HAVE COUNTY PARK AT CAVANAUGH LAKE

County Road Commissioners Are Doing A Very Commendable Job At Cavanaugh Lake—Money Well Expended

The county engineers, under the supervision of the county road commissioners, are making extensive improvements on the public park at the west end of Cavanaugh Lake.

There has been a dock built on the lake front, a cement cooking oven constructed and playground equipment for the children is being placed on the grounds. A fence has been erected on the east and west boundaries of the park and men are at work filling the property with gravel and making drives.

The park has a frontage of 200 feet on the lake and also a fine bathing beach.

More than 200 residents of this vicinity were visitors at the park Sunday and every day many of the people of the community visit the park for a short outing.

The road commissioners are to be commended for their enterprise in procuring this bit of land for the use of the public. At all of our lakes the county ought to own some lake frontage for the accommodation of the public.

MRS. FRANK STAFFAN ENJOYS TAINES CHELSEA LADIES

The porch of the Staffan residence on East Huron street was the scene of a delightful entertainment Thursday afternoon and evening when Mrs. Frank Staffan and Mrs. Charles Martin of Church street were hostesses at luncheon and bridge in the afternoon. Five tables of bridge were in play with Miss McNamara of Detroit, Mrs. Fredericks of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. George Staffan of Chelsea as the out-of-town guests present. Prizes were won by Mrs. George Staffan and Mrs. Edward McKune of Chelsea.

In the evening supper was served and three tables of bridge were in play with the out-of-town guests, Mrs. Roland Schenk of Oak Park, Ill., and Mrs. John Fletcher and Mrs. Archie Wilkinson, both of Chelsea, present. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Wilkinson. Ann Arbor Daily News.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR PARADE WAS A WONDERFUL SIGHT

Quite a number of people from this section were in Detroit Tuesday to witness the parade given by the Knights Templar and it proved to be a wonderful sight. Nearly every state was represented by one or more commanderies and some states had several in line. There were probably 75 or more bands and drum corps and the line of march was crowded with people from its starting point to the place where ranks were broken.

Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti Commanderies represented Washtenaw county and made a fine appearance in line. It was estimated there were thirty-five thousand six knights in line and that a half million people witnessed the parade.

FELDKAMP FAMILY REUNION

The annual reunion of the Feldkamp families was held Sunday at Pleasant Lake, Freedom, with about 150 in attendance, including guests from Toledo, Ann Arbor, Clinton, Manchester, Saline, Chelsea and Washington, D. C. Munson L. Burkhardt of Lima was elected president for the ensuing year and Walter Feldkamp of Ann Arbor, secretary-treasurer. A committee consisting of Mrs. Cora Feldkamp of Washington, D. C., Miss Elizabeth Kusterer of Chelsea, was appointed to trace the history of the Feldkamp family and secure data for a family tree. Following a picnic dinner, the afternoon was spent with games and boating. The 1929 reunion will be held in Eisenbeiser's grove, North Lake.

WATERLOO WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Mrs. S. W. Rolph was seriously injured about ten o'clock Wednesday forenoon. She was returning home from the Waterloo garage where she had been to have repairs made to the auto. A car coming off the cross road at the George Archenbraun farm caused her to be forced off the highway. Her car was turned completely over and she was pinned underneath. She was removed from the wreckage as soon as possible and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Witz.

The S. O. R. class of the Methodist Sunday school of which Mrs. Mary Gieson is teacher, was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hayes, Sylvan. A pot-luck supper was served and games furnished the entertainment for the evening.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF MEMBERSHIP REWARDED

Arthur K. Collins, who has been telegraph operator at the local station of the Michigan Central railway for a good many years, received a letter last week that he prizes very highly; and with the letter he also received a very attractive veteran's medal, suitably engraved with his name and the date upon which he became a member of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers—1903. These medals are emblematic of twenty-five years of continuous membership in this great organization and if Mr. Collins appears to be stepping a little more lively than usual you will know the reason.

He entered the employ of the Michigan Central railway 39 years ago and he has the satisfaction of knowing he has no bad marks "chalked" up against his record. That is a long time to serve without having committed an error sufficient to be "called" on the carpet by those in authority, but Mr. Collins has always appreciated the importance of his position and its responsibilities.

He is wearing the veteran's medal on his watch chain and he has a right to be proud of this recognition.

RICHARDS-NOTTEN WEDDING TOOK PLACE SATURDAY

The marriage of Mrs. Nettie Richards to Ebert J. Notten, well known Chelsea residents, took place Saturday evening, July 14, at the home of the bride's brother, C. W. Mack, of Battle Creek. Rev. L. E. Mack, of Iron Mountain, also a brother of the bride, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few immediate relatives, with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mack as attendants.

A wedding supper was served the assembled guests after which Mr. and Mrs. Notten left for a week-end visit in Kalamazoo.

They will make their home in Chelsea, having recently purchased the local hospital.

WORM WORKING IN TOMATO PLANTS

What is said to be corn borers have appeared in the gardens of two residents of Chelsea. The first indications that were seen was that the plants had the appearance of being frost bitten. The owner of one of the gardens cut a branch from one of the plants and when it was split open, he discovered a worm about one inch long, the head was pointed and brown and white rings around the body. The worm was working in the pith of the plant and seems to have cleaned everything but the shell of the plant. The plants that showed indications of the pest were pulled up and burned.

SYLVAN ESTATES CLUB IS A POPULAR PLACE

Many Are Enjoying The Generous Hospitality Extended At That Quiet Resort—Bridge and Golf

Sylvan Estates Country Club has been the scene of many pleasant activities during the week.

An evening bridge party was held on Thursday at which the ladies prize was awarded to Mrs. W. R. Presser of Detroit, L. G. Palmer of Chelsea, winning the gentleman's prize.

On Sunday many people from the neighboring cities sought refuge from the heat on the cool porches of the country club. There were several dinner parties from Ann Arbor and Detroit.

Another successful ladies day program was carried out on Tuesday. A one club golf tournament was played in the forenoon and the low medal score prize was awarded to Mrs. Frank Staffan of Ann Arbor.

At the bridge party in the afternoon, Mrs. Bacon and Mrs. L. G. Palmer were winners of the prizes.

An informal dinner dance is on the program for this coming Saturday evening. It will be in charge of the entertainment committee, who are: Mr. and Mrs. George Wood Hays, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benz.

POPULAR CHELSEA COUPLE MARRIED IN DETROIT

The marriage of Mrs. Ella Franklin and George W. Beckwith, both of Chelsea, was solemnized at six o'clock Thursday afternoon, July 12, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Joseph Dutton, pastor of Campbell Avenue Methodist church, Detroit. Witnesses to the ceremony were Claude Beckwith, brother of the groom, and Mrs. Dutton. Both bride and groom are well known here, the latter being supervisor of Sylvan township. They will make their home in the Beckwith residence on East street.

FRANK JOHN ZULKE HANGED HIMSELF AT HIS HOME

Mrs. Rose Zulke discovered the body of her son, Frank John Zulke, hanging in the woodshed at her home on West Middle street, about one o'clock Friday afternoon. It is thought the man committed the act between four and five o'clock Friday morning.

Justice of the Peace H. F. Brooks was called as acting coroner and after investigating the situation decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Frank John Zulke, only son of August and Rose Zulke, was born in Chelsea, October 10, 1879, and has spent his entire life in this vicinity. He is survived by his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Daley of Jackson, and the other is a sister in a convent in Jackson.

The funeral was held at two o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of his mother, Rev. Father VanDyke conducting the services. Burial at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

SAGER-FULLER WEDDING

A quiet wedding ceremony was solemnized, at high noon Saturday at Zion Lutheran parsonage, Ann Arbor, when Miss Irene L. Sager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sager of 522 Second street, became the bride of Harvey Thomas Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fuller of Pontiac, Rev. E. C. Stellhorn officiated.

Herbert Sager, brother of the bride, and Miss Mabel Seyfried attended the young couple. Only the immediate families were present.

The couple will make their home in Ann Arbor. The bride spent her girlhood days in this community.

GAVE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. A. E. Johnson entertained Wednesday evening at a very enjoyable dinner in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Johnson and J. N. Dancer. Those present beside the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sweet of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gentner and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dancer. After the delightful dinner had been enjoyed, the evening was spent in visiting and recounting the years that have slipped away one by one.

GUARD FELONIOUSLY ATTACKED AT CEMENT PLANT

William L. Greer, who has charge of the packing house at the State cement plant, Four Mile Lake, was badly bruised up by a negro convict early Wednesday morning. After the convict had assaulted Mr. Greer he came to the office of a local physician where his numerous wounds were given attention. From his appearance it will be several days before he can return to his work.

We receive each month a little trade magazine published by the Imperial Type Metal Co., of New York, and edited by William Feather, and from its pages we frequently glean worth-while suggestions. In a recent issue appeared the following regarding modern banking methods which we gladly pass on to our readers:

Nowhere is the modern change in business methods better illustrated than in the case of banks. You remember when every bank had heavy stone pillars out in front, like a fort, to suggest solidity and incidentally to frighten the bank's customers into a respectful and sometimes a cringing attitude when they called around to state a request. Only recently have banks hung name-plates in front of the tellers' cages, so that you can feel free to converse with the gentleman while he counts out your money. The changes that have put the bank's officers at accessible desks where even ordinary depositors may approach and ask for financial advice have been equally recent.

All of us remember some banker in our youth that struck us as being so stern, cold and precise as to be scarcely human. A bank's function in those days was to collect money and hold it; guarding it securely against all dangers as human weakness and caprice might bring to it. Possibly bankers felt they had to look sober and trustworthy, just as ministers once wore somber looks as part of their professional dress. Or maybe it was just habit. But just as some banks today actually let the sunshine enter through big show-windows, so the bank's attitude inside is warm and cordial and expressive of co-operation.

If once there was a suspicion that the bank existed to get all it could and give little in return, today the desire is to serve the depositor in every way consistent with good banking. The old-time idea of "let the buyer beware" of the seller making all the profit he could while the buyer loses, has no place in modern banking, any more than it has a place in modern business. Just as selling has become a proposition where both parties benefit, so banking today shows an earnest desire to place the knowledge and resources of the bank entirely at the applicant's service.

Chelsea is most fortunate in having two strong, well managed and prosperous banking institutions and it is a pleasure to do business with those to whom the affairs of the banks are entrusted. Those behind the big counters are genial, human fellows, who are interested in every movement having for its object the upbuilding of this community and the prosperity of its humblest citizen. As a community we have reason to be proud of our two banks.

UNFAIR FARM COMPETITION

For sixteen years following annexation of the Philippine Islands, importation of duty-free sugar from the islands was limited to 300,000 tons annually. This restriction on importations was removed in 1914 and since that time all Philippine sugar has been admitted without payment of custom taxes.

In addition to sugar from this source the product of Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands, more than 1,200,000 tons, comes in duty-free. This makes a potential tax-free supply of nearly two million tons or one-third of the annual consumption of the United States. This sugar is produced with labor wages not nearly as high as on American farms, in a tropical climate and delivered by water transportation.

It is not an unreasonable demand on the part of American beet producers that the importations from our island possessions be restricted to some reasonable amount.

The taxes this country loses by destroying home sugar production must be added to the total toll taken by cheap labor foreign sugar production.

FOR BETTER SERVICE

The recent trend of railway management has been toward intensified economies, and improvements of service by increased executive competence. In the last two years one road has reduced its inventory fifty per cent, by eliminating a large amount of obsolete material and more stringently standardizing car equipment. Where parts were formerly carried for repairing seven kinds of motors, they have been reduced to three. This policy was carried out with controllers, car fittings and so on. Still another important means of cutting down the inventory was by eliminating apparently trivial items, such as odd-size bolts, screws and rivets.

Railroad service is now better than it has ever been. Car shortages are apparently unknown; condition of rolling stock is better; great progress in the safety movement has been made; movement of cars has been appreciably increased. Yet this service costs the user no more, and in many cases it is less than formerly.

Beware of Peddlers

Most housewives regard the peddler as a nuisance. He is trained, however, to meet every objection. Too often she finds herself unable to meet his suave arguments and finally buys as much to get rid of him as for any other reason. In the homes of every community there are hundreds of dollars worth of rubber aprons and what not bought under the spell of a clever peddler's talk.

Spending the family income is important enough in most homes that it should be done deliberately and without influence. The local merchant gives the people of the community credit for knowing what they want. He consciously attempts to please when the housewife comes into his store and asks for an article. He does not insult her by using her home to display his wares and her time to insult her intelligence.

"REPEATER" CRIMINAL IS PUBLIC MENACE

A recent news item, states that Governor C. C. Young of California, believes that the average convicted criminal should be pardoned only after he has worked for self-reformation, and proven himself worthy of release. It is this policy, he said, that has caused him to issue fewer pardons and commutations of sentence than most of his predecessors in office.

Systems designed to help and urge the criminal to reform and prepare himself for a place in society, such as the parole, pardon and commutation of sentence, are of great benefit and value when intelligently and conservatively used. But it seems unquestionable that they have often been abused by mawkish sentiment that has issued pardons wholesale to criminals waiting for chances to commit further law violations, with the result that crime is encouraged.

Governor Young has taken the proper attitude. Most crime legislation, such as that having to do with the sale and possession of small arms, puts the cart before the horse and defeats its own purpose, for only the law-abiding citizen is inconvenienced by the restriction. If we are to suppress crime we must act along lines of quick arrest, trial and conviction and adequate punishment, without parole or pardon until it is shown that they are eminently deserved.

Further, the law should be so amended that a "repeater" criminal would automatically increase his own sentence with each crime repetition and conviction.

LET'S IMPROVE OUR ROADS

Why did 75,000 people gather at Island Lake on Grand River avenue on July 4th and 25,000 more on the following Sunday? Why are countless thousands visiting the Irish Hills and the state park on the shores of Wampplers Lake every week, making travel on M-112 dangerous at times?

There is but one answer to the question—good roads. With the good roads these places have become easily accessible with the result that the people are coming out of the cities in great droves to enjoy a day or two in the great open spaces.

Surrounding Chelsea we have any number of places more attractive in their natural setting than anything Island Lake can offer. We have several locations where the view far exceeds anything to be seen over in the Irish Hills country, but the highways leading to these places have not yet been improved, people do not know about them and there has never been any effort made to advertise their attractiveness.

It is time something was done to attract people this way, and to make better roads is one of the principal tasks.

RURAL HOUSEWIVES

Recognition of the indispensability of the homemaker on the farm will be given by the award of the title "Master Farm Homemakers" to a group of five women during Farm Women's week at Michigan State College, beginning July 23.

Michigan "Master Homemakers" will be affiliated with similar groups chosen in 20 other states through the efforts of "The Farmer's Wife," a national publication for farm women.

Any rural homemaker in Michigan is eligible for nomination to the group. The nomination had to be made by five neighbors, and the nominees were rated by a committee chosen by the home economics extension division at Michigan State College.

When mother comes to college for the Farm Women's week, she will have an opportunity to enjoy splendid instruction in home problems and at the same time an ideal vacation, in the opinion of those who have attended in former years.

A varied program has been arranged for each day. Inspirational hours will be spent on such topics as literature, music, art and science, and the drama. Many delightful social events including teas, receptions, and campus tours have also been arranged.

NEW CANADIAN PLANT

Concrete evidence of the growing importance of the American automobile outside the domestic market was seen here by officials of the Oakland Motor Car Company upon receipt of advice that construction is now under way for a new Canadian factory in which Pontiac Sixes will be assembled.

Located at Regina, Saskatchewan, where 38 acres of city property have been taken over by General Motors of Canada for the project, the new unit will meet the increasing demand for Pontiac cars in the western part of the dominion.

OLDSTERS TO CRADLE

Oldtimers in Michigan agriculture, veterans of the days before modern machinery speeded up farm operations, will stage an old fashioned cradling contest as one of the features of the annual Farmers Day at Michigan State College on Friday, July 27.

The swish of the cradles will keep time to the less picturesque but much more efficient action of the "combine," newest thing in labor saving farm machinery, which will be demonstrated on the M. S. C. farm at the same time.

South Ypsilanti—Fire early Friday morning destroyed two barns and contents valued at $2,000 on the farm of Mrs. Ella Kelly, two and a half miles south of Ypsilanti city. Farm machinery including a silo filler owned by Harold Youngs, a nephew of Mrs. Kelly, comprised the contents of the barns.

DELINQUENT TAXES

RAISE TO NEW PEAK
Auditor General O. B. Fuller Indicates Shortage of 4 1-2 Million Exists

With all the state tax money in for the fiscal year, which ended June 30, the amount of delinquent tax for any one year has reached the peak of nearly $4,500,000.

Auditor General O. B. Fuller reported Saturday that tax collections for the year amounted to $20,089,722.70, whereas the tax levy for the year was $24,500,000. This will mean that the general fund is out the $4,500,000 and unless a greater percentage of the delinquent tax is collected between now and next January 1, this will build up a deficit in the general fund and cause a shortage of state funds until the next tax money comes in, which will be the first of 1929.

Much of the delinquency comes from the agricultural and cut-over woodland counties. Just what percentage of it can be collected is a question which Mr. Fuller does not care to estimate.

The state finances will be relieved somewhat September 1st, when the corporation tax comes in, but it is certain a deficit will continue to exist.

NORTH SYLVAN GRANGE

The North Lake-Sylvan Grange will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Skinner of Ann Arbor, on Friday night, July 27th.

The program will be as follows:
Song by Grange.
Roll call—Give your favorite breed of cattle or poultry, and why.
Music—Radio.
Farm garden—an asset or liability?
Mrs. E. J. Weinburg.
Is it best to save one's own flower and vegetable seed—Charles Wood.
Contest—Eating peas with a knife.
Song.

SPRAY your buildings. It's better. Phone 125-J, Chelsea. 50-1

MANCHESTER MAN IS

SOUGHT BY OFFICERS
Sheriff's officers Monday were seeking a man known as F. J. Schmidt, who disappeared Saturday from Manchester, taking with him an automobile owned by R. J. Blythe of that village. Blythe told officers that he let Schmidt take his automobile to try it out, but the man failed to return.

Schmidt, who is also known as R. J. Baker, had been registered at a hotel at Wampler's lake, officers were told.—Ann Arbor News.

HOME CONVENIENCE TRUCK ATTRACTED MANY PEOPLE

The Demonstration Of Model Kitchen Proved Very Interesting—Farm Needs Explained

Two hundred fifty Washtenaw county folks visited the demonstration of the home convenience truck which spent three days last week in Washtenaw county. Two stops were made each day at which time the equipment of the truck was opened for inspection. This truck was constructed by the agricultural engineering department of Michigan State College in cooperation with the home economics department. It contains a model kitchen showing the most desirable arrangement of kitchen cabinets, sinks, draining boards, stoves, and other equipment used in the kitchen. The rear end of the truck contains a model bathroom. One side of the truck shows a display of a small home lighting outfit, water pressure system and a working model of a septic tank. At each stop Miss Smith, home management specialist, Michigan State College, discussed the principal features relating to the kitchen, and its arrangement. She called attention to the best location for the equipment in order to economize steps and labor for the housewife and also emphasized the importance of the proper height of both sink and tables, giving simple rules as to how this height could be determined. She also discussed the built-in and commercial cabinets, stressing the need for having plenty of work room and the fact that storage shelves should not be too wide. In discussing wall and floor coverings and window curtains she called attention to the materials that could be used for this purpose and how the right color could add attractiveness to the kitchen. She had samples of simple curtain materials that had been dyed in order to make them harmonize with the kitchen walls. She also showed how color could be added to the work stool, chairs, and garbage pail so as to make the room more cheerful, cautioning, however, against using colors in excess, illustrating this by saying that the articles should be painted a soft neutral tone decorated with a small amount of harmonizing color. The women present were very much interested in the discussion on different kinds of floor coverings and their proper care as well as the demonstration of dish washers, dish drainers, brushes, floor mops, polishers, etc.

N. A. Kessler, agricultural engineering specialist, Michigan State College, discussed lighting plants, water systems for the home, and septic tanks. In explaining water systems he spoke of the gravity tank system, and air pressure system where the source of power could be windmill, gas engine or electric motor, and emphasized the importance of keeping the proper proportion of water and air in the pressure tank. In discussing lighting plants, he explained the features to be considered in selecting a home lighting plant. He said that where current power lines could be obtained the cost of electricity per kilowatt-hour is much cheaper than that provided by a home lighting plant. He also spoke of the advantage of using electricity in the home and farm operations, saying that as the amount of current used increased the cost per kilowatt-hour decreased. Using current for light alone is rather expensive but it should be the aim to apply the current to as many farming operations and household appliances as possible to get the greatest value from the money expended in the payment for the electric power. Electrical pictures, drawings, and a small model tank was used in demonstrating the construction and operation of the Michigan Lyne septic tank. The important features to be considered from the standpoint of sanitation and efficient operation were emphasized by Mr. Kessler. Bulletins describing the construction of this tank may be secured at the Agricultural Extension and Farm Bureau office, Court House, Ann Arbor.

The following 4-H club folks from Washtenaw county attended the 10th annual club week at Michigan State College, East Lansing, July 9 to 13: Raymond Girbach, Webb Harwood, Leona Gale, Jack Gilbert, Olney Outwater, Warren Pinkbeiner, Alice Roberts, Irene Stoffer, Dorothy Zimmerman, Arley Elliot, Alberta Heininger, Mae Schroe, Mary Downer, Loretta Schlimmer, Kenneth Schlimmer, Leona Alexander, Laura Wells, Helen Armbruster, Ellen Nixon, Murray Fishbeck, Della Mae Neubert, Mildred Poppenger, Loretta Gale, Ellen Girbach, Lloyd Wheeler, Mrs. Veva Kalmbach, Mrs. Lucile Ganshure, Miss Mildred Walsh, Miss Ruth Wells, Mrs. A. SHOEBRIDGE LONGED TO SEE HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN

A Jackson dispatch has the following concerning the escape and voluntary return of Earl Shoebridge who walked away from the cement plant crew one day last week.

The unusual spectacle of having an escaped inmate return to Michigan State prison by his own volition was witnessed here Friday when Earl Shoebridge, 38 years old, who escaped from the Chelsea cement plant Wednesday, walked into the prison and stated that he was ready to complete his 2 1/2 to 5 year term.

Accompanying Shoebridge was Judge George Sample of Ann Arbor, who sentenced him January 30.

According to Shoebridge he became homesick to see his wife and three children in Plymouth, and the longing drove him to leave his trusty job at Chelsea. After greeting them, he said he was driven by his parents to Ann Arbor early Friday and he called on Judge Sample to tell him he was on his way back to prison. The judge volunteered to drive Shoebridge to Jackson. The same day that Shoebridge fled from Chelsea, James C. Swayne and Brooks Dawson, trustees, stole an automobile and fled from the vicinity of the Masonic Country club, 4 miles west, where they were working in a road camp. No trace of them has been found.

GRAHAM-PAIGE COUPES OFFERED IN FIVE MODELS

Coupe bodies on five different chassis models are now being produced by Graham-Paige, at a price range from $860 for the 110-inch wheelbase six to $2,485 for the 135-inch eight. With these additions, the Graham-Paige line comprises sedans and coupes on all chassis, and town sedans, seven-passenger sedans, and cabriolets on the largest six and eight.

Anna—Contract let for construction of new Memorial bridge across Pine river on Superior street.

A new organization, called the Michigan State Service club, composed of outstanding 4-H club members, 4-H club local leaders, and parents of 4-H club members, was formed during the week. Ten members were enrolled—three of whom are from Washtenaw county, namely: Miss Mildred Walsh, leader of the Delhi Hammer and Needle club; Miss Leona Gale, member and leader of the Ridge Road canning and food study club; Raymond Girbach, member of the Junior Swine Growers' club and leader of the Saline Junior 4-H club.

The transportation of the delegation from Washtenaw county was provided by several of the banks of the county.

The Sharon 4-H Boosters club met at the home of Earl Alber Friday evening, July 13. All of the members responded to roll call with a report on their project work.

The secretary read an invitation from the Bridgewater 4-H club to attend their meeting August 7th. The Boosters decided to accept this invitation and to challenge the Bridgewater club to a game of baseball on that day. Walter Jacobs and Earl Alber were appointed a committee on transportation to this meeting.

Arthur E. Hagen, county club agent, explained the score card that the club will score themselves with for the contest for the State Savings Bank trophy. He also told about club week at East Lansing from which he has just returned, and about the girls' camp which will be held soon, as well as various other 4-H club activities. Donald Gleske was elected baseball captain. Margaret Ewen and Ida Wingate were appointed entertainment committee for the next meeting.

South Lyon—Sixteen Oakland county officers raided a barn six miles east and three-quarters of a mile south of here last week Wednesday. The deputies found a still in full operation. The whole outfit is estimated as being worth between $15,000 and $20,000. Two men were arrested.

Woodland—Highway M-48 from Barbers Corner to this place will be built soon.

INNOCENT ANNOUNCEMENT

RAISED SAD HAVOC

If you don't believe notices in The Standard are read by the children as well as the adults, just ask any one connected with St. Paul's church and Sunday school. Through a misunderstanding it was stated there would be no services at that church for two weeks—the 12th and 19th—with the result that the attendance "fell off" last Sunday, both at the church services and at Sunday school. The notice was intended for our good friends over at the Methodist church, Pastor Walker and family having planned a vacation at Cavanaugh Lake.

O. T. Hoover and John S. Cummings, regular attendants at the M. E. church, were seen sitting on the church steps Sunday morning wondering why in heck the doors were closed. So the innocent little item played havoc all around.

We're sorry, but it demonstrated the value of Standard advertising.
Mr. and Mrs. Allan H. Paton and daughter spent Sunday with A. G. Hindelang and family at Cavanaugh Lake.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC CO. ESTABLISHED 1859

GOLF IS "GOING GOOD" AT SYLVAN ESTATES

The Hays Trophy tournament is in its fourth week of play. A handsome silver cup has been given by George Wood Hays of Sylvan Estates. It is being played for by points on each Saturday afternoon. The low medal score on each Saturday wins one point.

L. G. Palmer is leading the field with a score of three points, George Sheeks of Wyandotte, has one point. Great interest is being shown in the golf bag tournament, which is now in its third flight.

In the second flight Howard Holmes of Chelsea and Dr. Foust of Grass Lake, played a tie, which will be played off this week.

Dr. J. J. Hill of Cleveland, eliminated John King of Detroit, five up in spite of the fact that John King handed in low medal score on nine holes for the tournament, a 31.

L. G. Palmer of Chelsea, eliminated Robert Gauss of Ann Arbor, five up. George Huntington of Ann Arbor, defeated Jacob Schmide of Ann Arbor, four up.

George Sheeks of Wyandotte, was winner over Dudley Holmes of Chelsea by five.

Howard Holmes, Jr. defeated H. P. Ghazier of Detroit, two up.

The semi-finals of this tournament will be reached sometime during the coming week, and an interesting match will be played.

On Saturday and Sunday of this week, the qualifying rounds for the club championship will be played. This cup may be played for by members only.

During the week the Kiwanis Club will complete the qualifying round in their sunset tournament. Those who have already qualified are: A. G. Hindelang, C. J. Mayer, John Fletcher, B. B. Turnbull, L. G. Palmer, Howard Holmes, Sr., and Conrad Lehman.

PROSPEROUS HOG YEAR INDICATED

The next twelve to eighteen months promise a new period of prosperity for hog producers, according to a survey of conditions and prospects just completed by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute of Chicago. Higher hog prices are in prospect, while the present corn crop outlook promises lower production costs.

A decrease of about 7 per cent in the spring pig crop of 1928 from that of 1927 for the United States as a whole, as well as the corn belt states, is shown in the Institute's survey. This decrease is equivalent to about 3,000,000 head, more than 3,000,000 of the reduction being in the corn belt.

Reports from farmers as to intentions to breed for fall litters are interpreted to mean a reduction in the pig crop of next fall. Based on the relationship between breeding intentions and actual farrowings in past years, there may be a decrease anywhere from 7 to 15 per cent in the total fall pig crop and of 3 to 9 per cent in the corn belt area.

The survey indicates a reduction of about 3,500,000 to 4,500,000 head in the combined spring and fall pig crops in the corn belt, which will determine the market supply in the hog year, starting November 1st, 1928. The reduction outside the corn belt may reach 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 head.

Middle Age Battle Cries

The names "Gaelph" and "Gibelph" originated in Germany in the twelfth century in a contest of rival families for the title of "Emperor." During the siege of Weinsberg the followers of Count Wolf shouted the name of their leader, while the other party took up the cry of "Walblings." Walblings having been the birthplace of Frederick, the brother of the Emperor Conrad. These names came to represent principles as well as families and as such were carried to Italy, where they were corrupted into "Gaelph" and "Gibelph."

The Country Boy Detective

By AD SCHUSTER

(Copyright.)

"I AM to be a policeman or a detective and I'm thinking you need me around here while the fat is on."

Sheriff Al Trendle looked up in surprise at the red-faced country youth who faced him.

"Detective, eh? Been reading John Stunt, and have you a microscope, a revolver, and a star?"

"You didn't think," the boy's tone was of protest, "I would come unprepared?"

Trendle gasped. Here was a kid of the age of a figure from rural melodrama. Yet he was tremendously earnest.

"Sorry, but my detective force is full. Better go back and take care of the stock. There's no money or glory for you in rounding up cowboys and nickpockets at a county fair. It isn't at all like the story books."

"You mean you won't be taking me a job? Say, I've got a diploma and a letter from the head of the school and—" but the sheriff interrupted.

"They're no good. Tear them up and go back, son."

"Not me," the boy spoke sadly. "I can't be a detective, I can at least stay and see the fair. Dad's taking care of the stock. And say, maybe you would let me help out a little on my own hook just to see what I could do. I won't charge you anything unless I nab somebody who has a reward hanging on his head."

The sheriff saw the anxiety in the country kid's eyes and there came a memory of another youth who, with a deputy sheriff's badge, had thought he was to be envied of the world.

"Might not be a bad idea. Pardon me, but you're just the sort the common would pick for a victim. You might pretend you have money, you know, and sort of lead them on. Tien call for help and well—"

"Leads it to me," said the boy. "Just tip the other boys off I'm working with them and I'll bet I get a regular place on the force within a week."

Three days later the recruit was thoughtful.

"Sheriff," he said, "do you suppose there really is any merit in those money-making machines? The fellow just turned a crank and greenbacks came out."

"Yes, yes," the sheriff was sitting straight, "and then he said he would sell you a machine, that you must bring some to show your faith, and you gave him the bills and—"

"Nope," said the kid, "I just took a sample of greenbacks and here it is, a perfectly good ten. After I got a few more samples I'm going to punch that bird." He grinned. "You see I'm earning my salary while I work on the case. I've got to find out yet who the fellow's partner is."

The sheriff whistled. "You had no fooled, kid. Thought you were falling for one of the oldest games in the business. Now I'll tell you what. I'll have a man near you and ready. You tip off the signal and we'll make the pinch. These green-backs men carry rewards."

The sheriff, himself, watched the kid, saw him engaged in serious conversation with a stranger and marked the man as the crook. Still the boy gave no sign.

"It's bigger, than you think," the farm lad whispered when he got the chance. "There's a big gang, working all sorts of tricks, and well, you know all up. I've ready for tomorrow night. I'm on the inside now." And he swelled his chest and looked magnificently important.

Reports of bunko games, which would have worried the sheriff were dismissed now in the knowledge the gang would be caught. The kid made his report.

"The stout man I was talking to. Grab him first. I'll be on the grounds tomorrow afternoon near the bearded lady show. Right near, and in disguise, I will be waiting. Then we can get the rest."

"Good," said the sheriff, holding out his hand. "I guess you will land a job all right."

They grabbed the stout man next day and led him protesting to the jail.

"He had enough to be bunked by a red-faced farmer kid," he moaned. "but to be arrested is worse. You'll have to let me go when my attorney hears of this."

"A red-faced farmer kid? Say, where's that hick detective?"

But the boy who had asked for a job was gone. Afforded protection by the sheriff and his men, pretending to be a dupe, he had had his own way for two weeks and that was enough.

"Gosh," said the sheriff, "and I thought he was a boob! I guess I'm getting old."

Josephine's Horoscope

Is there such a thing as seeing into the future? Yes. Here is one of the many testimonials to the solemn gift. When the Empress Josephine of France was a girl in Martinique, an old colored woman, named Euphemia, told her fortune. "You will marry a fair man. Your star promises two alliances. With your first husband you will have a tragical lawsuit. Your second husband, a dark man of slender means, will go the world with his fame and glory. You will be greater than queen." You will die unhappy. The entire prediction came true.

Calls Attention to Northwestern MICHIGAN

(In the Lower Peninsula) Hundreds of miles of sandy beach washed by the waters of Lake Michigan beckon the summer vacationist to Northwestern Michigan in the Lower Peninsula. Not only Lake Michigan, but a myriad of inland lakes offer the lover of fishing, swimming and other water sports a most satisfying summer haven.

Nature has expended her utmost to furnish a place for recreation, rest and happiness in Northwestern Michigan. The section is the home of many boys' and girls' camps, state parks and tourist camps. There is every advantage in the form of good roads, and excellent hotels. The traveler in this section is only as far from home as the nearest telephone. And Long Distance Rates Are Surprisingly Low! Note the rates for a three-minute conversation between 4:30 A.M. and 7:00 P.M. to the following Northwestern Michigan points:

The following club members and leaders were guests at M. S. C. at Lansing during State Club Week last Lansing during State Club Week: Lloyd Wheeler, Jack Gilbert, Irene Stoffer, Mrs. Luella Camburn and Mrs. Vera Kalmbach. A fine time was reported by all.

The old house known the past few years as the Carr house is being wrecked by Jack Jackson, who anticipates erecting a new one on a better site. The old house was situated on one of the main corners of the village, completely obstructing the vision of motorists. The wonder is there has never been a serious accident there and we both compliment and feel grateful to Mr. Jackson not only for adding a new residence to our village but for removing this menace.

A bee was held to assist Mr. Jack Jackson in wrecking the old Carr house.

The Three-in-One community 4-H club of North Lake, entertained the Lyndon Center 4-H club Tuesday, July 17th. The event consisted of a ball game between the boys of the two clubs and later a weiner roast was held. The evening was spent in hearing reports of those who were at State Club Week, and Indian lore. The club meeting was carried on in type Indian fashion.

SELLERS OF BLOOD SEEK TO UNIONIZE

"Bleeders" Want to Raise Scale of Rates.

Berlin.—Competition in the sale of human blood has become so keen in Vienna that the price has dropped to 50 Austrian shillings a liter.

This blood is used in blood transfusions. These have become so common in medical practice in that city that a regular trade has developed and quite a number of people live solely from the sale of their blood.

Many of them have been bled 12 to 14 times; the record is 10 times.

The Bieleberg clinic is the distribution center of the "bleeders"; from there they are sent to the various hospitals as needed.

The "bleeding" trade is, of course, the last refuge of the impoverished. After about 14 bleedings, however, they find themselves "without blood and without money," and the constant bleeding has made them incapable of heavy manual labor for life.

The names of the patients whose lives are often saved by the blood transfusions are kept secret from the "bleeders" in order to prevent later money requests. Personal gratitude is therefore unable to help them.

Recently the "bleeders" tried to organize a union in order to raise the price of their blood, but the effort failed, and the "bleeders" trade is therefore still run on the open shop principle.

Sunlight Baths Aid English Mine Workers

London.—By taking a holiday in Switzerland and sitting in the sun five pit-boys from the mines of Mansfield have demonstrated the value of light baths for men and boys who work underground. A report of the committee which has been testing the usefulness of light in industrial hygiene has just been published.

Following the Swiss experiment with sunlight baths, a clinic was opened and 50 volunteers from the mines, fourteen to seventeen years old, have been given ultraviolet light baths several times a week for three months.

At the end of the time the boys had gained in weight an average of more than four pounds. Boys of the same ages who did not get the light baths gained a little over two and a half pounds during the same three months.

The boys who had the light baths gained in height more than the boys who did not.

The clinic will be continued, and the committee report recommends that wherever pithead baths are installed light baths should be given only under medical supervision.

How to Measure Fish! Who'll Say, Who'll Say?

Olympia, Wash.—How to find the length of fish is now one of the world's puzzles, so after University of Washington judges failed to agree over the method, Judge Chester A. Bachelor was left to decide.

Prof. E. Victor Smith declared that since the state game law does not specify the proper way is to measure them from tip of head to tip of tail.

Now comes Dean John Cobb of the college of fisheries: "The proper measurement of a fish is from the point of 'V' in the tail to the end of lower lip." Judge Bachelor in his decision will decide if Roy Jensen was justly accused of selling fish under the legal length.

Oldest House in Paris Is Occupied by Laundry

Paris.—Seven centuries have passed and kings, emperors, wars and revolutions have come and gone, but the oldest house in Paris is doing business at the old stand.

It is a laundry, how in the center of the city, close to the Cathedral of Notre Dame. The laundry isn't that old, but the owner says the pedigree of the building goes back to Louis IX.

The date of the house, 1240, is proudly displayed on a stone set in the street wall, and the laundry's sign is "At the oldest house in Paris."

Open Mosque to Public

Jerusalem.—Slaves are now admitted to the Great Mosque of Hebron, built over a cave said to contain the bodies of Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebecca and Jacob and Leah.

Tunnel Tolls in Seven Months, $2,401,980

New York.—Exceeding even the most optimistic expectations, the Holland tunnel in the first seven months of its operation has produced toll receipts of $2,401,980.70. Total expenses, including amortization of $48,000,000 in bonds, has been estimated at $10,500 a day. The average daily return so far has been $11,805.50.

The New York-New Jersey Tunnel commission believes the tunnel will have paid for itself in ten years. At the time it was projected, engineers estimated not more than 3,872,000 vehicles would use the tube the first year. In the first seven months, ending June 11, 4,334,275 vehicles passed through the tunnel.

SPECIAL TOWNSHIP PREMIUMS FOR COUNTY FAIR

Offered by Sylvan, Lima, Freedom and Lyndon Townships To Exhibitors At County Fair—Plan Your Exhibits Now

Now is a good time to plan for your exhibit at the Washtenaw County Fair, which will be held in Ann Arbor on August 28, 29, 30, 31 and September 1st. It is never a good plan to wait until the last minute and then just grab something to take to the fair. Your exhibit should be carefully selected and remember it is not always the largest vegetables that win, but those of uniform size and true to type are the ones that usually bring home the blue ribbons.

Following the practice of former years the several townships of the county are offering $50.00 in special premiums and the following are the items for which these premiums are offered in Sylvan, Lima, Freedom and Lyndon townships:

The KITCHEN CABINET

(© 1928 Western Newspaper Union)

We cannot make bargains for bluffs. Nor catch them like fishes in nets.

And sometimes the thing our life misses helps more than the thing which it gets.

For good lies not in pursuing, Nor gaining of great nor of small. But just in the doing and doing. As we would be done by, is all.

—Alice Cary.

WHAT TO EAT

For a crisp and tender salad of cucumbers and lettuce there is nothing more appetizing than:

French Cream Dressing.

Mix one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil and three tablespoonfuls of cream; stir until well blended.

We are now enjoying the season when cool drinks and frozen dishes are most acceptable. Here is a drink that will brighten the palate:

Fruit Punch.—Pour one cupful of tea infusion over one cupful of sugar, and as soon as the sugar is dissolved add three-fourths of a cupful of orange juice and one-third of a cupful of lemon juice. Strain into a punch bowl over a large piece of ice and just before serving add a pint bottle of ginger ale, one pint of 100% water and a few thin slices of orange and one dozen maraschino cherries.

Escalloped Stuffed Eggs.—Take hard-cooked eggs cut into halves, remove the yolks and mash with half the amount of deviled ham and enough melted butter to make of a consistency to shape. Refill the whites and garnish the remainder. If any, into a cast. Arrange the eggs and pour over one cupful of white sauce. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown. Serve hot.

Caramel Junket.—Heat two cupfuls of milk until lukewarm. Caramelize one-third of a cupful of sugar, add one-third of a cupful of boiling water and cook until the syrup is reduced to one-third cup. Cool, add the milk slowly to the syrup. Add the junket powder or liquid to the mixture with a few grains of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Let stand in sherbet cups in a warm room until set. Serve chilled, with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored and sprinkled with nuts.

When you buy a used car there are three things that you want to consider. The first, what you pay for it, the second, what it will cost you to run after you have it and the third, what you will get for it when you sell it.

If you can buy a good used car at a low price to start with that is in good mechanical condition and is of a late model and is bought from a reliable dealer, sold to you with an O. K. That Counts, you can't go wrong.

It will pay you to visit our used car lot across from the Police Station

HISTORIC MACKINAC ISLAND IS A SUMMER PARADISE

From The Mouthpiece, the official paper of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company we are pleased to take the very interesting article of Mackinac Island from the pen of C.
H. Hagerford:
Mackinac Island—seat of history and romance, home of the Indian's Manitou in the white men penetrated this forest and fresh water oceans.
Mackinac tells us a story that adventure, great trees, fabulous monsters, battles between Indian and between tiny armies representing great nations.
Mackinac Island is one of our most interesting exchanges—one of our best, yet one of our best known.
Mackinac talks with the world throughout the summer, although in winter months it is a little shutout. The community that has small use for long lines that connect it by submarine cable and land wires with far away cities, calls are made by Mackinac's visitors to nearly every phone exchange of consequence in the country, says Grace E. Hoban, operating agent on the island.
Mackinac Island, shunned for centuries by the red man because of his belief that spirits and gods dwell there, has known the happy song of the voyageur, the benign smile of the missionary priest and Jesuit, the bravery of the soldier in war, the bravery of the earliest trader and of hunter for gold and fur. There, was established one of the early fur posts of the great Northwest Territory, for which old-world nations fought on land and sea, and rich skins were collected there from the Yellowstone to Hudson's Bay. Although included in a vast domain that was claimed at one time by Spain and touched by the far-flung influence of the Indian, it never saw the gold and red of the Spanish flag. But it developed from a wooden gem of the lakes into fur post, mission-seat, mighty fortress, and popular summer resort under the successive protection of three flags—French, British and American. There, were set the feet of de la Salle, Joliet, Father Marquette, the Neapolitan, de Tonty, Charlevoix, the fugitive Alexander Henry, John Jacob Astor and Rev. Dr. Morse, father of Samuel F.

B. Morse who invented the telegraph.
Mackinac was one of the prizes of the War of the Revolution and that of 1812, and there at least two battles of the latter conflict were waged, both won by the British. There, too, red man and white man bartered and traded, and to its shores, in dead of night, swept fleets of the war canoes of the savages, bent upon wiping out the tiny garrison that manned the settlements. They were unsuccessful at Mackinac, but carried all before them at Old Mackinaw, on the southern mainland, where the British garrison was destroyed in 1783.

Marauding bands of Iroquois Indians, repulsed by the Ottawas and Ojibways, were attacked and destroyed on Mackinac. There came the French, about the time the Puritans set foot on the bleak New England shores. The sons of France first occupied the island in 1615.
The territory was surrendered by the French to the English in 1763, when Quebec was given up, and a British garrison was established in 1780, Mackinac being selected because of its isolation and security from Indian attack. It fell into American hands, after the American Revolution, through the definitive treaty of Ghent, signed in 1783, but was retaken by the British in 1812. Apprised of the declaration of war before the Americans at Mackinac had learned of hostilities, a force of British and Indians, commanded by Captain Charles Roberts, surprised the tiny garrison and took the island and fort without a shot.
Colonel George Croghan and Major

Holmes headed a forlorn hope of the Americans to recapture the post, August 4, 1814. The Americans were ambushed and defeated, with great loss. A monument to the "Unknown Soldiers" who fell in that battle has been erected on the island by the Daughters of the War of 1912.
The old blockhouse at the southwest corner of the fort, was built by the British in 1780, and stands today as it was then. Major Patrick Sinclair has charge of the building of the square stone first story with small ports for rifle fire. The original old stone quarters for the garrison, with walls from two and a half to eight feet thick, still stand, also.
Through early American history and the period of the Civil war, until a little more than a quarter century ago, the fort remained a government post, and garrisons of regulars were maintained there. Now, however, the old fort and much of the rest of the island are included in a Michigan state park. It is a fact, surprising to many, that automobiles are not allowed upon the island, and the visitor must ride in horse-drawn carriages up and down its leafy aisles and the gravelled boulevards along its shores.
Mackinac's scenic beauty and summer climate are unsurpassed, and it attracts many thousands of tourists, who can reach its shores only by boat and whose best and surest means of communication with home is the telephone.

Mackinac Island is located in the Straits of Mackinac, about half way between Mackinac City, in the lower peninsula, and St. Ignace, in the upper peninsula. It is approximately three and one-half miles long and two miles wide, and its area is 2,200 acres, 1,700 of which comprise a state park. The state park contains many natural and man-made curiosities and points of interest, such as Arch rock, a natural pierced rock, 150 feet above the lake; Sugar Loaf, a pinnacle reaching 89 feet into the air; Fort Holmes, formerly Fort George, built by the British when they captured old Fort Mackinac in the War of 1812; the old battlefields where the British and the Americans fought for the possession of Mackinac and old Fort Mackinaw.
Mackinac Island, the largest summer resort community in the upper peninsula, is an Atlantic City in minature, with its famous board walk, a stretch of beach, a gay and social atmosphere, and many fine hotels and rooming houses. The largest of the hotel is the Grand, which is adequately supplied with telephone service. The island also has many beautiful homes and small estates; the summer homes of wealthy families from many parts of the country.

While the island is never crowded, it attracts as a summer vacation spot, many of the country's most prominent persons.
During the summer season we have connected to our switchboard at Mackinac Island approximately 500 stations, 340 of which are located in the Grand hotel and connected to its private branch exchange.
MANY SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS
AT STATE FAIR THIS YEAR
Twenty-one well-known acts from "big-time" vaudeville will be featured on the entertainment program at the Michigan State Fair September 2-8, a program never before equaled in the fair's previous offerings, according to the management.
The list is made up of a large variety of attractions, and will be presented twice daily, afternoons and evenings, in front of the grand stand, from Monday to Saturday inclusive.
Harness racing, by some of the best known stables and owners in the racing world, will also be given in conjunction with the vaudeville program in the afternoon from Monday to Friday inclusive. In the evening, the spectacular fireworks display and Oriental pageant—"A Night in Bagdad" will furnish additional thrills.

Al Sweet's band, known to thousands for its snappy and original playing of popular themes, will furnish the musical accompaniment for the vaudeville program, in addition to special numbers of its own.
The maximum of thrills and amusement for both adults and children will be provided in the program which contains practically three times the number of acts ordinarily presented in the largest vaudeville houses.
NO TROUBLE AT ALL Wife—"Please match this piece of silk for me before you come home."

the average Plymouth girl thinks a washboard is some sort of antique furniture.—Mail.

The Times and the Manners

BACK in 1893 this gentleman was one of the Town Dandies. He owned the most expensive bicycle in town, which assured his place in the Select Circle. His private shaving mug, on display at the barber shop, was the last word in Beau Monde Equipment. An important figure in his day, but quite out of step with modern surroundings, is this Scorchers of an erstwhile period.

Insurance on automobiles, too, must progress with the times. A car policy of five years ago falls far short in meeting the expectations, and demands, of today.

Time was when assessment policies were tolerated as necessary evils in order to secure low cost car insurance. Auto-Owners Insurance Company was one of the first to banish forever the assessment bugaboo. This was made possible by the creation of a Cash Surplus which has now reached the sum of $370,000.00. In addition to this is the Company's Legal Reserve of $977,841.92, making Total Assets of $1,347,841.92.

Other new features, such as Superior Road Service, Touring Information Assistance, Renewal Discounts, and more liberal provisions for Insurance Coverage, have made Auto-Owners the choice of more than 55,000 Michigan motorists.

FORMER CHELSEA WOMAN GIVES INTERESTING TALK

Mrs. Grace Axtell, a member of the faculty of the part-time school of this city, addressed the Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday night, giving a review of her visit to vocational schools in the east.

The speaker said she felt the east was very wide-awake and alert relative to the boys and girls for whom vocational and trade schools are being formed in various cities.

She told of the boys' trade schools in Pittsburgh, where also a trade school for girls has been started. The schools of that sort are especially well organized in Philadelphia and the Manhattan Trade school in New York city and those in Boston are doing a splendid work. The best part-time school visited was in Buffalo, said the speaker.

Eventually, Mrs. Axtell believes, similar schools will be established in Jackson; but in the meantime she has plans for a greatly enlarged future work in the part-time school here, including classes for domestic service, store class and others.

Everyone enjoyed the story of the tour and the enthusiasm which attended Mrs. Axtell's recital thereof. Jackson Tribune.

COUNTY BROTHERHOOD MET

The Washtenaw County Brotherhood held its regular meeting at the Dixboro M. E. church Sunday evening, July 15th and 16th. A large crowd attended.

President Forrest Toft had charge of the program. H. E. Wright had charge of the music and M. S. Lechman led in prayer. A special musical number was given by the Ann Arbor boys. Mr. Metcalf of Ann Arbor, gave a very interesting talk on the labor question, giving the need of well paid wages.

At 6:00 the ladies of the church served a very fine lunch, at 7:30 President Toft turned the meeting over to the chorister, H. E. Wright, Rev. Heartley, pastor of the church, and Rev. Spade of the Evangelical church, Manchester, had charge of the devotionals. Special music was given by Harold Choch of Dixboro, a quartette from the Seybert church, a duet by Roland Lamkin and Robert Garrod. Rev. W. H. Tirrell of Dundee, gave a few helpful remarks.

Rev. Ralph Harper of Manchester, had the evening address.

WHAT IT COSTS TO GOVERN US
By PROF. M. H. HUNTER
Dept. of Economics, Univ. of Illinois

The Failure of the General Property Tax

WHY has not paid a property tax? Those who support state and local governments doubtless have for these governments have relied greatly upon property taxes. The principle has been that the amount of property of an individual is an indication of his ability to pay taxes.

In order to levy a tax on the value of property, the value must be ascertained. The task of doing this has usually been placed in the hands of a locally elected assessor. He is usually expected to complete his task in a few weeks' time, while the pay is not sufficient to attract the most capable men. The fear that the assessor must depend upon the votes of those he assesses, has often resulted in favoritism in assessments.

Most states have passed stringent laws in order to make the assessment of property effective. In Illinois, for example, the assessor must take oath, give bond, and is subject to fine and imprisonment if he does not value all property at its full value. The assessor must take oath as to the accuracy of the list given to the assessor, and is subject to fine and imprisonment should he falsify. In addition, provision is made for the publication of the assessment list and for boards of review.

A few figures taken from the assessment list will show how utterly this stringent legislation has failed in the assessment of all property. In Cook county, the county in which Chicago is located, there was returned to the assessor in 1926, 17,000 automobiles valued at $202 each; 1,000 fire and burglar-proof safes and vaults valued at $52 each; 1,000 watches and clocks valued at $17 each; diamonds and jewelry valued at $202,000; and bonds and stocks valued at $1,407,000.

This condition is not peculiar to Cook county, Illinois, but is the same wherever an attempt is made to assess all forms of property. In no case is there more than a very small fraction of the money, stocks, bonds, mortgages and other personal property placed upon the tax books.

This condition has caused a great deal of injustice. The property of some may be in the hands of trustees and easily lifted; some may be ignorant of how the system works, and through this ignorance turn in property to the assessor; some may be absolutely honest that they will not falsify a return, even in self-defense against those who deliberately falsify.

It has been aptly said that the general property tax penalizes the help less, the ignorant, and the honest.

—1928, Western Newspaper Union
