

"Dorothy, in the rashness of youth, did not see that the superpolish masked a real man. His conceit of her, also amused her—she felt it rather the part of womanly duty to abate it. Therefore she played with the wisest, letting him approach with in arms' length, then dancing, glancing, beyond reach or comprehension. Now and then unkindly, she treated herself to flustering him to the top of his bent. He purred under it so naively, it was worth while. Besides she truly owed him something for the orchids, motor parties, candy and so on, wherewith he had strewn her path since he dawned upon the scene.

"Six hours later Dorothy came to a crucial vital moment she never forgot. She bent to hear a feeble voice say from swathing bandages: 'Please marry me! At once—they will come too late—I want to leave them—something in my place.'"

"It was King who implored. He had saved a child from death under a tumbling motor truck and been crushed in doing it—fatally crushed, said the surgeons. Struggling back to consciousness he had asked for her—his people were a thousand miles away. Twelve hours of life remained to him by the word of wisdom. Dorothy alone dared to gainsay it. She caught his one free hand in both her own, saying clearly: 'Listen! It will be harder to live than die—but better, worth while. You must not talk of marriage nor think of dying. I shall stay here to prevent it. A hero does not shrink from anything.'"

"You mean you won't be my wife?" The weak voice half sobbed.

"Not now. Weeks wouldn't in the least become me!" Dorothy flashed back. "Get well. Give your whole mind to it, then we'll talk further about it. I can't let you think so ill of me as that I would make a death-bed bargain."

"Will you promise?" King began. She cut him short with: "Only to stay with me until I can tell your mother you are going to live—to be the man she has given the world. You have no right to sulk, because you are suffering tortures. Fighting is a man-size job. I know you can do it—and you must."

The nurse tried to check her, the surgeon looked gravely concerned. But his young assistant murmured half under breath: "Good work!" He looked at Dorothy covertly—there seemed to him a halo about her golden head. "I believe she'll keep him here until the old folks come," he whispered to the surgeon as together they left the room. "If she does it will be a miracle," was all the elder man said.

"Miracles are still possible. King woke from three hours' sleep, distinctly better. Throughout the hours Dorothy had sat holding his hand, whispering him with all the ardor, the conviction of her impetuous soul, to make the man fight, she knew lay ahead. All night she stuck to her post. And in the gray morning she had her reward—the sick man, seeing her, against the dawn glow, murmured: "I am coming up from hell—by help of an angel."

In a month he was well enough to be moved—there was hope that in a year he might walk freely, though full strength was too much to hope for. His father and mother brought Dorothy to go home with them—the savior-wife of their son, for whom all the world was not sufficient reward. But the son himself had learned wisdom—he had seen the faces of Dorothy and the young doctor answer each other across his sick bed. She had given him back life—he would give her happiness. So at last, pale but hummed of face, he joined their hands firmly, saying as he smiled at them: "You are to let me play fairy godfather, for being a good patient."

IRATE FATHER HALTS ROMANCE OF GYPSIES

Chief Is Nabbed on Charge of Kidnaping.

Albany, N. Y.—A modern day gypsy trail, followed none the less skillfully or relentlessly because it led over paved roads through cities and towns instead of over woodland paths, ended near here in East Greenbush recently when John Demitro, gypsy chief, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Horton, charged with kidnaping thirteen-year-old Rose Thompson, vivacious dark-eyed daughter of Wanda Thompson, gypsy tribal leader of Bridgeport, Conn.

Demitro was arrested at his camp by four state troopers from G troop barracks in Troy and taken to the Rensselaer county jail while a hundred tribesmen, their eyes blazing with wrath, looked on, hesitating to make any openly hostile gesture toward the four troopers.

Rose, who was found in Demitro's roadside camp, was turned over to her father, who had been following the trail of Demitro's band ever since March 1 in the search for his daughter. He took her back with him to the house in which he is temporarily staying here and a few moments later two truckloads of gypsies from Demitro's camp disembarked menacingly in front of the house.

Detectives Avert Violence.

Before anything could happen, however, four Albany detectives appeared and ordered the Demitro faction to move on. Their order was reluctantly obeyed and the Thompson followers breathed an evident sigh of relief. Two private detectives guarded them the rest of the night.

The story of the events that preceded the arrest, being concerned entirely with gypsy jealousies and customs, is characteristically confused. From statements made here by Thompson and advices received from Bridgeport, however, it appears that Thompson is the leader of a gypsy band that was quartered in a house in South Main street in Bridgeport last winter while Demitro's band lived in a house on State street.

According to the story received from Bridgeport, Demitro's wife became ill in February and Thompson consented to let his daughter go to Demitro's house to nurse her. Thompson then went to New York to arrange for opening some concessions he owns in Starlight Amusement park, the Bronx. When he returned March 1 Demitro's band was gone and so was Rose. Thompson traced them to North Adams, Mass., over the Hoosung mountains into New York and finally came to Albany and enlisted the aid of Assistant District Attorney David A. Wanger.

Assault He Bought Girl.

Demitro asserted here, however, that in accordance with gypsy custom he had paid Thompson $1,500 for Rose to make her the bride of his fourteen-year-old son, John, Jr., and it was noted that as she left the Demitro camp Rose cast a lingering look back at a young boy who remained behind in the camp.

"What would you do?" Thompson exclaimed, when asked about the transaction. "I got American citizenship. No want gypsy marriage for my girl. Want good American marriage. Take out child papers for citizen."

John Demitro but it was not because $1,500 was too little for my Rose. I want the Rose to have good American law marriage."

Demitro is held without bail pending extradition proceedings which are being started in Bridgeport.
