MANY ATTEND THE 75TH ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Former Pastors And Members Gather
For A Day Of Worship And
Good Cheer—Congregation
Formed In 1841

A record attendance of 225 was present at the anniversary meeting of St. Jacob's Evangelical Lutheran Congregation, Waterloo, which was held Sunday in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the dedication of the church. Rev. C. M. Otzman of Howard City, a former pastor, delivered the sermon at the morning service,
which was conducted in German,
choosing for his text, Psalms 26:6-8.
His theme was "The Christian's True Love Toward His Church."

A dinner was served at the noon hour, followed by the afternoon service in the English language. The speaker was Rev. E. Weak, a former pastor of the congregation, now residing in Toledo. The subject of his sermon was "The Apostle Paul's Deep Concern for His Congregation in Philippi," taken from Philippians 1:3-11. Special music was rendered by the choir at both services.

St. Jacob's congregation, which dates its beginning from about 1841, for eighteen years was supported by the pioneer missionary of the Evangelical Lutheran church, Rev. Frederick Schmidt, who was pastor of an Ann Arbor church and came on horseback the third or fourth Sunday of every month to minister to the Waterloo congregation. In 1859, the first resident pastor, Rev. Christian Spring, began his duties, continuing until 1865. His widow, who is a resident of Ann Arbor, was a welcome guest at the celebration.

The other pastors in order of service were as follows:

Rev. Schlattermunt, 1865-1868,
Rev. George Tuerh, 1869-1874,
Rev. Carl Metzger, 1875-1888,
Rev. W. Linseman, 1888-1891,
Rev. R. Mueller, 1891-1896,
Rev. E. Weak, 1896-1902.

Rev. C. M. Otzman, 1903-1910,
Rev. E. Stevens, 1910-1920.
Rev. Gustav Hesse, 1920-1926.

Rev. R. G. Koch, the present pastor, was ordained and installed August 20, 1926. The congregation of St.
Jacob's church numbers 141, with 80
communicant members, 32 voting members and 15 contributing ladies of the congregation. Members of the board of trustees are Ezra Hanne-wald, Walter Tisch, William Huttenlocher, Emanuel Archenbron and Aaron Hannewald. Rev. R. G. Koch
is superintendent of the Sunday school, and the president of the Ladies' Aid society is Mrs. Earl Bee-man. A class of six was confirmed this year, being the first confirmation class in ten years. The congregation is one of the oldest in the state. Services are conducted alternate Sundays, in the German and English language. The rear part of the church building was built in 1893, while the front part was annexed in 1880.

The congregation will celebrate their annual mission festival Sunday, August 26, with Rev. R. H. Koch of Reedville, Wis., father of the pastor,
as the speaker at the morning service and Rev. O. Peters of Wayne, giving the address at the afternoon service.

A QUIET WEDDING SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Miss Emily O. Weinmann, daughter of Mrs. Martha Schumacher, of Chelsea, and Brewster E. Peabody, of Detroit, were quietly married at 4:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's parsonage, Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiating. The attendants were Miss Dorothy Weinmann and Wilbur Hinderer, sister and uncle of the bride. The bride wore a gown of white tulle designed, while her sister was dressed in pink, both carrying pink roses. A wedding supper at the home of the bride's mother, followed the ceremony,
after which the couple departed on a motor trip to points in Canada.
Mr. and Mrs. Peabody will make their home in Detroit. The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Michigan State Normal and for four years has been a teacher in the Battle Creek schools. The groom is engaged in business in Detroit.

ALDRICH-FRANKLIN MARRIAGE

Married, Saturday, July 28, 1928,
at the parsonage of Salem German
M. E. church, Miss Thelma Aldrich and Ray Franklin, Rev. Fred Ross performing the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mrs. Fred Ross and a cousin of the bridegroom, Edwin Ross, of Detroit. The couple will make their home in the Franklin residence on West Middle street.

The Sunday schools of this section
were well represented at the county Sunday school rally and picnic held at the fair grounds in Ann Arbor on Wednesday.

HIGHWAY WORK IN SYLVAN

The contractor who has the gravel
work for section No. 2 of the Cavanaugh Lake road has the first coat spread from the Washenaw-Jackson county line to near Ransom. Armstrong's store and has started the second dressing. The party who has the grading contract has started filling the cut across the Armstrong marsh which will intersect the main road on the south side of the store building. The old road on the lake side and the new filled highway will afford a fine one-way drive.

The Sylvan highway commissioner and overseer had a force of men at work graveling the highway north from Salem M. E. church, north of Miss Ricka Kalmbach's and on the road running east and west past the farm of Wm. Winters. The new gravel screen was placed in the pit of Henry Kalmbach and the trucks and wagons are loaded with screened gravel in between three and four minutes time.
The gravel from the Kalmbach pit contains a large percentage of lime and when it becomes packed it makes a fine roadway.

BUILDERS BUSY IN CHELSEA

Contractors and builders are experiencing a busy season in Chelsea with numerous repair jobs and with the two new residences now under construction.

Work on P. G. Schajble's handsome new residence is progressing nicely and when completed it will be one of the most attractive homes in Chelsea.

The foundation walls for the new residence that M. J. Baxter is having built on his property on East Middle street are completed. The lumber has been placed on the site and the carpenters will begin their part of the work in a few days. The new dwelling will be modern in every respect.

M. L. Knickerbocker has men at work putting in the foundation walls for the new garage that he is having built at his residence on East Middle street. The building is 20x30, with a 20-foot driveway leading to the building. The stalls for cars will be together in width, and the main floor and basement will have storage capacity for twelve cars.

BEES DRIVEN FROM THEIR HAPPY HOME

About thirteen years ago a swarm of bees took possession between the ceiling and floor of the second story at the home of Mrs. Ed. Savage and son, Harry, of Sylvan. For some time past the bees have been in an angry mood and caused considerable annoyance to the members of the household. Thursday of last week,
Ed. Beisel, an experienced bee man, visited the home and destroyed the bees, 250 pounds of honey in the comb was removed from under the floor with sufficient new unfilled comb
to make as much if not more honey than was removed. It is estimated that nearly one bushel of dead bees were removed from the quarters that the bees and pre-empted as their storage and work shop.

The band concert given at the corner of Main and Middle streets, Wednesday evening drew a large crowd which gathered from many miles surrounding Chelsea. The program that the band rendered was an excellent
one. Another concert will be given next Wednesday evening.

BURGARS VISIT CHELSEA DURING TUESDAY NIGHT

Mohrlock's Garage And The Ann Arbor Creamery Plant Attracted
Some Midnight prowlers—
Arrest To Follow

Two Chelsea business places were broken into Tuesday night and it is thought that the persons who did the breaking and entering were local residents.

The garage of David Mohrlock on Park street was the scene of considerable destruction. Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a pane of glass at the north entrance to the repair department in the basement. The door of the tire storage was forced open and possibly two tires may have been taken. The office on the main floor was entered by forcing the door and the cash register and steel storage container for papers were badly damaged. No money was secured but a number of locks were taken.

The Ann Arbor Dairy company's building was entered by forcing a small window facing Main street at the north end of the milk receiving department. Forty dollars in money was stolen from its hiding place, and a quantity of cheese and milk was taken.

At both places that were entered very distinct finger prints were left and Deputy Sheriff Atkinson of Chelsea and Snyder of Ann Arbor secured several of the impressions, which are being developed by the state finger-print expert. Several suspects are under observation and the officers expect to make some arrests in the next few days.

making a number of improvements in their plant. The wood floor bins are being removed and replaced with heavy galvanized steel tanks.
In addition to these tanks a new unit is being added that will increase the capacity of the mill from 350 barrels to 500 barrels a day. These improvements and additions are being made to care for the steadily increasing business of these well known

WATCH YOUR FOOD

One of the chief health hazards of summer time is food poisoning, although this condition is by no means confined to one season. Everyone knows that food spoils most readily in hot weather, but not everyone knows that the bacteria that cause food spoilage are much more poisonous at high temperatures than at low. One common organism that causes food spoilage was found to be four times as poisonous when grown at body temperature of 98 degrees Fahrenheit, which is a common outdoor temperature in summer, than when grown at ordinary room temperature of about 70 degrees.

This shows the importance of keeping food at low temperatures. Cooked food will keep for some time in an ordinary room in winter, but in summer it will spoil quickly unless kept cold. Preparing food far in advance of the time it is to be eaten is a hazardous custom. Many picnic parties end in hospitals as a result of this practice. The food should be prepared as late as possible, kept on ice until the last possible minute and some means of keeping it chilled during transportation should be used.

Some food poisoning, especially the kind common in summer, is caused by the germs that spoil food. However, the food may be infected with other germs, such as those of typhoid fever and dysentery and other intestinal diseases. These germs get into the food in the preparation. Ordinary cooking does not always kill them.

OUTSTANDING DEVELOPMENT

"It has long been a habit to criticize public service—public utilities like the telephone, street cars, gas and electric service," says the St. Paul Daily News.

"Telephones, especially, have come in for the barrage of jokes, smut, letter-writers and newspaper editors. But the fact is apparent to the fair-minded—that the change and improvement in telephone service in America is one of the most interesting and outstanding developments of modern industrial civilization."

The achievements of the telephone, even though apparently without a spectacular interest, would make as romantic a story as could be wished. It is a story of tremendous labor, against seemingly incontrovertible odds, and a great success that has been of untold social and industrial benefit to humanity.

AND WHY NOT?

The Jackson Tribune would prosecute both the buyer and the seller of illicit liquor. In discussing this proposition the paper goes on to say:

As it takes two to make a quarrel, it also takes two to make a bargain. In ordinary procedure, the seller of illicit liquor is prosecuted to the limit, while the buyer is generally ignored. The bootlegger would quickly retire from business if there were no complaining citizens to purchase his wares.

There is a quite evident weakness to a system which recognizes only one party to an illegal transaction. Organizations of citizens who earnestly seek actual rather than theoretical prohibition would take a great step forward by causing recognition of the equal culpability of the buyer.

A GAS FIRED NATION

In the use of gas we are preeminent. The principal countries of the world use annually a total of one-trillion cubic feet of manufactured gas. Last year we alone used half this amount, and consumed as well a tremendous quantity of natural gas.

In America we have made unprecedented progress in evolving gas usage in the home and in industry. No other country has come near to equalling us in the development of this invaluable element. Our great consumption of gas is another good reason why we have set new living and industrial standards of comfort and prosperity that are the wonder of the world.

MONEY SAVING ON THE FARM

Not only is a tractor superior to teams for plowing, in speed, power and efficiency, but its per acre cost of operation is cheaper as well. A number of farmers in the state of Washington kept records in order to make this comparison and found that where team plowing cost $1.97 per acre, the tractor did the work for 86 cents. From this direction greater farm prosperity must come. Modern labor saving machinery and instruments of greater efficiency are the money-makers for agriculture.

Henry Ford celebrated his 65th birthday Monday and spent most of the day at his desk at Dearborn. The Rankins school reunion will be held at the school house west of Dundee on Saturday, August 11th.

COULD NOT OVER-CHARGE NEWTON

Delivery of a prison van large enough to carry 12 prisoners and two guards was ordered Monday afternoon by Frank T. Newton, United States marshal, in accepting the bid of the General Motors corporation of $1,376. The van will be delivered September 1st.

Charges made by police of $5 for each van load of prisoners carried in police trucks, it was said, prompted the federal authorities to order the van. It was said the expense of hiring police vans and taxicabs to transport prisoners had proved too heavy. The marshal's van will be equipped with leg and arm shackles for the prisoners. Two uniformed deputy marshals will act as guards. Detroit Free Press. Mr. Newton is well known in this community.

NEED NOT RE-REGISTER

FOR COMING PRIMARY

Readers of the daily papers are frequently confronted with a statement like this: "If you don't re-register, you can't vote either at the September primary or at the November election." The papers, however, fail to inform their readers that re-registration is required only in municipal cities having more than 5,000 population.

If you live in Sylvan or neighboring townships, and your name is on the registration books of your township or city, your status as a voter is good.

However, be sure your name is on the books. If you have moved from one precinct to another, you should notify the board of registration when it meets, or the clerk who will receive your name any day except Sunday.

PLAN SERIES OF MEETS TO DISCUSS RIVER POLLUTION

Meetings to discuss stream pollution control will be started throughout the state the week of August 5, August. Murphy of the conservation department, said Tuesday.

Twenty-two of the 28 cities in which meetings will be held, have given dates from which meeting times may be selected, and they will be rushed to a conclusion after the first is held. Murphy believes satisfactory solution of pollution problems will be obtained in each city as a result of the meetings and that no legal action may be necessary.

COUNTY'S REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS NATIONAL MEETING

Raymond Girbach Gives An Interesting Account Of His Visit To The National Capital

Raymond Girbach of Saline township, one of the outstanding 4-H club members of Washtenaw county, recently returned from the second national 4-H club camp held at Washington, D. C. Raymond was awarded the trip for his unusual work in 4-H projects and was one of a group of four to represent the state of Michigan at the national meeting. The trip is considered one of the highest awards a 4-H member can receive.

Following is Raymond's report of his trip in which he tells of the camp routine, the sights of Washington and the excellent programs arranged for the 4-H boys and girls of the nation who attend camp.

The evening of June 18, 1928, I left Ann Arbor by train for Washington, D. C., to attend the second national 4-H club camp. We arrived at Niagara Falls enroute to Washington, about 8 o'clock in the morning. Here we stopped until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. We hired a sightseeing car, and the six of us, who comprised the Michigan delegation, toured around the falls, stopping at all the points of interest. This was my first visit to the falls, so of course I enjoyed it very much, although it rained a little all morning. After our visit at the falls we went through a shredded wheat factory, which was the cleanest and most modern I ever went through. From here we went to Buffalo, and after eating our supper we boarded the Pullman for Washington, arriving at 8 o'clock in the morning.

We went directly to the camp grounds, which are located on the lawn in front of the agricultural buildings. Two rows of army tents were located on each side of the lawn running parallel, boys on one side and girls on the other, and on the tents were located the headquarters tents. The first thing we did was to register and answer written questionnaires. After this we got our blankets, found our tents and made our beds. We spent the afternoon roaming about the state grounds. Thursday morning was the first day of camp, 89 states being represented. The officials at camp had a program outlined for us, which occupied our time from 8:30 in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. We saw so many things on our sightseeing trip that I mentioned all of them I would have material enough to fill a book, so I will just give a brief outline of each day spent at camp.

Thursday morning at 6 o'clock a whistle blew, which was our signal for getting up to go swimming. We took morning exercises from 7:30 to 8:30 was breakfast time. We ate all our meals at Child's restaurant where we had assembly in the auditorium of the new national museum. The conferences always opened with group singing. First we had an address of welcome by W. M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture; address by C. B. Warburton, director of extension, United States department of agriculture; address by W. M. Gilbert, administrative secretary, Carnegie institute.

After this the club members met in groups which had been assigned to us in the morning. We kept these groups throughout the week, for convenience in traveling on the buses and when we visited state buildings. The leaders also met in conference separate from those of the club members. At our conferences we discussed the method in which club work was carried on in our respective states, and how to better club work. In the summer at the end of the week we put the best ideas of how to carry on club work in a group, making a standard set of rules and ideas by which the state could continue carrying on club work. In the afternoon we went by bus to Beltsville farm, an experimental farm of 1,800 acres owned by the United States department of agriculture. In the evening we had our first camp fire program given by groups of one and two. The main features of the program were the burning of "old man grouch," and an Indian story given by one of the leaders.

Friday morning the main speaker was J. J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education. After this we had our morning conference. In the afternoon we visited the bureau of engraving and printing where we saw money and stamps made. From there we visited the Smithsonian institute where Lindbergh's plane is on display. After supper we played folk games under the direction of John Bradford, director of the Playground and Recreation association of America. The main feature on this evening's camp fire was a regular club meeting conducted by groups three and four, and the initiation of Miss Warren, one of the United States club leaders.

At the Saturday morning conference an address was given by E. V. Wilson, traveler and author, on "Agriculture in Other Lands." We then went through the department greenhouses. In the afternoon we went by bus to Mt. Vernon, once the home of George Washington, and a very beautiful place. A club boy and girl placed a wreath on Washington's tomb. Saturday evening was national 4-H radio night, which was held in the auditorium of the National Press club, under the direction of C. B. Warburton. The marine band furnished the music. An address was given by J.

J. Davis, secretary of labor, and talks on experiences in club work by a 4-H club boy and girl were included.

Sunday morning we attended church, each individual attending the church he desired. Three other boys and I attended Christ church at Alexandria, the church that George Washington used to attend. We occupied part of Washington's pew during the service. In the afternoon we went to Arlington farm and cemetery. Here another club boy and girl placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. An address was given in the amphitheatre by Gen. John J. Lajuma, United States marine corps. It rained in the evening so camp fire was omitted.

At the Monday morning assembly, William Tyler, clerk of the house of representatives, gave a talk. After the group conferences we visited the White House. In the afternoon we went through the Capitol and the National History building. In the evening we had our 4-H club banquet at the City club. Dr. Erwin E. Slosson, director of Science Service, was the main speaker.

At our last assembly, Tuesday morning, Miss Harlean James, American Civic association, gave a talk, "Planning a Mark of Progress." After the adjournment of our last club conference we went to the Washington monument which is 560 feet high. Some of us went to the top by elevator and after getting a bird's eye view of the city of Washington started walking down, a tiresome job. In the afternoon we visited the Corcoran art gallery, Pan American building, and the Lincoln memorial. Directly after supper we went to the library of congress, which is beautiful, especially at night when lighted. Here is kept the original Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. Our last camp fire was devoted to parting songs and a farewell address by United States club leaders. Each of us was presented with a gavel made from wood taken from the White House, with the name of W. M. Jardine, secretary of Agriculture, inscribed upon them.

Wednesday morning we boarded the train for home, bidding goodbye to the friends we had made from the different states of the union. In conclusion I wish to say that this is one of the greatest sightseeing and educational trips that any 4-H club member can win, and that is well worth the time of any 4-H club member to put forth a little extra effort in performing the duties of 4-H club work.

APPETIZING FOODS:

The following is a dish which will serve for soup as well as a main dish of meat:

Soupe Aux Choux.—A smoked tongue or piece of ham, add one small cabbage, two carrots, a turnip and a parsnip, or a sweet potato, all pared and cut into quarters, one-half cupful of dried peas—soaked over night, and a small bunch of sweet herbs. Cover with plenty of water and cook until the meat is tender. It will be best to cook the meat an hour before adding the vegetables. Season if needed with pepper; it will probably be salt enough. Serve the soup and the meat sliced.

Another fine main dish is prepared with tongue: After it is well cooked, as usual, skin it and lay on a baking pan with a few shredded carrots and a few stalks of celery; add stock and cook in a slow oven until the vegetables are tender.

Concordia Croquettes.—Peel and chop one-half pound of mushrooms, stew five minutes in two tablespoonfuls of butter and one-half teaspoonful of salt; add a spoonful or two of cream, if too dry. To the drained mushrooms add two hard cooked eggs coarsely chopped and one cupful of thick, white sauce, using four tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour to a cupful of thin cream or milk spread on a plate to cool, shape and roll in beaten egg and crumbs and place in a frying basket. Drain on paper and keep hot in a dripping pan in the oven until served.

Savory Riced Croquettes.—To two cupfuls of boiled rice add one pint of croquette sauce made as above, in which one-half cupful of crumbled cheese has been melted, or add one pint of tomato sauce made according to the same proportions as the sauce. Cool, shape and fry as usual. Serve with any cold meat, such as lamb, chicken or turkey.

OFFICIAL STATE AID TO ALL FAIRS IN MICHIGAN

One hundred thousand dollars, representing official state aid to all fairs in the state, other than the state fair and specials, was being allotted today by the proper recipients by A. C. Carlton, director of the bureau of agricultural industry.

The state aid is given on a percentage of the premiums which were paid at the fairs last year, on Michigan exhibits of an agricultural, horticultural or botanical nature. The amount of premiums was $208,400 at 89 fairs, excluding the state and special fairs, Carlton said.

Money for the state aid to fairs is made available by regular legislative appropriation.

IRISH HILLS CHURCH

WILL BE DEDICATED

St. Joseph's Church on U. S. 112 Has Been Enlarged, Remodeled and Improved

The Rt. Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, D. D., Catholic bishop of Detroit, will have charge of a ceremony, August 5, which will be of interest to our readers who make motor trips to the Irish Hills district of southern Michigan. On that day he will dedicate the remodelled and enlarged St. Joseph's Catholic church, on U. S. highway No. 112, midway between Clinton and Cambridge Junction, in the heart of the Irish Hills.

Built originally nearly three-quarters of a century ago, the little church, until a few years ago was almost unheard of by the general public. It slumbered in the peace of a sequestered countryside until the motor-car brought tourists from Detroit, Toledo and hundreds of other cities and towns. Then the bi-monthly masses and the limited seating capacity proved entirely inadequate.

When the Rev. Joseph V. Pfeffer, formerly assistant pastor of Annunciation parish, Detroit, was sent to take charge of the St. Mary's missions, including churches in Manchester, Clinton, Tecumseh, Freedom, and Clark's Lake, he found it necessary to have two masses on Sunday and to enlarge the church. Now, under the supervision of the Redemptorist Fathers, whose headquarters are at Holy Redeemer parish in Detroit, masses are said at 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock.

The remodelled church is in the Spanish Mission style employed by the early Franciscans of California, with a tall tower which promises to become one of the landmarks of the whole Irish Hills section.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS HELD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The democrats of Washtenaw county to the number of about 300 gathered at the Masonic temple in Ann Arbor last Friday evening for a dinner and a get-together meeting. The meeting was presided over by Chairman W. L. Walz of the county committee and was an enthusiastic one, and all present were hopeful of success at the election to be held in November.

Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York was the principal speaker of the evening and he urged the election of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York as the democratic candidate for the presidency, because, as he said, "he is a strong enough man to withstand the solicitation of his friends and the threats of his enemies." He told of the governor's good qualities, as one neighbor would speak of another, and his appeal in behalf of his friend was well received.

Several other leading democrats of the state were present as were also men prominent in the party councils in the county. Among the state leaders present were Horatio J. Abbot, Ann Arbor, chairman of the state central committee; Mrs. Walter H. Jobe, Detroit, in charge of organization work among democrat women of the state; and Mrs. Elta Farrell, Muskegon, newly-elected central committeewoman from the ninth district and candidate for the legislature from that district.

All of the candidates for county offices selected by the party were present and a number were called upon for brief remarks.

Senator Copeland declared he was opposed to the St. Lawrence water way, as all New Yorkers are, and he was frank in saying he thought the McNary-Haugen bill economically unsound, but he did not think it any more unsound than our present protective tariff. He was sure the governor would carry New York by 500,000.

RECORD BREAKING RADIO BROADCAST SERVICE

It will be the greatest hook-up ever attempted and scores of stations, located on the great bath and remotest regions of the United States, will participate in this record-breaking event. Linked also in this greatest radio chain are a number of Canadian stations.

The 300-mile shore line of Southeastern Michigan, curving northward from the Ohio border on Lake Erie, follows the busy Detroit river, rounds beautiful Lake St. Clair, the Flat and St. Clair rivers, bounds the mighty waters of Lake Huron and forms the outline of The Thumb by circling Saginaw Bay.

This water-bordered land, cooled by the gentle breezes from two of the Great Lakes, is one of the Wolverine state's ideal vacation sections.

Dynamic Detroit, the automobile and aviation center of the world, with its beautiful suburban development, has many sister cities in this section—Mt. THE STATE STEPS IN THE INTERURBAN SUIT

The Effort To Abandon Electric Railways Lines in Western Michigan Is Being Opposed

A Detroit dispatch of Monday said "The question of whether conditions warrant the abandonment of state interurban lines is one in which vested with the Michigan Utilities commission to determine." Assistant Attorney General Kit F. Clardy stated in a brief filed with the federal court here.

The state thus formally entered the battle in connection with a petition of John E. Collins, of Jackson, federal court receiver for the Michigan Railways, to abandon the western division of the interurban company. Collins in his petition, contended that the federal court had authority to issue the necessary order, after it had been determined a necessity.

The lines which Collins said were not paying expenses and should be replaced by bus and truck lines, which the company is willing to operate, run from Grand Rapids, south to Kalamazoo, and from Allegan, east to Battle Creek.

Request to abandon the line between Battle Creek, Jackson, Saginaw and Bay City has not yet been made.

William S. Sayres, standing master in chancery of the court said:

"Every corporation could escape regulatory powers of the commission," Clardy's brief stated, "by merely going into receivership and telling the court that it was losing money, if the petitioners' position is sustained."

"It is not in the power of the court to determine the necessity and consider whether public convenience will be served by the substitute."

At a recent meeting which the court held in connection with the abandonment request, farmers along the electric line, especially those raising vast crops of onions, complained that the abandonment would mean their ruin.

Attorneys for both sides are to file briefs, supporting the several contentions, one of which involves the question of whether an electric line is subject to interstate commerce laws. The court's decision in the question appears to be to be appealed by either side, and attorneys estimated it would require a year or more to finally decide the matter.

TWO THOUSAND YOUNG MEN IN TRAINING

The Pick-Of The State Are At Camp Custer And Fort Brady

Two thousand Michigan young men representing every community in the state, began training in the Citizens Military Training Camps at Camp Custer, Fort Brady, Fort Sheridan, and Camp McCoy, Wis., Thursday, July 26. The largest number reported for duty at Camp Custer where 1,000 or more young men will receive training in American citizenship, loyalty, obedience, leadership, military drill and other interesting subjects that young men should know. Two hundred and fifty other young men will be trained in the cavalry and Camp McCoy, Wis., where the field artillery branch is taught. In addition to the military and other subject, every young man will have to select some athletic training that he prefers to spend his afternoons at during his training.

Camp Custer has never been in better condition than it is for this year. Colonel Alvin C. Gillem, the camp commander has had the regular army battalion from the Second Infantry, under Major Manton C. Mitchell, prepare the training grounds for the young men when they arrived. This camp is simply marvelous from every standpoint as a result of the work done by the regular army.

Of the 2,000 young men from Michigan in training more than one-third of them have attended the C. M. T. C. before, many of them one year, some two years, and others three years.

TWO CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH NEAR OVID

Ovid, Mich.—Two children were burned to death near here today when the barn in which they were playing caught fire from a threshing machine.

The dead: Menora, 6, and Richard, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kilpatrick.

The children were playing in the barn when sparks from a threshing machine set it on fire. The fire got beyond control, and it was not until screams were heard that it was known the children were in the barn. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition.

CHRYSLER
Plymouth

AMERICA ACCEPTS
AND ACCLAIMS THE NEW PLYMOUTH

The sales record of the new Plymouth, established in two weeks' time, is without parallel or precedent for a car in this field—not in a few retail centers but all over the whole country.

Hundreds upon hundreds of thousands—yes, millions—eager to see the new Plymouth, built by Chrysler to compete in the lowest-priced field, throng Chrysler salesrooms everywhere.

They compare with the three or four other cars catering to the same great market. They see contrast in size, style, performance and safety so sharply in favor of Plymouth that curiosity bursts into enthusiasm, enthusiasm is transformed into sales.

In fine, the millions seeking a low first cost now discover in the new Plymouth the one car in the lowest-priced field which is and does everything that they have long hoped a low-priced car would be and do.

You, too, owe it to yourself to see it, ride in it, drive it. All doubt as to the highest dollar-for-dollar value in the lowest-priced field ends right there.

Star.

Ann Arbor—Fowlerville is in a fair way for having a fine brass band. There are a number of young men with exceptional musical talent and they have had a few practice meetings with fine prospects for the future. At various times during the past 50 years the village has enjoyed bands that have been an honor to Fowlerville and have gained considerable honor, but of course it is a matter of simply love for music and a continual expense financially to the members and the small town changes that naturally removes many of the younger men has left it stranded at times, but the prospects at present are fine and a good band will be fully appreciated. Here is hoping the effort will produce success. Review.

Ann Arbor—Tuesday, August 7th, is the date of the annual picnic to be given by St. Mary's church of Pinckney at Lapham's Grove, just south of town. Ann Arbor—F. S. Neal has in his possession probably the only automobile licensed plate issued by the state in 1909 that has been saved. The plate is unusual in many ways. Two heavy leather pieces are sewed over a metallic frame and on the leather are fastened the figures, large nickel plated pieces of metal. The license plate weighed several pounds. The number is 10056, and was issued for one of those old time Cadillac cars. F. S. used to drive around town. Record.

Ann Arbor—Variety is the spice of life, so the old saying goes. This certainly holds good, according to the announcement of R. C. Meritt, manager of Washington County Fair, in the selection of attractions to be seen on the grandstand at this year's fair. The Upton-Whitson Troupe, certainly will give a variety in their offering.

Ann Arbor—There are four people in the first act doing a flashy exhibit of wire-walking and intricate acrobatic acts and attractive poses. The second act is fast and thrilling, showing dainty Miss Lattin leaping the loop through an arch of colored lights. Petite, pretty and modest she makes a charming picture as she spins through the air. She is a true member of the circus aristocracy. And the last and third appearance is the two boys who prove their versatility as two merry wags of clowndom, keeping the action speeded up with ludicrous falls and eccentric acrobatics.

Ann Arbor—You will enjoy this troupe, in their offerings. They are peppy, startling in their acts, and unique.
