LARGE SUM RECEIVED FROM PRIMARY FUND

Primary Fund Apportionment Largest in History Of The State

The department of public instruction has sent to the Sylvan township clerk under date of September 1st, notice of the apportionment of the primary school funds for the year 1927. The amount of the sums given does not include the library funds which comes from the fine money that is collected by the courts in various parts of the county. The Sylvan treasurer has not as yet received the money and it will probably be two weeks before he receives the remittance.

There are 644 children in Sylvan, according to the school census for 1927. The amount is $15.20 per pupil.

The apportionment for the various school districts is as follows:

No. 2, 12 pupils.....	182.40
No. 3, fr. Sylvan and Lima, 501 pupils.....	7,615.20
No. 4, 54 pupils.....	820.80
No. 5, fr. Sylvan and Sharon, 15 pupils.....	228.00
No. 6, fr. Sylvan and Grass Lake, 19 pupils.....	288.80
No. 7, 19 pupils.....	288.80
No. 10, 24 pupils.....	364.80

The apportionment for the year 1926 was at the rate of $12.85 per pupil. The amount received this year will include five per cent more than in the previous two years which had been deducted for the poor districts in northern Michigan. The supreme court declared the act unconstitutional and the state will reimburse the districts from which it was taken and it will be paid with the present disbursement of the funds when they are received.

DR. JOHN T. WOODS STRICKEN SUDDENLY

He Was About Town On Wednesday And Seemed As Well As Usual

The people of this village were shocked Thursday forenoon when the news of the sudden death of Dr. John T. Woods became current. He has been about town on Wednesday attending to his professional duties and seemed as well as usual. In fact he was on the streets until nearly midnight the night before death claimed him. After he had reached his home he was not feeling well and called Dr. Andros Gulde, who remained with him until about one o'clock when Dr. Woods assured his friend he was all right. Thursday forenoon Dr. Gulde again called at the Wood home and found Dr. Woods sitting on the floor, in an upright position, and fully dressed. Death had claimed him while he was alone.

Dr. Woods enjoyed a good practice and for upwards of twenty years he went about this community bringing comfort and cheer to countless afflicted ones. His presence in the community will be greatly missed and the tenderest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family in their great sorrow.

Dr. John T. Woods was born April 11, 1868, in Brook township, Lambton county, Ontario. He attended a medical school at London, Canada, and graduated from Detroit College of Medicine.

He was married 30 years ago to Martha McLean and for the past 20 years they were residents of Chelsea. Dr. Woods was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Independent Order of Foresters.

He is survived by the widow, a son, Carl, of Flint, and four brothers. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Fred I. Walker, at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, at his late residence, and the body was taken to Watford, where the funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the home of his brother, Gilbert Woods. Burial was in St. James cemetery, Watford, Canada.

B. I. Plankell, of Mapes & Plankell, funeral directors, took the remains to Watford, Ontario, Saturday morning. From the Watford, Ontario, Advocate we are permitted to take the following account of the funeral services and a brief sketch of his life: "One of the largest funerals in the history of this community was held to-day at St. James cemetery, Brooke township, one mile south of Watford, when Dr. John Thomas Woods, of Chelsea, Mich., was buried at 2:30 p. m.

He was born in Brooke township, the son of William Woods and Jane Carter Woods, and received his early education in Watford High school and in the Michigan School of Medicine, Detroit. After teaching school for a number of years in Lambton county and in Manitoba, he studied in the University of Western Ontario, London, and in the Michigan School of Medicine, Detroit, graduating from the latter institution in 1897.

Dr. Woods first practiced in Flint, Mich., and later, until his death, in Chelsea, Mich. In religion he was an Anglican and in politics a Republican. In 1908 he married Mattie McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McLean of Melbourne, Ont. They have one adopted son, Carl Culp, now living in Flint, Mich. He is also survived by his widow and four brothers, Gilbert, of Brooke; Dr. W. H. of Mount Brydges; Arthur of Keweenaw, and Thomas of Warwick. Rev. J. H. Hosford of Trinity church, Watford, had charge of the service and the pallbearers were eight nephews, the Moffatt, H. Moffatt, W. Woods, R. Woods, N. Woods, G. Woods, and H. Woods.

The displays are attractively arranged and it can be said without exaggeration that the ninth annual fair is the best one yet held.

MICHIGAN'S CROPS ARE LOOKING FINE

The editor of The Standard with his family enjoyed a motor trip over to the west side of the state over the week-end, and it was a real pleasure to observe the fine condition of the crops in the section through which he drove. A year ago crops were burned up by the intense heat and for lack of rain, but this year crops are looking fine all through that portion of the state.

Among other places visited he drove through the great onion fields of Allegan and Barry county where thousands of acres of white and yellow onions are now being harvested and where as many acres are yet to be gathered. Thirty years ago that vast area was covered with a thick growth of ash and elm trees, but they have about all disappeared and great warehouses stand where saw mills and lumber camps used to be. Hundreds of car loads of onions are shipped from that section each year and before many years great quantities of celery and mint will be grown there.

After seeing these fields we wondered why the industry could not be revived in this section, where several years ago great quantities of onions were grown.

FREED TRADE WORKS BOTH WAYS

The belief that the farmer would be able to purchase manufactured goods at a low price if the tariff bars were let down is largely mythical.

A large proportion of his important equipment is duty free, and has been. There are unquestionably other articles that cost him more because of duty imposed on them for the protection of competing American manufacturers. If free trade were to be established the farmer could buy these at a lower price. This is obvious.

What may not be so obvious is that at the same time the quantity of his own produce that could be sold to American consumers would be greatly cut, and the price decreased to equalize competition from foreign producers, who have the advantage of cheap labor. Free trade works both ways.

In other words, the farmer would be losing dollars to save a few cents.

The tariff has grown steadily in importance. It is more necessary now than it has ever been because of varying world conditions, and the widening discrepancy between the standard of living and the wages paid here and elsewhere. Its greatest benefits come to the farmer and the industrial worker. It is to their interest that it is maintained.

THE BENEFITS OF HIGHWAYS

Highways are an investment that pays real dividends and show profits, according to Frank Page, chairman of the North Carolina Highway Commission. In a recent speech he told what benefits have come to that state from its fine roads.

As the first item, Mr. Page listed relief to towns and counties and savings to road users, through reducing wear and tear and losses.

Second, educational opportunities.

Third, the rapid, cheap and safe transportation of agricultural products.

Fourth, factories avoid congested centers and labor needs no tenements in town.

Fifth, increased accessibility of resorts and places of scenic interest.

Sixth, the appeal good highways make to potential residents.

Seventh, social advantages, by doing away with isolation.

These are highway "dividends" that are paid in every state and every locality. A community that neglects building good and adequate roads is condemning itself to mediocrity and retrogression.

Chelsea will have two candidates at the primary next Tuesday—John S. Cummings, who is a candidate on the republican ticket for the office of registrar of deeds to succeed himself, and who has no opposition, and George W. Beckwith, who is a candidate on the democratic ticket for county clerk and who is unopposed for the position. Both are good men, and they have been tried in the offices they seek. They will receive good support from their friends in this section of the county.

Congressman Earl C. Mihcener, who has no opposition as a candidate on the republican ticket, has a card in to-day's Standard in which he solicits the support of the voters of this section. He has made an able and efficient representative at Washington and he should be returned for another term.

A vote for Governor Fred W. Green next Tuesday will be a vote for the continuance of a good business administration of state affairs.

Try Chelsea first.

GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN
PETITIONED FOR RE-ELECTION

In the past two years of political turmoil, the state of Michigan has maintained a peaceful and creditable state of affairs. The state has seen some of the most progressive measures taken, and the administrative department, which is chiefly responsible for the progress of the state, is worthy of the plaudits of its constituents.

It has been established that the governor of a state is usually responsible for the actions of the state under his administration. If this is true, then Governor Fred W. Green has accomplished a most enviable record. That his worth is recognized by the public of his state is seen in the recent signing of his petition for re-election by one hundred and thirty thousand people.

It is greatly doubted if any candidate can produce as many testimonials of the high regard in which he is held by people in all walks of life. His incumbency has been characterized by diligent application to affairs of state and far-sighted constructive measures. He is responsible to no group or machine and has served the interests and welfare of Michigan and its citizens without regard to outside control.

The record of the state for clean politics under Governor Green should be sufficient to recommend him to his state. He needs no platform other than this record and he stands quite alone among the other aspirants to his office, as far as experience, honesty and helpfulness and the other vital qualities which fit a man for this position. National Business Review.

AMERICAN CAR WINS
NORWAY-SWEDEN RACE

The Norwegian-Swedish automobile race was won this year by Lief Mathiesen, who piloted an American car, a Graham-Paige, over the Oslo-Stockholm-Göteborg-Ölso course of 1,560 kilometers (960 miles).

Mathiesen, who is one of the best known gentleman race drivers in Norway, holds the records for automobile ice racing and for the famous Korke-trakken hill-climb. After winning the Norwegian-Swedish race, Mathiesen described it as one of the severest tests to which a car can be submitted.

BEWARE OF PEDDLERS

This county seems to be infested with peddlers at present and several visit households almost every day. They have a hundred different schemes to dispose of their wares which are in many instances inferior goods and when the householders have been swindled they take their troubles to the sheriff and of course the sharper is gone and in many instances there is no clue to his identity.

The latest is a man selling linoleum, who delivers the goods but when the package is unwrapped only about one-half the amount bargained and paid for is in the package, but the man is gone. He travels with a covered truck and travels sometimes with a Pennsylvania and other times with a Rhode Island license.

People are being constantly warned but they will not heed the warning until they are lured. It is said that the linoleum fake swindled several Flushing people. With reliable dealers all about us, who stand ready to correct an error or make a defective piece of goods good it would seem that it would not be necessary to publish such fakes. Just a little logic, it would seem, would convince one that a peddler cannot compete with the local dealer unless he resorts to subterfuge either in the quantity or quality of his wares. ## George W. Gillespie

Republican Candidate For Sheriff

Mr. Gillespie is a resident of Ann Arbor, his home being at 321 North Ashley street. He is active and vigorous and having served four years as deputy sheriff, under two sheriffs, he is well qualified to discharge the duties of that important office. He has also served five years as supervisor in his home city, was two and a half years in the World war as chief engineer of ocean-going steamers, and by natural ability he is well fitted for the position he seeks, and his friends are urging his nomination. Mr. Gillespie stated to a representative of The Standard while in Chelsea that if he was elected he would live in the county jail as the law provides, and that he would endeavor to serve the people in a manner that would meet with their approval. It has been reported in some sections of the county that he had withdrawn from the race, but this is not true. He is in the contest to stay to the finish and he will greatly appreciate the support of the people of this section. He is easy of approach, understands the needs of the people, is well known throughout the county, and he will make a strong candidate at the November election.

Two ball players were the center of attraction on the corner of Main and Middle streets Saturday evening. The well known ball players were admiring the water melons on sale at Freeman Brothers store and D. C. McLaren being present, one of the boys remarked that he thought that the two of them could eat that melon. Dan called the turn on them, and told the lads that if the two of them would eat the whole of the melon he would pay for it, if not the boys should pay the bill. They accepted the proposition and then the fun began. Doctors, lawyers, undertakers and citizens surrounded them. When one of the boys had about one quarter of his portion devoured he asked one of the doctors if it would lead to any serious results. With an eye to business the physician promptly answered no. The undertaker advised the boys to eat another one and the crowd asked the funeral director if his business had fallen off. The boys ate the melon and of course, D. C. footed the bill.

According to the school census just taken by W. J. Knapp there are 474 children of school age in the district. Last Thursday night some one entered the barn of James Dann on Wilkinson street and poisoned two fox hounds. As the dogs have not been allowed to run at large for several weeks the party who committed the act must have deliberately entered the premises to commit the nefarious crime.

LIMA 4-H CLUB

A meeting of the Lima 4-H club was held at the home of William Kennedy on Thursday, August 23rd.

During the business meeting plans for the fair were discussed; nearly every club member expects to make an exhibit.

After the business meeting refreshments were served. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing songs and playing games.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Harold Gross on September 27th.

WHY NOT NOW?

"The time will come," shouted the exponent of women's rights, "when women will get men's wages."
"Yea," said a little man on the corner, "next Saturday night."

They Called Her "Yellow Bush"

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)

WHEN Nancy Branch was a little girl people laughingly called her "Yellow Bush" because her mop of golden hair was so thick and flyaway. As she grew older it was confined for awhile, and then bobbed into another and more sedate, yellow bush of fine soft hair.

When Yellow Bush came home from college, her first inquiry was for her old playmate, Bert Franklin.

"Bert Franklin went away after his father died—you know, his mother died four or five years ago."

"Of course, I know that," said Nancy. "It happened the summer I went abroad with Aunt Susan—of course, I wrote to Bert and his father. He wrote to me in reply, but I have not heard from him since."

"You have been away from home so much, my dear," said her mother, "even your vacations have been far away from us."

"I know it, mother, but I am really home to stay awhile now. I shall advise you about the domestic arrangements and tell father how to manage his farm!"

"In between times," chuckled Mr. Branch, "you may use my old telescope to search the skies for your old friend, Bertie Franklin. I say that he is now an accomplished flyer."

The long summer drifted away, and Nancy "Yellow Bush" never saw or heard anything of the boy she had known so well.

Then came one warm August night when she had walked down to the pasture to see the sunset.

"How Bert and I used to love the sunset," Nancy was thinking a little sadly, when out of the west something shone blackly against the crimson and gold of the evening. In the far distance it looked like a bird, but it grew larger so rapidly that very soon Nancy saw that it was a monoplane and that it did not swerve from its course. It would probably pass directly overhead.

So she ran into the pasture where the sunset turned her yellow head into a golden nimbus about her fair face, and watched the airplane.

When the plane reached the old pasture, it seemed to pause, and then, wonder of wonders, it circled lower and lower. When the plane made a landing, it rolled easily across the grass to a standstill, not twenty feet away from the slender girl in the pale blue dress.

There was one passenger in the plane and, when he stepped upon the ground, Nancy's heart sank. Bertie Franklin had been rather a big young man, but this man in the leather garments from head to heel was a veritable giant. When he stood before Nancy Branch, he removed his disgusting spectacles and Nancy encountered a pair of amazingly magnetic blue eyes.

"Dear little Yellow Bush," he murmured, and one strong brown hand came toward her.

"Bert? No, Bert Franklin?" she stammered dazedly. "It is really you—really you," she sighed, when they sat side by side on an old bench. "I have looked for you so often, Bert, and wondered if you were never coming back to see your friends again. Your old house is tumbling down for lack of attention from its owner."

"I know it," he said soberly. "There is rather a reason, Nancy. Did your people tell you that, when father died, I could not find any private papers at all? Not one thing! He was delirious at the last before he sank into coma, and all he said was, 'Yellow Bush—Yellow Bush—I forgot Yellow Bush,'—and I believed that he meant you. He always called you that. And I think, Nancy darling, that poor dad was really trying to impress it upon me to make sure of you—Yellow Bush, see?"

"I know he was very fond of me," mused Nancy. "But, Bert, I don't believe it was anything like that. He was too keen a business man not to have provided for you."

"That does seem so, and yet I never found a clue. Old Judge Peebles has produced a mortgage on our old place—that will about swallow the whole thing. Once in awhile, I fly over my ancestral acres, and try to puzzle the thing out."

"I thought Judge Peebles was your father's lawyer."

"He was for years—then he and dad had a fuss about something. And dad withdrew all his affairs from the judge's hands."

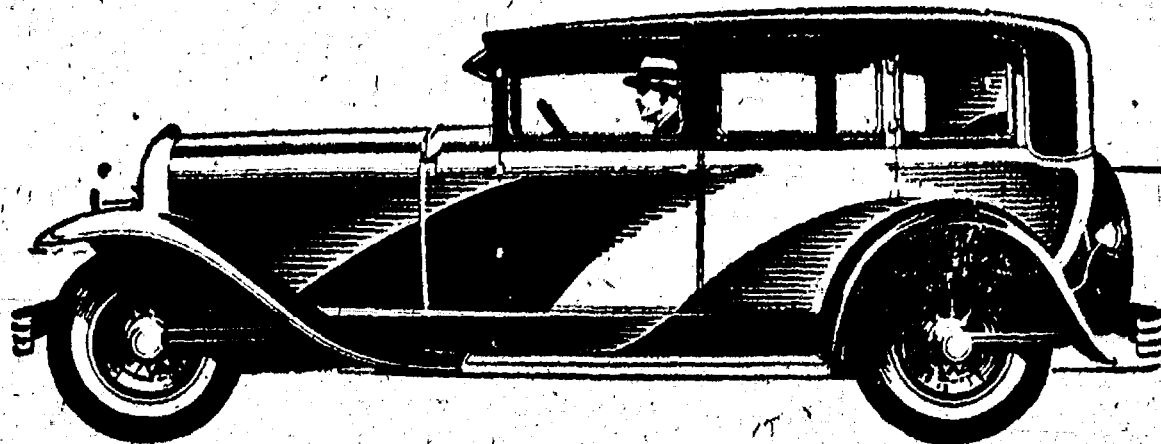

"If your father said 'yellow bush' before he died," said Nancy firmly, "he did not mean a foolish girl like me. He really meant that if you would dig down under one of the yellow bushes on your front lawn, you would find something!"

Bert Franklin stared at her, wide eyed. "One of those yellow bushes was a special favorite with my mother," he said softly. "Nancy, tomorrow morning will you meet me at the old place and witness my digging under the yellow bush that had long been a favorite of my mother's?"

Sure enough, three feet down they found a large iron box where Bert found a substantial fortune awaiting him, and papers showing that the mortgage had been paid in full.

"Now, will you marry me?" asked Bert of the glowing girl beside him.

"Why—I thought we were almost engaged before you found your fortune!" cried Nancy happily.

Patents F-Head Motor

The U. S. Patent Office has granted patents to the Hudson Motor Car Company on the "F-Head" high-compression motor. The patent—No. 1,656,051, relating to internal combustion engines—covers the entire arrangement of valves, spark plugs and combustion chamber.

With the new patented design Hudson motors now are built with a compression ratio of nearly 6 to 1—or 20 per cent above the average—with correspondingly high standards of acceleration, fuel economy and power. It is practically impossible to make the motor knock under even the most adverse operating conditions. The motor is the liveliest, most powerful and economical Hudson has ever built.

CIRCUIT COURT HAS
Jackson And Heavily Fined

Illegal operations of an ex-saloon keeper in Ann Arbor were brought to a halt by police with the arrest of William F. Kapp, 67, of 1423 Broadway. Kapp, who formerly operated a saloon in this city, making his own whiskey to sell at a dime a drink, returned to his former trade about a year and a half ago, when he began making whiskey to sell at a dollar a half pint.

Two men who purchased Kapp's liquor, gave the police grounds for a raid.

Kapp entered a plea of guilty in circuit court and Judge George W. Sample placed him no probation for five years and ordered him to pay $500 within 90 days. He promised to give up the liquor business and his probationary order allows search of his premises at any time.

Three Ypsilanti liquor violators, Emma Sparrow, 56, Charles Sparrow, 50, and Robert Laidlow, 43, entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced Wednesday. The former two were put on probation for five years and ordered to pay costs of $150 each. Laidlow, however, was sentenced to Jackson for a term of from six months, recommended, to one year.

Raymond Winslow, 21, Saline, on probation for forgery, appeared in court on a second forgery offense to which he pleaded guilty. His probation was revoked, and he was sent to the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia for a term of from three to 14 years, with the minimum recommendation.

H. Chandler Thompson, 21, Detroit, was remanded for sentence after pleading guilty to forging a note.

David Regan, Reading, Michigan, arrested for violation of the liquor law, was placed on probation and ordered to leave Washtenaw county in addition to paying costs of $100. Regan has lived in Ann Arbor since last April, and during his stay in the city gained a reputation of being an undesirable citizen.—Tribune.

SUPPORT GEORGE W.
GILLESPIE FOR SHERIFF

The people of this section are urged to support George W. Gillespie of Ann Arbor for the nomination for sheriff at the primary next Tuesday.

He has had years of experience as a deputy sheriff and he is in every way qualified for the office. He says he will reside in the jail if he is elected and he promises to enforce the law to the best of his ability.

There is no good reason why any man should hold this office term after term when there are others as well qualified and better fitted in many ways for the position.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

With such a wealth of fresh green things from which to choose our menus we should have variety each day for our tables.

Did you ever slice tender green onions very thin and serve them with a bit of salt, a dash of lemon juice or vinegar and plenty of good thick cream? If not, try it; it is a tasty dainty to serve with bread and butter for a Sunday night supper.

Vegetable Omelette Dressing.—Put one egg, two tablespoons of dry mustard and two tablespoons of sugar well mixed into a deep bowl; with the egg add one and one-half teaspoonsful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of paprika, one-fourth cupful of vinegar and three-fourths of a cupful of corn or other oil, but do not stir. Make a paste of four tablespoonsful of corn starch and one-half cupful of water, then add another half cupful of water; cook until thick and the starch thoroughly cooked. Add the hot starch mixture to the bowl and beat briskly with a Dover beater. Cool and put in a glass jar for future use.

Carrots à la King.—Cut tender new carrots into slim finger-sized pieces and these into inch lengths. Cook in a very little water until tender, salting just before they are taken from the heat. For a quart of carrots prepare a pint of rich, highly-seasoned white sauce to which has been added while cooking, one teaspoonful of scraped onion, a dash of cayenne, one tablespoonful each of finely diced celery, minced parsley and minced red pepper. Pour over the carrots and serve very hot.

Mashed Turnips.—Slice and cook tender young turnips in water salted toward the last of the cooking. To a mineral quart of turnips add two small meaty potatoes and mash all together until smooth; add salt to taste, half a teaspoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter and beat well. Turn into a hot dish, dot with butter and dashes of paprika.

NEW MAP OF ISLE ROYALE
SHOWS NEW DISCOVERIES

A new map of Isle Royale, Michigan's wildest playground, has been prepared by the state geology department, incorporating into one map the many discoveries which have been spread over several charts during recent years.

A comparatively large blank area remains on this latest map—representing the interior jungles of the island which have never been explored.

All but a small area of the island is in virgin timber, and the map is of unusual interest at this time because of the suggestion of Chief U. S. Forester Greely that it be taken over as a national park contingent upon a gift of the island to the nation by Michigan. In order to make this gift, Michigan would have to purchase some acreage on the island which is still in private hands.

As a counter proposal, it has been suggested that Michigan might make a state park of the island. Advantages to the recreation seeker would be similar in either event, and the public looks forward to the probability that the island will soon become a park.

It was recalled in the state geologist's office that Isle Royale became the property of the United States due to the shrewd foresight of Benjamin Franklin.

At a time when the little island, 45 miles long by an average of seven miles wide, meant apparently nothing to any country, Franklin was negotiating a boundary treaty with Great Britain.

He learned of large copper deposits on the island and in making up the suggested boundary lines, jugged the line, which in other places split the lake in half, so as to include Isle Royale in United States territory.

No objection was offered—much perhaps as a nickel would not be noticed in a $10,000 deal today—and the valuable scenic and commercial property fell to the United States, later to become a part of Michigan.

Methodist Home

At this season of the year many of the family visit old friends and back home scenes but they are invariably more eager to return than to go away, which speaks well for home conditions, where visitors are always welcome.

Last Thursday Mrs. George Lockwood, district president of the W. H. M. S. and Mrs. Robert Lathers of Ypsilanti, called on Mrs. Gowing to learn what she made in the way of cards and so forth, for her work and to inspect the Home.

For ten or more years a shut-in, Mrs. Carrie Gowing has been actively engaged in missionary work, which is to send picture cards and pictures to missionaries in Rangoon, Pegu, Burma and Old Untali, South Africa. But it takes many cards and pictures to supply the demand. She would be very grateful to anyone in or out of the Home if they would remember her when they have bright colored pictures from magazines or cards interesting children. As proof of the interest in missions the members here have not only raised money for the work but like to keep in touch with any who have had practical experience. Mrs. Minnie Hyde Wilson has not only been in charge of classes and schools in the states, but as supervisor for five years in the eighties in Montevideo, Uruguay, South America, was enabled to consolidate numerous small schools that had been started by former missionaries into a high school from which graduates were sent out for work and which continues to this time under the name of the Camden Institute. Not long ago $42.50 was collected at the Home for the school near Pegu, South Africa. Liberal contributions have also been made to the interests of the W. H. M. S. by members from the Home.

Mrs. McGregor has recently collected eighty-five dollars for the Near East Relief fund for children, from the same source.

The meeting of the missionary society announced for this week at the Home is necessarily postponed until Tuesday, September 4th, at 2:30 p. m. When the work of draining the swamp and low lands of our farm is completed fifteen acres will be added to those under cultivation, and twenty more will be improved by the work. The whole forty acres will then make a valuable farm.

Last Wednesday Mesdames Reading and Waltz of Ann Arbor, called on Mrs. Frances Robby.

These are busy days for Mrs. Gransom, efficient cook, who has already canned 458 quarts of fresh fruit and vegetables. Her self imposed goal is 1,000 quarts.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Dill of Grosse Pointe, called at the Home Sunday, bringing Mrs. Ione Gorton, who had spent the past week with them.

Rev. and Mrs. Ross and children were callers Sunday. Rev. Ross is pastor of the German Methodist church.

V. G. Birch, from Detroit, was the guest of Mrs. Lamoni Birch last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt and little daughter of Ypsilanti, came to the Home Sunday and tarried Mrs. Cologrove and little Janet away with them.

Under supervision of Superintendent, Dr. W. J. Balmer, the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting has taken on a new interest in the study of successive books of the Bible, being the fourth week of the year. It has reached the book of Romans. A comprehensive exegesis prepared by the leader, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapin were on hand and Mr. and Mrs. Alice Chapin were present Sunday evening.

If every precinct could be depended upon as can this Home there would be no doubt as to the outcome of the November election, for many doors along the corridors carry pictures of Hoover and Curtis and no voice is raised for Governor Smith.

William Hipp of Romeo, with his wife, visited his sister, Mrs. F. I. Walker last week. They called on Romeo friends in the Home.

The monthly meeting of the Birthday Party will be attended on Thursday evening. Eight members of the family being eligible during August.

After two years of faithful service as leader of the Thursday Bible class, George Huft, because of ill health, was unable to continue the work. E. R. Reed was chosen as his successor. Much interest is taken in the study and elaboration of the Sunday school lessons and other helpful subjects.

Our farmer, Mr. Yettow, reported a light but unwelcome frost Friday morning. An order was recently placed for a furnace costing $300, for his home.

After spending six weeks with her daughter in Tecumseh, Mrs. Myra Gage returned to the Home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams and children, Ellen, Charles, Ralph, Jr., and Mary, of Ypsilanti, visited their aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews on Sunday. They were much pleased with all Home conditions.

Stanley Fathers with his wife and little daughter, called on his aunt, Mrs. Louise Miles, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Glass, of Ypsilanti, called on her aunt, Miss Alvira Whipple, Monday, taking Miss Whipple home with her for a visit.

Miss Fannie Davenport entertained a number of relatives Sunday afternoon. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fullington and son, Gale, of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Gridley of Stony Creek, Clarence Corbett and sister, Mrs. Duschur of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Della Henderson of Lima, Ohio.

Mrs. George Anson and little daughter, of Miami, Florida, Mrs. Jacob Lamb of Detroit, and Mrs. Howard Boyd of Chelsea, visited Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Yokum of Anderson, Ohio, Mrs. Herbert Paul and children were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Sunday.

Mrs. Bessie Seager of Grass Lake, called on Mrs. Wolf Saturday.

Mrs. S. E. McGregor visited at the M. E. parsonage Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Hipp of Romeo.

Mrs. Pool returned to the Home on Monday, after spending a couple of weeks at Mt. Clemens and Ox-Bow Lake.

Following the vacation during July and August, the afternoon services will be resumed on Sunday, Dr. Balmer officiating.

Miss Nellie Holmes' foster brother, George Holmes and wife of Chelsea, brought her a fine box of fruit Tuesday as an agreeable reminder of her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riemenschneider, Miss Ricka Kalmbach, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kalmbach of Chelsea, Eren Heydlauff and Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Notten attended the Pauli reunion at North Lake, Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Gramer of Webberville, is spending a few days at the home of William Winters.

Henry Glazier and family of Ann Arbor, are spending a few days at the Whitaker home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Notten called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Samp. Owing to the poor health of Mrs. Samp, they will spend some time with Mrs. Samp's brother, August Hoppe.

Mrs. Betty Howlett attended the Goodwin family reunion at Bruin Lake last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Beeman and Leigh Beeman and family attended the Notten reunion last Saturday.

School will begin in the Howe district next Tuesday, Sept. 4th, with Marie Guinan teacher.

PRIVATE WIRE TO SYLVAN ESTATES COMPLETED

Among the many progressive accomplishments of the Sylvan Estates Country Club, is the completion of a private wire into Chelsea from the club. The poles were put in last fall and in the spring the work of placing the five and one-half miles of metallic wire was completed.

The members and guests of the club are now able to get a direct connection with any Bell Telephone number, either long distance or local, and while the expense of this private line was considerable, the management feels that the added convenience of such service has been well worth while. The number of the club on this new line is 275, Chelsea.

ENTERED HOME DURING ABSENCE OF FAMILY

When Rev. and Mrs. John E. Martin, the latter district superintendent of the Methodist church, returned home from their vacation Saturday, they found their home at 610 Thompson street had been entered and the beds used. Evidently somebody had been making use of their dwelling during their absence.

On Saturday a young man called at Mack's store and bought some linoleum to be delivered at the Martin home. He said it would be paid for at the house and asked that the driver have change for $50 check. Mack's store was later called and the order cancelled—evidently after it was learned that the Martins had returned home.—Ann Arbor Tribune.

WHEN A FELLOW NEEDS A FRIEND

Children with defective eyesight are not only seriously handicapped in their school work and retarded in their progress, but are frequently humiliated and embarrassed by being considered not as bright as their school-mates.

Probably the child is placed at the back of the classroom, and the puzzled look exhibited when watching demonstrations on the blackboard is thought to be evidence of dullness or stupidity—when more often poor vision is the cause. Poor distance vision indicates that the eyes are out of focus. Poor readers often have defective eyes which are unable to sense words rapidly. Holding the book too close, heads tilting, squinting, inflamed lids, irritability and headaches are other indications of defective vision. If your boy or girl has trouble with school work, if they have any symptoms whatever of defective vision, bring them to us for an examination, before, not after school starts. If glasses are needed we will prescribe them.

A MERITED TRIBUTE

The skipper has departed. Coach Mather, a brilliant athlete in his day, and an equally brilliant basketball coach, will no longer be seen about Ferry Field.

He will be missed, not alone because of his athletic prowess but because of his personality. For Mather was a regular fellow.

His associated and "his boys" loved him. His spirit transcended his ability, if it was not an integral part of that ability. He did big things at Michigan, and elsewhere, but it was the manner of his doing them that counted for more in the last analysis.

Mather coached championship basketball teams; the titles that he won dwindle in the memories when compared with Mather's influence as a man upon the boys whom he served and who served him.

He taught them to play the game and play it hard and well. But he taught them likewise how to lose gracefully, he taught them how to bow to the inevitable and accept it with a smile.

The Skipper fought his own good fight, and fought it hard and well. Then, he, too, bowed to the inevitable, accepted defeat with a smile, went away with an unsullied record for good sportsmanship and manliness.

He was a great coach, but he was

Jewish Lamentation

There are various lamentations made of the walling walls in Jerusalem. Many prayers were arranged by R. Samuel in the eighteenth century appropriate for use on entering Jerusalem. A devout alien Jew is accused to read his garment reciting the tenth verse of the forty-fourth chapter of Isaiah. Favorite lamentations are those of the fourth and fifth chapters of Jeremiah, also the seventeenth verse of the first chapter.

Ostrich Diet

It seems that ostriches really do eat everything. Inside of Ida, an ostrich that died in the London zoo, were found four hundred and thirty-three gloves, a spoon, several nails, a number of coins, a piece of a comb, a piece of a golf-necktie, a brass key, several rivets, lead pencils, a piece of wood four inches long and a cord three feet long.

CHELSEA BOY RECEIVING MILITARY TRAINING

West Point, N. Y., August 14.—Dwight E. Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Beach, 239 Jefferson street, Chelsea, Mich., who entered the United States Military Academy here on July 2, has just been permanently assigned to Company D. It is probable that Beach will remain in that organization until he graduates.

Since reporting to West Point Beach has received military instruction in guard duty, infantry drill, manual of the bayonet, rifle marks, marksmanship and physical training. He has been inoculated against typhoid and vaccinated. Lectures on the articles of war, hygiene and the customs of West Point have also been given. Even an intelligence and aptitude test was held.

During August Beach will be given tests in swimming in the large pool. All cadets who failed to qualify are compelled to take swimming lessons until proficient. Beach will also be examined in dancing this month, the test including the old-fashioned waltz and the modern fox trot. M. Vizan, who for 40 years has taught dancing at West Point, dances with each cadet and those not qualifying are required to take lessons.

Beach has also devoted an hour a day to sports, the schedule being so arranged that he learned the fundamentals of football, basketball, baseball, soccer, lacrosse and track. One week was devoted to each sport with varsity athletes doing most of the coaching supervised by Regular Army officers.

On August 20th Beach's class will go on a five day hike with full field equipment. During this practice march the cadets will pitch camp every night and receive considerable practical instruction in field cooking, camp sanitation and care of the foot. Each day's march will be completed by noon in order to give the new cadets ample time for recreation during the afternoon.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S MOTHER DIED TUESDAY

Mrs. Hannah Chaplin, who gave the world its premier clown, Charlie Chaplin, died Tuesday at Glendale, California.

Gaiety and tragedy, luxury and abject poverty marked her variegated life that led through the music halls of Europe to light opera; from a garret in London to a haven on the shores of the Pacific.

Here is a story dominated by tragedy. Always when comfort and happiness were near, sorrow intruded. At last apparent recovery from a mental disorder was checked by death.

Ten years ago, after her sons had won fame and fortune, zeppelin ing lights, and dropping bombs. A parsonage over her London home, dodging among the long fingers of searchlights, and dropping bombs. A particularly dangerous raid caused her mind to become broken, and after the war her sons, Charlie and Sydney, also famous as a film actor, brought her to the United States.

Lillie Harley, as she was known to the stage of London, was a singer of considerable repute. She married Charles Chaplin, a Protean actor.

He died 30 years ago leaving her with the two boys to support.

There followed years of struggle, when the three lived the best they might—when often the charity of the neighbors provided food.

After a few years Sydney and then Charlie were able to follow their father and mother to the stage. They attained success in juvenile parts and Charlie toured Europe and twice came to the United States.

During his second visit he attracted attention of the motion picture industry and the road to millions was opened.

The boys established their mother in comfort in London and later had her join them in the west. In California she received every luxury. Nurses and physicians tried to aid her and the fight to rebuild her mind was believed near success.

The federal government several years ago charged her with oversteering the time of her entry permit and steps were taken to deport the mother of the celebrities. The sons, however, signed affidavits that Mrs. Chaplin's condition was improving and obtained renewal of her bond. The bond was renewed again only a month ago.

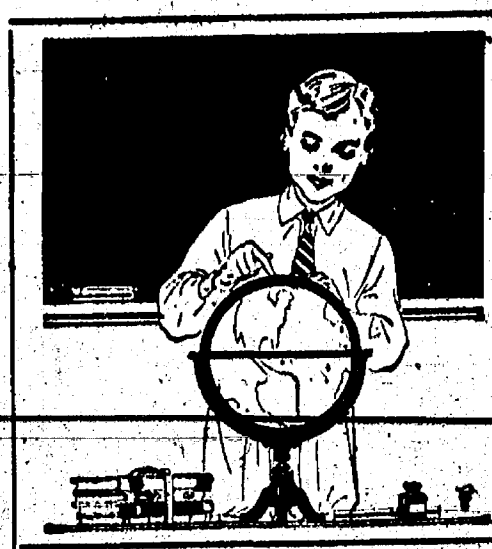

Charlie Chaplin was at his mother's side when death came. Sydney is in Paris making a motion picture. Mrs. Chaplin was removed to Glendale hospital two weeks ago when an internal disorder became serious and for 10 hours before her death was in a state of coma.

LEAVE ORDERS FOR FERTILIZER

J. W. VanRiper is taking orders for Fertilizer and he will be glad to have those desiring a supply to leave their orders with him at the coal office, near the M. C. tracks on North Main street. Official reports tell us that fertilizers properly applied greatly increase the yield of grain. Why not use some this fall with your wheat?

Paper From Wood Pulp
Wood pulp began to attract attention as a paper material about 60 years ago. This use has increased rapidly from year to year, until it is one of the most important to which wood is put.

THE WORLDS' Lowest Priced Six!

7-Bearing Crankshaft

A SIX at a price actually lower than that of some fours, and embodying an array of mechanical features worthy of a car costing two to three times as much. This remarkable new car is powered by a high compression poppet-valve motor that has proven its value through many months of test.

Long, low-slung bodies in harmonious, rich lacquers and smart, roomy interiors give an admirable distinction. Equipment is unusually complete, including snubbers and Tryon spring shackles.

Ask any WHIPET OWNER how really satisfactory a motor car can be. And to think that a WHIPET SIX can be driven for less than six cents per mile including depreciation and insurance.
