COUNTY FAIR TIME IS ALMOST HERE

Liberal Premiums Are Being Offered In Every Department—Many Special Premiums

In addition to the regular premiums offered in every department of the Washtenaw County Fair there are many special premiums being offered this year, making the contest for honors very interesting. The banks of the county have contributed a total of $300.00 for livestock sweepstakes, the sum being divided as follows: Horses, $45.00; cattle, $110.00; sheep, $70.00, and hogs, $75.00. Then there are special premiums being offered by the American Jersey Cattle Club, the Ayrshire Breeders' Association, the American Guernsey Cattle Club, the American Poland China Record Association, Chester White Record Association, American Shorthorn Breeders' Association, and many others. In addition to these special premiums, township in the county offers special cash prizes for products of the farm-grown by any resident of the township.

The new horticultural building will have a wonderful exhibit this year, it is believed, and all who have fruit and flowers are urged to make an exhibit so the new structure can be filled to overflowing. It is a handsome and commodious building and the exhibit there will be one of the most interesting and attractive on the grounds.

First aid service will be given special attention this year under the supervision of Mrs. Marion Wetzel, county school nurse, who will be assisted by Miss Mary Brower, public health nurse of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Flora Brown, of the tubercular association, and Miss Edith Stoll, supervisor of the Ann Arbor Public Health Nursing Association. These women will operate a first aid service daily from 10:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. in the first aid room in the new administration building. A check room will also be maintained and mothers may leave their babies there if they desire to do so. Competent nurses will be in charge at all times.

Tuesday will be children's day when children under 16 years of age and boy and girls club members will be admitted to the grounds free. Wednesday will be judging day and fair visitors interested in this feature of the fair are invited to witness the same. Ring-side seats will be provided on the west side of the midway, where a new judging ring has been constructed. Thursday will be known as home coming day and it is expected the crowds will be great from early morning until late at night.

Friday has been designated as merchants and clubs day and one of the special attractions will be a musical contest. Saturday will be the "laza and closing day." Each afternoon and evening there will be special free attractions in front of the grand stand and each night there will be a gorgeous display of fireworks.

The midway gives promise of being especially attractive this year with its numerous amusement features. Those who desire to dance may do so, a fine dancing pavilion having been provided.

On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be horse racing, two events being provided for each afternoon. The Upton-Whitfield Troupe will present feature acts aided by two funny clowns and the comical crazy car will make you laugh whether you want to or not. You have never seen a real car until you have witnessed the leaping straight four performer. Then there are the Ten Klutas in feats of juggling, contortion and acrobatics.

The fireworks each night give promise of eclipsing anything ever attempted in the county, the two special features being the eruption of Mount Vesuvius and The Storm.

You can buy three admission tickets for $1.00 and at that price you cannot afford not to attend and you should plan to take the whole family.

A dinner was served in the club dining room at six o'clock, at which Mr. J. C. Brier, chairman of the executive committee, told the members what progress has been made toward realizing the aims and objectives of the club.

J. H. Payne, chairman of the social committee, discussed briefly the program of social activities. H. B. Westgate, chairman of the tournament committee, gave the membership an outline of what had taken place and explained future arrangements for tournaments.

CHAS. E. TUSTISON HAS A BAD AUTO ACCIDENT

Lost Control Of His Car And Bumped Into Engine Of Fast Train

Charles E. Tustison, a night guard at the state cement plant at Four Mile Lake, had his automobile demolished when it hit a moving train at the Michigan Central crossing on the highway at the east side of the plant about 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Tustison, who is 55 years of age, is employed on the night shift of guards and was leaving the plant from his work. It is thought that he had carburetor trouble and was unable to bring the car under control in time to avoid hitting the moving train.

He had a very narrow escape from instant death. His left collar bone was fractured, the left leg badly gashed, he suffered a severe scalp wound and was otherwise badly bruised and his car was reduced to a complete wreck.

The injured man was brought to the Chelsea private hospital where he will probably remain for some time before he is fully recovered from his injuries.

BAD ACCIDENT ON U. S. 12

A man and two ladies were badly injured when their car was overturned on the curve opposite the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Liebeck of Sylvan, about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The injured people were taken to the hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment.

The occupants were from Washington, D. C. and were on a tour through the western states. The car was driven by one of the ladies and they were going to Jackson, when the accident happened. It is thought that a flat tire may have caused the mishap. The damaged car was brought to Mohrlock's Garage for repairs.

TWO BARNES BURNED LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Heat Wave Broken With Electrical Storm—Season's Crops and Tools Destroyed

The barn on the farm of George Boyce was burned to the ground Friday evening. The building was struck by lightning about 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Boyce and his son succeeded in getting a span of horses, wagon and some of the farm tools from the building. The contents consisted of hay and three hundred bushels of oats that were consumed by the flames.

The neighbors responded promptly to the alarm and assisted in saving some of the tools and keeping the fire confined to the burned building.

The loss is well covered by insurance.

The barn on the farm of Emory Grant of Sylvan, was struck by lightning about 6:30 Friday night and burned to the ground. The contents consisting of wagon, spraying outfit, tools and straw were also burned. The farm adjoins Sylvan Estates on the east.

BROTHER OF CHELSEA MAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

The Detroit News of Tuesday contained the following Wayne dispatch and the unfortunate man was a brother of W. D. Huston of this village.

Murvale H. Huston of Plymouth, automobile dealer was killed Monday night when an automobile he was driving struck a post at a curve on the Wayne road, between the Ford and Warren roads, and turned over.

Huston died while being taken to a hospital.

Henry Pont, an employee of Huston's, who was riding in the car, suffered a broken arm and other injuries. He is expected to recover.

Witnesses told the Wayne authorities Huston's car, which was traveling at a high rate of speed, failed to make the curve, crashed into a post and then upset.

Huston leaves four children, Arthur, 8 years old; William, 6; Murvale, Jr., 3, and Grace, 1. His wife died recently.

As soon as news of the accident reached Chelsea, Mr. Huston left for Plymouth to render aid to the stricken family.

BAND CONCERT IS GREATLY ENJOYED

Notwithstanding the wide streets, parking space was at a premium Monday evening when a large crowd of people assembled here to enjoy the concert given by the Chelsea band under the auspices of the Dexter business men.

A stand was erected at the corner of Main and B streets and a most appreciative audience listened to a splendid program of varied selections given by the band.

It has been a good many years since Dexter has had a band and the entertainment was unusual here, and hence the more thoroughly enjoyed. We are sure a reputation of it occasionally would be appreciated.—Dexter Leader.

FARM LANDS IN DEMAND

An increasing demand for farm lands from every part of the country is noted in a symposium just published by the Federal Land Banks. Without exception the presidents of these banks report a turn for the better in the situation and a gradual increase in the demand for farm lands.

This applies not only to one part of the country, but to the entire country. It indicates that the tide has turned and that the agricultural outlook is encouraging.

The low tide for farm land values was reached during 1926-27, but since that time there has been a gradual increase in the demand for farms and those who are purchasing have a larger amount of cash to make the initial payment on the land. Under these conditions young men in the rural districts are less interested than formerly in going to the industrial centers, while a fair percentage of young men in industrial centers are considering with their families the advisability of returning to the farm.

This favorable report by the Land Banks would indicate that farming will be looked upon with more favor during the next five or ten years, and that the returns to the farmer for his labor will be quite favorable as compared to the average workman in other lines of activities.

IS THE CELLAR PASSING?

One of the big items of expense in building the average home is the excavating required for building the cellar. Architects and heating engineers are cooperating in designing cellarless houses.

The chief purpose of the cellar is to house the heating plant. Elimination of the cellar calls for a system of heating that occupies a minimum of ground floor space and is free from dust and ashes.

The perfection of automatic heating plants using oil or gas for fuel, thus eliminating the old-fashioned coal bins and ash cans, is revolutionizing home construction. Fuel oil can be kept in a tank underground and piped to an oil burner, while gas is piped to a house from mains in the street.

It is stated that architects figure that the elimination of the cellar makes it possible to save from $1,000 to $2,000 in the construction of the average dwelling, which in many instances will more than offset the cost of automatic heating plants with their greater convenience, safety and comfort.

REAL CRIME REMEDIES

President Coolidge, in his Memorial Day address, made some remarks on crime and respect for law and order that are of interest to every American citizen. He said that the best solution of the crime problem goes back to the home and early training of the child, and that "if around the nation's fireside respect for authority, reverence for holy things and obedience to parental discipline are taught, the surest foundation for peace will be laid."

We cannot pass laws that will make crime impossible. Efforts in that direction have too often reacted to the advantage of the criminal, by restraining the law-abiding citizen. What we can do is to interpret and expedite our present laws and procedure that, by example, crime will be discouraged. If we add to this, early training that inculcates in the potential citizen an instinctive respect for the rules of society, we will have gone a long way toward reform.

Crime, like weeds, flourishes best where it can most easily resist extermination and escape punishment.

BE COURTEOUS TO VISITORS

Every day during the summer months tourists stop and ask for information. Care should be taken that such information be given correctly, and with a desire to be of real service. Be sincere, frank and complete in your directions, for such information will be welcomed and create a desire to visit us again.

Just to the extent that we treat our summer visitors with courtesy and respect will we increase their desire to speak well and favorably of us when they have gone away.

Summer tourists spend millions of dollars annually in Michigan in search of warm weather recreation. Catering to their needs is one of our country's greatest opportunities. This business will increase just to the extent that we advertise our county through a sincere effort to serve the tourist honestly and politely. Politeness and honesty pay extra dividends.

WATER AND WINES

Dr. Mayo told the chemists at their recent national convention that good water was the greatest ally of prohibition. In many European countries wine, beer and ale were used because the water was not good. When good water came the use of the liquor dropped.

Those who wish wine and beer in the United States can find little comfort in the Doctor's words. Light wines and beers are not needed as a beverage in the United States, never were needed and never will be.

The use of stronger liquors is not based upon the water supply, fear of snake bites or to ward off chills. Their existence rests on appetite. With some this appetite is large and dangerous, with others modest and easily satisfied. But the fact that the little appetites grow to big ones led to prohibition as now we have it.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

TEN CONCERTS BY

NOTED ARTISTS

The board of directors of the University Musical Society, Ann Arbor, has just announced that in commemoration of the fiftieth season of Choral Union concerts, the annual extra concert series which has been given for the past decade will be amalgamated for the coming season with the regular Choral Union series into one general course of ten concerts in order to mark the society's unbroken record of half a century and indicating a future of still greater effort. The semi-centenary series has been arranged as follows:

October 10—Rose Ponselle, in song recital.

October 22—Amelita Galli-Curci, in song recital.

November 12—Vladimir Horowitz, pianist, soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Victor Kolar, conducting.

November 23—Flonzaley String Quartet in its twenty-fifth and farewell season.

December 13—Fritz Kreisler, violin, in recital.

January 18—Roland Hayes, Negro tenor, in recital.

January 24—Prague Teachers' Chorus—under the baton of Metod Dolezil.

February 13—Sergei Rachmaninoff, in piano recital.

February 20—Yelky D'Aranyi, violinist, in recital.

March 11—Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Alfred Hertz, former Metropolitan Wagnerian conductor, now conductor of the San Francisco Orchestra, guest conductor.

Human life is absolutely dependent upon wild life and forests. Without these things we should become extinct as a race. If all vegetation should disappear tomorrow, the human race would become extinct upon the surface of the earth within one year.—James Oliver Curwood.

Some weeks ago Matt. Alber, one of the progressive farmers in Freedom telephoned to this office and asked that we insert a notice offering some choice seed potatoes for sale. Friday he was in town and called at the office to pay for the notice and to express his appreciation of the good service rendered by the paper. "I certainly received lots of inquiries from that adv.," he said.

A Delicious Economy

Prolong the joys of melon time and make the rich, sweet meat of cantaloupes go much further! This recipe for Cantaloupe Rind Preserves is a delicious economy, and if you have an up-to-date gas range, you'll find it so little trouble to make:

Spiced Cantaloupe Rind

A tasty preserve that may be made entirely on top of the stove, or finished by "processing" in the gas oven.

Pare and cut up four cantaloupe rinds as for watermelon preserves, soaking the cubes in salt water over night. Rinse, cover with boiling water, and cook on top of stove until tender. Make the following syrup:

4 cups sugar	1 tablespoon ground cloves
3 cups vinegar	1 tablespoon cinnamon
2 cups water	2 teaspoons whole mace
1 tablespoon mixed whole spices	1 clove of garlic whole

Boil this syrup for ten minutes. Drain the melon cubes; add to the hot syrup and simmer for two hours. If you have oven heat control, this process is greatly simplified by packing the cooked melon cubes into sterilized jars, pouring over the hot syrup, adjusting the lids loosely and placing in a 275 degree oven for two hours.

A WONDERFUL PICTURE COMING TO LOCAL THEATRE

One of the greatest aggregations of character actors ever gathered together for a single picture is seen in first National's "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," which comes to the Princess Theatre next week Wednesday and Thursday.

This is the picturization of John Fox, Jr.'s great story of the Kentucky mountains. Richard Barthelmess is starred in the title role, and the people of the story are typical mountaineers of the Civil war days. Only in Hollywood could such a cast be gathered together.

Included in the list of players is Gardner James, Victor Potel, Eulalie Jensen, Nelson McDowell, David Torrence, Martha Mattox, Mark Hamilton, Walter Lewis, Ralph Yearsley, Bob Milasch, Claude Gillingwater, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Walter Rogers, William Bertram and a host of others.

TO-MORROW IS VISITORS' DAY AT CAMP CUSTER

Every citizen in Michigan is invited to attend Michigan's two training camps where the young men of this state are in training on next Friday, August 17, which has been designated as Visitors' Day. The two camps are at Camp Custer and Fort Brady, and every effort will be made by the commanding officers of the two camps and their staffs to demonstrate the training that the young men of Michigan are getting.

Perhaps the largest crowd of parents and relatives of the trainees will visit Camp Custer where a special program has been prepared for them. Colonel Alvin C. Gillem, the camp commander, is very much interested in meeting the parents of the young men in his camp. For 30 days he is their "daddy," and is interested in every trainee no matter whether he comes from the millionaire's mansion or a brick layer's cottage.

With the exception of four or five young men who became homesick a few days after they arrived in camp and were sent to their homes, every one of the 1,100 young men at Camp Custer is enjoying himself and learning something that will do him good in after life. There is no illness in camp, and every one of the trainees is in the "chow" line when mess call is sounded three times a day. There are no slackers in this line as every young man eats until he is filled, and the food is wholesome and substantial.

TO SHOW AT STATE FAIR

George E. Haist & Son, of Lima, will make an exhibit of Black Top Delaine Merino sheep from their flock at the state fair in Detroit. They made an exhibit at the fair last year against six others, who had the same breed of sheep and they were awarded more premiums than all of the six others. They will also make an exhibit at the Washtenaw county fair.

PUTTING ON THE FINAL TOUCHES

Workmen are now busy at the fair grounds making the final preparations for the opening of the fair on Tuesday, August 28th. Among the new features for this year is the horticultural building, which will house the fruits, seeds, grains and flowers. The arrangement for the flower show in the horticultural building will be something that has never been seen in this county before. The rock garden is being built under the supervision of Edmond Gunther, of Gunther Gardens, Saline, Michigan. He is the man who is responsible for some of the wonderful landscape gardening at Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Henry Ford's rock gardens. We are quite sure this will be of a great deal of interest to all patrons of the fair, as it is something unique in fair ground exhibits.

SOMETHING WRONG SOMEWHERE

Subscribers to The Standard who received their papers through the Grass Lake and Munnith postoffices complained that they did not receive their papers until Monday. Something is radically wrong with our mail service when papers that are mailed from Chelsea on Friday morning cannot reach these towns before Monday. Where the trouble is we do not know, but we are trying to find out. We put our papers in the Chelsea postoffice every Thursday afternoon and they are mailed out Friday morning.

Since the evening train going west has been taken off there is no way to send second class mail or parcel post west except on the forenoon train and this is a condition that should be remedied. Chelsea, Grass Lake and Dexter business interests should protest against such a mail service.

How Terry Landed a Big Risk

By JANE OSBORN
(Copyright.)

SOMETIMES Terry thought she was a good insurance solicitor—and sometimes she thought she wasn't. As she sat patiently in the reception room outside Mr. Bertram Carr's private office that January morning she was quite sure that she was not. She had sat there for an hour and twenty minutes. The day before she had sat there in precisely the same chair for an hour, and on several days before that she had sat there until she knew every angle and crevice of the well-furnished reception room by heart. She had been told that no one had ever been able to sell Mr. Bertram Carr life insurance, whatever the life insurance, whatever the life insurance, whatever the life insurance.

Terry had been unable to get any interview with him by telephone. She couldn't get him to consent to see her, on any pretext she had been able to invent. So now she was simply waiting to see him.

(Three days when she had sat there she had simply had to give up before he came out, or else he had come out so quickly and brushed by her so abruptly that she had no opportunity to say a word. Today Terry was determined to get an interview. She had sat there for an hour and a half and had, it seemed to her, worn away almost an entire powder compact and a quarter of a lipstick, just keeping in constant readiness.

Terry was thinking of those things when Mr. Carr's office door was quickly opened and with two long steps he was in the reception room. Terry rushed forward. She knew she was too pretty to be brushed aside.

"I would like to see you—just a moment," she smiled her prettiest and tried to get his eye. "I am sorry, madam," said Mr. Bertram Carr, looking apologetically toward the reception desk, "but I am finishing to an important engagement. If you'd be so good as to give your name, I think my secretary can see you." And then he was off and Terry was no nearer seeing Bertram Carr than ever.

"Oh, well, there is more than one way to sell insurance," said the more than middle-aged Miss Larson whom Terry encountered in one of the offices of the insurance company for which both worked. "Your line is good looks and prettiness, looking like Fifth Avenue and Cleopatra or something all the time. Now my approach is entirely different. Some day when I get the biggest haul I go around the shabbies, I could no more hope to get myself up like you than you could hope to place any policies if you didn't."

Surely, the drag-looking Miss Larson had not intended to annoy Terry, but Terry was annoyed and felt all the more troubled every time she thought of what the older woman had said. It wouldn't have mattered so much if she had succeeded with Mr. Carr. But she hadn't even got an interview. He hadn't fallen for her good looks one little bit. Perhaps Miss Larson was right; good looks were her line. Without them she could not succeed.

Terry went to bed that night with a fixed determination to show the world in general and Miss Terry in particular that she had more than one string to her bow.

Two days later when a rather pale, decidedly shabby and somewhat seamed, cold-looking young girl asked the reception clerk whether she might see Mr. Bertram Carr, the clerk could have sworn that she had never seen the girl before. "I don't want to send in my name," said the apparently shy one, "because he might send out his secretary and she would frighten me to death. But may I could sit here and wait?" So the reception clerk was still looking cold and seamed not to say actually hungry an hour later when Mr. Carr came out of his room and she stepped timidly toward him.

The reception clerk was amazed when she saw Mr. Carr go back to his office with the shabby-looking young girl. She would have been considerably more surprised if ten minutes later she had heard Mr. Carr virtually giving his agreement to take out a life insurance of an amazingly large figure.

"I'll take this, of course," said Mr. Carr to the girl, "but there is no particular reason why I should. You see, all my kindred are amply provided for, and I'm not married."

"You may be some day," said the little life insurance agent.

After considerable maneuvering Terry continued to meet Mr. Carr at a house party a month later. It was Terry on a holiday. Terry who had for the time being forgotten all about insurance, but a very pretty and well-dressed Terry nevertheless. It had taken considerable ingenuity to find a friend who also knew Bertram Carr who was in a mood to give a house party.

Bertram knew that he had seen her before but he could identify her neither with the insistent young woman who had tried to see him so often, nor the timid girl who had sold him life insurance a little later. Even when he asked Terry to marry him and she had accepted, she had to tell him the story of her campaign that had aroused first his pity—then his love.

PATIENTS IN STATE HOS-

PITALS FOR MENTAL DISEASES

The Department of Commerce makes the following announcement concerning results of the 1927 census of mental patients in the five state hospitals of Michigan.

These hospitals had a total of 1,228 first admissions during the year 1927, as compared with 1,313 in 1926, and 1,236 in 1922.

These first admissions represent patients received during the year, who had not previously been under treatment in any hospital for mental disease. Such newly admitted patients afford the best available measure of the number of new cases of mental disease which are brought under hospital treatment during a given year.

The increase in the number of first admissions to state hospitals in Michigan between 1922 and 1927 was relatively smaller than the growth in the state's population during the same period, as shown by the fact that the first admissions in 1927 numbered 28.7 per 100,000 of population as compared with 31.5 in 1922.

The extent to which provision has been made for state treatment of mental patients is indicated by the number of patients present in the state hospitals on a given date. In Michigan, the number of mental patients under treatment in the state hospitals has increased steadily from 5,846 on Jan. 1, 1910, to 7,937 on Jan. 1, 1928; but the ratio of such patients per 100,000 of general population decreased from 208 on Jan. 1, 1910 to 174.6 on Jan. 1, 1928.

Of the first admissions in Michigan during the year 1927, 833 were males, and 455 were females; and of the patients present on Jan. 1, 1928, 4,437 were males, and 3,500 were females.

STATE AND CITY OFFICIALS DISCUSS SEWAGE DISPOSAL

First of 28 meetings between state and city officials to discuss plans for construction of sewage disposal plants were held in Muskegon and Plainwell on Friday of last week and others will follow during the next month.

Homer Murphy, pollution control agent for the conservation department John M. Hepler, of the state health department, and M. M. Lar-mouth, assistant attorney general, will represent the state at all meetings.

Cities will present the plans prepared for them by which disposal of sewage is proposed and these will be discussed with state officials.

When all meetings have been held any cities which still have not met state requirements with their engineering plans and governmental approval will be made defendants in legal action seeking to compel action. The state does not compel action, however, that any such action will be necessary inasmuch as it will be a complete victory in a suit against the city of Lansing, when the state capitulated and agreed to meet the state requirements, in lieu of dismissal of the suit.

WHERE DID THAT DIRT COME FROM?

A man who finds his good, clean automobile all spattered and dirty after it has been rained on always wants to know how it all came about. A scientist in the Geological Survey describes how mud drops form in the air and are washed down in the rain. Masses of mud and dirt, it seems, are carried up in the air and when the rain falls they are deposited right on top of your new ducio finish. That's where we get the part of the "traffic film" that sticks and sticks until it is removed by elbow exertion and the polish made by the manufacturers of the pyroxylin lacquers.

OUR NEIGHBORS

Wampler's Lake—Jackson county Scouts dedicated their camp acres with a frontage on the lake and a small near-by lake. The dedication was held on the evening of this week. Miss Goodyear, formerly of Manchester, is the executive of the Jackson Girl Scouts.

The tenth annual meeting of the Newkirk clan was held at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Newkirk and Birkett Newkirk, Saturday, August 11. Fifty members being present. The Newkirk reunion was held some home ten years ago.

Lyons—The new nine hole course at Rushton was opened and was well attended by the community.

Three days chautauqua held here August 20 to 23. The first combine to work in this vicinity was at the attraction last week at the farm, where 70 acres of corn were cut and threshed by machine.

Due to this increase in the fact that many are coming here daily, it 23.

seems necessary that Brighton streets should be marked. This would help greatly in locating residents of the town, as well as give the town a more dignified appearance to the many strangers who pass through here continuously on our two main trunk highways.—Argus.

Pinkney—The concrete mixer for laying the pavement arrived last week and the spreading of the concrete is expected to start this week. The work of grading has been completed to the Pinkney business section and the grades are all finished except the one near the Pinkney cemetery. The drainage tile are also in as far as the grading has been completed.—Dispatch.

Milan—The wheat harvest in the vicinity of Milan is light, but the quality is fairly good according to the reports from the elevators in Milan. According to reports from fields that are being threshed, the average yield per acre is about eighteen to twenty bushels with an occasional field running as high as thirty-two and thirty-five bushels.—Leader.

Northville—The Exchange club of this village is one of the sponsors for a community picnic to be held at Edgewater park on Thursday, August 23.

Ann Arbor—George Sousa, Green street, Thursday appeared in circuit court to answer to a petition filed by Prosecutor Carl H. Stuhler to revoke his probation. Sousa recently pleaded guilty to a charge of using indecent language and at the conclusion of his hearing in circuit court Thursday, Judge George W. Sample revoked his probation and remanded him for sentence.—News.

Grass Lake—The members of the Grass Lake Farmers club are holding their annual picnic today at Wolf Lake. Grass Lake—A milly producers association was perfected at a meeting held on Wednesday evening of this week. It is stated that 90 per cent of the farmers and dairymen in the vicinity of this village are in favor of the organization.

Whitmore Lake—M. A. Cahoon and Charles Hetherington, of Royal Oak, have purchased the Solway Hotel property here from William Zempke, of Ann Arbor.

Robert G. Vivian, president of the Monroe County Farm Bureau, has left on a tour of inspection of alfalfa fields in the country, as the guest of the Michigan Farm Bureau. He will make stops in Kansas City, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, and Delta, Utah. The trip is a part of the program of the farm bureau to increase interest in the crop among farmers of the state.

Mason—Ingham County will have a new public health nurse in the north half of the county, beginning the last week in August. Miss Ethel Mull, for several years in the employ of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., at their Lansing office, has been engaged for this work, which is largely among the rural school children. Miss Mull succeeds Miss Elizabeth Robinson.

Michael Noon, of Jackson, president of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, will be the principal speaker at the Detroit Edison Co. annual picnic, Aug. 22 at the Albert Miller farm, on the South Custer road in Monroe county. The picnic is staged by the company for its farmer customers.

STATE DEBT DECREASED

Michigan's net bonded debt now is $65,216,044, including the highway, soldiers bonus, war loan, and state fair bond issues, a reduction of $6,487,487 since Gov. Fred W. Green took office a year and a half ago, according to a statement issued from the executive office at Lansing.

STATE FARMERS REAP FERTILITY PROFITS

Reports from the harvest fields of Michigan this year give additional evidence that the use of commercial fertilizers on small grains adds materially to the farm income, according to reports by the soils department at Michigan State College.

The use of a 4-16-4 fertilizer for wheat seeded on the R. V. Tremmer farm in Jackson county increased the yield 25 bushels an acre. Similar increases in wheat yields have been obtained in other tests located in other sections of the state.

A complete fertilizer containing considerable potash is recommended by the soils department, especially if a legume is to be seeded in the wheat. High grade fertilizer is urged because the per unit cost of an element of plant food in the high grade fertilizer is less than it is in the low grade. In addition to the saving in the cost of plant food, there is less labor needed to handle the high grade product.

If legumes are to be seeded in the wheat, the soils department advises the use of fertilizers with an analysis as near as possible to 2-16-2, 4-16-4, or 0-20-0; and, where seedlings are to be made, the use of a 2-16-2 or 0-20-0 is advised.

HASCHLE FAMILY HAS ANNUAL REUNION

The twelfth annual reunion of the Haschle family was held Wednesday at Cedar Hill park, Wampler's lake, with 90 members present from Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Manchester, Owosso, Adrian, Hudson, Manchester, Sharon, Lima and Bridgewater.

A short business meeting was held after the basket dinner. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Marie Giesko, Manchester; vice president, William Haschle, Jackson; secretary, Mrs. Laura Maurer, Manchester, and treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Haarer, Manchester. The 1929 reunion will be held the third Sunday in August at the same place.

OAKLAND HAS RECORD JULY

Continuing the record setting pace which has resulted in new high sales figures every month since the first of the year, the Oakland Motor Car Company sold a total of 22,704 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes during July. W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales, announces.

This compares with 16,752 units sold in July, 1927, or a gain of 35 1-2 per cent; and brings the total of new Oakland and Pontiacs shipped since January 1st to 184,252 cars. Mr. Tracy said. The corresponding performance for the first seven months of 1927 was 112,888 units, or a gain of 65 per cent this year over last.

The Harper Sales & Service of this community has sold a number of these popular cars in this community within the past few weeks.

Morenci—Five streets will be paved here this summer.

Midland—Work commenced on east side trunk sewer which will cost $60,000.
